24 He shal enter into the quiet and plentifull prouince, and he shal do that which (ff) his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shall deuide among them the pray, and the spoyle, and the substaunce, yea and he shall forecast his deuices against the strong holdes [euen] for a tyme.

25 Also his power & heart shall he stirre vp with a great armie against the kyng of the south, the kyng of the south shalbe moued vnto battayle with a great and a mightie hoast also: neuertheles he (gg) shal not stande, for they shall forecast deuices against him.

26 Yea (hh) they that feede of the portion of his meate, shal destroy him, and his armie shall (ii) ouerflowe, and many shall fall and be slaine.

27 These two kinges hartes shalbe to do (kk) mischiefe, & they shall talke of deceipt at one table, but it shal not prosper, for yet the ende shalbe at ỹ time appointed.

28 Then

(h) Iosephus writeth that Onias, whiche falsely alleaged that place of Esai. xix. c. certayne of the Iewes accompanied him into Egypt to fulfyll his prophecie. Also the angell sheweth that all these troubles whiche are in the Churche, are by the prouidence of God. Dan. xi. the Egyptians with their captayne Scopas, were not able to withstande

(i) He sheweth that he shall not only afflict ỹ Egyptians, but also the Iewes, & shal enter into their countrey, wher of he admonisheth the before, ỹ they may knowe that all these thinges come by Gods prouidence.

(u) Antiochus maried his daughter Cleopatra to Ptolomeus Epiphanes, therby the rather to ouercome hym: but she fauoured her husbande, and obayed not the subtil practises of her father.

(x) The Iewes maner was to call all countreys iles, that were deuided from the by the sea: yet Antiochus inuaded some ỹ were iles in deede, as Euboca, Phocea, Samos, Cyprus &c. and at length conducted his armie into Grecia.

(y) Whereas Antiochus contemned the Romanes, & put their ambassadours to shame in all places, Metellus the consull & Scipio put hym to flight, and caused his shame to turne vpō his owne head.

(z) when as vnder the pretence of pouertie he would haue robbed the temple of Iupiter Dodoneus, the countrepmen slewe hym.

(aa) That is, Seleucus shal succeede his father Antiochus, who should shortly be destroied by papson.

(bb) Namely Antiochus Epiphanes, who was thought to be the occasion of Seleucus his brothers death, & was of a vyle, cruel, & flattering nature, and defrauded his brothers son of the kyngdome, & vsurped the kyngdome with one consent of people.

(cc) Antiochus shall not onlye banquishe all the aydes that Seleucus shal procure against him: but also Ptolomeus Philometor, whom he calleth here the prince of the couenaunt. (dd) For after that battayle, Philometor and his vncle Antiochus made a leage. (ee) For Antiochus came vpon Philometor vnawares, whē he suspected nothing. (ff) Meaning in Egypt. (gg) Philometor shalbe ouercome by treason. (hh) Signifying his princes and chiefe about him. (ii) Antiochus shall banquishe the Egyptians. (kk) The vncle and neophewe shall take truce and banket together, yet in their heartes they shall imagine mis-

28 Then shall he go home agayne into his lande with great (l) substaunce, and set his heart against the holy couenaunt, so shall he do, and returne to his owne lande.

29 At the tyme appointed he shall come agayne, and go towarde the south: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the ships of (m) Chithim shall come against him, therfore he shalbe sorie, and returne, and fret against the holy couenaunt: so shall he do, he shall [euen] returne and haue intelligence with them (n) that forsake the holy couenaunt.

31 And (o) armes shall stande on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuarie of (p) strength, and shall take away the dayly [sacrifice] and they shall set vp the abhominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the couenaunt, shall he cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that knowe their God, shall preuayle and prosper.

33 Those also that haue (q) vnderstanding among the people, shall enfourme the multitude, and for a long season thei shall (r) fall with sworde, with fire, with captiuitie, and with the taking away of their goodes.

34 Nowe when they shall fall, they shalbe holpen with a (s) litle helpe, but many shall cleaue vnto them faynedly.

35 Yea some of those that haue vnderstanding shall fall, that they may be tryed, purified, and made whyte, tyll the tyme be out: for there is a tyme appointed.

36 And a (t) kyng shall do what hym list, he shall exalt and magnifie hym selfe against al that is God, yea he shal speake marueylous thinges against the God of Gods, and he shall prosper (u) tyll the wrath be fulfilled: for the determination is made.

37 He shall not regarde the God of his (x) fathers, nor the desires of women, yea he shall not care for any God: for he shall magnifie him selfe aboue all.

38 But in his place shall he honour the God (y) Mauzzim, and the God whom his fathers knewe not, shall he honour with (z) golde and siluer, with pretious stones and pleasaunt thinges.

39 Thus shall he do in the holdes of Mauzzim with a straunge God whom he shall acknowledge, he shall encrease his glory, & shal cause them to rule ouer many, & shall deuide the land for gayne.

40 And at the ende of tyme shall the king of the (aa) south pushe at hym, & the king of the north shall come against him lyke a whirlewind, with charets, horsemen, and with many shippes: he shall enter into the countreys, and shall ouerflowe and passe through.

41 He shall enter also into the pleasaunt land, and many countreys shalbe ouerthrowen: but these shall escape out of his hande [euen] Edom and Moab, and the chiefe of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretche forth his hande also vpon the countreys, and the lande of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But he shall haue power ouer the treasures of golde and of siluer, & ouer all the pretious thinges of Egypt, and of the Libyans and Ethiopians in his passing [by them.]

44 Neuertheles, the tidinges out of the east (bb) and the north shall trouble hym, therfore he shal (cc) go forth with great wrath, to destroy and roote out many.

45 And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace betweene the seas, in the glorious and holy mountaine: yet he shall come to his ende, & none shal helpe him.

(l) Whiche he shall take of the Jewes in spoyling Hierusalem and the temple, & this is tolde them before, to moue them to patience, knowing all thinges are done by Gods prouidence

(m) That is, the Romane power shall come against him: for Publius Popilius ambassadour, appointed him to depart in the Romanes name, to which thing he obayed though with griefe: & to reuenge his rage, he came against the people of God ỳ seconde time

(n) with the Jewes that shall forsake the couenaunt of the Lorde: first he was called against the Jewes by Jason the hye priest, and this seconde tyme by Menelaus

(o) That is, a great faction of the wicked Jewes shall holde with Antiochus.

(p) So called, because the power of God was nothing diminished, though this tyraũt set vp in ỳ temple ỳ image of Jupiter Olimpius, & so began to corrupt the pure seruice of god, 2. Mach. 6. a.

(q) They that remayne constant among ỳ people, shall teache others by their example, and edifie many in ỳ true religion.

(r) Wherby he exhorteth the godly to constancie, although they shoulde perishe a thousande tymes, and though their miserie endure neuer so long.

(s) As God will not leaue his Church destitute, so he will not deliuer it all at once: but so helpe, as they may still seeme to fight vnder the crosse, as he did in the tyme of the Machabees, wherof he prophecieth.

(t) Because the angels purpose is to shewe the whole course of the persecutions of the Jewes, vnto the comming of Christe, he nowe speaketh of the Monarchie of the Romanes, whiche he noteth by the name of a kyng, who were without all religion, & contemned the true God.

(u) So long the straunges shall preuayle, as God hath appointed to punishe his people: but he sheweth that it is but for a time.

(x) The Romanes shall obserue no certayne fourme of religion as other nations, but shal chaũge their gods at their pleasures, yea contemne them, & prefer their seluers aboue their Gods.

(y) That is, the God of power and riches: they shal esteeme their owne power aboue all their gods, and worshipe it.

(z) Vnder pretence of worshipping the gods, they shal enriche their cite with the most precious iewels of all the world, because that hereby all men shal haue them in admiration for their power and riches.

(aa) That is, both ỳ Egyptians and the Syrians shall at length fight against the Romanes, but they shalbe ouercome.

(bb) When he shal heare that Crassus is slayne, & Antonius discomfited.

(cc) For Augustus ouercame the Parthians and recouered that which Antonius had lost

The. xii. Chapter.

A 2 He prophecieth the resurrection of the dead. 9 The darknesse of the prophecie of Daniel.

1 AND at that tyme shal (a) Michael stande vp, the great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people: for there shalbe a tyme of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a nation, vnto that same tyme: and at that tyme thy people shalbe deliuered euery one that shalbe found written in the booke.

2 And many of them that sleepe in the dust of the earth, shal (b) awake, some to euerlasting life, & some to shame & perpetuall

(a) The angell here noteth two thinges: first that the Churche shalbe in great affliction and trouble at Christes comming, and next that God will sende his angell to declare it, whom here he calleth Michael.

(b) Meaning all shall rise at the generall resurrection, which here he mentioneth, that the faythfull may euer haue respect vnto it, for in earth shal they finde no comfort.

3 They that be (e) wyse, shall shine as the brightnesse of the firmament: and they that (d) turne many to righteousnesse, as the starres for euer and euer.

4 But thou O Daniel shut vp the wordes, and seale the booke till the time of the ende: many shall (e) go about here and there, and knowledge shalbe encreased.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and beholde there stoode other two, the one on this side of the banke of the (f) riuer, and the other on that side of the banke of the riuer.

6 And [one] sayde vnto the man clothed in linnen, whiche was ouer the waters of the riuer, when shal the ende of these wonders be?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linnen, which was ouer the waters of the riuer, when he held vp his right (g) hand and his left hande vnto heauen, and sware by hym that liueth for euer, that [it shall tary] for a (h) tyme, tymes, and a halfe: and when he shall haue accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these thinges shalbe finished.

8 Then I heard it, but I vnderstoode it not: then sayde I, O my Lord, what shall be the ende of these thinges? B

9 And he saide, Go thy way Daniel, for the wordes are closed vp and sealed tyll the tyme of the ende.

10 Many shalbe purified, made white, and tryed: but the wicked shall do wickedly, and none of the wicked shal haue vnderstanding, but the wyse shall vnderstande.

11 And from the tyme that the (i) dayly [sacrifice] shalbe taken away, and the abhominable desolation set vp, there shalbe a (k) thousande two hundred, and ninetie dayes.

12 Blessed is he that wayteth and commeth to the thousande, three hundred, and (l) fiue and thirtie dayes.

13 But go thou thy way tyll the ende be, for thou shalt (m) rest, and stande vp in thy lot at the ende of the dayes.

(e) Which woulde bring us beneouraged, how to searche his knowledge for.

(f) Which was Tygris, as Hyppar hy the Prophet, as Ezech 1.4.

(g) Whereby the angell declareth rather that whiche perteyneth to the comfort of the elect, that these afflictions should ouer haue a certayne ende, then that the tyme thereof should be certainly knowen, as I shall make mention hereafter in the 12. Dan. 12.6.

(h) Which was a perfite ende, and did the more confirme the thing.

(i) From the tyme that Christe by his sacrifice shall take away the sacrifice and ceremonies of the lawe, and the destruction of the temple and cittie, whiche is ment here by the abhominable desolation.

(k) Signifiyng that the tyme shalbe long, & yet the chyldren of God ought not to be discouraged though it be differred.

(l) In this number he addeth a moneth and a halfe to the former number, signifiyng that it is not in man to appoynt the tyme of Christes cõming, but that they are blessed that pacientlye abide his appearing.

(m) Signifiyng that he should depart this life, & rise agayne with the elect, whē God hath sufficientlye humbled & purged his Churche.

The ende of the prophecie of Daniel.

T. C. L.

The booke of the prophete Osea.

The first Chapter.

1 The tyme wherein Osea prophecied. 2 The idolatrie of the people. 10 The calling of the gentiles. 11 Christe is the head of all people.

THE worde of the Lorde came vnto Osea the sonne of Beeri, * in the dayes of Ozea, Joathan, Ahas, and Hezekias, kynges of Juda, and in the tyme of Jeroboam the sonne of Joas kyng of Israel.

4.Reg.15.16. and.xvii.

Leui.xxi.b. Ezec.xliii.d

2 When the Lord spake first vnto Osea, he sayd vnto hym: * Go, take vnto thee a wife of (a) fornications, and chyldren of fornications: for the lande hath committed great fornication [departing] from the Lorde.

(a) That is, one that of long tyme hath accustomed to play the harlot, not that the prophete did this in deede, but he sawe this in a vision: or els was commanded by God, to set forth vnder this parable or figure, the idolatrie of the Israelites.

3 So he went and toke Gomer the daughter of Deblaim: whiche conceaued and bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lorde sayde vnto hym, Call his name Jezrahel: for * I wyll shortlye auenge the blood of * Jezrahel vpon the house of Jehu, and wyll bryng the kyngdome of the house of Israel to an ende.

4.Reg.xv.e. xvii..xviii.b iii.Re.xxi.b

5 And in that day wyll I also breake the bowe of Israel, in the valley of Jezrahel.

6 And she conceaued agayne, and bare a daughter: and [the Lorde] sayde vnto hym, Call her name Loruhamah [that is, not obtayning mercy] * for I wyll no more haue pitie vpon the house of Israel, but I wyll vtterly take them away.

4.Reg.xix.b

7 * Yet I wyll haue mercy vpon the house of Juda, and wil saue them, euen thorowe the Lorde their God: and wil not saue them by bowe, sworde, battell, horses, or horsemen.

Gen.xlix.c. 4.Reg.xix.c

8 Nowe when she had wayned Loruhamah, she conceaued againe, and bare a sonne.

9 Then sayd he, Call his name Loammi [that is, not my people]: for ye are not my people, therefore I wyll not be your [God.]

10 Yet the number of the chyldren of Israel

rael shalbe as the sand of the sea, which can neither be measured nor tolde: and in the place where it was sayde vnto them, *Ye are not my people: it shall be saide vnto them, *Ye are the chyldren of the liuing God.

11 *Then shall the children of Juda and the chyldren of Israel be gathered together, and appoynt them selues one head, and they shall come vp out of the lande: for great shalbe the day of Jezrahel. Ezech.37.c.

The. ii. Chapter.

1 The people is called to repentaunce. 5 He sheweth their idolaterie, and threatneth them, except they repent.

A 1 TEll your brethren that they are my people, and your sisterne, that they haue obtayned mercy.

2 As for your mother, ye shall chyde with her and reproue her, * for she is not my wyfe, neither am I her husbande: let her therefore put away her whordome from her face, and her adulterie from her brestes: Ier.viii.a.

3 Lest I strip her naked, and set her *euen as she came into the worlde, and make her as a wylderneſſe, and as a drye lande, and slay her for thyrste. Ezec.xvi.a.

4 And I wyll haue no pitie vpon her chyldren: *for they be the chyldren of fornication. Iohn.viii.d.

5 Their mother hath played the harlot, and she that bare them *is come to confusion: for she sayde, I wyll go after my louers, that geue me my bread and my water, my wooll and flaxe, my oyle and my drinke. 4.Reg.4.a.

6 Therefore beholde, I wyll stop thy way with thornes, and make a hedge, that she shall not finde her pathes.

7 And though she runne after her louers, yet shall she not ouertake them: she shall seeke them, but not finde them. *Then shall she say, I wyll go and returne to my first husbande: for at that tyme it was better with me then nowe. Leui.xv.c.

8 And she dyd not knowe that I gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and golde, which they bestowed on Baal. Ezec.xvi.c.

9 Therefore wyll I returne and take away my corne in the tyme thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and fet agayne my wooll and my flaxe [whiche I gaue her] to couer her shame.

10 *And nowe wyll I discouer her shame [euen] in the sight of her louers, and no man shall deliuer her out of my handes. Iere.xiii.a. B

11 Moreouer, I wyll take away all her myrth, * her holy dayes, her newe moones, her Sabbathes, and all her solempne feastes. Deut.xvi.c.

12 I wyll destroy her vineyardes and figtrees, whereof she sayde: These are my rewardes that my louers haue geuen me, I wyll make them as a wood, and wylde beastes shall eate them vp.

13 I wyll visite vpon her the dayes of Baal wherein she burned incense to hym, and decked her selfe with eare-ringes and iewels, she followed her louers, and forgate me saith the Lorde. Iudic.ii.b. and.x.b. C

14 Wherefore beholde, I wyll allure her and bryng her into the wildernesse, and speake frendly vnto her.

15 From thence wyll I geue her her vineyardes agayne, yea and the *valley of Achor for an entry of hope: and she shall sing there * as in the dayes of her youth, and * as in the day when she came vp out of the lande of Egypt. Iosu.vii.d. Iudic.v.a. Ezec.xv.a.

16 And at that day (saith the Lord) thou shalt call me, O my husbande, and shalt call me no more Baal.

17 For I wyll take away those names of Baal from her mouth, yea she shall neuer remember their names any more.

18 *Then wyll I make a couenaunt for them, with the beastes of the fielde, with the foules of the ayre, and with euery thyng that creepeth vpon the earth: *As for bowe, sworde, and battayle, I wyll destroy out of the Leui.xxvi.a. Esai.ii.a.

lande, and wyll make them to sleepe safely.

Eze.xvi.b. 19 And I wyll marry thee vnto myne owne selfe for euer, yea euen to my selfe wyll I marry thee in righteousnes, in iudgement, in louing kindnesse and mercy.

20 In faythfulnesse also wyll I marry thee vnto my selfe, and thou shalt know the Lorde.

21 At the same tyme wyll I shewe my selfe gratious vnto the heauens saith the Lorde, and the heauens shall helpe the earth:

22 And the earth shall helpe the corne, wine, and oyle: and they shall helpe Jezrahel.

23 *And I wyll sowe her for my selfe in the earth, and wyll haue mercy vpon her that had not obtayned mercy: And to them whiche were not my people, I wyll say, Thou art my people: and they shall say, Thou art my God. i.Pet.ii.b. Rom.x.d

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

1 The Jewes shalbe call of for their idolatrie. 5 Afterwarde they shall returne to the Lorde.

A 1 Then sayd the Lorde to me: Go yet and loue a woman beloued of her husbande, and yet an adultresse, according to the loue of the Lorde towarde the chyldren of Jsrael: and yet they haue respect to straunge gods, and loue the wine pottes. Eze.xlii.d. Esai.28.a. Amos.vi.a.

2 So I gat her for fifteene siluerlinges, and for an homer and an halfe of barley.

3 And sayde vnto her: Thou shalt bide with me a long season, thou shalt not play the harlot, thou shalt be to no other man, and I wyll be so vnto thee.

4 *For the chyldren of Jsrael shall sit a great whyle without kyng, without prince, without sacrifice, without image, without Ephod, and without Theraphim. ii.Par.xv.a.

5 But afterward the chyldren of Jsrael shalbe conuerted and seeke the Lord their God, and *Dauid their kyng, and in the latter dayes they shall worship the Lorde, and his louing kindnesse. Eze.34.d.

¶ The. iiij. Chapter.

I complaynt against the people, and the priestes of Jsrael.

A 1 Heare the worde of the Lorde O ye chyldren of Jsrael, for the Lord hath a controuersie with the inhabitauntes of the lande: for there is no trueth, there is no mercy, there is no knowledge of God in the lande.

2 But swearing, lying, manslaughter, theft, and adulterie, hath gotten the ouer hande, and one bloodguiltinesse followeth another.

3 Therfore shall the lande mourne, and all they that dwell therein shalbe rooted out, the beastes of the fielde, the foules of the ayre, and the fishes in the sea, shalbe consumed.

Malac i.b. 4 Yet let no man rebuke or reproue another,* for thy people [are] as they that are "at controuersie with the priest. "Or, contend 5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day tyme, and the prophete with thee in the night, and I wyll bryng thy mother to destruction.

6 *My people perishe for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, therfore wyll I refuse thee also, so that thou shalt no more be my priest: and forsomuche as thou hast forgotten the lawe of thy God, I wyll also forget thy chyldren. Baru.iii.d. Esai. v.b.

7 The more they increased in multitude, the more they sinned against me, [therfore] wyll I chaunge their honour into shame. B

8 *They eate vp the (a) sinnes of my people, and encourage them in their wickednesse. (a) That is, the priestes seeke to eate the peoples offerings, and flatter them in their sinnes. Leui.vi.d.

9 *Thus the priest is become lyke the people: wherfore I wyll punishe them for their wicked wayes, and rewarde them according to their owne imaginations. Ezech.xiii.d Eze.xxiii.a

10 The

10 *They shal eate and not haue inough, they haue vsed whordome, but shall not prosper, they haue forsaken the Lorde, and not regarded him.

11 Whordome, wine, and newe wine, take the heart away.

12 *My people aske counsell at their stockes, and their staffe teacheth them: for the spirite of fornication hath caused [them] to go astray, and they haue committed fornication against their God.

13 *They make sacrifices vpon the tops of the mountaines, and burne their incense vpon the hilles, yea vnder the okes, poplars, and elmes, for there are good shadowes: therfore your daughters are become harlots, and your spouses haue broken their wedlocke.

14 I wyll not punishe your daughters for beyng defiled, and your spouses that became whoores: * seeing the fathers them selues haue medled with harlots, and sacrificed with whoores: but the people that wyll not vnderstande, must be punished.

15 Though thou Israel play the harlot, yet let not Juda sinne, come not ye vnto Gilgal, * neither go ye to Bethauen, neither sweare ye, The Lorde liueth.

16 For Israel is rebellious like an vnruly heyffer: nowe the Lorde wyll feede them as a lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim [is become] partaker of idols, let hym alone.

18 Their drunkennesse stinketh, they haue committed whordome: their rulers loue [to say] with shame, Bryng ye.

19 The winde hath bounde them vp in her winges, and they shall be ashamed of their sacrifices.

3.Reg.xii.d. Deut.x.d.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

1 Against the priestes and rulers of Israel. 13 The helpe of man is in vayne.

A 1 Ye priestes heare this, take heede O thou housholde of Israel, geue eare O thou house of the king, for iudgement [is] against you, because you are become as a snare on Mizphah, and a spread net vpon the mount of Thabor.

2 They kyll sacrifices by heapes, and turne farre from the Lord, and I haue ben a rebuker of them all.

3 *I knowe Ephraim well inough, and Israel is not hid fro me: for nowe O Ephraim thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They wyll not geue their myndes to turne vnto their God: for the spirite of fornication [is] in the middest of them, and they haue not knowen the Lorde.

5 *And the pryde of Israel doth testifie to his face: therefore both Israel and Ephraim shal fal for their wickednesse, and Juda with them also.

6 *They shall come with their sheepe and bullockes *to seeke the Lorde, but they shall not finde hym: for he is gone from them.

7 They haue transgressed against the Lorde, and brought vp bastarde chyldren: a moneth therefore shall deuour them, with their portions.

8 Blowe with the shawmes at Gibea, and with the trumpet in Ramah, crye out at Bethauen, after thee O Beniamin. B

9 In the tyme of the plague shall Ephraim be layde waste: in the tribes of Israel haue I shewed the trueth.

10 The princes of Juda haue ben lyke them * that remoue the lande markes: therefore wyll I powre out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in iudgement, because he wyllyngly followed the commaundement.

12 Therefore wyll I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Juda as a caterpiller.

13 When Ephraim sawe his sickenesse, and Juda his disease, *Ephraim went vnto Assur, and sent vnto kyng Jareb, yet coulde not he helpe you, nor ease you of your payne.

14 I wyll be vnto Ephraim as a lion, and as a lions whelpe to the house of Juda: I [euen] I wyll spoyle, and go my away: I wyll take away, and no man shall rescue.

15 I wyll go and returne to my place, tyll they knowledge that they haue sinned and seeke me. In their aduersitie they shall (a) early seeke me.

Dani.xix.c. and.xxvii.c

4.Reg.xv.b

(a) That is, diligently.

The. vi. Chapter.

1 Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 9 The wickednesse of the priestes.

A 1 COme, let vs turne agayne to the Lorde: * for he hath smitten vs, and he shall heale vs, he hath wounded vs, and he shall binde vs vp agayne. Iob.v.b.

2 After two dayes shall he quicken vs, in the thirde day he shall rayse vs vp, so that we shall liue in his sight.

3 Then shall we haue vnderstanding, and endeuour our selues to knowe the Lord: he shal go foorth as the spring of the day, & come vnto vs * as the rayne, and as the latter rayne vnto the earth. Prou.xvi.a.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I do vnto thee: O Juda, howe shall I intreate thee: for your goodnesse is lyke a morning cloude, & like a deawe that goeth early away.

5 Therfore haue I cut downe the prophetes, and let them be slayne for my wordes sake, so that thy punishment shall come to light.

6 For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice: and the knowledge of God more then burnt offeringes. Matth.ix.b and.xii.a Iere.vii.c.

7 But euen like as * Adam did, so haue they broken my couenaunt, and set me at naught. Gene.iii.b B

8 Gilead is a citie of wicked doers, and [is] polluted with blood.

9 And as theeues [armed] wayte for him that passeth by the way: suche is the counsell of the priestes, which with one agreed counsell murther cruelly suche as kepe the way, yea they dare do all vnspeakable mischiefe.

10 * Horrible thinges haue I seene in the house of Israel: there is the fornication of Ephraim, and Israel is defiled. Iere.viii.d

11 Yea, and thou Juda kepest an harueste for thy selfe, when I returne the captiuitie of my people.

The. vij. Chapter.

1 Of the vices and wantonnesse of the people. 12 Of their punishment.

A 1 WHen I vndertoke to make Israel whole, then the vngraciousnesse of Ephraim, and the wickednes of Samaria came to light, for thei go about with lyes, therfore the theefe robbeth within, and the spoyler destroyeth without.

2 They consider not in their heartes that I remember al their wickednesse: Nowe their owne inuentions haue beset them, whiche I see well inough.

3 * They make the kyng glad with their wickednesse, and the princes with their lyes. Rom.i.d.

4 All these burne in adulterie, as it were an ouen that the baker heateth when he hath left kneading, tyll the dowe be leauened.

5 [This is] the day of our kyng, the princes haue made hym sicke with bottels of wine, he hath stretched out his hande to scorners.

6 For whyles they lye in wayte, they haue made redye their heart lyke an ouen, their baker sleepeth all night, in the morning it burneth as a flambe of fire.

7 They are altogether as hotte as an ouen, and haue deuoured their owne iudges, all their kinges are fallen, yet is there none of them that calleth vpon me. B

8 Ephraim hath mixt him selfe among [heathen] people, Ephraim is become like a cake that no man turneth.

9 Straungers haue deuoured his strength, and he regardeth it not: he wareth full of gray heeres, yet wyll he not knowe it.

10 And the pryde of Israel testifieth to his face, yet wyll they not turne to the Lorde their God, nor seeke hym for all this. Osee.v.a.

their arme: yet do they imagine mis-chiefe agaynst me.

lande of Egypt.

The.viij.Chapter.

1 The destruction of Juda and Israel, because of their idolatrie.

A 1 Set the trumpet to thy mouth, [swiftly] as an Egle [shall the enemie come] agaynst the house of the Lorde: for they haue broken my *coue-naunt, and transgressed my lawe.

Deut.3.d.

2 Israel shoulde haue sayde vnto me:
Thou art my God, we knowe thee.

3 But he hath refused the thyng that is good, therfore shall the enemie pursue him.

4 They haue ordeyned kinges, but not through me, they haue made princes, and I knewe it not: *of their siluer and golde haue they made them idols, therfore shall they be destroyed.

5 Thy Calfe O Samaria hath cast thee of, for my wrathfull indignation is gone foorth agaynst them: howe long wyll they be without innocencie?

3.Reg.xii.d.

6 For [the calfe] came from Israel, the workman made it, therfore can it be no
God: but euen in peeces shall the calfe of Samaria be broken.

B 7 They haue sowen winde, therfore shall they reape a whirlewinde: it hath no stalke, the bud shall bryng foorth no meale: and if haplie it do, straungers shall deuour it vp.

8 Israel is deuoured, nowe shall they be among the gentiles as a vessell of no reputation.

9 For they haue gone vp to Assyria [and are as] a wilde asse solitarie by him selfe:
Ephraim hath hired louers.

mong the heathen, yet nowe wyll I gather them, and they shall begyn to be weery with the burthen of the king and the prince.

do wickednesse, his aulters [I say] he had to his sinne.

12 I haue written to them the great thinges of my lawe, [but] they are counted as a straunge thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifice of mine offeringes, & eate it, [but] the Lord hath no pleasure in it: nowe wyll he remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes, they shall returne into Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten him that made him, & hath builded faire palaces, and Juda hath encreased strong cities:
but I wyll sende a fire into their cities, and it shall consume their palaces.

The.ix.Chapter.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

A 1 Do not thou triumph
O Israel, make no boastyng ouer ioyous thinges as do the heathen: for thou hast committed adulterie a-gaynst thy God, whose the rewardes hast thou loued more then all the corne floores.

2 The corne floore and the wine presse shall not feede them: and the newe wine shall fayle them.

3 They shall not dwell in the Lordes lande, but Ephraim shall turne agayne into Egypt, and eate vncleane thinges among the Assyrians.

Eze.iiii.c.

4 They powre out no wine for a drynke offeryng vnto the Lorde, neither shall their slayne offeringes be pleasaunt vnto him, they shalbe vnto them as the bread

bread of mourners, all they that eate shalbe defiled: for their bread (a) for their soules shall not come into the house of the Lorde.

(a) The sacrifice which they offered for their sinnes.

5 What wyll ye do then in the solempne day, and in the feast day of the Lorde?

6 For beholde they are gone away for destruction, [but] Egypt shall gather them, and Memphis shall bury them:
the nettles shall possesse the pleasaunt
B [places] of their siluer, thornes shalbe in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come, the dayes of recompence are come: and then shall Israel knowe that they were deceaued by a foolishe, mad, & franticke prophete: for the multitude of thine in-iquitie [God] shall multiplie enemies agaynst thee.

8 The watchman of Ephraim [was] with my (b) God [but] the prophete [is] the snare of a fouler in all his wayes, and an abho-mination in the house of his God.

(b) At the begynnyng the teachers instructed the people out of Gods worde only: but afterwarde trapped them in idolatrie. Iudi 19.a.

9 They haue gone to the bottome, they are corrupt as in the dayes * of Gibea:
[therfore] he wyll remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes.

10 I founde Israel like grapes in the wildernesse, & sawe their fathers as the first ripe in ỹ figge tree at her first season:
but they went to Baal Peor, & seperated them selues to that shame, and became as abhominable as their louers.

11 Ephraim their glorie shall flee away like a birde: for birth, for wombe, and conception.

12 And though they bryng vp children, yet I wyll destroy them before they be men: yea wo shall come to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim (as me thinke) is planted in a pleasaunt place, like as is Tyrus: but nowe must she bryng her owne children forth to the manslayer.

C

14 O Lorde geue them: what shalt thou geue them? Geue them an vnfruitfull wombe, and drye breastes.

Iosu.iiii.d.

15 All their wickednesse is done at * Gil-gall, there do I abhorre them: for the vngratiousnesse of their owne inuentions I wyll drive them out of my house, I wyll lone them no more, for all their princes are vnfaithfull.

16 Ephraim is hewen downe, their roote is dried vp, so that they shall bryng no more fruite: yea and though they bryng forth any, yet wyll I slay euen the best beloued of their body.

17 My God shall cast them away, for they haue not ben obedient vnto him, therfore shall they wander among the heathen.

The. x. Chapter.

1 Agaynst Israel and his idols. 14 His destruction for the same.

A 1 Israel [is] an (a) emptie vine, [yet] hath it brought forth fruite to it selfe, according to the multitude of the fruite therof he hath encreased alwayes: ac-cordyng to the goodnesse of their lande they haue made them faire images.

(a) As the vine spoyled of her grapes beareth newe the yere folo-wyng, so the Israelites enioying rest after afflictions, renewed their former wickednesse and idolatrie.

2 Their heart is deuided, [therfore] shall they nowe be destroyed, [the Lorde] shall breake downe their images, he shall destroy their aulters.

3 For nowe shall they say, we haue no king, because we haue not feared the Lorde: and what shoulde then a king do to vs?

4 They haue spoken wordes, swearyng falsly in makyng a (b) couenaunt: thus
(c) iudgement groweth as wormewood in the furrowes of the fielde.

(b) Promising to be faithfull to God.
(c) That pretende sincerite, but their fruites shewed the contrarie, much like as when wormewood groweth where wheate was soked for.

5 They that dwell in Samaria shall feare because of the Calfe of Bethauen, for the people therof shall mourne ouer it, yea and the priestes also reioyced on it for the glorie therof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shalbe brought to the Assyrian for a present to the king Jareb: Ephraim shall receaue shame, and Israel shalbe confounded for his owne imaginations.

7 Samaria with his king shall vanishe away, as the fome vpon the water.

B

8 The hye places of Auen where Israel doth sinne shalbe destroyed, thistles and thornes shal growe vpon their aulters:

12 Sowe to your selues in righteousnesse, and reape the fruites of well doyng, plowe vp your freshe lande: for it is tyme to seeke the Lorde tyll he come and rayne righteousnesse vpon you.

13 For you haue plowed vngodlinesse, ye haue reaped iniquitie, you haue eaten the fruite of lyes, because thou puttest thy confidence in thine owne wayes, and leanest to the multitude of thy strong men.

14 There shall growe a sedition among thy people, all thy strong cities shalbe layde waste, euen as Salma destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battayle, where the mother with the children were dasshed in peeces.

15 Euen so shall Bethel do vnto you because of your malitious wickednesse: in a mornyng shall the king of Jsrael be destroyed.

(f) Delityng in pleasure & quietnesse, with out payne.

(b) He meaneth Moyses.

4 I led them with cordes of a man [euen] (c) with bandes of loue: and I was to them as he that taketh of the yoke from their iawes, and I layde (d) meate to them.

(c) That is, frendly not as beastes.
(d) He fed them with Manna in the desert.

5 He shall no more returne into Egypt, but Assyria (e) shalbe his king, because he refused to conuert.

(e) For their vnthankfulnesse they shalbe led captiue into Assyria.

6 Therfore shall the swoorde fall on his cities, & shall consume his (f) braunches, and deuour them, because of their owne counsayles.

(f) The villages adioyning to the cities.

7 And my people shall stande in a doubt whither to turne them: for when the [prophetes] called them to the most hyest, not one yet wolde geue him his glorie.

8 Howe shall I geue thee vp Ephraim: [howe] shal I deliuer thee Jsrael: howe shall I make thee as (g) Adama: [howe] shall I set thee as Zeboim: mine heart is turned within me, my repentinges are kindled within me.

(g) Which were two of the cities destroyed with Sodome. Gen. xix.d. Deut.29.a.

9 I wyll not execute the fiercenesse of my wrath, I wyl not returne to destroy Ephraim: for I am God and not man, the holy one in the middest of thee, and I wyll not enter into the citie.

10 They shall walke after the Lorde, he shall roze like a lion: when he shall roze, then the children of the west shall feare.

11 They shall feare as sparowe out of Egypt, and as a doue out of the lande of Assyria, and I wyll place them in their houses, saith the Lorde.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lyes, & the house of Jsrael with deceipt: but Juda yet ruleth (h) with God, and is faithfull with the saintes.

(h) Ruleth their people agreeyng to Gods worde.

The.xii. Chapter.

He admonisheth by Jacobs example to trust in God, and not in man.

8 And Ephraim hath sayde, *Tushe I am riche, I haue good enough: in all my workes shall not one iniquitie be founde wherin I haue offended.

9 Yet am I the Lorde thy God from the lande of Egypt, I wyll yet make thee dwell in the tabernacles as in the hye feast dayes.

10 I haue spoken through the prophetes, and haue multiplied visions, & shewed similitudes by the ministerie of the prophetes.

11 In Galaad is iniquitie, they are fallen to vanitie: at Gilgal they haue sacrificed oxen, & their aulters are as heapes in the furrowes of the fielde.

12 *Jacob fled into the lande of Syria, and Israel serued for a wife, and for a wife he kept [sheepe.] Gen.28.b.

The.xiij.Chapter.

1 The abhomination of Israel, 9 and cause of their destruction.

A 1 When Ephraim spake, there was tremblyng, he was exalted among the Israelites: but he hath sinned in Baal, and is dead.

2 And nowe they sinne more and more, *and of their siluer they haue made them molten images after the imaginatiõs of their owne braynes, [that is] very idols, and yet all is nothyng but the worke of the craftesman: they say one to another, whiles they (a) sacrifice a man let them kisse (b) the calues.

The booke of prophete Ioel.

¶ The first Chapter.

1 A prophecie agaynst the Iewes. 2 He exhorteth the people to prayer and fasting for the miserie that was at hande.

A 1 The worde of the Lorde that came to Ioel the sonne of Pethuel.

2 Heare ye this you elders, & hearken with your eares all you that dwel in this lande: Was there euer such a thyng in your dayes, or in the dayes of your fathers?

3 Of this thyng tell your children, and let your children [shewe it] to their children, and their children to [their] posterite afterwarde.

5 Awake ye drunkardes, & weepe, howle all ye wine bibbers for lacke of newe wine: for it is cleane taken away from your mouth.

6 For a nation is come vp vpon my lande, mighte and without number: his teeth are as the teeth of a lion, and he hath the iawes of a great lion.

7 He hath destroyed my vine, & barked my figge tree, he hath pilled it and cast it from him, and hath left bowes therof whyte. B

8 Lament as a virgin girded with sackcloth, for the husbande of her youth.

9 The meate offeryng and drinke offeryng is cut of from the house of the Lorde, the priestes [I meane] the Lordes ministers mourne.

10 The fielde is wasted, the lande mourneth: for corne is destroyed, the newe wine is dryed vp, the oyle is vtterly taken away.

11 Be ye ashamed O ye husbandemen, howle O ye wine dressers for ỳ wheate and for the barly: for the harueste of the fielde is perished.

12 The wine is dryed vp, and the figge tree is decayed, the pomgranate tree, and the paulme, & the apple tree, [euen] all the trees of the fielde are withered vp: for ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 Girde your selues and lament O ye priestes, howle ye out ye ministers of the aulter, come and lye all night in sackcloth ye seruauntes of my God: for the meate and drynke offerynges are taken away from the house of your God.

¶ 14 Proclayme a fast, call a congregation, gather the elders together, [with] all the inhabitauntes of the lande vnto the house of the Lorde your God, and crye vnto the Lorde, 15 Alas for this day, for the day of the Lorde is at hande, euen as a destruction from the almightie shall it come.

16 Is not the meate cut of before our eyes, [yea] mirth and ioy from the house of our God?

17 The seede is rottē vnder their cloddes, the garners are destroyed, the barnes are ouerthrowen: for the corne is withered.

18 O howe cattell mourne? the heardes of beastes are in wofull case for lacke of pasture, and the flockes of sheepe are destroyed?

19 Unto thee O Lorde wyll I crye, for feare hath destroyed the fruitfull places of the desert, and the flambe hath burnt vp all the trees of the fielde.

20 The beastes also of the fielde crye out vnto thee: for the riuers of waters are dryed vp, and fire hath deuoured vp the fruitfull places of the desert.

The.ij. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth of the commyng and crueltie of their enemies. 13 An exhortation to moue them to conuert. 18 The loue of God towarde his people.

A 1 BLowe vp a trumpet in Sion, and showte in my holy hyll, let all the inhabitauntes of the earth tremble: for the day of the Lorde is come, for it is nye at hande.

2 A darke and gloomie day, a cloudie and blacke day: as the mornyng is spread ouer the mountaynes [so is this] populus & strong people, like it there was none from the beginning, nor shalbe hereafter for euermore.

3 Before

3 Before him is a deuouryng fire, and behynde him a burnyng flambe: the lande is as a pleasaunt garden before him, and behinde him a waste desert, yea and nothyng shall escape him.

4 The shewe of him is as the shewe of horses, and like horsemen, so shall they runne.

5 Lyke the noyse of charrettes vpon the toppes of the mountaynes they shall skip, like the noyse of a flamyng fire deuouryng the stubble, [and] as a strong people prepared to battayle.

6 Before his face shall the people tremble, the countenaunce of all folkes shall ware [blacke] as a pot.

7 They shall runne like strong men, and climbe the walles like men of warre: & euery one shall march on in his way, and they shal not linger in their pathes.

8 No man shall thrust another, but euery one shall walke in his path: and if they shall fall on the sworde, they shall not be wounded.

9 They shall runne to and fro in the citie, they shall runne vp & downe vpon the wall, they shall climbe into the houses, they shall enter in at the windowes like a theefe.

10 The earth shall quake before him, the heauens shall tremble, the sunne and the moone shalbe darke, and the starres shall withdrawe their shinyng.

11 And the Lorde shall geue his voyce before his hoast, for his campe is exceedyng great, for he is mightie that executeth his commaundement: for the day of the Lorde is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

12 But nowe saith ỹ Lord, turne you vnto me with all your heartes, with fasting, with weepyng, and with mournyng.

13 And rent your heartes and not your garmentes, & turne you vnto the Lorde your God, for he is gratious & mercifull, slowe to anger, and of great goodnesse, and he wyll repent him of the euyll.

14 Who knoweth whether the Lorde wyll returne and take compassion, and wyll leaue behinde him a blessing, [euen] meate offeryng and drynke offeryng vnto the Lorde your God?

15 Blowe vp a trumpet in Sion, proclayme a fast, call an assemblye, sanctifie the congregation.

16 Gather the people, gather the elders, assemble the children & suckyng babes: let the bridegrome come forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.

17 Let the priestes the Lordes ministers weepe betwixt the porche & the aulter, and let them say, Spare thy people O Lord, and geue not ouer thine heritage to reproche, that the heathen shoulde rule ouer them: wherfore shoulde they say amongst the heathen, where is their God?

18 And [then] the Lorde wyll be ielous ouer his lande, & wyll spare his people.

19 Yea the Lorde wyll aunswere, and say to his people, Beholde I wyll sende you corne, and wine, and oyle, and wyll satisfie you therwith, and wyll not geue you ouer any more to be a reproche among the heathen.

20 And I wyll remoue farre of from you the northen [armie] and I wyll driue him into a lande barren and desolate, with his face towardes the east sea, and his hinder partes towardes the vttermost sea: and his stinch shall arise, and his corruption shall ascende, because he hath exalted him selfe to do this.

21 Feare not O thou lande, be glad and reioyce: for the Lorde wyll do great thinges. D

22 Be not afrayde ye beastes of the fielde, for the fruitfull places of the desert are greene: for the tree beares her fruite, the figge tree and the vine yeelde their strength.

23 Be glad then ye children of Sion, and reioyce in the Lorde your God: for he hath geuen you moderate (a) rayne, & he wyll sende downe for you the rayne, [euen] the first rayne & the latter rayne, in the first [moneth.]

(a) At the first beginning belonging to sunning, and in the first beginning belonging to cornyng or hardnyng of corne, that there be no hinderaunce for lacke of necessarie rayne.

24 And the barnes shalbe fylled with corne, and the presses shall ouerflowe with wine and oyle.

25 And I wyll restore to you the yeres which the grashopper, the canker worme, the locust, and the caterpiller haue deuoured, my great armie which I sent amongst you.

26 And you shall eate in plentie and be satisfied, and shall prayse the name of the Lorde your God which hath dealt wonderously with you, and my people shall not be ashamed any more.

27 And you shall knowe that I am in the middle of Israel, and [that] I am the Lorde your God, and none but I: and my people shall neuer be ashamed.

28 And

28 And it shall come to passe after this: I wyll powre out my spirite vpon all flesshe, and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophecie, your olde men shall dreame dreames, your young men shall see visions.
29 Also in those dayes vpon the seruauntes and vpon the handmaydens wyll I powre out my spirite.
30 And I will shewe wonders in heauen and in earth, blood, and fire, and pillers of smoke.
31 The sunne shalbe turned into dark-nesse, and the moone into blood, before that great and terrible day of the Lord come.
32 But whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lord, shalbe saued: for there shal-be deliueraunce in mount Sion and in Hierusalem, as the Lord hath promised, and [also] in the remnaunt whom the Lorde shall call.

The.iij.Chapter.

Of the iudgement of God agaynst the enemies of his people.

A 1 FOr beholde, in those dayes and in that time when I shall bryng agayne the captiuitie of Juda & Hierusalem,
2 I wyll also gather all the gentiles, and cause them to come into the valley of (a) Je-hosaphat, and I will pleade with them there for my people and heritage Israel, which they haue scattered amongst the nations, and haue parted my lande.
3 And thei haue cast lottes for my people, and chaunged the boy for an (b) harlot, and solde the gyrle for wine, that they might drynke.
4 And what haue you to do with me O
Tyre and Sidon, and all the coastes of Palestine: wyll ye render me recompence: and if you recompence me, I shal swiftly [and] speedyly returne your recompence vpon your owne heades.
5 For ye haue taken my siluer and my golde, my pleasaunt & pretious thinges, & haue caryed them into your temples.
6 You haue solde also the children of Juda and the children of Hierusalem to the Gretians, that you might send them farre from their owne countrey.
B 7 Beholde, I will rayse them out of that place whither you haue solde them, and wyll returne your recompence vpon your owne heades.
8 And I wyll sell your sonnes and your daughters into the handes of the children of Juda, and they shall sell them vnto the Sabeans, to a nation that dwelleth farre of: for the Lorde hath spoken it.
9 Publishe this thyng among the gentiles, proclayme warre, wake vp the mightie men, let all the men of warre drawe neare and come vp.
10 Breake your plowe shares into swordes, and your sithes into speares, let the weake say, I am strong.
11 Assemble your selues and come all you heathen, and gather your selues together rounde about, there shall the Lord cast downe thy mightie men.
12 Let the heathen arise and come vp to the valley of Jehosaphat: for there will
I sit to iudge all nations rounde about.
13 Put in your sithes, for ỹ haruest is ripe:
come ye [and] descende, for the (c) wine presse is full, [yea] the presses ouerflowe:
for their wickednesse is multiplied.
14 O people, people [come] into the valley of finall iudgement: for the day of the Lorde is at hande in the valley of finall iudgement.
15 The sunne and the moone shalbe dark-ned, and the starres shall withdrawe their light.
16 The Lord also shall roze out of Sion, and out of Hierusalem shall he geue his voyce, the heauens and the earth shall shake: but the Lorde wyll be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.
17 So shall you knowe that I am the Lorde your God dwellyng in Sion my holy mountayne: then shall Hierusalem be holy, and there shall no straungers passe through here any more.
18 And in that day shall the mountaynes drop downe sweete wine, and the hylles shall flowe with mylke, & all the riuers of Juda shall runne with water, and a fountayne shall come out of the house of the Lorde, and shall water the valley of Sittim.
19 Egypt shalbe waste, and Edom shalbe
a desolate wildernesse: for the iniuries

[done] to the children of Juda : because they haue shed innocent blood in their lande.

20 But Juda shal dwel for euermore, and Hierusalem from generation to generation.

21 I wil also clense the blood of them [that] I haue not clensed, and the Lord dwelleth in Sion.

The booke of the prophete Amos.

The first Chapter.

1 The condition and state of Amos, and the time of his prophecie. 3 The worde of the Lorde against Damascus, the Philistines, Tyrus, Idumea, and Ammon.

A

1 THe wordes of Amos, who was among the * sheepheardes at Thecua, whiche he "sawe vpon Israel in the dayes of Ozia king of Juda, and in the dayes of Jeroboam the sonne of Joas king of Israel, two yere before the *earth quake.

* Or, herdsmen.

" Or, sawe by reuelation.

Zach. xiiii. 5.

2 And he sayde, The Lord shal roare out of Sion, and vtter his voyce from Hierusalem: and the "dwelling places of the sheepheardes shall "mourne, & the top of Charmel shall wyther.

" Or, pastures.

" Or, perishe

" Or, transgressions.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, For (a) three "wickednesses of Damascus, and for foure I will not "spare her: because they haue threshed Gilead with iron flales.

* The maner of warre vsed of Damascus against Israel.

" Or, ment by fire & sworde, which make heare.

" Or, bring him vnto, or turne to it.

4 But I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Benhadad. iiii. Re. viii. c

5 I will breake also the barres of Damascus, and "roote out the inhabitoures from the "playne of Auen, and him that holdeth the scepter out of the house of "Eden, and the people of Syria shall go into captiuitie vnto Kir, sayth the Lord.

" Or, cut of " Or, valley.

" Or, pleasure.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of "Azza, and for foure I will not spare her: because they caried "away prisoners into captiuitie to shut them vp in Edom.

" Or. Gaza.

" Or, away prisoners the whole captiuitie.

7 Therfore will I sende a fire vpon the walles of "Azza, whiche shall deuoure her palaces.

" Or. Gaza.

8 And I will cut of the inhabiter from Asdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ascalon, & turne my hande to "Ekron, & the remnaunt of the Philistines shall perishe, sayth the Lorde God.

" Or, Accaron.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three "wickednesses of Tyre, and for foure I will not spare her: because they shut the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembred the (b) brotherly couenaunt.

10 Therfore will I send a fire vpon the wall of Tyre, and it shall consume the palaces therof.

11 Thus sayth the Lord, For three wickednesses of Edom, and for foure I will not spare him: because he pursued his brother with the sworde, and did "cast of al pitie, and "in his anger spoyled him continually, and his indignation he kept alwayes.

12 Therfore will I send a fire into Theman, which shal deuoure the palaces of Bozra.

13 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of the children of Ammon, and for foure I will not spare them: because they (c) haue ript vp the women with childe of Gilead, that they might enlarge their borders.

14 Therefore will I kindle a fire in the walles of Rabbah that shall consume her palaces with a great crye in the day of battell, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlewinde.

15 And their king shall go into captiuitie, he and his princes together, sayth the Lorde.

"Or, transgressions.

(b) For Esau, of whō came the Edomites & Iacob were brethren.

(c) He notith the great cruelties of the Ammonites, that spared not the women with childe.

"Heb. corrupt his compassiōs. "Or, his anger spoyled.

The .ii. Chapter.

He prophecieth against Moab, Iuda, and Israel.

A 1 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Moab, & for foure I will not "spare him: because he burnt the bones of the king of Edom into (a) lime.

"Or, turne to him.

(a) That is, into ashes.

2 Therfore will I send a fire into Moab, which shal consume the palaces of Carioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with showting, and with the sounde of the trumpet.

3 And I will cut of the iudge out of the mids therof, and wil slay all the princes therof with him, sayth the Lorde.

4 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Iuda, and for foure I will not spare hym: because they haue cast away the lawe of the Lord, and haue not kept his ordinaunces, and their lies caused them to erre, after the which their fathers walked.

5 Therfore will I send a fire into Iuda, which shall consume the palaces of Hierusalem:

6 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Israel, and for foure I will not spare hym: because they solde the righteous for siluer, and the poore for a paire of shoes.

"Or, presse vnto the head, or tread vpon the head. "Or, wretched. "Or, young woman.

7 They "gape for breath ouer the head of the poore in the dust of the earth, & peruert the way of the "meke: A man and his father will go in to one "mayde, to dishonour my holy name.

8 And they "lye vpon clothes *layde to pledge by euery aulter: and in the house of their god, they drinke the wine "of the condempned.

"Or, lie downe. Exo xx i.d. "Or, of such as they haue fyned or mulcted.

9 *Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose heyght was like the height of the Cedar trees, and he was strong as the okes: notwithstanding I destroyed his fruite from aboue, and his roote from beneath.

Num 21.d. Deut.u.f.

10 Also I brought you vp from the lande of Egypt, & led you fourtie yeres thorow the wilderneſſe, to possesse the lande of the Amorites.

11 And I rayſed vp of your sonnes for prophetes, and of your young men for "Nazarites: Is it not euen thus, O ye children of Israel, sayth the Lorde?

"Or, abstayners.

12 But ye gaue the Nazarites wine to drinke, and commaunded the prophetes, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Beholde, I am prefled vnder you, as a cart is prefled that is full of sheaues.

14 Therfore the "flight shall perishe from the swift, and the strong shal not strengthen his force, neither shall the mightie saue his life.

"Or, swift by flight shall not escape.

15 Nor he that handleth the bowe shall stande, nor he that is swift of foote shall escape, neither shall he that rydeth the horse, saue his life.

16 And he that is of mightie courage among the strong men, shal flee away naked in that day, sayth the Lorde.

The

The. iii. Chapter.

1 He reproueth the house of Israel of ingratitude, foreshewing gods most iust punishement for the same. 9 Straungers are called to see the equitie of gods iudgementes against Israel.

A 1 HEare this worde that the Lord pronounceth against you O children of Israel [euen] against the whole kamilie whiche I brought vp from the lande of Egypt, saying:

Deut. iii. 2 *You only haue I knowen of al the families of the earth, therfore I will visite you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walke together, except they be agreed?

4 Will a lion roare in the forest when he hath no praye? or wil a lions whelpe crye out of his denne, if he haue taken nothing?

5 Can a birde fal in a snare vpon the earth where no fouler is? or wil he take vp the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

6 Or shall a trumpet be blowen in the citie, & the people be not afrayde? or shall there be (a) euyll in a citie, and the Lorde hath not done it?

(a) That is, calamitie, or vnrestfulnesse.

B 7 "Surely the Lord God wil do nothing, but he reuealeth his secrete vnto his seruauntes the prophetes.

" Or, For.

8 The lion hath roared, Who wil not be afrayde? The Lorde God hath spoken, who "can but prophecie?

" Or, who wil not prophecie?

9 Proclame in the palaces at Asdod, and in the palaces in the lande of Egypt, and say: Assemble your selues vpon the mountaynes of Samaria, and beholde the great tumultes in the mids thereof, and the oppressed in the mids therof:

10 For they know not to do right, sayth the Lorde, they store vp "violence and robberie in their palaces.

" Or, iniustice.

11 Therfore thus sayth the Lord God, An aduersarie [shall come] euen round about the countrey, and shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoyled.

12 Thus sayth the Lorde, As the sheephearde taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legges or a peece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria, in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus [as in] a couche.

13 Heare and testifie in the house of Iacob, saith the Lord God, the God of hoastes:

14 That in the day that I shall visite the "transgressions of Israel vpon hym, I wil also visite the aulters of Bethel, and the hornes of the aulter shalbe "broken of, and fall to the grounde.

" Or, wickednesse.

" Or, cut off.

C

15 And I will smite the winter house with the sommer house, and the houses of yuorie shall perishe, and the great houses shalbe consumed, saith the Lord.

The .iiii. Chapter.

1 Vnder the name of fat kyne of Basan, he inueyeth against the gouernours of Samaria, and foreshoweth their punishement. 4 He laugheth to shame their idolatrie. 8 He sheweth that notwithstanding they had ben plagued with hunger, drought, blasting, caterpillers, pestilence, and warre, yet were they not turned vnto God.

A 1 HEare this worde ye kyne of Basan, that are in the mountaine of Samaria, which oppresse the poore, & destroy the needy, which say to their (a) maisters, Bring and let vs drinke.

(a) That is, to the creditours to whom the poore are vnderted.

2 The Lord God hath sworne by his holinesse, that lo, the dayes shal come vpon you, that he will take you away with (b) thornes, and your posteritie with fishe hookes.

(b) He alludeth to fishers, which catche fishe by hookes and thornes.

3 And ye shall go out at the breaches, euery [howe] forward: and ye shal "cast your selues out of the palace, sayth the Lorde.

" Or, cast downe the palace.

4 *Come to Bethel, and "transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiplie transgression: and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your *tythes after three yeres.

" Or, cõmit wickednesse. 1. Reg. xii. 29.

Deu 14. d.

Leu.vii.b. 5 And offer a thankes geuing of *leauen, publiſhe & proclayme the free offringes: for this liketh you O ye children of Iſrael, ſayth the Lorde God.

(c) That is, lacke of bread and meate. 6 Therfore haue I geuē you (c) cleanneſſe of teeth in all your cities, & ſcarſeneſſe of bread in all your places: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

B 7 And alſo I haue withholden the rayne from you when there were yet three monethes to the harueſt, and I cauſed it to rayne vpon one citie, and haue not cauſed it to rayne vpon an other citie: one peece was raigned vpon, & the peece wherevpon it rayned not, withered.

8 So two [or] three cities wandred vnto one citie to drinke water, but they were not ſatiſfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

9 I haue ſmitten you with blaſting and mildeaw, your great gardens, and your vineyardes, and your figge trees, & your olive trees, dyd the "palmer worme deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me

"Or, caterpiller.

ſayth the Lorde.

10 Peſtilence haue I ſent among you after the maner of Egypt: your young men haue I ſlayne with the ſworde, & haue taken away your horſes, and I haue made the ſtinke of your tentes to come euen vp into your noſtrels: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

"Or, among you, meaning ſome part of their country to haue ben ouerthrowen. 11 I haue ouerthrowen "you, as God ouerthrewe Sodoma and Gomorra: and ye were as a fire brande pluckt out of the burning: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

(d) Turne to him by repentaunce. 12 Therfore thus will I do vnto thee O Iſrael, [and] becauſe I will do this vnto thee, (d) prepare to meete thy God O Iſrael.

13 For lo, he that fourmeth the mountaynes, and createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought, whiche maketh the "morning darkeneſſe, and walketh vpon the hie places of the earth, the Lorde God of hoaſtes is his name.

"Or, morning and darkeneſſe.

The. v. Chapter.

1 The prophete lamenteth the captiuitie of Sion. 4 He calleth to repentaunce. 8 He deſcribeth the power of God. 14 He exhorteth to good workes. 16 He deſcribeth the heauie day of the Lorde. 21 And reiecteth their feaſt dayes and ſacrifices.

A 1 Eare ye this worde whiche I lift vp vpon you, [euen] a lamentation "of the houſe of Iſrael.

"Or, O ye houſe.

2 The virgin Iſrael is fallen, & ſhall no more riſe: ſhe is left vpon her lande, and there is none to rayſe her vp.

3 For thus ſayth the Lorde God, The citie which went out by a thouſand, ſhall leaue an hundreth, & that whiche went forth by an hundreth, ſhall leaue ten, to the houſe of Iſrael.

4 For thus ſayth the Lord vnto the houſe of Iſrael, Seke ye me, and ye ſhall liue.

5 But ſeke not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and go not to Beerſeba: for Gilgal ſhall go into captiuitie, and Bethel ſhall come to naught.

6 Seke the Lord, and ye ſhall liue: leſt he breake out like fire in the houſe of Joſeph, and deuoure it, and there be noone to quenche it in Bethel.

7 They turne iudgement to wormewood, B and forſake righteouſneſſe in the earth.

8 He maketh the ſeuen ſtarres and Orion, and he turneth (a) the ſhadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: he calleth the waters of the ſea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lorde is his name.

(a) That is, the thickeſt darkeneſſe into the morning light.

9 He ſtrengtheneth the deſtroyer againſt the mightie, & the deſtroyer ſhall "come againſt the fortreſſe.

"Or, aſſault.

10 They hate him that rebuketh (b) in the gate, and they abhorre him that ſpeaketh vprightly.

(b) That is, in open aſſemblies

11 Foraſmuch then as your treading is vpon the poore, and ye (c) take from hym burdens of wheate: ye haue buylt houſes of hewen ſtone, but ye ſhall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleaſaunt vineyardes, but ye ſhall not drinke wine of them.

(c) Ye take both his money, and alſo his foode wherewith he ſhould liue.

12 For

12 For I knowe your "manyfolde transgressions, and your mightie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

"Or, great numbers.

13 Therfore the wise shall kepe silence in that time: for it is an euyll time.

14 Seke good and not euill, that ye may liue: & so the Lord God of hoastes shalbe with you, as you haue spoken.

15 Hate the euill and loue the good, and establishe iudgement in the gate: it may be, that the Lord God of hoastes wilbe mercifull vnto the remnaunt of Joseph.

16 Therfore the Lorde God of hoastes the Lord sayth thus, Mourning shalbe in all streetes, and they shall say in al the hye wayes, Alas, alas: and they shall cal the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, "to mourning.

"Or, shall mourne.

17 And in all the vines shalbe lamentation: for I will passe through thee, sayth the Lorde.

18 Wo vnto you that desire the day of the Lorde, What haue ye to do with it? the day of the Lorde is darkenes, and not light.

19 As if a man dyd flee from a lion, and a beare meete him, & went into the house, and leaned his hand vnto the wal, and a serpent bite hym.

20 Shall not the day of the Lorde be darkenesse, and not light? euen darkenesse and no "light in it.

"Or, shine.

21 I hate, I abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not (d) smell in your solemne assemblies.

(d) That is, I will not delite in the smel of your incense.

22 Though ye offer me burnt offeringes, and meate offeringes, I will not accept them, neither will I regarde the peace offering of your fat beastes.

23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songues, for I will not heare the melodie of thy violes.

24 And "let iudgement run downe as water, and righteousnesse as a mightie riuer.

"Or, iudgement shal run downe.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offringes in the wildernesse fourtie yeres, O house of Israel?

26 But ye haue borne (e) Sicuth your king, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your gods, which ye made to your selues.

(e) That vile which ye esteemed, as your king, and caried about as pedid Chiun: in the whiche images ye thought that there was a certeyne diuinitie.

27 Therfore will I cause you to go into captiuitie beyonde Damascus, sayth the Lorde, whose name is the God of hoastes.

The .vi. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth against the princes of Israel liuing in pleasures. 8 The Lord sweareth that he will bring to passe the thinges that are purposed against Israel.

1 WO to them that are at ease in Sion, and trust in the mountayne of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nations, & the house of Israel came to them.

"If God haue destroyed the excellent cities in these kingdomes no in Babylon, Syria, and of the Philistines, & hath brought their borders into a greater greatnesse then yours are: thinke not to be better then they.

2 Go you vnto Calneh, and see, and from thence go you to Hemath the great, then go downe to Gath of the Philistines: be (a) they better then (b) these kingdomes? or the border of their lande greater then your border?

3 Be that put farre away the euyll day, and "approche to the seate of iniquitie.

: The kingdomes of Iudah & Israel.

"Or, bring vpon.

4 They lye vpon beddes of yuorie, and stretche them selues vpon their couches, and eate the lambes out of the flocke, and the calues out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sounde of the viole, they inuent to them selues instrumentes of musicke, like Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, and annoynt them selues with chiefe ointmentes: but no man is sorie for the affliction of Joseph.

7 Therfore nowe shall they go captiue with the first that go captiue, and "the sorowe of them that stretched them selues is at hande.

"Or, the ioy of them that stretched the selues, shall depart.

8 The Lorde God hath sworne by hym selfe, sayth the Lorde God of hoastes: I abhorre the "excellencie of Jacob, and hate his palaces, therfore will I deliuer vp the citie, with all that is therin.

"Or, magnificence, that is the riches and pompe.

9 And if there remayne ten men in one house, they shall dye.

10 And his vncle shall take him vp, and burne him, to cary out the bones out of the house, & shall say vnto him that is by the (c) sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee: And he shal say, None. Then shal he say, Hold thy tongue: for we may not remember the name of the Lorde.

11 For behold the Lord commaundeth, and he will smyte the great house with breaches, & the litle houses with clefts.

12 Shal horses run vpō the (d) rocke: or wil one plowe there with oxen: for ye haue turned iudgement into "gall, & the fruite of righteousnesse into Wormewood.

13 Ye reioyce in a thing of naught, ye say: Haue not we gotten vs hornes by our owne strength:

14 But behold, I will rayse vp against you a nation O house of Israel, sayth the Lorde God of hoastes, and they shall afflict you from the entring of (e) Hemath, vnto the riuer of the wildernesse.

(c) That is, some neighbour that dwelleth neare about.

(d) He compareth them to baren rockes, wherupon it is in vayne to bestow labour, shewing that gods benefites can haue no place among them.

" Or, possession.

(e) That is, from one corner of the countrey vnto an other. For Antioche, which is here called Hemath, and the west sea which is here signified by the riuer of the wildernesse, are the vtter borders of the countrey of the ten tribes. 4. Re. 14.

The. vii. Chapter.

1 God sheweth certayne visions, wherby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel. 10 The false accusation of Amazia the priest. 12 His craftie counsell. 14 The testimonie of Amos of him selfe. 17 His prophecie against Amazia and of the captiuitie of the people.

A 1 THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, & beholde, he fourmed grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of ỹ latter growth, and lo it was in the latter growth, after the (a) kinges mowing.

(a) After the publicke commaundement for mowing was geuen, or as some rende after ỹ kinges sheepe were shorne.

2 And when they hath made an end of eating the grasse of the lande, then I sayde, O Lorde God, spare I beseche thee: Who shall rayse vp Jacob: for he is smal.

(b) That is, stayed this plague at my prayer.

3 So the Lorde (b) repented for this: it shall not be, sayth the Lorde.

4 Thus also hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and behold, the Lord God called to iudgement, by fire, & it deuoured the great deepe, and did eate vp "a part.

" Or, the possession, meaning the whole fielde.

5 Then sayde I, O Lorde God, ceasse I beseche thee: Who shall rayse vp Jacob: for he is smal.

6 So the Lord repented for this: this also shall not be, sayth the Lorde God.

B 7 Thus againe he shewed me, & beholde the Lorde stoode vpon a wall [made] by line, (c) With a line in his hande.

(c) Signifying that this shoulde be the last measuring of the people, and that he would differ his iudgement no longer.

8 And the Lorde sayde vnto me, Amos what seest thou: And I sayde, A line. Then sayd the Lorde, Beholde I will set a line in the mids of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the hie places of Isaac shalbe desolate, and the "temples of Israel shalbe destroyed, and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sworde.

" Or, sanctuaries, or holy places.

10 Then Amazia the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying: Amos hath conspired against thee in the mids of the house of Israel: the lande is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos sayth: Jeroboam shal die by the sworde, and Israel shalbe led away captiue out of their owne lande.

12 Also Amazia sayde to Amos, O thou the sear, Go, flee thou away into the lande of Juda, and there eate thy bread, and prophecie there.

13 But prophecie no more at Bethel: for it is the kinges chappell, & it is the kinges court.

14 Then aunswered Amos, and sayde to C Amazia, I was no prophete, neither was I a prophetes sonne: but I was an heardeman, and a gatherer of wilde figges.

15 And the Lorde toke me as I folowed the flocke, and the Lord sayde vnto me, Go, prophecie vnto my people Israel.

15 Now therfore heare thou the word of the Lorde: Thou sayest, Prophecie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Isaac.

17 Therfore thus sayth the Lorde, Thy wyfe shalbe an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sworde, and thy land shalbe deuided by line, and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely go into captiuitie foorth of his lande.

The. viii. Chapter.

1 By a vision of a basket of sommer fruite, thende of the kingdome of Israel is shewed. 4 He speaketh against the oppressours of the poore. 9 And describeth the bitternesse of the plague of Israel. 11 And prophecieth of the famine of the worde of God.

A 1 THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me: and beholde, a basket of sommer fruite.

2 And he sayde: Amos, what seest thou? And I sayde: A basket of (a) sommer fruite. Then sayd the Lord vnto me, The end is come vpon my people of Israel, I wil passe by them no more.

(a) Which signifieth the ripenesse of their sinnes, and the rednesse of gods iudgementes.

3 And the songues of the temple shalbe howlinges in that day sayth the Lorde God: many dead bodies shalbe in euery place, they shal cast them foorth with silence.

4 Heare this, O ye that swallow vp the poore, that ye may make the needy of the lande to fayle,

5 Saying, When will the newe moneth be gone, that we may sell corne? & the Sabbath, that we may set foorth wheate, and make the (b) Epha small, & the sicle great, & falsifie the wayghtes by deceite?

(b) That is, the measure small, and the price great.

6 That we may bie the poore for siluer, and the needy for shoes, yea and sell the refuse of the wheate?

B 7 The Lorde hath sworne by the excellencie of Jacob, surely I will neuer forget any of their workes.

8 Shall not the lande tremble for this, and euerie one mourne that dwelleth therin? And it shall rise vp wholly as a flood, and it shalbe cast out, and (c) drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

(c) That is, the inhabitauntes of the land shalbe drowned, as Nilus drowneth many when it ouerfloweth.

9 And in that day, sayth the Lord God, I will euen cause the (d) sunne to go downe at noone, and I wil darken the earth in the cleare day.

(d) In the mids of their prosperitie, I wil send great affliction.

10 And I will turne your feastes into mourning, and all your songues into lamentation: and I will bring sackecloth vpon all loynes, and baldnesse vpon euery head, & I will make it as the mourning of an only sonne, and the end therof as a bitter day.

11 Behold the dayes come sayth the Lord God, that I will sende a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor thirst for water, but of hearing the worde of the Lorde.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, & from the north euen vnto the east shal they run to and fro to seke the worde of the Lord, and shall not finde it.

13 In that day shall the fayre virgins, and the young men perishe for thirst.

14 They that swere by the (e) sinne of Samaria, & that say, Thy God O Dan liueth, & the (f) maner of Beersebа liueth, euen they shall fall, and neuer rise vp againe.

(e) For the idolaters did vse to swere by their idoles, which here he calleth their sinne.

(f) That is, the comon maner of worshipping, and the seruice or religion there vsed.

The .ix. Chapter.

1 Treatninges against the temple. 5 The subuertion of the people. 7 That they be not able to escape gods iudgementes. 10 He reproued the vnkindenesse of Israel. 11 The restoring of the church is promised.

A 1 I Saw the Lorde standing vpon the (a) aulter, and he sayd: Smite the lintel of the doore, that the postes may shake, & * cut them in peeces, euen the (a) heades of them all, and I will slay the last of them with the sworde: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shall not be deliuered.

* Or, wound them in the head, euen all.

† Both the chiefe of them and also the common people

2 Though they dig into (b) hell, thence shall my hande take them, though they clime vp to heauen, thence will I bring them downe.

(b) That is, beneth the center or mids of the earth.

3 And though they hyde them selues in the top of Charmel, I will searche, and take them out thence: and though they be hyd from my sight in the bottome of the sea, thence will I commaunde the (c) serpent, and he shall bite them.

(c) That is, the whale or some other huge beast of the sea.

4 And though they go into captiuitie before their enemies, thence wil I commaunde the sworde & it shall slay them: and I will set myne eyes vpon them for euill, and not for good.

5 And the Lorde God of hoastes shall touche the land, and it shall melt away: and all that dwell therin shall mourne, and it shal rise vp whole like a flood, and shalbe drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buyldeth his "spheres in the heauen, & hath layde the foundation of his globe of elementes on the earth: he calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out vpon the open earth, the Lorde is his name.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians (d) vnto me O children of Israel, sayth the Lorde: haue not I brought vp Israel out of the lande of Egypt: & the Philistines from Cappadocia, and the Syrians from Cyrene:

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lorde God are vpon the sinful kingdome, and I will destroy it cleane out of the earth: neuertheless, I will not vtterly destroy the house of Jacob, sayth the Lorde.

9 For lo, I will commaunde, and I will sifte the house of Israel among all nations, like as corne is sifted in a siue: yet shall not the (e) least stone fall vpon the earth.

10 But all the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The euyll shall not come, nor haste for vs.

11 In that day will I rayse vp the tabernacle of Dauid that is fallen downe, and close vp the breaches thereof, and I will rayse vp his ruines, & I will buyld it, as in the dayes of olde:

12 That they may possesse the remnaunt of Edom, & of all the heathen, "because my name is called vpon them, sayth the Lorde that doeth this.

13 Behold the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall (f) touche the mower, and the treader of grapes hym that soweth seede, and the mountaynes shal (g) drop sweete wine, & all the hilles shall melt.

14 And I wil bring againe the captiuitie of my people of Israel, and they shall buyld the waste cities, and inhabite them: and they shall plante vineyardes, and drinke the wine therof, they shall also make gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

15 And I will plant them vpon their land, and they shal no more be pulled vp againe out of their lande which I haue geuen them, sayth the Lorde thy God.

"Or, ascents or degrees.

(d) That is, am I more bound vnto you, then to the Ethiopians, or blacke Moores? yet haue I bestowed vpon you greater benefites.

The booke of the prophete Abdias.

Against Edom, and the trust that they had in richesse.

A 1 The vision of Abdi, thus sayth the lord God against Edom: We haue hearde a rumor from the Lorde, & an ambassadour is sent among the heathen: arise, and let vs ryse vp against her to battayle.

2 Behold, I haue made thee smal among the heathen, thou art vtterly despised.

3 The pride of thyne heart hath deceaued thee, thou that dwellest in the clefftes of the rockes, whose habitation [is] hie, that saith in his heart, who shall bring me downe to the grounde:

4 Yea though thou exalt thy selfe as the egle, and make they nest among the starres, thence wil I bring thee downe, sayth the Lorde.

5 Came theeues to thee, or robbers by night: how wast thou brought to silence: woulde they not haue stollen till they had inough: If the grape gatherers came to thee, woulde they not leaue [some] grapes:

6 Howe are the thinges of Esau sought vp, vp, [and] his treasures searched.

7 All the men of thy confederacie haue driuen thee to the borders, the men that were at peace with thee haue deceaued thee, and preuailed against thee, [they that eate] thy bread haue layd a wounde vnder thee, there is none vnderstanding in him.
8 Shal not I in that day, saide the lord, euen destroy the wise men out of Edom, and vnderstanding from the mount of Esau?
9 And thy strong men O Theman shalbe afraid: because euery one of the mount of Esau shalbe cut of by slaughter.
10 For thy crueltie against thy brother Jacob shame shall couer thee, and thou shalt be cut of for euer.
11 When thou stoodest on the other side, in the day that the straungers caried away his substaunce, and straungers entred into his gates, and cast lottes vpon Hierusalem, euen thou wast as one of them.
12 But thou shouldest not haue beholden the day of thy brother in the day that he was made a straunger, neither shouldest thou haue reioyced ouer the childrē of Juda in the day of their destruction, thou shouldest not haue spoken proudly in the day of affliction:
13 Thou shouldest not haue entred into the gate of my people in the day of their destruction, neither shouldest thou haue once loked on their affliction in the day of their destructiō, nor haue layd handes on their substaunce in the day of their destruction:
14 Neither shouldest thou haue stand in the crosse wayes to cut of them that shoulde escape, neither shouldest thou haue shutte vp the remnaunt thereof in the day of affliction.
15 For the day of the Lorde is neare vpon all the heathen: as thou hast done, it shalbe done to thee, thy reward shall returne vpon thyne head.
16 For as ye haue (a) dronke vpon myne holy mountaine, so shall all the heathen drinke continually: yea, they shal drinke and swalowe vp, and they shalbe as though they (b) had not ben.
17 But vpon mount Sion shalbe deliueraunce, and it shalbe holy, and the house of Jacob shal possesse their possessions.
18 And the house of Jacob shalbe a fire, and the house of Joseph a flambe, and the house of Esau as stubble, and they shall kindle in them and deuoure them, and there shalbe no remnaunt of the house of Esau: for the Lorde hath spoken it.
19 And they shall possesse the south side of the mount of Esau, and the plaine of the Philistines, and they shall possesse the fieldes of Ephraim, and the fieldes of Samaria, and Beniamin [shall haue] Gilead. D
20 And the captiuitie of his hoast of the children of Israel, which were among the Chanaanites [shall possesse] vnto Zarephath, and the captiuitie of Hierusalem which is in Sepharad, shall possesse the cities of the south.
21 And they that shall (c) saue, shall come vp to mount Sion to iudge the mount of Esau, and the kingdome shalbe the Lordes.

(a) That is, reioyced and triumphed.
(b) That is, at the length they shall vtterly perishe.
(c) Meanyng that God wyll rayse vp in his Church suche as shall rule & gouerne, for the defence of the same, and destruction of his enemies, vnder Messias.

The booke of the prophete Ionas.

The first Chapter.

3 Jonas fled when he was sent to preache. 4 A tempest ariseth, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

1 The worde of the Lorde came vnto (a) Jonas the sonne of Amittai, saying:
2 Aryse, & go to (b) Ninive that great citie, and crye against it: for their wickednesse is come vp before me.
3 And Jonas rose vp to flee into Tharsis from the presence of the Lorde, and went downe to (c) Joppa, and founde a ship going to (d) Tharsis: so he payed his fare, and went downe into it, that he might go with them vnto Tharsis from the (e) presence of the Lorde.
4 But the Lorde sent out a great winde into the sea, and there was a mightie tempest

(a) The prophesied vnder Jeroboam the second. 2. Reg. 14.
(b) It was the greatest citie of the Assyrians, situate in the region Assyria, as Strabo witnesseth hauyng in compasse a hundreth and fifty towres.
(c) It is a hauen towne in the which Peter lodged. Act. 10.
(d) It is the name of a place likely to be Cicilia, for there was a great citie of that name, where also Paul was borne.
(e) As the Leuites whiche minister to the Lorde are saide to stande before hym: so they whiche forsake his commaundement are saide to flee before his presence.

tempest in the sea, so that the shippe was in daunger of splitting in sunder.

5 Then the maryners were afrayde, and cryed euery man vnto his God, and cast the wares that were in the shippe into the sea, to lighten it of them: but Jonas was gone downe into the sides of the shippe, & he laye downe sleeping.

6 And the shippe maister came to him, and saide: What meanest thou sleeper? Up, and call vpon thy God, if so be that God wyl shine vnto vs, that we perishe not.

7 And they saide euery one to his felow, Come, let vs cast (f) lottes: that we may know for whose cause this euil is on vs. And they cast lottes: and the lotte fel on Jonas.

8 Then saide they vnto him: Tell vs for whose cause is this euill come vpon vs? What is thyne occupation? whence camest thou? What countrey man art thou, and of what nation?

9 And he answered them: I am an Hebrue, and I feare the Lorde God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the drye lande.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraide, & saide vnto him: Why hast thou done this? (for the men knewe that he fled from the presence of the Lorde, because he had tolde them.)

11 And they saide vnto him: What shal we do vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs? For the sea wrought and was troublous.

12 And he saide vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea, and the sea shalbe calme vnto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Neuertheless, the men assayed with rowing to bring the shippe to lande, but they could not, because the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.

14 Wherfore they cryed vnto the Lorde, and saide: We beseche thee O Lord, we beseche thee, let not vs perishe for this mans lyfe, and lay not to our charge innocent blood: for thou O Lorde hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they toke vp Jonas, and cast him into the sea, and the sea left raging.

16 And the men feared the Lorde exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice vnto the Lorde, and made (g) vowes.

17 And the Lorde prepared a great fishe to swalowe vp Jonas: & Jonas was in the belly of the fishe three dayes and three nightes.

(f) It was the maner of the Gentiles to cast lottes, and so to enquire the iudgment of God: the Romanes deuided prouinces by lots: the Grecians enquired by lot who should combat with Hector, and some kinde of lottes are spoken of in scripture Pro. 18. Esai. 10.

1 Jonas is in the fishes belly. 3 His prayer. 11 He is deliuered.

A 1 AND Jonas prayed vnto the Lorde his God out of the (a) fishes belly.

(a) He calleth hell, and the worde is taken often for the graue: being came to him selfe, he in great afflictio called vpon the Lorde.

2 And saide: In affliction I cryed vnto the Lorde, and he heard me: out of the belly of hell cryed I, and thou heardest my voyce.

3 Thou haddest cast me downe into the deepe, into the middest of the sea, and the floods compassed me about: all thy billowes and waues passed ouer me.

4 And I saide: I am cast away out of thy sight, yet wyll I loke againe toward thyne holy temple.

5 The waters compassed me euen vnto the soule, the deapth closed me on euery side, and the weedes were wrapt about my head.

6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaines, the earth with her barres was about me for euer: yet hast thou brought vp my lyfe from corruption, O Lorde my God.

7 When my soule fainted within me, I B remembred the Lorde, and my prayer came in vnto thee into thy holy temple.

8 They that holde vpon (b) lying vanitie, forsake his mercie.

(b) All that is lying vanitie that a man inuenteth of him selfe to trust in.

9 But I wyll sacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thankesgeuing, and wyll pay that that I haue vowed: for saluation is of the Lorde.

10 And the Lorde spake vnto the fishe, and it cast out Jonas vpon the (c) drye lande.

(c) Iosephus in the ninth booke of antiquities saith, he was cast out on the shore of the sea Euxinum, which is not farre from Asia.

The .iij. Chapter.

2 Jonas is sent againe to Ninive. 5 The repentaunce of the king of Ninive.

A 1 AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jonas the second time, saying:

2 Aryse, and go to Ninive that great citie, and preache against it the preaching which I speake vnto thee.

3 So Jonas arose, and went to Ninive according to the word of the Lord (Ninive was a great citie and (a) excellent, of three dayes iourney.)

(a) In the Hebrue it is a great citie to God: but to the Hebrues exceeding great and excellent thinges. So the hill of god the Cedar of God, for a great hill and no Cedar.

4 And Jonas began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, and he cryed & saide: Yet fourtie dayes, & Ninive shalbe destroyed.

5 And the men of Ninive beleued God, and proclaymed a fast, and put on sackecloth from the greatest of them to the least of them.

6 And worde came vnto the king of Ninive: which arose from his throne, and put of his robe, and couered him selfe with sackcloth, & sate downe in asshes. B

7 And he caused a cryer to crye, and say through the citie by the counsell of the king & his nobles, Let neither man nor beast, bullocke nor sheepe, taste ought at all, neither feede, nor drinke water.

8 And let both man & beast put on sackecloth, and crye mightyly vnto God: yea let euery man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednesse that is in his handes.

9 Who can tel whether God wyl turne and be moued with (b) repentaunce, and turne from his fierce wrath, that we perishe not?

(b) God is saide to repent when he doth those thinges that men do repenting.

10 And God sawe their workes, that they turned from their euil wayes, and he repented of the (c) euill that he saide he woulde do vnto them, and did it not.

The great goodneſſe of God toward his creatures.

A 1 AND this diſpleaſed Jonas greatly, and he was (a) angrye [within him ſelfe.]

(a) Becauſe hereby he ſhould be take as a falſe prophete, and ſo the name of God which he preached, ſhould be blaſphemed.

2 And he prayed vnto the Lorde, and ſaide: I pray thee O Lorde, was not this my ſaying when I was yet in my countrey: therfore I haſted to flee into Tharſis: For I knewe that thou art a gratious God, and mercifull, long ſuffering, and of great kindneſſe, and repenteſt thee of euill.

3 And nowe O Lorde, take I beſeche thee my lyfe from me: for it is better for me to dye, then to lyue.

4 Then ſaide the Lord, Doeſt thou wel to be angry?

5 And Jonas went out of the citie, and ſate him downe on the eaſt ſide thereof, and there made him a boothe, and ſate vnder it in the ſhadowe, till he might ſee what ſhould be done in the citie.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it ſpring vp ouer Jonas, that it might be a ſhadowe ouer his head, to deliuer him from his griefe: So Jonas was exceeding glad of the gourde.

7 But God prepared a worme, when the morning roſe the next day, which ſmote the gourde, that it withered.

8 And when the ſunne roſe, God prepared a feruent eaſt winde, and the ſunne beat vpon the head of Jonas that he fainted: and wiſhed vnto his ſoule, that he might dye, and ſaide, It is better for me to dye, then to lyue.

9 And the Lord ſaide vnto Jonas: Doeſt thou well to be ſo angry within thy ſelfe for the gourde? And he ſaide: I do well to be angry euen vnto death.

10 Then ſaide the Lorde, Thou haſt had compaſſion on the gourde about the which thou beſtowedſt no labour, neither madeſt it growe: which came vp in a night, and periſhed in a night:

The firſt Chapter.

Of the deſtruction of Samaria becauſe of their idolatrie.

A 1 THE worde of the Lorde came vnto Micheas the Moraſthite, in the dayes of* Jotham, Ahas, & * Hezekiah, kinges of Juda, which he ſawe concerning Samaria and Hieruſalem.

4.Reg xv.a ii.Par 27.a iii Reg 16.a. 4 Reg 18.a.

2 Heare all ye people, marke this well O earth and all that therein is: yea let the Lorde God him ſelfe be witneſſe againſt you, [euen] the Lorde from his holy temple.

3 For beholde, the Lorde ſhall come out of his holy place, and come downe and treade vpon the hie thinges of ỹ earth.

4 The mountaines ſhal melt vnder him, and the valleyes ſhall cleaue a ſunder, lyke as wax [melteth] before the fire, and as the waters runne downeward.

5 And all this ſhalbe for the wickednes of Jacob, and the ſinnes of the houſe of Iſrael:

Israel: but what is the wickednesse of Jacob: is not (a) Samaria: which are the hie places of Juda: is not * Hierusalem:

6 Therefore I wyll make Samaria an heape of the fielde [meete] for the planting of a vineyarde: her stones wyll I tumble downe into the valley, and discouer her foundations.

7 All her images shalbe broken downe, and all her garmentes shalbe brent in the fire, yea: al her idols wyl I destroy: for they are gathered out of the hyre of an (b) harlot, and into an harlots hyre shall they be turned againe.

8 Wherefore I wyll mourne and make lamentation, bare and naked wyl I go: I wyll mourne lyke the Dragons, and take sorowe as the Ostriches.

9 For their wounde is past remedie, it is come into Juda, and hath touched the gate of my people at Hierusalem alredie.

13 O thou (e) inhabitaunt of Lachis, binde the charette to the swiftest (f) beast, she is the beginning of the sinne of the daughter of Sion: for the transgressions of Israel were founde in thee.

14 Therfore shalt thou bring presentes to (g) Moresheth Gath: ẏ houses of Achzib [shalbe] as a lye to the kinges of Israel.

15 And as for thee O thou that dwellest at Maresa, I shall bring a possessioner vpon thee, he shal come to Adullam, the glory of Israel.

Threatninges against the sinfull people. 6 They would teache the prophetes to preache.

A 1 WO vnto them that imagine iniquitie, and worke wickednesse vpon their beddes: when the morning is light they practise it, because their hande hath power.

2 And they couet fieldes, and take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, [euen] man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lorde: Beholde, against this housholde haue I deuised a plague, whereout ye shall not plucke your neckes: ye shall no more go so proudly, for it wyl be a perilous time.

4 In that day shal this parable be vsed, and a mourning shalbe made ouer you on this maner: We be vtterly desolate, the portion of my people is translated: how wyll he parte vnto vs the lande that he hath taken from vs:

(g) To breake downe their walles and gates, to carry them away captiues by heapes.
(h) Is a prysoner, or captiue.
(i) To shewe his wrathfull indignation against the Israelites, for their obstinate wickednesse.

¶ The .iij. Chapter.

Against the tiranny of princes and false prophetes.

A 1 AND I saide, heare I pray you O heads of Jacob, & ye princes of the house of Israel, shoulde not ye know iudgement:

2 [But] they hate the good, and loue the euill, they plucke of their skinnes from them, and their flesh from their bones.

3 And they eate also the flesh of my people, & flay of their skinne from them: and they breake their bones, and chop them in peeces as for the pot, and as flesh within the cauldron.

4 Then shall they crye vnto the Lorde, but he wyll not heare them: he wyll euen hide his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus saith the Lorde concerning the prophetes that deceaue my people (a) and bite them with their teeth, and crye peace: but if a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him.

6 Therfore (b) night [shalbe] vnto you for a vision, and darkenesse [shalbe] vnto you for a diuination: and the sunne shall go downe ouer the prophetes, and the day shalbe darke ouer them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the soothsayers confounded: yea, B (c) they shal al couer their lippes, for they haue none answere of God.

8 Yet notwithstanding, I am full of power by the spirite of the Lorde, and of iudgement, and of strength, to declare vnto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

9 Heare this I pray you ye heades of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert all equitie.

10 (d) They builde vp Sion with blood, and Hierusalem with iniquitie.

11 (The heades therof iudge for rewards, and the priestes thereof teache for hyre, and the prophetes thereof prophesie for money: yet wyll they leane vpon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among vs: no euill can come vpon vs.)

12 Therefore shall Sion for your sake be plowed [as] a fielde, & Hierusalem shalbe an heape, and the mountaine of the house as the hie places of the forest.

(a) False prophetes denounced the substaunce of their followers, and make game of religion.
(b) The knowledge which ye now pretende, shalbe knowen to be grosse ignorannce.
(c) They shall couer their faces for shame.
(d) They fortifie and garnishe their cities with goods wrongfully gotten, which here are called blood and iniquitie.

The .iiij. Chapter.

The calling of the Gentiles and conuertion of the Jewes.

A 1 BUt in the (a) latter dayes it wyll come to passe that the hill of the Lordes house shalbe prepared in the toppe of the mountaines, and shalbe set vp hygher then any mountaynes or hilles, and people shall preasle vnto it.

2 Yea, the multitude of the Gentiles shall haste them thither, saying: Come, let vs go vp the to hill of the Lorde, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and he shall teache vs his wayes, and we wyll walke in his pathes: for the lawe shall come out of Sion, and the word of God from Hierusalem.

3 And he shall iudge many people, and rebuke mightie nations of farre countreys: so that of their swordes they shal make make ploughshares, and sythes of their speares: one people shall not lift vp a swoorde against another, yea they shall no moore learne to fight.

(a) When Christe shall come.

4 But euery man shall sit vnder his vineyarde, and vnder his figtree, and no man shall make them afraide: for the mouth of the Loorde of hoastes hath spoken it.

5 Therfoore all people wyll walke euery man in the name of his God: and we wyll walke in the name of our loord God for euer and euer.

6 At the same time saith the Loorde, wyl I gather vp the lame and the outcast, 15 and such as I haue chastened,

7 And wyll geue a remnaunt vnto the lame, and make of the outcast a mightie people: and the Loorde him selfe shalbe their king vpon the mount Sion, from this time foorth for euermoore.

8 And vnto thee O thou towre of the flocke, thou strong holde of the daughter Sion, vnto thee shall it come, euen the loordeship and kingdome to the daughter Hierusalem.

9 Why then doest thou crye and lament: is there no king in thee? are thy counsellers perished, that thou art so payned as a woman in her trauaile?

10 And now O thou daughter Sion, sorowe and lament as a woman in her trauaile: for nowe must thou get thee out of the citie, & dwelt vpon the plaine fielde: yea vnto Babylon shalt thou go, [but] there shalt thou be deliuered,* and there the Lord shall redeeme thee from the hande of thyne enemies.

11 Now also are there many people gathered together against thee, saying: Sion shalbe condempned, and our eye shall loke vpon Sion.

12 But they know not the thoughtes of the Loord, they vnderstand not his counsel: for he shall gather them together as the sheaues in the barne. ℂ

13 Therefoore get thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, and thresshe out the corne: for I wyll make thy horne iron, and thy hooues brasse, that thou mayst breake in peeces many people: their goodes shalt thou consecrate vnto the Loorde, and their substaunce vnto the ruler of the whole worlde.

¶The .v. Chapter.

Of the destruction of Hierusalem.

A 1 NOw shalt thou be robbed thy selfe O thou robbers daughter: they shall laye siege against vs, & smyte the iudge of Israel with a rodde 2 vpon the cheeke.

And thou Bethlehem Ephrata art little among the thousandes of Juda, out of thee shal he come foorth vnto me which shalbe the gouernour in Israel, whose out going hath ben from the beginning, and from euerlasting.

3 Therefoore wyll he geue them vp for a season, vntill the time that she which shall beare haue borne: then shall the remnaunt of his brethren be conuerted vnto the children of Israel.

4 He shall stande faste, and geue foode in the strength of the Loorde, and in the maiestie of the name of the Loorde his God: and when they be conuerted, he shalbe magnified vnto the farthest partes of the worlde.

5 And he shall be our peace: When the Assirians shall come into our lande, when he shal treade in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seuen sheepheardes, and eyght principall men.

6 These shall subdue the lande of Assur with the swoorde, and the lande of Nimrod with their naked weapons: Thus shall he deliuer vs from the Assirian when he commeth within our lande, and setteth his foote within our boorders. B

7 And the remnaunt of Jacob shalbe among the multitude of people as the deawe of the Loord, and as the droppes vpon the grasse, that taryeth for no man and wayteth on no body.

8 Yea the residue of Jacob shalbe among the gentiles and the multitude of people, as the lion among the beastes of the wood, and as the lions whelpe among the flockes of sheepe: which whē he goeth through, treadeth downe, tearcth reth in peeces, and there is no man that can deliuer.

9 Thyne hand shalbe lyft vp vpon thyne enemies, and all thyne aduersaries shall perishe.

10 And it shall come to passe in that day saith the Lorde, that I wyll take thyne horses from thee, and destroy thy charrettes.

11 I wyll breake downe the cities of thy lande, and ouerthrowe all thy strong holdes.

12 All witchcraftes wyll I roote out of thyne hande, there shall no mo soothsayinges be within thee.

13 Thyne idols and thyne images wyll I destroy out of thee, so that thou shalt no more bowe thy selfe vnto the workes of thyne owne handes.

14 Thy groues wyll I plucke vp by the rootes, and breake downe thy cities. ℭ

15 And I wyll execute a vengeaunce in my wrath & indignation vpon the heathen, such as they haue not heard.

The .vi. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to heare the iudgement against Israel being vnkinde. 8 What maner of sacrifices do please God.

A 1 Hearken ye nowe what the Lorde sayth: Arise thou, and contend with the mountaynes, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

2 Heare O ye mountaines the Lordes quarel, and ye mightie foundations of the earth: for the Lorde hath a quarell against his people, and wyll pleade with Israel.

3 O my people what haue I done vnto thee: or wherein haue I greeued thee: geue me aunswere.

4 For I brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, & deliuered thee out of the house of bondage, and I made Moyses, Aaron, and Miriam to leade thee.

5 Remember O my people, what Balach the king of Moab had deuised against thee, and what aunswere that Balaam the sonne of Beor gaue him, from Sethim vnto Galgal, that ye may knowe the righteousnesse of the Lorde.

6 Wherewith shall I come before the Lorde, and bowe my selfe to the hye God: Shall I come before him with burnt offeringes, and with calues of a yere olde:

B 7 Hath the Lorde a pleasure in many thousandes of Rammes, or innumerable streames of oyle: shall I geue my first borne for myne offences, and the fruite of my body for the sinne of my soule:

8 He hath shewed thee O man what is good, and what the Lorde requireth of thee: [namely] to do iustly, to loue mercie, and to humble thy selfe to walke with thy God.

9 The Lordes voyce cryeth vnto the citie, and the man that shalbe saued considereth thy name: hearken what is your rodde, & heare him that warneth you.

10 Are not yet the treasures of wickednesse in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure which is abhominable:

11 Should I iustifie the false balaunces, and the bagge of deceitfull weightes:

12 For the riche men thereof are full of crueltie, and the inhabitantes thereof haue spoken lyes, and haue deceitfull tongues in their mouthes.

13 Therefore I wyll take in hande to punishe thee, and to make thee desolate, because of thy sinnes. ℭ

14 Thou shalt eate, and not haue inough: yea, thou shalt bring thy selfe downe in the middes of thee, thou shalt flee, but not escape, and those that thou wouldest saue, wyll I deliuer to the swoorde.

15 Thou shalt sowe, but not reape, thou shalt presse out Oliues, but oyle shalt thou not haue to annoynt thy selfe withall: thou shalt tread out sweete must, but shalt drincke no wine.

16 Ye kepe the ordinaunces of Amri, and all the customes of the house of Ahab, ye walke in their counsels: therfore wyl I make thee waste, and cause thy inhabiters to be hissed at, and ye shall beare the reproche of my people.

The. vii. Chapter.

1 A complaynt of the litle number of the righteous. 5 Against the trueth ought we not to holde with our greatest frendes. 14 The prosperitie of the church.

A 1 WOis me, I am become as one that goeth a gleanyng in the harueſt: there are no mo grapes to eate, yet would I faine with al my hearte haue of the beſt fruite.

Rom.iii.d. 2 *There is not a godly vpon earth, there is not one righteous among men: they al lye in wayte for blood, and euery man hunteth his brother to death.

3 Yet they say they do wel, when they do euyll: the prince (a) asketh, and the iudge [iudgeth] for a reward, therfore the great man speaketh out of the corruption of his soule, and so they wrappe it vp.

(a) Both the prince and iudges for gane peruert iuſtice. and ſo the naghte and the riche eſcape vnpuniſhed, though they commit grieuous crimes.

4 The best of them is as bryer, and the most righteous of them is [sharper] then a thorne hedge: the day of thy watchmen, [and] of thy visitation commeth: then shalbe their confusion.

Ier.ix.a. 5 *Let no man beleeue his friende, nor put his confidence in his brother: kepe the doore of thy mouth from her that lyeth in thy bosome.

Mich.v.e. Deut.xxi.b. &.xxxiii.b Psal.xv.b. and lvi.b. 6 *For the sonne dishonoreth his father, the daughter riseth against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in lawe: and a mans foes are euen they of his owne housholde.

B 7 Neuertheleſſe, I wil looke vp vnto the Lorde, I will patiently abyde God my sauiour: my God shall heare me.

Pro.xvii.a. 8 *O thou enemie of myne reioyce not at my fall, for I shall rise againe: & though I sit in darkeneſſe, yet the Lorde is my light.

9 I will beare the wrath of the Lord, for I haue offended hym till he sit in iudgement vpon my cause, and see that I haue right: then will he bring me foorth to the light, and I shall see his righteouſneſſe.

10 She that is myne enemie, shall loke vpon it and be confounded, Which nowe sayth, *Where is the Lorde thy God? myne eyes shall beholde her when she shalbe troden downe as the myre in the streetes. 4.Reg.19.a.

11 *This is the day that thy walles shalbe buylt, this day shall dryue farre away the (b) decree. Amos ix.c

(b) Thou shalt no more be subiect to the forrayne tiranny of the Babylonians

12 And at that time shall they come vnto thee from Assur, from the strong cities, and from the strong holdes, euen vnto the riuer: from the one sea to the other, and from mountayne to mountayne.

13 Notwithstanding, the land must be waſted, because of them that dwell therin, and for the fruites of their owne imaginations.

14 Therfore feede thy people with thy rod, the flocke of thyne heritage whiche dwel desolate in the wood, that they may be fed vpon the (c) mount of Carmel, Basan, and Gilead, as aforetime. ℭ

(c) That the people may returne out of the captiuitie of Babylon, and enioy the land of promiſſes they did before.

15 Maruelous thinges wil I shewe thee, *like as when thou cameſt out of the lande of Egypt. Exo.xiii.a.

16 This shall the heathen see, and be ashamed for all their power: *so that they shall lay their hande vpon their mouth, and stoppe their eares. Iob 39 d.

17 *They shal licke the dust like a serpente, and as the wormes of the earth that tremble in their holes: they shalbe afrayde of the Lorde our God, and they shall feare thee. Gen.iii.c.

18 Who is such a God as thou, that pardoneſt wickednesse, and forgeueſt the offences of the remnaunt of thyne heritage? he kepeth not his wrath for euer: for his delite is to haue compaſſion.

19 *He shall turne againe, and be merciful to vs, he shall put downe our wickednesses, and cast all our sinnes into the bottome of the sea. Iere.ix.d.

20 Thou wilt perfourme to Jacob thy trueth, and thy mercie to Abraham, like as thou hast sworne vnto our fathers in olde time.

¶ The ende of the prophecie of Micheas.

The booke of the prophete Nahum.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliueraunce of Israel.

THe burden of (a) Ninive: The boke of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

(a) The Ninimites were spared, because they repented at the preaching of Jonas: but afterwardes they returned to their former wickednesse, therefore god threatneth them by this Prophete.

2 God is ielous, & the Lorde auengeth, the Lorde auengeth and hath wrath in store: the Lord auengeth vpon them that trouble hym, and he remembreth his enemies.

3 The Lorde is slowe to anger, and [also] of great power, and in no case will not acquite [the wicked,] the Lordes dealing is with blustring tempest and whirle winde, and the cloudes are the dust of his feete.

4 He rebuketh the sea and dryeth it vp, all the riuers also he maketh drye: Basan and Carmel are destroyed, the spring also of Libanon is destroyed.

5 The mountaynes quake * at his power and the hilles are resolued: the earth also burneth at his countenaunce, the worlde, and all that dwelleth therin.

* Or, for him

6 Who can stande before his wrath: or who can rise vp before the anger of his countenaunce, his fiercenesse is powred out like fire, yea the rockes cleaue in peeces at his might.

7 The Lord is gratious, a strong holde in the day of trouble, and knoweth them that trust in hym.

8 But with an ouerrunning flood he wil destroy her place, and will pursue his enemies with darkenesse.

9 What imagine ye against the Lorde? he makes an vtter destruction: ye shall not be troubled twyse.

10 For whyles the thornes cleaue together, and whyles they banquet out their feastes, they are deuoured vp as very drie stubble.

11 There came out of thee such as thought euyll against the Lorde, such as gaue wicked counsell.

12 Thus sayth the Lorde: Though ye be in concorde, and also many, yet so shall ye be cut downe, and passe: & [though] I haue afflicted thee [O Hierusalem] yet will I trouble thee no more.

13 And

13 And nowe I will breake of his yoke from[vpon]thee, and I will breake thy bondes in sunder.

14 The Lorde also hath geuen a commaundement touching thee that, there shalbe no more offspring of thy name: from the house of thy God, I will cut of carued and molten image, I will make [it] thy graue, for thou art vile.

15 Behold vpon the mountaynes the feete of him that bringeth good tidinges, that preacheth peace: kepe thy festiual dayes O Juda, paye thy vowes: for the wicked [traunt] shal hereafter passe no more through thee, he is vtterly cut of.

The .ij. Chapter.

Ye describeth the victories of the Chaldeans against the Assyrians.

A 1 He destroyer is come vp before thy face, kepe thy forte, see to the way, strenghten [thy] loynes, increase [thy] strength mightyly:

2 For the Lord restores againe the glorious estate of Jacob, as [also] the glorious estate of Jsrael: for spoylers hath spoyled them, and hath wasted their braunches.

3 The shielde of his valiaunt souldiours [is] died red, his captaynes of warre are clad with scarlet: the charret is [compassed] with flamming torches in the day of his expedition, and the firre staues are drenched in poyson.

4 The charrets shal rage in the streetes, they shall make a terrible noyse in the broade wayes, to loke to like [flaming] tresselets, shooting as lightning.

5 He shall remember his notable souldiours, they shal stumble in goyng, they shall hasten to the wall, the couering fence is prepared.

6 The riuer gates are opened, and the palace dissolued.

B 7 Huzab is brought forth captiue, made to ascend [into the charets] her handmaydens also leading [one another] as in the voyce of doues, knocking vpon their brestes.

8 Yea many a day Nineue was as a ponde full of water, yet [now] they flee, Stand ye, stande ye, and no man loketh backe.

9 Take your spoyle of siluer, take your spoyle of golde, for there is no ende of riches: treasure, pashing all treasure.

10 Sacking, resacking, rasing, a dissolued heart and collision of knees, sorow in all loynes also, and the faces of them all as blacke as a pot.

11 Where is the abiding place of lions, and the feding plot of lions whelpes [become,] whyther the young and olde lion had their resort: there dwelt the lion, & there was no man to put him in feare.

12 The lion made his praye aboundauntly for his whelpes, and strangled for his she lions, and hath filled his dennes with pray, and his abyding places with spoyle.

13 Behold me against thee sayth the Lord of hoastes, & I will burne in smoke her charets, and the sworde shall deuoure thy lions, I will roote out also from the earth thy spoyling, and the voyce of thy messengers shalbe heard no more.

The .ii. Chapter.

1 Of the fall of Nineue. 8 No power can escape the hande of God.

A 1 Bloody citie, stuffed throughout with falsehood, with extreme dealing, nor wilbe brought from spoyling.

2 The noyse of the whippe, the noyse of ratling of wheales, the praunsing of horses, and the iumping of charets:

3 The horseman lifting vp both the glistering blade of the sworde & also the shining speare, many wounded, many corpses, and no end of carcasses, they shall stumble at dead bodies.

4 Because of the manyfolde fornication of the beautifull harlot, ful of charmes, that selles nations by the meanes of her whordome, and the people through her charminges.

5 Lo I againſt thee ſayth the Lorde of hoaſtes, and will turne vp thy ſkirtes ouer thy face, and wil ſhewe the gentiles thy filth, and kingdomes thy ſhame:
6 And will caſt vpon thee abominable filth, and wil bring thee downe, and wil make thee as vile as doung.
7 And it ſhall come to paſſe that all that ſhall behold thee, ſhall flee from thee, and ſhall ſay, Ninive is deſtroyed, and who is greeued therwith: from whence ſhall I ſeke out comforters for thee?
8 Wilt thou count thy ſelfe better then Alexandria the great, that was ſituate amonges the riuers, compaſſed round about with water, whoſe fortreſſe was the ſea [and had] her wall from the ſea?
9 Ethiopia and Egypt [were thy] ſtrength, and there was none end [of ayde,] Phut and Lubim were thy helpers.
10 Notwithſtanding ſhe paſſed away, ſhe went into captiuitie, her children alſo were daſhed in peeces in the top of all the ſtreetes: for her honrible men they caſt lottes, and all her great ſtates they chayned in fetters.
11 And thou [alſo ſhalt be dronke [with trouble] thou ſhalt be hyd: thou *alſo ſhalt ſeke after ſtrength againſt thine enemie.
12 All thy ſtrong aydes [are as] figge trees with the firſt ripe figges: if they be ſtired, they fal into the mouth of the eater.
13 Behold thy men [are as baren] women in the middeſt of thee, the gates of thy lande ſhalbe ſet wyde open to thine enemies, fire hath deuoured thy barres.
14 Drawe thee water for the ſiege, ſtrengthen thy fortes, go into the clay, treade the morter, make ſtrong the brickyll. ℂ
15 There the fire ſhall deuoure thee, the ſword ſhall cut thee of, ſhall deuoure as the locuſt, though [thou] be multiplied as the locuſt, though thou be as many as the graſhopper.
16 Thou haſt increaſed thy marchauntes as the ſtarres of heauen, the locuſt ſpoyleth, and fleeth away.
17 Thy princes are as graſhoppers, and thy rulers as great locuſtes, they ſwarme in hedges in cold weather, the ſunne ariſeth and they flee, and the place where they were is not knowen.
18 Thy ſheepheardes O king of Aſſur ſlumber, thy noble men ſhall dwell [in death] thy people is ſcattered vpon the mountaynes, & there is none to gather them together.
19 Thy wound [ſhall] not be healed, thy plague is great, all that heare of thee, clap their handes: For to whom hath not thy euil dealing pearſed continually?

* Or, more ſure.

The booke of the prophete Habacuc.

The firſt Chapter.

1 A complaynt againſt the wicked that perſecute the iuſt. 6 He ſheweth that the Chaldeans are rayſed vp of the Lorde for the chaſtiſement of the Jewes, and deſcribeth their armie. 12 He comforteth the faythfull, declaring that God will alſo deſtroy the Babylonians, becauſe they ſhall abuſe their victorie and become proude and inſolent, attributing the prayſe therof to their idoles.

A (a) That is, the great calamitie which he prophecied to come on Juda, as a moſt greeuous burde which they were not able to beare.

1 The (a) burde which Habacuc the prophete dyd ſee.
2 O Lorde, howe long ſhall I crye, and thou wilt not heare? [euen] crye out vnto thee for violence, and thou wilt not helpe?
3 Why doeſt thou ſhew me iniquitie, and cauſe me to beholde ſorowe? for ſpoyling and violence are before me, & there are that rayſe vp ſtryfe and contention.
4 Therfore the law is * diſſolued, & iudgement doth neuer go forth: for the wicked doth compaſſe about the righteous, therfore wrong iudgement proceedeth.
5 *Behold among the heathen, and regarde, and wonder, and marueyll: for I will worke a worke in your dayes, ye will not beleue it though it be tolde you.
6 For lo, I rayſe vp the Chaldeans, that bitter and furious nation, whiche ſhall * go vpon the breadth of the land, to poſſeſſe the dwelling places that are not theirs.

* Or, weakened.

Act. xiii. f.

* Or, paſſe through.

7 They

7 They are terrible and fearfull: (b)their iudgement and their dignitie shall proceede of them selues.

(b) That is, they them selues shalbe your iudges in this cause, and none shall haue auctoritie ouer them to controlle them.

8 Their horses also are swifter then the leopardes, and are more fierce then the wolues in the *euening, and their horsemen shall come from farre: they shall flee as the Egle hasting to meate.

Zoph.iii.a.

9 They come all to spoyle: before their faces shalbe an (c)eastwinde, and they shall gather the captiuitie as the sande.

(c) For the Iewes most feared this winde, because it destroyed their fruites.

10 And they shall mocke the kinges, and the princes shalbe a scorne vnto them: they shall deride euery strong hold, for they shall gather (d)dust, and take it.

(d) They shall cast vp mountes against it.

11 Then shall they "take a courage, and transgresse, and do wickedly, [imputing] this their power vnto their god.

" Chaunge their spirite.

12 Art not thou of olde, O Lord my God, my holy one? we shall not dye, O Lord thou hast ordeined them for iudgement, and O God thou hast established them for correction.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canst not see euyl, thou canst not behold wickednesse: *wherfore [then] doest thou loke vpō the transgressours, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked deuoureth the man that is more righteous then he?

Ier.xii.a. Iob.xxi.a.

14 And makest men as the (e)fishe of the sea, and as the creeping thinges that haue no ruler ouer them.

(e) That is, the great deuour the small.

15 They take vp all with the angle, they catche it in their net, and gather it in their yarne: wherof they reioyce and are glad.

16 Therfore they sacrifice vnto their (f)net, and burne incense vnto their yarne: because by them their portion is fat, and their meate "plenteous.

(f) Meaning that the enemies flatter them selues, and glorie in their owne force, power, wit, and practises.

" Or, dearnie

17 Shall they therfore "stretche out their net, and not spare continually to slay the (g)nations?

" Or, empty.

(g) Meaning that they shoulde not.

The .ii. Chapter.

A vision against pryde, couetousnesse, drunkennesse, and idolatrie.

A Esa xxi.b.

1 I Will stande vpon my *watche, and set me vpon the towre, & will loke, and see what he will say vnto me, and what I shall aunswere to "him that reproueth me.

Or, concerning my reproofe or check, meaning such rebuke as the wicked obiect vnto him.

2 And the Lord aunswered me, and said: Write the vision, and make it plaine vpon tables, that he may run that (a)readeth it.

(a) write it in great letters, that he that readeth may read it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the last it shall speake, and not lye: though it tary, wayte: for it shall surely come, and shall not stay.

(b) To wit in time conuenient.

4 Behold, (b)he that "lifteth vp him selfe, his minde is not vpright in him: but the iust shall liue by his fayth.

" Or, is puffed vp.

5 Yea in deede (c) the proude man [is as] he that transgresseth by wine, therfore shall he " not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hell, & is as death, and can not be satisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapeth vnto him all people.

6 Shall not all these take vp a parable against him: and a " taunting prouerbe against him, and say: Wo he that increaseth that which is not his: (d) how long: and he that ladeth him selfe with thicke clay:

7 Shall (e) they not rise vp sodenly that shall byte thee: and awake that shall stirre thee, & thou shalt be " their pray:

8 Because thou hast spoyled many nations, all the remnaunt of the people shall spoyle thee, because of mens blood, and for the wrong [done] in the lande, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therin.

9 " Wo he that coueteth an euyll couetousnesse to his house, that he may set his nest on hie, to escape from the power of " euyll.

10 Thou hast " consulted shame to thyne owne house, by destroying many people, & hast sinned against thyne owne soule.

11 For the stone shall crye out of the wal, and the beame out of the timber shall aunswere it.

12 (f) Wo vnto him that buyldeth a towne with blood, and " erecteth a citie by iniquitie.

13 Behold, is it not of the Lord of hoastes that the people shall labour " in the very (g) fire: the people shall euen weery them selues for very vanitie.

14 For the earth shalbe (h) filled with the knowledge of the glorie of the Lorde, as the waters couer the sea.

15 Wo vnto him that geueth his neyghbour drinke, thou ioynest thy " heate, and makest [him] drunken also, that thou mayest see their priuities.

16 Thou art filled with shame for glorie, drinke thou also " and be made naked: the cup of the Lordes right hand shalbe turned vnto thee, and shamefull spuyng shalbe for thy glorie.

17 For the crueltie of (i) Libanus shall couer thee: so shal the spoyle of the beastes " which he made afrayde, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therin.

18 What profiteth the image: for the maker therof hath made it an image and a teacher of lyes, though he that made it trust therin when he maketh dumbe idoles.

19 Wo vnto hym that sayth to the wood, Awake: and to the dumbe stone, Rise vp, " it shall teache [thee:] beholde it is layde ouer with gold and siluer, & there is no breath in it.

20 But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth kepe silence before hym.

(c) He compareth the proud and couetous man to a drunkard that is without reason & sense, whom God will punishe and make him a laughing stocke to all the worlde.
" Or, haue no rest.
" Or, priuie taunt.
(d) Signifying that al the world shall wishe the destruction of tyrannes, and that by their oppression and couetousnesse, they heape but vpon them selues more heauy burdens: for the more they gette, the more are they troubled.
(e) That is, the Medes and Persians that shoulde destroy the Babylonians.
" Or, troden vnder their feete.
" Or, woe vnto him that coueteth euyll gayne.
" Or, mischefe.
" Or, taken counsell to the shame of thyne house.
(f) He threatneth what the stone shal crie, and what the wood shall aunswere.
" Or, stablis thereby.
" Or, for the fire.
(g) That is, God will destroy all their labourers, as though they were consumed with fire.
(h) In the destruction of the Babylonians his glorie shal appeare through all the worlde.
" Or, thy bottle.
" Or, til thou slumber with drunkennesse.
(i) By Libanus and the beastes therof he meaneth the land and people of Iurie.
" Or, which he destroyed.
" Or, shall it teache thee?

The. iij. Chapter.

A prayer for the faythfull.

A (a) That is, of the people of Israel
(b) That is, the state of thy church, which is now redy to perishe before it come to haue a perfite age, which shoulde be vnder Christe.
(c) Teman and Paran were neare Sinai where the law was geuen: wherby is signified that his deliuerance was as recent nowe, as it was then.

1 A Prayer of Habacuc the prophete for (a) the ignorances.

2 O lord I haue heard thy voyce, and was afrayde: O Lorde reuiue thy (b) worke in the middes of the yeres, in the middes of the yeres make it knowen, in wrath remember mercie.

3 God commeth from (c) Theman, and the holy one from mount Paran, Selah. his glorie couereth the heauens, and the earth is full of his prayse.

4 And [his] brightnesse was as the light: (d) he had hornes [comming] out of his handes, and there was the hyding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coales went foorth before his feete.

6 He stoode, and measured the earth, he beheld, and dissolued the nations, and the euerlasting mountaynes were broken, and the auncient hilles did bowe, his wayes are euerlasting.

7 For iniquitie I saw the tentes of Chusan, [and] the (e) curtaynes of the lande of Madian dyd tremble.

(d) Whereby is ment a power that was ioyned with his brightnesse, which was hyd to the rest of the worlde, but was reuealed in mount Sinai to his people.
(e) That is, the tentes.

8 Was the Lorde angry against the (f)riuers? or was thyne anger against the floodes? or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou diddest ryde (g)vpon thy horses & thy charets [brought] saluation.
9 Thy (h) bow was manyfestly reuealed, and the (i) othes of the tribes [were] a sure word. Selah. thou diddest cleaue the earth with riuers.
10 The mountaynes sawe thee and they trembled, the streame of the water (k) passed by, the deepe made a noyse, and lift vp his handes on hye.
11 The sonne [and] moone stoode still in [their] habitation, (l) at the light of thyne arrowes they went, [and] at the bright shining of thy speares.
12 Thou "trodest downe the land in anger: [and] dyddest threshe the heathen in displeasure.
13 Thou wentest forth for the saluation of thy people, [euen] for saluation with thyne (m) annoynted: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, and discouerdst the foundations vnto the (n) necke. Selah.
14 Thou diddest (o) strike thorow with his owne staues the heades of his villages, they came out as a whirlewinde to scatter me: their reioycing was as to deuour the poore secretly.
15 Thou diddest walke in the sea with thyne horses, vpon the heape of great waters.
16 When I (p) heard, my belly trembled, my lippes shoke at the voice, rottennesse entred into my bones, & I trembled in my selfe, that I might rest in (q) the day of trouble: for when (r) he commeth vp vnto the people, he shall destroy them.
17 For the figgetree shall not flourish, neither shall fruite be in the vines: the labour of the oliue shall fayle, & the fieldes shall yelde no meate: the sheepe shalbe cut of from the folde, and there shalbe no bullocke in the stalles.
18 But I will reioyce in the Lord, I will ioy (s) in the God of my saluation.
19 The Lord God is my strength, he will make my feete like hindes [feete] & he will make me to walke vpon my hye places. (t) To the chiefe singer on Neginothai, [or vpon the instrumentes of musiche.]

(f) Meaning that God was not angry with the waters, but that by this meanes he would destroy his enemies, & preserue his church.
(g) And so did he all the elementes as instrumēts for the destruction of Gods enemies
(h) That is, thy power.
(i) For he had not only made a couenant with Abrahā, but renued it with his posterite.
(k) He alludeth to the red sea & Iordane, which gaue passage to gods people, and shewed tokens of their obedience, as it were by lifting vp of their handes
(l) According to gods commaundement the sunne was directed by the weapons of gods people which fought in his cause, as though it durst not go forward, whose weapons are here called the arrowes and speares of God.
" Or, diddest walke vpon.
(m) Signifying that there is no saluation, but by Christ.
(n) From the top to the toe thou hast destroyed the enemies.
(o) God destroyed his enemies both great & small with their owne weapōs, though they were neuer so fierce against his church.
(p) He returneth to that which he spake in the second verse, and sheweth how he was afrayd of gods iudgementes.
(q) He sheweth that the faythfull can neuer haue true rest, except they feele before the weyght of gods iudgementes.
(r) That is, the enemie: but the godly shall be quiet, knowing that all thinges shall turne to good vnto thē
(s) He declareth wherin standeth the comfort & ioy of the faythfull, though they see neuer so great afflictions prepared.
(t) The chiefe singer vpon the instrumentes of musicke shall haue occasion to praise God for this great deliuerance of his church. Neginoth is a tune or instrument of musicke so called.

3 I will destroy man and beast, I will destroy the foules in the ayre, and the fishe in the sea, and great ruine shall fall on the wicked, and I will vtterly destroy the men out of the land, sayth the Lorde.
4 I will stretch out myne hand vpon Juda and vpon all such as dwell at Hierusalem: thus will I roote out the remnaunt of Baal from this place, and the names of the * Kemurins and priestes:
4.Re.23. and xxiij c. Deut.xvi.b. Iere.v.d.

6 Which start backe from the Lorde, and neither seke after the Lorde nor regard hym.
7 *Be still at the presence of the Lorde God, for the day of the Lord is at hand: yea the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, and called his ghestes therto.
Zach.i a.
8 And thus shall it happen, in the day of the Lordes sacrifice I will visite the princes * and the kinges children, and al such as weare straunge clothing.
1.Re.27 b. Ier.xxxix.b

9 In the same day also will I visite all those that leape ouer the threshold so proudly, whiche fill their lordes house with robberie and falshood.

10 At the same time sayth the Lord, [there shalbe heard] a great crye from the *fishe porte, and an howling from the seconde porte, and a great destruction from the hylles.

11 Howle ye that dwel in the lowe places, for al the marchaunt people are destroyed, and all they that were laden with siluer, are rooted out.

12 At the same time will I searche Hierusalem with lanternes, and visite them that continue in their dregges, and say in their heartes, *Tush, the Lorde will do neither good nor euyll.

13 Therfore their goodes shalbe spoyled, & their houses layed waste: *they shall buylde houses, and not dwell in them, they shall plante vineyardes, but not drinke the wine therof.

14 For the great *day of the Lorde is at hande, it is harde by, and commeth on a pace, euen the bitter voyce of the Lordes day, then shall the strong man crye out. Ioel.ii.a. C

15 That day is a day of Wrath, a day of trouble and heauinesse, a day of vtter destruction and miserie, a darke & glowming day, a cloudy and stormie day.

16 A day of the trumpet and alarum against the strong cities, and hie towres.

17 I will bring the people into such vexation, that they shall go about like blinde men, because they haue sinned against the Lorde, their blood shalbe powred out as dust, & their bodies as the myre.

18 *Neither their siluer nor their gold shalbe able to deliuer them in that Wrothful day of the Lorde, but the *whole lande shalbe consumed thorowe the fire of his ielousie: for he shall soone make cleane riddaunce of all them that dwell in the lande. Eze.vii.d. Sopho.iii.b.

3 Her rulers within her are as roaring lions, her iudges are as wolues in the euening, Whiche leaue nothing behinde them till the mozowe.
4 Her prophetes are light persons & vnfaythful men, her priestes haue polluted the sanctuarie, & haue wzested the law.
5 But the iust Lozd that doth no vnright, was in the middes therof, euery mozning shewing them his lawe clearly, and ceassed not: but the vngodly will not learne to be ashamed.
6 I haue destroyed the nations, their towzes are desolate, I haue made their streetes wast, that none shall passe by: their cities are destroyed, without man, and without inhabitaunt.
7 I sayde vnto them, O feare me, and be
B content to be refourmed, so their dwelling shoulde not be destroyed howe soeuer I visited them: But neuertheless, they rose vp early, and cozrupted all their wozkes.
8 Therfoze Wayte ye vpon me, sayth the Lozde, vntill the time that I ryse vp to the pzay: foz I am determined to gather the people, & to bzing the kingdomes together, that I may poure out myne anger, yea all my wzathfull *displeasure vpon them: *Foz all the earth shalbe consumed with the fire of my iealousie.

The booke of the prophete Aggeus.

The first Chapter.

1 The time of the prophecie of Aggeus. 8 An exhortation to buylde the temple againe.

A 1 IN the second yere of king Darius, in the sixth moneth, the first day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by the ministerie of ỹ prophete Aggeus (a) vnto Zorobabel (b) the sonne of Salathiel a prince of Juda, and to Josua the sonne of Josedech the hye priest, saying:

2 Thus speaketh the Lorde of hoastes, saying: This people sayth, (c) The time is not yet come for the Lordes house to be buylded.

3 Then came the Worde of the Lorde by the ministerie of the prophete Aggeus, saying:

4 Is it time for you your selues to dwel in ceiled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Nowe thus sayth the Lord of hoastes, Consider your owne wayes in your heartes.

6 Ye (d) haue sowen much, but ye bryng litle in: ye eate, but ye haue not inough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye cloth you, but ye be not warme: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus sayth the Lorde of hoastes, Consider your owne wayes in your heartes.

8 (e) Get you vp to the mountayne, and fetche wood, and buyld this house, & I (f) wil take pleasure in it, and (g) I wilbe glorified, sayth the Lorde.

9 Ye loked for much, and lo it came to litle, and when ye brought it home, I dyd blowe vpon it: and why, sayth the Lord of hoastes: because of my house that is waste, and you run euery man into his his owne house.

10 Ther-

(a) Though ỹ people transgresse, yet the prophet is sent to the prince, & priest, whose negligence often times is the cause of the peoples sinne.

(b) Zorobabel was the sonne of Phanuel as Luke 3. and not as his fathers name is left out, & his grandfathers name applied, because it was not to obscure as was the other.

(c) And yet there were now seuēteene yeres past sence Cyrus had graunted them libertie to buylde.

(d) God is the geuer of encrease, neither may any thing prosper without his blessing.

(e) It is a paynefull thing to clime vp the hilles, to draw down trees, and to buyld: such is their labour that buyld the church.

(f) In Christe only is God merciful vnto vs, and in his church only is saluation: both the which are here signified by this temple

(g) The end why Christ buyldeth his church is: that we may haue hym fauourable to vs, and be be glorified

10 Therfore vpon you the heauen is stayed from deawe, & the earth is stayed from yeelding her increase.

(h) Such is the almightie power of god, that he needeth but to call for his plagues, and they be at commaundes ende.

11 And I haue called for a (h) drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaynes, and vpon the corne, & vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, and vpon al that the ground bringeth foorth, vpon men, & vpon cattel, and vpon all the labour of the handes.

(i) For the greater part tarried in Babilon, & would not take the liberte which Cyrus had geuen them. (k) There is no difference made betweene the word of the prophete & the word of God, to shewe that the prophete must so speke, and the people so heare them, as the wordes of God.

12 When Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Josua the sonne of Josedech the hye priest, with all the (i) remnaunt of the people, hearde the voyce of the Lorde their God, and the (k) wordes of the prophete Haggeus, as the Lorde their God had sent him, then the people dyd feare before the Lorde.

(l) This should be remembred of al ministers, that they be gods messengers, & therfore must be faythful, diligent, and constant. (m) The penitent are not forsaken, God comforteth the, and assureth them of his owne presence.

13 Then Haggeus the (l) Lordes messenger sayd in the Lordes message vnto the people, saying: I (m) am with you sayth the Lorde.

(n) God is sayd to stirre vp our spirites, when he moueth our hartes by the power of his spirite boldly to take in hande and perfectly to finishe that which he commaundeth.

14 And the Lorde stirred vp the (n) spirite of Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel a prince of Juda, and the spirite of Josua the sonne of Josedech the hie priest, and the spirite of all the people: & they came and dyd the worke in the house of the Lorde of hoastes their God.

The .ii. Chapter.

1 He sheweth that the glorie of the seconde temple shall exceede the first.

(a) They had but three weekes & three dayes to heare the prophete, and to prepare their tooles for their worke, so diligent were they after the preaching of the prophete. (b) they had wrought not wrought a full moneth yet this warned vnderpin: therfore had needes to set on a fresh by the prophete, who was therefore newe sent vnto them again (c) As were Semaiah, Jeshaiah, and others 1.Re. cap.12.ver.18 which saw the old temple, and now were returned with Zorobabel. Ezr.6 cap.6. ver.3. (d) A strong argument why the people should be of good courage, when they are sure that God is with them. (e) God made many promises to his people after their departure out of Egypt: but in almuch as he goeth about to speake of Christe in this place, it may well be thought that he meaneth here the promise made Deu.18 ver.15 and repeated Act.3 ver.22 (f) Before he confirmed his promise made of Christe, (g) There passed .519. yeres after this prophecie, before Christe came: yet are they sayde to be but a little whyle in comparison of the time sence the creation, the tyme that shalbe before the iudgement: or in respect of eternitie, or in the sight of God, with whom a thousande yeres is but as one day. (h) I wyll cause great feare to be: for, heauens shalbe stirred at the birth of Christe, his baptisme, ascention, at his comming to iudgement: but chiefly it setteth out the sterrible of Christe, to whom heauen, earth, & sea shall obey. (i) It is not the want of riches that causeth this house to be buylt in this sort, seyng that I haue all treasures at my commaundement.

1 In the (a) twentie and fourth day of the first moneth, in the seconde yere of king Darius,

2 In the (b) seuenth moneth in the twentie and one day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the ministerie of the prophete Haggeus, saying:

3 Say nowe to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prince of Juda, and to Josua the sonne of Josedech the hie priest, and to rest of the people, saying:

4 (c) Who is among you left, whiche sawe this house in her first glorie, and howe do you see it now? Is it not in your eyes in comparison of it, as nothing?

5 Yet nowe be of good cheare O Zorobabel, sayth the Lord, and be of good comfort O Josua thou hye priest sonne of Josedech, and be strong all ye people of the lande, sayth the Lorde, and worke: for (d) I am with you sayth the Lorde of hoastes,

6 According to the (e) worde that I couenaunted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: and my (f) spirite shall remayne with you, feare ye not.

7 For thus sayth the Lorde of hoastes (g) Yet a litle whyle, and I will (h) shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the drie lande:

8 And I will moue all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glorie, sayth the Lorde of hoastes.

9 (i) The siluer is myne, and the golde is myne, sayth the Lorde of hoastes.

10 The glorie of the (k) seconde house, shalbe greater then the glorie of the first, sayth the Lorde of hoastes: and in this place will I geue peace, sayth the Lorde of hoastes.

(k) This is spoken, not of this house, but of the spiritual Hierusalem. He.12.ver.22

11 In the twentie and fourth day of the (l) nynth moneth in the second yere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the prophete Haggeus, saying:

(l) In the sixth moneth & in the seuenth had Aggeus prophecied: in the eyght moneth Zacharye: & nowe in the nynth is Aggeus sent againe, such care hath God ouer his, and such neede haue the people of instruction.

12 Thus sayth the Lord God of hoastes, Aske nowe ye priestes [concernyng] the lawe, saying:

13 If one beare holy flesshe in the skirt of his coate, & with his skirt do touche the bread, potage, wine, oyle, or any other meate, shall it be holy? And the priestes aunswered and sayde, No.

14 And Haggeus sayd: If a polluted person touche any of these, shall he not be polluted? And the priestes aunswered, and saide, He shalbe polluted.

15 Then Haggeus aunswered, and sayde: So is this people, and so is this nation (m) before me sayth the Lord, and so is al the worke of their handes: & that which they offer there is vncleane.

(m) Seeme they neuer so perfect in their owne eyes, yet to God who knoweth them, they appeare as they are.

16 And nowe consider I pray you in your mindes from this day, and vpward, before there was layed one stone vpon an other in the house of the Lorde, 17 Before these thinges [were done] when one came to a heape of twentie [measures] there were but ten: so who came to the wyne presse for to drawe out fiftie [vessels of wyne] out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mildeawe, and with hayle, in all the woꝛke of your handes, and you turned not vnto me, sayth the Loꝛde.

19 Consider nowe in your mindes from this day, and afoꝛe, from the foure and twentie day of the nynth [moneth,] vnto the day that the foundation of the loꝛdes temple was layde, consider it in your mindes:

20 Is the seede yet in the barne: as yet the vines, and the figge tree, and the pomegranate, & the oliue tree hath not bꝛought foꝛth: from this day will I bleſſe [you.]

C 21 And (n) againe the woꝛde of the Loꝛde came vnto Haggei in the foure & twentie [day] of the moneth, saying:

(n) He is sent twyse in one day to prophecie vnto the people.

22 Speake to Zoꝛobabel the prince of Juda, and say, I will shake the heauens and the earth:

23 And I will ouerthꝛow the "thꝛone of kingdomes, & I wil destroy the strength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthꝛowe the charettes and the sitters thereon, and the hoꝛse and the riders shall fall downe euery one by the swoꝛde of his bꝛother. "Or, seate.

24 In that day, saith the Loꝛd of hoastes, will I take thee Zoꝛobabel my seruaunt sonne of Salathiel, sayth the Loꝛd, & will make thee as a signet: foꝛ I haue chosen thee, sayth the Loꝛde of hoastes.

The first Chapter.

1 He moueth the people to returne to the Loꝛd and eschewe the wickednesse of their fathers. 36 He pꝛefigureth Chꝛiste and his Apostles.

1 IN the eyght moneth of the seconde yere of king Darius, came the woꝛde of the Loꝛd vnto * Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the pꝛophete, saying:

Mat. 23 d.

2 The Loꝛde hath ben soꝛe displeased with your foꝛefathers.

3 And say thou vnto them, thus sayth the Loꝛde of hoastes: *Turne you vnto me saith the Loꝛd of hoastes, & I wil turne vnto you, sayth the Loꝛd of hoastes.

Ier. xxxi c. Malac. iii. b.

4 *Be ye not like your foꝛefathers, vnto whom pꝛophetes cryed, saying, thus sayth the Loꝛde of hoastes, *Turne you from your euyl wayes, and from your wicked imaginations: *But they woulde not heare noꝛ regarde me, sayth the Loꝛde.

Iere. xliii a. Psa. 78. a. Ose. xiii. a. Tob. xiii b. Ier. xliii. a.

5 What is nowe become of your foꝛefathers? & do the pꝛophetes liue foꝛ euer?

6 But did not my Woꝛdes and statutes whiche I commaunded by my seruauntes the pꝛophetes take hold of your foꝛefathers? and they returned, & sayde: Like as the Loꝛde of hoastes determined to do vnto vs accoꝛding to our owne wayes and imaginations, euen so hath he dealt with vs.

7 Upon the twentie and fourth day of the eleuenth moneth, (whiche is the moneth Sebah) in the seconde yere of Darius, came the woꝛd of the Loꝛd vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the pꝛophete, saying: B

8 I sawe by night, and behold, there sate one vpon *a red hoꝛse, and stoode still among the myꝛre trees that were in a bottome: and behinde hym were there red, speckled, and whyte hoꝛses, Zach vi a. Apoc. vi. b.

9 Then sayde I, O my Loꝛde, what are these? And the angel that talked with me, sayde vnto me: I will shewe thee what these be.

10 And the man that stoode among the myꝛre trees aunswered, and said: These are they whom the Loꝛde hath sent to go thoꝛowe the woꝛld.

11 And they aunswered the angel of the Loꝛde that stoode among the myꝛre trees, and sayd: We haue gone thoꝛowe the woꝛld, and beholde all the woꝛld sitteth still, and is careleſſe.

12 Then the loꝛdes angel gaue aunswere, and saide: O loꝛde of hoastes, how long wylt thou be vnmerciful to Hieꝛusalem, and to the cities of Juda, * with whom thou hast ben displeased now these three scoꝛe Ier. xxv. b. and xxix b. i. Esd. i. a.

13 So the Lorde gaue a louing and a comfortable aunſwere vnto the angel that talked with me.

14 And the angel that communed with me, ſaide vnto me: Crye thou, & ſpeake, Thus ſaith the Lorde of hoaſtes: I am exceeding ielous ouer Hieruſalem and Sion, 15 And ſore diſpleaſed at the careleſſe heathen: for where as I was but a litle angry, they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therfore thus ſaith the Lorde: *I wyl returne vnto Hieruſalem in tender mercie, ſo that my houſe ſhalbe builded in it, ſaith the Lorde of hoaſtes: yea, and the (a) lyne ſhalbe ſtretched vpon Hieruſalē.

17 Crye alſo and ſpeake, thus ſaith the Lorde of hoaſtes: My cities ſhalbe in good proſperitie againe, the Lorde ſhall yet comforte Sion, & chooſe Hieruſalem.

18 Then lyft I vp myne eyes and ſawe, and beholde, foure hornes.

19 And I ſaide vnto the angel that talked with me, What be theſe? He aunſwered me, *Theſe are the hornes which haue ſcattered Juda, Iſrael, and Hieruſalem.

20 And the Lorde ſhewed me foure carpenters.

21 Then ſaide I: What wyll theſe do? He aunſwered & ſaid: Theſe are the hornes which haue ſcattered Juda, ſo that no man durſt lyft vp his head: but theſe are come to fray them away, and to caſt out the hornes of the Gentiles which lyft vp their horne ouer the lande of Juda to ſcatter it abroade.

The renewing of Hieruſalem and Juda.

A 1 I Lyft vp myne eyes agayne and loked: and beholde *a man, with a meaſure lyne in his hande.

Eze.xliii.a. Apo.xxi.c.

2 Then ſaide I: Whyther goeſt thou? And he ſaid vnto me: To meaſure Hieruſalem, that I may ſee how long and how broade it is.

3 And behold, the angel that talked with me, went his way forth: Then went there out another angel to meete him,

4 And ſaide vnto him, Runne, ſpeake to this young man, and ſay: Hieruſalem ſhalbe inhabited without any wall for the very multitude of people and cattaile that ſhalbe therein.

Deu.iii.d.

5 *For I my ſelfe, ſaith the Lorde, wyl be vnto her a wall of fire rounde about, & wyl be the glory in the middeſt of her.

6 O get you forth, O flee from the land of the north, ſaith the Lorde: for I haue ſcattred you into the foure windes of the heauen, ſaith the Lorde.

7 Saue thy ſelfe O Sion, thou that dwelleſt with the daughter of Babylon:

8 For thus ſaith the Lorde of hoaſtes, B After this glory hath he ſent me out to the heathen which ſpoyled you: *for who ſo toucheth you, ſhal touche the apple of his owne eye.

Iere.ii.a.

¶ The .iij. Chapter.

1 Of the Iw and hie eſtate of Chriſte vnder the figure of Joſua the prieſt, 8 a prophecie of Chriſte.

A 1 AND he ſhewed me Joſua the hie prieſt ſtanding before the angell of the Lord, *and Satan ſtoode at his right hande to reſiſt him.

Pſal.cix.a.

2 And the Lorde ſaide vnto Satan: The Lorde reproue thee thou Satan, yea the Lorde that hath choſen Hieruſalem reproue thee: Is not this a brand taken out of the fire?

3 Now Joſua was clothed in vncleane rayment, and ſtoode before the angel.

4 And he aunſwered & ſaide vnto thoſe that ſtoode before him, Take away the foule clothes frō him. And vnto him he ſaide; saide: Beholde, I haue taken away thy sinne from thee, and I wyll clothe thee with chaunge of rayment.

5 And I saide, Let them set a fayre miter vpon his head: So they set a fayre miter vpon his head, & put on clothes vpon him, and the angell of the Lorde stoode there.

6 Then the angell of the Lorde testified vnto "Iosua, and spake, "Or, Iesua.

B 7 Thus saith the Lorde of hoastes: If thou wylt walke in my wayes, & keepe my watch, thou shalt iudge my house, & kepe my courtes, and I wyll geue thee place among these that stande here.

8 Heare O Iosua thou hie priest, thou & thy felowes that sit before thee, for they are monstruous persons: behold, I wyl bring foorth the *braunche my seruaunt.

Esai iiii.a. Iere.xxiii.a.

9 For lo, the stone that I haue layde before Iosua, vpon one stone shalbe seuen eyes: beholde, I wyll cut out the grauing therof, saith the Lorde of hoastes, and I wyll take away the sinne of the lande in one day.

10 In that day shall euery man call his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the figtree, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

The .iiii. Chapter

The vision of the golden candelsticke, and the exposition thereof.

A 1 AND the angell that talked with me, came againe, and waked me, as a man that is raysed out of his sleepe,

2 And saide vnto me: What seest thou? And I saide: I haue loked, and beholde, a candelsticke all of golde, with a boule vpon it, and his seuen lampes therein, & vpon euery lampe seuen pypes.

3 And *two olyue trees thereby: one vpon the right side of the boule, & the other vpon the left side.

Apo.xi.a.

4 So I aunswered, and spake to the angell that talked with me, saying, O my Lorde, What are these?

5 The angell that talked with me aunswered and saide vnto me: Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No my Lorde.

6 He aunswered and saide vnto me: This is the worde of the Lorde vnto Zorobabel, saying, * Neither through an hoast of men, nor through strength: but through my spirite, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

Esai xi.a.

B 7 What art thou great mountaine before Zorobabel? thou must be made euen, and he shall bring foorth the head stone therof, with showtinges, crying, Grace grace vnto it.

8 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying:

9 * The handes of Zorobabel haue layde the foundation of this house, his hands shal also finishe it: and thou shalt knowe that the Lorde of hoastes hath sent me vnto you.

Phil.i.a.

10 For who hath despised the day of small thinges? they shall reioyte, and shall see the stone (a) of tynne in the hande of Zorobabel: these seuen are the eyes of the lord, which go through ỹ whole worlde.

(a) A plummet of tynne, as now men vse plummets of lead.

11 Then aunswered I, & saide vnto him: What are these two olyue trees vpon the right & left side of the candelsticke?

12 I spake moreouer, and saide vnto him: What be these two olyue braunches which through the two golden pypes emptie them selues into the golde?

13 He aunswered me & said: Knowest thou not what these be? & I said, no my lord. C

14 Then said he: * These are the two olyue braunches, that stand with the ruler of the whole earth.

Apo.xi.a.

The .v. Chapter.

1 The vision of the fleeing booke, signifying the curse of theeues, and such as abuse the name of God. 6 By the vision of the measure, is signified the bringing of Iuda to Babylon.

1 SO I turned me, lifting vp myne eyes, & loked, and beholde, a fleeing booke.

2 And he saide vnto me: What seest thou? I aunswered: I see a fleeing booke of twentie cubites long, and ten cubites broade.

3 Then saide he vnto me, This is the curse that goeth foorth ouer the whole earth: for al theeues shalbe iudged after this booke, & al periured persons shalbe iudged according to the same.

4 And I wil bring it foorth saith the lord of hoastes, so that it shall enter into the house of the theefe, and into the house of hym that falsely sweareth by my name:

and

and shall remayne in his houle, and consume it, with the timber & stones therof.
5 Then the angel that talked with me, went foorth, and saide vnto me: Lyft vp thyne eyes, and see what is this that goeth foorth.
6 And I said, what is it? He answered:
This is a " measure going out. He saide moreouer: Euē thus are they that dwel vpon the whole earth to loke vpon.
B 7 And behold, there was lyft vp a talent

dest of the " measure.
8 And he said, This is vngodlinesse: So he cast her into the middest of the " mea-the mouth of the " measure.

9 Then lyft I vp myne eyes, and loked, & behold, there came out two women, and the winde was in their winges: for they had winges lyke the winges of a storke, and they lyft vp the " measure betwixt the earth and the heauen.
10 Then spake I to the angel that talked with me: Whyther wyll these beare the be established, & set there vpon her owne place.

are these?
Ier. iiii. b. 5 The angel answerd & saide vnto me:
* These are the foure spirites of the heauen, which be come foorth to stand before the ruler of all the earth.
6 That with the blacke horse went foorth into the lande of the north, & the white followed them, and the speckled horses went foorth toward the south:
B 7 And the strong horses went out, & required to go and take their iourney ouer the whole earth: And he saide, Get you hence, & go through the worlde: So they went throughout the worlde.
8 Then cryed he vpon me, & spake vnto me, saying: Beholde, these that go toward the north, shal stil my wrath in the north countrey.

6 Thus ſaith the Lorde of hoaſtes: If the reſidue of this people thinke it to be vnpoſſible in [their] eyes in theſe dayes: *ſhoulde it therfore be vnpoſſible in my ſight, ſaith the Lorde of hoaſtes? Iere.xix.b.

7 Thus ſaith the Lorde of hoaſtes: Behold, I wyll deliuer my people from the countryes of the eaſt and weſt,

8 And wyl bring them againe, that they may dwel in the middeſt of Hieruſalem: *they ſhalbe my people, and I wyl be their God in trueth and righteouſneſſe. Ier.iii.e. Apo.xxi.c.

9 Thus ſaith the Lorde of hoaſtes: Let your hands be ſtrong ye that now heare theſe wordes by the mouth of the prophetes which are in theſe dayes, that the foundation of the houſe of the Lord of hoaſtes is layde, that the temple may be builded.

10 For* before theſe dayes neither men nor cattaile could winne any(a) thing, neither might any man come in and out in reſte for trouble: but I let euery man go againſt his neighbour. Aggei.i.a. (a) They laboured & toyled thē ſelues and their cattaile without encreaſe, becauſe they cared not for gods glory in reedifying of the temple, but went about their priuate gayne.

11 Neuertheleſſe, I wyl now intreate the reſidue of this people no more as afore time, ſaith the Lorde of hoaſtes.

12 For the ſeede ſhal proſper, the vine ſhal geue her fruite, the grounde ſhall geue her encreaſe, and the heauens ſhal geue their dewe, and I ſhall cauſe the remnaunt of this people to haue all theſe in poſſeſſion.

13 And it ſhal come to paſſe, that like as ye were a curſe among the heathen O ye houſe of Juda and ye houſe of Iſrael, euen ſo wyll I deliuer you, that ye ſhal be a bleſſing: feare not, but let your handes be ſtrong: ℂ

14 For

14 For thus saith the Lorde of hoastes: Like as I thought to punishe you, what time as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, saith the Lorde of hoastes, and spared not:

15 Euen so am I determined now in these dayes for to do well vnto the house of Juda & Hierusalē: [therfore] feare ye not.

16 Now the thinges that ye shall do, are these: * Speake euery man the trueth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgement truely & peaceably within your portes: Ephe.iiii.c. Zacha.viii.B.

17 And let none of you imagine euil in his heart against his neighbour, and loue no false othes: for all these are ỳ thinges that I hate, saith the Lorde.

18 And the word of the Lorde of hoastes came vnto me, saying:

19 Thus saith the Lorde of hoastes: The fast of the fourth [moneth] the fast of the fifth, the fast of the seuenth, and the fast of the tenth, shalbe ioy & gladnesse and prosperous hie feastes vnto the house of Juda: onely loue the trueth & peace.

20 Thus saith the lord of hoastes: There shal yet come people, and the inhabiters of many cities:

21 And they that dwell in one citie shall go to another saying, * Up, let vs go and pray before the Lorde, let vs seeke the Lorde of hoastes: I wyll go with you. Esai.ii.a. Psal.xxx.a.

22 Yea much people and mightie nations shal come to seeke the lorde of hoastes at Hierusalem, & to pray before the Lorde.

23 Thus saith the Lorde of hoastes: In that time shall ten men (out of al maner of language of the Gentiles) take one Jewe by the hemme of his garment, and say, We wyll go with you: for we haue heard that God is among you.

The .ix. Chapter

1 The conuertion of the Gentiles. 9 The comming of Christe sitting on an Asse.

A 1 THe burden of the word of the lord in the lande of Hadrach: & Damascus shalbe his rest, when the eyes of man, euen of all the tribes of Israel shalbe towards the Lorde.

2 The borders of Hemath shalbe harde therby, Tyrus also and Sidon, for they are very wyse.

3 * Tyrus shall make her selfe strong, heape vp siluer as the sand, and golde as the clay of the streetes. Iosue.xiii.a.

4 Beholde, the Lorde shall spoyle her, * he shall smite downe her power in the sea, and she shalbe consumed with fire. Exo.xiii.e.

5 This shall Ascalon see, and be afraide: * Gaza shalbe very sory, so shal Accaron also, because her hope is come to confusion: For the king of Gaza shall perishe, and at Ascalon shall no man dwell. Jere.xlvii.a. Amos.i.b.

6 Straungers shall dwel at Asdod, and as for the pride of the Philistines I shal roote it out:

7 * Their blood wyl I take away from their mouth, & their abhominatiōs from betweene their teeth: Thus they that shalbe left shalbe for our God, he shalbe as a prince in Juda, and Accaron like as a Jebusite. Actes xv.b. B

8 And I wyll pitche a campe (a) about myne house against the armie, against him that passeth by, & against him that returneth, and no oppressour shall come vpon them any more: For now I haue seene with myne eyes. God is ouer enough to defende his.

9 Reioyce thou greatly O daughter Sion, be glad O daughter Hierusalem: For lo, the king commeth vnto thee, euen the righteous and sauiour, lowly & simple is he, he rydeth vpon an Asse and vpon the foale of an Asse. Esai.lxii.e.

10 I wyl roote out the charrets from Ephraim, and the horse from Hierusalem, the battaile bowes shalbe destroyed, he shal geue the doctrine of peace vnto the heathen: * and his dominion shalbe from the one sea to the other, & from the ryuer to the ende of the worlde. Psal.lxxii.b.

11 Thou also [shalt be saued] through the blood of thy couenaunt: I haue loosed thy prisoners out of the pit wherin is no water.

12 Turne you now to the strong holde ye that be in prison & long for to be deliuered: euen this day I bring thee word that I wyl reward thee double againe.

13 For Juda haue I bent as a bowe for me, Ephraim [his harde] haue I filled, & thy sonnes O Sion wyl I rayse vp against the Grekes, and make thee as a Giauntes swoorde. C

14 The Lorde God shalbe seene aboue them, and his dartes shall go foorth as the lightning: the Lorde God shall blowe the trumpet, & shall come foorth as a storme out of the south.

15 The lord of hoastes shal defend them, they shal consume & deuour, and subdue them them with * sling stones, they shall drincke & rage as it were through wine, they shalbe filled lyke the basons, and as the hornes of the aulter.

Zach ii.a. i.Re.xvii.f.

16 The Lorde their God shall deliuer them in that day, as the flocke of his people: For as precious stones of a Diademe they shalbe set vp ouer his lande.

17 O how prosperous and goodly a thing shall that be: For the corne shall make the young men cheareful, and the newe wine the maydens.

¶ The .x. Chapter.

1 The people is moued to require the doctrine of trueth of the Lorde. 3 The Lorde promyseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

Aske ye the Lorde rayne in the time of the latter rayne, * so shall the Lorde make bright cloudes, and geue you rayne inough, and to euery one grasse in the fielde.

Deu.28.b.

2 For vaine is the aunswere of idols, the soothsayers see lyes, & the dreamers tell but vaine thinges, the comfort that they geue is nothing worth: therefore they went away lyke a flocke of sheepe, and were troubled, * because they had no shepheard.

Eze.xiii.a.

3 My wrothfull displeasure was moued against the shepheardes, and I wyll visite the goates: for the Lorde of hoastes wyl visite his flocke the house of Juda, and wyll make them as a goodly fayre horse in the battaile.

4 Out of * Juda shall come the corner, the nayle, the battel bowe, and the appointer of tribute also.

Gen.xlix.b. Esai.xxii.d.

5 They shalbe as giauntes, which in the battaile treade downe their enemies in the myre of the streetes: they shal fight, for the Lorde shalbe with them, and the horsemen shalbe confounded.

6 I wyll comfort the house of Juda, & preserue the house of Joseph, I wyll bring them againe, for I pitie them, and they shalbe like as they were when I had not cast them of: for I the lord am their God, and wyll heare them.

7 Ephraim shalbe as a giaunt, and their heart shalbe cheareful as through wine: yea their children shal see it, and be glad, and their heart shal reioyce in the Lord. 15

8 I wyll hisse for them, & gather them together, for I wyl redeeme them: they shal encrease, as they encreased afore.

9 I wyll sowe them among the people, that they may thincke vpon me in farre countryes, they shal liue with their children, and turne againe.

10 I wyll bring them againe also from the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria: I wyll cary them into the lande of Gilead & to Libanus, and place (a) shall not be founde for them.

(a) The multitude shalbe so great.

11 He shal go vpon the sea of trouble, and smyte the sea waues, so that all the depe floodes shalbe dryed vp: the proude boasting of Assur shalbe cast downe, & the scepter of * Egypt shalbe taken away.

Esai.x.a. Eze.xxix.a.

12 I wil comfort them in ꝑ lord, that they may walke in his name, saith the Lord.

¶ The .xj. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the temple. 4 The care of the faithfull is committed to Christe by the father. 7 A greeuous vision against Hierusalem and Juda.

Open thy doores O Libanus, that ꝑ fire may consume thy Cedar trees.

2 Howle ye firre trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea all the proude are wasted away: Howle O ye Oke trees of Basan, for the mightie strong wood is cut downe.

3 Men may heare the shepheardes mourne, for their glory is destroyed: men may heare the lions whelpes roare, for the pride of Jordane is wasted away.

4 Thus saith the Lorde my God: Feede the sheepe of the slaughter,

5 which haue ben slaine of those that possessed them, yet they [take it] for no sinne, but they that solde them said, The Lorde be thanked, for I am riche: yea their owne shepheardes spare thē not.

6 Therefore wyl I no more spare those that dwell in the lande saith the Lorde: but lo, I wyll deliuer the people, euery man into his neighbours hande, and into the hande of his king, that they may smite the lande, and out of their handes I wyll not deliuer them.

7 I my selfe fed the slaughter sheepe, a poore flocke verily, and toke vnto me 25

two

two staues: the one called Beautie, the other called Bandes: and so fedde the sheepe.

8 Three shepheardes I put out of office in one moneth, for I might not away with them: neither had they any delight in me.

9 Then saide I, I wyll feede you no more: * the thing that dyeth, let it dye: Apo.xxiii.e. and that that wyll perishe, let it perishe: and let the remnaunt eate euery one the flesshe of his neighbour.

10 I toke also my staffe [euen] Beautie, and brake it, that I might disanull the couenaunt which I made with all people.

Osee.ii.e. 11 And so it was broken in that day: Then the poore simple sheepe that had a respect vnto me, knewe therby that it was the worde of the Lorde.

12 And I saide vnto them, If ye thinke it good, bring hither my wages: if no, then leaue. * So they wayed downe thirtie siluer peuce, the value that I was prysed at. Ma.xxvii.c

13 And the Lorde saide vnto me, Cast it vnto the potter, a goodly pryce for me to be valued at of them. And I toke the thirtie siluer pence, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lorde. 25

14 Then brake I my other staffe also [namely] Bandes, that I might loose the brotherhood betwixt Juda and Israel.

15 And the Lorde saide vnto me: Take thee also the staffe of a foolishe shepheardе.

19 For lo, I wyll rayse vp a shepheard in the lande, which shal not seeke after the thinges that be lost, nor seeke the tender lambes, he shal not heale the wounded, he shal not nourish the thinges that are whole: but he shal eate the flesshe of such as be fat, and teare their clawes in peeces.

17 O idol shepheard that leaueth the flocke, the sworde shall come vpon his arme, and vpon his right eye: his arme shalbe cleane dryed vp, and his right eye shalbe sore blynded.

¶ The .xij. Chapter.

1 Of the destruction and building againe of Hierusalem.

Esa.xlii.a. THE heauy burthen which the Lorde hath deuised for Israel. Thus saith the Lorde *which spread the heauens abrode, layde the foundatiō of the earth, *and gaue man the breath of lyfe,

2 Beholde, I wyll make Hierusalem a cuppe of surfet vnto all the people that are rounde about her: * yea Juda him selfe also shalbe in the siege against Hierusalem. Zach.xiii.c

3 At the same time wyll I make Hierusalem an heauy stone for all people, so that al such as lyft it vp shalbe torne and rent, and all the people of the earth shal be gathered together against it.

Abd.i.c. 4 * In that day saith the Lorde, I wyll make al horses astonyed, and those that ryde vpon thē to be out of their wittes: I wyll open myne eyes vpon the house of Juda, and smite all the horses of the people with blindnesse.

5 And the princes of Juda shall say in their heartes, The inhabiters of Hierusalem shall geue me consolation in the Lorde of hoastes their God.

6 In that time wyll I make the princes of Juda lyke an hot burning ouen with wood, and like a fire brand among the strawe, so that they shall consume al the people rounde about them both vpon the right hande and the left: Hierusalem also shalbe inhabited againe, [namely] in the same place where Hierusalem standeth.

7 The Lorde shall preserue the tentes of Juda as afore time, so that the glorye of the house of Dauid and the glory of the citezins of Hierusalem shal not be exalted against Juda. 25

8 In that day shall the Lorde defende the citezins of Hierusalem, so that the weakest then among them shalbe as * Dauid: and the house of Dauid shalbe as gods house, and as the angel of the Lorde before them. i.Re.xvii.f.

9 At the same tyme wyll I go about to destroy all such people as come against Hierusalem.

10 Moreouer, vpon the house of Dauid & vpon the citezins of Hierusalem * wyll I poure out the spirite of grace & compassion, so that they shall loke vpon me whom they haue pearsed, and they shal lamēt for him as men mourne for their onely begotten sonne: yea, and be sory for him, as men are sory for their first childe. Eze.xxxvi.c.

11 Then

11 * Then shal there be a great mourning at Hierusalem,* like as the lamentation at Adadzemmon in the fielde of Mageddon.

Luk.23.e. 11.Par 35.c.

12 And the lande shal bewaile, euery kindzed by them selues alone: the kindzed of the house of Dauid by them selues, and their wyues by them selues: the kindzed of the house of* Nathan them selues, and their wyues by them selues:

2.Reg.11.

13 The kindzed of the house of Leui them selues alone, and their wyues by them selues: the kindzed of the house of Semei them selues alone, and their wyues by them selues.

14 In lyke maner, all the other generations euery one by them selues alone, and their wyues by them selues.

The .xiii. Chapter

1 Of the well of grace and trueth. 2 Of the cleane riddaunce of Idolatrie, and of false prophetes.

1 IN that time shall the house of Dauid and the citezins of Hierusalem haue an open* wel to washe of sinne and vncleannesse.

Fze.xlvii.a. Zach.14.b. Iohn.xix.d.

2 And then saith the Lorde of hoastes, * I wyll destroy the names of the idols out of the lande: so that they shal no more be put in remembraunce: * As for the false prophetes also, and the vncleane spirites, I wyl take them out of the lande.

Esai ii.c. Eze.xxx.c. Ier.xiiii.e.

3 So that if any of them prophecie any more,* his owne father and mother that begat him, shal say vnto him, Thou shalt dye, for thou speakest lyes vnder the name of the Lord: yea his owne father and mother that begat him shall wounde him, when he prophecieth.

Deu.xiii.b.

4 And then shal those prophetes be confounded euery one of his vision when he prophecieth: neither shal they weare heere cloth any more to deceaue men withall.

5 But he shalbe fayne to say,* I am no prophete, I am an husbandman: for so am I taught by* man from my youth vp.

Amos.vii.e. Gen.iii.d.

6 And if it be saide vnto him, How came these woundes then in thyne handes: he shal aunswere: Thus was I wounded in the house of myne owne friendes.

7 Aryse O thou swozde vpon my shepheardе, and vpon the man that is my felow, saith the lozd of hoastes: * smite the shepheard, & the sheepe shalbe scattred abzoade: and so wyll I turne my hande to the litle ones.

B Mat.xxvi.c

8 And it shall come to passe saith the Lozde, that in all the lande two partes shalbe rooted out, * but the third part shall remayne therein.

Amos.ix.b. Iob.xiii.a. Esai.xlii.a. Psal.xvii.a. 1 Pet.i.b.

9 * And the same third part wyl I bring through the fire, & wyl cleanse them as the siluer is cleansed, yea and trye them lyke as golde is tryed: then shal they call vpon my name and I wyll heare them, I wyll say it is my people, and they shall say, Lozde my God.

Sapi.iii.a. Eccle.ii.a. Pro.xvii.

The .xiiij. Chapter.

1 The walling of the Churche vnder the figure of Hierusalem. 9 Of the kingdome of the Lozde.

1 BEholde, the day of the Lozde commeth, and thy spoyle shalbe deuided in the middest of thee.

2 For I wyll gather together all the heathen to fight against Hierusalem, so that the citie shalbe wonne, the houses spoyled, and the women defiled: the halfe of the citie shall go away into captiuitie, and the residue of the people shal not be caryed out of the citie.

3 After that, shall the Lozde go foozth to fight against those heathen, as men vse to fight in the day of battaile.

4 Then shall his feete stand vpon the mount Oliuet that lyeth vpon the east side of Hierusalem, and the mount Oliuet shall cleaue in two eastwarde and westwarde, so that there shalbe a great valley: and the halfe mount shal remoue toward the nozth, & the other towarde the south.

5 And ye shall flee vnto the valley of my hylles, for the valley of the hylles shall reache vnto Asal: yea, flee shall ye* lyke as ye fled for the earthquake in the dayes of Oziah king of Juda: and the Lozde my God shall come, and all the sainctes with him.

Amos.i.a.

6 In that day shall there be no cleare light, but darke.

7 * This shalbe that spectall day which is knowen vnto the Lozde, neither day nor night: but about the euening time it shalbe shalbe light.

Zach.xiii.a. Apo.xxii.a. 8 * In that time shall there waters of lyfe runne out from Hierusalem: the halfe part of them towarde the east sea, and the other halfe towarde the vttermost sea, and shall continue both sommer and winter.

Abc.i.d. 9 *And the Lorde him selfe shal be king ouer all the earth: At that time shall there be one Lorde onely, and his name shall be but one.

10 All the lande shalbe turned as a plaine from Gibea to Remmon, towardes the south of Hierusalem: She shalbe set vp, and inhabited in her place, from Benamins port vnto the place of the first port, and vnto the corner port, and from the towre of * Hananeel vnto the kinges wine presses.

ii.Esd.iii.a. Ier.xxxi.f. 11 There shal men dwell, and there shal be no more destruction, but Hierusalem shalbe safely inhabited.

12 This shalbe the plague wherewith the Lorde wyll smyte all people that haue fought against Hierusalem, Their flesshe shall consume away, though they stand vpon their feete, their eyes shalbe corrupt in their holes, and their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

13 In that day shall the Lorde make a great sedition among them: so that one man shall take another by the hande, ℭ and laye his handes vpon the handes of his neighbour.

Zach.xiii.a. 14 *Juda shall fight against Hierusalem, and the armies of al the heathen shalbe gathered together rounde about, With golde and siluer, and a very great multitude of apparell.

15 And this plague shall go ouer horses, mules, cammels, asses, & all the beastes that shalbe in the hoast, like as ponder plague was.

16 Euery one that remayneth then of all the people which came against Hierusalem, shall go vp early to worship the king [euen] the Lorde of hoastes, * and to kepe the feast of tabernacles. Leui.xxiii.f Nume.29.b.

17 And loke what generation vpon the earth goeth not to Hierusalem for to worshippe the king the Lorde of hoastes, vpon the same shall come no rayne.

18 If the kindred of Egypt go not vp, and come not, it shall not [rayne] vpon them: This shalbe the plague Wherewith the Lorde wyll smyte all the heathen that come not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles,

19 Yea this shalbe the plague of Egypt, and the plague of all people that go not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles. ℣

20 At that time shall the ryding geare of the horses be holy vnto the Lorde: the kettels in the lordes house shalbe lyke the basons before the aulter.

21 Yea, all the kettels in Hierusalem and Juda shalbe holy vnto the Lorde of hoastes: and al they that slay offringes, shall come and take of them, and seethe therein: And at that time there shalbe no mo Chanaanites in the house of the Lorde of hoastes.

¶ The booke of the prophete Malachias.

¶ The first Chapter.

A complaint against Israel, and chiefely the priestes.

A (a) That is, the greuous, and importing prophecie.

1 The (a) burthen of the word of the Lorde to Israel, by the ministerie of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you saith the Lord: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loued vs? (b) was not Esau Jacobs brother, saith the Lorde, yet loued I Jacob:

(b) In owr reason is it a great loue to be spared vnpunished?

3 And I hated Esau, & made his mountaynes waste, and his heritage a wildernesse for Dragons.

4 Though Edom say, We are impouerished, but We wil returne and builde the desolate places: yet saith the Lorde of hoastes, They shal builde, but I wil destroy: & they shal cal them, The border of wickednes, & the people with whom the Lorde is angry for euer.

5 And your eyes shall see: and you shal say, The Lorde Wylbe magnified vpon the borders of Israel.

6 A sonne honoureth his father, and a seruaunt his master: If then I be a father ther, Where is myne honour: if I be a maister, Where is my feare: Saith the Lorde God of hoastes to you O ye prestes that despise my name, and ye say, Wherein haue We despised thy name:

(c) Impure sacrifices: for by bread in scripture, are signified all thinges that nourishe.

7 Ye offer vpon myne aulter (c) vncleane bread, and say, Wherein haue We polluted thee: In that ye say, The table of the Lorde is not to be regarded.

B 8 When ye bring the blinde for sacrifice, [you say] it is not euil: and When ye bring the lame and sicke, [you say] it is not euil: offer it nowe (d) to thy prince, Will he be content With thee, or accept thy person, saith the Lorde of hoastes:

(d) Thou offerest that to me, which thou art ashamed to geue to a mortall man, so great is thy contempte my lawe.

9 And now I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercie vpon vs: (this [euill] hath ben done by your meanes) Will he regarde your persons, saith the Lorde of hoastes:

10 Who is there euen among you that would shutte the doores, and kindle not fire on myne aulter in vaine: (e) I haue no pleasure in you, saith the Lorde of hoastes, neither Will I accept an offering at your hande.

(e) Against al those that forsowe religion for lukers sake.

11 From the rysing of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same my name is great among the gentiles, and in euery place (f) incense shalbe offred to my name, & a pure offering: for my name is great among the very heathen, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

(f) All nations shall call vpon my name for incense doth signifie the worshippe of God.

12 But ye haue (g) polluted it, in that ye say, The table of the Lorde is polluted, & the " fruite thereof, [euen] his meate is not to be regarded.

(g) The gentiles shall honour me: but you defile my name. Thus are you farre worse then they, whom you iudge most vyle.

" Or, woode.

13 And ye saide, beholde [it is] a weerynesse, and you haue snuffed at it saith the Lorde of hoastes, and ye haue offered the stolne, and the lame, and the sicke, ye haue offered an offering: shoulde I accept this of your handes, saith the lorde:

C

14 Cursed be the deceitfull which hath in his flocke a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth a corrupt thing to the Lorde: because I am a great king, saith the lord of hoastes, and my name is fearefull among the heathen.

¶ The .ij. Chapter.

Threatninges against the prestes, being seducers of the people.

A 1 And now O ye prestes this cõmaundement is for you.

2 If ye wyl not heare it nor regard it, to geue the glory to my name, saith the Lorde of hoastes, I Will sende a curse vpon you, and Will curse your blessinges, yea I haue cursed them alredie, because ye do not consider it in your heart.

3 Beholde, I Will (a) corrupt your seede, and cast [b] doung on your faces, [euen] the doung of your solempne feastes, & you shalbe like vnto it.

(a) God is the author of scarsitie, lest they should impute it to any other cause

(b) I will bring you to confusion and shame.

4 And you shall know that I haue sent this cõmaundement vnto you, that my couenaunt which I haue made With Leui might stand, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

(c) To walke with God, is to walke according to his will

(d) Towards God, and towards men.

(e) All peace is not cõmended, but that which is in equitie: the consent of the wicked is to be auoyded, because it is not in trueth.

5 My couenaunt was With him, of lyfe and peace, and I gaue them him [for] the feare Wherwith he feared me and Was afrayde before my name.

6 The lawe of trueth Was in his mouth, and there Was no iniquitie found in his lippes, he (c) walked With me (d) in peace and (e) in equitie, and he turned many from their iniquitie.

7 (f) For the prestes lippes shall kepe knowledge, and they shall seeke the lawe at his mouth: because he is the messenger of the Lorde of hoastes.

(f) The priest therefore must be learned in the lawe, otherwyse the people seeke an answere at his mouth in vayne.

8 But ye haue gone out of the way, ye haue caused many to fall by the lawe: ye haue corrupted the couenaunt of Leui, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

B

9 Therefore haue I also made you despised and vyle before all the people, because you kept not my wayes, but haue ben partiall in the lawe.

10 Haue We not all one father: hath not God made vs al: Why then is euery one deceaued of his brother, to violate the couenaunt of our fathers:

11 Juda hath offended, & abhomination is committed in Israel and in Hierusalem: for Juda hath defiled the holynesse of the Lorde Which he loued, and hath maried the daughter of a straunge God.

12 The Lorde Will destroy the man that doth this, both the rayser vp and the answerer out of the tabernacle of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering vnto the Lorde of hoastes.

(g) Not contented with one wickednesse, now wylfully fall into an other.

13 (g) And this againe haue ye done, in couering the aulter of the Lorde With teares, With weeping and mourning, and therfore there is no more respect to the offring, neither acceptable receauing of it at your handes.

and

14 Yet ye say, Wherin? Because the Lord hath ben witnesse betweene thee and thy wyfe of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed, yet is she thyne owne companion, and the wyfe of thy couenaunt.

15 And did not he make one? yet had he aboundaunce of spiritie: And wherfore one? Because he sought a godly seede: therefore kepe your selues in your spirite, and let none transgresse against the wyfe of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, put her away, saith the lorde God of Israel: yet he couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, saith the Lorde of hoastes, and be ye kept in your spirite, and transgresse not.

17 Ye haue weeryed the Lord with your wordes, and you haue sayde, wherein haue we weeried him? whyleft you say, Euery one that doth euil, is good in the sight of the Lorde, and he is pleased in them: or Where is the God of iudgement?

The .iii. Chapter

Of the messenger of the Lorde Iohn Baptist, and of Christes office.

A 1 Beholde, I wyll sende my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me, and the lord (a) whom ye seeke, shal speedyly come to his temple, and the messenger of the couenaunt whom ye desire, beholde he commeth, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

(a) Though not as you thinke: for you seeke an earthly deliuerer, and a worldly kingdome.

2 But who may abyde the day of his comming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is lyke a purging fire, and lyke fullers sope.

3 And he shall sit downe to trye and fine the siluer, and he shal purge the children of Leui, and purifie them as golde and siluer: and they shal bring vnto the lorde offeringes in righteousnesse.

4 Then shall the (b) offeringes of Juda and Hierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lorde, as in olde tyme, and as in the yeres afore.

(b) When Christe shall haue cleansed and reconciled them to his father again: then shall their seruice be accepted.

5 And I wyl come neare to you in iudgement, and I wyll be a (c) swyft witnesse against the (d) soothsayers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that wrongfully keepe backe the hirelynges wages, and vexe the widowe and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the straunger, and feare not me, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

(c) Offenders to make them selues safe, if any man deny them fault: But when he iudge him guilty is a witnesse against them.

(d) Soothsayers, not meritorie adultery, swearers, and such like open offenders who are here rebuked.

6 For I am the Lorde, I chaunge not: and you sonnes of Jacob are not consumed.

B 7 From the dayes of your fathers ye are gone away from myne ordinaunces, and haue not kept [them:] turne you to me, and I wyll turne to you, saith the Lorde of hoastes. And ye saide, wherein shall we returne?

8 Wyll a man (e) spoyle his Gods? yet ye haue spoyled me: and ye say, wherein haue we spoyled thee? In tythes and offeringes:

(e) Such regarde hath God to his ministers and poore members, that he thinketh him selfe robbed when they are defrauded.

9 Ye are curfed with a curse, & me haue ye spoyled, euen this whole nation.

10 Bryng euery tythe into the store house, that there may be meate in myne house, and prooue me withal, saith the Lorde of hoastes: if I wyl not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, and poure you out a blessing without measure.

11 And I wyl reprooue the deuourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruite of the grounde, neither shall your vine be barren in the fielde, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

12 And al nations shal call you blessed: because you shalbe a pleasaunt lande, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

13 Your wordes haue ben stout against me saith the lorde; and you saide, wherein haue we spoken against thee? ℭ

14 Ye haue saide; [it is but] vayne to serue God, and what profite [is it] that we haue kept his commaundement, & that we haue walked humbly before the face of the Lorde of hoastes?

15 And nowe we call the proude happie: yea the workers of wickednesse are set vp, and also they that tempt God, yea they are deliuered.

16 Then they that feared God, saide euery one to his neighbour: and the Lorde considered and hearde, and there was written

Wꝛitten a booke of remẽbꝛaunce beforꝛe him foꝛ them that feared the Loꝛde, and foꝛ them that thinke vpon his name.

17 And they shalbe to me, saith the Loꝛde of hoastes, in that day wherein I shall do [iudgement,] a flocke: and I wyl spare them as a man spareth his owne sonne which serueth him.

18 Then shall ye returne, and discerne betweene the iust and the wicked, betweene him that serueth God, and him that serueth him not.

The .iiij. Chapter.

The day of the Loꝛde, beforꝛe the which Elias should come.

1 FOR marke, the day commeth burning like an ouen: and all the pꝛoude, and all that woꝛke wickednesse shalbe stubble, and the day that is foꝛ to come shall burne them, saith the Loꝛde of hoastes, and shall leaue them neither roote, noꝛ bꝛaunche.

2 But to you that feare my name shall that sunne of righteousnesse aryse, and health shalbe vnder his winges: and ye shall go foꝛth and skippe lyke fatte calues.

3 And ye shall treade downe the vngodly, foꝛ they shalbe dust vnder the soles of your feete in the day that I shall do this, saith the Loꝛde of hoastes.

4 Remember the lawe of Moyses my seruaunt, which I commaunded him in Hoꝛeb foꝛ all Israel, with the oꝛdinaunces and iudgementes.

5 Beholde, I wyll send you Elias the pꝛophete, beforꝛe the comming of the great and fearefull day of the Loꝛde.

6 He shal turne the heart of the fathers to their childꝛen, and the heart of the childꝛen to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with cursing.

¶ The first Chapter.

1 Josias appointeth priestes, and kepeth the passouer. 7 Offeringes for the priestes and the people. 11 The order of the Leuites. 23 The vpright lyfe of Josias. 25 His death and the occasion therof, and the lamentation for hym. 34 Joachas appointed kyng. 53 The destruction of Hierusalem.

A 1 AND* Josias held the feast of Easter in Hierusalem vnto his Lord, and offered the passouer the foureteenth day of the first moneth.

*2 Par 35 a. & Reg. 23 c.

2 He set the priestes also in order according to their dayly courses, beyng arayed in long garmentes, in the temple of the Lorde.

3 And he spake vnto the Leuites the holy ministers of Israel, that they shoulde halowe them selues vnto the Lorde, to set the holy arke of the Lord in the house that kyng Solomon the sonne of Dauid had buylded.

4 And sayd: Ye shall no more beare the arke vpon your shoulders: and nowe serue the Lorde your God, and take the charge of his people Israel, and prepare you after your villages and tribes,

5 According as kyng Dauid the king of Israel hath left in writing, and " according as Solomon his sonne hath honourably prepared: And standing eche of you in that degree of auctoritie whiche in the distribution was appointed vnto your fathers the Leuites in the presence of your brethren the chyldren of Israel:

" Or, according to the writing of his father Dauid, and his sonne Solomons great liberalitie.

6 Offer the passouer in order, and make redye the sacrifices for your brethren, and kepe the passouer, according to the commaundement of the Lorde whiche was geuen vnto Moyses.

B 7 And vnto the people that was founde there, Josias gaue thirtie thousande lambes and kiddes, and three thousand calues. These things were geuen of the kings owne possessions, according as he promised, to the people, to the Priestes, and to the Leuites.

8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, and Syel the gouernours of the temple, gaue to the priestes for the passouer two thousande and fiue hundred sheepe, and three hundred calues.

9 Moreouer Jechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochiel, and Joram, captaynes ouer thousandes, gaue to the Leuites for the passouer, fiue thousande sheepe, and seuen hundred calues.

10 And when these things were brought to passe, the Priestes & Leuites stoode goodly in their order, and had the vnleauened bread throughout the tribes.

11 And after the degrees of preheminence appointed to their fathers, to offer to the Lord in the sight of the people, according as it is written in the booke of Moyses: and thus dyd they in the morning.

12 And they rosted the Easter lambe with fire, as according was: As for the offeringes, they dight them in kettels and pottes with good sauours, 13 And set them before all them of the people, and afterwarde they prepared for them selues and the priestes their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the priestes offred the fat, " vntyll the tyme was expired, and the Leuites prepared for them selues, and for the priestes their brethren the chyldren of Aaron.

" Or, vntyll the euening tyme.

C

15 The holy singers also the chyldren of Asaph, stoode in their orders, according as Dauid deuised, to wit, Asaph, " Zacharias, and Jduthun, which was appointed by the kyng.

" Or, Asaras and Edumus.

16 Moreouer, the [porters and] doore kepers stoode by the doores [and that diligently,] so that none went out of his " standing and seruices, for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

" Or, his watche, or turne and course.

17 Thus were all thinges perfourmed that belonged to the offering of the Lorde in that day, that they myght holde the passouer, 18 And offer sacrifices vpon the aulter of the Lorde, according to the commaundement of kyng Josias.

19 So the children of Israel which were then present, helde a [honourable] passouer, and the feast of sweete bread, seuen dayes long:

20 Yea suche a passouer was not kept in Jſrael, from the tyme of the prophete Samuel.

21 And all the kinges of Jſrael helde not ſuch an Eaſter as this Which king Joſias held, and the Prieſtes, the Leuites, the Jewes, and all Jſrael, of all them that " were at Hieruſalem.

" Or, founde dwelling at Hieruſalem.

22 In the eyghteenth yere of the raigne of Joſias, Was this paſſouer kept.

D 23 And With an heart full of godlynes dyd kyng Joſias rightly order all his workes before the Lorde.

24 And the thinges that came to paſſe in his tyme, they were wrytten of olde before thoſe dayes, concerning thoſe that ſinned and were vngodly againſt the Lord aboue all people and kingdomes, and howe they greeued hym in ſeruing ſenſible thinges, ſo that the wordes of the Lorde roſe vp againſt Jſrael.

25 Nowe after all theſe actes of Joſias, it came to paſſe that Pharao the king of Egypt came to Carchamis vpon Euphrates to moue warre: and Joſias went out againſt hym.

26 But the kyng of Egypt ſent to hym, ſaying: What haue J to do with thee, O king of Judea?

27 J am not ſent of the Lorde God againſt thee, for my warre is vpon Euphrates, and nowe the Lorde is with me, yea the Lorde maketh diligent " ſpeede With me: depart from me, and be not againſt the Lorde.

" Or, haſte.

28 Howbeit Joſias Woulde not turne backe his chariot from hym, but vndertoke to fight With him, and hearkened not to the wordes of the prophete Jeremie, ſpoken by the mouth of the Lorde:

29 But pitched a battayle againſt him in the fielde of " Mageddo: And the princes preaſſed to king Joſias.

" Or, Megiddo.

E 30 Then ſayd the king vnto his ſeruauntes: Cary me away out of the battayle, for J am very weake. And immediatly his ſeruauntes toke hym away out of the frunt of the battayle.

31 Then gate he vp vpon the ſecond charet, came to Hieruſalem, dyed, and was buried in his fathers ſepulchre.

32 And in all Jurie they mourned for Joſias, yea Jeremie the prophete lamented for Joſias, and the rulers alſo With their wyues made lamentation for hym vnto this day, and it became a cuſtome to be done continually in all the kinred of Jſrael.

33 Theſe thinges are Written in the booke of the ſtories of the kinges of Juda: and all the actes of Joſias, & his glory, and vnderſtanding in the lawe of the Lord, and the thinges Which he had done before, and that was nowe [recited] are Written in the booke of the kynges of Jſrael and Juda.

34 *And the people toke Jechonias the ſonne of Joſias, and made hym king in ſteede of Joſias his father, When he was twentie and three yeres olde.

* 3. Reg. 22. 2. Par. 36.

25 And he raigned in Juda and in Hieruſalem three monethes, and then the kyng of Egypt put hym downe from raigning in Hieruſalem:

36 And rayſed vp a tare of the people, namely an hundred talentes of ſyluer, and one talent of golde.

37 The kyng of Egypt alſo made Joachim his brother king of Juda and Hieruſalem.

38 (a) And [thus] he " bounde Joachim and his gouernours: but Zaracen his brother he apprehended & led away With him into Egypt.

(a) This place is corrupt, & thus, ſeemeth to be: As for Joachim and his rulers he bounde, and hauyng taken his brother Zaracen, led them away into Egypt.

" Or, eſtabliſhed.

39 Fiue and twentie yeres olde was Joachim When he was made kyng in the lande of Juda and Hieruſalem, and he dyd euyll before the Lorde.

40 *Wherfore againſt hym Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon came vp, and bounde hym With bandes of iron, and caryed hym vnto Babylon.

4 Reg. 24. F

41 Nabuchodonoſor alſo toke of the holy veſſels of the lord, caryed them away, & ſet thē in his owne temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophanation and reproche, are Written in the chronicles of the kinges.

43 And Joachim his ſonne raigned in his ſteede: He was made king beyng eyghteene yeres olde, 44 And raigned but three monethes and ten dayes in Hieruſalem, and dyd euyll before the Lorde.

45 So after a yere Nabuchodonoſor ſent and cauſed him to be brought vnto Babylon With the holy veſſels of the Lord.

46 And made Zedechias king of Juda and Hieruſalem When he was twentie and one yeres olde, and he raigned a leuen yeres.

47 And he did euill alſo in the ſight of the Lord, and cared not for the wordes that were ſpoken vnto him* by the prophete Jeremie from the mouth of the Lord.

Iere. xxvii.

48 And

48 And where he had made an oth vnto king Nabuchodonosor, he forswore him selfe by the name of the Lorde, and hardened his necke and heart, and transgressed the lawes of the Lorde God of Israel.

f 49 The gouernours also of the people & priestes, dyd many thinges against the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lorde whiche was sanctified in Hierusalem.

50 Wherefore the God of their fathers sent his messenger to call them backe, because he spared them and his tabernacle also.

51 But they had his messengers in derision: and loke when the Lorde spake vnto them, they made a sport of his prophetes.

52 This drewe on so long tyll the Lorde was wroth with his people for their great vngodlynes, so that he caused the kinges of the Chaldees to come vp against them:

53 which slue their young men with the sworde, yea euen in " the compasse of their holy temple, and spared no body, neither young man nor mayden, olde man nor chylde among them:

" Or, rounde about.

54 But they were all deliuered into their handes, and all the holy vessels of the Lorde both great and small, with the vessels of the arke of god: and they toke and caryed away the kinges treasure into Babylon. G

55 As for the house of the Lorde, they went vp into it, & brent it, brake downe the walles of Hierusalem, set fire vpon her towres,

56 Destroyed all her " noble buyldinges, and brought them to naught, and the people that were not slayne with the sworde, he caryed vnto Babylon:

" Or, pretious thinges.

57 which became seruauntes to him and his chyldren, tyll the Persians raigned, to fulfill the worde of the Lord [spoken] by the mouth of Jeremias:

58 Tyll the lande had fully " taken her ease from them, whiche toke that ease all the time she lacked her inhabitauntes, to the end & terme of seuentie yeres.

" Or, kept her sabbathes

¶ The. ij. Chapter.

1 Cyrus gaue leaue to the Jewes to returne. 10 He sent the holy vessels. 13 The names of them that returned. 16 Their aduersaries did let their buylding, and the kinges letters for the same.

A 1 NOwe when king Cyrus raigned ouer the Persians in his first yere, when the Lorde would performe the worde that he had promysed by the mouth of [the prophete] Jeremie:

2 The Lorde raysed vp the spirite of Cyrus the king of Persians, so that he caused this writyng to be proclaymed throughout his whole realme,

3 Saying, thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians: The Lorde of Israel, that hye Lorde, hath made me king of the whole worlde:

4 And commaunded me to buylde hym an house at Hierusalem in Jurie.

5 If there be any nowe of you that are of his people, let the Lorde euen his Lorde be with hym, and let him go vp to Hierusalem that is in Judea, and buylde the house of the Lorde of Israel, that is, the Lorde that dwelleth in Hierusalem.

6 And all they that dwell rounde about that place shall helpe him, all that dwel in his place I say, whether it be with golde, with siluer,

7 with gyftes, with horses and necessarye cattell, and all other thinges that are brought with a free wyll to the " house of the Lorde at Hierusalem. B " Or, temple.

8 Then the principall men out of the tribes and villages of Juda & Beniamin stode vp: so did the Priestes also and the Leuites, & al they whose minde the Lorde had moued to go vp, & to buylde the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem.

9 And they that dwelt about them helped them in all thinges, with siluer and golde, horses & cattell, and with " many free giftes of many men whose mindes were stirred vp thereto.

" Or, sundry bowes of sundry men.

10 King Cyrus also brought foorth the vessels and ornamentes that were halowed vnto the Lorde, whiche Nabuchodonosor had caried away from Hierusalem, and consecrated them to his idol [and image.]

11 And hauing brought them foorth, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasourer.

12 And by hym they were deliuered to Abassar the deputie in Iurie.

13 And this was the number of them: a thousande golden cuppes, and a thousande of siluer, basens of siluer twentie and nine for the sacrifices, vials of gold thirtie, and of siluer two thousande foure hundred and ten, and a thousande other vessels.

℣ 14 So all the vessels of golde and siluer whiche they caryed away, were fiue thousand, foure hũdred, threscore & nine.

15 These were brought by Salmanasar, with them of the captiuitie from Babylon to Hierusalem.

16 But in the tyme of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabelius, and Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and Semellius the secretarie, with other that were ioyned to them dwelling in Samaria & other places, wrote vnto hym against them that dwelt in Iudea and Hierusalem, these letters folowing:

To the king Artaxerxes our lorde.

17 Thy seruauntes, Rathumus the storye wryter, and Semellius the secretarie, and the rest of their counsell, and the iudges that are in Coelosyria & Phenice:

18 Be it nowe knowen to our lorde the king, that the Iewes whiche are come vp from you vnto vs into the rebellious & wicked citie, begin to buylde the market places, and to make vp the walles about it, and to set vp the temple a newe.

19 Now if this citie and the walles therof be set vp agayne, they shall not onlye refuse to geue tributes [and tares] but also rebell vtterly against kinges.

20 And forsomuche as they take this in hand nowe about ỹ temple, we thought it reason to thinke no scorne of it:

21 But to shewe it vnto the lorde the king, to the intent that if it please the king, he may cause it to be sought in the bookes of olde,

22 And thou shalt finde in recordes hereof wrytten, and shalt vnderstande that this citie hath alway ben rebellious and disobedient, that it hath troubled kinges and cities, D

23 And that the Iewes were rebellious, and raysed alwayes warres therin: for the whiche cause this citie is wasted.

24 Wherfore nowe we certifie our Lord the king, that if this citie be buylded [and occupied] agayne, and the walles therof set vp a newe, thou canst haue no passage into Coelosyria and Phenice.

25 Then wrote the king to Rathumus the "storie wryter, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the scribe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this maner. "Or, registar.

26 I haue read the epistle which ye sent vnto me: therefore I commaunded to make diligent searche, and haue founde that this citie hath euer resisted kinges, 27 That the same people are disobedient and haue caused much warre, and that mightie kinges haue raigned in Hierusalem, which also haue raysen vp taxes of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Wherefore I haue commaunded to forbyd those men that they shall not buylde vp the citte, and heede to be taken that there be no more done in it: E

29 And that they proceede no further in those wicked workes, forsomuche as it myght be occasion of trouble vnto princes.

30 Nowe when Rathumus and Semellius the scribe had read the wrytyng of king Artaxerxes, they gat them together, and came in all the haste to Hierusalem, with an hoast of horsemen, and with muche people on foote, 31 And forbad them to buylde: And so they left of from buyldyng of the temple, vnto the seconde yere of king Darius, king of the Persians.

The. iii. Chapter.

1 The feast of Darius. 16 The three wyse sentences.

A 1 Kyng Darius made a great feast vnto his "seruauntes, vnto all his court, and to al the officers of Medea and Persia, "Or, subiectes.

2 Yea to all the gouernours, & captaynes, and liefetenauntes, that were vnder him, from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundreth and twentie and seuen "countreys. "Or, prouinces.

3 So when they had eaten and dronken, being satisfied, & were gone home agayne, Darius the king went into his chaumber, layde hym downe to sleepe, and after that awaked.

4 Then

4 Then the three young men that "kept the kinges person, and watched his bodye, [communed among them selues, and] spake one to another.

" Or, were at the garde.

5 Let euery one of vs speake a sentence, and looke who shal ouercome, & whose sentence may seeme wyser then the others, vnto him shal king Darius geue great giftes, and great thinges, in token of victorie:

6 As to weare purple, to drinke in gold, and to slepe in gold, and a chariot with bridles of golde, and an " head tyre of fine linnen, and a chayne about his necke:

" Or, a silke kerchief.

B 7 Yea he shal sit next to Darius because of his wysdome, and shalbe called Darius cosin.

8 So euery one wrote his " meanyng, sealed it, and layde it vnder king Darius pelowe, " Or, sentence.

9 And sayd, When the king aryseth they woulde geue hym the writynges, and looke whose worde the king & the three princes of Persia shall iudge to be the most wisely spoken, the same shall haue the victorie as it was appoynted.

10 One wrote: Wine is a strong thyng.

11 The seconde wrote: the king is strong.

12 The thirde wrote: Women haue very muche strength, but aboue all thinges the trueth beareth away the victory.

13 Nowe when the king was ryse vp, they toke their writynges and deliuered them vnto him, & so he read them.

14 Then sent he foorth to cal al his chiefe lordes of Persia, and of Media, and the rulers, and the captaynes, and liefetenauntes and counsuls:

15 And when he had set hym downe in the counsell, the writynges were read before them. C

16 And he commaunded to call for the young men, that they myght declare their " meaninges thē selues by mouth. So they were sent for, and came in.

" Or, sentences.

17 And then he sayde vnto them: shewe vs and make vs to vnderstande what the thinges are that ye haue written. Then began the first whiche had spoken of the strength of wine,

18 And said thus: O ye men, how strong is wine, that deceaueth all men whiche drinke it:

19 It maketh the kinges minde and the fathers to be both one, the bondmans and the free, the poore mans and the riche.

20 It turneth also euery thought into ioy and gladnes, so that a man remembreth neither heauines nor debt. D

21 And it maketh euery heart [thinke it selfe] riche, so that a man remembreth neither king nor gouernour, and it maketh to speake all thinges by talentes.

22 Moreouer when men haue dronke, they forget all frendship and brotherly faythfulnes, and a litle after they draw out swordes:

23 And afterwards when they are from the wine, they remember nothing what was done.

24 O ye men, is not wine the strongest, that thus enforceth [men] to do: And when he had spoken this, he helde his peace.

¶ The. iiij. Chapter.

1 Of the strength of a kyng. 13 Of the strength of women. 34 Of the strength of trueth, whiche sentence is approued. 47 And his petition graunted.

A 1 THen the seconde that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say:

2 O ye men, are not men the strongest of all, that conquer both by land and sea, and all the thinges that are in them:

3 Nowe is the king stronger, as lorde of all these thinges, and that hath the dominion ouer them: and loke what he commaundeth them, it is all done.

4 If he byd them the one against the other to make warre, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they go and breake downe mountaynes, walles, and towres.

5 They slay and are slayne, and ouerpasse not the kinges commaundement: if they get the victorie, they bryng all to the king, so well the spoyle as other thinges.

6 Likewise the other that medle not with warres and fighting, but tyll the grounde: when they haue sowen and reaped, they bring to the king, and compell one another to pay his tribute vnto the king.

B 7 And if the king, though he be but one man, commaunde to kill, they kill, if he commaunde to " forgeue, they forgene:

" Or, to spare, they spare.

8 If he commaund to smite, they smite, if he byd " driue away, they driue away, if he commaund to buylde, they buylde:

" Or, make waste, they make waste.

9 If he commaunde to breake downe, they breake downe, if he commaunde to plant, they plant.

" Or, So all his people and all his armies obay vnto one.

10 " So the common people and the rulers are obedient vnto hym, and the king in the meane season sitteth hym downe, eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest.

11 And these kepe him rounde about, and not one of them dare get hym out of the way to do his owne busines," but must be obedient vnto the king at a worde.

" Or, neither disobayed they hym in any thing.

12 Judge ye now O ye men, how should not the king go farre aboue, when in such sort he is obayed: And [when he had spoken thus] he helde his tongue.

13 The thirde (whose name was Zorobabel) which had spoken of women, and of trueth, began to say [after this maner.]

C 14 O ye men, it is not the great king, it is not the multitude of men, neither is it wine that excelleth. Who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship ouer them: is it not women:

15 Women haue borne the king, and all the people, which beare rule by sea and by lande.

16 And euen of them were they borne, and they brought those vp that planted the vines, wherof the wine commeth.

17 They make garmentes for men, they get honour vnto men, and without women can not men continue.

18 Yea, if they haue gathered together golde and siluer, or any other pretious thing, do they not loue a woman for her comely shape and beautie:

19 And letting all those thinges go, do they not gape & euen with open mouth fixe their eyes fast on her: and haue not all men more desire vnto her, then vnto siluer and golde, or any maner of pretious thing:

Genesi.b. Mat.xix.a. 1.Cor.vi.d. Ephe.v.g.

20 *A man leaueth his owne father that brought hym vp, leaueth his owne naturall countrey, and cleaueth vnto his wyfe.

21 Yea he " ieopardeth his lyfe with his wyfe, and remembreth neither father nor mother, nor countrey.

C " Or, passeth

22 By this also ye must needes knowe, that women haue dominion ouer you: Do ye not labour & trauayle, and geue and bryng all to the woman:

23 A man taketh his sworde, and goeth his way to steale, [to kyll,] to murther, to sayle vpon the sea, and vpon riuers, 24 And seeth a lion, & goeth in the darkenes: & when he hath stollen, " deceaued, and robbed, he bringeth it vnto his loue.

" Or, spoyle

25 Wherefore, a man loueth his wife better then father and mother.

26 Yea many there be that runne out of their wittes, and became bondmen for their " wyues sakes.

" Or, for women.

27 Many one also haue perished, haue erred, and sinned also for women.

28 And nowe do ye not beleue me: is not the king great in his power: do not all regions feare to touche hym:

D

29 Yet dyd I see hym, and Apame the daughter of the great king Bartacus the kinges concubine, sate beside the king vpon the right hande,

30 And toke of his crowne from his head, and set it vpon her owne head, and stroke the king with her left hand.

31 And therewhyle stedyly the king loked vpon her with open mouth: if she laughed vpon him, he laughed also: but if she toke any displeasure with hym, the king was fayne to flatter her [and to geue her good wordes] tyll he had gotten her fauour agayne.

32 O ye men, are not women then stronger that do these thinges:

33 Then the king and the princes loked one vpon another: So he began to speake of the trueth:

34 O ye men, are not women stronger: Great is the earth, hye is the heauen, swift is the course of the sunne, *he compasseth the heauen rounde about, and fetcheth his course agayne to his owne place in one day.

Eccle.i.a.

35 Is he not excellent that maketh these thinges: Therfore great is the trueth, and stronger then all thinges.

36 All the earth calleth vpon trueth, the heauen prayseth it, all workes shake and tremble at it, and with it is no vnrighteous thing.

37 Yoine

37 wine is wicked, the kyng is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, yea & such are all their wicked workes, and there is no trueth in them, in their vnrighteousnesse also shall they [be destroyed and] perishe:

Esa.xl.a. Psal.cxvii.a 38 As for the trueth *it endureth and is allway strong, it lyueth and conquereth for euermore worlde without ende.

39 with her there is no exception or differrence of persons, but she doth that iust is, and refrayneth from all vniust and wicked thynges, and all men do well lyke of her workes.

40 In the iudgement of it there is no vnryghteous thyng, & she is the strength, kyngdome, power, and maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.

41 And with that he helde his peace: and all the people cryed, and then sayde: Great is trueth, and aboue all.

42 Then sayde the kyng vnto hym: Aske what thou wilt more then is appoynted in the writyng, and we shall geue it thee, for thou art founde wyser [then thy companions] thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my kinsman.

43 Then sayde he vnto the kyng: Remember thy [promise and] vowe which thou hast vowed [and promised] in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, to builde vp Hierusalem:

44 And to sende agayne all the vessels [and iewels] that were taken away out of Hierusalem, which Cyrus set apart when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to sende them agayne thyther.

45 And thy mynde was also to builde vp the temple, which the Edomites burnt when Judea was destroyed by the Chaldees.

46 And nowe this onely [O kyng] is the thing that I require and desire of thee, this is the princely liberalitie that I aske of thee, I desire therfore that thou perfourme the vowe which thou with thine owne mouth hast made vnto the kyng of heauen.

47 Then Darius the kyng stoode vp and kyssed hym, *wrote hym lettters vnto all the deputies and lieftenauntes, to all the lordes and nobles, that they shoulde conuey hym forth and all them that went vp with hym, to build Hierusalem. F i.Esdr.ii.b. a.Esdr.vi.d

48 He wrote letters also vnto all the liefetenauntes that were in Coelosyria and Phenices, and vnto them in Libanus, that they shoulde bryng Cedar trees from Libanus vnto Hierusalem, and builde the citie with hym.

49 Moreouer, he wrote for all the Jewes that were gone out of his " realme into Jurie concernyng their freedome, that no officer, no ruler, nor lieftenaunt, nor steWarde, should enter into their doores: " Or, kyngdome.

50 And that all their lande Whiche they kept, shoulde be free and not tributarie: and that the Edomites shoulde geue ouer the [cites and] villages of the Jewes which they had taken in:

51 Yea and that there shoulde be yerely geuen twentie talentes to the buildyng of the temple, vntyll the tyme that it were finished:

52 And to maynteyne the burnt offerynges vpon the aulter euery day, (as they had a commaundement to offer seuenteene) other ten talentes euery yere.

53 And that all they which come from Babylon to builde the citie, should haue free libertie, they and their children, and all the priestes that went away. G

54 He wrote also concerning the charges, and the priestes garment wherin they minister, 55 And likewise for the charges of the Leuites to be geuen them, vntyll the day that the house were finished, and Hierusalem builded vp.

56 And he commaunded that all they that watched the citie, shoulde haue their pensions and wages.

57 He sent away also all the vessels that Cyrus had separated from Babylon: and all that Cyrus had geuen in commaundement, the same charged he also that it shoulde be done, and sent vnto Hierusalem.

58 Nowe when this young man was gone forth, he lyfted vp his face to heauen towarde Hierusalem, and praysed the kyng of heauen, 59 And sayde: *Of thee commeth victorie, of thee commeth wisdome, and thine is the glorie, and I am thy seruaunt. Eccle.i.a.

60 Blessed art thou which hast geuen me wisdome, for to thee I acknowledge it O Lorde [thou God] of our fathers.

61 And so he toke the letters, and went out, and came vnto Babylon, and tolde it all his brethren.

62 And they praysed the God of their fathers, fathers, that he had geuen them freedome and libertie,

63 To go vp, and to builde Hierusalem and the temple, * wherin the name of the Lorde is called vpon: and they reioyced with instrumentes of musicke and gladnesse seuen dayes long.

* Or, where his name is renowmed.

of God that is in Hierusalem, there were that vowed to set vp the house agayne in his owne place, accordyng to their abilitie:
45 And to geue into the holy treasure of the workes, a thousande poundes of golde,

golde, fiue thousande of siluer, and an hundred pretious garmentes.

46 And so dwelt the priestes and the Leuites and the people in Hierusalem, and in the countrey [there about,] the singers also and the porters, and all Israel in their villages.

1.Esdr.iii.a. 47 *But when the seuenth moneth came, and when the children of Israel were euery man in his owne, they came altogether with one consent into the open place of the gate which is towardes the east.

48 And there Jesus the sonne of Josedec and his brethren the priestes, and Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel and his brethren, rising vp, made redy the aulter of the God of Israel, 49 To offer burnt sacrifices vpon it, so as it is written in the lawe of Moyses the man of God.

50 And thither were gathered agaynst them, diuers of other nations of the lande: but they dressed the aulter in his owne place, although all the nations in the lande were enemies to them and vexed them: and they offered sacrifices to the Lorde both morning & euening.

51 And also they helde the feast of tabernacles as it is "commaunded in the lawe, and sacrifices dayly as it was appertaynyng.

" Or, ordeyned.

52 And after that also the continuall oblations, and the offerynges of the Sabbathes, and of the newe monethes, and of all holy feastes.

53 And all they which had made any vowe to God, began to offer sacrifice to God from the first day of the seuenth moneth, although the temple of the Lorde was not yet built vp.

54 And they gaue vnto the masons and carpenters, money, meate and drynke, with chearfulnesse.

55 Unto them of Sidon also and Tyre they gaue carres, that they should bring Cedar trees from Libanus, whiche should be brought by flote to the hauen Joppe, according as it was cõmaunded them by Cyrus kyng of the Persians.

56 And in the seconde yere and seconde moneth came into the temple of God at Hierusalem, *Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Josedec and their brethren, and the priestes and Leuites, and all they that were come vnto Hierusalem out of the captiuitie [of Babylon.]

Eccl.xxix.b

57 And they layde the foundation of the house of God in the "newe moone of the seconde moneth, in the seconde yere that they were come to Jurie and Hierusalem.

" Or, in the first day.

58 And they appoynted the Leuites that were aboue twentie yeres olde ouer the workes of the Lord: So Jesus and his sonne, & brethren, assisted, and Cadmiel also his brother, and the sonnes of Madiabon, with the sonnes of Joda, the sonne of Eliadon, and his sonnes & brethren, euen all the Leuites with one accorde, followed on earnestly to aduaunce the workes in the house of God: so the workmen built vp the temple of the Lorde.

59 And the priestes stoode and had their garmentes with musicall instrumentes and trumpettes, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph had Cymbales, 60 Geuyng thankes and prayses vnto the Lorde, accordyng * as Dauid the kyng of Israel had ordeyned.

i.Para.xvi.d

61 And they song with loude voyces songes to the prayse of the Lorde, because his mercie and glorie is for euer in Israel.

62 And all the people blewe out with trumpets, and cryed with loude voyce, praysyng the Lorde together for the rearyng vp of the house of the Lorde.

63 *There came also from among the priestes and Leuites, and of the chiefest according to the tribes and kinredes, to wit, the elders which had seene the former house, i.Esd.iii.a.

64 To the buildyng of this, with great crye and great mournyng, many also with trumpettes and [great] ioy cryed with loude voyce:

65 Insomuch that the trumpets myght not well be heard for the weepyng and mournyng of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blewe trumpets marueylously, so that it was heard farre of.

66 *Wherfore when the enemies of the tribes of Juda and Beniamin heard it, they came to knowe what that noyse of trumpettes shoulde meane.

i.Esd.iii.a.

67 And they perceaued that they which were come againe out of captiuitie, built the temple vp a newe vnto the Lorde God of Israel.

68 So they went to Zorobabel & Jesus, and and to the rulers of the villages, and sayd vnto them: Shall we builde with you also?

69 For we lykewyse as you, do obey your Lorde, and do sacrifice vnto hym from the dayes of Asbazareth the kyng of Assyria, which brought vs hyther.

70 Then Zorobabel and Jesus and the rulers of the villages of Israel sayde vnto them: It doth not agree that ye shoulde builde the temple of our God with vs.

71 We our selues alone wyll builde vnto the Lorde of Israel as is meete, and like *as Cyrus the kyng of the Persians hath commaunded vs. i.Esdr.i.a.

72 But the heathen in the lande made them sluggishe that were in Jurie, and sundred them, & letted their buildinges.

73 And by their embushmentes, seditions, and conspiracies, stopped, that the buildyng coulde not be finished all the tyme that kyng Cyrus lyued: so that they put of the buildyng for the space of two yeres, vntyll the raigne of king Darius.

The .vj. Chapter.

1 Of Aggeus and Zacharias. 2 The buildyng of the temple. 3 Sisinnes woulde let them. 7 His letters to Darius. 23 The kynges aunswere to the contrarie.

A 1 NOtwithstandyng, in the seconde yere of the raigne of Darius,* Aggeus & Zacharias the sonne of Addo the prophetes, prophecied vnto the Jewes, and to them in Jurie and Hierusalem, euen in the name of the Lord God of Israel. i.Esd.v.a.

Aggeus. 2 *Then Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Josedec stoode vp and began to builde the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem, when the prophetes of the Lord were with them and helped them.

3 At the same tyme came Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and sayde vnto them:

4 Who hath bydden [and commaunded] you to builde this house, to make this roofe and all other thinges againe: And who are the " Worknen that builde the?

" Or, buylders that did these thinges.

5 Neuertheless, the elders of the Jewes had [such] grace of the Lorde, after he had visited the captiuitie,

6 That they were not letted from buildyng, vntill the tyme that kyng Darius was certified therof, and an aunswere receaued [from hym.]

7 The copie of the letters which he wrote and sent vnto Darius. Sisinnes gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes with their companions, which are head rulers in Syria & Phenice, sende their salutation vnto Darius the kyng.

B 8 We certifie our Lord the kyng, that we came into the lande of Jurie, and went to Hierusalem, where we founde the auncientes of the Jewes that were of the captiuitie in the citie of Hierusalem,

9 Buildyng an house vnto the Lorde, great and newe, of hewen and costlye stones, and the timber alredy layde vpon the walles:

10 Yea they make great haste with the worke, and it goeth forth prosperously in their handes, and with great diligence and worshyp is it made.

11 Then asked we the elders, saying: By whose commaundement builde you vp this house, and lay the foundations of these workes:

12 Which we demaunded of them, to the intent that we myght geue knowledge vnto thee, & write vnto thee of those that gouerned it: and we required of them their names in writyng that were their chiefe leaders to it.

13 So they gaue vs this aunswere: We C are the seruauntes of the Lorde which made heauen and earth:

14 And as for this house, *it was builded many yeres agone by a kyng of Israel great and strong, and was finished. iii.Reg.vi.a.

15 But when our fathers prouoked God vnto wrath, and sinned agaynst the Lorde of Israel which is in heauen,* he gaue them ouer into the power of Nabuchodonosor kyng of Babylon, of the Chaldees: 4 Reg 24. Iere.xxxix

16 Which brake downe the house and burnt it, and caryed away the people prysoners vnto Babylon.

17 * Neuertheless, in the first yere that king Cyrus raigned ouer the countreys of Babylon, Cyrus the kyng wrote, i.Esdr.v.a.

[and

[and commaunded] to builde vp this house [agayne:]

D 18 And the holy vessels of golde and of siluer that Nabuchodonosor had caryed away out of the house at Hierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne temple: those brought Cyrus forth agayne out of the temple at Babylon, and deliuered them to Zorobabel and to Sanaballarus the ruler:

19 Commaundyng hym that he shoulde cary away those same vessels, and put them in the temple at Hierusalem, and that the temple of the Lorde shoulde be built in his [owne] place.

20 Then the same Sanaballarus beyng come hyther, layde the foundations of the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem, and from that to this, beyng styll a buildyng, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Nowe therfore O king, if thou thinkest it good, let it be sought in the librarie [and rolles] of kyng Cyrus:

22 And yf it be founde then that the buildyng of the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem hath ben done with the [counsell and] consent of kyng Cyrus, and yf our Lorde the kyng be so mynded, let hym geue aunswere vnto vs therof.

i.Esdr.vi.a. ii.Esd.iiii.c. 23 *Then commaunded kyng Darius to seke in the kynges librarie at Babylon: and so at Ecbatane a towre in the region of Medea, there was founde a place where these thinges was layde vp for "memorie.

" Or, remembraunce.

E 24 In the first yere of the raigne of Cyrus, [the same] kyng Cyrus cõmaunded that the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem shoulde be builded agayne, where they do sacrifice with the continuall fire.

25 Whose heyght shalbe sixtie cubites, and the breadth sixtie cubites, with three rowes of hewen stones, and one rowe of wood, newe, and of that countrey, and the expenses therof to be geuen out of the house of kyng Cyrus:

26 And the holy vessels of the house of the Lorde, both of golde and of siluer, that Nabuchodonosor toke out of the house at Hierusalem and brought to Babylon, shoulde be restored to the house at Hierusalem, and be set in the place where it was [before.]

27 And also he commaunded that Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria & Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, and others constituted rulers in Syria and Phenice, shoulde take heede not to meddle with that place, but to suffer Zorobabel the seruaunt of the Lorde and gouernour of Judea, and the elders of the Jewes, to builde that house of the Lorde in that place. F

28 I haue commaunded also to haue it built vp whole agayne, and that they be diligent to helpe those that be of the captiuitie of the Jewes, tyll the house of the Lorde be finished:

29 And out of the tribute of Coelosyria and Phenice, a portion diligently to be geuen those men vnto the offeringes of the Lord, & the same to be deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, that he therwithall may ordeyne oxen, rammes, lambes,

30 And also corne, salt, wine, and oyle, and G that continually euery yere, after the expences* which the priestes that be at i.Esd.vi.b.
Hierusalem shall testifie to be made dayly [this shalbe geuen vnto them] without delay,

31 That they may offer sacrifices dayly to the hyest God for the kyng and for his children, and to pray for their liues.

32 And he commaunded also that whosoeuer shoulde breake any poynt of the foresayde and foredecreed thynges, or make it voyde, of his owne goodes shoulde a tree be taken, and he theron be hanged, and all his goodes seasoned vnto the kyng.

33 The Lorde therfore whose name is there called vpon, roote out and destroy euery kyng & nation that stretcheth out his hande to hinder, or [hurt and] endomage that house of the Lorde in Hierusalem.

34 I Darius the kyng haue ordeyned, that accordyng to these thynges it be done with diligence.

The .vij. Chapter.

1 Sisinnes and his companions folowe the kynges commaundement, and helpe the Jewes to builde the temple. 5 The tyme that it was built. 10 They kepe the Passouer.

A 1 When Sisinnes the gouernour in Coelosyria & Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes with their companions obeyed the thynges that kyng Darius had ordeyned,

2 And were diligent assisters in the holy workes, worknyng with the auncientes and gouernours of the sanctuarie:

3 And so the holy workes went forth and prospered when Aggeus and Zacharias the prophetes prophecied.

4 And they perfourmed all thinges through the commaundement of the Lorde God of Israel, and with consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes kynges of Persia.

5 And thus was the holy house finished in the twentie and three day of the moneth Adar, in the sixt yere of Darius kyng of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, the priestes and the Leuites, and other that were of the captiuitie, that had any charge, dyd accordyng to the thynges written in the booke of Moyses.

7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lorde, they offered an hundred " Or, bullocks. oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes,

8 And twelue goates, for the sinnes of all [the people of] Israel, after the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Israel.

9 The priestes also and the Leuites stoode arayed in their long robes after their kinredes in all the workes of the Lorde God of Israel, accordyng to the booke of Moyses, and the porters at euery doore. B

10 And the children of Israel, with those that were come out of captiuitie, helde the Passouer the fourteenth day of the first moneth, after that ỹ priestes and the Leuites were sanctified.

11 They that were of the captiuitie were not all sanctified together: but the Leuites were all sanctified together.

12 And so they offered the Passouer for all them of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the priestes, & for them selues.

13 And the children of Israel that came out of captiuitie dyd eate, all they that had separated them selues from the abhominations of the people of the lande, and sought the Lorde,

14 And they kept the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes long, makyng mery before the Lorde, 15 That the Lorde had turned the counsayle of the kyng of Assyria towardes them, to strengthen their handes vnto the workes of the Lord God of Israel.

The .viij. Chapter.

1 Esdras commeth from Babylon to Hierusalem. 10 The copie of the commission geuen by kyng Artaxerxes. 29 Esdras geueth thankes to the Lorde. 32 The number of the heades of the people that came with hym. 76 His prayer and confession.

A 1 And after these, *when Artaxerxes the kyng of the Persians raigned, there went vnto hym Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Ezerias, the sonne of Helchiach, the sonne of Salum, * 1. Esd. vii. d.

2 The sonne of Sadoch, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezias, the sonne of Menuerath the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Savias, the sonne of Boccas, the sonne of Abisun, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the first priest:

3 This Esdras went vp from Babylon beyng a scribe of good vnderstandyng in the lawe of Moyses that was geuen by the Lorde God of Israel.

4 And the kyng fauoured hym, and dyd hym great [worshyp and] honour " after all his desires. " Or, in all his suites.

5 There went vp with hym also certayne of the children of Israel, of the priestes, of the Leuites, of the singers, porters and ministers of the temple, vnto Hierusalem.

6 In

6 In the seuenth yere of the raigne of kyng Artaxerxes in the fifth moneth, which was the seuenth yere (for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first moneth,

7 And came to Hierusalem, accordyng as God gaue thē speede in their iourney,) 8 For Esdras had gotten great knowledge to omit nothyng of that was in the lawe and the commaundementes of the Lorde, and to teache all Israel all the "ordinaunces and iudgementes.

"Or, rygh-teousnesse.

9 The copie of the commission whiche Artaxerxes the kyng wrote, and that was geuen to Esdras the priest and reader of the lawe of the Lorde, this is it that followeth.

10 Kyng Artaxerxes sendeth his greeting vnto Esdras the priest and reader of the lawe of the Lorde.

11 I hauyng wayed thynges with pitie, haue [ordeyned and] charged, yf there be any of the Jewes, of the priestes & Leuites in my "realme, which desireth and is content to go with thee vnto Israel, that he may do it.

"Or, kingdome.

12 Therfore, so many as long therafter, let them depart together, and go with thee like as I am content and my seuen frendes my counsaylers,

13 To see what they do at Hierusalem and in Jurie, conueniently, accordyng as thou hast in the lawe of the Lorde:

14 And to bryng the gyftes vnto [God] the Lorde of Israel, that I & my frendes haue "promised to Hierusalem, and all the siluer and golde that in the countrey of Babylon may be founde [partepnyng] to the Lorde in Hierusalem,

"Or, vowed.

15 With the thyng that is geuen of the people to the Lorde their Gods temple at Hierusalem: that the same siluer and golde maye be gathered, for oxen, rammes, sheepe, and goates, and other that belong to these thynges, 16 That they may offer sacrifices vnto the Lorde, vpon the aulter of the Lorde their God which is at Hierusalem.

17 And whatsoeuer thou and thy brethren wyll do with the siluer and golde, that do accordyng to the wyll of thy God:

18 And the holy vessels of the Lorde, which are geuen thee for the seruice of the temple of thy God which is in Hierusalem, thou shalt set [them] before thy God in Hierusalem.

19 And whatsoeuer thyng els thou shalt remember for the vse of the temple of thy God, thou shalt geue it out of the kynges treasure.

20 And I kyng Artaxerxes haue also commaunded the kepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoeuer Esdras the priest and the reader of the lawe of the hyghest God shall sende for, they shoulde geue it hym with speede:

21 Euen to the summe of an hundred talentes of siluer: of corne also an hundred "measures, and till an hundred "vessels of wine, & other thinges aboundauntly.

"Or, corn.
"Or, pecus.

22 Let all thinges be done after the lawe of God diligently, vnto the highest God, that wrath come not vpon the kyngdome of the kyng and of his sonnes.

23 I commaunde you also, that ye require no taxe nor tribute of the priestes, Leuites, holy singers, porters, and ministers of the temple, nor of any that haue doynges in this temple, and that no man haue authoritie to put any inpost vpon them.

24 As for thee O Esdras, set thou iudges and arbitrers to iudge in the whole lande of Syria and Phenice after the wisdome of God, all skilfull in the lawe of God, & teache such as are ignorant.

25 And let all them which shall offende agaynst the lawe of God and the kyng, be diligently punished, whether it be by death or other payne, by punishment in money, or els by banishment. D

26 Then sayd Esdras the scribe: *Blessed be the only Lorde God of my fathers that hath geuen so good a mynde & will into the heart of the kyng, to magnifie his house that is at Hierusalem, i.Esd.viii.a.

27 And hath "made me to be accepted in the syght of the kyng, of his counsayle, of his frendes, and of his nobles.

"Or, honoured me.

28 And so I was "stedfast in my mynde accordyng as the Lorde my God helped me, and I gathered vp men of Israel to go vp with me.

"Or, of a good courage.

29 *And these are the guides after their families and orders of dignities, that went vp with me from Babylon, in the raigne of kyng Artaxerxes. i.Esdr.viii.b

30 Of the sonnes of Phinees, Gersom: of the sonnes of Ithamar, Gamaliel: of the sonnes of Dauid, Hattus the sonne of Cechenah:

31 Of the sonnes of Phares, Zacharias, and with hym there returned agayne an an hundred and fiftie men.

E 32 Of the sonnes of Pahath, Moab Elioani, the sonne of Zacharias, and with him two hundred men.
33 Of the sonnes of Zathoe, Shechenias the sonne of Jezolus, & with hym three hundred men: & of the sonnes of Adin, Obed the sonne of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fiftie men.
34 Of the sonnes of Elam, Jesias, sonne of Gotholias, & with him seuentie men.
35 Of the sonnes of Saphatias, Zarias, sonne of Wachael, & with him. lxx. men.
36 Of the sonnes of Joab, Badias, sonne of Jezelus, and with hym two hundred and twelue men.
37 Of the sonnes of Baani, Assalimoth, sonne of Josaphias, and with hym an hundred and threscore men.
38 Of the sonnes of Babi, Zacharias, sonne of Bebai, & with him. xxviii. men.
39 Of the sonnes of Astath, Johannes, sonne of Acatan, and with hym an c r.
40 Of the sonnes of Adonicam the last: and these are the names of them, Eliphalet, Jeouel, and Maias, and with them seuentie men.
41 Of the sonnes of Bagouthi, sonne of Jscacourus, and with hym. lxx. men.
42 All these called I together by the water Thia, where we pitched our tentes three dayes, & there I mustered them.
1 Esd. xiii b. 43 *As for the sonnes of the priestes and leuites, I founde none there.]
44 Then sent I vnto Eleazar, & beholde there came Waalman, and Maloban, F 45 And Alnathan, and Samaian, and Joribon, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, and Mosollamon the chiefe and best learned.
46 And I bad them that they should go vnto Daddeus the captayne, whiche was in the place of the treasurie:
47 And commaunded them that they shoulde speake vnto Daddeus, and to his brethren, and to those that were the treasurers, to sende vs suche men as might execute the priestes office in the house of our Lorde.
48 And with the mightie hande of our lord [God] they brought vnto vs men of good " experience, from among ỹ sonnes of Moli, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Jsrael, Seredia and his sonnes and his brethren whiche were eyghteene.
49 And Asebia and Amon, and Osaian his brethrē of the sonnes of Canaineus, their sonnes were twentie men.
50 And of them that serued in the temple whom Dauid had ordayned, and the principall men to the worke of the Leuites that were ministers in the temple, two hundred & twentie, whose names are all signed vp in writing.
51 And then commaunded I a fasting vnto the young men before the Lorde, that I might desire of him a prosperous iourney [and a good way] both for vs and them that were with vs, for our children, and for the cattell.
52 For I feared to desire of the king men of horse and of foote, to conuey vs safely against our enemies.
53 For we had sayde vnto the kyng, that the power of the Lord our God should be with them that seeke hym, to direct them in all thinges.
54 And therfore we besought our Lorde agayne as touching these thinges, and founde him fauourable vnto vs.
55 Then I separated from among the chiefe of the tribes and from the priestes xij. men [to wit] Esebrias, and Assanias, & ten men of their brethren with them. G
56 And I wayed them the golde and the siluer, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lorde, whiche the kyng and his counsell, and his princes, and whole Jsrael had geuen.
57 And when I had wayed it, I deliuered it vnto them sixe hundred and fiftie talentes of siluer, and an hundred talentes in siluer vessels, and an hundred talentes of golde, 58 And twentie golden basens, & twelue vessels of brasse, euen fine brasse, like shining golde.
59 And I sayde vnto them: Ye are holy vnto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the golde and the siluer is " promised vnto the Lord [God] of our fathers. " Or, bowed
60 Be " diligent nowe and kepe it, vntyll the tyme that ye deliuer it to the chiefe of the priestes and leuites, and to the principall men of the families of Jsrael in Hierusalem, in the chaumbers of the house of our God. " Or, watch
61 *So the priestes and the leuites which receaued of me the golde, the siluer, and the vessels, brought it vnto Hierusalem vnto the temple. i. Esd. viii. a 62 And from the riuer Thia we brake vp the twelfth day of the first moneth, according vnto the mightie hande of our Lorde whiche was with vs, and from the beginning of our iourney the Lord deliuered vs from euery enemie: so that we came vnto Hierusalem.

63 And when the thirde day was past there, the wayed golde and siluer was deliuered in the house of the Lorde on the fourth day vnto Marimoth the priest and sonne of Jozi.

64 And with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinees, and with them were Josabdus the sonne of Jesu, and Moeth the sonne of Sabbanus, Leuites: all was deliuered them by number and wayght.

65 And all the wayght of them was written vp the same houre.

66 After that, they that were come out of captiuitie, offred sacrifice vnto the Lord God of Israel, euen twelue oxen for all Israel, fourescore & sixteene rammes, 67 Threescore and twelue sheepe, twelue goates for saluation, all in sacrifice to the Lorde.

68 And the kinges commission deliuered they vnto the kinges stewardes, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria and Phenice, who honoured the people and the temple of God.

69 Now when these thinges were done, the rulers came vnto me, and sayde: i.Esd.ix.a.

70 The nation of Israel, the princes, the priestes, and leuites, haue not put away from them the straunge people of the lande, nor the vncleannes of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites.

71 For both they and their sonnes haue mingled them selues with the daughters of them, and the holy seede is mixt with the straunge people of the lande: and since the beginning of the affaires, the rulers and head men haue ben partakers of this wickednesse.

i.Esdr.ix.c. 72 And assoone as I had hearde these things, immediatly I rent my clothes, and the holy garment, and pulled out the heere of my head & my beard, and sat me downe forowfull and heauie.

73 So all they that were moued thorow the worde of the Lorde God of Israel, came vnto me whyles I wept for the iniquitie: but I sate styll full of heauinesse vntyll the euening sacrifice.

74 Then stoode I vp from fasting, hauing rent clothes & the holy garment, and kneeled downe vpon my knees, & helde out my handes vnto the Lorde, 75 And sayde: O Lorde, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face.

76 For our sinnes are become many, euen aboue our heades, and our ignorances are lifted vp euen vnto heauen: F

77 For since the tyme of our fathers, we are in great sinne vnto this day.

78 And for the sinnes of vs and our fathers, we with our brethren, and with our kinges, and with our priestes, haue ben geuen vp vnto the kynges of the earth, into the sworde, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle with confusion [and shame] vnto this day.

79 And nowe O Lord God, howe great is the mercy that we haue gotten of thee: in that thou hast lefte vs a roote and a name in the place of thy sanctuarie, 80 And that thou hast discouered to vs a light in the house of the Lord our God, and hast geuen vs meate in the tyme of our seruitude.

81 And when we were in captiuitie, we were not forsaken of the Lord our god: but he made the kynges of Persia gratious and fauourable vnto vs, so that they gaue vs victuals [and meate,] 82 Yea, and honoured the temple of our Lorde, and repayred the wasted places of Sion, and gaue vs assuraunce in Jurie and Hierusalem.

83 And nowe O Lorde, what shall we say hauing all these things [in possession:] For we haue broken thy commaundementes, whiche thou gauest vnto vs by the handes of thy seruauntes the prophetes, saying: G

84 Because the lande whiche ye go to possesse as an heritage, is a lande defiled with the vncleannes [and filthynes] of the straungers of the land, and with their abhomination they haue polluted it altogether:

85 Therfore now shall ye not ioyne their daughters vnto your sonnes, neither marry your daughters to their sonnes.

86 Moreouer, ye shall neuer seeke to make peace with them, that ye may" increase and eate the best in the lande, and that ye may leaue the inheritaunce of the lande vnto your chyldren for euermore.

" Or, wexe strong, and eate the good thinges of the lande.

87 As for the thinges that are come to passe, they come all for our wicked workes and great sinnes: for thou O Lorde hast made our sinnes light.

88 And

88 And geuen vs suche a roote: but we haue turned backe agayne, so that we haue broken thy lawe, and mingled our selues with the vncleanneſſe of the outlandiſhe heathen.

89 Mighteſt not thou be angry with vs, to deſtroy vs: so that thou ſhouldeſt leaue vs neither roote, ſeede, nor name:

90 O Lord God of Iſrael, thou art true: for our roote endureth yet vnto this preſent day.

91 And beholde, nowe are we before thee in our ſinnes, neither can we ſtande before thee for them.

92 *And when Esdras with this prayer had knowledged the ſinne, weping and lying flat vpon the grounde before the temple, there gathered vnto hym from Hieruſalem a great multitude of men and women, of young men and maydens: for there was a very great [weping and] mourning among the multitude.

*1 Esd. x. 2.

93 Then Iechonias the ſonne of Jeheli, one of the chyldren of Iſrael, cryed out and ſayd: O Esdras, we haue ſinned againſt the Lord God, [because] we haue maryed ſtraunge women of the nations of the lande.

94 And nowe al Iſrael hangeth in doubt: we wyll ſweare an othe therefore vnto the Lorde, that we ſhall put away all our wyues which we haue taken of the "heathen, with their chyldren:

" Or, ſtrangers.

95 Like as it may ſeeme good to thee, and to all thoſe that obay the lawe of the Lorde, 96 Stande vp and put it in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertayne, and we are with thee to adde thee ſtrength.

67 So Esdras aroſe, and toke an othe of the chiefe of the Prieſtes and Leuites of all Iſrael, to do after theſe thinges; and they ſware.

The. ix. Chapter.

7 After Esdras had read the lawe for the ſtraunge wyues. 18 they promiſed to put them away.

1 Then Esdras riſing frō the court of the temple, went to the chamber of Joannan, the ſonne of Eliaſib,

2 And remayned there and did eate no meate, nor dronke "drinke, weepyng for the great wickedneſſe of the people.

"Or, water.

3 And there was made a proclamation in all Iurie, and at Hieruſalem, for all them that were of the captiuitie, that they ſhoulde gather together at Hieruſalem,

4 And that whoſoeuer met not there within two or three dayes, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattell ſhoulde be ſeaſed to the vſe of the temple, and he be excluded from them that were of the captiuitie.

5 And in three dayes were all they of the tribe of Juda and Beniamin gathered together at Hieruſalem, the twentith day of the ninth moneth.

6 And the whole multitude ſate trembling in the "court of the temple, for it was wynter.

"Or, the open temple.

7 So Esdras aroſe vp, and ſayde vnto them: Ye haue done vnrighteouſly, in that ye haue taken "outlandiſhe wiues to mariage, and ſo to encreaſe the ſinnes of Iſrael.

"Or, ſtraunge.

8 And nowe knowledge the ſame, and geue prayſe vnto the Lorde God of our fathers:

B

9 And perfourme his wyll, departing from the heathen of the land, and from the "outlandiſhe wiues.

" Or, ſtraunge.

10 Then cryed the whole multitude, and ſaide with a loude voyce: Like as thou haſt ſpoken, ſo wyll we do.

11 But forſomuche as the people are many, and wynter ſeaſon, ſo that we may not ſtande without the houſe: and becauſe this worke is not a thing that can be finiſhed in a day or two, ſeing we be many that haue ſinned in theſe thinges:

12 Ordayne therefore that the rulers of the multitude, and they of our families that haue ſtraunge wyues, tarry.

13 And let the prieſtes and iudges come out of euery place in their tyme appoynted, tyll they ſwage the wrath of the Lorde in this buſineſſe.

14 Then Jonathas the ſonne of Azaiel, and Ezechias the ſonne of Thecan, receaued the charge of this matter, and Moſollam, and Leuis, and Sabathe-us helped them therto.

15 And they that were of the captiuitie, dyd according to all these thinges.
16 And Esdras the priest chose vnto hym the principall men from among the fathers, and them all by name: and in the first day of the tenth moneth they sate together, to examine this matter.
17 And so the matter was a determining concerning the men that had maryed straunge wyues vntill the newe moone of the first moneth:
18 [And of the priestes that had mixt themselues with "outlandishe wyues, there were founde,
19 *Of the sonnes of Jesu the sonne of Josedec and his brethren, Mathelas, Eleazar, Joribus, and Joadanus:
20 Whiche offered themselues to put away their wyues, and to offer a ramme vnto reconcilement for their purgation.
21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Canes, and Samaius, and Hiereel, and Azarias.
22 And of the sonnes of Phaisu, Elionas, Massias, Esmaelus, and Nathanael, and Ocidelus, and Talsas.
23 And of the Leuites, Jozabadus, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Oudas, and Jonas.
24 Of the holy singers, Eliazurus, Bacchurus.
25 Of the porters, Sallumus, and Tolbants.
26 Of them of Israel, of the sonnes of Phorus, Hiermas, and Eddias, & Melchias, and Maelus, and Eleasar, and Asibias, and Banaias.
27 Of the sonnes of Ela, Matthanias, Zacharias, and Hierielas, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.
28 And of the sonnes of Zamoth, Eliadas, Elisimus, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardeus.
29 Of the sonnes of Bebai, Joannes, & Ananias, and Josabad, & Ematheas.
30 Of the sonnes of Nani, Olamus, Mamuchus, Jedaias, Jasubus, Jasael, and Jeremoth.
31 And of the sonnes of Addi, Naathus, Hosias, Laccunus, and Naidus, and Matthanias, and Sesthel, and Balnus, and Manasseas.
32 And of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aseas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon a Chosamite.
33 And of the sonnes of Asom, Altaneus, and Matthias, and Banaias, Eliphalet, and Manasses, and Semi.
34 And of the sonnes of Baani, Jeremias, Momdis, Omairus, Jnel, Manai, and Pactias, and Amos, Carabasion and Euasibus, & Mammimata, Natus, Eliasis, Uanus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanias: & of the sonnes of Ozoras, Sesis, Esril, Ezaius, Samatas, Sambis, Josiphus.
35 And of the sonnes of Ethna, Mazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Jnel, Banaias.
36 All these had taken "outlandishe women to maryage, and they put them away with their chyldren.]
37 And the Priestes and Leuites, and [all] they that were of Jsrael, dwelt at Hierusalem, and throughout all the lande, in the "newe moone of the seuenth moneth: and the chyldren of Jsrael were in their "dwellinges.
38 And the whole multitude came together with one accorde into the wyde place before the east gate of the temple.
39 And they spake vnto Esdras the hye priest and reader, that he woulde bryng the lawe of Moyses which had ben geuen of the Lorde God of Jsrael.
40 So Esdras the hye priest brought the law vnto the whole multitude, to man, and woman, and to al priestes, that they myght heare the lawe, *in the "newe moone of the seuen moneth.
41 And he read in the first wyde place that is before the port of the temple, from the morning early vnto midday before men an women: And they applyed their minde all vnto the lawe.
42 And Esdras the priest and reader of the law stoode vp vpõ a pulpit of wood, whiche was made therfore:
43 And vpon his right hand there stoode by hym Mathathias, Samus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Ezechias, and Balasan:
44 Upon his left hande stoode Faldeus, Sael, Melchias, Aothasuphus, and Nabarias.
45 Then toke Esdras the booke of the law before the whole multitude (for he was the principall, and had in most honour of them all.)
46 And when he expounded the law, they stoode all straight vpon their feete. So Esdras "prayed the Lord the most hye God, the almyghtie God of hoastes.
47 And all the people aunswered, Amen.
48 And

48 And Jesus, Anus, Sarabias, Adinus, Jacobus, Battaias, Autanias, Maianias, Calitas, Azarias, Johasabdus, Ananias, and Biatas, the Leuites, lyft vp their handes, and fell downe on the grounde, and worshipped the Lord, 49 And taught the lawe of the Lord, and were earnestly occupied together in the reading thereof.
50 Then spake Atharates vnto Esdras the hye priest and reader, and to the Leuites that taught the multitude, saying:
51 This day is holy vnto the Lord: and all when they hearde the lawe, wept.
52 [So Esdras sayde:] *Depart your way therfore, and eate the fat meates, and drinke the sweete drinkes, and sende gyftes vnto them that haue nothing.
53 For this day is holy vnto the Lorde, and be not ye sory: for the Lorde wyll bryng you to honour.
54 So the Leuites " published all these thinges to the people, saying: This day is holy to the Lorde, be not sory:
55 Then went they their way euery one to eate and drinke, and were mery, and sent presents to them that had nothing, and made very good cheare:
56 For they were as yet " filled with the wordes that had ben taught them, and for the whiche they had ben assembled.

The .ij. Chapter.

2 The Sinagogue findeth fault with her owne chyldren. 18 The Gentiles are called.

A 1 THus saith the Lorde: I brought this people out of bondage, I gaue them my commaundements by my seruauntes the prophetes, whom they would not heare, but despised my counsayles.

2 The mother that bare them, saith vnto them: Go your way ye chyldren, for I am a wydowe and forsaken.

3 I brought you vp with gladnesse, but with sorowe and heauinesse haue I lost you: for ye haue sinned before the Lord your God, and done that thing that is euill before hym.

4 But what shall I nowe do vnto you? I am a wydowe and forsaken: go your way O my chyldren, and aske mercy of the Lorde.

5 As for me, O father, I call vpon thee for a wytnesse ouer the mother of these chyldren, whiche woulde not kepe my couenaunt:

6 That thou bryng them to confusion, and their mother to a spoyle, that she beare no more.

B 7 Let their names be scattered abrode among the Heathen, let them be put out of the earth: for they haue "thought scorne of my couenaunt.

" Or, despised.

8 Wo be vnto thee Assur, thou that hydest the vnrighteous in thee: thou wicked people, remember* What I did vnto Sodome and Gomorre, Gen.xix.c.

9 Whose lande is turned into cloddes of pitche and heapes of asshes: Euen so also wyll I do vnto all them that heare me not, saith the almightie Lorde.

10 Thus saith the Lorde vnto Esdras: Tell my people that I wyll geue them the kingdome of Hierusalem, whiche I woulde haue geuen vnto Israel.

11 Their glory also will I take vnto me, and geue them the euerlasting tabernacles whiche I had prepared for those.

12 They shal haue the tree of life at wyl, as in the sweete sauour of oyntment, they shal neither labour nor be weerie.

13 Go ye your way, and ye shall receaue it: Pray that there may be but fewe dayes, and the long time may be shortened for thee: The kingdome is alredy prepared for you, therefore watche.

14 Take heauen and earth to witnesse, for I haue broken the euyll in peeces, and created the good: for I liue, saith the Lorde.

15 Mother embrace thy chyldren, and bryng them vp with gladnesse, make their feete as fast as a piller: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lorde.

16 And those that be dead, wyll I rayse vp agayne from their places, and bryng them out of the graues: for I haue knowen my name in Israel.

17 Feare not thou mother of the chyldren: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lorde.

18 And for thy helpe I shall sende thee my seruauntes Esai and Jeremie, after whose counsaile I haue sanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees, laden with diuers fruites, 19 And as many fountaynes flowyng with mylke and hony, and seuen mightie mountaynes, wherupon there grow roses and lylyes, whereby I wyll fill thy chyldren with ioy.

20 Execute iustice for the wydowe, iudge for the fatherlesse, geue to the poore, defende the fatherlesse, clothe the naked, 21 Heale the wounded and sicke, laugh D not a lame man to scorne, defende the creple, and let the blynde come into the light of my clearenes.

22 Kepe the olde and young that are within thy walles:

23 *Whereseuer thou findest the dead, Tobi.i.d. take them and bury them, and I shall geue thee the first place in my resurrection.

24 Abyde styll O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietnes shall come.

25 Feede thy children O thou good nurse, stablishe their feete.

26 As for the seruauntes whom I haue geuen thee, there shall not one of them perishe: for I wyll seeke them from among thy number.

27 Be not weery: for when the day of trouble and heauinesse commeth, other shall weepe and be sorowfull, but thou shalt be mery and plenteous.

28 The heathen shalbe ielous [at it] but they shalbe able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lorde.

E 29 My handes shall couer thee, so that thy chyldre shal not see the "fire euerlasting.
30 Be ioyfull O thou mother with thy chyldren, for I wyll deliuer thee, saith
the Lorde.
31 Remember thy chyldren that sleepe, for I shall bryng them out of the sides of the earth, & shewe mercy vnto them:
for I am mercyfull, saith the Lorde al-mightie.
32 Embrace thy chyldren vntyll I come, and shewe mercy vnto them: for my "welles runne ouer, and my grace shall not fayle.
33 I Esdras receaued a charge of the Lorde vpon the mount Oreb, that I shoulde go vnto Israel: But when I came vnto them, they set me at naught, and despised the commaundementes of
the Lorde.
34 And therefore I say vnto you O ye heathen that heare and vnderstande,
"Looke for your shephearde, he shall geue you euerlasting rest: for he is nye at hande that shall come in the ende of the worlde.
35 Be redye to the rewarde of the kingdome, for the euerlasting light shal shine vpon you for euermore.
F 36 Flee the shadowe of this worlde, receaue the ioyfulnes of your glory: I testifie my sauiour openly.
37 O receaue the gyft that is geuen you, and be glad, geuing thankes vnto hym that hath called you to the heauenly kingdome.
38 Aryse vp and stande fast: beholde the number of those that be sealed "in the feast of the Lorde.
39 Whiche are departed from the shadowe of the worlde, and haue receaued glorious garmentes of the Lorde.
40 Take thy number O Sion, and shut vp "thy purified, whiche haue fulfilled the lawe of the Lorde.
41 The number of thy chyldren whom thou longedst for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lorde, that thy people whiche haue ben called from the beginning, may be halowed.
42 *I Esdras sawe vpon the mount Sion a great people, whom I coulde not number: and they all praysed the Lord with songes [of thankesgeuing.]
43 And in the middest of them there was a young man of an hye stature, more excellent then al they, and vpon euery one of their heads he set crownes, and was euer "higher and higher, which I marueyled at greatly.
44 So I asked the angell, and said: Sir, what are these?
45 He aunswered & sayd vnto me: These be they that haue put of the mortall clothing, and put on the immortall, and haue "testified and knowledged the name of God: Now are they crowned, and receaue the "rewarde.
46 Then sayde I vnto the angell: what young person is it that crowneth them, and geueth them the palmes in their handes?
47 So he aunswered and sayd vnto me:
It is the sonne of God, whom they haue "knowledged in the world: Then began I greatly to commende them, that stoode so stiffely for the name of the Lorde.
48 Then the angell sayde vnto me: Go thy way and tell my people what maner of thinges & howe great wonders of the Lorde thy God thou hast seene.

"Or, hell.
"Or, fountaynes.
"Or, swayte.
"Or, for.

"Or, and was hygher then thother.
"Or, haue confessed.
"Or, the palmes.
"Or, confessed.

¶ The. iij. Chapter.

4 The wonderous workes whiche God dyd for the people, are recited. 31 Esdras marueyleth that God suffereth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, whiche yet are sinners also.

A 1  N the thirtith yere after the fall of the citie, I was at Babylon, and lay troubled vpon my bed, and my thoughtes came vp ouer my heart:
2 For I sawe the desolation of Sion, and the plenteous wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.
3 And my spirite was sore moued, so that I began to speake feareful wordes to the most hyest, and sayde:
4 O Lorde Lorde, thou spakest at the beginning, when thou plantedst the earth (and that thy selfe alone) and gauest commaundement vnto the people,
5 And a body vnto Adam without soule, whiche was a "creature of thy handes, and hast breathed in hym the breath of lyfe, and so he liued before thee:
6 And thou leddest hym into Paradise, which

"Or, workemanship.

which thy ryght hande had planted, or euer the earth brought fruites.

25 7 And vnto him thou gauest commaundement to loue thy way, which he transgressed, and immediatly thou appoyntedst death in hym, and in his generations: Of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kinredes, out of number.

Gen.vi.b. 8 *And euery people walked after their owne wyll, and did wonderfull thinges before thee: and as for thy commaundementes they dispised them.

Gen.vi.b. 9 *But "in processe of tyme thou broughtest the water fludde vpon those that dwelt in the worlde, & destroyedst them.

10 So that by the fludde, that was wrought in eche of them, that was by death in Adam.

11 Neuertheless, one of them thou leftest, namely, Noe with his household, of whom came all ryghteous men.

*Or, came to passe. 12 And it "happened that when they that dwelt vpon the earth, began to multiplie, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they began to be more vngodly then the first.

13 Nowe when they liued so wickedly before thee, thou didst choose thee a man from among them, whose name was Abraham.

14 Hym thou louedst, and vnto hym only thou shewedst thy wyll, 15 And madest an euerlasting couenaunt with hym, promising hym that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seede.

Gen.xxi.a. Gen.xxv.c 16 *And vnto hym thou gauest Isahac: *vnto Isahac also thou gauest Jacob and Esau. As for Jacob thou dydst choose him to thee, and put backe Esau: Gen.xxxiii.a *And so Jacob became a great multitude.

17 And it came to passe, that when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt, *thou broughtest them vp to the mount Sina, Exod.xix.a Deut.iii.b.

18 Bowing downe the heauens, "setting fast the earth, mouyng the grounde, makyng the deapthes to shake, and troublyng the worlde: "Or, stirring. "Or, astonishyng.

19 And thy glorie went through foure "portes, of fire and earthquakes, and windes, and colde: that thou myghtest geue the lawe vnto the seede of Jacob, and "diligence vnto the generation of Israel. "Or, gaue. "Or, and that which the generation of Israel should haue kept with diligence 20 And yet tookest thou not away from them that wicked heart, that thy lawe myght bryng foorth fruite in them.

21 For the first Adam bearyng a wicked heart, transgressed and was ouercome: and so be all they that are borne of him.

22 *Thus remayned weakenesse still, and the lawe in the heartes of the people, with the wickednesse of the roote: so that the good departed away, and the euyll abode styll. Rom.viii.a.

23 So the tymes passed away, and the yeres were brought to an ende: *Then dyddest thou rayse thee vp a seruaunt called Dauid, i.Reg.xv.c. ii.Reg.v.a.

24 Whom thou commaundedst to builde a citie vnto thy name, and to offer vp incense and sacrifice vnto thee therin.

25 When this was done nowe many yeres, then the inhabiters of the citie forsoke them, 26 And in all thynges, dyd euen as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 And so thou gauest the citie ouer into the handes of thine enemies.

28 But do they of Babylon then any thyng better, that they shoulde therfore haue the dominion in Sion:

29 For when I came thyther, and sawe there so great wickednesse that it coulde not be numbred: then my soule sawe many euyl doers in this thirteth yere, so that my heart fayled me:

30 For I saw howe thou sufferedst them in such vngodlinesse, and sparedst the wicked doers: but thine owne people hast thou rooted out, and preserued thine enemies, and this hast thou not shewed "me. D

"Or, it. "Or. cōmeth to passe.

31 I can not perceaue howe this "happeneth. Do they of Babylon then better then they of Sion:

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee, sauyng the people of Israel: or what generation hath so beleued thy "couenauntes, as Jacob: "Or, testimonies.

33 And yet their rewarde appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruite: For I haue gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they be "riche and wealthy, and thynke not vpon thy commaundementes. "Or, flowe in wealth.

34 Waygh thou therfore our wickednesse nowe in the ballaunce, and theirs also that dwell in the worlde: and so shall thy name be no where founde but in Israel.

35 Or when was it that they which dwel vpon earth, haue not sinned in thy syght:

sight: or what people hath so kept thy commaundementes:
36 Thou shalt finde that Israel by name hath kept thy preceptes: but not the [other people and] heathen.

The .iiij. Chapter.

5 The angel reproueth Esdras, because he seemed to enter into the profounde iudgementes of God.

A 1 AND the angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Uriel gaue me an answere,
2 And sayd: Thy heart hath taken to much vpon it in this worlde, and thou thinkest to comprehende the way of the highest.
3 Then sayde I: Yea my Lorde. And he aunswered me, and sayde: I am sent to shewe thee three wayes, and to set foorth three similitudes before thee:
4 Wherof yf thou canst declare me one, I wyll shewe thee also the way that thou desirest to see: and I shall shewe thee from whence the wicked heart commeth.
5 And I sayde: Tell on my Lord. Then sayde he vnto me: Go thy way, waygh me the wayght of the fire, or measure me the blast of the winde, or call me agayne the day that is past.
6 Then aunswered I, and sayde: what man borne is able to do that, that thou shouldest aske such thynges of me:
7 And he sayde vnto me: If I shoulde aske thee howe deepe dwellynges are in the middest of the sea, or howe great water springes are in the begynnyng of the deepe, or howe great water springes are vpon the stretchyng out of the heauens, or which are the " outgoinges of Paradise:
8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto me: I neuer went downe yet into the deepe nor hel, neither did I euer climbe vp into heauen.
B 9 Neuertheless, nowe haue I asked thee but only of fire, and winde, and of the day, wherthrough thou hast trauayled, and from the which thou canst not be separated: and yet canst thou geue me no aunswere of them.
10 He sayde moreouer vnto me: Thyne owne thynges, and such as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not knowe:
11 Howe shoulde thy vessell then be able to comprehende the way of the highest, and nowe outwardly in the corrupt worlde to vnderstande the corruption that is euident in my syght:
12 Then sayde I vnto hym: It were better that we were not at all, then that we shoulde lyue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherfore.
13 He aunswered me, and sayde: I came to a forrest in a playne, and * the trees toke such a deuice, Iudi.ix.b. ii.Par.xxv.c
14 And sayde: Come, let vs go, and fyght against the sea, that it may depart away before vs, and that we may make yet more woods.
15 The fludes of the sea also in lyke maner toke counsayle, and sayd: Come, let vs go vp, and fyght against the trees of the wood, that there we may make vs another countrey.
16 The thought [and deuise] of the wood was but vayne [and nothyng worth:] for the fire came and consumed it.
17 The thought of the fludes of the sea ℭ came lykewyse to naught also: for the sande stoode vp and stopped them.
18 If thou were iudge nowe betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou iustifie, or whom wouldest thou condempne:
19 I aunswered and sayde: Uerely it is a foolishe thought that they both haue deuised: For the grounde is geuen vnto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to beare his fludes.
20 Then aunswered he me, and sayde, Thou hast geuen a rycht iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thy selfe also:
21 For lyke as the grounde is geuen vnto the wood, and the sea to his fludes: euen so * they that dwell vpon earth, may vnderstande nothyng but that which is vpon earth: and he that dwelleth aboue the heauens, may only vnderstande the thynges that are aboue the heauens. Esai.xlv.c Ioh.iii.c. i.Cor.ii.b.
22 Then aunswered I, and sayde: I beseche thee O Lorde, let me haue vnderstandyng.
23 For it was not my mynde " to be curious of thy hye thynges, but of such as we " Or, borders.

" Or, to inquire.

we dayly meddle withall, namely, as wherfore Israel is geuen vp as a reproche to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loued is geuen ouer vnto vngodly nations, and why the lawe of our forefathers is brought to naught, and the written " couenauntes come to none effect:

" Or, ordinances.

D 24 And we passe away out of the worlde as the grashoppers, and our lyfe is a very feare, and we are not worthy to obteyne mercie.

25 What wyll he do then vnto his name which is called vpon ouer vs: Of these thynges haue I asked question.

26 Then aunswered he me, and sayde: The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt marueyle: for the worlde hasteth fast to passe away, 27 And can not comprehende the thinges that are promised to the ryghteous in tyme to come: for *this worlde is full of vnryghteousnesse and weakenesse.

* 1. Iohn. v. c.

28 But as concernyng the thynges whereof thou askest me, I wyll tell thee: The euyll is sowen, but the destruction therof is not yet come.

29 If the euyll nowe that is sowen be not turned vpsyde downe, and yf the place where the euyll is sowen passe not away: then can not the thyng come that is sowen with good.

30 For the corne of euyll seede hath ben sowen in the heart of Adam from the begynnyng: and howe much vngodlynesse hath he brought vp vnto this tyme: and howe much shall he yet bring forth, vntyll he come into the barne:

31 Ponder nowe by thy selfe howe great fruite of wickednesse the corne of euyll seede bryngeth forth:

32 And when the stalkes shalbe cut downe, which are without number, howe great a barne shall it fyll:

33 Then I aunswered and sayde: Howe and when shall these thinges come to passe: wherefore are our yeres fewe and euyll:

E Apoc. vi. b.

34 And he aunswered me, saying: *Haste not thou to much aboue the most highest: for thy hastinesse to be aboue hym is but bayne, though thou do all that thou canst for it.

35 Dyd not the soules also of the ryghteous aske question of these thynges in their chambers, saying: *Howe long shall I hope on this fashion: When commeth the fruite of my barne, and our rewarde:

36 And vpon this Jeremiel tharchangel gaue them aunswere, and sayde: Euen when the number of the seedes is fylled in you, for he hath wayghed the worlde in the ballaunce, 37 In measure and number hath he measured the tymes, and moueth it not, nor shaketh it, vntyll the sayde measure be fulfylled.

38 Then aunswered I, & sayd: O Lorde, Lorde, nowe are we all full of sinne:

39 And for our sake peraduenture it is that the barne of the ryghteous are not fulfylled, because of the sinnes of them that dwell vpon the earth.

F

40 So he aunswered me, and sayde: Go thy way to a woman with childe, and aske of her when she hath fulfylled her nine monethes, if her wombe may kepe the birth any longer within her:

41 Then sayde I: No Lorde, that can she not. And he sayde vnto me: In the graue the secrete places of soules are like the wombe of a woman.

42 For like as a woman that trauayleth, maketh haste to escape the necessitie of the trauayle: euen so do these places haste to delyuer those thynges that are committed vnto them.

43 Loke what thou desirest to see, it shalbe shewed thee from the begynnyng.

44 Then aunswered I, and sayde: If I haue founde fauour in thy syght, and yf it be possible, and if I be meete therfore, 45 Shewe me then whether there be more to come then is past, or more past then is for to come.

46 What is past, I knowe: but what is for to come, I knowe not.

47 And he sayde vnto me: Stande vp vpon the ryght syde, and I shall expounde the similitude vnto thee.

G

48 So I stoode, and beholde an hotte burnyng ouen passed by before me: and it happened that when the flambe was gone by, I loked, and behold the smoke had the vpper hande.

49 After this there passed by before me a watery cloude, and sent downe much rayne with a stormie rayne was past, " the droppes remayned styll.

" Or, the litle droppes came after.

50 Then sayd he vnto me, Consider with thy selfe: lyke as the rayne is more then the droppes, and as the fire exceedeth the smoke: euen so the measure of the thynges that are past, hath the vpper-hande,

hande, and the droppes and smoke worke much in quantitie.

51 Then I prayed, and sayde: May I lyue thynkest thou vntyll that tyme? or what shall happen in those dayes?

52 He aunswered me, and sayde: As for the tokens wherof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touchyng thy lyfe, I am not sent to shewe thee: for I do not knowe it.

The .v. Chapter.

1 In the latter tymes trueth shalbe hyd, 6 Unrighteousnesse and all wickednesse shall raigne in the worlde. 23 Israel is reiected, and God deliuereth them. 35 God doth all thyng in season.

A 1 NEuertheleſſe, as concernyng the tokens [marke this:] Behold the dayes shall come that they which dwell vpon earth shalbe taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth shalbe hyd, and the lande shalbe barren from faith:

Mat. 24.a. 2 But * iniquitie shalbe increased aboue that which nowe thou seest, or that thou hast hearde long ago.

3 And the lande that thou seest nowe to haue rule, shalt thou shortly see waste.

4 But yf God graunt thee to lyue, thou shalt see after the thirde trumpet, that the sunne shall sodaynly shyne agayne in the night, and the moone three tymes in the day:

5 And blood shall droppe out of wood, and the stone shall geue his voyce, and the people shalbe vnquieted:

6 And euen he shall rule, whom they hope not that dwell vpon earth, and the foules shall flitte:

7 And the Sodomitishe sea shall cast out the fishe, and make a noyse in the nyght, which many haue not knowen: but they shal all heare the voyce therof.

8 There shalbe a confusion also in many places, and the fire shalbe oft sent out agayne: and the wylde beastes shall chaunge their places, and menstruous women shall beare monsters,

9 And salt waters shalbe founde in the sweete, and all friendes shall fyght one agaynst another: then shall all wyt and vnderstandyng be hyd and put aside into their secrete places:

B 10 And shalbe sought of many, and yet not be founde: then shall vnryghteousnesse and " voluptuousnesse haue the vpper hande vpon earth.

" Or, incontinencie.

11 One lande also shall aske another, and say: Is ryghteousnesse " that maketh a man righteous gone through thee? And it shall say, no.

" Or, that iustifieth. Or, that doth righteously.

12 At the same tyme shall men hope, but nothyng obteyne: they shall labour, but their wayes shall not prosper.

13 To shewe thee such tokens I haue leaue: and if thou wylt pray agayne, and weepe as nowe, and fast seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater thynges.

14 Then I awaked, and a fearfulnesse went through all my body, & my mynde was feeble, so that I almost sowned withall:

15 So the angel that was come to talke with me, helde me, comforted me, and set me vp vpon my feete.

16 And in the seconde nyght it came to passe, that Salathiel the captayne of the people came vnto me, saying: Where hast thou ben? and why is thy countenaunce so heauy?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the lande of their captiuitie?

18 Up then and eate, and forsake vs not, as the sheephearde that leaueth his flocke in the handes of " wicked wolues.

" Or, cruell.

19 Then sayde I vnto hym: Go thy wayes fro me, and come not nye me. And he hearde it, and as I sayde, so went he his way from me.

20 And so I fasted seuen dayes mourning and weepyng, lyke as Uriel the angell commaunded me. C

21 And after seuen dayes so it was, that the thoughtes of my heart were very greeuous vnto me agayne:

22 And my soule receaued the spirite of vnderstandyng, and I began to talke with the most hyghest agayne,

23 And sayde: O Lorde Lorde, of euery wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof thou hast chosen thee one only vineyarde:

24 And of all landes of the whole worlde thou hast chosen one pyt, and of all floures of the grounde thou hast chosen thee one lilie:

25 And of all the deapthes of the sea thou thou hast fylled thee one riuer: and of all builded cities, thou hast halowed Sion vnto thy selfe:

D 26 And of all the foules that are created, thou hast named thee one doue: and of all the cattell that are made, thou hast prouided thee one sheepe:

27 And among all the multitudes of peoples, thou hast gotten thee one people: & vnto this people whom thou louedst, thou gauest a lawe that is proued of all.

28 And nowe O Lorde, Why hast thou geuen this one people ouer vnto many: and vpon the one roote thou hast "prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thy one only people among many:

29 which treade them downe, yea which haue euer withstande thy promises, and neuer beleued thy couenauntes.

30 If thou didst so much hate thy people, yet shouldest thou punishe them with thine owne handes.

31 Nowe when I had spoken these wordes, the angell that came to me the nyght afore, was sent vnto me, 32 And sayde vnto me, Heare me, and I wyll instruct thee: hearken to the thyng that I say, and I shall tell thee more.

33 And I sayde: Speake on my Lorde. Then sayde he vnto me: Thou art sore troubled in mynde for Israels sake: Louest thou that people better then he that made them:

34 And I sayde, No Lorde, but of very griefe [and compassion] haue I spoken: for my reynes payne me euery houre, because I would "haue experience of the way of the most hyest, and seke out part of his iudgement.

E 35 And he sayde vnto me: That thou "mayest not. And I sayde: Wherfore Lorde: Wherunto was I borne then: or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue, that I myght not haue seene the miserie [and trouble] of Jacob, and the wearyng out of the stocke of Israel:

36 And he sayde vnto me: Number me the thynges that are not yet come, gather me together the droppes that are scattered abroade, make me the floures greene agayne that are withered, 37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me foorth the wyndes that in them are shut vp, shewe me the image of a voyce: and then I wyll declare to thee the thyng that thou labourest to knowe.

38 And I sayde: O Lorde, Lorde, Who may knowe these thynges, but he that hath not his dwellyng with men: F

39 As for me, I am vnwise: howe may I then speake of these thynges whereof thou askest me:

40 Then sayd he vnto me, Lyke as thou canst do none of these thynges that I haue spoken of: euen so canst thou not fynde out my iudgement, or in the ende the loue that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 And I sayde: Beholde O Lorde, yet art thou nye vnto them that be reserued tyll the ende: and what shall they do that haue bene before me, or we that be nowe, or they that shall come after vs:

42 And he sayde vnto me, I wyll lyken my iudgement vnto a ryng: Lyke as there is no slacknesse of the last, euen so there is no swiftnesse of the first.

43 So I aunswered and sayde: Couldest thou not make those that haue ben made, and be nowe, and that are for to come, at once, that thou mightest shewe thy iudgement the sooner:

44 Then aunswered he me, and sayde: "Or, before. The creature may not haste "aboue the maker, neither may the worlde holde them at once that shalbe created therin.

45 And he sayde: As thou hast sayde vnto thy seruaunt, that thou which quickenest all thynges, hast geuen lyfe at once to the creature [or worke] that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: euen so myght it nowe also beare them that nowe be present at once.

46 And he sayd vnto me: Aske the wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, If thou bringest foorth children, why doest thou it not together, but one after another: Pray her therefore to bryng foorth ten children at once. G

47 And I sayde, She can not: but must do it by distaunce of tyme.

48 Then sayde he vnto me: Euen so haue I deuided by distaunce of tyme the childbed of the earth for those that be sowen vpon her.

49 For lyke as a young childe may not bryng foorth the thynges that belong to the aged: euen so haue I ordeyned "the worlde which I created. "Or, the tyme.

50 And I asked and sayde: Seyng thou hast haſt nowe geuen me the way, I wyll proceede to ſpeake before thee: for our mother of whom thou haſt tolde me that ſhe is young, draweth ſhe nowe nye vnto age:

51 He aunſwered me, and ſayde: Aſke a woman that beareth children, and ſhe ſhall tell thee.

52 Say vnto her: wherfore are not they whom thou haſt nowe brought forth, like thoſe that were before thee, but leſſe of ſtature:

53 And ſhe ſhal aunſwere thee: They that be borne in the youth of ſtrength, are of one faſhion: and they that are borne in the tyme of age (when the wombe fayleth) are otherwiſe.

54 Conſider nowe thy ſelfe, howe that ye are leſſe of ſtature then thoſe that were before you:

55 And ſo are they that come after you leſſe then ye, as the creatures which nowe begyn to be olde, and haue paſſed ouer the ſtrength of youth.

56 Then ſayde I: Lorde I beſeche thee yf I haue founde fauour in thy ſyght, ſhewe thy ſeruaunt by whom thou viſiteſt thy "creature:

" Or, worke manſhyp.

The.vj.Chapter.

1 God hath foreſeene all thynges in his ſecrete counſayle, and is aucthour therof, and hath created them for his children. 25 The felicitie of the age to come.

A 1 AND he ſayde vnto me: In ỹ begynnyng when the "grounde was made, before the borders of the worlde ſtoode, or euer the windes blewe,

2 Before it thundred and lyghtened, or euer the foundations of Paradiſe were layde,

" Or, compaſſe of the earth.

3 Before the faire floures were ſeene, or euer the moueable powers were ſtabliſhed, before the innumerable "multitude of angels were gathered together,

" Or, armies

4 Or euer the hyghneſſes of the ayre were lyfted vp, afore the meaſures of the firmament were named, or euer the chimneys in Sion were hotte,

5 And or the preſent yeres were ſought out, and or euer the inuentions of them that nowe ſinne, were "put aſide, before they were ſealed that haue gathered fayth for a treaſure:

" Or, turned away.

6 Then dyd I conſider and ponder all theſe thynges, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me alſo they ſhalbe ended, and by none other.

B 7 Then aunſwered I, and ſayde: what ſhalbe the "partyng aſunder of the tymes: or when ſhalbe the ende of the firſt, and the begynnyng of it that foloweth:

" Or, deuiſion.

8 And he ſayd vnto me: From Abraham vnto Iſahac, when Iacob and Eſau were borne of him, Iacobs hande helde firſt the heele of Eſau:

9 For Eſau is the ende of this worlde, and Iacob is the begynnyng of it that foloweth.

10 The hande of man betwixt the heele and the hande: Other queſtion Eſdras aſke thou not.

11 I aunſwered then, and ſayd: O Lord, Lorde, yf I haue founde fauour in thy ſyght, 12 I beſeche thee "ſhewe thy ſeruaunt the ende of thy tokens, whereof thou ſhewedſt me part the laſt nyght.

" Or, make an ende to ſhew thy ſeruaunt thy tokens.

13 So he aunſwered, and ſayde vnto me: Stande vp vpon thy feete, and heare a "perfect voyce and ſounde.

" Or, mighte

14 There ſhall come "a great motion: but the place where thou ſtandeſt ſhall not be moued.

" Or, an earthquake.

15 And therfore when "thou heareſt the wordes, be not afraide: for of the ende ſhall the worde be, and of the foundation of the earth ſhall it be vnderſtande.

" Or, when he ſpeaketh.

16 And why: the worde therof trembleth and quaketh: for it knoweth that it muſt be chaunged at the ende. C

17 And it happened, that when I had hearde it, I ſtoode vp vpon my feete and hearkened: and beholde there was a voyce that ſpake, and the ſounde of it was like the ſounde of many waters.

18 And it ſayde: Beholde the dayes come that I wyll begyn to drawe nye, and to viſite them that dwell vpon earth:

19 And wyll begyn to make inquiſition of them, what they be that haue hurt vniuſtly with their vnryghteouſneſſe, and when the lowe eſtate of Sion ſhalbe fulfylled.

20 And when the worlde that ſhall vaniſhe away ſhalbe ouerſealed, then will

I do

J do these tokens: The bookes shalbe opened before the "firmament, and they shall see altogether:
21 And the children of a yere olde shall speake with their voyces, the women with childe shall bring forth vntymely children of three or foure monethes olde, and they shal liue, and be raised vp.
22 And sodaynely shall the sowen places appeare as the vnsowen, the full store houses shall sodaynly be founde emptie:
D 23 And the trumpet shall geue a sounde, which when euery man heareth, they shalbe hastely afraide.
Mich. vii.a. Mat.x.c. 24 *At that tyme shall friendes fyght one agaynst another lyke enemies, and the earth shall stande in feare with them:
The springes of the welles shall stande styll, and in three houres they shall not runne.
25 Whosoeuer remayneth from all these thynges that J haue tolde thee, " shall escape, and see my saluation, and the ende of your worlde.
26 And the men that are receaued shall see it, they that haue not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the " indwellers shalbe chaunged & turned into another meanyng.
27 For euyll shalbe put out, and deceipt
shalbe quenched.
28 As for faith it shall florishe, corruption shalbe ouercome, and the trueth which hath ben so long without fruite, shalbe "declared.
29 And when he talked with me, beholde
J loked a litle and a litle vpon hym before whom J stoode,
30 And these wordes sayde he vnto me:
J am come to shewe thee the tyme of the nyght for to come.
31 If thou wylt pray yet more, and fast seuen dayes agayne, J shall tell thee more thynges and greater then before, which J haue hearde by the day.
32 For thy voyce is hearde before the hyest: for why? the mightie hath seene thy ryghteous dealyng, he hath seene also thy chastitie which thou hast had euer since thy youth:
E 33 And therfore hath he sent me to shewe thee all these thynges, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not:
34 And haste not with the tymes that are past to thynke vayne thynges, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter tymes.
35 And it came to passe after this, that J wept agayne, and fasted seuen dayes in lyke maner, that J myght fulfyll the three weekes which he tolde me.
36 And in the eyght nyght was my heart vexed within me agayne, and J began to speake before the hyest.
37 For my spirite was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse,
38 And J sayde: O Lorde, thou spakest vnto thy creature from the begynnyng, euen the first day, and saydest, *Let Gen.i.a. heauen & earth be made: And thy worde was a perfect worke.
39 And then was there the spirite, and the darknesses were yet on euery syde, and silence: there was no mans voyce
as yet from thee.
40 Then commaundedst thou a " fayre "Or, light.
lyght to come forth out of thy treasures, that thy worke myght appeare and be seene.
41 Upon the seconde day thou madest F
the spirite of the firmament, and com-maundedst it to part asunder and to make a deuision betwixt the waters, that the one part myght remayne aboue, and the other beneath.
42 Upon the thirde day thou broughtest to passe that the waters were gathered in the seuenth part of the earth: Sixe partes hast thou dryed vp, & kept them,
"to the intent that men myght sowe "Or, to the intent that of them there might be some to minister before the sowen of God, and tylled.
and occupie husbandry therin.
43 Assoone as thy worde went forth, the worke was made.
44 For immediatly there was great and innumerable fruite, and many diuers pleasures for the taste, and floures of vnchaungeable colour, and odours of wonderfull smell: and this was done the thirde day.
45 *Upon the fourth day thou commaun- Gen.i.d.
dedst that the sunne shoulde geue his shyne, and the moone her lyght, the starres dydst thou set in order:
46 *And gauest them a charge to do ser- Deu.iiii c. uice euen vnto man that was for to be made.
47 Upon the fyft day thou saydest vnto
the seuenth part, where the *waters Gen i.c.
were gathered, that it shoulde bryng forth [diuers] beastes, foules, and fishes:
and so it came to passe.
48 For the dumbe water and without soule, brought forth lyuyng thynges at the commaundement of God, that all all "people myght prayse thy wonderous workes.

" Or, the nations.

49 Then dydst thou ordeyne two soules: the one thou calledst "Enoch, and the other Leuiathan,

" Or, Behemoth.

50 And dydst separate the one from the other: for the seuenth part (namely, where the water was gathered together) myght not holde them both.

G

51 Unto "Enoch thou gauest one part which was dryed vp the third day, that he shoulde dwel in the same part, wherin are a thousande hylles.

" Or, Behemoth.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuenth part, namely the moyst, & hast kept hym to deuour what thou wylt, and when.

53 Upon the firt day thou gauest commaundement vnto the earth that before thee it shoulde bryng foorth beastes, cattell, and all that creepe:

54 And beSydes this Adam also, whom thou madest lorde of all thy creatures: of hym come we all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen [specially vnto thy selfe.]

55 All this haue I sayd nowe and spoken before thee [that I myght shewe how we] that the worlde is made for our sakes.

56 As for the other people which also come of Adam, thou hast sayde that they are nothyng, but be lyke vnto spittle, & hast lykened the aboundaunce of them vnto a droppe that falleth from a vessell.

57 And nowe O Lorde, beholde, the heathen which haue euer ben reputed as nothyng, haue begunne to be lordes ouer vs, and to deuour vs:

58 But we thy people (whom thou hast called thy first borne, thy only begotten, and thy feruent louer) are geuen into their handes and power.

59 If the worlde nowe be made for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritaūce of the worlde in possession: Howe long shall this endure:

The .vij. Chapter.

5 Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 12 God aduertiseth all in tyme. 28 The commyng and death of Christe. 32 The resurrection & last iudgement, 43 After the which all corruption shall cease. 48 All fell in Adam. 19 The true lyfe. 59 The mercies and goodnesse of God.

A 1 AND when I had made an ende of speakyng these wordes, there was sent vnto me an angell, whiche had ben sent vnto me also the nyghtes afore,

2 And he sayde vnto me: Up Esdras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I sayde: Speake on [Lorde] my God. Then sayde he vnto me: The sea is set in a wyde place, that it myght be deepe and great.

4 But put case the entraunce is narowe and small lyke a ryuer.

5 Who then coulde go into the sea, to loke vpon it, and to rule it: If he went not through the narowe, howe myght he come into the broade:

" Or, agayne

6 Item "another. A citie is builded and set vpon a broade fielde, and is full of all good thynges:

7 The entraunce therof is narowe, and is set in a daungerous place to fall, lyke as yf there were a fire at the ryght hande, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And as it were only one strayte path betwixt them both, euen betweene the fire and the water, so small that there coulde but one man go there at once.

B

9 If this citie nowe were geuen to a man for an inheritaunce, and he neuer went through the perilous way before, howe woulde he receaue his inheritaunce:

10 And I sayde: It is so Lorde. Then sayd he: Euen so also is Israels portion.

11 And why: for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thyng so appoynted as nowe is done.

12 Then were the entraunces of the worlde made narowe, full of sorowe and trauayle: they are but fewe and euyll, full of perils, and labour.

13 For the entraunces of the fore worlde were wyde and sure, and brought immortall fruite.

14 If then they which are lyuyng, enter not diligently through these strayte and brittle thynges, they can not receaue the thynges so layde vp in secrete.

15 Why disquietest thou thy selfe then, seyng seyng thou art but a corruptible man: And why art thou moued, whereas thou art but mortall:

16 And why hast thou not receaued into thyne heart the thinges that are to come, rather thē them that are present:

17 Then sayd I: O Lorde, Lord, *thou hast ordayned in thy law, that the righteous shoulde inherite these thinges, but that the vngodly shoulde perishe:

18 Neuertheless, the righteous shall suffer straite thinges, & hope for wyde: for they that haue liued vngodly & suffred strayte thinges, shall not see the wyde.

19 And he sayde vnto me: There is no iudge aboue God, and none that hath vnderstanding aboue the hyest.

20 For there be many that perishe in this life, because they despise the law of God that is "set before them:

* Or, appointed them.

D 21 For God hath geuen strayte commaundement to such as came, so oft as they came, What they should do to haue life, and what they shoulde kepe to auoyde punishment.

22 Neuertheless, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against hym, and imagined vayne thinges:

23 And deceaued them selues by wicked deedes, and demed the power of the most high, & regarded not his wayes, 24 But his lawe haue they despised, and denied his promises, in his statutes and ordinaunces haue they not ben faythful and stedfast, and haue not performed his workes.

25 And therefore Esdras, for the emptie are the emptie thinges, and for the full are the full thinges.

26 Beholde, the tyme shall come that these tokens whiche I haue tolde thee, shall come to passe, and the bryde shall appeare, and she comming foorth shalbe seene that nowe is vnder the earth:

27 And whosoeuer is deliuered from the foresayde euils, shall see my wonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shalbe openly declared with those that be with him: and they that remayne, shalbe merie within foure hundred yeres.

29 After these same yeres shall my sonne Christe dye, and all men that haue life:

30 And the world shalbe turned into the olde silence seuen dayes, like as in the foreiudgementes, so that no man shall remayne.

31 And after seuen dayes, the world that yet awaketh not, shalbe raysed vp, and that shall dye that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shall restore those that haue slept in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secrete places shall deliuer those the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most highest shalbe openly declared vpon the seate of iudgement, & all miserie shall vanishe away, and long suffering "shalbe gathered together.

" Or, haue an ende.

34 But the iudgement shall continue, the trueth shall remayne, and fayth shall ware strong, 35 The worke shall folowe, and the reward shalbe shewed, the "righteousnesse shall watch, and the righteousnesse shall beare no rule.

" Or, the good deedes shalbe of force

E Gen. xviii. c. Exod. 32. c.

26 Then sayd I: *Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and Moyses for the fathers that sinned in the wyldernesse, 37 And they that came after him for, Israel, in the time of Achas and Samuel,

38 And *Dauid for the destruction, *and Solomon for them that came into the sanctuarie,

ii. Reg. 24. b
ii. Par. vi. c.

39 *And Helias for those that receaued rayne, & for the dead, that he might liue,

iii. Reg. 17. d

40 *And Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers other in like maner whiche haue prayed for many.

4. Reg. 16. c.

41 Euen so nowe, seing the "corrupt is growen vp, and wickednesse increased, and the righteous haue prayed for ỹ vngodly: wherfore shall it not be so nowe also?

" Or, vice.

42 He aunswered me, and sayde: This present life is not the ende, oft times honour is retayned in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of doome shalbe the ende of this tyme, and the beginning of the immortalitie for to come, wherein all corruption shalbe vanished:

44 Intemperauncie shalbe loosed, infidelitie be cut of, righteousnesse growe, and the veritie spring vp.

45 Then shall no man be able to saue hym that is destroyed, nor to oppresse hym that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I aunswered then, and sayd: This is my first and last saying, that it had ben better not to haue geuen the earth vnto Adam: or els when it was geuen hym, to haue kept hym that he shoulde not haue sinned.

47 For what profite is it for men nowe in this present time to liue in heauines, and after death to "looke for punishment:

" Or, feare.

48 O thou Adam what hast thou done? For though it was thou that sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we all that come of thee.

49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there be promised vs an immortall " tyme, where as we do the workes that bryng death:

" Or, lyfe.

50 And that there is promised vs an euerlasting hope, where as our selues are euyll and vayne:

51 And that there are layde vp for vs dwellinges of health and safetie, where as we haue liued wickedly:

F 52 And that the glory of the highest is kept to defende them which haue led a patient life, where as we haue walked in the most wicked wayes of all:

53 And that there shalbe shewed a paradise, whose fruite endureth for euer, wherein is " freedome and medicine, whereas we shall not go in:

" Or, safetie and health.

54 For we haue walked in vnpleasaunt places.

55 And that the faces of them whiche haue abstayned, shall shine aboue the starres: whereas our faces shalbe blacker then darkneſſe:

56 For whyle we liued and dyd vnrighteously, we considered not that we shoulde suffer therfore after death:

57 Then aunswered he me, and sayde: This is the maner of the battayle which man that is borne vpon the earth shall fight.

58 That if he be ouercome, he shall suffer as thou hast sayd: But if he get the victorie, he shal receaue ꝑ thing that I say.

59 For this is the life whereof Moyses spake vnto the people whyle he liued saying: * Choose thee lyfe, that thou mayest liue.

Deu.xxx.d

60 Neuertheleſſe, they beleued hym not, neither the prophetes after hym, no nor me whiche haue sayde vnto them, 61 That heauineſſe should not so be vnto their destruction, like as ioy is for to come ouer those " that haue suffred thē selues to be enfourmed in saluation.

" Or, to whom saluation is persuaded. G

62 I aunswered then and sayd: I know Lorde, that the highest is called mercyfull, in that he hath mercy vpon them whiche are not yet come vnto that worlde, 63 And vpon those also that walke in his lawe.

64 And that * he is patient: for he long suffreth those that haue sinned, as his creatures.

Rom.ii.

65 And that he is liberall to geue where as it requireth.

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he passeth in mercy much, both those that are present, and that are paste, and also them whiche are for to come.

67 For if he multiplied not his mercies, the worlde coulde not continue his beyng with those that haue inheritaunces therein.

68 He " geueth also: for if he gaue not of his goodneſſe, that they whiche haue done euyll myght be eased from their wickedneſſe, the ten thousandth part of men should not remayne liuing.

" Or, forgeueth.

69 And if he beyng iudge, forgaue not those that be healed with his worde, and toke not away the multitude of contentions, 70 There should be very fewe left peraduenture in an innumerable multitude.

¶ The. viij. Chapter.

1 The number of the godly is small. 6 The workes of God are excellent. 20 Esdras prayer for hym and his people. 39 The promise of saluation to the iust. 55 The destruction of the vniust.

A 1 AND he aunswered me, saying: The most hyest made this world for many, but the worlde 2 to come for fewe.

I will tell thee a similitude, Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee that it geueth much " moulde wherof earthen vessels are made, but litle of it that golde commeth of: Euen so is it with the worke of this worlde.

" Or, earthy matter.

3 * There be many created, but fewe shalbe saued.

Math.xx.b and.xxii.b.

4 Then aunswered I, and sayd: Then swalowe vp the wit (O my soule) and deuour the vnderstanding.

5 For thou art agreed to hearken and to geue eare, and willyng to prophecie: for thou hast no longer space but this life geuen thee.

6 O Lorde, if thou suffer not thy seruaunt to intreate thee, that thou mayest geue seede vnto our heart, and buylde our our vnderstanding, that there maye come fruite of it, Wherby eche man may liue that is corrupt, then who shall step foorth in the place of man:

B 7 For thou art alone, and we all one worke manship of thy handes, like as thou hast sayde.

8 For when the body is fashioned nowe in the mothers wombe, and thou geuest the membres, thy creature is preserued in fire and water, and nine monethes doth thy worke suffer thy creature whiche is fashioned in her:

9 But the thinges that kepeth, and that is kept, shall both be preserued: and when the time commeth, the wombe preserued, deliuereth vp the thinges that growe in it.

10 For thou hast commaunded the partes of the body, euen the breastes, to geue milke vnto the fruite of the breastes:

11 That the thing whiche is created and fashioned, may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest and ordrest it with thy mercy.

12 And then thou bringest it vp with thy righteousnesse, nurturest it in thy lawe, and refourmest it with thy vnderstanding, 13 "Mortifiest it as thy creature, and makest it liuing as thy worke.

C 14 Seing then that thou destroyest him whiche with so great labours is created and fashioned thorowe thy commaundement, thou couldest lightly ordayne also that the thing whiche is made might be preserued.

15 Nowe therfore Lord I wyll speake (for concerning all men in generall thou shalt rather prouide) but touching thy people, for whose sake I am sory,

16 And thyne inheritaunce, for whose cause I mourne, and Israel, for whom I am wofull, and Jacob, for whose sake I am greeued:

17 Therfore begin I to pray before thee for my selfe and for them: for I see the fauls of vs that dwell in the lande.

18 But I haue heard the "swiftnesse of the iudge whiche is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and vnderstand my wordes, and I shal speake before thee. This is the beginning of the wordes of Esdras, before he was taken vp.

20 O Lord, thou that dwellest in euerlastingnesse, Which beholdest from aboue thinges in the heauen and in the ayre:

21 Whose throne is inestimable, whose glory [and maiestie] may not be comprehended, before whom the hoastes of angels stande with tremblyng, D

22 Whose keping is turned in winde and fire, whose worde is true, whose sayinges are stedfast, whose commaundement is strong, whose ordinaunce is fearefull,

23 Whose looke dryeth vp the deapthes, whose wrath maketh the mountaynes to melt away, " and whose trueth beareth witnesse:

24 O heare the prayer of thy seruaunt, and marke with thyne eares the petition of thy creature.

25 For whyle I liue I wyll speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding I wyll aunswere.

26 O looke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then on them whiche serue thee in trueth.

27 Haue no respect vnto the wicked studies of the heathen: but to the desire of those that kepe thy testimonies with afflictions.

28 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked faynedly before thee: but remember them which according to thy wyll haue knowen thy feare.

29 Let it not be thy will to destroy them E whiche haue had beastly maners: but to looke vpon them that haue clearely taught thy lawe.

30 Take thou no indignation at them whiche " are worse then beastes: but loue them that alway put their trust in thy righteousnesse and glory.

31 For we and our fathers haue all the same sicknes [and disease:] but because of vs sinners thou shalt be called mercyful.

32 For if thou hast mercy vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull to vs that haue no workes of righteousnesse.

33 For the righteous whiche haue layde vp many good workes together, shall out of their deedes receaue reward.

34 But what is man that thou shouldest take displeasure at hym? Or what is this corruptible and mortall generation, that thou shouldest be so rough towarde him?

35 *For of a trueth there is no mã among them that be borne but he hath dealt wickedly, & among the "faythfull there is none which hath not done amisse.

" Or, lapest.

" Or, as the effect it selfe beareth witnesse.

" Or, appeare.

" Or, for whose cause.

ii.Par.vi.f. i.Iohn.i.b.

" Or, suche as confesse thee.

36 For in this O Lorde thy righteousnesse and thy goodnesse shalbe prayed [and declared] if thou be mercifull vnto them whiche " are not riche in good workes.

" Or, haue not the substaunce of.

37 Then aunswered he me, and sayde, Some things hast thou spoken aright: & according vnto thy wordes it shalbe.

38 For I wyll not veryly consider the workes " of them whiche haue sinned before death, before iudgement, before destruction:

" Or, of the wicked.

Gen.iii.a. 39 But * I wyll reioyce ouer the worke and thought of the righteous, I wyll remember also the pilgrimage, the saluation, and the reward that they shall haue.

F 40 Like as I haue spoken nowe, so shall it come to passe.

41 For as the husbandman soweth much seede vpon the grounde, and planteth many trees, and yet allway the thing that is sowne or planted is not all kept safe, neither doth it all take roote: Euen so is it of them that are sowen in the worlde, they shall not all be saued.

42 I aunswered then and sayde: If I haue founde grace, then let me speake.

43 Like as the husbandmans seede perisheth, if it come not vp and receaue not thy rayne in due season, or if there come to much rayne vpon it and corrupt it:

44 Euen so perisheth man also Which is created with thy handes, and is like vnto thyne owne image and to thy selfe, for whose sake thou hast made all thinges, and lykened hym vnto the husbandmans seede.

45 Be not wroth with vs [O Lorde] but spare thy people, and haue mercy vpon thyne owne inheritaunce: for thou wylt be mercyfull vnto thy creature.

46 Then aunswered he me, and sayde: Thinges present are for the present, and thinges to come, for such as be to come.

47 For thou lackest yet much, seing thou canst loue my creature aboue me: but I haue oft tymes drawen nye vnto thee, and vnto it, but neuer to the vnrighteous.

48 In this also thou art marueylous before the highest,

49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to be much glorified among the righteous.

50 For many and great miseries remaine for them that in the latter tyme shall dwell in the worlde, because they " haue walked in great pride.

" Or, shall walke.

51 But vnderstande thou for thy selfe, and seeke out the glory for such as be like thee.

52 For vnto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the tyme to come is prepared, plenteousnes is made redy, the citie is buylded [for you] and rest is prepared, yea perfect goodnes and wysdome. G

53 The roote of euyll is " marked from you, the weakenesse and moth is hid from you, and into hell fleeth corruption in forgetfulnesse.

" Or, sealed vp.

54 Sorowes are vanished away, and in the ende is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.

55 And therfore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perishe.

56 For when they had taken libertie, they despised the highest, thought scorne of his lawe, and forsoke his wayes.

57 Moreouer, they haue troden downe his righteous,

58 And * sayde in their heart that there is no God, " yea and that wittingly, for they dye.

Psal.xiiii.a. " Or, for all they knewe that they shoulde dye.

59 For like as the thing that I haue spoken of, is made redy for you, euen so is thirst and payne prepared for them: For it was not " his wyll that man shoulde " come to naught.

" Or, gods. " Or, perishe

60 But they whiche be created, haue defiled the name of hym that made them, and are vnthankefull vnto him whiche prepared lyfe for them.

61 And therefore is my iudgement nowe at hande.

62 These thinges haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe, namely vnto thee, and to suche as be like thee. Then aunswered I and sayde:

63 Beholde O Lorde, nowe hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders whiche thou wylt begin to do in the last tymes: but at what tyme [and when] thou hast not shewed me.

¶ The

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

5 All thinges in this worlde haue a beginning and an ende. 10 Tormentes for the wicked after this lyfe. 15 The number of the wicked is more then of the good. 29 The Jewes ingratitude. 36 Therefore they perishe. 38 The vision of a woman lamenting.

A 1 HE aunswered me then and sayde, Measure thou the time diligentlye in it selfe: and When thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe Whiche I haue tolde thee before,

2 Then shalt thou vnderstande that it is the very same tyme wherin the highest Wyll begin to visite the world Which he made.

3 Therefore When there shalbe seene an earthquake and vprore of the people in the Worlde,

4 Then shalt thou well vnderstande that the moste highest spake of those thinges from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the beginning.

5 For lyke as all that is made in the Worlde, hath a beginning and ende, and the ende is manifest:

6 Euen so the tymes also of the highest haue playne beginninges in Wonders and signes, and ende in "Worcking and in tokens.

* Or, effect and miracles.

B 7 And euery one that shalbe saued, and shalbe able to escape by his Workes and by fayth Wherein ye haue beleued, 8 Shalbe preserued from the sayde perils, and shall see my "sauiour in my lande, and Within my borders: for I haue halowed "me from the Worlde.

* Or, saluation.

* Or, my self.

9 Then shall they pitie them selues, Whiche nowe haue abused my Wayes: and they that haue cast them out dispitefully, shall dwell in paynes.

10 For suche as in their life haue receaued benefites, and haue not knowen me:

11 And they that haue abhorred my lawe Whyle they had yet "freedome, and When they had yet open leysure of amendement and conuertion, vnderstoode not, but despised it:

* Or, liberte

12 The same must knowe it after death in payne.

* Or, curious to know.

13 And therefore be thou no more "carefull howe the vngodly shalbe punished: but inquire howe the righteous shalbe saued, and Whose the Worlde is, and for Whom the Worlde is, and When [it is.]

14 Then aunswered I, and sayde:

15 *I haue sayde before, and nowe I speake, and Wyl speake it also hereafter: that there be many mo of them Whiche perishe, then of them Whiche shalbe saued: C 4-Esd.viii.b

16 Like as the flud is greater then a drop.

17 And he aunswered me, saying: Like as the fielde is, so is also the seede: as the floures be, so are the colours also: suche as the Workeman is, suche is also the Worke: and as the husbandman is hym selfe, so is his husbandry also: for it was the tyme of the Worlde.

18 And When I prepared for them that are nowe, or euer the World was made wherein they shoulde dwell: then was there no man that spake against me.

19 For then euery one [obayed] but nowe the maners of them which are created in this Worlde that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seede, and by a lawe whereout they can not rid them selues.

20 So I considered the Worlde, and beholde there was perill because of the "thoughtes that were come into it.

" Or, deuises

D

21 And I saw, and spared them greatly, and haue kept me a "wineberie of grapes, and a plant of a great people.

" Or, grape of the cluster.

22 Let the multitude perishe then Which are growen vp in payne, and let my grape [and wineberie] be kept and my plant: for With great labour haue I made it vp.

23 Neuertheles, if thou Wylt ceasse yet seuen dayes mo, but thou shalt not fast in them:

24 Go thy Way thē into a fielde of floures, Where no house is buylded, & eate only of the floures of the fielde, taste no flesh, drinke no Wine, but eate floures only.

25 And pray vnto the highest continually, so Wyll I come and talke With thee.

26 So I went my Way, and came into the fielde Whiche is called Ardath, like as he commaunded me, and there I sate among the floures, and did eate of the hearbes of the fielde, and the meate of the same satisfied me.

27 After seuen dayes, I sate vpon the grasse, and my heart Was vexed Within me like as before.

28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talke with the most highest, and said:
29 O Lorde, thou that shewest thy selfe vnto vs, *thou hast declared and opened thy selfe vnto our fathers in the wylderneſſe, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt:
30 And thou spakest saying, Heare me O Israel, and marke my wordes thou seede of Jacob.
31 For beholde I sowe my lawe in you, and it shall bryng fruite in you, and ye shalbe honoured in it for euer.
32 But our fathers whiche receaued the lawe, kept it not, and obserued not thy ordinaunces and statutes, and the fruite of thy lawe dyd not appeare, neither coulde it: for why? it was thyne.
33 *For they that receaued it, perished, because they kept not the thing that was sowen in them.
34 And lo, it is a custome when the grounde receaueth seede, or the sea a ship, or a vessell meate and drinke: that when it perisheth or is broken wherein a thing is sowen, or wherein any thing is put,
35 The thinges also perishe and are broken which are sowen or put therin and receaued, and the thinges that are receaued remayne not then with vs: but in vs it hath not happened so.
36 For we that haue receaued the lawe, perishe in sinne, and our heart whiche also receaued the lawe:
37 Notwithstanding *the law perisheth not, but remayneth in his force.
38 And when I spake these thinges in my heart [after this maner] I looked about me with mine eyes, and vpon the right side *I sawe a woman whiche mourned sore, made great lamentation, and wept with loude voyce, and was greeued in heart, and rent her clothes, and she had asshes vpon her head.
39 Then let I my thoughtes go that I was in, and turned me vnto her, 40 And sayde: Wherefore weepest thou? why art thou so sory in minde?
41 And she sayd vnto me: Sir, let me alone, that I may bewayle my selfe, and take yet more sorow: for I am sore vexed in my minde, and brought very low.
42 And I sayde vnto her: What ayleth thee? [Or who hath done any thing to thee?] tell me.
43 She sayde vnto me: I thy seruaunt haue ben vnfruitfull and baren, and hauehad no chylde though I haue had an husbande thirtie yeres.
44 And these thirtie yeres I do nothing els day and night, and all houres, but make my prayer to the highest.
45 After thirtie yeres God hearde me thy handmayden, looked vpon my miserie, considered my trouble, and gaue me a sonne: and I was glad of hym, so was my husband also, and al my neighbours, and we gaue great honour vnto the almightie.
46 And I nourished him with great trauayle.
47 So when he grewe vp, and came to the tyme that he shoulde "haue a wyfe, I made a feast.

The .x. Chapter.

Esdras and the woman that appeareth vnto hym, commune together.

1 AND it so came to passe, that when my sonne went into his chaumber, he fell downe and dyed:
2 Then ouerthrewe we all the lightes, and all my neyghbours rose vp to comfort me, then toke I my rest vnto the seconde day at nyght.
3 And when they had all left of to comfort me, that I shoulde be quiet: then I rose vp by nyght and fled, and am come hyther into this fielde as thou seest:
4 And am purposed not to returne into the citie, but to remayne here, and neither to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne, and to fast, vntyll I dye.
5 Then let I my meditation and thoughtes fal that I was in, and spake to her in displeasure, saying:
6 Thou foolish woman aboue al other, seest steest thou not our heauines and mourning, and what happeneth vnto vs?

7 Howbe Sion our mother is all wofull & sory, and howbe she is cleane brought downe and mourneth extremely?

8 Seyng we be all nowe in heauines, & make our mone, for we all be sorowfull: art thou so heauie for one sonne?

9 Demaunde the earth, and she shall tell thee that it is she whiche ought [by reason] to mourne for the fall of so manye that growe vpon her.

10 For from the beginning all men are borne of her, and other shall come: and beholde, they walke almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them shalbe rooted out.

11 Who shoulde then [by reason] make more mourning, then she that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou whiche art sory, but for one?

12 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth, for I haue lost the fruite of my "body, Whiche I brought forth with heauines, and bare with sorowes:

13 But the earth is according to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude goeth agayne into her "as it is come to passe:

14 Then say I vnto thee, Like as thou hast borne with trauayle and sorowe, euen so the earth also from the beginning geueth her fruite vnto man, euen to him that laboured her.

15 And therefore withholde thy sorowe and heauines by thy self, * & looke what happeneth vnto thee, beare it "strongly.

16 For if thou iudgest the marke and ende of God to be righteous and good, and receauest his counsell in time, thou shalt be commended therin.

17 Go thy way then into the citie to thy husbande.

18 And she sayde vnto me, That wyll I not do: I wyll not go into the citie, but here wyll I dye.

19 So I communed more with her, and sayde:

20 Do not so, but be counselled, and folowe me: for howe many fauls hath Sion: Be of good comfort because of the sorowe of Hierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our sanctuarie is layde waste, our aulter broken, our temple destroyed,

22 Our playing of instrumentes is layde downe, and songes art put to silence, our myrth is banished away, the light of our candelsticke is quenched, the arke of our couenaunt is taken from vs, all our holy thinges are defiled, and the name that is called vpon ouer vs is almost dishonoured: our chyldren are put to shame, our priestes are brent, our Leuites are caryed away into captiuitie, our virgins are defiled, and our wyues rauished, our righteous men spoyled, and our chyldren destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong worthyes are become weake: D

23 And Sion our seale, Which is the greatest of al, is loosed vp from her worship: for she is deliuered into the handes of them that hate vs.

24 And therfore shake of thy great heauinesse, and put away the multitude of sorowes, that the mightie may be mercyfull vnto thee, and that the highest may geue thee rest and ease from thy labour and trauayle.

25 And when I was talkyng with her, her face and beautie shined sodainely, and her countenaunce glistered, so that I was afraide of her, and mused what it might be.

26 And immediatly she caste out a great voyce, very fearefull, so that the earth shoke at the noyse of the woman.

27 And I looked, and beholde the woman appeared vnto me no more: but there was a citie buylded, & a place was shewed from the ground & foundation: Then was I afraide, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayde.

28 Where is Uriel the angell, * whiche came to me at the first? For he hath caused me to come in many considerations and hye thoughtes, and myne ende is turned to corruption, and my prayer to rebuke. iiii.Esd.iiii.a

29 And as I was speaking these wordes, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me:

30 And lo, I lay as one that had ben dead, and myne vnderstanding was altred: and he toke me by the right hande and comforted me, and set me vpon my feete, and sayde vnto me, 31 What ayleth thee? and why is thyne vnderstanding vexed, and the vnderstanding of thy heart? and wherefore art thou sory?

32 And I sayde: Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done * according vnto thy wordes, I went into the field, and there haue I seene thinges, and see that I am not able to expresse.

33 He sayde vnto me: Stande vp and be manly, & I shall geue thee exhortation.

34 Then sayde I: Speake on to me my Lorde, forsake me not, lest I dye thorowe my rashnesse:

35 For I haue seene that I knewe not, and heare that I do not knowe.

36 Or is my vnderstanding deceaued, or doth my soule dreame?

37 Nowe therefore I beseeche thee, that thou wylt shewe thy seruaunt of this wonder.

¶ 38 He aunswered me then and sayde: Heare me, and I shall enfourme thee and tell thee wherfore thou art afraide: for the hyest hath opened many secrete thinges vnto thee.

" Or, prosperous. 39 He hath seene that thy " way is right, for that thou takest sorowe continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 And therefore vnderstande the vision which thou sawest a litle whyle ago, after this maner.

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou begannest to comfort her.

42 Neuertheless, nowe seest thou the likenes of the womā no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie buylded:

43 And where she tolde thee of the fall of her sonne, so is this the solution of it.

44 This woman whom thou sawest, is Sion: and where as she tolde thee, euen she whom thou seest nowe as a citie buylded, 45 And as touching that she sayde vnto thee, that she hath ben thirtie yeres vnfruitefull and baren, those are the thirtie yeres wherein there was no offering made in her.

46 But after thirtie yeres Solomon buylded the citie, and offred offeringes: and then bare the baren a sonne.

47 And where as she tolde thee that she nourished hym with labour, that was the dwelling in Hierusalem.

48 But where as she tolde thee that her sonne dyed, as his chaunce was, when she came into her chaumber, that is the fall that is come to Hierusalem.

49 And beholde, when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her sonne, and begannest to comfort her: of these thinges whiche haue chaunced, these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For nowe the most hyghest seeth that thou art sory in thy minde, and suffrest from thy whole heart for her, and so hath he shewed thee her clearenesse, and the fayrenesse of her beautie. G

51 And therefore I bad thee remayne in the fielde, where no house was builded.

52 For I knewe that the highest would shewe this vnto thee:

53 Therfore I commaunded thee to go into the fielde, where no foundation nor buylding is.

54 For in the place where the highest beginneth to shewe his citie, there can no mans buylding be able to stande.

55 And therefore feare not, and let not thyne heart be afraide: but go thy way in, and see the beautie and greatnes of the buylding, as much as thyne eyes be able to see:

56 And then shalt thou heare as muche as thyne eares may comprehende.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many other, and art called with the highest, as the fewe.

58 But to morowe at night thou shalt remayne here:

59 And so shall the highest shewe thee visions of the hye thinges, which he wyll do vnto them that dwell vpon earth in the last dayes. So I slept ꝑ same night & another, like as he commaunded me.

The .xi. Chapter.

1 The vision of an Egle comming foorth of the sea, and of her fethers. 37 Of a Lion comming out of the forest.

¶ 1 When saw I a dreame, and beholde, there came vp from the sea an Egle, whiche had xij. fethered wynges and three heades:

2 And I sawe, and beholde she spread her wynges ouer all the earth, and al the wyndes of the ayre blew on her, & gathered them together.

3 And I beheelde, and out of her fethers there grew other contrary fethers, and they became litle fethers and small.

4 But her heades remayned styll, the head in the middest was greater then the other, yet rested it with the residue.

5 Moreouer I saw that the Egle flewe with her wynges, and raigned vpon earth, earth, and ouer all them that dwelt vpon the earth.

6 And I sawe that all thinges vnder heauen were subiect vnto her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpon earth.

Or, spake with feathers, or, wist.

7 I sawe also that the Egle stoode vp vpon her clawes, and "gaue a sounde with her fethers, and a voyce saying after this maner.

B 8 Watche not altogether, sleepe euery man in his owne place, and watche by course.

9 But let the heades be preserued for the last.

10 Neuertheless, I sawe that the voyce went not out of her heades, but from the myddest of her body.

11 And I numbred her contrary fethers, and beholde there were eyght of them.

12 And I loked, and beholde vpon the ryght syde there arose one fether, and raigned ouer all the earth.

13 And so it was, that when it raigned, the ende of it came, and the place therof appeared no more: So the next folowyng stoode vp and raigned, and had a great tyme.

C 14 And it happened that when it raigned, the ende of it came also lyke as the first, so that it appeared no more.

15 Then came there a voyce vnto it, and sayde:

16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long, this I say vnto thee before thou begynnest to appeare no more.

17 There shall none after thee attayne vnto thy tyme, neither vnto the halfe therof.

18 Then arose the thirde, and raigned as the other afore: and appeared no more also.

19 So went it with all the residue one after another, so that euery one raigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I loked, and beholde in processe of tyme the fethers that folowed stoode vp on the ryght syde, that they myght rule also, and some of them ruled: but within a whyle they appeared no more.

D 21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this I loked, and beholde the twelue fethers appeared no more, nor the two wynges:

23 And there was no more vpon the Egles body, but two heades that rested, and fire wynges.

24 Then sawe I also that two wynges deuided them selues from the fire, and remayned vnder the head that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I loked, and beholde the fethers that were vnder the wyng, thought to set vp them selues and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the seconde was sooner away then the first.

28 And I beheld, and lo the two that remayned, thought also in them selues to raigne:

29 And when they so thought, beholde there awaked one of the heades that were at rest, namely it that was in the myddest: for that was greater then the two other heades. E

30 And then I sawe that the two heades were ioyned with hym:

31 And the head was turned with them that were with hym, and dyd eate vp the two vnder wynges that woulde haue raigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer all those that dwelt vpon the earth with much labour: and he had the gouernaunce of the worlde ouer all the wynges that had ben.

33 After this I loked, and beholde the head that was in the myddest sodaynly appeared no more, lyke as the wynges.

34 But there remayned the two heades which ruled vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therin.

35 And I beheld, and lo the head vpon the ryght syde deuoured it that was vpon the left syde.

36 Then I hearde a voyce which sayde vnto me: loke before thee, and consider the thyng that thou seest. F

37 Then I sawe, and beholde as it were a lion that roareth runnyng hastyly out of the wood: and I sawe that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the Egle, and sayde:

38 Heare thou, I wyll talke with thee, and the hyest shall say vnto thee:

" Or, art not thou he that remayneth of the foure beastes.

39 "Is it not thou that hast the victorie of the foure beastes whom I made to raigne [vpon earth and] in my worlde, that the ende of their tymes myght come through them?

40 And

40 And the fourth came, and ouerrame all the beastes that were past, and had power ouer the worlde with great fearfulnesse, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicked oppression, and so long tyme dwelt he vpon the earth with deceipt.

41 For the earth hast thou not iudged with trueth.

42 For thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable [and quiet,] thou hast loued lyers, and destroyed the dwellinges of them that brought foorth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of such as dyd thee no harme.

43 Therfore is thy wrongfull dealyng [and blasphemie] come vp vnto the hyest, and thy pryde vnto the mightie.

44 The hyest also hath loked vpon the proude tymes, and beholde they are ended, and their abhominations are fulfylled.

45 And therfore appeare no more thou Egle, and thy horrible wynges, and thy wicked fethers, and thy vngratious heades, and thy sinnefull clawes, and all thy vayne body:

46 That the earth may be refreshed, [and come agayne to her selfe] when she is deliuered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgement and mercie of hym that made her.

The .xij. Chapter.

¶ The declaration of the former visions.

AND it happened when the Lion spake these wordes vnto the Egle, I sawe:

2 And beholde, the head that afore had the vpper hande, appeared no more: neither dyd the foure wynges appeare any more that came to hym and were set vp to raigne, and their kingdome was small and full of vprore.

3 And I sawe, and beholde they appeared no more, and the whole body of the Egle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare: Then awaked I out of the trouble and traunce of my mynde, and from great feare, and sayde vnto my spirite:

4 Lo, this hast thou geuen me, in that thou searchest out the wayes of the hyest.

5 Lo, yet am I weery in my mynde, and very weake in my spirite: and litle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receaued this nyght.

6 Therfore will I nowe beseche the hyest, that he will comfort me vnto the ende.

7 And I sayde: Lorde, Lorde, if I haue founde grace before thy syght, and yf I am iustified with thee before many other, and yf my prayer in deede be come vp before thy face:

8 Comfort me then, and shewe me thy seruaunt the interpretation and playne difference of this horrible syght, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soule:

9 For thou hast iudged me worthy to shewe me the last of tymes.

10 And he sayde vnto me, This is the interpretation of this syght:

11 The Egle whom thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the kingdome* which was seene in the vision of thy brother Daniel: *Dan.vii.c.

12 But it was not expounded vnto hym, therfore nowe I declare it vnto thee.

13 Beholde the dayes will come, that there shall rise vp a kyngdome vpon earth, and it shalbe feared aboue all the kyngdomes that were before it.

14 In* the same kyngdome shall twelue kynges raigne, one after another. *Dan.vii.f.

15 Wherof the seconde shall begynne to raigne, and shall haue more tyme then the other twelue.

16 And this do the twelue wynges signifie which thou sawest.

17 As for the voyce that thou heardest speake, and that thou sawest not to go out frō the heades, but from the middes of the body therof, it betokeneth, ¶

18 That after the tyme of that kingdome, there shall arise great striuinges, and it shall stande in perill of fallyng: neuertheless it shall not then fall, but shalbe restored agayne into his begynnyng.

19 And the eyght fethers vnder the wynges which thou sawest hang vnto her wynges, betoken, 20 That in hym there shall arise eyght kynges, whose tyme shalbe but small, and their yeres swift, and two of them shall perishe.

21 But

21 But when the middest tyme commeth, there shalbe foure kept for a tyme, whyles " his tyme begynneth to come that it may be ended: but two shalbe kept vnto the ende.

" Or, the tyme be ended.

22 And wheras thou sawest three heades restyng, this is the interpretation:

D 23 In his last dayes shall the most hygh rayse vp three kyngdomes, and call many thinges agayne in to them, & they shall haue the dominion of the earth, 24 And of those that dwell therin, with much " labour aboue all those that were before them: Therfore are they called the heades of the Egle.

" Or, grete.

25 For it is they that shall " bryng foorth his wickednesse agayne, and that shall perfourme and finishe his last.

" Or, accuse for his wickednesse.

26 And wheras thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth, that one of them shall dye vpon his bed, and yet with payne.

27 For the two that remayne, shalbe slayne with the sworde.

28 For the sworde of the one shall deuour the other: but at the last shall he fall through the sworde hym selfe.

29 And wheras thou sawest two fethers vnder the wynges passyng toward the head that is on the ryght syde, 30 It signifieth, that it is they whom the hyest hath kept vnto their ende: this is the small kyngdome, and full of trouble as thou sawest.

31 And the Lion whom thou sawest rysyng vp out of the wood, and roaryng, and speakyng vnto the Egle, and rebukyng her for her vnrighteousnesse, with all the wordes which thou hast harde, E 32 Is the wynde which the hyest hath kept for them, and for their wickednesse vnto the ende: he shall reproue them, & cast before them their owne spoylinges.

33 For he shall set them alyue in iudgement, and shal rebuke them, and correct them.

34 For the residue of my people shall he delyuer by trouble those that be preserued vpon my borders, and he shall make them ioyfull vntyll the commyng of the day of iudgement, wherof I haue spoken vnto thee from the begynnyng.

35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.

36 Thou only hast ben meete to knowe this secrete of the hyest.

37 Therfore write all these thynges that thou hast seene in a booke, & hyde them, 38 And teache them to the wise of the people, whose heartes thou knowest may comprehende & kepe these secretes.

39 But wayte thou here thy selfe yet seuen dayes mo, that it may be shewed thee whatsoeuer it pleaseth the hyest to declare vnto thee. And with that he went his way.

40 And when all the people perceaued F that the seuen dayes were past, and I not come agayne into the citie, they gathered them altogether from the least vnto the most, and came vnto me, and sayde:

41 What haue we offended thee? & what euyll haue we done agaynst thee, that thou forsakest vs and sittest here in this place?

42 For of all the people thou only art left vs, as a grape of the vine, & as a candell in a darke place, and as an hauen or ship preserued from the tempest.

43 Haue we not els aduersitie inough?

44 If thou shalt forsake vs, were it not better for vs that we had ben burnt with Sion?

45 For we are not better then they that dyed there. And they wept with loude voyce. Then aunswered I them, & said:

46 Be of good comfort O Israel, and be not heauy thou house of Jacob.

47 For the hyest hath you in remembraunce, and the mightie hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, G neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place to pray because of the miserie of Israel, that I myght seeke mercie for the lowe estate of your sanctuarie.

49 And nowe go your way home euery man, and after these dayes will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, lyke as I commaunded them:

51 But I remayned styll in the fielde seuen dayes, as the " angell bad me, and dyd eate only of the floures of the fielde, and had my meate of the hearbes in those dayes.

" Or, he.

The .xiij. Chapter.

2 The vision of a wynde commyng fourth of the sea, 3 which became a man.
5 His propertie & power agaynst his enemies. 21 The declaration of this vision.

A 1 AND after the seuen dayes I dreamed a dreame by nyght:

2 And beholde there arose a wynde from the sea, that it moued all the waues therof.

3 And I loked, and beholde there was a strong man with the thousandes of heauen: and when he turned his countenaunce to loke, all the thynges trembled that were seene vnder hym:

4 And when the voyce went out of his mouth, all they burnt that heard his voyce, lyke as the earth fayleth when it feeleth the fire.

5 After these I sawe, and beholde there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number from the foure wyndes of the heauen, to fyght agaynst the man that came out of the sea.

6 And I loked, and beholde he grawed hym selfe a great mountayne, and flewe vp vpon it.

7 But I woulde haue seene the region or place wherout the hyll was grauen, and I coulde not.

8 I sawe after these, that all they which came to fyght agaynst hym, were sore afraide: and yet durst they fyght.

9 Neuertheless, when he sawe the fiercenesse and violence of the people that came, he neither lyft vp his hande, "nor held sworde, nor any weapon:

" Or, for he held no sword nor any instrument of warre.

10 But only as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth as it had ben a blast of fire, and out of his lippes the wynde of the flambe, and out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and stormes.

11 And they were all mixt together: the blast of fire, the wynde of the flambes, and the great storme: and fell with "a ruine vpon the people which was prepared to fight, and burnt them vp euery one, so that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing seene but only dust and smell of smoke: when I sawe this, I was afraide.

" Or, violence.

B 12 Afterwarde sawe I the same man come downe from the mountayne, and callyng vnto hym another peaceable "people.

" Or, multitude.

13 And there came much people vnto hym, some were glad, some were sorye, some of them were bounde, and other some brought of them that were offered: Then was I sicke through great feare, and I awaked, and sayde:

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruaunt these wonders from the begynnyng, and hast counted me worthy that thou myghtest receaue my prayer:

15 Shewe me nowe yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I consider in my vnderstandyng: Wo vnto them that shalbe left in those dayes, and much more wo vnto them that are not left behynde:

17 For they that were not left, were in heauinesse.

18 Nowe vnderstande I the thynges that are layde vp in the latter dayes, which shall happen vnto them, and to those that are left behynde.

19 Therfore are they come into great perilles and many necessities, like as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easyer that he which is in C daunger, fall [into these] and nowe to see that which shall chaunce hereafter, then to passe out of this worlde as a cloude. Then aunswered he me, and sayde:

21 The interpretation of the fyght shall I shewe thee, and I wyll open vnto thee the thyng that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behynde, this is the interpretation.

23 He that beareth the perll in that tyme, hath kept him selfe: They that be fallen into daunger, are such as haue workes and fayth vnto the most mightie.

24 Knowe this therfore, that they which be left behynde, are more blessed then they that be dead.

25 "This is the meanyng of the vision: Whereas thou sawest a man commyng vp from the "deepe of the sea,

" Or, these are the meanings.

" Or, myddest.

26 The same is he whom God the hyest hath kept a great season, which by his owne selfe shall deliuer his creature, and he shall order them that are left behynde.

27 And whereas thou sawest that out of his mouth there came as a blast of wynde, wynde, fire, and stozme:

28 And howe that he lift vp neither swozd noz weapon, but that the "rushyng in of hym destroyed the whole multitude that came to fight agaynst hym: it signifieth,
29 That the dayes come, when the most hyest wyll begyn to deliuer them that are vpon earth, 30 And "in a traunce of mynde shall he come vpon them that dwel in the earth.
31 And one shall vndertake to fyght agaynst another: one citie agaynst another, one place agaynst another, *one people agaynst another, and one realme agaynst another.
32 When this commeth to passe, then shall the tokens come that I shewed thee before, and then shall my sonne be "declared whom thou sawest clymbe vp as a man.
33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shall in their owne lande leaue the battayle that they haue one agaynst another:
34 And an innumerable multitude shalbe gathered together, as they that be wyllyng to come, and to ouercome hym by fyghtyng.
35 But he shall stande vpon the toppe of the mount Sion.
36 And Sion shall come, & shalbe shewed to all men, beyng prepared and builded, lyke as thou sawest the hyll grauen foozth without any handes.
37 And this my sonne shall rebuke those nations which are fallen into the tempest, foz their wickednesse and euyll imaginations, 38 And into tozmentes lyke to flambe, wherwith they shalbe punished: and without any labour shall he destroy them, euen by the lawe, which is compared vnto the fire.
39 And wheras thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable people vnto hym:
40 Those are the ten tribes which were caryed away prisoners out of their owne lande *in the tyme of Oseas the kyng, whom Salmanasar the kyng of Assyria toke prisoner: and caryed them "ouer the water, and so came they into another lande.
41 But they toke this counsayle among themselues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and to go foozth into a farther countrey, where neuer mankynde dwelt:
42 That they myght there kepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne lande.
43 And so they entred in at the narowe passages of the ryuer of Euphrates.
44 Foz the most hyghest then shewed tokens foz them, *and helde styll the fludde tyll they were passed ouer.
45 Foz through the countrey there was a great way, namely of a yere & a halfe iourney: and the same region is called Arsareth.
46 Then dwelt they there vntyll the latter tyme: and when they come foozth agayne, 47 The hyest shall holde stil the springes of the streame agayne, that they may go through: therfoze sawest thou the multitude with peace.
48 But they that be left behynde of thy people, are those that are founde within my bozders.
49 Nowe when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defende his people that remayne:
50 And then shall he shewe them great wonders.
51 Then said I: O Lozde, Lozde, shewe me this, wherfoze haue I seene the man commyng vp from the "deepe of the sea.
52 And he sayde vnto me: Lyke as thou canst neither seeke out noz knowe these thynges that are in the deepe of the sea: euen so can no man vpon earth see my sonne, oz those that be with hym, but in the tyme of "the day.
53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, & wherby thou only art here lyghtned:
54 Foz thou hast forsaken thine owne lawe, and applied thy diligence vnto myne, and sought it.
55 *Thy lyfe hast thou ordered in wisdome, and *hast called vnderstandyng thy mother:
56 And therfoze haue I shewed thee the treasures of the hyest. After other three dayes I wyll shewe thee moze, & talke with thee moze at large, yea heauy and wonderous thynges wyll I declare vnto thee.
57 Then went I foozth into the fielde, geuyng prayse & thankes greatly vnto God,

God, because of his wonders which he dyd in tyme,
58 And because he gouerneth the same, and such thinges as fall in their seasons, and there I sate three dayes.

The .xiiij. Chapter.

3 Howe God appeared to Moyses in the bushe. 10 All thynges decline to age. 16 The latter age worse then the former. 29 The ingratitude of Israel. 35 The resurrection and iudgement.

A 1 Upon the thirde day I sate vnder an oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me out of the bushe, and sayde: Esdras, Esdras.
2 And I sayde, Here am I Lorde: and stoode vp vpon my feete.
Exod.iii.a. 3 Then saide he vnto me: *In the bushe did I appeare vnto Moyses, and talked with hym when my people serued in Egypt,
4 And I sent hym, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought hym vp to the mount Sina, where I helde hym by me a long season:
5 And tolde hym many wonderous workes, and shewed hym the secretes of the tymes and the ende, and commaunded hym, saying:
6 These wordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hyde.
7 And nowe I say vnto thee,
8 That thou lay vp in thine heart the signes that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretations which thou hast heard.
9 For thou shalt be taken away from among all, and hencefoorth thou shalt remayne with my counsayle and with such as be like thee, vntyll the tymes be ended.
B 10 For the worlde hath lost his youth, and the tymes begynne to waxe olde.
11 For the worlde is deuided into twelue partes, and tenne partes of it are gone alredy, and halfe of a tenth part:
12 And there remayneth there that which
* Or, that. is after the halfe of * the tenth part.
13 Therfore set thine house in order, and reforme thy people, comfort such of them as be in trouble, and nowe renounce corruption, 14 Let go from thee mortall thoughtes, cast away the burthens of men, put of the weake nature.
15 And set aside the thoughtes that are most heauy vnto thee, and haste thee to flee from these tymes:
16 For as for such euyll [and wickednesse] as thou hast nowe seene happen, they shall do yet much worse.
17 *For the weaker that the worlde is by reason of age, the more shall euils increase vpon them that dwell therin. Mat.24.a. i.Ioh.ii.c.
18 For the trueth is fled farre away, and leasyng is hearde at hande: For nowe hasteth the vision to come that thou hast seene.
19 Then aunswered I before thee, and sayde:
20 Beholde Lorde, I wyll go as thou hast commaunded me, and reforme the people which are present: but they that shalbe borne afterwarde, who will admonishe them? Thus the worlde is set in darknesse, and they that dwell therin are without lyght. C
21 For thy lawe is burnt, therfore no man knoweth the thynges that are done of thee, or the workes that shalbe done.
22 But yf I haue founde grace before thee, sende the holy ghost into me, and I shall write all that hath ben done in the worlde since the begynnyng, which was written in thy lawe, that men may finde the path, and that they which will lyue in the latter dayes, may lyue.
23 And he aunswered me, saying: Go thy way, gather the people together, and say vnto them that they seke thee not for fourtie dayes.
24 But loke thou gather thee many bore trees, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus, and Asiel, these fyue, which are redy to write swiftly:
25 And come hyther, and I shall lyght a candel of vnderstandyng in thine heart, which shall not be put out till ỹ thinges be perfourmed which thou shalt begyn to write.
26 And then shalt thou declare some thynges openly vnto the perfect, and some thynges shalt thou shewe secretly vnto the wise: To morowe this houre shalt shalt thou begyn to write.

27 Then went I foorth as he commaunded me, and gathered all the people together, and sayde, 28 Heare these wordes O Israel:
D 29 Our fathers at the begynnyng were straungers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered, 30 And receaued the lawe of lyfe, *which they kept not, which ye also haue transgressed after them. Deu.iiij.d.
31 Then was the lande, euen the lande of Sion parted among you by lot [to possesse]: But your fathers, and ye your selues also haue done vnrighteousnesse, and haue not kept the wayes which the hyest commaunded you:
32 And for so much as he is a righteous iudge, he toke from you in tyme the thyng that he had geuen you.
33 And nowe are ye here, and your brethren among you.
34 Therfore, yf so be that ye wyll subdue your owne vnderstandyng, & refourme your heart, ye shalbe kept alyue, and after death shall ye obteyne mercie.
& 35 For after death shall the iudgement come when we shall liue agayne: & then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the workes of the vngodly shalbe declared.
36 Let no man therfore come nowe vnto me, nor seke after me these fourtie dayes.
37 So I toke the fyue men as he commaunded me, and we went into the fielde, and remayned there.
38 The next day a voyce called me, saying: Esdras, *open thy mouth, and drynke that I geue thee to drynke. Ezec.iii.a. Apoc.x.b.
39 Then opened I my mouth, and beholde he reached me a full cuppe, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was lyke fire.
40 And I toke it and dranke: And when I had dronken it, my heart had vnderstandyng, and wisdome grewe in my brest: for my spirite was strenthened in remembraunce, F
41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.
42 The hyest gaue vnderstandyng vnto the fyue men, that they wrote the hye thynges of the nyght which they vnderstoode not.
43 But in the nyght they dyd eate bread: as for me I spake in the day, and helde not my tongue by nyght.
44 In fourtie dayes, they wrote two hundred and foure bookes.
45 And it came to passe when the fourtie dayes were fulfylled, that the hyest spake, saying: The first that thou hast written, publishe openly, that the worthy and vnworthy may reade it:
46 But kepe the seuentie last, that thou mayest deliuer them only to such as be wise among thy people.
47 For in them is the spring of vnderstandyng, the fountayne of wisdome, and the streame of knowledge.
48 And I dyd so.

The .xv. Chapter.

1 The prophecie of Esdras is certayne. 5 The euils that shall come on the worlde. 9 The Lord wyll auenge the innocent blood. 12 Egypt shall lament. 16 Sedition, 20 and punishment vpon the kynges of the earth. 24 Cursed are they that sinne. 29 Troubles & warres vpon the whole earth. 53 God is the reuenger of his elect.

A 1 Beholde, speake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of prophecie which I wyll put in thy mouth, sayth the Lorde,
2 And cause them to be written in a letter: for it is the trueth.
3 Feare not the imaginations agaynst thee, Let not the vnfaythfulnesse of them trouble thee that speake agaynst thee:
4 For all the vnfaythfull, shall dye in their vnfaythfulnesse.
5 Beholde (saith the Lorde) I will bring plagues vpon the worlde, the sworde, hunger, death, and destruction:
6 For Wickednesse hath the vpper hande in all the earth, and their shamefull workes are fulfylled:
7 Therfore sayth the Lorde,
8 I wyll holde my tongue no more of their Wickednesse which they do so vngodly, neither wyll I suffer them in the thynges that they deale withall so Wickedly: Beholde, *the innocent and ryghteous blood cryeth vnto me, and the soules of the iust complaine continually: Apoc. vi.b. and xix.a.
9 And therfore sayth the Lorde, I wyll surely auenge, and receaue vnto me all the the innocent blood from among them.

Pſa.xliii.c. Rom.viii.c. i.Cor.iii.b.

10 *Beholde my people is led as a flocke of sheepe to be slayne, I wyll not suffer them nowe to dwell in the lande of Egypt:

11 But wyll bryng them out with a mighty hande and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore, and wyll destroy all the lande of it.

B 12 Egypt shall mourne, and the foundations of it shalbe smitten, with the plague and punishment that God shall bryng vpon it.

13 They that tyll the grounde shall mourne, for their seedes shalbe destroyed through the blastyng and hayle, and by an horrible starre.

14 Wo worth the worlde, and them that dwell therin:

15 For the sworde and their destruction draweth nye, and one people shal stande vp to fyght agaynst another, & swordes in their handes.

n Or, for there shalbe seditions among men.

16 "For men shalbe vnstedfast, and some shall do violence vnto other, they shall not regarde their kyng, and the princes shall measure the way of their doinges by their power.

17 A man shall desire to go into a citie, and shall not be able.

18 For because of their pride the cities shalbe troubled, the houses shall trembie, and men shalbe afrayde.

19 A man shall haue no pitie vpon his neyghbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoyle their goodes because of the "hunger of bread, and because of the great trouble.

o Or, lacke.

C 20 Beholde, sayth God, I call together all the kynges of the earth to reuerence me, which are from the "vprysyng, from the south, from the east, and Libanus, to turne vpon them, and restore the thynges that they haue done to them:

p Or, west.

21 Lyke as they do yet this day vnto my chosen, so wyll I do also, and recompence them in their bosome: Thus saith the Lorde God.

22 My ryght hande shall not spare the sinners, and my sworde shall not ceasse ouer them that shed the innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, & hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners lyke the strawe that is kyndled.

24 Wo worth them that sinne, and kepe not my commaundementes, sayth the Lorde.

25 I wyll not spare them: Go your way ye children from the power, defile not my sanctuarie:

26 For the Lorde knoweth all them that sinne agaynst him, & therfore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

27 For nowe are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye shall remayne in them: For God shall not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned agaynst hym.

28 Beholde an horrible vision commeth from the east,

29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shal come out with many charettes, & the multitude of them shalbe caryed as the wynde vpon earth, that all they which heare them may feare & tremble,

30 Euen the Carmanies raging in wrath D shall go forth as the wylde boores of the forrest, and with great power shall they come and stande fyghtyng with them, and shall waste a portion of the lande of the Assyrians.

31 And then shall the dragons haue the vpper hande, and remembryng their nature, shall turne about, conspiryng together in great power to persecute thē.

32 Then these shalbe troubled, and kepe silence in their power, and shall flee:

33 And from the lande of the Assyrians shall the enemie besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their hoast shalbe feare and dread, and strife among their kynges.

34 Beholde cloudes from the east, and from the north vnto the south, and they are very horrible to loke vpon, full of wrath and storme:

35 They shall smite one vpon another, and they shal smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blood shalbe from the sworde vnto the belly,

36 And the doung of man vnto the Camels litter,

37 And there shalbe great fearfulnesse and tremblyng vpon earth: and they that see the wrath shalbe afraide, and a tremblyng shall come vpon them:

38 And then shal there come great raynes from the south, and from the north, and part from the west:

39 And strong wyndes shall aryse from the east, and shall open it, and the cloude which he rayled vp in wrath, and the starre starre stirred to cause feare towarde the east and West wind shalbe destroyed:

40 The great cloudes shalbe lift vp, and the mightie cloudes full of Wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth afrayde and them that dwell therin, and that they may powre out ouer euery high place an horrible starre, 41 Fire, and hayle, and fleing swordes, and many waters: that all fieldes may be full, and all riuers with the abounG daunce of great waters.

42 And they shal breake downe the cities, and walles, mountaynes, and hilles, trees of the wood, and the grasse of the medowes, and all their corne.

43 And they shall go stedfast vnto Babylon, and make her afrayde.

44 They shall come to her and beseige her, the "starre and all Wrath shall they powre out vpon her, then shall the dust and smoke go vp vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her shall bewayle her:

45 And they that remayne vnder her, shal do seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.

46 And thou Asia that comfortest thy selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and art the glorie of her person:

47 Wo be vnto thee thou Wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, and hast decked thy daughters in whordome, that they might "triumphe and please thy louers which haue alway desired to commit whordome with thee.

48 Thou hast followed the abominable citie in all her workes and inuentions: therfore sayth God,

49 I will sende plagues vpon thee, widdowhood, pouertie, hunger, warres, & pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death,

50 And the glorie of thy power shalbe dried vp as a floure, whē the heate riseth that is sent "ouer thee:

51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women: so that the mightie and louers shall not be able to receaue thee.

52 Would I so hate thee, sayth the Lord,

53 If thou haddest not alway slayne my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy handes, and sayde ouer their death when thou wast drunken,

54 Set foorth the beautie of thy countenaunce:

55 The rewarde of thy whordome shalbe recompenced thee in thy bosome, therfore shalt thou receaue rewarde.

56 Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen, sayth the Lord: euen so shal God do vnto thee, and shall deliuer thee into the plague.

57 Thy children shall dye of hunger, and thou shalt fall through the sworde: Thy cities shalbe broken downe, and al thyne shal perishe with the sword in the fielde.

58 They that be in the mountaynes shall dye of hunger, and eate their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood for very hunger of bread and thirst of water.

59 Thou as vnhappie shalt come through the sea, and receaue plagues againe.

60 In the passage they shall cast downe the slayne citie, and shall roote out one part of thy lande, and consume the portion of thy glorie, and shal returne to her that was destroyed.

61 They shal treade thee downe like stubble, and they shalbe thy fire, 62 And shall consume thee, thy cities, and thy lande, and thy mountaynes, all thy woodes and thy fruitefull trees shall they burne vp with the fire.

63 Thy children shall they cary away captiue: and loke what thou hast, they shall spoyle it, and marre the beautie of thy face.

The. xvi. Chapter.

1 Against Babylon, Asia, Egypt, and Syria. 18.38. Of the euils that shal come vpon the world, with admonition how to gouerne them selues in afflictions. 54 To acknowledge their sinnes, and to commit them selues to the Lorde, 55 whose mightie prouidence and iustice is to be reuerenced.

A

1 WO be vnto thee Babylon and Asia, wo be vnto thee Egypt & Syria: Girde your selues with clothes of sacke and heare, & mourne your children, be sory: for your destruction is at hande.

2 A sword is sent vpon you, and who will turne it backe?

3 A sword is sent vpon you, and who will turne it backe?

4 A fire is sent among you, and who will quench it?

5 Plagues are sent vnto you, and what is he that will driue them away?

6 May any man driue away an hungry lion in the wood? Or may any man quench the fire in stubble when it hath begunne to burne?

B 7 May one turne againe the arrowe that is shot of a strong archer?

8 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, & what is he that wil driue them away?

9 The fire is kindled and gone foorth in his wrath, and what is he that may quench it?

10 He shal cast lightninges, and who shal not feare? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afrayde?

11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shal not vtterly be beaten to powder at his presence?

12 The earth quaketh and the foundations therof, the sea ariseth vp with waues from the deepe, and the waues of it are vnquiete, and the fishes therof also before the Lorde, and before the glorie of his power:

13 For strong is his right hande that bendeth the bowe, his arrowes that he shooteth are sharpe, and shall not misse when they begin to be shot into the endes of the worlde.

14 Behold the plagues are sent, & shall not
C turne againe till they come vpon earth.

15 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out till it consume the foundations of the earth.

16 Like as an arrowe whiche is shot of a mightie archer returneth not backward: euen so the plagues that shall be sent vpon the earth, shall not turne againe.

17 Wo is me, wo is me, who will deliuer me in those dayes?

18 The beginning of sorowes and great mourning, the beginning of dearth and great death, the beginning of warres, and the powers shall stande in feare, the beginning of euils, and they shall tremble euery one.

19 What shal I do in these thinges, when the plagues come?

20 Behold, hunger and plague, trouble and anguishe, are sent as scourges for amendement:

21 But for all these thinges they shall not turne from their wickednesse, nor be alway mindefull of the scourges.

22 Behold, bittayles shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shall thinke them selues to be in good case: and euen then shall mischiefe growe vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great "disquietnes.

23 For many of them that dwell vpon earth shall perishe of hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy:

" Or, confusion.

24 And the dead shalbe cast out as doung, and there shalbe no man to comfort them: For the earth shalbe wasted, and the cities shalbe cast downe.

25 There shalbe no man left to till the earth, and to sowe it.

26 The trees shall geue fruite, and who shall plucke them of and gather them?

27 The grapes shalbe ripe, and who shall treade them? For all places shalbe desolate of men:

28 So that one man shall desire to see another, or to heare his voyce.

29 For of one whole citie there shall be ten left, and two of the fielde whiche shall hyde them selues in the thycke "busshes, and in the cliftes of stones.

" Or, woods

30 Like as when there remayne three or foure olives in the place were olives growe, or among other trees,

31 Or as when a vineyarde is gathered there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought through the vineyard:

32 Euen so in those dayes there shalbe three of foure left by them that searth their houses with the sworde.

33 And the earth shalbe left waste, and the fieldes thereof shall ware olde, and her wayes and all her pathes shall growe full of thornes, because no man shall trauayle uayle there through.

34 The virgins shall mourne hauing no bridegromes, the women shall make lamentation hauing no husbandes, their daughters shal mourne hauing no helpers.
35 In the warres shall their bridegromes be destroyed, & their husbandes shall perish of hunger.
36 But ye seruauntes of the Lord, heare these thinges, and marke them.
37 Behold the worde of the Lorde, O receaue it: beleue not the gods of whom the Lorde spake, 38 Behold the plagues drawe nie, and are not slacke in tarying.
39 Like as a trauayling woman whiche in the nynth moneth bringeth foorth a sonne, when the houre of the byrth is come, an houre two or three afore that, the paynes come vpon her body, & when the childe commeth to the byrth they tary not the twinckling of an eye:
40 Euen so shall not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the worlde shall mourne, and sorowes shall come vpon it on euery side.
41 O my people, heare my worde, make you redy to the battayl, and in al euill be euen as pilgrimes vpon earth.
42 *He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth his way: and he that bieth, as one that will leese. i.Cor.vii.d.
43 Who so occupieth marchaundise, as he that winneth not: and he that buyldeth, as he that shall not dwell therin, 44 He that soweth, as one that shall not reape, he that cutteth the vineyarde, as he that shall not gather the grapes:
45 They that mary, as they that shall get no children: and they that mary not, as the widdowes.
46 And therfore *they that labour, labour in vayne. Psal.127.a. Prou.c. Eccle.xi.b.
47 For straungers shall reape their fruites, and spoyle their goodes, ouerthrough their houses, and take their children captiue: for in captiuitie and hunger shall they get children.
48 And they that occupie their marchaundise with robberie, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their owne persons,
49 The more will I punishe them for their sinnes, sayth the Lorde.
50 Like as an whore enuieth an honest and vertuous woman:
51 So shal righteousnesse hate iniquitie when she decketh her selfe, and shall accuse her to her face when he commeth that shall iudge the auctour of all sinne vpon earth.
52 And therfore be not ye like therevnto, nor to the workes therof:
53 For or euer it be long iniquite shalbe taken away out of the earth, and righteousnesse shall raigne among you.
54 Let not the sinner say, that he hath not sinned: for coles of fire shall burne vpon his head which sayth, Before the Lord God and his glorie I haue not sinned.
55 Beholde, the Lorde knoweth all the workes of men, their imaginations, their thoughtes, and their heartes.
56 * For he spake but the worde, Let the earth be made, and it was made, Let the heauen be made, and it was created. Gen.i.a.
57 In his worde were the starres made, Psal.146.a.
*and he knoweth the number of them.
58 He searcheth the grounde of the deepe and the treasures therof, he hath measured the sea, and what it conteyneth.
59 He hath shut the sea in the middest of the waters, and with his worde hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.
60 He spreadeth out the heauen like a vaut, vpon the waters hath he founded it:
61 In the desert and drye wildernesse hath he made springes of water, and pooles vpon the top of the mountaynes, that the fluddes might poure downe from the stony rockes, to water the earth.
62 He made man, and put his heart in the middes of the body, & gaue him breath, life, and vnderstanding.
63 Yea and the spirite of the almightie God which made all thinges, and hath searched the ground of al the secretes of the earth.
64 He knoweth your imaginations and inuentions, and what ye thincke when ye sinne and woulde hyde your sinnes.
65 Therfore hath the Lorde searched and sought out all your workes, and he shall bewray you all:
66 And when your sinnes are brought foorth, ye shalbe ashamed before men, and your owne sinne shalbe your accusers in that day.
67 What will ye do? Or how will ye hyde your sinnes before God and his angels?
68 Behold, God him selfe is ỹ iudge, feare him: leaue of from your sinnes, and forget your vnrighteousnesses, and meddle no more with them: so shall God leade you forth, and deliuer you from al trouble.

69 For beholde, the heate of a great multitude is kindled ouer you, and they shal take away certayne of you, and shal slay for meate to the idols:

70 And they that consent vnto them, shalbe had in derision, laughed to scorne, and troden vnder foote.

71 For there shalbe in euery place, and in the next cities a great insurrection vpon those that feare the Lorde.

72 They shall be like mad men, they shal spare no man, they shall spoyle and waste such as yet feare the Lorde:

73 For their goods shall they take from them, and shut them out of their houses.

74 Then shall it be knowen who are my chosen, and they shalbe tryed as the golde in the fire.

75 Heare O ye my beloued, sayth the Lorde: behold, the dayes of trouble are at hande, but I will deliuer you from the same.

76 Be not ye afrayde, dispaire not: for God is your captayne.

77 Who so kepeth my commaundementes and preceptes sayth the Lorde God, let not your sinnes waygh you downe, and let not your vnrighteousnesse be lift vp.

78 Wo be vnto them that are bound with their sinnes, and couered with their wickednesse, lyke as a fielde is hedged in with bushes, and the path therof couered with thornes that no man may trauayle through: it is shut vp, and is cast into the fire for euer to be consumed therewith.

The ende of the fourth booke of Esdras.

The booke of Tobias.

The firste Chapter.

1 Tobias parentage. 3 His goodnes. 6 His equitie. 8 His charitie and prosperitie.
23 He fleeth and his goodes are confiscate, 25 and after restored.

A 1 TObias was of the tribe & citie of Nepthali, which lyeth in the hye countreys of Galilee aboue Naasson, beside ỹ way that leadeth to the west, hauyng the citie of Sephet vpon the left side.

2 Though he was taken prisoner in the dayes of Salmanasar king of the Assyrians, neuertheless beyng in captiuitie, he forsoke not the way of trueth:

3 In so much that whatsoeuer he might get, he parted it dayly with his felowe prisoners and brethren that were of his kinred.

4 And though he were younger then al in the tribe of Nephthali, yet did not he behaue him selfe childyshly in his workes.

5 And when all the other went to the golden calues whiche Jeroboam the king of Israel had made, he alone fled al their companies,

6 And gat him to Hierusalem vnto the temple of the Lorde, and there worshipped the Lord God of Israel, faythfully offering of al his first fruites and tithes:

B 7 So that in the thirde yere, he ministred all the tithes vnto the straungers and conuertes.

8 These and such like thinges dyd he obserue according to the law of God when he was yet but young.

9 But when he was a man, he toke out of his owne tribe a wyfe called Anna: and of her he begat a sonne, whom he called after his owne name,

10 And taught him from his youth vp to feare God, and to refrayne from al sinne,

11 Now when he with his wife, his sonne, and with all his kinred, was come in captiuitie vnto the citie of Ninive, 12 What time as they all dyd eate of the meates of the heathen: he kept his soule, and was neuer defiled in their meates.

13 And for so much as he was mindeful of the Lorde in all his heart, God gaue him fauour in the sight of Salmanasar the king, C

14 Which gaue him power to go where he woulde, and so had he liberte to do whatsoeuer he woulde.

15 So went Tobias vnto all them that were in captiuitie [and comforted them] and gaue them wholsome exhortations.

16 And when he came to Rages a citie of the Medes, hauing ten talentes of siluer (of the thinges wherewith the king had honoured him)

17 And sawe among a great companie of people of his kinred, one Gabelus which was of his owne tribe, beyng in necessite, he gaue hym the sayde wayght of siluer vnder an hande Writyng.

18 After a long season, when Salmanasar the kyng was dead, and Sennacherib his sonne raigned in his steade, which hated the children of Israel:

19 Tobias went dayly throughout all his kinrede, and comforted them, and gaue of his goods to euery one of them as much as he might.

20 He fed the hungry, clothed the naked, and buried the dead and slayne, and that diligently. D

21 And when Sennacherib the king came agayne and fled out of Jurie (what time as god punished him for his blasphemie) & in his wrath slue many of the children of Israel: Tobias buried their bodies.

22 But when it was told the king, he commaunded to slay him, and toke away all his goodes.

23 Neuertheless, Tobias with his sonne and with his wyfe, fled his way naked, and was hyd: for there were many that loued hym.

24 But after fourtie and fiue dayes the king was slayne of his owne sonnes:

25 Then came Tobias againe to his house, and all his goodes were restored vnto him.

The. ii. Chapter.

1 Tobias calleth the faythfull to his table. 3 He leaueth the feast to burie the dead. 10 Howe he became blind. 13 His wife laboureth for his liuing. 16 She reprocheth hym bitterly.

AFter those thinges, vpon a solempne day of the Lorde, Tobias made a good feast in his house,

2 And sayde vnto his sonne: Go thy way, & bring hyther some of our tribe, suche as feare God, that they may make mery with vs.

3 And when he was gone, he came againe, and told his father that one of the children of Israel lay slayne vpon the streete.

4 And immediatly he leapt from his table, left the feast, came fasting to the dead coarse, toke hym and bare him priuyly into his house, that when the sunne was downe he might safely burie him.

5 And when he had hyd the coarse, he did eate his meate with mourning and feare,

6 Remembring the wordes that the Lord sayde by the *prophete Amos: Your hye feastes shalbe turned to sorowe and heauinesse.

Amos. viii. c

7 But when the sunne was downe, he went his way and buried him.

* Or, his next of kinne.

8 Then al his *neyghbours reproued him, saying: It is not long sence it was commaunded to slay thee because of this matter, and hast scarce escaped the daunger of death: and buriest thou the dead againe?

9 Neuertheless, Tobias fearing God more then the king, toke the bodies of the slayne, and hyd them in his house, and buried them at midnights.

10 It happened vpon a day that he had buried the dead and was weery, came home and layed him downe by the wal, and slept.

11 And whyle he was aslepe, there fell downe vpon his eyes warme doung out of the swalloes nest, so that he was blinde.

12 This temptation dyd God suffer to happen vnto him, that they which came after, might haue an example of his patience, like as of holy Job.

13 For in so much as he euer feared God from his youth vp, and kept his commaundementes, he grudged not against God that the plague of blindnesse chaunced vnto hym:

14 But remayned stedfast in the feare of God, and thanked God all the dayes of his lyfe.

15 For

15 For like as blessed Job was had in derision of kinges: euen so was he laughed to scorne of his elders and kinsfolkes, which sayde vnto him:
16 Where is thy hope, for the whiche thou hast done almes and buried the dead?
17 But Tobias rebuked them, and spake: Say not so,
19 For we are the children of holy men, and loke for the lyfe whiche God shall geue vnto them that neuer turne their beleefe from him.
19 And Anna his wyfe went dayly to the weauing worke:
20 And loke what liuing she coulde get with the labour of her handes, she brought it. And it happened that she toke a byd, and brought it home:
21 And when her husband hearde it crye, he sayde, Loke that it be not stollen: restore it againe to the owners, for it is not lawfull for vs to eate or to touch any thing of theft. D
22 Then was his wyfe angry, and sayde: Nowe is thy hope become vayne openly, and thy almes deedes are manifest.
23 With these and such like wordes did she cast him in the teeth.

The .iii. Chapter.

3 The prayer of Tobias. 7 Sara Raguels daughter, and the thinges that came vnto her. 12 Her prayer hearde. 19 The angell Raphael sent.

A 1 Then Tobias toke it heauyly, & with teares began to make his prayer, 1 Or, sighed.
2 Saying: O Lord thou art righteous, and all thy iudgementes are true: yea al thy wayes are mercie, faythfulnesse, and iudgement.
3 And now O Lorde be myndefull of me, and take no vengeaunce of my sinnes, neither remember my misdeedes, neither the misdeedes of my forefathers.
4 For we haue not ben obedient vnto thy commaundementes: therefore are we spoyled, brought into captiuite, into death, into derision and shame vnto all nations, among whom thou hast scattered vs.
5 And nowe O Lorde, thy iudgementes are great: for we haue not done according to thy commaundementes, neither haue we walked innocently before thee.
6 And nowe O Lord, deale with me according to thy will, and commaunde my spirite to be receaued in peace: for more expedient were it for me to die, then to B liue.
7 At the same time it happened that Sara the daughter of Raguel at Rages a citie of the Medes, was also reproched by one of her fathers handmaydes,
8 That she had had seuen husbandes, which assoone as they were gone in vnto her, were slayne of the deuyll, called Asmodeus.
9 Therfore when she reproued the mayden for her faut, she answered her, saying: God let vs neuer see sonne nor daughter of thee more vpon earth, thou killer of thy husbandes.
10 Wilt thou slay me also, as thou hast slayne seuen men? At this voyce went Sara into an hye chamber of her house, and three dayes and three nightes she neither eate nor dranke.
11 But continued in prayer, and besought God with teares, that he would deliuer her from this rebuke.
12 Upon the thirde day it came to passe, that when she had made an end of prayer, she praysed the Lorde, 13 Saying: Blessed be thy name O God of our fathers, whiche when thou art wroth shewest mercie, and in time of trouble thou forgeuest the sinnes of them that call vpon thee.
14 Unto thee O Lorde turne I my face, C vnto thee lift I vp myne eyes.
15 I beseche thee O Lord, loose me out of the bondes of this rebuke, or els take me vtterly away from of the earth.
16 Thou knowest Lorde that I neuer had desire vnto man, and that I haue kept my soule cleane from all vncleanly lust:
17 I haue not kept companie with those that passe their time in sport, neither haue I made my selfe partaker with them that walke in light behauour.
18 An husband haue I consented to take, not for my pleasure, but in thy feare.
19 Nowe peraduenture eyther I haue ben vnworthy of them, or els were they vnmeete for me: for thou happyly hast kept me to another husbande.

20 For why? thy counsell is not in the power of man.

D 21 But euery one that serueth thee is sure of this, that if his life be in tryng, it shalbe crowned: and if he be in trouble, that God, no doubt, shal deliuer him: and if his life be in chastening, that he shall haue leaue to come vnto thy mercie.

22 For thou hast no pleasure in our "damnation: And why? after a storme thou makest the wether faire and still, after weeping & heauinesse thou geuest great ioy.

23 Thy name O God of Israel, be praysed for euer.

24 At the same time were both their prayers heard in the sight of the maiestie of the hiest God.

25 And Raphael the holy angell of the Lorde, was sent to helpe them both, whose prayers "came at one time together before God.

" Or, destructions.

" Or, were recited at one time together.

The. iiii. Chapter.

1 Preceptes and exhortations of Tobias to his sonne.

A 1  O when Tobias thought his prayer to be heard, that he might dye, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias,

2 And sayde vnto him: My sonne heare the wordes of my mouth, and lay them in thyne heart as a foundation.

3 When God taketh away my soule, burie thou my body: and holde thy mother in honour all the dayes of her life.

4 For thou oughtest to remember what and howe great perils she suffred for thee in her wombe.

5 And when she also hath fulfilled the time of her life, burie her "beside me.

" Or, about.

6 Haue God in thy thought all the dayes of thy life, and beware "lest at any time thou consent vnto sinne, and lest thou let slippe the commaundementes of the Lorde our God.

B 7 Geue almes of thy goods, and turne neuer thy face from the poore: and so shall it come to passe, that the face of the Lord shall not be turned away from thee.

8 Be mercifull after thy power.

9 If thou haue much, geue plenteously: if thou hast litle, do thy diligence gladly to geue of that litle:

10 For so gatherest thou thy selfe a good reward in the day of necessitie.

11 For mercie deliuereth from al sinne and from death, and suffreth not the soule to come into darkenesse.

12 A great comfort is mercie before the hie God, vnto all them that shewe it.

13 My sonne, kepe thee wel from al whoredome: and beside thy wife, suffer not thy selfe to knowe of sinne.

14 Let neuer pride haue rule in thy minde nor in thy worde: for in pryde began all destruction. C

15 Whosoeuer worketh any thing for thee, immediatly geue him his hire, and loke that thy hired seruauntes wages remayne not at all with thee.

16 Loke that thou neuer do vnto another man, the thing that thou wouldest not another man shoulde do vnto thee.

17 Eate thy bread with the hungry and poore, and couer the naked with thy clothes.

18 Set thy bread and wine vpon the buriall of the righteous, and do not thou eate and drinke therof with the sinners.

19 Aske euer counsell at the wyse.

20 Be alway praysing of God, & beseche him that he will "order thy wayes, and that whatsoeuer thou deuisest or takest in hand, it may remayne in him.

" Or, direct.

D 21 I certifie thee also my sonne, that when thou wast yet but a babe, I deliuered ten talentes of siluer vnto Gabelus at Rages a citie of the Medes, and his hande wryting haue I by me.

22 And therfore seke some meanes howe thou mayest come by him, and receaue of him the sayd wayght of siluer, & geue him his hande wryting againe.

23 My sonne, be not afrayde: trueth it is we leade here a poore life, but great good shall we haue if we feare God, and depart from all sinne, and do well.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

2 Tobias is sent to Rages. 5 He meeteth with the angell Raphael, which did conduct him.

A 1 Then aunswered Tobias his father, and said: Father, all that thou hast commaunded me wyl I doe, and that diligently.

2 But how I shall require this money I can not tell, neither doth he knowe me, nor I him: what token shall I geue him? And as for the way thyther, I neuer knew it.

3 Then his father aunswered him, and saide, I haue his hand writing by me: which when thou shewest him, immediatly he shall pay thee.

4 But go thy way nowe and get thee some faithful man to go with thee for an hyre, that thou mayst receaue the money while I am yet liuing.

5 Then went Tobias out, and vpon the streate he founde a fayre young man standing, girded vp, and as it were redie to take his iourney.

6 And he knewe not that it was an angell of God, but saluted him, and sayde: From whence art thou, thou good young man?

B 7 He aunswered: Of the children of Israel. And Tobias said vnto him: Knowest thou the way that leadeth vnto the countrey of the Medes?

8 He aunswered: I knowe it well, & all those * streates haue I gone oft times, and haue lodged with our brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages a citie of the Medes, which lyeth vpon the mount Ecbatanis.

* Or, wayes.

9 Tobias saide vnto him: I pray thee tary for me, till I haue tolde my father these thinges.

10 Then went Tobias in, and tolde his father all: At the which his father marueyled, and prayed that he woulde come in vnto him.

11 Now when he came in, he saluted him, and saide: Joy be with thee for euermore.

12 And olde Tobias saide: What ioy can I haue that sit here in darkenesse, and see not the light of heauen?

13 The young man saide vnto him: Be of good cheare, God shall helpe thee shortly.

14 And Tobias saide vnto him: Canst thou bring my sonne to Gabelus, vnto the citie of Rages in Medea: and when thou commest againe, I shall pay thee thy hyre? C

15 And the angell saide vnto him: I shall leade thy sonne, and bring him to thee againe.

16 Then Tobias aunswered him: Tell me I pray thee, of what house or of what tribe art thou?

17 The angel Raphael saide vnto him: Seekest thou after the kinred of an hireling, or an hired man him selfe for thy sonne to go with him?

18 But that I make thee not carefull, I am Azarias the sonne of great Hananias.

19 And Tobias aunswered, Thou art come of a great kinred: but I pray thee be not displeased that I desire to know thy kinred.

20 The angell said vnto him: Thy sonne shall I leade foorth safely, and bryng him whole founde to thee againe. D

21 Then aunswered Tobias, and saide: Well, go on your way, and God be in your iourney, and his angell beare you company.

22 So when they had prepared all thinges that they woulde take with them in their iourney, Tobias bade his father and his mother farewell: and they went on their way both together.

23 Nowe when they were gone, his mother began to weepe, & saide: The staffe of our age hast thou taken away, and sent him from vs.

24 Woulde God that money had neuer ben, for the which thou hast sent him away.

25 For our pouertie was sufficient for vs, why we shoulde haue counted it ryches, that we saw our sonne here.

26 Then saide Tobias vnto her: Weepe not, our sonne shall go safely and come to vs againe founde, and thyne eyes shall see him.

27 For I trust that the good angell of God shall beare him company, and order well all the thinges that he doth,

so

so that he shall come to vs againe with ioy.

28 At these wordes his mother lett of from weeping, and held her peace.

The .vj. Chapter.

2 Tobias deliuered from the fishe. 8 Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines.
19 He conducteth him toward Sara.

A 1 SO Tobias went on his way, and a dogge folowed him: and the first night they abode by the 2 water of Tigris.
Then went he out to washe his feete, and beholde there came forth an horrible fishe to deuour him.
3 Of whom Tobias was afrayde, and cryed with a loude voyce, saying: Lord, he commeth vpon me.
4 And the angell saide vnto him: Take him by the gyll, and drawe him to thee. And he did so, and drew him vpon the lande: and the fishe began to leape at his feete.
5 Then saide the angell vnto him, Take out the bowels of this fishe: & as for the heart, the gal, and the lyuer, keepe them by thee: for these thinges are necessary and good for medicines.
6 Tobias did so, and rosted the flesh, and they tooke it with them in their iourney: the residue they salted, as much as was sufficient for them, tyll they came to Rages a citie of the Medes.
B 7 Then Tobias asked the angell, and saide vnto him: I pray thee brother Azaria, tell me whereto are these thinges good of the fishe that thou hast bidden me keepe.
8 The angell answered him, and said: If thou layest a peece of the heart vpon the coales, the smoke thereof dryueth away all maner of euill spirites, whether it be from man or from woman, so that from thencefoorth the same shall come no more vnto them.
9 The gal is good to annoynt or to strike the eyes withall, where as there is any blemishe in them, so that they shalbe whole.
10 And Tobias saide vnto him: where wilt thou that we remaine? The angell answered, 11 And saide: Here is a nye kinsman of thyne and of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, which hath a daughter called Sara, & hath neither sonne nor daughter but her.
12 All his good belongeth vnto thee, and thou must mary her.
13 And therefore desire her of her father, C and he shall geue her thee to wyfe.
14 Then answered Tobias and saide: As I vnderstand she hath ben maryed vnto seuen husbandes, and they all are dead: and I haue heard say, that the deuill slue them.
15 I am afrayd therfore lest such thinges happen vnto me also: which if it came to passe, seeing I am the onely sonne of my father and my mother, I should bryng them in their age with sorowe to their graues.
16 Then saide the angell Raphael vnto him: Heare me, & I wyll tell thee what they be, of whom the deuil hath power.
17 Namely, they that receaue mariage after such a fashion that they shut God out from them and from their heart, and geue them selues to their owne lust, euen as it were an Horse & Mule which haue no vnderstanding: vpon such hath the deuill power.
18 But when thou takest her, and art come in to the chamber, withhold thy selfe from her three dayes, and geue thy diligence vnto nothing but vnto prayer with her.
19 And in the first night, rost the lyuer of D the fishe, and the deuil shalbe driuen away.
20 The second night shalt thou be receaued into the company of the holy patriarches.
21 The third night shalt thou obtayne the blessing of God, so that "whole children shall be borne of you. "Or, sonne.
22 After the third night take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desire of children, then for any fleshely lust, that in the seede of Abraham thou mayest obtayne the blessing in children.

¶ The . vii . Chapter.

Tobias maryeth Sara, Raguels daughter.

A 1 THen went they in to Raguel, which receaued them ioyfully.
2 And when Raguel loked vpon Tobias, he saide vnto Anna his wyfe: How lyke is this young man vnto my sisters sonne?
3 And when he had spoken this, he said: whence be ye ye young men and our brethren? They saide: Of the tribe of Nephthali, out of the captiuitie of Ninyue.
4 Then said Raguel vnto them: Know ye my brother Tobias? They saide: yea we know him well.
5 And when he had spoken much good of him, the angell saide vnto Raguel: Tobias of whom thou askest, is this young mans father.
6 Then Raguel bowed him selfe downe and wept, and toke him about the necke and kissed him,
B 7 And saide: Gods blessing haue thou my sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good vertuous man.
8 And Anna his wyfe and Sara his daughter wept also.
9 Now when they had talked together, Raguel bade kill a wether, & to make a feaste: And when he had exhorted them to sit downe to dinner,
10 Tobias saide: I will neither eate nor drinke here this day, except thou first graunt me my petition, and promise me to geue me thy daughter Sara.
11 When Raguel heard this, he was astonied, for he knewe what had happened vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her: and he began to feare that it shoulde chaunce vnto him also in lyke maner. And while he stoode so in doubt, and gaue the young man no aunswere, 12 The angell saide vnto him: Feare not to geue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wyfe: therefore might none other haue her.
13 Then saide Raguel: I doubt not but C God hath accepted my prayers & teares in his sight:
14 And I beleue he caused you to come vnto me for the same intent, that this daughter of myne might be maryed in her owne kindred* according to the law of Moyses: And nowe doubt thou not but I wyll geue her vnto thee. *Nume. 36ic.
15 So he toke the right hande of his daughter, and gaue her into the right hande of Tobias, and saide: The God of Abraham, the God of Isahac, & the God of Jacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfill his blessing in you.
16 And they toke a letter, & made a writing of the mariage.
17 And then made they mery, and praysed God.
18 And Raguel called Anna his wyfe vnto him, and bade her prepare another chamber.
19 And thither he brought Sara his D daughter, and she wept.
20 Then saide he vnto her, Be of good cheare my daughter: the Lorde of heauen geue thee ioy for the heauinesse that thou hast suffered.

The . viii . Chapter.

2 Tobias driueth away the euill spirite. 4 He prayeth to God with his wyfe. 11 Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in lawe. 16 Raguel blesseth the Lorde.

A 1 NOw after that they had supped, they brought the young man in to her.
2 Then thought Tobias vpon the wordes of the angel, and toke out of his bagge a peece of the lyuer of the fishe, and layed it vpon the hotte coales.
3 So the angell Raphael tooke holde of the deuil, and sent him away, & bound him in the wildernesse of the hygher Egypt.
4 Then spake Tobias vnto the virgin, and saide: Up Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morow, and "ouermorow: For these three nightes wyl we "reconcile our selues with God, and "Or, the third day. "Or, ioyne our selues to God.

and when the third holy night is past, we shall ioyne together in the dueti of mariage.

5 For we are the children of holy men, and we may not come together as the heathen that know not God.

6 Then stoode they vp both together, and besought God earnestly" that he would preserue them.

" Or, that health might be geuen them.

B 7 And Tobias saide: O Lorde God of our fathers, prayed be thou of heauen and earth, of the sea, welles, & fludes, and of al thy creatures that be therein.

Gen.d. 8 Thou madest Adam of the * moulde of the earth, and gauest him Eua for an helper.

9 And now Lorde thou knowest that it is not because of voluptuousnes that I take this sister of myne to wyfe, but onely for the loue of children, in whom thy name may be blessed for euer.

10 And Sara saide: Haue mercie vpon vs O Lorde, haue mercy vpon vs, and let vs both come whole and sounde together to a good age.

11 And about the cocke crowing, it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruaũtes:

12 And they went with him to make a graue.

C 13 For he saide: It is chaunced nowe vnto him peraduenture as it did vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her.

14 Now when they had made the graue, Raguel came againe to his wyfe, and saide vnto her: Send one of thy maydens to loke if he be dead, that I may bury him afore it be light day.

15 So she sent a mayden to see: Which whe n she came unto the chamber, found them whole and founde, sleeping together.

16 And so she came againe, and brought good tidinges: Then Raguel and Anna his wyfe prayed the Lorde, 17 And saide: Prayed be thou O Lorde God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs as we thought.

18 For thou hast dealt mercifully with vs, and put away from vs the enemie that persecuted vs,

19 And hast shewed mercy vnto yonder two the onely borne children of their parentes: O Lorde, cause them to magnifie thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifice of thy prayse & of their health: that all people may knowe that thou onely art God in all the earth. D

20 And immediatly Raguel commaunded his seruauntes to fyll the graue that they had made, with earth, afore it was light, 21 And bade his wyfe prepare a feaste, & to make redie all thinges that were necessary for meate, to such as went by the way.

22 He caused two fat kine also and foure weathers to be slaine, and meates to be prepared for all his neighbours and freindes.

23 And Raguel charged Tobias to remayne with him two weekes.

24 As for all the good that he had, he gaue Tobias the halfe of it, and made this writing, that the halfe which remayned, should fall vnto Tobias after their death.

¶ The .ix. Chapter.

The angell goeth to Gabelus, at the desire of Tobias which deliuereth the letter, and receaueth the money,

A 1 Then Tobiás called vnto him the angell, whõ he thought to haue ben a man, and saide vnto him: Brother Azarias, I pray thee hearken vnto my wordes,

2 If I shoulde geue my selfe to be thy seruaunt, I shall not deserue thy prouidence.

3 Neuertheless, I beseche thee that thou wilt take the beastes and the seruauntes, & go vnto Gabelus in Rages the citie of the Medes, and deliuer him his hand writing, and receaue the money of him, and pray him to come to my mariage.

4 For thou knowest thy selfe that my father doth number the dayes: and if I tary one day to long, he will be sory in his minde.

5 Now seest thou how earnestly Raguel hath required me, so that I can not say him nay.

6 Then toke Raphael foure of Raguels seruauntes and two Camels, and went vnto Rages the citie of the Medes: And when he had founde Gabelus, lus, he gaue him his hand writing, and receaued all the money.

B 7 He tolde him also of Tobias the sonne of Tobi, how al thinges had happened: and caused him to come with him to the mariage.

8 Now when he came into the house of Raguel, he founde Tobias sittyng at the table: and he leaped vp, & they kissed one another, and Gabelus wept, and prayed God,

9 And saide: The blessing of the God of Israel haue thou, for thou art the sonne of a right vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, & geueth great almes:

10 And blessing haue thy wyfe, and your elders,

11 That ye may see your children, and your childrens children vnto the third & fourth generation: and your seede be blessed of the God of Israel, which raigneth worlde without end.

12 And when they all had sayde Amen, they went to the feast: but with the feare of the Lorde held they the feast of the mariage.

The .x. Chapter.

1 Tobias and his wyfe thinke long for their sonne. 10 Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sara.

A 1 NOw whyle young Tobias made long tarying, by reason of the mariage, his father was full of care & heauinesse, saying: Canst thou thinke what shoulde be the cause that my sonne tarieth so long: or why he should be kept so long there:

2 Thinkest thou Gabelus is dead, and no man wyll geue him the money:

3 Thus began he to be very sorowfull, he and Anna his wyfe with him: and began to weepe both together, because their sonne was not come againe vnto them at the day appointed.

4 As for his mother, she wept with discomfortable teares, and saide: Wo is me my sonne, Oh what ayled vs to send thee away into a straūge countrey, thou light of our eyes, thou staffe of our age, thou comfort of our life, thou hope of our generation:

5 Seing all the thinges that we haue are onely in thee, we shoulde not haue sent thee away from vs.

6 Then Tobias [comforted her, and] saide: Holde thy peace, & be not discomforted, our sonne is whole and sounde: the man that we sent him withall, is faithfull inough.

B 7 Neuertheless, she might in no wyse be comforted: but dayly went out, loked about, and went about all the streates whereby she thought he should come againe: that if it were possible she might see him comming a farre of.

8 But Raguel saide vnto his sonne in lawe: O tary here, and I shall send a messenger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell him that thou art in good health.

9 Tobias saide vnto him: I am sure that my father and my mother count euery day, and that their heartes are sorye.

10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many wordes, and he woulde in no wyse heare him, he deliuered Sara vnto hym, & the halfe part of all his good, in seruauntes, and handmaydens, in sheepe, in camels, and in kyne, & much money: and so sent him away from him with health and ioy, 11 And said: The holy angel of the Lord be with you in your iourney, and bring you foorth safe and sounde, that ye may finde all thinges in good case with your elders, & that myne eyes may see your children afore I dye.

12 So the elders embraced their daughter, kissed her, and let her go:

13 Exhorting her to honour her father & mother in law, to loue her husband, to rule well her housholde, to keepe her house in good order, and to shewe her selfe faultlesse. ℭ

¶ The .xj. Chapter.

1 The returne of Tobias to his father. 11 How he was receaued. 15 His father hath his sight restored, and prayseth the Lorde.

A 1 AS they nowe were going homeward againe, vpon the eleuenth day they came to Charran, which lyeth in the halfe way toward Nineue.

2 And the angell saide: Brother Tobias, thou knowest how thou hast left thy father:

3 Therfore if it please thee, we two wyl go before, and let the housholde with thy wyfe & the cattaile come faire and softly after vs.

4 And when Tobias was content that they should go before, Raphael said vnto him: Take of the gal of the fishe with thee, for it shall be necessary. So Tobias toke of the gall, and they went their way.

5 But Anna the mother of Tobias sate dayly by the way side vpon the toppe of an hill, from whence she might see farre about her.

6 And whyle she was wayting there for his comming, she loked a farre of, and anone she perceaued her sonne comming, and ranne and tolde her husband, saying: beholde thy sonne commeth.

B 7 And Raphael saide vnto Tobias: Assoone as thou commest into the house, immediatly worship the lorde thy God, and geue thankes vnto him: then go to thy father, and kisse hym,

8 And straight wayes strike his eyes ouer with the gall of the fishe that thou hast brought with thee: For be sure that his eyes shall straight way be opened, and thy father shall see the light of heauen, and shal reioyce at the sight of thee.

9 Then the dogge that had ben with them in their iourney, ranne before, and came as a messenger, and wagged his tayle for gladnesse.

10 So the blynde father arose, and began to runne, and stumbled with his feete: and gaue a seruaunt his hand, & ranne to meete his sonne, 11 Receaued him, and kissed him, he and his wyfe, and they both began to weepe for ioy.

12 Now when they had worshipped and thanked God, they sat downe.

13 Then tooke Tobias of the fishes gall, C and annoynted his fathers eyes:

14 And taryed halfe an houre, and then began the blemishe to go out of his eyes, lyke as it had ben the white skinne of an egge:

15 Which Tobias tooke, and drew from his eyes, and immediatly he receaued his sight.

16 Then they praysed God, he and his wyfe, and all they that knew hym.

17 And Tobias saide: O Lorde God of Israel I geue thee prayse & thankes, for thou hast chastened me, & made me whole: And lo, nowe do I see my sonne Tobias.

18 After seuen dayes, came Sara his sonnes wyfe also whole and sound, with all the housholde and cattaile, with camels, & much money of his wyues, and with the money that he had receaued of Gabelus.

19 And he tolde his father and his mother all the benefites which God had done for him by the man that led him. D

20 Achior also and Nabath Tobias sister sonnes came, and were glad, and reioyced with him, by reason of all the good thinges that God had shewed vnto him: And so for the space of seuen dayes they made mery, and were right ioyfull euery one.

The .xii. Chapter.

2 Tobias declareth to his father the pleasures that Raguel had done him. 5 the which he would recompence. 11 Raphael declareth that he is an angell sent of God.

A 1 THen Tobias called his sonne vnto him, & sayd: what may We geue this holy man, that went with thee?

u Or, came. 2 Tobias aunswered his father, and sayde: Father, What rewarde shall We geue him? or What thing can deserue his benefites?

3 He hath ben my guyde, and brought me safe againe: He receaued the money from Gabelus, he caused me to get my wyfe, he droue the euill spirite from her, he he hath ben an occasion of gladnesse to her father and mother, he delyuered me that I was not deuoured of the fishe, he hath made thee to see the light of heauen: yea, we all haue receaued great good of him.

4 Howbe shoulde we worthyly deserue these thinges vnto him: But I pray thee my father that thou wilt desire him, if happyly he wil vouchsafe to take with him the halfe of all that we haue brought.

5 So the father & the sonne called him, toke him aside, and began to pray him that he woulde be content to take in good worth the halfe part of all that they had brought.

6 Then saide he secretly vnto them: Prayse ye the God of heauen, and geue thankes vnto him before al men lyuing: for he hath shewed his mercy vnto you.

B 7 It is good to hide the kinges secrete: but to shewe and to prayse the workes of God it is an honorable thing.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and mercie is better then to hoorde vp treasures of golde.

9 For mercie delyuereth from death, clenseth sinne, & causeth to finde mercie and lyfe euerlasting.

10 But they that do sinne and vnrighteousnesse, are the enemies of their owne soule.

11 Wherefore I tell you the trueth, and wyll hide no secret saying from you.

12 When thou prayedst with teares, and buriedst the dead, and leftest thy dynner and hyddest the dead in thyne house vpon the day time that thou mightest bury them in the night, I offred thy prayer before the Lorde.

13 And because thou wast accept and beloued of God, it was necessary that temptation should trye thee. C

14 And nowe hath the Lorde sent me to heale thee, and to delyuer Sara thy sonnes wyfe from the euill spirite.

15 For I am Raphael an angell, one of the seuen that stande before the Lorde.

16 When they heard this, they were sore afrayde, and trembled, and fell downe vpon their faces vnto the grounde.

17 Then saide the angell: Peace be with you, feare not.

18 For where as I haue ben with you, it is the wil of God: geue prayse & thankes vnto him.

19 You thought that I did*eate & drinke with you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, and drinke that can not be seene of men. Gene.31.a. Iudi.xiii.c. D

20 Now therfore is the time that I must turne againe vnto him that sent me: but be ye thankefull vnto God, and tell out all his wonderous workes.

21 And when he had spokē those wordes, he was taken away out of their sight, so that they could see him no more.

22 Then fell they downe flat vpon their faces by the space of three houres, and praysed God: and when they rose vp, they tolde all his wonderous workes.

¶ The .xiii. Chapter.

A thankes geuing of Tobias, who exhorteth all to prayse the Lorde.

A 1 THen olde Tobias opened his mouth & praysed the Lorde, & sayde: Great art thou O lord for euermore, and thy kingdome world without end.

2 For thou scourgest and healest, thou leadest vnto hell & bringest out againe: and there is none that may escape thyne hande.

3 O geue thankes vnto the Lorde ye children of Israel, and prayse him in the sight of the heathen:

4 For among the heathen which knowe him not hath he scattered you, to the intent that ye should shew forth his marueilous workes, and cause them for to knowe that there is none other God almightie but he.

5 He hath chastened vs for our misdeedes, & for his owne mercie sake shall he saue vs.

6 Consider then how he hath dealt with you, and prayse him with feare & dread: and magnifie the euerlasting king in your workes.

7 I wyll prayse him euen in the lande of my captiuitie: for he hath shewed his maiestie vnto a sinfull people. B

8 Turne you therfore O ye sinners, and do righteousnesse before God, and be ye sure that he wyll shew his mercy vpon you.

9 As for me and my soule, we wyll reioyce in God.
10 O prayse the Lorde all ye his chosen: hold the dayes of gladnesse, & be thankefull vnto him.
11 O Hierusalem thou citie of God, the lorde hath punished thee for the workes of thyne owne handes.
12 O prayse the Lord in thy good thinges, & geue thankes to the euerlasting God, that he may build vp his tabernacle againe in thee, that he may call againe vnto thee all such as be in captiuitie, and that thou mayest haue ioy for euermore.
℣ 13 With a faire light shalt thou shyne, and all the endes of the worlde shall honour thee.
14 The people shall come vnto thee from farre, they shall bring giftes, and worship the Lorde in thee, and thy land shal they haue for a sanctuary: for they shall call vpon the great name in thee.
15 Cursed shall they be that despise thee, and all that blaspheme thee shal be condempned: But blessed shall they be that builde thee vp.
16 As for thee thou shalt reioyce in thy children: for they all shalbe blessed, and gathered together vnto the Lorde.
17 Blessed are all they that loue thee, and that be glad of thy peace.
18 Prayse thou the Lorde, O my soule: for the Lorde our God hath deliuered his citie Hierusalem from all her troubles.
19 I wyll count my selfe happy, if my seede remayne to see the clearenes of Hierusalem.
20 The gates of Hierusalem shalbe builded with Saphir and Smaragde, and all the compasse of her walles with precious stones. ℣
21 All her streates shalbe paued with white and fayre stone, and in all streates shall Halleluia be song.
22 Praysed be the Lorde which hath exalted her, that his kingdome may be vpon her for euermore, Amen.

The .xiiii. Chapter.

5 Lessons of Tobias to his sonne. 6 He prophecieth the destruction of Niniue. 7 And the restoring of Hierusalem and the temple. 13 The death of Tobias and his wyfe. 16 Tobias the younger, his age and death.

A 1 AND so Tobias made an end of speaking: And after that Tobias had gotten his sight againe, he lyued fouretie & two yeres, & saw his childers children.
2 Nowe when he was an hundred and two yeres olde [he dyed, and] was buried honorably in Niniue.
3 For when he was fyue and fiftie yeres of age, he lost the sight of his eyes: and when he was three score yeres olde, he gate his sight againe.
4 The residue of his lyfe led he in ioy, and increased well in the feare of God, and departed in peace.
5 But in the houre of his death he called vnto him his sonne Tobias, and seuen young "springalde his sonnes children, and saide vnto them:
6 The destruction of Niniue is at hand, (for the Word of the Lord can not fayle) and our brethren that are scattered out of the lande of Israel, shall come thy-
B ther agayne.
7 And the whole lande of it that hath ben waste, shall be filled, and the house of God that was brent in it, shal be builded againe: and all such as feare God, shall returne thyther,
8 The heathen then also shall forsake their idols, and come to Hierusalem, and dwell there:
9 And all the kinges of the earth shalbe glad in her, and worship the Lord God of Israel.
10 And therefore my children, heare your father, serue the Lorde in the trueth, seeke after his wyll to do the thing that pleaseth him:
11 Commaunde your children that they do right, geue almes, be mindefull of God, and euer to be thankefull vnto him in trueth and with all their power.
12 Heare me now therefore my children, ℣ and abyde not here: but in what day so euer ye haue buryed your mother by me in one sepulchre, get you from hence:
13 For I see that the wickednesse of it shall bring it to [destruction and] end.
14 After the death of his mother, Tobi- as departed away from Niniue, with his his wife, and childzen, and with his childers childzen, and came againe to his father and mother in lawe, 15 And founde them whole and in a good age, and toke the care of them: and he closed their eyes, and was heyze vnto all Raguels goodes, and sawe the fyft generation, and his childers childzen.

16 And ninetie and nine yeres beyng ended in the feare of God, they buried him with ioye.

17 And al his kindzed and posteritie continued in a good life and holy conuersation: so that they were loued and accepted both of God and men, and of all the people of the lande.

The ende of the booke of Tobias.

The booke of Iudith.

The first Chapter.

2 The buylding of Ecbatanis. 5 Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arpharad and ouercame him. 12 He treateneth them that woulde not helpe him.

1 ARpharad the king of the Medes subdued many people vnto his dominion, and buylded a noble strong citie, whiche he called Ecbatanis.

2 The walles of it made he of free stone foure square, seuentie cubites hie, and thirtie cubites brode: he made towzes therebpon an hundzeth cubites hye.

3 But along the foure cozners euery side was twentie foote brode: he made the poztes in the height, like as the towzes.

4 [This king] trusted in his mightie hoast, and in his glozious charets.

5 So in the twelfth yere of his raigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyzians whiche raigned in the great citie of Niniue, fought against Arpharad:

6 And ouercame him in the great fielde called Ragau beside Euphzates, and Tigris, and Iadason in the fielde of Ezrioth the king of the Elikes.

7 Then was the kingdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his heart was lift vp: and he sent vnto all them that dwelt in Cilicia, in Damascus, and Libanus: B

8 And vnto the heathen that dwelt in Carmel, and Cedar, and to such as dwelt in Galilee in the great field of Esdzelon:

9 To all them that dwelt in Samaria, and beyonde the water of Jozdane vnto Hierusalem, and the whole lande of Jesse, vnto the bozders of Ethiopia:

10 Unto all these dyd Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyzians send messengers.

11 But they all with one consent woulde not agree vnto him, and sent the messengers againe emptie, and put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the king toke indignation at all those landes, & sware by his trone and by his kingdome that he woulde be auenged of all those countreys.

The. ii. Chapter.

1 Nabuchodonosor commaunded presumpteously that al people should be brought in subiection, and to destroy those that disobeyed him, 7 The preparation of Holophernes armie. 12 The conquest of his enemies.

A 1 IN the thirtenth yere of king Nabuchodonosor, vpon the twentie & two day of the firste moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians that he woulde reuenge him selfe.

2 So he called vnto him all the elders, all his captaynes and men of warre, and shewed them his secret counsell,

3 And told them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominion.

4 Now when they were all content with this saying, Nabuchodonosor the king called Holophernes the chiefe captayne of his warres,

5 And sayde vnto him: Go thy way foorth against all the kingdomes of the West, and specially against those that haue despised my commaundement.

6 Thou shalt spare no realme, all strong cities shalt thou bring in subiection vnto me.

B 7 Then Holophernes called together all the captaynes & rulers of all the power in Assyria, and mustred the souldiers vnto the hoast like as the king commaunded him [namely] an hundred and twentie thousande fighting men vpon foote, and twelue thousande archers vpon horsebacke.

8 All his ordinaunce sent he before with an innumerable multitude of camels, so that the hoast was well prouided for with oxen and small cattell, & that without number.

9 He appoynted to prepare corne out of all Syria in his passage.

10 Much gold an siluer also toke he out of the kinges house.

11 So he toke his iourney and all his hoast, with charets, horsemen, and archers: of whom there were so many that they couered the ground of the land like the grashoppers.

12 And when he was gone past the borders of the Assyrians, he came towarde the great mountaynes of Ange, whiche lye vpon the left side of Cilicia: and so he went vp into all their castels, and wunne euery strong holde.

13 As for the welthie citie of Melothus, he brake it downe, & spoyled all the children of Tharsis and the Ismaelites, whiche lay towarde the wildernesse and vpon the south side of the lande of Chellon.

14 He went ouer Euphrates also, & came into Mesopotamia, and brake downe all the hie cities that were there, from the brooke of Mambre till a man come to the sea: C

15 And he toke the borders in from Cilicia vnto the coastes of Japhet towarde the south.

16 He caryed away all the Madianites, and spoyled al their goods, and whosoeuer withstoode him he slue them with the sworde.

17 After this, he went downe into the fielde of Damascus in the time of haruest, and burnt vp all the corne, and all the trees and vines he caused to be cut downe:

18 And the feare of him fel vpon all them that dwelt on the earth.

The. iii. Chapter.

1 The people subiect to Holophernes. 12 He destroyed their gods that Nabuchodonosor might onely be worshipped.

A 1 SO the kinges & princes of al the cities & landes sent their embassadours, namely they of Syria and Mesopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Libya, and Cilicia, which came to Holophernes, and sayde:

2 Let thy wrath ceasse towarde vs: It is better for vs to serue the great king Nabuchodonosor with our liues, and to be subiect vnto thee, then that we should dye, and with our slaughter suffer the euyls of our bondage.

3 All our cities and possessions, al mountaynes and hilles, all fieldes, great and smal cattel, sheepe, goates, horses, and camels, all our goodes and houshoides be in thy power.

4 Vnder

4 Under thy subiection be al that we haue.
5 We our selues and also our children wilbe thy seruauntes.
6 Come vnto vs peaceable lorde, and vse our seruice at thy pleasure.
7 Then came Holophernes downe from the mountaynes with horsemen & great power, and conquered all strong fensed cities, and all that dwelt in the lande.
8 And out of all cities he toke strong men and such as were meete for the warre [to helpe hym.]
9 And there came such a feare vpon those countreys, that the indwellers of al the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people together, went forth to meete hym as he came:
10 And receaued him [honorably] with garlandes and torches, with daunces, tapyettes, and pipes.
11 Neuertheleste though they dyd this, yet might they not swage his rigorous stomacke.
12 But he destroyed their cities, and hewed downe their wooddes.
13 For Nabuchodonosor the king had commaunded him that he should roote out all the gods of the "lande, to the intent that he only might be called [and taken] for god of the nations, which Holophernes with his power might bring vnder him.
14 So went he through Syria Sobal, and through all Appamea, and all Mesopotamia, and came to the Idumeans in the lande of Gabaa, 15 And toke their cities, and remayned there thirtie dayes, in whiche space he caused all the whole multitude of his hoast to be gathered together.

" Or, earth.

The. iiii. Chapter.

1 The Israelites were afrayde and defended their countrey. 5 Eliacim the priest writeth to Bethulia, that they shoulde fortifie them selues. 8 They cried to the Lorde, and humbled them selues before hym.

A 1 When the children of Israel that dwelt in Iurie heard this, they were sore afrayde of him.
2 There came such trembling also & feare vpon them, lest he shoulde do vnto the citie of Hierusalem and the temple of the Lord, as he had done to other cities and their temples.
3 So they sent into all Samaria rounde about vnto Jericho, [take in] and occupied all the toppes of the mountaynes:
4 And made fast the townes with walles, and prepared corne for them against the battayle.
5 Eliacim also the priest wrote vnto all them that dwelt towarde Esdrelon, which lieth ouer against the great fielde by Dothain, & vnto all those by whom men might haue passage vnto them,
6 That they shoulde take in the wayes of the mountaynes, whereby there might be any way and passage to Hierusalem, and that they shoulde holde diligent watch where any strayte was betwirte the mountaynes.
B 7 And the children of Israel dyd as Eliacim the priest of the Lorde had commaunded them.
8 And all the people cryed vnto the Lord earnestly, and humbled their soules with fasting and prayers, they & their wiues:
9 The priestes put on heery clothes, and layed the young babes before the temple of the Lord, and couered the aulter of the Lorde with an heery cloth:
10 And with one accorde they cryed vnto the Lorde God of Israel, that their children should not be geuen into a pray, and their wiues into a spoyle, that their cities should not be layed waste, and that their "sanctuarie shoulde not be vnhalowed, and so they to be a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen.
11 Then Eliacim the hye priest of the Lord, went rounde about al Israel, and spake vnto them, 12 Saying: Be ye sure that the Lord will heare your petitions, if ye continue stedfast in fastinges and prayers in the sight of the Lorde.
13 Remember Moyses the seruaunt of the Lorde, which ouerthrewe the Amalechites that trusted in their might and power, in their hoast, in their shieldes, in their charets and horsemen, not with weapons, but with holy prayers.
C 14 Euen so shall all the enemies of Israel be, if ye continue in this worke that ye haue begun.

" Or, holy thinges.

15 So vpon this exhortation they continued in prayer before the Lorde.
16 In so much that they whiche offered burnt sacrifices vnto the Lord, offred the offringes vnto the Lorde, beyng arayed in heery clothes, and had asshes vpon their heades.
17 And they all besought God from their whole heart, that he woulde visite his people of Israel.

The. v. Chapter.

1 Achior the Ammonite doeth declare to Holophernes of the maner of the Israelites.

A 1 AND worde came to Holophernes ỹ prince of the warre of the Assyrians, that the children of Israel prepared them selues to make resistaunce, and howe they had stopped the wayes betwixte the mountaynes.
2 Then was he exceeding wroth, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captaynes of Ammon,
3 And sayde vnto them: Tell me what people is this that kepeth in the mountaynes: Or what maner and how great cities theirs are: what is their power: Or what maner of hoast haue they: who is their captayne:
4 And why do they despise vs more then all those that dwell in the east, and come not forth to meete vs, that they might receaue vs with peace:
B 5 Then Achior the captayne of al the Ammonites aunswered, and sayde: Syr, if it please thee to heare, I will tell the trueth before thee concerning this people that dwel in the mountaynes, and there shall no vntrueth go out of my mouth.
6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:
7 They dwelt first in Mesopotamia, for they woulde not followe the gods of their fathers that were in the lande of the Chaldees,
8 And so forsoke they the custome of their forefathers which had many gods, and worshipped one God that made heauen and earth: * Whiche also commaunded them that they shoulde go from thence and dwell at Charan.
9 Nowe when there came a dearth into the whole lande, they went downe to Egypt, and there they dwelt * foure hundreth yeres, in the whiche they multiplied greatly, that their hoast might not be numbred.
10 And when the king of Egypt oppressed them, and yoked them in buylding of his cities with making of slay and bricke, they cryed vnto God their Lord which punished the whole lande of Egypt with diuers plagues.
11 And when the Egyptians had cast them out ✠ the plague ceassed from them, and they folowing after them to take them ✠ to bring them againe into their bondage:
12 Whyle they were flying away the God of heauen opened the sea, so that the waters stoode fast vpon both the sides as a wall, and these went through the botome of the sea drye shod.
13 In the whiche place when an innumerable people of the Egyptians folowed vpon them, they were so ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remayned not one to tell them that came after howe it happened.
14 So when this people was passed through the red sea, they came into the wilderneſſe of mount Sina, where neuer man might dwell afore, and where the sonne of man had neuer rested. C
15 There were the bitter waters made sweete for them that they might drinke, and fourtie yeres had they meate from heauen.
16 Whersouer they went, without bow and arrow, without buckler or swoorde, their God fought for them, and caused them to haue the victorie.
17 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people, except it were when they departed vnfaythfully from the worshipping of the Lorde their God.
18 But as ofte as they worshipped any other beside their God, he gaue them ouer to be spoyled, to be slayne, and to be put to confusion.
19 Neuertheleſſe, as ofte as they were sory for their departing from the worshippe shippe of their God: the same God of heauen gaue them power & strength to withstande [their enemies.]

20 *Moreouer, they slue the king of the Chanaanites, Iebusites, Pherezites, Hethites, Heuites, and Amorites, and al the mightie in Hesebon, and toke their landes and cities in possession:

21 And so long as they sinned not in the sight of their God, it went well with them: For their God hateth vnrighteousnesse.

22 *For in times past when they went out of the way which God had geuen them that they shoulde walke in it, they were destroyed in diuers battayles of many nations, and many of them were caried away prisoners vnto a strange countrey.

23 *But now lately they haue turned themselues agayne vnto the Lord their God, and are come together agayne out of the countreys where they were scattred abrode: and thus haue they conquered these mountaynes, and dwel therin: and as for Hierusalem where their sanctuarie is, they haue it againe in possession.

24 And therfore my Lord, make diligent inquisition, if this people haue done wickednesse in the sight of their God, then let vs go vp against them: for doubtlesse their God shall deliuer them into thy handes, and subdue them vnto thy power.

25 But if this people haue not displeased their God, we shall not be able to withstande them: for their God shall defende them, and so shall we be a shame to all the worlde.

26 Nowe when Achior had spoken out these wordes, all the great men of Holophernes were wroth, and thought to slay him, and sayde one to another:

27 What is he this whiche dare say that the children of Israel are able to withstande Nabuchodonosor the king and his hoastes: where as they are an vnweaponed people, without strength or vnderstanding of the feates of warre:

28 That Achior therfore may knowe that he hath deceaued vs, we will go vp into the mountaynes: and when the mightie men of them are taken, he with them shall be stickte with the sworde:

29 That all the people may knowe that Nabuchodonosor is the God of the earth, and that there is none other beside him.

The. vi. Chapter.

1 Holophernes blasphemeth God, whom Achior confessed. 14 Achior is deliuered into the handes of them of Bethulia. 18 The Bethulians crye vnto the Lorde.

AND when they had left of speaking, Holophernes toke sore indignation, and sayde vnto Achior:

For so much as thou hast prophesied vnto vs, saying, That the people of Israel shalbe defended of their God: I will shew thee that there is no God but Nabuchodonosor,

3 Yea, when we slay them al as one man, thou also shalt perishe with them through the sword of the Assyrians, and all Israel shalbe destroyed with thee:

4 And then shalt thou feele that Nabuchodonosor is the lorde of the whole earth: then shal the sword of my knighthood go through thy sides, & thou shalt fall downe stickte among the wounded of Israel, and "shalt not come to thy selfe agayne, but be vtterly destroyed with them.

5 Furthermore, if thou thinkest thy prophesie to be true, why doest thou then chaunge thy colour: why art thou afrayde: Thinkest thou that my wordes are not able to be performed:

6 But that thou mayest knowe that thou shalt feele these thinges with them, beholde from this houre forth will I send thee vnto yonder people, that when the punishement of my sworde (whiche they haue worthyly deserued) falleth vpon them, thou mayest be punished with them.

7 So Holophernes commaunded his seruauntes to take Achior, & to cary him vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer him into the handes of the children of Israel.

8 Then Holophernes seruauntes toke him, and went through the playne field: But when they drewe nye vnto the mountaynes, the flyng casters came out against them.

9 Neuertheleſſe they gat them away by the ſide of the mountayne, and bounde Achior hande and foote to a tree, and ſo left him bounde with withes, and turned againe vnto their lorde.

10 After that, the children of Iſrael went downe from Bethulia, came vnto hym, looſed him, brought him into Bethulia, ſet him in the middeſt of the people, and aſked him what the matter was that the Aſſyrians had left him bounde:

11 Oſias the ſonne of Micha of the tribe of Simeon, and Charmi which is alſo called Gothoniel, were the principal rulers at the ſame time.

12 Nowe when Achior ſtoode in the middeſt of the ſenatours, and before them al, he tolde them what aunſwere he gaue Holophernes to the thing that he aſked him, & how Holophernes people would haue ſlayne him for ſo ſaying:

13 And howe Holophernes him ſelfe was wroth, and commaunded him for the ſame cauſe to be deliuered vnto the Iſraelites: that when he ouercame the children of Iſrael, he might commaunde Achior alſo to be put to death with diuers tormentes, becauſe he ſayde, The God of heauen is their defender.

C 14 And when Achior had playnly told out al theſe thinges, all the people fel downe vpon their faces, praying the Lord, and powred out their prayers together vnto the Lorde, with a generall complaynt and weeping, 15 And ſayde: O Lord God of heauen and of earth, beholde their pryde, and loke vpon our lowlineſſe, and conſider howe it ſtandeth with thy ſayntes, and make it to be knowen that thou forſakeſt not thoſe which holde them faſt by thee: and howe that thou bringeſt them low that preſume of them ſelues, and make their boaſt in their owne ſtrength.

16 So when the weeping and prayer of the people (whiche they had made the whole day long) was ended, they comforted Achior, 17 Saying: The God of our fathers, whoſe power and ſtrength thou haſt prayſed, ſhall ſo rewarde thee, that thou ſhalt rather ſee their deſtruction.

18 When the Lorde our God then ſhall geue his ſeruauntes this libertie, God be alſo with thee among vs: ſo that as it ſhall pleaſe thee, ſo thou with all thyne mayſt dwell with vs.

19 Now when Oſias had ended the counſel, he toke him into his houſe, and made a great ſupper, 20 Called the elders to it: and ſo they refreſhed them ſelues after the faſting.

21 And afterward was al the people called together, whiche made their prayers all the night long (D in the congregation), and beſought the God of Iſrael for helpe.

D "Or, within the church.

The. vii. Chapter.

1 Holophernes doeth beſiege Bethulia. 8 The counſell of the Idumeans, and other againſt the Iſraelites. 23 The Bethulians murmure againſt the gouernours for lacke of water.

A 1 The next day Holophernes commaunded his hoaſt to go vp againſt Bethulia.

2 There were an hundred and twentie thouſande fighting men on foote, and two and twentie thouſande horſemen, beſide the preparing of them that were wunne, and came to them on euery ſide out of the countreys and cities which he had taken.

3 All theſe prepared them ſelues vnto the battayl againſt the Iſraelites, and came on by the hil ſide, vnto the top that loketh ouer againſt Dothain, from the place which is called Belma, vnto Chelmon that lyeth towarde Eſdrelon.

4 Nowe when the children of Iſrael ſawe ſo great multitude of the Aſſyrians, they fell downe flat vpon the grounde, ſtrawed aſhes vpon their heades, and prayed with one accorde that the God of Iſrael woulde ſhewe his mercie vpon his people.

5 And ſo they toke their weapons, and ſat betwixte the mountaynes in the narow place, and kept the way day and night.

6 But whyle Holophernes was goyng rounde rounde about, he founde the water spring, whiche from the south side was conueyed into the citie be a conduite, and he commaunded their conduite to be cut in sunder.

7 There were welles also not farre from the walles, whiche they vsed secretely, more for pleasure "then for necessitie.

"Or, then to make open.

8 Then went the Ammonites and the Moabites vnto Holophernes, and sayd: The children of Israel trust neither in speare nor arrow, but haue taken in and kepe the mountaynes, and steepe hilles defende them.

9 That thou mayest ouercome them therfore without the striking of any battayl, set men to kepe the welles that they drawe no water out of them, so shalt thou destroy them without sworde, or at the least they shall be so feeble that they must be fayne to geue ouer the citie, which they thinke not able to be wunne for so much as it lyeth in the mountaynes.

10 These wordes pleased Holophernes wel and all his men of warre, and he set an hundreth at euery well round about.

11 And when this watch had endured twentie dayes, the cesternes and all that had water fayled them that dwelt in the citie of Bethulia, so that in the whole citie they had not drincke inough for one day, for the people had water geuen them dayly in a measure.

12 Then came the men and women, young persons and children, al vnto Ozias, and sayd al with one voyce:

13 God be iudge betwixt vs and thee, for thou hast dealt euyll with vs: thou wouldest not speake peaceably with the king of the Assyrians, therefore hath God solde vs into their handes.

14 And there is no man to helpe vs, whereas we are brought downe before their eyes in thirst and great destruction.

15 Therefore gather now together all the people that be in the citie, that we may all yeelde our selues wyllyngly vnto the people of Holophernes.

16 For better it is that we be captiue and prayse the Lorde with our liues, then to be slayne & perishe, and to be laughed to scorne and shamed of euery man when we see our wiues and children die before our eyes.

17 We take heauen and earth this day to record, & the God of our fathers, whiche punisheth vs according to [the deseruing of] our sinnes [and geue you warning,] that ye geue vp the citie nowe into the power of Holophernes hoast, that our end may be short with the sworde, which els shal endure long for want of water and for thirst.

18 When they had spoken out these wordes, there was a great weepingand howling in the whole congregation [and that of euery man,] and they cryed "a whole houre long vnto God with one voyce,

"Or, many houres.

19 Saying: We haue sinned with our fathers, we haue done a misse, we haue dealt wickedly.

20 Thou that art gratious haue mercie vpon vs, or punishe our vnrighteousnes with thyne owne scourge, and geue not those ouer that knowledge thee, vnto a people which knowe thee not:

21 That they may not say among the heathen, where is their God:

22 And when they were so weery with this crying and weeping that they helde their peace,

23 Ozias stoode vp with watry eyes, and sayde: O take good heartes vnto you deare brethren [and be of good cheare,] and let vs wayte yet these fiue dayes for mercie of the Lorde:

24 Peraduenture he shal put away his indignation, & geue glorie vnto his name.

25 But if he helpe vs not when the fiue dayes are past, we shall do as ye haue sayde.

The. viii. Chapter.

1 The parentage, life, and conuersation of Judith. 11 She rebuketh the faynt nesse of the gouernours. 12 She sheweth that they shoulde not tempt God, but wayte vpon him for succour. 33 Her enterprise against the enemies.

A 1 AND it happened, when these wordes came to the eares of Judith a widowe, which was the daughter of Merari, the sonne of Idor, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Osia, the sonne of Elai, the sonne of Jamnor, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Melchia, the sonne of Enan, the sonne of Nathania, the sonne of Salathiel, the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben:

2 And her husband was called Manasses, whiche dyed in the dayes of the barlye haruest.

3 For whyle he was binding the sheaues together in the fielde, the heate came vpon his head, and he died at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buried beside his fathers.

4 Nowe was Judith his desolate widowe three yeres, and sixe monethes.

5 And in the higher partes of her house she made her selfe a prime chamber, where she dwelt, beyng closed in with her maydens.

6 She ware a smocke of heere, and fasted al the dayes of her life, except the Sabbathes, and newe moones, and the solempne dayes that the people of Israel kept.

B 7 She was a very faire and beautiful person, her husbande also had left her great riches, a plenteous houshold, great vnmoueable possessions, & many cattell.

8 This Judith was a woman of a very good report with euery one, for she feared the Lord greatly: and there was no body that spake an euyll worde of her.

9 When this Judith hearde how Osias had promised the people that after the fift day he woulde geue vp the citie vnto the Assyrians, she sent for the elders, Chabri and Charmi.

10 And when they came to her, she sayde: What thing is this wherin Osias hath consented, that if God helpe not within fiue dayes he will geue ouer the citie to the Assyrians:

11 what are ye, that ye tempt the Lorde:

12 This deuice obtayneth no mercie of God: but prouoketh hym vnto wrath and displeasure.

13 Will ye set the mercie of the Lorde a time, and appoynt him a day after your will:

14 Neuertheless, for so much as the Lord is patient, let vs rather repent in this, powring out teares, and beseching hym of grace. C

15 For God threatneth not as a man, neither will he be prouoked vnto wrath as the children of men.

16 And therfore let vs heartyly fal downe before him, and serue hym with a meeke spirite, 17 And with weeping eyes say vnto the Lorde, that he deale with vs according to his owne wil speedyly in mercie: that like as our heart is nowe vexed and brought low through the pride of them, it" may so be comforted through his grace: " Or, we may so glorie.

18 In so much as we folowe not the sinnes of our fathers, which forsoke their God and worshipped other gods:

19 For the which sinne they perished with the sword, were spoyled, and brought to shame of al their enemies: As for vs, we knowe none other God but only hym.

20 For whose comfort let vs tary with meekenesse, and he shall require & make inquisition for our blood from the vexations of our enemies: he shall bring downe all the heathen that rise vp against vs, and put them to dishonour, euen the Lord our God.

21 Therefore deare brethren, seyng ye are D the [honorable and] elders in the people of God, and their lyfe hangeth all vpon you, lift vp their heartes with your exhortation, that they may call to remembraunce howe our fathers also in times past were tempted, that they might be proued if they worshipped their God a right.

22 They ought to remember, howe* our father Abraham beyng tempted, & tryed through many tribulations, " was found a louer and friende of God. Gen. xxii. " Or, was made.

23 So

23 So was Isahac, so was Jacob, so was Moyses: and all they that pleased God, passed stedfast in faith through manyfolde troubles.

24 Againe, they that receaued not their temptations with the feare of God, but put them selues foorth with vnpatiencie and murmuring against God, 25 perished of the destroyer, and were slaine of serpentes.

26 And therefore shoulde not we vndertake to be auenged for the thinges that are done vnto vs:

27 But to consider that all these punishmentes are farre lesse then our sinnes and misdeedes, and beleeuing that this correction commeth vnto vs as to the seruauntes of God, for amendement, and not for our destruction.

28 Then saide Osias and the elders vnto Judith: All that thou speakest is true, and no man can reproue thy Wordes.

29 Pray thou for vs now therefore [vnto God,] for thou art an holy woman, and fearest God.

30 And Judith saide vnto them: Seing ye know that my Wordes are of God,

31 Then proue my counsell and deuice if it be of God: and beseche God that he Wyll bryng my counsell to good ende. F

32 [Thus haue I deuised] Ye shall stande this night before the porte, and I wyll go foorth with Abra my mayden: and pray ye therefore vnto God, that he wyll graciously remember his people of Israel within fiue dayes, as ye haue saide.

33 As for the thing that I go in hande withall, aske ye no questions of it: and tyll I bring you word againe of it, do ye nothing els but pray vnto the Lorde our God for me.

34 Then Osias the prince of the people of Juda, saide vnto her: Go thy way in peace, the Lorde be with thee, that we may be auenged of our enemies. And so they went from her againe.

¶ The .ix. Chapter.

1 Judith humbleth her selfe before the Lorde, and maketh her prayers for the deliueraunce of her people. 7 Against the pryde of the Assyrians. 11 God is the helpe of the humble.

A 1 NOw when they were "Or, gone by. gone their way, Judith went into her closet, put on a heery smocke, strawed ashes vpon her head, fell downe before the Lorde, and cryed vnto him, saying:

Gene. 34 b. 2 O Lorde God of my father* Simeon, *Or, to restreinment of the trauaylers. which gaueste him a sword for "a defence against the enemies that vsed violence in their vncleanneste, and that rauished the virgin, [and] put her to shame and confusion:

3 Thou that gaueste their wyues into a pray, and their daughters into captiuitie, and all their pray for a spoyle vnto thy seruauntes which bare a zeale vnto thee: helpe me wydowe, O Lorde my God I beseche thee.

4 For thou hast made the first thinges: and after that, looke what thou hast taken in hande and deuised, it came euer to passe.

5 For all thy Wayes are prepared, and thy iudgementes are put in thy euerlasting foreknowledge.

"Or, enemy. 6 O looke now vpon the "armies of the Assyrians, lyke as it was thy pleasure sometime to looke vpon the hoast of the Egyptians, when they being weaponed persecuted thy seruauntes, and put their trust in their charettes, horsemen, and in the multitude of their men of warre.

7 But thou lookedst vpon their hoast, B casting a thicke darkenesse before them.

8 And when they came into the deepe, the Waters ouerwhelmed them.

9 Euen so Lord, let it go with these that trust in the power & multitude of their men of warre, in their charets, arrowes, and speares:

10 And know not that thou onely art our God which destroyest warres from the beginning, "and that thou art the Lord. "Or, & that it appertayneth to thee to be called lorde.

11 O lyft vp thyne arme [now] lyke as euer from the beginning, and in thy power bryng their power to naught: cause their might to fall in thy Wrath, which make their boast that they wyll vnhallowe and defile thy sanctuarie, and to waste the tabernacle of thy name, and to cast downe the horne of thyne aulter with their sword.

12 Bryng to passe O Lord, that the pryde of "the enemie may be cut downe with "Or, of this man.

C 13 That he may be taken with the snare of his eyes in me, and that thou mayest smyte him with the lyppes of my loue.

14 O geue me a stedfast mynde, that I may despyse him and his strength, and that I may destroy him.

15 This shall bryng thy name an euerlasting remembraunce, if the hande of a woman ouerthꝛowe him.

16 Foꝛ thy powꝛer O Lord standeth not in the multitude [of men] neither hast thou any pleasure in the strength of hoꝛses, neither was there from the beginning any pꝛoude persons that pleased thee: but in the pꝛayer of the humble & meeke hath thy pleasure ben euermoꝛe.

17 O thou God of the heauens, thou maker of the waters, and Loꝛde of all creatures, heare me pooꝛe woman calling vpon thee and putting my trust in thy mercy.

18 Remember thy couenaunt O Loꝛde, and minister woꝛdes in my mouth, and stablishe this deuice in my heart, that thy house may continue still in holynes:

¶ The. x. Chapter.

1 Judith decketh her selfe and goeth fooꝛth of the citie. 11 She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians and bꝛought to Holophernes.

A 1 AND When she had left of cryng vnto the lord, she rose vp from the

2 place where she had lyen flat befoꝛe the Lord, And called her mayden Abꝛa, went downe into her house, layed the heery cloth from her, put of the garmentes of her wydowhood,

3 washed her body, annoynted her selfe with pꝛecious thinges of sweete sauour, bꝛoyded and platted her heere, set a coyffe vpon her head, and put on such apparell as belongeth vnto gladnesse, slippers vpon her feete, bꝛacelettes, spanges, earynges, fynger rynges, and decked her selfe with all her best aray.

4 The Loꝛde gaue her also a speciall beautie and faireyesse: foꝛ all this decking of her selfe was not done foꝛ any voluptuousnesse, but of a ryght discretion and vertue, therefoꝛe did the Loꝛde encꝛease her beautie, so that she was exceeding amiable and welfauoured in all mens eyes.

5 She gaue her mayden Abꝛa also a bottell of wine, a pot with oyle, pottage, cake bꝛead and cheese: & went her way.

6 Nowe when they came to the poꝛte of the citie, they founde Osias and the elders of the citie wayting there:

B 7 which when they sawe her, they were astonied, and marueyled greatly at her beautie.

8 Neuertheless, they asked no question at her, but let her go, saying: The God of our fathers geue thee grace, and with his powꝛer perfourme all the deuice of thy heart, that Hieꝛusalem may reioyce ouer thee, and that thy name may be in the number of the holy & righteous.

9 And all they that were there, saide with one voyce, So be it, so be it.

10 Judith made her pꝛayer vnto the Loꝛde, and went out at the poꝛte, she and her mayde Abꝛa.

11 And as she was going downe the mountayne, it happened that about the spꝛyng of the day the spyes of the Assyrians met with her, and tooke her, saying: Whence commest thou? oꝛ whyther goest thou?

12 She aunswered: I am a daughter of the Hebꝛues, and am fled from them: foꝛ I knowe that they shalbe geuen vnto you to be spoyled, because they thought scoꝛne to yeelde them selues vnto you that they myght finde mercie in your sight.

13 Therefoꝛe haue I deuised by my C selfe after this maner: I wyll go befoꝛe the pꝛince Holophernes and tell him all their secretes, and wyll shewe him how he may come by them, and winne them: so that not one man of his hoast shall peꝛishe.

14 And when these men had heard her woꝛdes, and considered her faire face, they were astonied (foꝛ they wondꝛed at her excellent beautie)

15 And saide vnto her: Thou hast saued thy lyfe by findinge out this deuice, that thou thou wouldest come downe to our lorde.

16 And be thou sure that when thou commest vnto him, he shall entreate thee well, and thou shalt please him at the heart. So they brought her in to Holophernes pauilion, and tolde him of her.
17 Nowe when she came in before him, immediately he was ouercome and taken with her beautie.
18 Then said his seruauntes: Who would despise the people of the Iewes that haue so faire women? should we not by reason fight against them for these?
19 So when Iudith sawe Holophernes sitting in a canapie that was wrought of purple silke, golde, smaragde, and precious stones, D
20 She looked fast vpon him, bowed her selfe, and fel downe vpon the earth: And Holophernes seruauntes tooke her vp agayne at their lordes commaundement.

The .xj. Chapter.

1 Holophernes comforteth Iudith, 3 and asketh the cause of her comming. 5 She deceaueth him by her faire wordes.

A 1 Then said Holophernes vnto her, Be of good cheare, and feare not in thyne heart: for I neuer hurt man that would serue Nabuchodonosor the king.
2 As for thy people, if they had not despysed me, I should not haue lyft vp my speare against them.
3 But tell me nowe What is the cause that thou art departed from them, and wherefore art thou come vnto vs?
4 And Iudith saide vnto him, Syr, vnderstand the wordes of thy handemayden: for if thou wylt do after the wordes of thy handmayden, the Lorde shall bryng thy matter to a prosperous effect.
5 As Nabuchodonosor the king of the earth lyueth, and as his power lueth Which is in thee to the punishment of all men that go wrong, al men shal not onely be subdued vnto him through thee, but al the beastes also of the fielde.
6 For all people speake of thy prudent actiuitie, and it hath euer ben reported how thou onely art good and mightie in all his kingdome, and thy " discretion is commended in all landes.
" Or, discretion.
7 The thing is manifest also that Achior spake, & it is well knowen What thou commaundest to do vnto him. B
8 For this is playne and of a suretie, that our God is so wroth With vs by the reason of our sinnes, that he hath shewed by his prophetes vnto the people, howe that for their sinnes he wyll delyuer them ouer [vnto the enemie.]
9 And for so much as the children of Israel knowe that they haue so displeased their God, they are sore afrayde of thee.
10 They suffer great hunger also, and for want of water they are dead now in a maner.
11 Moreouer, they are appoynted to slay all their cattaile, that they may drinke the blood of them:
12 And are purposed to spend the holy thinges of their God Which he hath forbydden them to touch, [as] of corne, wine, and oyle, & they wil consume those thinges Which they ought not to touch With their handes: Seing nowe that they do these thinges, it is a playne case that they must needes be destroyed. C
13 Which When I thy handmayden perceaued, I fled from them: and the Lord hath sent me to shewe thee these thinges.
14 For I thy handmayden worship God euen here now beside thee, and thy handmayden shal go foorth, and I wyl make my prayer vnto God:
15 And he shall tell me When he wyll reward them their sinne, then shall I come and shewe thee, and bring thee through the middest of Hierusalem, so that thou shalt haue al the people of Israel as sheepe without a shepheard, & there shall not so much as one dogge barke against thee.
16 For these thinges are shewed me by the prouidence of God.
17 And for so much as God is displeased With them, he hath sent me to tell thee the same.
18 These wordes pleased Holophernes, and all his seruauntes: which marueyled at the wysedome of her, and said one to another:
19 There is not such a woman vpō earth, in fauour, in beautie, and discretion of wordes.

20 And

20 And Holophernes saide vnto her: God hath done well that he hath sent thee hither before thy people, that thou mayest geue them into our handes.
21 And for so much as thy promise is good, if thy God performe it vnto me, he shalbe my God also, and thou shalt be excellent and great in the court of Nabuchodonosor, and thy name shalbe spoken of in all the lande.

¶ The .xii. Chapter.

1 Judith woulde not pollute her selfe with the meate of the Gentiles. 5 She maketh her request that she might go out by night to pray. 11 Holophernes causeth her to come to the banquet.

A 1 When commaunded he her to go in where his treasure lay, and charged that she shoulde haue her dwellyng there, and appoynted what shoulde be geuen her from his table.
2 Judith aunswered him, and saide: As for the meate that thou hast commaunded to geue me, I may not eate of it as now, lest I displease my God: but wyll eate of such as I haue brought with me.
3 Then saide Holophernes vnto her: If these thinges that thou hast brought with thee fayle, what shall we do vnto thee?
4 And Judith saide: As thy soule lyueth my Lorde, thy handmayden shall not spend all this, tyl God hath brought to passe in my hande the thinges that I haue deuised. So his seruauntes brought her into the tent whereas he had appoynted.
5 And as she was going in, she desired that she might haue leaue to go forth by night and before day to her prayer, and to make intercession vnto the Lord.
6 Then commaunded Holophernes his chamberlaynes, that she should go out and in at her pleasure, to pray vnto God those three dayes.
B 7 And so in the night season she went forth into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in the well water.
8 And comming vp, she besought the Lorde God of Israel that he woulde prosper her way for the deliueraunce of his people.
9 And so she went in, & remayned cleane in her tent, tyll she toke her meate in the euening.
10 Upon the fourth day it came to passe that Holophernes made a supper vnto his seruauntes, and saide vnto Vagao his chamberlayne: Go thy way, & counsell this Hebrueesse, that she may be wylling to consent to kepe company with me:
11 For it were a shame vnto all the Assyrians, that a woman shoulde so laugh a man to scorne, that she were come from him vnmedled withall.
12 Then went Vagao vnto Judith, and saide: Let not the good daughter be afrayde to come in to my lorde, that she may be honoured before him, that she may eate and drinke wine and be mery with him.
C 13 Unto whom Judith aunswered: who am I, that I shoulde say my lorde nay:
14 whatsoeuer is good and best before his eyes, I shal do it: and looke what is his pleasure, that shall I thinke well done as long as I lyue.
15 So she stoode vp, and deckt her selfe with her apparell, and went in & stoode before him.
16 And Holophernes heart was whole moued: for he brent in desire towarde her.
17 And Holophernes saide vnto her: Drinke nowe and sit downe & be mery, for thou hast founde fauour before me.
18 Then saide Judith: Syr, I wyll drinke, for my minde is meryer to day then euer it was in all my lyfe.
D 16 And she toke, and did eate, and drinke before him, the thinges that her mayden had prepared for her.
20 And Holophernes was mery with her, and dranke more wine then euer he did afore in his lyfe.

¶ The .xiii. Chapter.

7 Iudith prayeth for strength. 10 She smyteth of Holopherues head. 12 She returneth to Bethulia, and reioyceth her people.

A[1] NOw when it was late in the night, his seruauntes made haste euery man to his lodging: And Vagao shut the chamber doores, & went his way:

Ecclesiasticus. 2 * For they were al ouerladen with wine.

3 So was Iudith alone in the chamber.

4 As for Holophernes he lay vpon the bed [all drunken] and of very drunckennesse fell asleepe.

5 Then commaunded Iudith her mayden to stande without before the doore and to wayte.

6 And Iudith stoode before the bed, making her prayer with teares, & moued her lyppes secretly,

B 7 And saide: Strengthen me O Lorde God of Israel, and haue respect vnto the workes of myne handes in this houre, that thou mayest set vp thy citie of Hierusalem lyke as thou hast promysed: And graunt that I may performe the thing, which in hope that it may be done by thee, I haue deuised.

8 And when she had spokē this, she went to the piller that was at Holophernes beddes head, and loosed his sword that hanged vpon it, and drewe it out:

9 And when she had taken it out of the scabberd, she tooke holde of the heery lockes of his head, and sayde: Strengthen me O Lorde God in this houre.

10 And with that she gaue him two strokes vpon the necke, & * smote of his head: Then tooke she the canape away from the pillers, and roulled the dead body aside. i. Reg. 17. g.

11 Immediatly she gat her foorth, and deliuered the head of Holophernes vnto her mayden, and bad her put it in her wallet.

12 And so these two went foorth together after their custome, as though they would pray: and so passed by the hoast, and came about through the valley vnto the porte of the citie.

C

13 And Iudith cryed a farre of vnto the watchmen vpon the walles: Open the gates [saide she] for God is with vs which hath shewed his power in Israel.

14 And when they heard her voyce, they called the elders of the citie [together.]

15 And they came all to meete her, litle & great, young & olde: for they thought not that she should haue come so soone.

16 So they lighted candels, and gathered about her euery one: but she went vp into an high place, and cauſed ſcilence to be proclaymed.

17 And when euery man now held his peace, Judith ſaide: O prayſe the Lord our God, for he hath not deſpiſed nor forſaken them that put their truſt in him:

18 And in me his handmayden he hath performed his mercy, which he promiſed vnto the houſe of Iſrael: yea, in my hand this ſame night hath he ſlaine the enemie of his people.

D 19 And with that ſhe tooke forth the head of Holophernes out of the wallet, and ſhewed it them, ſaying: Behold the head of Holophernes the captayne of the armie of the Aſſyrians, and this is his canapie wherin he lay in his drunkennes, where the Lord our God hath ſlaine him by the hande of a woman.

20 But as the Lorde liueth, his angell hath kept me going thither, remayning there, and comming hither againe from thence: And the Lorde hath not ſuffred me his handmayden to be defiled, but without any defiling of ſinne hath he brought me againe vnto you: and that with great victorie, ſo that I am eſcaped, and ye deliuered.

2 O geue thankes vnto him euery one, for he is gratious, and his mercy endureth for euer.

22 So they prayſed the Lorde altogether [and gaue thankes vnto him,] and to her they ſaide: The Lorde hath bleſſed thee in his power, for through thee he hath brought our enemies to naught.

23 And Oſias the chiefe ruler of the people of Iſrael ſaide vnto her: Bleſſed art thou of the Lorde the high God, aboue all women vpon earth.

24 Bleſſed be the Lorde the maker of heauen and earth, which hath guided thee aright to wounde and to ſmyte of the head of the captayne of our enemies.

25 For this day he hath made thy name ſo honorable, that thy prayſe ſhall neuer come out of the mouth of men which ſhal alway remember the power of the Lord, ſeeing thou haſt not ſpared thyne owne ſelfe [but put thee in ieopardie] conſidering the anguiſhe and trouble of thy people: and ſo haſt helped their fall before God our Lorde.

26 And all the people ſaid, Amen, Amen.

27 Achior alſo was called, and he came: E Then ſaid Judith vnto him, The God of Iſrael, vnto whom thou gaueſt witneſſe that he would be auenged of his enemies, euen he hath this night through my hande ſmitten of the head of all the vnfaithfull.

28 And that thou mayſt ſee that it ſo is, behold this is the head of Holophernes, which in his preſumptuous pride deſpiſed the God of the people of Iſrael, and threatened thee with deſtruction, ſaying, when the people of Iſrael is taken, I ſhall cauſe thee alſo to be ſtickt with the ſword.

29 When Achior ſaw Holophernes head, he fell downe vpon his face to the grounde for very anguiſhe and feare, ſo that he ſowned withall.

30 But after that he was come againe to him ſelfe, he fell downe before her, and prayſed her, ſaying:

31 Bleſſed art thou of thy God in all the tabernacles of Jacob: for all the people that heare of thy name, ſhall prayſe the God of Iſrael, becauſe of thee.

The .xiiij. Chapter.

1 Judith cauſeth to hang vp the head of Holophernes. 6 Achior toyneth him ſelfe to the people of God. 7 The Iſraelites go out againſt the Aſſyrians.

A 1 JUdith ſaide vnto al the people, Brethren heare me:* Sticke vp this head vpon our walles, 2 And when the ſunne aryſeth, take euery man his weapon, and fall out violently: not as though ye would go beſide them, but to runne vpon them with violence.

* 1. Machab. 5. e.

3 When the ſpies ſee this, they ſhall of neceſſitie be compelled to flee backward, and to rayſe vp their captayne to the battaile.

4 So when their captaynes come into Holophernes pauilion, and finde the dead body wrapped in the blood, fearefulneſſe ſhall fall vpon them:

5 And when ye perceaue that they flee, folowe them without all care, for God ſhall * deliuer them vnto you to be deſtroyed.

* Or, the Lorde ſhall breake them vnder your feete.

6 Then

6 Then Achior seing the power of God which he had shewed vnto the people of Israel, fell of from his heathenishe beliefe, and put his trust in God, and let him selfe be circumcized, and so was he numbred among the people of Israel, he and all his posteritie vnto this day.

7 Now assoone as it was day, they stickt vp Holophernes head vpon the walles, and euery man tooke his weapon, and so they went out with an horrible crye.

8 When the spies saw that, they ranne vnto Holophernes tent.

9 And they that were within the tent, came before his chamber and made a great rustling by art, that Holophernes might awake, not by stirring him vp, but by their noyse.

10 For there durst not one of the Assyrians knocke, go in, or open.

11 But when the captaynes and princes and all the chiefe in the king of the Assyrians hoast came together, they said vnto the chamberlaynes:

12 Go your way in, and wake him vp: for the myce are crept out of their holes, and dare prouoke vs vnto battayle.

13 Then went Vagao into his chamber, stoode before the " bed, and clapped with his handes: for he thought he had ben sleeping with Judith. C " Or, curtaine.

14 But when he hearkened perfectly with his eares, and coulde perceaue no stirring, he went nyer to the " bed and lift it vp, and when he sawe the dead body of Holophernes lying there without a head weltred in his blood vpon the earth, he cryed with a loude voyce, and with weeping rent his clothes,

" Or, curtaine.

15 And went into Judiths tent, and founde her not.

16 And so he lept out vnto the people, and saide: One woman of the Jewes, hath brought al Nabuchodonosors people to shame: For lo, Holophernes lyeth vpon the grounde and hath no head.

17 When the chiefe of the Assyrians hoast heard that, they rent their clothes, and there fell an intollerable feare and trembling vpon them: so that their mindes were sore afrayd.

18 And there was an exceeding great crye in " the whole hoast.

" Or, middest of the hoast.

¶ The .xv. Chapter.

1 The Assyrians are afrayd and flee. 6 The Israelites pursue them. 9 Joachim the hie priest commeth to Bethulia to see Judith, and to prayse God for her.

A 1 NOw when al the hoast heard that Holophernes was beheaded, their minde & counsell fel from them: and being amased with feare onely and trembling, they saued them selues by fleeing away,

2 One spake not to another, but hanged downe their heades, left all behinde thē, and made haste to escape from the Hebrues: for they heard that they were hasting to come after with their weapons, and so they fled by the wayes of the fieldes, and through all the foote pathes of the " dales.

Or, vnder.

3 And when the children of Israel saw that they fled, they followed vpon them: and went downe with trumpettes, blowyng and making a great crye after them.

4 As for the Assyrians they had no order, and kept not them selues together, but fled their way: Neuertheless, the children of Israel fell vpon them with one company and order, and discomfited as many as they might get.

5 And Ozias sent messengers vnto all the cities and countries of Israel.

6 So all the regions and euery citie sent out their best men after them in harnesse, and smote them with the sworde, till they came to the vttermost parte of their borders.

7 And the other that were in Bethulia came into the tentes of the Assyrians, and tooke all that they which were fled had left behinde them, & so they founde great good. B

8 And they that came againe to Bethulia from the battaile, tooke with them such thinges as had ben theirs: there was no number of the cattaile and of all costly iewels, so that from the lowest vnto the hiest, they were all made rich of the spoyles of them.

9 And Joachim the hie priest came from Hierusalem to Bethulia with al the elders, that they might see Judith.

10 Now when she came out vnto them, they they began all to prayse her with one voyce, saying: Thou worship of the citie of Hierusalem, thou ioy of Israel, thou honour of our people.

11 Because thou hast done manly, and thy heart is comforted, & for that thou hast loued cleanlinesse and chastitie, and hast knowen no man but thyne owne husband: therefore hath the hand of the Lorde comforted thee, and blessed shalt thou be for euer.

12 And all the people saide: So be it, So be it.

13 In thirtie dayes coulde the people of Israel scarse gather vp the spoyles of the Assyrians.

14 But all that belonged vnto Holophernes, and had ben his specially (whether it were of golde, of siluer, precious stone, clothing, and all ornamentes) they gaue it vnto Judith, and it was deliuered vnto her of the people.

15 And all the people reioyced, both women, maydens, and young people, with pipes, and harpes.

¶ The .xvi. Chapter.

1 Judith prayseth God with a song. 23 She offereth to the Lorde Holophernes stuffe. 26 Her continencie, life, and death. 29 All Israel lamenteth her.

A 1 Then sang Judith this 2 song vnto the Lorde, saying:

Beginne vnto the Lorde vpon the tabrettes, sing vnto the Lorde vpon the cymbales, O sing vnto him a newe song of thankes geuing, be ioyfull and call vpon his name.

3 It is the Lord that destroyeth warres, euen the Lorde is his name.

4 Which hath pitched his tentes in the middest of his people, that he might deliuer vs from the hand of al our enemies.

5 Assur came out of the mountaines of the north in the multitude of his strength: his people stopped the water brookes, and their horses couered the valleyes.

" Or, borders. 6 He purposed to haue brent vp my "land, and to slay my young men with the sword.

B 7 He woulde haue caried away my children and virgins into captiuitie, but the almightie Lorde hindred him, and deliuered him into the handes of a woman, " Which brought him to confusion.

" Or, which did stricke him through. 8 For their mightie was not destroyed of the young men, it it was not the sonnes of Titan that slue him, neither haue the great giauntes set them selues against him: but Judith the daughter of Merari with her faire beautie hath discomfited him, [and brought him to naught.]

9 For she layed away her wydowes garment, and put on the apparell of gladnesse to the reioycing of the children of Israel.

10 She annoynted her face with oyntment & bounde vp her heere in a coyffe, and tooke a newe stole to beguile him.

11 Her slippers rauished his eyes, her beautie captiuated his mind, with the sword smote she of his necke. C

12 The Persians were astonied at her stedfastnesse, & the Medes at her boldenesse.

13 Then howled the armies of the Assyrians, when my simples appeared, drye of thirst.

14 The sonnes of the daughters haue pearsed them through, and slaine them as fugitiue children: they perished in the battaile, " for the very feare of the Lord my God. " Or, from the face

15 Let vs sing a song of thankesgeuing vnto the Lorde, a newe song of prayse wyll we sing vnto our God.

16 Lorde, Lorde thou art a great God, mightie in power, whom no man may ouercome.

17 All thy creatures must serue thee: * For thou spakest but the worde, and they were made, thou sentest thy spirite, and they were created, and no man can withstand thy voyce. * Gene.i. Psalm.33.b.

18 The mountaynes shall moue from the foundations with the waters, the stony rockes shall melt before thee like ware.

19 But they that feare thee, shalbe great D with thee in all thinges.

20 Woo vnto the people that rise vp against my generation: for the almightie Lorde wyll auenge him selfe of them, and in the day of iudgement wyll he visite thē.

21 For

D 21 For he shall geue fire and wormes in their flesshe, that they may burne and feele it for euermore.
22 After this it happened, that after the victorie all the people came to Hierusalem, to geue prayse and thankes vnto the Lorde: And when they were purified, they offred all their burnt sacrifices and their vowes, and their promised offeringes.
23 And Judith offered all Holophernes weapons [and all the iewels] that the people had geuen her, and the canapie that she toke from his bed, and hanged them vp " vnto the Lorde.
24 The people were toyfull as the vse is:
and this ioy with Judith, by reason of the victorie, endured three monethes.
25 So after these dayes euery man went home againe, and Judith was in great reputation at Bethulia, and right honourably taken in al the land of Israel.
26 Unto her vertue also was chastitie ioyned, so that after her husbande Ma-nasses dyed, she neuer knewe man all the dayes of her life.
27 Upon the hye solempne dayes she went out with great worship.
28 She dwelt in her husbandes house an hundred and fiue yeres, and left her handmayden Abra free,
29 And dyed, and was buried beside her husbande in Bethulia: And all the people mourned for her seuen dayes.
30 So long as she liued, there was none that troubled Israel, and many yeres also after her death.
31 The day wherein this victorie was gotten, was solemply holden, & recke-ned of the Jewes in the number of the holy dayes, and it is yet greatly holden of the Jewes euer since, vnto this day.

¶ The dreame of Mardocheus.

A 1 MArdocheus the sonne of Jari, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis of the tribe of Beniamin,
2 A Jewe, which had his dwelling in the citie of Susis, a man of great reputation, and excellent among all them that were in the kynges court.
3 Neuertheless, he was one of the prisoners whom Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babylon had caryed away from Hierusalem vnto Babylon, with Jechonias the kyng of Juda.
4 In the seconde yere of the raigne of great Artaxerxes, in the first day of the moneth Nisan, had this Mardocheus suche a dreame.
5 He thought he heard a great tempest, horrible thunderclappes, earthquakes,
and great vproze in the lande,
6 And that he sawe two great dragons redie to fight one against another.
7 Their crye was great: At the whiche B roaring & crye, all the heathen were vp to fight against the righteous people.
8 And the same day was full of darke-nesse and very vncleare, full of trouble and anguishe, yea a great fearefulnesse was there in the lande.
9 The righteous were amased, for they feared the plague and euyll that was deuised ouer them, and were at a poynt with them selues to dye: So they cryed vnto God.
10 And whyle they were crying, the litle well grewe into a great riuer, and into many waters.
11 And with that it was day, and the sunne rose vp agayne: And the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious and proude.
12 Nowe when Mardocheus had seene this dreame, he awoke, & mused stedfast-ly in his heart what God would do, and so he desired to knowe al the matter, and his mind was therupon vntil night.

¶ The. xij. Chapter.

¶ Mardocheus vttereth the treason deuised against the kyng, and is therefore rewarded of hym.

A 1 AT the same tyme dwelt Mardocheus with Bagatha and Thara in the kynges court, the kynges chamberlaynes and porters of the palace.

2 But when he hearde their deuice, and had diligently considered their imaginations, he perceaued that they went about to lay their [cruell] handes vpon the kyng Artaxerxes, and so he certified the kyng thereof.

3 Then caused the kyng to examine the two * gelded with tormentes: And when they had graunted it, they were put to death.

* Or, chamberlaynes.

4 This the kyng caused to be put in the Chronicles for an euerlasting remembraunce, and Mardocheus wrote vp the same matter. B

5 So the king commaunded that Mardocheus shoulde remayne in the court, and for this faythfulnes of his he gaue hym a rewarde.

6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Agagite, whiche was holden in great honour and reputation in the kynges court, vndertoke to hurt Mardocheus and his people, because of the two chamberlaynes that were put to death.

The. xiij. Chapter.

1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes agaynst the Jewes. 9 The prayer of Mardocheus.

A 1 THe great kyng Artaxerxes, whiche raigneth from India vnto Ethiopia ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen landes, sendeth his frendly salutation vnto all the princes and deputies of the countrey, whiche be subiect vnto his dominion.

2 When I was made lorde ouer many people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, my minde was not with crueltie and wrong to exalt my selfe by the reason of my power: but purposed with equitie alway and gentlenes to gouerne those that be vnder my iurisdiction, and wholly to set them in a peaceable lyfe, and thereby to bryng my kyngdome vnto tranquilitie, that men might safely go thorowe on euery side, and to renue peace agayne, whiche all men desire.

3 Nowe when I asked my counsellours howe these thinges myght be brought to a good ende, there was one by vs excellent in wisdome, whose good wyll, trueth, and faythfulnesse hath oft ben shewed and proued (whiche was also the principall and next vnto the kyng) Aman by name,

4 whiche certified vs, howe that in all landes there was scattered abrode a rebellious folke, that made statutes and lawes against all other people, & haue alway despised the proclaymed commaundementes of kynges, and howe that for this cause it were not to be suffred, that suche rule should continue by you, and not to be put downe.

5 Seeing nowe we perceaue the same, that this people alone are contrary vnto euery man, vsing straunge and other maner of lawes, and withstande our statutes and doynges, and go about to stablyshe shrewde matters, that our kyngdome shoulde neuer come to good estate [and stedfastnesse:]

6 Therefore haue we commaunded, that all they that are appointed in wryting and shewed vnto you by Aman, whiche is ordayned and set ouer all our landes, and the most principall next vnto the kyng, and in maner as a father: shall with their wiues and chyldren be destroyed & rooted out with the swerde of their enemies and aduersaries, and that there shalbe no mercy shewed, and no man spared: And this shalbe done the fourteenth day of the moneth called Adad of this yere.

7 That they whiche of olde and nowe also

25 also, haue euer ben rebellious, may in one day with violence be thrust downe into the hell, to the intent that after this maner our empire may haue peace and tranquilitie.

8 But Mardocheus thought vpon all the workes & noble actes of the Lorde, and made his prayer vnto him, 9 Saying: O Lorde, Lorde, thou valiaunt and almightie king, for all thinges are in thy power: and if thou wilt helpe and deliuer Israel, there is no man that can withstande nor let thee.

10 For thou hast made heauen and earth, and what wonderous thing soeuer is vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lorde of all thinges, and there is no man that can resist thy maiestie O Lorde.

12 Thou knowest all thinges, thou wotest Lorde that it was neither of malice nor presumption, nor for any desire of glory, that I would not bow downe my selfe nor worship yonder proude presumptious Aman:

13 For I woulde haue ben content, and that with good wyll, if it might haue done Israel any good, to haue kist euen his footesteppes.

14 But that I did it because I woulde not set the honour of a man in the steede of the glory of God, & because I would worship none but only thee my Lorde: and this haue I done in no pryde nor presumption. ℭ

15 And therfore O Lord, thou God and kyng, haue mercy vpon thy people, for they imagine howe they may bring vs to naught, yea their minde and desire is to destroy and to ouerthrowe thy people that hath euer ben thyne inheritaunce of olde.

16 O despise not thy portion which thou hast deliuered & brought out of Egypt for thyne owne selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and be mercifull vnto thy people whom thou hast chosen for an heritage vnto thy selfe: Turne our complaynt and sorow into ioy, that we may liue O Lorde and prayse thy name: O Lord suffer not the mouthes of them that praise thee, to be destroyed.

18 All the people of Israel in like maner cryed as earnestly as they coulde vnto the Lorde, for their death and destruction stoode before their eyes.

¶ The.xiiij. Chapter.

ℭ The prayer of Hester, for the deliueraunce of her and her people.

A 1 Oryera.

1 Queene Hester also beyng in the battayle of death, resorted vnto the Lorde,

2 Layde away her glorious apparell, and put on the garmentes that serued for sighing and mourning: In the steede of precious oyntment, she scattered ashes and dounge vpon her head: and as for her body, she humbled it with fasting, and brought it very low: All the places where she was wont to haue ioy afore, those fild she with her owne heere that she pluckt of.

3 She prayed also vnto the Lorde God of Israel with these wordes: O my Lorde, thou only art our kyng, helpe me desolate woman, whiche haue no helper but thee.

4 For my miserie and destruction is harde at my hande.

5 Fro my youth vp I haue hearde out of the kinred of my father, that thou tookest Israel from among all people, and so haue our fathers of their forefathers, that they shoulde be thy perpetuall inheritaunce, and looke what thou didst promise them, thou hast made it good vnto them.

6 Nowe Lorde we haue sinned before thee, therefore hast thou geuen vs into the handes of our enemies,

7 Because we worshipped their gods: Lorde thou art righteous. B

8 Neuertheless it satisfieth them not that we are in bitter and heauie captiuitie and oppressed among them, but thou hast layde their handes vpon the handes of their gods.

9 So that they begin to take away the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordayned and appoynted, to destroy thine inheritaunce, to shut and to stop the mouthes of them that prayse thee, to quench the glory and worship of thy house and thyne aulter:

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may prayse the power and vertue of the gods, and to magnifie the fleshly kyng for euer.

11 O Lorde geue not thy scepter vnto them that be nothing, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our miserie and fall: but turne their deuice vpon them selues, and punishe hym that hath begun the same ouer vs, and set hym to an example.

12 Thinke vpon vs O Lord, and shewe thy selfe vnto vs in the tyme of our distresse and of our trouble: strength me O thou kyng of Gods, thou Lorde of all power, 13 Geue me an eloquent and pleasaunt speache in my mouth before the lion: Turne his heart into the hate of our enemies, to destroy him, and all such as consent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs with thy hande, and helpe me thy handmayde, which haue no defence nor helper but onlye the Lorde.

15 Thou knowest all thinges, thou wotest that I loue not the glory and worship of the vnrighteous, and that I hate and abhorre the bed of the vncircumcised, and of all heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessitie, that I hate the token of my preeminence and worship, which I beare vpon my head what tyme as I must shewe my selfe and be seene, and that I abhorre it as an vncleane cloth, and that I weare it not when I am quiet and alone by my selfe.

17 Thou knowest also that I thy handmayden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delight in the kinges feast, that I haue not dronke the wine of the drinke offeringes.

18 And that I thy handmayden haue no ioy since the day that I was brought hyther vnto this day, but only in thee O Lorde, O thou God of Abraham, 19 O thou mightie God aboue all, heare the voyce of them that haue no other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hande of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The. xv. Chapter.

1 Mardocheus moueth Hester to go in vnto the kyng, and make intercession for her people. 9 And she performed his request.

A 1 MArdocheus also bade Hester go in vnto the kyng, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.

2 Remember (saith he) the dayes of thy lowe estate, how thou wast nourished vnder my hande: For Aman whiche is next vnto the kyng, hath geuen sentence of death against vs:

3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lorde, and speake for vs vnto the king, and deliuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the thirde day it happened that Hester layde away the mourning garmentes, and put on her glorious apparell,

5 And deckt her selfe goodly (after that she had called vpon God, Whiche is the beholder and sauiour of all thinges) [and] toke two maydens with her:

6 Vpon the one she leaned her selfe, as one that was tender:

7 The other folowed her, and bare the B trayne of her vesture.

8 The shine of her beautie made her face rose coloured, the similitude of her face was chearefull and amiable: but her heart was sorowfull for great feare.

9 She went in thorowe all the doores, and stoode before the kyng: The kyng sate vpon the trone of his kyngdome, and was clothed in his goodly aray, all shining with golde, and set with precious stones, and he was very terrible.

10 He lyft vp his face that shone in the clearnesse, and looked grimly vpon her: Then fel the Queene downe, was pale and faynte, leaned her selfe vpon the head of the mayde that went with her.

11 Neuertheless, God turned the kinges minde that he was gentle, that he leaped out of his seate for feare, and gate her in his armes, and helde her vp tyll she came to her self againe, he gaue her louing wordes also, and said vnto her:

12 Hester

12 Hester, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare:
13 Thou shalt not die, for our commaundement toucheth the commons, and not thee: Come nye.
14 And with that he held vp his golden rodde, and layde it vpon her necke.
15 And imbraced her frendly, and sayd: Talke with me.
Gen.18. 16 Then sayde she: *I sawe thee (O Lorde) as an angell of God, and my heart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie and clearnesse.
17 For excellent and wonderfull art thou O Lorde, and thy face is full of amitie.
18 But as she was thus speaking vnto hym, she fell downe agayne for fayntnesse:
19 For the whiche cause the kyng was afraide, and all his seruauntes comforted her.

¶ The. xvj. Chapter.

¶ The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he reuoketh those whiche he first sent foorth.

A 1 The great kyng Artaxerxes, whiche raigneth from India vnto Ethiopia ouer an hundreth and twentie and seuen landes, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers of the same landes, suche as loue him, his frendly salutation.
2 There be many that for the sundry frendshippes and benefites whiche are diuersly done vnto them for their worship, be euer the more proude and hye minded:
3 And vndertake not only to hurt our subiectes (for plenteous benefites may they not suffer, and begin to imagine some thing against those that do them good,
4 And take not only all vnthankfulnes away from men) but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmindfull and vnthankfull for the good deedes, they go about to escape the iudgement of God that seeth all thinges, whiche iudgement hateth and punisheth all wickednesse.
5 It happeneth oft also, that they which be set in office by the higher power, and vnto whom the businesse and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, waxe proude, and defile them selues with shedding of innocent blood, which bringeth them to intollerable hurt.
6 Whiche also with false and deceiptfull wordes and with lying tales, deceaue and betray the innocent goodnesse of princes.
7 Nowe is it profitable and good that we take heede, make searche therafter, and consider not onlye What hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shamefull, vnhonest, and noysome thinges, that the deputies haue nowe taken in hande before our eyes:
8 And thereby to beware in tyme to B come, that We make the kyngdome quiet and peaceable for all men, and that we might sometime drawe it to a chaunge.
9 And as for the thing that nowe is present before our eyes, to withstande it, and to put it downe after the most frendly maner.
10 What tyme nowe as Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian, a straunger veryly of the Persians blood, and farre from our goodnes, was come in among vs as an aliaunt,
11 And had obtayned the frendship that We beare towarde all people, so that he was called our father, and had in hye honour of euery man, as the next and principall vnto the kyng:
12 He coulde not forbeare him selfe from his pryde, hath vndertaken not only to rob vs of the kyngdome, but of our life:
13 With manyfolde deceipt also hath he desired to destroy Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, Whiche hath done vs good in all thinges, and innocent Hester the like partaker of our kyngdome, with all her people.
14 For his minde was (when he had taken them out of the way, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to translate the kyngdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we finde that the Jewes (which were accused of the wicked that they might be destroyed) are no euyll doers, but vse reasonable and right lawes:

16 And that they be the chyldren of the most high liuing God, by whom the kyngdome of vs and of our progentitours hath ben well ordered hytherto.

17 Wherefore, as for the letters and commaundementes that were put forth by Aman the sonne of Amadathu, ye shall do well if ye holde them of none effect:

18 For he that set them vp and inuented them, hangeth at Susis before the port, with all his kinred: and God whiche hath all thinges in his power, hath rewarded hym after his deseruing.

19 And vpon this ye shall publishe and set vp the copie of this letter in all places, that the Jewes may freely and without hinderaunce holde them selues after their owne statutes:

20 And that they may be helped, and that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may be auenged of them whiche in the tyme of their anguishe and trouble would haue oppressed them.

21 For the God that gouerneth all thinges, hath turned to ioy the day wherein the chosen people shoulde haue perished. D

22 Moreouer, among the hye solempne dayes that ye haue, ye shall holde this day also with all gladnesse:

23 That nowe and in tyme to come this day may be a remembraunce of good for all such as lone the prosperitie of the Persians: but a remembraunce of destruction to those that be seditious vnto vs.

24 All cities and landes that do not this, shall horribly perishe and be destroyed with the sworde and fire, and shall not only be no more inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wylde beastes and foules.

The ende of the rest of the booke of Hester.

The wysdome of Solomon.

The first Chapter.

1 Howe we ought to searche and inquire after God. 2 Who be those that finde hym. 5 The holy ghost. 8. 11 We ought to flee from backbiting and murmuring. 12 Whereof death commeth. 15 Righteousnesse and vnrighteousnesse.

A 1 LOue righteousnesse ye that be iudges of ỹ earth, consider deepely of the Lorde in goodnesse, and seeke hym in singlenesse of heart:

2 For he wyll be founde of them that tempt hym not, and appeareth vnto such as put no distrust in hym.

3 For wicked thoughtes seperate from God, and [his] power When it is "tryed, reproueth the vnwise. "Or, tempted.

4 For Why? Wysdome shall not enter into a wicked soule, nor dwell in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.

5 For the holy spirite of discipline fleeth from deceipt, and withdraweth hym selfe from thoughtes that are without vnderstanding, and is declared When wickednesse commeth.

6 For the spirite of Wysdome is louing, and will not absolue hym that blasphemeth with his lippes, for God is Witnesse of his raynes, and a true beholder of his heart, & an hearer of his tongue.

B 7 For the spirite of the Lorde filleth the rounde compasse of the worlde, and the same that vpholdeth all thinges hath knowledge also of the voyce.

8 Therfore he that speaketh vnrighteous thinges can not be hid, neither shall the iudgement of reprofe let him escape.

9 And Why? inquisition shalbe made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the sounde of his wordes shall come vnto God, so that his Wickednesse shalbe punished.

10 For the eare of ielousie heareth all thinges, & the noyse of the grudginges shall not be hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring Whiche is nothing worth, and refraine your tongne from sclaunder: For there is no worde so secrete that it shall go for naught, and the mouth that speaketh lyes, slayeth the soule.

12 O seeke not your owne death in the errour of your lyfe, destroy not your selues thorowe the workes of your owne handes:

13 For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuing: C

14 For he created all thinges that they might haue their being, and the "generations of the worlde were healthfull, and there is no poyson of destruction in them, nor the kyngdome of hell vpon the earth. "Or, beginninges.

15 For righteousnesse is [euerlasting and] immortall: but vnrighteousnesse bringeth death.

16 Neuertheless, the vngodly call "it vnto them both with workes and wordes, and Whyle they thinke to haue it their friende, they come to naught, & they haue made an agreement With it, for they are worthy to be of her part. "Or, to wit, death.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

The imaginations and desires of the wicked, and their counsayle against the faythfull.

A 1 FOr the vngodly say reasoning with them selues but not a right, our life is short and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedie, neither is there any man knowen to haue returned from the graue.

2 For we are borne at all aduenture, and we shalbe here by more fortune after, as though we had neuer ben: for our breath is as a smoke in our nosetrilles, and wordes as a sparke raysed out of our heartes:

3 whiche being extinquished, our body shalbe turned into ashes, and our spirite shall vanishe as the soft ayre.

4 Our life shall passe away as the trace of a cloude, and come to naught as the mist that is driuen away with the beames of the sunne, and put downe with the heate thereof: Our name also shalbe forgotten by litle and litle, and no man shall haue our workes in remembraunce.

5 For our tyme is a very shadowe that passeth away, and after our ende there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth agayne.

6 Come on therefore, let vs enioy the pleasures that are present, and let vs chearefully vse the creatures, like as in youth:

B 7 Let vs fill our selues with good wine and oyntment, and let there no flowre of the tyme escape vs:

8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose buddes, afore they be withered:

(a) This sentence of the medowe is not in the greke. 9 (a) Let there be no fayre medowe, but our lust go thorowe it. Let euery one of vs be partakers of our volupteousnes, let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in euery place: for that is our portion, and this [only] our lot.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore righteous, let vs not spare the wydowe nor olde man, let vs not regarde the heades that are gray for age.

11 Let the lawe of vnrighteousnesse be our strength: for the thing that is feeble is nothing worth.

12 Therefore let vs defraude the righteous, and why? he is not for our profite, yea he is cleane contrary to our doinges, he checketh vs for offending against the lawe, and slaundereth the faultes of our maner of liuing.

13 He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God, yea he calleth hym selfe Gods sonne.

14 He is made vnto vs for reproffe of our thoughtes. C

15 It greeueth vs also to looke vpon him, for his life is not like other mens, his wayes are of another fashion.

16 He counteth vs but " vayne persons, he withdraweth hym selfe from our wayes as from filthynes, he commendeth greatly the latter ende of the iust, and maketh his boast that God is his father. " Or, counterfaite coyne.

17 Let vs see then if his wordes be true, let vs proue what shall happen in the ende of hym.

18 For if the iust man be the sonne of god, he wyll receaue hym, and deliuer hym from the handes of his enemies.

19 Let vs examine him with despitefull rebuke and tormenting, that we may know his meekenesse, and proue his pacience.

20 Let vs condempne him with the most shamefull death: for as him selfe saith, he shalbe rewarded [of God.]

21 Suche thinges do they imagine, and go astray, for their owne wickednesse hath blinded them.

22 As for the mysteries of God, they vnderstande them not, they neither hope for the rewarde of righteousnesse, nor regarde the worship that holy soules shall haue.

23 For God created man to be vndestroyed, yea after the * image of his owne lykenes made he hym. Gen.iiii.b.

24 Neuertheless, thorowe enuie of the deuyll came death into the worlde, and they that helde of his side do finde it.

¶ The

The.iij.Chapter.

1 The conseruation and assuraunce of the ryghteous. 7 The rewarde of the faythfull. 11 Who are miserable.

A 1 BUt the soules of the ryghteous are in the hande of God, & there shal no torment touche them.

2 In the syght of the vnwise they appeared to die, & their ende is taken for miserie,

3 And their departyng from vs to be vtter destruction: but they are in rest.

4 For though they suffer payne before men, yet is their hope full of immortalitie.

5 They are punished but in few thinges, neuertheless in many thinges shal they be well rewarded: for God proueth thē, and findeth them meete for hym selfe.

6 As golde in the furnace doth he trye them, and receaueth them as a burnt offeryng: and when the tyme commeth they shalbe loked vpon.

B 7 They shall shyne and runne through as the sparkles among the stubble.

8 They shal iudge the nations and haue dominion ouer the people: and their Lorde shall raigne for euer.

9 They that put their trust in him shall vnderstande the trueth, and such as be faythfull shall perseuer with hym in loue: for his saintes haue grace & mercie, and he hath care for his elected.

10 But the vngodly shalbe punished accordyng to their owne imaginations, for they haue dispised the righteous, and forsaken the Lorde.

11 For who so dispiseth wisdome and nurture he is " vnhappy, and as for the hope of such it is but bayne, their labours vnfruitfull, and their workes vnprofitable.

" Or, discipline.
" Or, he is miserable.

12 Their wyues are vndiscrete, and their children most vngodly.

13 Their ofspryng [or progenie] is cursed: wherfore blessed is the barren that is vndefiled, which hath not knowen the sinnefull bed, she shall haue fruite in the visitation of soules,

14 And the gelded which with his handes hath wrought no vnrighteousnesse, nor imagined wicked thinges agaynst God: for vnto hym shalbe geuen the speciall gyft of fayth, and the most acceptable portion in the temple of God. C

15 For glorious is the fruite of good labour, and the roote of wisdome shall neuer fade away.

16 As for the children of adulterers they shall not come to a perfect ende, and the seede of an vnryghteous bedde shalbe rooted out.

17 And though they lyue long, yet shall they be nothyng regarded, and their last age shalbe without honour.

18 If they dye quickly they haue no hope, neither comfort in the day of inquirie.

19 For horrible is the ende of the vnryghteous generation.

The .iiij. Chapter.

1 Of vertue and the commoditie therof. 10 The death of the ryghteous, and the condempnation of the vnfaythfull.

A 1 HOwe faire is a chaste generation with vertue: the memoriall therof is immortall: for it is knowen with God and with men.

2 When it is present, men take example at it, & if it go away, yet they desire it: it is crowned and euer triumpheth, when it hath wunne the rewarde of the vndefiled battayles.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly aboundyng in children, shall profite nothyng, nor geue deepe roote by the seede of adulterie, nor lay any fast foundatiō.

4 For though they budde foorth in the braunches for a tyme, yet shall they be shaken with the wynde, for they stande not fast: and through the vehemencie of the wynde they shalbe rooted out.

5 The vnperfect braunches shalbe broken, their fruite shalbe vnprofitable, & sowre to eate, yea meete for nothyng.

6 And why? all the children that are borne of the wicked bed, must beare recorde of the wickednesse agaynst their fathers them that loue her, and founde of such as seke her.

14 She preuenteth them that desire her, that she may shewe her selfe vnto them.

15 Who so awaketh vnto her betymes, shall haue no great trauayle: for he shal fynde her sittyng redy at his doores.

16 To thynke therfore vpon her, is perfect vnderstandyng: and who so watcheth for her, shall quickly be dispatched of care.

17 For she goeth about sekyng such as are meete for her, sheweth her selfe chearefully vnto thē in "their goynges, and meeteth them with "all diligence.

"Or, in their wayes.
"Or, curyy thought.

18 For the vnfaigned desire of "reformation is her begynnyng: to care for nurture is loue,

"Or, discipline.

19 And loue is the kepyng of her lawes, and the kepyng of her lawes is the assuraunce of immortalitie:

20 And immortalitie maketh a man familier with God.

21 And so the desire of wisdome leadeth to the kyngdome [euerlastyng.] D

22 If your delyght be then in royall seates and scepters (O ye kynges of the people) set your "lust vpon Wisdome, that ye may raigne for euermore.

"Or, honour

23 O loue the lyght of Wisdome all ye that be rulers of the people.

This verse is only in the olde interpretacion.

24 As for Wisdome, what she is & howe she came vp, I wyll tell you, and wyll not hyde the mysteries of [God] from you: but wyll seke her out from the begynnyng of her natiuitie, and bryng the knowledge of her into lyght, and wyll not kepe backe the trueth, 25 Neither wyll I haue to do with consumyng enuie: for such a man shall not be partaker of Wisdome.

26 But the multitude of the wise, is the welfare of the worlde: and a wise kyng is the "vpholdyng of the people.

"Or, stay.

27 O receaue nurture then through my wordes, and it shall do you good.

The.vij.Chapter.

Wisdome ought to be preferred aboue all thynges.

1 I My selfe also am a mortall man, lyke as all other, & am come of the earthy generation of hym that was first made,

2 And in my mothers wombe was fashoned to be flesh in the tyme of tenne monethes, beyng brought together in blood, through the seede of man, and the pleasure that came with sleepe.

3 And when I was borne I receaued lyke ayre as other men, and fell vpon the earth which is of like nature, crying and weeping at the first as all other do.

4 I was wrapped in swadlyng clothes, and brought vp with cares.

5 For there is no kyng that hath had any other begynnyng of birth.

6 All men then haue one entraunce vnto lyfe, and one goyng out in lyke maner.

B 7 Wherfore I desired, and vnderstandyng was geuen me: I called, and the spirite of Wisdome came into me.

8 I set more by her then by kingdomes and royal seates, and counted riches nothyng in comparison of her.

9 As for pretious stone, I compared it not vnto her: for all golde is but a litle grauell vnto her, and siluer shalbe counted but clay before her syght.

10 I loued her aboue "welfare & beautie, and purposed to take her for my lyght: for her lyght can not be quenched.

"Or, health.

11 All good thynges together came to me with her, and innumerable riches through her handes.

12 And I was glad in all thynges, because Wisdome went before them: and I knewe not that she was the mother of them.

13 And I my selfe learned vnfaignedly, and make other men partakers of her without enuie, and hyde her riches from no man.

14 For she is an infinite treasure vnto men: which who so vse, become partakers of the loue [and friendshyp] of God, and are accepted vnto him for the giftes of "Wisdome.

"Or, knowledge.

15 God hath graunted me to speake what my mynde conceaueth, and to thynke as is meete for the thynges that are geuen me: For it is he that leadeth vnto Wisdome, and teacheth to vse Wisdome a ryght.

16 For in his hande are both we and our wordes, wordes, yea all our wisdome and knowledge of [his] workes.

17 For he hath geuen me the true science of the thinges that are, so that I know howe the worlde was made, and the powers of the elementes:

18 The begynnyng, endyng, and myddest of the tymes, howe the tymes alter, howe one goeth after another, & howe they are fulfylled,

19 The course of the yere, the ordinaunces of the starres,

20 The natures of lyuyng thynges, the furiousnesse of beastes, the power of the wyndes, the imaginations of men, the diuersities of young plants, the vertues of rootes:

¶ 21 And all such thynges as are either secrete or manifest, them haue I learned.

22 For wisdome which is the worker of all thynges hath taught me: for in her is the spirite of vnderstandyng, which is holy, one only, manifolde, subtile, "quicke mouyng, cleare, vndefiled, plaine, sweete, louyng the thyng that is good, sharpe, which can not be letted, doyng good, in all thynges, and passyng through all vnderstanding, cleane, & subtile spirites.

24 For wisdome is nimbler then all nimble thynges, she goeth through and attayneth to all thynges, because of her cleanesse.

25 For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowing from the glorie of the almightie [God:] therfore can no defiled thyng come vnto her.

26 For she is the bryghtnesse of the euerlastyng lyght, the vndefiled mirrour of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnesse.

27 And beyng [but] one, she can do all thinges: and remaynyng in her selfe she renueth all, and in all ages of tymes entryng into holy soules, she maketh Gods friendes, and prophetes:

28 For God loueth none, if he dwell not with wisdome.

29 For she is more beautifull then the sunne, "and geueth more lyght then the starres, and the day is not to be compared vnto her.

3 That she hath the companie of God, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea the Lorde of all thynges hym selfe loueth her.

4 For she is the scoolemaistresse of the nurture of God, and the choser out of his workes.

"Or, If riches be a possession that a man woulde desire.

5 If "a man woulde desire riches in this lyfe, What is richer then wisdome that worketh all thynges:

6 For yf prudencie worke: What is it among all thynges that worketh better:

7 And yf a man loue ryghteousnesse, her labours are but vertues: For why: she teacheth soberneste and prudence, "righteousnesse and strength, which are such thinges as men can haue nothyng more profitable in their lyfe.

"Or, iustice and manhood.

8 If a man desire much "knowledge, she can tell the thynges that are past, and discerne thynges for to come: she knoweth the subtilties of wordes, and can expounde darke sentences: she foreseeth signes and wonders or euer they come to passe, and the "endes of all tymes and ages.

B "Or, much experience.

"Or, successe of tymes.

9 Therfore I purposed after this maner: I wyll take her into my companie, that she may liue with me, knowyng for certaintie she shall geue me good counsayle, and speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and griefe.

10 For her sake shall I be well [& honestly] taken among the commons, and with honour among the elders though I be young.

15 Horrible tirauntes shalbe afraide when they do but heare of me, among the multitude I shalbe counted good, and mightie in battayle.

16 When I come home I shall fynde rest with her: for her companie hath no bitternesse, and her felowshyp hath no tediousnesse, but mirth and ioy.

17 Nowe whē I considered these thinges by my selfe, and pondered them in my heart, howe that to be ioyned vnto wisdome is immortalitie, 18 And great pleasure to haue her friendshyp, and that in the workes of her handes are infinite riches, and that who so * kepeth companie with her shalbe wise, and that he which talketh with her, shall come to honour: I went about seekyng howe to get her vnto me.

19 For I was a lad of ripe witte, and had a good * vnderstandyng.

20 * But when I grewe to more vnderstandyng, I came to an vndefiled body.

21 Neuertheless when I perceaued that I coulde not enioy it except God gaue it [me] and that was a poynt of wisdome also to knowe whose gyft it was, I stepped vnto the Lorde and besought hym, and with my whole heart I sayde after this maner:

The deliueraunce of the ryghteous, and destruction of the enemies commeth through wisdome.

Genii.c. 2 *And gaue him power to rule all thynges.

Geniii.b. 3 *But when the vnrighteous went away in his wrath from her, he perished by the furious desire to murther his brother.

Geviii.b. 4 For whom when the*water destroyed the whole worlde, Wisdome agayne preserued it, her selfe gouernyng the iust man by no costly worke of wood.

Gen.xia. 5 *Moreouer, when the nations were confounded [or ioyned together] in their malicious confederacie, she founde out the righteous, and preserued hym faultlesse vnto God, and kept hym strong agaynst the loue of his sonne.

Gen.xix.f. 6 She preserued the ryghteous *when he fled from the vngodly that perished, what tyme as the fire fell downe vpon the fiue cities.

13 *When the ryghteous was solde, she forsoke hym not, but delyuered hym from sinne: She went downe with hym into the "dungeon, 14 And fayled hym not in the bandes, *till she had brought hym the scepter of the realme, and power agaynst those that oppressed hym: As for them that had accused hym, she declared them to be lyers, and brought hym to perpetuall "worshyp.

15 *She deliuered the ryghteous people and faultlesse seede, from the nations that oppressed them.

16 *She entred into the soule of the seruaunt of the Lorde, and stoode by hym in wonders and tokens agaynst the dreadfull kynges.

17 She gaue the "ryghteous the reward of their labours, and led them forth a marueylous way: on the day tyme she was a shadowe vnto them, and a lyght of starres in the nyght season.

2 The mercy of God towarde sinners. 14 The workes of God are vnreprouable.
19 God geueth leasure to repent.

A 1 FOr thy vncorruptible spirite, O Lorde, is in all thinges:

2 Therfore chastenest thou them measurably that go wrong, and warnest them by putting them in remembraunce in what thinges they haue offended, that leauing their wickednesse, they may beleue on thee O Lorde.

Deut.ix.a. xxxi.xviii.c 3 *As for those olde inhabiters of thy holy lande, thou mightest not away with them.

4 For they committed abhominable workes [against thee] as witchcraft, sorcerie, and wicked sacrifices.

5 They slue their owne chyldren without mercy, they dyd eate vp the bowels of mens flesche, and deuoured the blood in abhominable bankets, and had their mad fanaticall priestes:

6 And the fathers were the chiefe murderers of the soules destitute of helpe, [these doers] thou wouldest destroy by the handes of our fathers:

B 7 That the lande whiche thou louest aboue all other, might be a meete dwelling for the chyldren of God.

8 Neuertheless, thou sparedst them also as men, and sendedst the forerunners of thyne hoast, euen hornettes, to destroy them out by litle and litle.

9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battayle, or with cruell beastes, or with one rough worde to destroy them together:

Exo.xxiii.d. Deut.vii.d. 10 *But thy mynde was in punishing them by litle & litle, to geue them place for amendement, knowing well that it was an vnrighteous nation, and wicked of nature, and that their thought might neuer be altered.

11 For it was a cursed seede from the beginning: yet hast thou not pardoned their sinnes wherein they offended, for that thou fearest any man.

12 For who will stand against thy iudgement: or who wyll blame thee for the nations that perishe, whom thou hast made: or who wyll come before thy face to be reuenged for the vnrighteous men:

13 For there is none other God but thou, *that carest for all thinges: that thou mayest declare howe that thy iudgement is not vnright. i.Pet.v.a.

15 Forsomuche then as thou art righteous thy selfe, thou ordrest all thinges righteously, * thinking it vnseemely for thy power to condempne hym that hath not deserued to be punished. Iob.ix.a.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousnesse, and because thou art Lorde of all thinges, it maketh thee to be gracious vnto all.

17 For when men thinke thee not to be of a full strength, thou declarest thy power, and reprouest the boldnesse of the wyse.

18 But thou "mastring thy power doest iudge with equitie, and ordrest vs with great fauour: for thou mayest vse power when thou wylt. "Or, ruling.

21 With howe great circumspection then punishest thou thyne owne chyldren, vnto whose fathers thou hast sworne, & made couenauntes of good promises:

22 So where as thou doest chasten vs, thou "punishest our enemies a thousande tymes more: to the intent that when we punishe, we should diligently thinke of thy goodnesse, and when we our selues are "punished, we shoulde hope for mercy. "Or, scourgest. "Or, iudged.

¶ The. xiij. Chapter.

1 All thinges be vayne except the knowledge of God. 10 Idolaters and idols are mocked.

A 1 Surely vayne are all men by nature, which were ignorant of God, and coulde not out of the good thinges that are seene knowe hym that of hym selfe is [euerlasting] neither toke so muche regarde of the workes that are made, as therby to knowe who was the craftesman of them:

2 But some toke the fire, some the winde or swift ayre, some the course of the starres, some the running water, [some toke sunne and moone] or the lightes of heauen, for gods that rule the worlde.

3 But though they had such pleasure in their beautie, that they thought them to haue ben gods, yet should they haue knowen howe muche more " fayrer he is that made them: For the " maker of beautie hath ordayned al these thinges.

" Or, excellent.

" Or, the first auethour.

4 Or if they marueyled at the power and worke of them, they shoulde haue perceaued therby, how much he which made these thinges is mightier then they.

5 For by the greatnesse of the beautie and of the creatures, the maker therof compared with them, may playnely be " knowen.

" Or, seene.

6 Notwithstanding, they are the lesse to be blamed that seeke God, and woulde finde him, & yet peraduenture " misse.

" Or, erre.

7 For they being occupied in his workes, do seeke hym diligently, and are perswaded by the sight, because the things are beautifull that are seene.

8 Howbeit, yet neither are they to be excused. B

9 For if their vnderstanding [and knowledge] be so great, that they can " discerne the world [and the creatures] why do they not rather finde out the Lorde therof?

" Or, contemplature of.

10 But miserable are they, and " among the dead is their hope, that call them gods whiche are but the workes of mens handes, golde, siluer, and the thing that is founde out by " cunning, the similitude of beastes, or any vayne stone that hath ben made by hande of olde.

" Or, in deade thinges.

" Or, arte.

11 Or as whē a carpenter cutteth downe a tree meete for the purpose, and pareth of al the barke cunningly, and so by arte comely maketh a vessell profitable to the vse of life:

12 And with that whiche is cut of from his worke, doth dresse his meate to fyll his belly:

13 And as for the other part that is left, whiche is profitable for nothing (for it is a crooked peece of wood and full of knobbes) he carueth it diligently by leasure, and according to the knowledge of his cunning, he geueth it some proportion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man, C

14 Or maketh it lyke some vyle beast, straketh it ouer with red, and paynteth it, and looke what foule spot is in it, he casteth some colour vpon it.

15 Then maketh he a " conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in the wall, and maketh it fast with iron:

" Or, an house worthy of it.

16 Prouiding so for it, lest it happen to fall, fall, "for it is well knowen that it can not helpe it selfe: For why, it is but an image, and must of necessitie be helped.

17 Then making prayer for his goodes, for his mariage, and for chyldren, he is not ashamed to speake to that whiche hath no soule.

18 For health, he maketh his petition vnto him that is "sicke: for life, he humblie prayeth vnto hym that is dead: he "calleth vpon hym for helpe, that hath no experience at all: and to sende hym a good iourney, he prayeth him that may not go.

19 And for gayne, for worke, and for successe of his affayres, he asketh power of hym whiche is without all maner of power.

¶ The. xiiij. Chapter.

1 The detestation and abhomination of images. 8 A curse of them and of him that maketh them. 14 Whereof idolatrie proceeded: 23 What euils come of idolatrie.

A 1 AGayne, another man purposing to sayle, and "beginning to take his iourney thorowe the raging "sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke that is farre weaker then the vessell that beareth hym.

2 For as for it, couetousnesse of money hath founde it out, and the craftes man made it with his cunning.

3 But thy prouidence O father gouerneth it: *For thou hast made a way euen in the sea, and a sure path in the middest of the waues,

4 Declaring therby that thou hast power to helpe "in all thinges, yea though a man went to the sea without "ship.

5 Neuertheless thou wouldest not that the workes of thy wysdome shoulde be in vayne: and therefore do men commit their liues to a small peece of wood, passing ouer the stormie sea in a ship, and are saued.

6 *For in the olde tyme also when the proude giauntes perished, he in whom "the hope was left to increase the world, went into the ship whiche was gouerned thorowe thy hand, and so left seede behynde hym vnto the worlde.

B 7 For "happy is the tree, wherthrough righteousnesse commeth:

8 But cursed is "[the idoll] that is made with handes, *yea both it and he that made it: he, because he made it: and it, because it was called God, whereas it is but a "fraile thing.

9 *For the vngodly and his vngodlynesse, are both like abhominable vnto God.

10 [Euen so] the worke and he that made it also, shalbe punished together.

11 Therefore shall there a plague come vpon the idols of the heathen: for out of the creature of God they are become an abhomination, a "temptation vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwyse.

12 For why, the "seeking out of idols, is the beginning of whordome, and the "bringing vp of them, is the "destruction of lyfe.

13 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for euer.

14 The vayneglory of men hath founde them out vpon earth, therfore shal they come shortly to an ende. C

15 For when a father mourned heauyly for his sonne "sodainely taken away from hym, he made hym an image: and hym whiche then was but a dead man, he now began to worship as a god, and ordayned for his "seruauntes ceremonies and sacrifices.

" Or, multitude.

21 And this was to the deceauing of mans life, when men either with calamitie or tirannie oppressed, ascribed vnto stones and stockes that name [of God] whiche ought not to be geuen vnto any thing [els.]

22 Moreouer, this was not inough for them, that they erred in the knowledge of God: but where as they liued in the great warre of ignorannce, those so [many and] great "plagues called they peace.

" Or, euils.

23 For either *they slue their owne children and offred them in sacrifice, or vsed secrete ceremonies, or followed madde drunken dissoluteneſſe of rites in sacrifice:

Deu. xviii. b Iere. vii. b.

24 So that they kept neither life nor mariage cleane: but either one slue another traytorously, or greeued hym by adulterie.

25 So that there raigned in al men without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, "dissimulation, corruption, vnfaythfulneſſe, sedition, periurie, " Or, deceipt.

26 Disquieting of good men, vnthankefulneſſe, defiling of soules, chaunging of byrth, disordering of mariages, adulterie, and vncleaneneſſe.

27 For why, the honouring of "abhominable images, is the beginning, the cause and ende of all euill.

" Or, of idols that ought not once to be named of vs.

28 For [they that worship idols] eyther they are madde when they be merie, or prophesie lies, or liue "vngodly, or els lightly forsweare them selues.

" Or, wickedly.

29 For insomuche as their trust is in the idols whiche haue no "soule, though they sweare falsely, yet they thinke it shall not hurt them.

" Or, life.

30 Therefore commeth a great plague vpon them, and that worthyly for both causes: for they haue an euyll opinion of God that geue heede vnto idols, and they sweare vniustly in deceipt, despising holynes.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom they sweare: but it is the iust "vengeaunce of sinners that punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly doers.

" Or, iudgement.

¶ The. xv. Chapter.

¶ The ioyce of the faythfull praysing the mercy of God, by whose grace they serue not idols.

A 1 BUt thou O our God art gracious, true, and long suffring, and in mercy ordrest thou all thinges.

2 Though we sinne, yet are we thyne, for we knowe thy strength: but we wyll not sinne, because we knowe we are counted thyne.

3 For to knowe thee, is perfect righteousnes: yea to knowe thy power, is the roote of immortalitie.

4 As "for the thing that men haue found out through their euyll science it hath not deceaued vs, nor the paynters vnprofitable labour [to wit] an image "spotted with diuers colours,

" Or, for neither the malicious deuise of men deceaued vs.

" Or, stayned.

5 whose sight entiseth the ignorannt to lust after it, and he desireth the "picture of a dead image that hath no breath.

" Or, fourme

6 Both they that make them, they that desire them, and they that worship them, loue euyls, and are worthy to haue suche thinges to trust vpon. B

7 For the potter tempereth soft earth, laboureth it, and geueth it the fashion, of whatsoeuer vessell serueth for our vse: and of the selfe same clay he maketh both the vessels that serue for cleane vses, and also such as serue to the contrary: wherevnto euery vessell serueth, the potter hym selfe beyng the iudge.

8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a vayne god of the same clay, this doth euen he whiche a litle before was made of earth hym selfe, and within a litle whyle after returneth to the same out of whiche he was taken, when the lone of his lyfe shalbe demaunded from him agayne.

9 Not-

B 9 Notwithstanding, he careth not the more for this that he must labour, nor that his life is short: but striueth to excell goldsmythes and siluersmythes, and endeoureth to do like the coppersmythes, and taketh it for an honour to make " deceauable thinges.

" Or, false marriage.

10 His heart is but ashes, his hope is more vayne then earth, and his lyfe of " lesse honour then clay.

" Or, more vile.

11 Forsomuche as he knoweth not his owne maker that gaue him his soule of power to worke, and breathed in hym the breath of life.

12 But they counted our lyfe but a pastime, and [our] conuersation to be but a market for gayne, and that men should euery way be getting, yea though it were by euyll meanes.

13 Nowe he that of earth maketh frayle vessels and images, knoweth hym selfe to offende aboue all other.

14 All the enemies of thy people that hold them in subiection, are most vnwyse, & are more miserable then very " fooles.

" Or, very babes.

C

15 For they iudge all the idols of the heathen to be gods, whiche neither haue eyesight to see, nor noses " to smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers or hands to grope, and as for their feete, they are [to] slowe to go.

" Or, to draw the ayre, or, breath.

16 For man made them, and he that borrowed his owne spirit fashioned them: but no man can make a god lyke vnto hym selfe.

17 For seyng he is but mortall, it is but mortall that he maketh with vnrighteous handes: he him selfe is better then they whom he worshippeth, for he liued as they dyd neuer.

18 Yea they worshipped [such] beastes also as are " most hatefull: for if they were compared for " madnesse, they are worse then others.

" Or, their most enemies.
" Or, lacke of vnderstanding.

19 Neither haue they any beautie why to be desired in respect of other beastes: but are all voyde of the prayse of God, and his blessing.

The. xvj. Chapter.

2 In steede of the whiche punishmentes thou hast graciously ordred thine owne people, preparing for the desire of their appetite a straunge taste, *euen quayles to be their meate:

Num.xi.g.

3 To the intent that by the thinges whiche were shewed & sent vnto them, they that were so greedie of meate, might begin to lothe euen their necessarie appetite, and they which had suffred penurie for a short space, might be partakers of the newe taste.

4 For it was requisite that without any excuse pouertie should come vpon those whiche vsed tirannie, and to shewe onlye vnto the other howe their enemies were " destroyed.

" Or, type maist. Num xxi b.

5 *For when the cruell " woodnesse of the beastes came vpon them, and they perished throwe the stinges of the cruell serpentes, [Notwithstanding] thy wrath endured not perpetually.

" Or, furiousnesse.

6 But they were " put in feare for a litle season, that they might be refourmed, hauing a " token of saluation to remember the commaundement of thy lawe.

" Or, type maist.
" Or, the brasen serpent.

7 For he that looked backe [to it] was not healed by the thing that he sawe, but by thee O sauiour of all.

B

8 So in this thou shewedst our enemies, that it is thou whiche deliuerest from all euyll.

9 For then * when they were bitten with grashoppers and flyes, they dyed, neither was there any remedie founde for their life, for they were worthy to be punished by suche.

Exod.x.a.

10 But not the very teeth of venemous dragons dyd ouercome thy chyldren: for thy mercy was euer by them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked because they should remember thy wordes, but speedyly were they healed agayne, lest they shoulde fall into so deepe forgetfulnesse, that they might not be called backe by thy benefite.

12 For it was neither hearbe nor plaster that restored them to health: but thy word O Lord, which healeth al things.

13 It is thou O Lord that hast the power of life and death, *thou leadest " vnto deathes dooze, and bringest vp againe.

Deut 32.f. 1. Reg ii.a.
" Or, downe to hell gates.

14 A man in deede throwe his wickedG (iij) nesse, nesse may slay [another] but when his spirite is gone foorth, it turneth not agayne, neither may he call agayne the soule that is taken away.

15 *But it is not possible to escape thy hande.

16 For the vngodly that woulde not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thyne arme: with straunge raynes, hayles, and showres were they persecuted that they coulde not auoyde, and thorowe fire were they consumed.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fire might do more then water whiche quencheth all thinges: but the worlde is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometimes was the fyre so tame, that the beastes whiche were sent to punish the vngodly, brent not, and that because they should see and knowe that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometyme brent the fire in the middest of the water, that it might destroy the fruites of the vniust lande.

20 *In steede wherof, thou hast fed thine owne people with angels foode, and sent them bread redye from heauen without their labour, "being very pleasaunt and of good taste.

21 For this thy substaunce vnto thy children declared thy sweetenes, and seruing to his appetite that toke it, tempered it selfe according to his desire.

22 *But the snowe and yse abode the violence of the fire and melted not, that they might knowe that the fire burning in the hayle, & sparkeling in the rayne, destroyed the fruite of the enemies.

23 The fire also forgat his owne strength agayne, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee whiche art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnrighteous, but is easie [and gentle] to do good, vnto such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore dyd it alter at the same tyme into all fashions, and was obedient vnto thy grace, whiche is the nurse of all thinges, according to the desire of them that had neede thereof:

26 That thy children O Lorde whom thou louest, might knowe *that it is not the "growing of fruites that feedeth men, but that it is thy word which preserueth them that put their trust in thee.

27 For looke what "nyght not be destroyed at all with the fire, assoone as it was warmed with a litle sunne beame, it melted:

28 That all men might knowe, that thankes ought to be geuen vnto thee before the sunne ryse, and that thou oughtest to be "worshipped before the day spring.

29 For the hope of the vnthankfull shall melt away as the winter yse, and flowe away as vnprofitable water.

¶ The iudgementes of God against the wicked.

Rom.xi.c.

1 GReat are thy iudgmentes [O Lorde] and can not be expressed: therefore men do erre that wyll not be reformed [by thy wysdome.]

Exod.x.c.

2 *For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thy holy people in subiection, they were bounde with the bandes of darkenesse and long night, shut vp vnder roofes, and lay there to escape the eternall prouidence.

3 And whyle they thought to be hyd in the darkenesse of their sinnes, they were scattered abrode in the very middest of the darke couering of forgetfulnesse, put to horrible feare, and "wonderously vexed.

" Or, astonied with sightes of straunge apparitions.

4 For the corner where they lay hyd, might not kepe them from feare, because the soundes came rounde about them and vexed them, yea many terrible and "straunge visions appeared vnto them.

" Or, phantasies, with wofull countenances.

5 No power of the fire might geue them light, neither might the cleare flambes of the starres lighte the horrible night:

6 But there appeared vnto them a sodayne fire only, very dreadfull: At the which sight, wherin they sawe nothing thoroughly, they were so afrayde, that they thought the thing whiche they sawe to be "the more fearefull.

" Or, the worse.

7 As for the illusions of the magicall art, they came to naught: and it was a most shamefull reproche of the pryde that they had of their owne wysdome.

8 For

8 For they that promised to driue away the feares and troubles from the sicke soule, were sicke them selues with feare worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing did feare them, yet were they afrayde at the beastes whiche passed by them, and at the hissing of the serpentes.

10 Insomuch that with trembling they "sowned, and "sayde they sawe not the ayre, whiche no man yet may escape.

11 For malice is a dreadfull thing, that is condempned by his owne witnesse: and beyng pressed with conscience, it euer "suspecteth cruel thinges.

12 For feare is nothing els but a "betrayeng of the succours whiche reason offereth.

13 And looke howe muche the lesse his hope is within, the greater doth he recount his ignorance of that cause that bryngeth the torment.

14 But they [that dyd indure] the night that in deede was intollerable, and that came from the dungeons of intollerable hell, sleping the same sleepe, 15 Were sometimes chased with monsterous apparitions, and sometymes they sowned, as their owne soules had betrayed them: for an hastie feare, & that was not looked for, came vpon them.

16 And thus, whosoeuer was there fallen, he was in prison, but without chaines:

17 For whether a man had occupied husbandrie, or had ben an heardman or labourer in the "woods, if he were taken, he suffred "intollerable necessitie.

18 For they were all bounde with one chayne of darkenesse: whether it were a blasing winde, or a sweete song of the byrdes among the thicke braunches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hastie running water,

19 Or great noyse of the falling downe of stones, or the runnyng of playing beastes whiche they sawe not, or the mightie noyse of roaring wilde beastes, or "the sounde that aunswered agayne in the holonesse of mountaynes: these terrible thinges made them sowne [for very feare.]

20 For all the "earth shined with cleare light, and no man was hindered in his labour.

21 Onlye vpon them there fell a heauie night, an image of darkenesse that was to come vpon them: yea they were vnto them selues more heauie then darkenesse.

1 Neuertheless, thy saintes had a very great light, whose voyce they hearing, and not seeing their figure, for that they suffred not the same thinges, they thought them blessed.

2 And for that they dyd not hurt them nowe of whom they had ben wronged before, they thanked them, & besought them pardon of that they had ben enemies.

3 Therfore thou gauest them a burning piller of fire to leade them in the vnknowen way, and the sunne not to hurt them in their honourable iourney.

4 But reason it was that they shoulde leese the light and be put in the prison of darkenesse, whiche had kept thy children "shut vp, by whom the vncorrupt light of the lawe was to be geuen vnto the worlde.

The ende of the booke of wisdome.

The booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach which is called in latine Ecclesiasticus.

The prologue of Iesus the sonne of Sirach vnto his booke.

MAny and great men haue declared wisdome vnto vs out of the lawe, out of the prophetes, and out of other that folowed them: in the which thynges Israel ought to be cõmended by the reason of doctrine and wisdome: Therfore they that haue it, and reade it, shoulde not only them selues be wise therthrough, but serue other also with teachyng and writyng. After that my graundefather Iesus had geuen diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophetes, and other bookes that were left vs of our fathers, and had well exercised hym selfe therin: he purposed also to write some thyng of wisdome and good maners, to the intent that they which were wyllyng to learne, and to be wise, myght haue the more vnderstandyng, and be the more apt to leade a good conuersation. Wherfore I exhort you to receaue it louyngly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not so eloquent as the famous oratours. For the thyng that is written in the Hebrue tongue, soundeth not so well when it is translated into another speache: Not only this booke of myne, but also the lawe, the prophetes, and other bookes sounde farre otherwise then they do when they are spoken in their owne language.

Nowe in the thirtie and eyght yere when I came into Egypt in the tyme of Ptolomie Euerges, and continued there a long season, I founde bookes there left full of great and profounde learnyng, wherfore I thought it good and necessarie to bestowe my diligence and trauayle to interprete this booke: And considerynge that I had tyme, I laboured and dyd my best to perfourme this booke, and to bryng it vnto lyght, that the straungers also which are disposed to learne, myght apply them selues vnto good maners, and lyue accordyng to the lawe of the Lorde.

The first Chapter.

1 Wisdome commeth of God. 11 A prayse of the feare of God. 29 The meanes to come by wisdome.

ALl wisdome *[commeth] of god the Lord, & hath ben euer with him, and " is before all tyme.

3 Reg 3 b. Iob. 28 c. Iacob. 1 a.

" Or, and is with him for euer.

2 who hath numbred the sande of the sea, the droppes of the rayne, and the dayes of "time: who hath measured the heyght of heauen, the breadth of the earth, and the deepenesse of the sea:

" Or, the worlde.

3 who hath sought out the grounde of Gods Wisdome, which hath ben before all thynges:

Rom. xi. c. 4 *Wisdome hath ben created before all thinges, and the vnderstandyng of prudence from euerlastyng.

5 (Gods worde in the heyght is the well of Wisdome, and the euerlastyng commaundementes are the entraunce of her.)

Rom. xi. d. 6 *Vnto whõ hath the roote of Wisdome ben declared: or who hath knowen her wit:

7 Vnto whom hath the doctrine of Wisdome ben discouered and shewed: and who hath vnderstande the manifolde entraunce of her: 13

8 There is one, euen the hyest, the maker of all thynges, the almightie, the kyng of power, of whom men ought to stand greatly in awe, which sitteth vpon his throne, beyng a God of dominion.

9 He hath created her through the holy ghost, he hath seene her, numbred her, and measured her.

10 He hath powred her out vpon all his workes, and vpon all flesshe, accordyng to his gyft, he geueth her richely vnto them that loue hym.

11 The feare of the Lorde is worshyp and triumph, gladnesse, and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of the Lorde maketh a mery heart, geueth gladnesse, ioy, and long lyfe.

13 who so feareth the Lorde, it shall go well well with him at the last, and in the day of his death he shalbe blessed.

14 The loue of God is honorable wisdome: loke vnto whom it appeareth, they loue it, for they see what wonderous thinges it doth.

15 *The feare of the Lorde is the begynnyng of wisdome, and was made with the faythfull in the mothers wombe, it shall go with the chosen women, and shalbe knowen of the ryghteous and faythfull. *Pal.cxi.b. Prou.i.c.

16 The feare of the Lorde is the ryght Gods seruice, 17 That preserueth & iustifieth the heart, and geueth mirth and gladnesse.

18 Who so feareth the Lorde shalbe happy, and when he hath neede of comfort he shalbe blessed.

19 She hath buylt her euerlastyng foundations with men, and is geuen to be with their seede.

20 To feare God is the wisdome that maketh riche, and bryngeth all good with her.

21 She fylleth the whole house with her giftes, & the garners with her treasure.

22 The feare of the Lorde is the crowne of wisdome, and geueth plenteous peace and health: He hath seene her and numbred her: Both these are the gyftes of God.

23 Knowledge and vnderstandyng of wisdome hath he powred out as rayne, and them that helde her fast hath he brought vnto honour.

24 The feare of the Lorde is the roote of wisdome, & her braunches are long lyfe.

25 In the treasures of wisdome is vnderstandyng & deuotion of knowledge, but wisdome is abhorred of sinners.

26 The feare of the Lorde driueth out sinne, and whē she is present, she driueth away anger.

27 For he that is without feare can not be made ryghteous, and his wylfull boldenesse is his owne destruction.

28 A patient man wyll suffer vnto the tyme, and then shall he haue the reward of ioy.

29 A good vnderstandyng wyll hyde his wordes for a tyme, and many mens lippes shall speake of his wisdome.

30 In the treasures of wisdome is the declaration of doctrine: but the sinner abhorreth the worshyp of God. €

31 My sonne yf thou desire wisdome, kepe the commaundement, and God shall geue her vnto thee:

32 For the feare of the Lorde is wisdome and nurture: he hath pleasure in fayth and louyng mekenesse, and he shall fyll the treasures therof.

33 Be not obstinate and vnfaythfull to the feare of the Lorde, and come not vnto hym with a double heart.

34 Be not an hypocrite in the syght of men, and take good heede what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thy selfe, lest thou happen to fall and bryng thy soule to dishonour, and so discouer thy secretes, and cast thee downe in the myddest of the congregation: because thou wouldest not receaue the feare of God, & because thy heart is full of faynednesse and deceipt.

The.ij.Chapter.

1 He exhorteth the seruauntes of God to righteousnesse, loue, vnderstandyng, and patience. 11 To trust in the Lorde. 13 A curse vpon them that are faynt hearted and impatient.

1 My sonne *yf thou wylt come into the seruice of God, stande fast in righteousnesse & feare, and armē thy soule to temptation. A Mat.iiii.a. 1.Tim.vi.c.

2 Settle thyne heart and be patient, bowe downe thine eare, receaue the wordes of vnderstandyng, and shrynke not away when thou art assaulted.

3 Holde thee fast vpon God, ioyne thy selfe vnto hym, and suffer that thy lyfe may encrease at the last.

4 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receaue it: suffer in heauinesse, & be patient in thy trouble.

5 *For lyke as golde and siluer are tryed in the fire, euen so are acceptable men in the furnace of aduersitie. Sap.iii.a. Pro.xvii.a.

6 Beleue in God and he shall helpe thee: order thy way a right, and put thy trust in hym: Holde fast his feare and growe therin,

7 Ye that feare the Lorde, take sure holde of his mercie, shrynke not away from from hym, that ye fall not.

B 8 O ye that feare the Lorde, beleue hym, and your rewarde shall not be emptie.

(a) That is, loke for good thynges, and trust to haue the rewarde of euerlastyng lyfe, promised to them that with patience continue in his feare.

9 O ye that feare the Lorde, (a) trust in good thynges, and mercie shall come vnto you for pleasure.

10 O ye that feare the Lorde, set your loue vpon hym, and your heartes shalbe lyghtened.

11 Consider the olde generations of men (O ye children) and marke them well: *was there euer any one confounded that put his trust in the Lorde? who euer continued in his feare, and was forsaken? Or whom dyd he euer dispise that called faythfully vpon hym?

Psal.xxxi.a Esai.xxvi.b.

12 For God is gratious and mercifull, he forgeueth sinnes in the tyme of trouble, and is a defendour for al them that seke hym in the trueth.

" Or, double.

13 Wo be vnto them that haue a "fearefull heart, wicked lippes, and euyll occupied handes, and to the sinner that goeth two maner of wayes.

C 14 Wo be vnto them that are faint harted, which put not their trust in God, and therfore shall they not be defended of hym.

15 Wo be vnto you that haue lost patience, forsaken the ryght wayes, and are turned backe into frowarde wayes: what wyll you do when the Lord shall begin to visite you?

16 They that feare the Lorde, wyll not disobey his worde: and they that *loue him, wyll kepe his commaundementes.

Iohn.xiiii.c.

17 They that feare the Lorde wyll seke out the thinges that are pleasaunt vnto him: *and they that loue him, be fulfylled with his lawe.

Rom.x.iii.c

18 They that feare the Lorde wyll prepare their heartes, and humble their soules in his syght.

19 They that feare the Lorde kepe his cõmaundementes, and wyll be patient tyll they see hym selfe, 20 Saying: *If we do not repent, we shall fall into the handes of the Lorde, and not into the handes of men.

2.Reg.24.c Susan.d.

21 For his mercie is as great as him selfe.

The.iij.Chapter.

2 To our father and mother ought we to geue double honour. 10 Of the blessyng and curse of the father and mother. 22 No man ought ouer curiously to searche out the secretes of God.

A 1 The children of wisdome are a congregation of the ryghteous, and their offspryng is obedience and loue.

2 Heare your fathers iudgement (O my deare children) and do therafter, that ye may be safe.

Exod.xx.a. Deut.v.b. 3 *For the Lorde wyll haue the father honored of the children: and loke what a mother commaundeth her children to do, he wyll haue it kept.

4 Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shalbe forgeuen hym: and he shall abstayne from them, and shall haue his dayly desires.

Ephe.vi.a. 5 *And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure together.

6 Who so honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children: & when he maketh his prayer, he shalbe heard.

7 He that honoureth his father, shall haue a long lyfe: and he that is obedient vnto the Lorde, shall comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and doth them seruice as it were vnto lordes. B

9 *Honour thy father and mother, in deede, in worde, and in all patience, that thou mayest haue Gods blessyng: and his blessyng shall abide with thee at the last.

Exod.xx.c Deut.v.b.

10 *The blessyng of the father stablisheth the houses of the children: but the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations.

Gen.27.d. Deut.33.a.

11 Reioyce not when thy father is reproued: for it is not honour vnto thee, but a shame.

12 For the worshyp of a mans father, is his owne worshyp: & the reproche of the mother, is the dishonestie of the sonne.

13 My sonne, make much of thy father in his age, and greeue hym not as long as he lyueth.

14 And yf his vnderstandyng fayle, haue patience with hym, and dispise hym not in thy strength.

15 For the good deede that thou shewest vnto thy father, shall not be forgotten: and and when thou thy selfe wantest, it shalbe rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, yea it shalbe founded for thee in ryghteousnesse.

¶ 16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembred: thy sinnes also shall melt away, lyke as the yse in the fayre warme weather.

17 He that forsaketh his father, shal come to shame: and he that defieth his mother, is cursed of God.

18 My sonne, perfourme thy workes with louyng meekenesse, so shalt thou be loued aboue other men.

Philip. 19 The greater thou art, the more *humble thy selfe in all thynges, and thou shalt synde fauour in the sight of God.

20 Many are excellent and of renowme: but the secretes are reuealed vnto the meeke.

21 For great power belongeth only vnto God, and he is honoured of the lowly.

Phil 3.a. Pro.xxv.a. Rom.xii.a. 22 *Seke not out the thynges that are aboue thy capacitie, and searche not the grounde of such thynges as are to mightie for thee:

23 But loke what God hath commaunded thee, thynke vpon that alway, & be not curious in many of his workes: For it is not needefull for thee to see with thyne eyes the thynges that are secrete.

24 Make not to much searche in superfluous thynges, and be not curious in many of his workes: for many thynges are shewed vnto thee alredy which be aboue the capacitie of men.

25 The medlyng with such, hath beguiled many a man, and tangled their wittes in vanitie. D

26 Thou canst not see without eyes, therfore professe not the thyng that thou hast not.

27 An harde heart shall feare euyll at the last: and he that loueth daunger, shall perishe therin.

28 An heart that goeth two wayes shall not prosper: and he that is frowarde of heart, wyll euer be worse and worse.

29 An obstinate heart shalbe laden with sorowes, and the vngodly sinner wyll heape one sinne vpon another.

30 The counsayle of the proude hath no health, & his footsteppes shalbe plucked vp: for the plant of sinne hath taken roote in hym.

31 The heart of hym that hath vnderstandyng, shall perceaue hye thynges: and a good eare wyll gladly hearken vnto wisdome.

32 An heart that is wise and hath vnderstandyng, wyll abstayne from sinnes, and increase in the workes of ryghteousnesse.

33 Water quencheth burnyng fire, *and mercie reconcileth sinnes. Psal xli.a.

34 God hath respect vnto hym that is thankfull: he thinketh vpon him against the tyme to come, so that whē he falleth he shall synde a strong holde.

The .iiij. Chapter.

1 Almes must de done with gentlenesse. 12 The studie of wisdome and her fruite.
20 An exhortation to eschewe euyll, and to do good.

A Deut.xv.d. 1 My sonne, *defraude not the poore of his almes, and turne not away thyne eyes from hym that hath neede.

2 Dispise not an hungry soule, and defie not the poore in his necessitie.

3 Greeue not the heart of hym that is helpelesse, and withdrawe not the gyft from the needefull.

4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needy.

5 Cast not thyne eyes aslyde from the poore for any euyll wyll, that thou geue him not occasion to speake euyll of thee.

6 For yf he complayne of thee in the bitternesse of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard: euen he that made hym shall heare hym.

7 Be curteous vnto the company of the poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bowe downe thy head to a man of worshyp. B

8 Let it not greeue thee to bowe downe thine eare vnto the poore, (a) but pay thy debt, and geue him a friendly aunswere, and that with meekenesse.

9 Deliuer him that suffereth wrong, from the hande of the oppressour: and be not faynt hearted when thou sittest in iudgement.

10 Be mercifull vnto the fatherlesse as a father,

(a) As a man must of duetie be curteous to the poore, humble to the auncient, bow downe to the worshipfull: so is it his duetie to comfort, helpe, and delyuer the innocent and simple soule from the crueltie of the vngodly.

father, and be in steade of an husbande vnto their mother: so shalt thou be as an obedient sonne of the hyest, and he shall loue thee more then thy mother doth.

11 Wisdome exalteth her children, receaueth them that seke her, & wyl go before them in the way of ryghteousnesse.

12 He that loueth her, loueth lyfe: and they that seke her diligently, shall haue great ioy.

13 They that kepe her, shall inherite glorie: for where she entreth in, there is the blessyng of God.

¶ 14 They that honour her, shalbe the seruauntes of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloued of God.

15 Who so geueth eare vnto her, shall iudge the heathen: and he that hath "respect vnto her, shall dwell safely.

" Or, goeth.

16 He that beleueth her, shall haue her in possession, and his generation shall endure.

" Or, walketh.

17 For when he "falleth, she doth go with hym, and choseth hym among the best: Feare, dreade, and temptation shall she bryng vpon hym, and trye hym in her doctrine, tyll she haue so proued hym in his thoughtes, that he commit his soule vnto her.

18 Then shall she stablishe hym, bryng the ryght way vnto hym, make hym a glad man, shewe hym her secretes, and heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, & vnderstandyng of righteousnes.

19 But yf he go wrong, she shall forsake hym, & geue hym ouer into the handes of destruction and ruine.

Ro.xii.b. 20 *My sonne, make much of the tyme, eschewe the thyng that is euyll:

21 And for thy lyfe shame not to say the trueth: (b) For there is a shame that bryngeth sinne, and there is a shame that bryngeth worshyp and fauour.

(b) To be ashamed to confesse thy god, thy faith, to refuse the trueth, and to repyne sinne, doth bryng sume vnto thee: the contrarie shame bryngeth worshyp.

22 Accept no person after thyne owne wyll, that thou be not confounded to thyne owne decay: Be not ashamed of thy neyghbour in his aduersitie.

23 And kepe not backe thy counsayle when it may do good, neither hyde thy wisdome in her beautie.

24 For in the tongue is wisdome knowē, so is vnderstandyng, knowledge, and learnyng in the talkyng of the wise, and stedfastnesse in the workes of ryghteousnesse.

25 In no wise speake agaynst the worde of trueth: but be ashamed of the lyes of thyne owne ignorannce.

26 Shame not to confesse thyne errour, and resist not the course of the riuer.

27 And submit not thy selfe vnto a foolishe man, neither accept the person of the mightie.

28 And striue thou not agaynst the streame: But for ryghteousnesse take paynes with all thy soule, and for the trueth striue thou vnto death, and God shall fyght for thee agaynst thyne enemies.

29 Be not hasty in thy tongue, neither slacke and negligent in thy workes.

30 Be not as a lion in thyne owne house, destroying thy housholde folkes, and oppressyng them that are vnder thee.

31 *Let not thyne hande be stretched out to receaue, and shut when thou shouldest geue. Ac.xx.g.

The.v.Chapter.

1 In riches may we not put any confidence. 7 The vengeaunce of God ought to be feared, and repentaunce may not be deferred.

A Luk xii.c. Eccle.xi.c.

1 TRust not vnto thy riches, * & say not, tushe I haue inough for my lyfe, for it shall not helpe in the tyme of vengeaunce and temptation.

2 Folowe not the lust of thyne owne heart in thy strength,

3 And say not, tushe howe haue I had strength: or Who wyll bryng me vnder because of my workes: For doubtlesse God shall auenge it.

4 And say not, I haue sinned, and what euyll hath happened me: For the almightie is a patient rewarder.

5 *Because thy sinne is forgeuen thee, be not therfore without feare, neither heape one sinne vpon another. Rom.vii.a.

6 *And say not, tushe, the mercie of the Lorde is great, he shall forgeue me my sinnes be they neuer so many: * For lyke as he is mercifull, so goeth wrath from hym also, and his indignation commeth downe vpon sinners. Eccle.xxi.a. Eccle.xvi.a.

7 Make no tarying to turne vnto the Lorde,

Lorde, and put not of from day to day: for sodenly shall his wrath come, and in the tyme of vengeaunce he shall destroy thee.

B 8 *Trust not in wicked riches, for they shall not helpe thee in the day of punishment and wrath. Prou. x.a. Ecclus. viii.d Sapien. i.c.

9 Be not caried about with euery winde, and go not into euery way: for so doth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Stande fast in thy way of the Lorde, be stedfast in thy vnderstandyng, abyde by the worde, and folowe the worde of peace and righteousnesse.

11 Be gentle to heare the worde of God, that thou mayest vnderstande it: and make a true aunswere with wisdome.

12 *Be swyft to heare, but slowe and patient in geuing aunswere. Eccle. v.b.

13 If thou hast vnderstanding, shape thy neighbour an aunswere: yf no, laye thy hande vpon thy mouth, lest thou be trapped in an vndiscreete word, and so confounded.

14 Honour and shame is in the talke, but the tongue of the vndiscrete is his owne destruction.

15 *Be not a priuy accuser as long as thou lyuest, and vse no slaunder with thy tongue: For shame & sorowe goeth ouer the thiefe, and an euyll name ouer him that is double tongued: but he that is a priuy accuser of other men, shalbe hated, enuied, and confounded. Leu. xix.d.

16 Do not rashly neither in great nor small.

The.vj.Chapter.

1 It is the propertie of a sinner to be euyll tongued. 6 Of friendship.
33 Desire to be taught.

A 1 BE not of a friende an enemie, (a) for such a man getteth an euyll name, shame, and rebuke: and whosoeuer beareth enuie & a double tongue, offendeth.

(a) For that is agaynst the rule of charite, whiche heareth all, and harmeth nothing but enuy frame.

Rom. xii.b. 2 *Be not proude in the deuice of thine owne vnderstanding, lest thy soule rent thee as a (b) bull,

(b) As a bull teareth in peces a poore tree with his hornes, so thou trusting in thine owne fondnesse, and standyng in thine owne conceyt, because of thy witte, thy power, or riches, shouldest destroy thy frende.

3 And lest thy leaues wyther, and thy fruite be destroyed, and so thou be left as a drye tree in the wildernesse.

4 For a wicked soule destroyeth hym that hath it, maketh him to be laughed to scorne of his enemies, and bryngeth him to the portion of the vngodly.

Eccle. xx. b. 5 *A sweete worde multiplieth friendes, & pacifieth them that be at variaunce: and a thankfull tongue wyll be plenteous in a good man.

6 Holde friendship with many, nevertheless haue but one counsellour of a thousande.

B 7 If thou getteste a friende, *proue him first, and be not hastye to geue him credence. Deu. xiii.b. Matth. vii.a. Mat. x.c.

8 For some man is a friende but for his owne turne, and wyll not abyde in the day of trouble.

9 And there is some friend that turneth to enmitie, and taketh part agaynst thee: and if he knowe any hurt by thee, he telleth it out.

10 *Agayne, some frende is but a companion at the table, and in the day of neede he continueth not. Eccle. 37.a.

11 But in thy prosperitie he wyll be as thou thy selfe, and deale playnly with thy housholde folke.

12 If thou be brought lowe he wyll be agaynst thee, and wyll be hidden from thy face.

13 Depart from thyne enemies, yea and beware of thy friendes.

14 A faythfull friende is a strong defence, who so findeth such one, findeth a treasure. C

15 A faythfull friende hath no peare, the waygh̄t of golde and siluer is not to be compared to the goodnesse of his fayth.

16 A faythfull friende is a medicine of lyfe and immortalitie, and they that feare the Lorde shall finde hym.

17 Who so feareth the Lorde, shall prosper with friendes: and as he is hym selfe, so shall his friende be also.

18 My sonne receaue doctrine from thy youth vp, so shalt thou finde wisdome tyll thou be olde.

19 Go to her as one that ploweth and soweth, and wayte patiently for her good fruites: For thou shalt haue but litle labour in her worke, but thou shalt eate of her fruites ryght soone.

20 O howe exceeding sharpe is wisdome to vnlearned men: an vnstedfast body wyll not remayne in her.

21 Vnto

D 21 Unto such she is as it were a touchestone, and he casteth her from him in all the haste.
22 For wisdome is with him but in name, there be but fewe that haue knowledge of her.
23 But with them that knowe her, she abideth euen vnto the appearyng of God.
24 Geue eare my sonne, receaue my doctrine, and refuse not my counsayle.
Mat.xi.d. 25 Put thy foote into her lynckes, *and take her yoke vpon thy necke.
26 Bowe downe thy shoulder vnder her, beare her patiently, and be not weery of her bandes.
27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and kepe her wayes with al thy power.
28 Seke after her, and she shalbe shewed thee: and when thou hast her, forsake her not.
29 For at the last thou shalt fynde rest in her, and that shalbe turned to thy great ioy.
€ 30 Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and her yoke a glorious rayment.
31 For there is a golden ornament in her,
& her bandes are laces of purple colour.
32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her about thee as a crowne of ioy.
33 My sonne, yf thou wylt take heede, thou shalt haue vnderstandyng, and yf thou wylt apply thy mynde, thou shalt be wyse.
34 Yf thou wylt bowe downe thine eare, thou shalt receaue doctrine: and yf thou delyte in hearyng, thou shalt be wyse.
35 Stande with the multitude of such elders as haue vnderstandyng, and consent vnto their wisdome with thyne heart.
36 *That thou mayest heare all godly Eccle. viii.a. sermons, and that the worthy sentences escape thee not.
37 And yf thou seest a man of discrete vnderstandyng, get thee soone vnto hym, & let thy foote treade vpon the steppes of his doores.

stablishe thy heart, and geue thee wis-dome at thyne owne desire.

The .vij. Chapter.

2 We must forsake euyll, and yet not iustifie our selues. 23 The behauiour of the wise towarde his wyfe, his friende, his children, his seruauntes, his father and mother.

A 1 DO no euyl, so shal there

16 Make not thy boaste in the multitude of thy wickednesse: but humble thy selfe euen from thyne heart,

17 And remember that the wrath shal not be long in tarying, and that the vengeaunce of the flesshe of the vngodly is a very fire and worme.

18 Geue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy faythful brother for the best gold.

19 Depart not from a discrete & good woman that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lorde: for the gift of her honesty is aboue golde.

Luk.xix.c. 20 *Where as thy seruaunt worketh truely, intreate hym not euyll, nor the hyreling that is faythfull vnto thee.

21 Loue a discrete seruaunt as thyne owne soule, defraude him not of his libertie, neither leaue him a poore man.

3 Stryue not with a man that is full of wordes, and lay no stickes vpon his fire.

4 Kepe no companie with the vnlearned, lest he geue thy kinred an euyll report. Gal.vi.a. 1.Cor.v.b.

5 *Despise not a man that turneth hym selfe away from sinne, and cast him not in the teeth withall: but remember that we are frayle euerichone.

6 *Thinke scorne of no man in his olde age, for we ware olde also. Leui.xix.g.

7 Be not glad of the death of thyne enemie: but remember that we must dye all the sort of vs, and fayne would we come vnto ioy.

8 *Despise not the sermons of suth elders as haue vnderstandyng, but acquaynt thy selfe with the wyse sentences of them: for of them thou shalt learne wisdome, & the doctrine of vnderstandyng, and howe to serue great men without complaynt. Eccle.vi.b.

9 Go not from the doctrine of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers: for of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, so that thou mayest make aunswere in the time of neede.

Eccl.xxix.a 12 *Lende not vnto hym that is mightier then thy selfe: yf thou lendest hym, count it but lost.

13 Be not suertie aboue thy power: if thou be, then thinke surely to paye it.

14 Go not to lawe with the iudge: for he will iudge according to his owne honour.

15 *Trauayle not by the way with hym that his brayneles, lest he do the euyll: for he foloweth his owne wilfulnesse, and so shalt thou perishe therowe his follie. Gen.iiii.b.

16 *Striue not with him that is angry and cruel, & go not with him into the wildernesse: for blood is nothing in his sight, and where there is no helpe he shall murther thee. Pro.xii. Esa.iii.a.

17 *Take no counsel at fooles: for they can not kepe a thing close. Eccle.ix.e. xxxvii.a.

18 Do no secrete thing before a straunger, for thou canst not tell what will come of it.

19 Open not thine heart vnto euery man, lest he be vnthankefull to thee, and put thee to reproke.

The. ix. Chapter.

1 Of iealousie. 12 An olde friend is to be preferred before a newe. 18 Righteous men shoulde be bidden to thy table.

A 1 BE not iealous ouer the wife of thy bosome, that she shew not some shrewd poynt, (a) lest thou teache her an euil lesson against thy selfe.

(a) Let her not haue rule ouer thee, for then will she be contrarie vnto thee, take away thy be art and strength, and bring thee to confusion among thyne enemies, as did Euc to Adam, Dalila to Sampson, and straunge woman to Solomon.

2 Geue not the power of thy lyfe vnto a woman, lest she come in thy strength, and so thou be confounded.

3 Loke not vpon a woman that is desyrous of many men, lest thou fall into her snares.

4 Use not the companie of a woman that is a player & a daunter, & heare her not, lest thou perishe therow her entising.

5 Behold not a mayden, that thou be not hurt in her beautie.

Pro.v.a. 6 *Cast not thy minde vpon harlots in any maner of thing, lest thou destroy both thy selfe and thyne heritage.

7 Go not about gasing in euery lane of the citie, neither wander thou abrode in the streetes therof.

Mat.v.c. 8 *Turne away thy face from a beautifull woman, and loke not vpon the fayrnesse of other: *Many a man hath ben deceaued therowe the beautie of women, for therow it the desire is kindled as it were a fire.

Gen 34.a. i.Reg. xi.a. Iud.x.xi.xii

9 An adulterous woman shalbe troden vnder foote as myre, of euery one that goeth by the way.

10 Many a man wondering at the beautie of a straunge woman, hath ben cast out: for her wordes kyndle as a fyre.

11 Sit not with an other mans wife by any meanes, lye not with her vpon the bed, make no wordes with her at the wine: lest thyne heart consent vnto her, and so thou with thy blood fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an olde friende, for the new shall not be lyke him: A newe friende is newe wine, let hym be olde and thou shalt drinke hym with pleasure.

13 Desire not the honour and riches of a sinner: for thou knowest not what destruction is for to come vpon hym.

14 Delyte not thou in the thing that the vngodly haue pleasure in, beyng sure that the vngodly shall not be accepted ℭ vntill their graue.

15 Kepe thee from the man that hath power to slay, so needest thou not to be afrayde of death: And yf thou commest vnto hym, make no fault, lest he happen to take away thy lyfe: Remember that thou goest in the middest of snares, and vpon the bulwarkes of thy citie.

16 Beware of thy neyghbour as nye as thou canst, *and meddle with such as be wyse and haue vnderstanding. Eccle. viii.c. and 37.a.

17 Let iust men be thy gestes, let thy mirth be in the feare of God.

18 Let

18 Let the remembraunce of God be in thy mynde, *and let all thy talking be in the commaundementes of the hyghest.
Deut.vi.b. and xi.c
19 In the handes of craftes men shall the workes be commaunded: *so shall the princes of the people in the wysdome of their talking.
2.Reg.iii.c
20 A man full of wordes is perilous in his citie: and he that is rashe in his talking, shalbe abhorred.

The. x. Chapter.

1 Of kinges and iudges. 7 Pryde and couetousnesse are to be abhorred, 28 Labour is praysed.

A wyse iudge will order his people with discretion: and where a man of vnderstanding beareth rule, there goeth it well.
Pro.xxix.a. 2 *As the iudge of the people is him selfe, euen so are his officers: and loke what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, such are they that dwell therin also.
in.Re.xii.a. 3 *An vnwyse king destroyeth his people: *but where they that be in auctoritie are Pro.xxi.d. and xxix.a. men of vnderstanding, there the citie prospereth.
4 The power of the earth is in the hande of God, and all iniquitie of the people is to be abhorred: and when his time is, he shall set a profitable ruler vpon it.
5 In the hande of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.
Leui.xix.a. 6 *Be not angry for any wrong of thy neyghbour, and meddle thou with no
B vnrighteous workes.
7 Pryde is hatefull before God and man, [a]and all wickednesse of the heathen is to be abhorred.
[a] That is, eche idolatrous false religion and superstitions and blasphemies in hyst.
8 Because of vnrighteous dealing, wrong, blasphemies, and diuers deceytes, a realme shalbe translated from one people to another.
9 There is nothing worse then a couetous man: Why art thou proude O thou earth and asshes? There is not a more wicked thing then to loue money: and why? such one hath his soule to sel, yet is he but filthy doung while he lyueth.
10 All tyrannie is of smal enduraunce, and the disease that is harde to heale greeueth the phisition.
11 And though the phisition shew his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after this maner, To day a king, to morowe dead.
12 For when a man dieth, he is the heyre of serpentes, beastes and wormes.
13 The beginning of mans pryde, is to fall away from God: and why? his heart is gone from his maker.
14 For pryde is the originall of all sinne: C who so taketh hold therof, shalbe filled with cursinges, and at the last it shall ouerthrowe hym: Therefore hath the Lorde brought the congregations of the wicked to dishonour, and destroyed them to the end.
15 *God hath destroyed the seates of proude princes, and set vp the meeke in their steade.
Sap.vi.b. Luk.i.e 14.c and xviii.b.
16 God hath wythered the rootes of the proude heathen, and planted the lowely for them.
17 *God hath ouerthrowen the landes of the heathen, & destroyed them vnto the grounde: he hath caused them to wither away, he hath brought them to naught, & made the memoriall of them to ceasse from out of the earth.
Gen.xxix.b
18 God hath destroyed the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble of mynde.
19 Pryde was not made for man, neither wrothfulnesse for mens children.
20 The seede of men that feareth God shalbe brought to honour: but the seede which transgresseth the commaundementes of the Lorde shalbe shamed.
21 He that is the ruler among brethren, D is holden in honour among them: and he that regardeth such as feare the Lorde, is acceptable in his sight.
22 The feare of the Lord causeth that the kingdome faileth not: but the kingdome is lost by crueltie and pryde.
23 The glorie of the riche, of the honorable, and of the poore, is the feare of God.
24 Despyse not thou the iust poore man that hath vnderstanding, and magnifie not the riche vngodly.
25 Great is the iudge and mightie in honour, yet is there none greater then he that feareth God.

26 *Unto the seruaunt that is discrete, shal the free do seruice: *he that is wyse and well nurtured will not grudge when he is reformed, and an ignorant body shall not come to honour.
Pro. xxii a. ii. Reg. xii. d.

27 Be not proude to do thy worke, and dispayre not in the time of aduersitie.

28 *Better is he that laboureth and hath plenteousnes of al thinges, then he that is gorgious, and wanteth bread.
Pro. xii b.

29 My sonne, get thy soule honour by meknesse, & geue her her due honour.

30 Who shall iustifie him that sinneth against him selfe? who will honour hym that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his kyghtfulnesse and trueth: but the riche is had in reputation because of his goodes.

32 He that ordereth hym selfe honestly in pouertie, howe much more shal he behaue hym selfe honestly in riches? And who so ordreth hym selfe vnhonestly in riches, how much more shall he behaue hym selfe vnhonestly in pouertie?

The .xi. Chapter.

1 The prayse of humilitie. 2 After the outward appearaunce ought we not to iudge. 7 Of rash iudgement. 14 All things come of God. 29 Al men are not to be brought into thine house.

THe wysdome of hym that is brought lowe shall lift vp his head, and shall make hym to sit among great men.

2 Commende not thou a man in his beautie, neither despise a man in his vtter appearaunce.

3 The Bee is but a smal beast among the foules, yet is her fruite exceeding sweet.

4 Be not proude of thy rayment, *& exalt not thy selfe in the day of thy honour: for the workes of the hiest onely are wonderfull: yea glorious, secrete, and vnknowen are his workes.
Actes. xii. d.

5 Many tyrauntes haue ben fayne to sit downe vpon the earth, *and the vnlikely hath worne the crowne.
i. Reg. xv. f. Hester. vi. a.

6 Many mightie men haue ben brought low, & the honorable haue ben deliuered into other mens handes.

7 *Condemne no man before thou haue tryed out the matter: and when thou hast made inquisition, then reforme righteously.
Deut. xiii b.

8 *Geue no sentence before thou hast hearde the cause: but first let men tel out their tales.
Pro. xviii. c.

9 Stryue not for a matter that toucheth not thy selfe, and stande not in the iudgement of sinners.

10 My sonne, meddle not with many matters: *and if thou gaine much thou shalt not be blameles, & if thou folow after it thou shalt not attayne it: and though thou runnest thy way afore, yet shalt thou not escape.
Mat. xix. c. i. Tim. vi. b.

11 *There is some man that laboureth and taketh payne, and the more he weerieth hym selfe, the lesse he hath.
Pro. x. c. Psal. cxxviii. a.

12 Againe, some man is slouthfull, hath neede of helpe, wanteth strength, and hath great pouertie:

13 And gods eye loketh vpon him to good, setteth him vp from his lowe state, *and lifteth vp his head: so that many men maruel at hym, and geue honour vnto God.
Iob. xlii. c.

14 *Prosperitie and aduersitie, lyfe and death, pouertie and richesse, come all of the Lorde.
Iob. i. c. Eccle. xi. b.

15 Wysedome, nurture, and knowledge of the lawe are with God, loue and the wayes of good are with him.

16 Errour and darkenesse are made for sinners, and they that exalt them selues in euyll, ware olde in euyll. ℭ

17 The gift of God remayneth for the righteous: and his good will shall geue prosperitie for euer.

18 Some man is riche by his care and wigardship, and that is the portion of his rewarde:

19 In that he sayth, *Now haue I gotten rest, and nowe will I eate and drinke of my goodes my selfe alone: and yet he considereth not that the time draweth nye, and death approcheth, that he must leaue all these thinges vnto other men, and dye him selfe.
Luk. xii. b.

20 Stand thou fast in thy couenaunt, and exercise thy selfe therin, and remayne in the worke vnto thy age.

21 Maruell not at the workes of sinners, but put thy trust in God and byde in thy labour: for it is but an easie thing in the sight of God to make a poore man riche, and that sodenly.

22 The blessing of God hasteth to the rewarde of the righteous, and maketh his fruites soone to florishe and prosper.

23 Say

23 Say not, What helpeth it me? and What good thing shall I haue hereafter?
24 Againe, say not, I haue enough, how can I want?
Ecclus.xviii.c 25 *When thou art in welfare, forget not aduersitie: and when it goeth not well with thee, haue a good hope that it shal be better:
26 For it is but a small thing vnto God in the day of death to reward euery man according to his wayes.
27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget al pleasure: & when a man dieth, his workes are discouered.
D 28 Judge no man blessed before his death: for a man shalbe knowen in his children.
29 Bring not euery man into thyne house: for the disceytfull layeth wayte diuersly,
(a) & are like stomackes that belche filthyly.
30 Like as a partrych in a maunde, so is the heart of the proude: and like as a spie that loketh vpon the fall of his neyghbour.
(a) That is, after they knowe thy secretes, vtter the same with filthy raylings
31 For he turneth good vnto euyll, and slaundreth the chosen.
32 Of one sparke is made a great fire, and of one disceytfull man is blood increased: and an vngodly man layeth wayte for blood.
33 Beware of the disceytfull, for he imagineth wicked thinges, to bring thee into a perpetuall shame.
34 If thou takest an aliaunt vnto thee, he shall destroy thee in vnquietnesse, and driue thee from thyne owne wayes.

The. xii. Chapter.

1 Vnto whom we ought to do good. 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

A 1 When thou wilt do good, knowe to whom thou doest it, and so shalt thou be greatly thanked for thy benefites.
Gal.vi.a. i Tim.v.a. 2 *Do good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt finde great reward, though not of him, yet [no doubt] the Lorde him selfe shall reward thee.
3 He standeth not in a good case that is alway occupied in euil, & geueth no almes: for the hyghest hateth the sinners, and hath mercie vpon them that shewe the workes of repentaunce.
4 Geue thou vnto such as feare God, and receaue not a sinner.
5 As for the vngodly and sinners, he shall recompence vengeaunce vnto them, and kepe them to the day of wrath.
6 Geue thou vnto the good, and receaue not the sinner, do well vnto hym that is lowly, but geue not to the vngodly: Let not the bread be geuen him, that he be not mightier then thy selfe therin: for so shalt thou receaue twyse as much euyll in all that good that thou doest vnto
B him.
7 And why? the highest hateth sinners, and shall reward vengeaunce to the vngodly.
8 In prosperitie a friende shalbe knowen, & in aduersitie an enemie shal not be hid.
9 For when a man is in wealth, it greeueth his enemies: but in heauinesse and trouble a mans very friend will depart from him.
10 Trust neuer thyne enemie: for like as an yron rusteth, so doth his wickednesse.
11 And though he make much crouching and kneeling, yet kepe well thy mind, & beware of him: and thou shalt be to him as he that wypeth a glasse, & thou shalt knowe that al his rust hath not ben wel wyped away.
12 Set him not by thee, neither let him sit at thy right hand: lest he turne him, get into thy place, take thy roome, and seke thy seate, and so thou at the last remember my wordes, and be pricked at my sayinges.
C 13 *Binde not two sinnes together: for there shall not one be vnpunished.
Eccl.vii.a. and xxii.a.
14 Who wil haue pitie of the charmer that is stinged of the serpent, or of all such as come nye the beastes?
15 Euen so is it with him that kepeth companie with a wicked man, and lappeth him selfe in his sinnes.
16 For a season wil he bide with thee: but if thou stumble, he tarieth not.
17 *An enemie is sweet in his lippes, he can make many wordes, and speake many good thinges: Yea he can wepe with his eyes, but in his heart he imagineth howe to throwe thee into the pit: and if Iere.xli.b

he may fynde opoztunitie, he will not be satisfied with blood.
18 If aduersitie come vpon thee, thou shalt find him there first, and though he pretende to do thee helpe, yet shal he vndermine thee.
19 He shall shake his head, and clap his handes ouer thee for very gladnesse:
and whyle he maketh many wordes,
he shall disguyse his countenaunce.

The. xiii. Chapter.

1 The companies of the proude and of the riche are to be eschewed. 15 The loue of God. 17 Like do companie with their like.

A 1 Who so toucheth pytch, shalbe defiled withall: and he that is familier with the proude, shall cloth him selfe with pryde.
2 He taketh a burthen vpon him that accompanieth a more honorable man then him selfe, therfore kepe no familiaritie with one that is richer then thy selfe: howe agree the kettel and the pot together: for if the one be smitten against the other, it shalbe broken.
3 The riche dealeth vnrighteously, and threatneth withal: but the poore beyng oppressed and wrongfully dealt withall, suffereth scarcenesse, and geueth fayre wordes. If the riche haue done wrong, yet must he be entreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shall straight wayes be threatned.
4 If thou be for his profite, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he shal forsake thee.
5 As long as thou hast any thing of thyne owne, he shalbe a good felow with thee: yea he shall make thee a bare man, and not be sory for thee.
6 If he haue neede of thee, he shall defraude thee, and with a priuie mocke shall he put thee in an hope, & geue thee all good wordes, and say: What wantest thou?
B 7 Thus shal he shame thee in his meate, vntill he haue supt thee cleane vp twyse or thryse, & at the last shall he laugh thee to scorne: Afterwarde, When he seeth that thou hast nothing, he shall forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.
8 Submit thy selfe vnto God, and wayte vpon his handes.
9 Beware that thou be not disceaued and brought downe in thy simplenesse: Be not to humble in thy wysedome, lest when thou art brought lowe thou be disceaued through foolishnesse.
10 If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe, so shall he call thee to him the more oft.
11 Preasse not thou vnto him, that thou be not shut out: but go not thou farre of, lest he forget thee.
12 Withdraw not thy selfe from his speach, but beleue not his many wordes: For with much communication shall he tempt thee, and with a priuie mocke shal he question with thee of thy secretes.
13 The vnmercifull mynde of his shall marke thy wordes, he shall not spare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.
14 Beware and take good heede to thy selfe, for thou walkest in peryll of thy ouerthrowing: Now when thou hearest his wordes, make thee as though thou wast in a dreame, and wake vp. C
15 Loue God all thy lyfe long, and call vpon him in thy neede.
16 Euery beast loueth his like: euen so let euery man loue his neyghbour.
17 All flesshe will resort to their like, and euery man will kepe companie with such as he is him selfe.
18 But as the woolfe agreeth with the lambe: so doth the vngodly with the righteous.
19 (a) What peace is there betweene Hyena and a dogge? howe can the riche and the poore agree together?
20 The wilde asse is the lions pray in the wildernesse: euen so are poore men the meate of the riche.
21 Like as the proude may not away with lowlinesse: euen so doth the riche abhorre the poore.
22 If a riche man fal, his friendes set him vp againe: but when the poore falleth, his acquayntaunce forsake him.
23 If a riche man fall into an errour, he hath many helpers, he speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man go wrong, he is punished, yea though he speake wysely, yet can it haue no place.

(a) That is, with a sinner that returneth continually to his sinne agayne as a dogge to his vomit: or els after the other translation Hyena is a subtill beast, watching about sheepe herdes folkes resembling a mans voyce, and learning certayne names doth call them forth and so destroy them, whose nature is contrary to the dogge, which is a keper of the folde and friendly vnto man.

24 When

24 When the riche man speaketh, euery body holdeth his tongue, and loke what he sayth, they prayse it vnto the cloudes: But if the poore man speake, they say, what felow in this: and if he do amisse, they shall destroy hym.

25 Riches are good vnto hym that hath no sinne in his conscience: and pouertie is a wicked thing in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of man chaungeth his countenaunce, whether it be in good or euyll.

27 A chearfull countenaunce is a token of a good heart: for els it is an harde thing to knowe the thought.

The .xiiii. Chapter.

1 The offence of the tongue. 17 Man is but a vayne thing. 21 Happy is he that continueth in wysdome.

1 BLessed is the man *that hath not fallen with the worde of his mouth, & is not pricked with the conscience of sinne. A Eccle.xix.c. and xxv.c. Iames.iii.a.

2 Happy is he that hath no heauinesse in his minde, and is not fallen from his hope in the Lorde.

3 It becommeth not a couetous man and a nygarde to be riche: and what should an enuious man do with money?

4 He that with all his carefulnesse heapeth together vnrighteously, gathereth for other folkes, and another man shall make good cheare with his goodes.

5 He that is wicked vnto him selfe, howe should he be good vnto other men? how can such one haue any pleasure of his goodes.

6 There is nothing worse then when one disfauoureth him selfe: and this is a rewarde of his wickednesse.

7 If he do any good, he doth it not knowing therof and against his will, and at the last he declareth his vngraciousnesse.

8 A nygarde hath a wicked eye, he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

Pro.xvii.c Eccle.ii.a. 9 *A couetous mans eye hath neuer enough in the portion of wickednesse, vntill the time that he wyther away, and haue lost his owne soule.

10 (a) A wicked eye enuieth bread, and there is scarcenesse vpon his table.

11 My sonne, do good to thy selfe of that thou hast, and geue the Lorde his due offeringes.

12 Remember that death tarieth not, and how that the (b) graue is not shewed vnto thee: for the couenaunt of this world shall dye the death.

13 *Do good vnto thy friende before thou dye, and according to thy abilitie reathe out thyne hande & geue vnto the poore.

14 Be not disapoynted of the good day, and let not the portion of the good desire ouerpasse thee.

15 Shalt thou not leaue thy trauayles and labours vnto other men? In the deuiding of the heritage geue and take, and sanctifie thy soule.

16 Worke thou righteousnes before thy death: for in the hell there is no meate to finde.

17 *All flesh shall fade away lyke a garment, and lyke a flowishing leafe in a greene tree. Esa lx.a. i.Pet.i.d. Iames.i.b.

18 Some growe, some are cast downe, euen so is the generation of flesh and blood: one commeth to an ende, another is borne, and this is the condition of all times, thou shalt dye the death.

19 All transitorie thinges shal fayle at the last, & the worker therof shal go withal.

20 Euery chosen worke shalbe iustified, and he that medled withall shall haue honour therin.

21 Blessed is the man that kepeth hym in wysdome, and exerciseth him selfe in vnderstanding, and with discretion shall thinke vpon the foreknowledge of God, C

22 Whiche considereth the wayes of wysdome in his heart, hath vnderstanding in her secretes,

23 Goeth after her as one that seketh her out, and continueth in her ways,

24 He loketh in at her windowes, & harkeneth at her doores,

25 He taketh his rest beside her house, and fasteneth his stake in her walles: he shal pitche his tent nye vnto her hand, and in his tent shall good thinges rest for euermore.

26 He shal set his children vnder her couering, & shall dwell vnder her braunches.

27 Vnder her couering shall he be defended from her heate, and in the glorie shal he rest.

The.xv. Chapter.

1 The goodnesse that followeth hym which feareth God. 8 God reiecteth and casteth of the sinner, 11 God is not the auctour of euyll.

1 HE that feareth God, wil do good: & who so kepeth the lawe, shall obtayne wysdome.

2 As an honorable mother shall she meete hym, and (a) she as his wife maried of a virgin shal receaue hym.

(a) As a pure virgin newely maried, doth friendly entreat her husband: so shall iustice pure & vndefiled, gently entertayne her louers. Mat.xxv.a. Ioh.iii.a.

3 *With the bread of lyfe and vnderstanding shal she feede hym, & geue hym the water of wholsome wisdome to drinke.

4 If he be constant in her, he shall not be moued, and if he holde him fast by her, he shall not come to confusion.

5 She shall bring him to honour among his neyghbours, and in the middest of the congregation shall she open his mouth: with the spirite of wysdome and vnderstanding shall she fyll him, and cloth him with the garment of glorie.

6 She shall heape the treasure of myrth and ioye vpon him, and geue him an euerlasting name to heritage.

7 Foolishe men will not take holde vpon her, but such as haue vnderstanding, will meete her: Foolishe men shall not see her, for she is farre from pryde and disceyte.

8 Men that go about with lyes, will not remember her: but men of trueth shalbe founde in her, and shall prosper euen vnto the beholding of God.

9 Prayse is not seemely in the mouth of the vngodly, for he is not sent of the Lorde.

10 But if prayse come of wysdome and be plenteous in a faythfull mouth, then the Lorde will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, it is the Lordes fault that I am gone by: for thou shalt not do the thing that God hateth.

12 Say not thou, he hath caused me to do wrong: for he hath no neede of the vngodly.

13 God hateth al abhomination of errour, and they that feare God will loue none such.

14 *God made man from the beginning, and left him in the hande of his counsell: He gaue his commaundementes and preceptes. ℭ Gen.i.d.

15 If thou wilt obserue the commaundementes and kepe acceptable faythfulnesse for euer, they shall preserue thee.

16 *He hath set water and fyre before thee, reache out thine hande vnto which thou wilt. Ier.xxi.b.

17 Before man is lyfe and death, good and euyll: loke what him lyketh, shalbe geuen him.

18 For the wysdome of God is great and mighty in power, and beholdeth all thinges continually:

19 The eyes of the Lorde are vpon them that feare him, and he knoweth all the workes of man.

20 He hath commaunded no man to do vngodly, neither hath he geuen any man licence to sinne: for he desireth not a multitude of infidels and vnprofitable children.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1 Of vnhappie and wicked children. 19 No man can hyde him selfe from God. 24 An exhortation to the receauing of instruction.

1 DElite not thou in the multitude of vngodly children, and haue no pleasure in them if they feare not God.

2 Trust not thou to their lyfe, and regarde not their labours.

3 For one sonne that feareth God, is better then a thousand vngodly: And better it is for a man to dye without children, then to leaue beynde hym such children as are vngodly.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, may a whole citie be vpholden: but though the vngodly be many, yet shal it be wasted through them.

5 Many such thinges hath mine eye seene, and greater thinges then these haue I heard with myne eares.

6 *In the congregation of the vngodly shal a fire burne, and among vnfaythful people shall the wrath be kindled. Eccle.xxi.b

Eccle.v.a.

11 * For mercy & wrath is with him, he is both mightie to forgeue, and to powre out displeasure.

12 Lyke as his mercy is great, euen so is his punishement also: he iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The vngodly shall not escape in his spoyle, & the long patience of him that sheweth mércie, shall not byde behinde.

14 He will make a place for euery mercifull deede, and euery man shall finde according to his workes.

15 The Lorde hardened Pharao that he should not know him, and that his workes might be knowen vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercie is knowen to all creatures, he hath seperated his light from the darkenesse with an adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from God: for who will thinke vpon me from aboue: I shall not be knowen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among so many creatures:

18 Beholde, the heauen, yea the heauen of heauens of God, the deepe, the earth, and all that therein is, shalbe moued at his presence.

19 The mountaynes, the hilles, and the foundations of the earth shall shake for feare, when God visiteth them.

20 These thinges doth no heart vnderstand worthyly: but he vnderstandeth euery heart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes: No man seeth his stormes, and the most part of his workes are secrete.

22 who will declare the workes of his righteousnesse: or who shalbe able to abide them: For the couenaunt is farre from some, and trying out of men is in the ende.

23 He that is humble of heart, thinketh vpon such thinges: but an vnwyse and erronious man casteth his minde vnto foolishe thinges.

24 My sonne, hearken thou vnto me, and learne vnderstanding, and marke my wordes with thyne heart: I will geue thee a sure doctrine, and plainely shall I instruct thee.

25 Marke my wordes then in thyne heart: for in righteousnesse of the spirite do I speake of the wonders that God hath shewed among his workes from the beginning, & in the trueth do I shew the knowledge of him.

26 God hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, & part of them hath he sundred from the other.

27 He hath garnished his workes from euerlasting, and their beginninges according to their generations: they are not hungrie nor weeried in their labours, nor ceasse from their offices.

28 None of them hindred another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his wordes.

29 After this God loked vpon the earth, and filled it with his goodnesse.

Act.iii.c. 22 * But vnto them that wyll repent he hath geuen the way of righteousnesse: As for such as be weake, he comforteth them, suffereth them, and sendeth them the portion of the veritie.

Iosu.xxiiic. 4 * He that is hastie to geue credence, is light minded, & doth against him selfe.

5 Who so reioyceth in wickednesse, shalbe punished: but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneth his owne soule: he that refraineth his tongue, may lyue with a troublesome man: he that hateth to be reformed, his lyfe shalbe shortened: & he that abhorreth babling of wordes, quencheth wickednesse.

6 He that offendeth against his owne soule, shall repent it: and he that reioyceth in wickednes, shalbe punished.

B 7 Rehearse not a wicked and churlishe worde twyse, and thou shalt not be hindered.

8 Shewe thy secretes neither to friende nor foe: and if thou hast offended, tell it not out.

20 The feare of God is all wysdome: and he that is a righteous man keepeth the lawe.

21 If a seruaunt say vnto his maister, I wyll not do as it pleaseth thee: though afterwarde he do it, he shall displease him that nourisheth him.

22 As for the doctrine of wickednes, it is no wysdome, & the prudence of sinners is no good vnderstanding: it is but wickednes, and abhomination, and a blaspheming of wysdome. 23 A

23 A simple man of small vnderstanding that feareth God, is better thē one that hath much wysdome, and transgresseth the lawe of the highest.

24 A craftie suttle man can be wyse, but he is vnrighteous, and with giftes he wresteth the open and manifest lawe: againe, there is that is wise and iudgeth righteously.

The .xx. Chapter.

1 Of correction and repentaunce. 6 Of the gift of the wyse man, and of the foole. 23 Of lying.

A Eccle.xi.d. 1 Some man * reproueth his neighbour oft times, but not in due season: Againe, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wyse and discreete.

2 It is much better to geue warning and to reproue, then to beare euill wyll: for he that knowledgeth him selfe openly, shalbe preserued from hurt and destruction.

3 Lyke as when a gelded man through desire and lust defileth a mayden: euen so is it with him that vseth violence and vnrighteousnesse in the lawe.

4 O how good a thing is it, a man that is reproued to shewe openly his repentaunce: for so shalt thou escape wylfull sinne.

5 Some man keepeth silence and is founde wyse: but he that is not ashamed what he saith, is hatefull.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not vnderstanding of the language: and some man keepeth silence, wayting a conuenient time.

7 * A wyse man wyll holde his tongue tyll he see opportunitie: but a wanton and vndiscreete body shall regarde no time. B Eccle.iii.a.

8 He that vseth many wordes, shal hurt his owne soule: and he that taketh authoritie vpon him vnrighteously, shalbe hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked thinges: Againe, some man getteth much, and hath harme & losse.

10 There is some gift that is nothing worth: Againe, there is some gift whose rewarde is double.

11 There is an humilitie for glories sake, and some commeth to worship from lowe estate.

12 Some man byeth much for a litle price, and must pay for it seuen folde.

13 * A wyse man with his wordes maketh him selfe to be beloued: but the merie tales of fooles shalbe powred out. Eccle.vi.d. C

14 The gift of the vnwyse shall do thee no good, nor yet of the enuious, for his importunitie is seuen folde: for he loketh to receaue many thinges for one.

15 * He shall geue litle, & say he gaue much: he openeth his mouth and cryeth out, as it were one that cryed out wide. Eccle.xviii.c

16 To day he lendeth, to morowe asketh he againe: and such a man is to be hated of God and man.

17 The foole saith, I haue no freend, I haue no thanke for all my good deedes: yea euen they that eate my bread speake no good of me: O how oft and of how many shal he be laughed to scorne?

18 He taketh a more perilous fall by such wordes, then if he fel vpon the grounde: euen so shal the fall of wicked men come hastyly.

19 In the mouth of him that is vntaught, are many vnconuenient and vnmeete wordes.

20 A wyse sentence shall not be alowed at the mouth of the foole: for he speaketh it not in due season. D

21 Some man sinneth not, because he hath not wherewithall, and in his rest he shalbe stinged.

22 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule with shame, and for an vnwyse vnwyse bodyes sake destroyeth he it, and with accepting of persons shall he vndoe him selfe.

23 Some man promyseth his friende a gift for very shame: and getteth an enemie of him for nought.

24 A lye is a wicked shame in a man: yet shall it be euer in the mouth of the vnwyse.

25 A theefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lye: but they both shall haue destruction to heritage.

26 The conditions of lyers are vnhoneſt: and their shame is euer with them.

27 A wyse man shall bring him selfe to honour with his wordes: *and he that hath vnderstanding shalbe set by among great men. Gene.xli.f.

28* He that tylleth his lande, shall encrease his heape of corne: he that worketh righteousnesse shalbe exalted, and he that pleaseth great men, shall escape much euill. Pro.xii.b.

29 *Rewardes and giftes blinde the eyes of the wyse, and make him dumbe that he can not tell men their faultes. Eccle.xx.a.

30 *Wysdome that is hid, and treasure that is hoorded vp, what profite is in them both? Eccle.xli.c.

31 Better is he that kepeth his ignorãce secrete, then a man that hideth his wysdome.

32 The necessarie patience of him that followeth the Lorde, is better then he that gouerneth his lyfe without the Lorde.

2 Flee from sinne, euen as from a serpent: for if thou comest to nye her, she wyll bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, to slay the soules of men.

3 The wickednesse of man is as a sharpe two edged sword, which maketh such woundes that they cannot be healed.

4 Strife and wrongfull dealing, shall waste away a mans goodes, & through pride a riche house shalbe brought to naught: so the riches of the proude shalbe rooted out.

Exo.iii.b. 5 *The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, & commeth vnto the eares, and his vengeaunce [or defence] shall come hastyly.

6 Who so hateth to be reformed, it is a tokē of an vngodly person: but he that feareth God, wyll remember him selfe.

B 7 A mightie man is knowen a farre of by his tongue: but he that hath vnderstanding, perceaueth that he shall haue a fall.

8 Who so buildeth his house with other mens cost, (a) is lyke one that gathereth stones to make his graue. (a) with good worke and not paide agayne, robbed, sclē, or of false gayned: gathereth one & layeth it to his wife, when the frost doth so congeale the matter, that it can not holde the stones together.

*9 *The congregation of the vngodly, is lyke stubble gathered together, their ende is a flambe of fire. Eccle.xvi.a.

10 The way of the vngodly is set with stones: but in their ende is hell, darkenesse, and paines.

11 He that kepeth the lawe, wyll holde fast the vnderstanding thereof: and the ende of the feare of God is wysdome and vnderstanding.

12 He that is not wyse, wyl not be taught in good, but the vnwyse man aboundeth in wickednesse: and where bitternesse is, there is no vnderstanding.

13 The knowledge of the wyse shal flowe ℭ lyke water that runneth ouer, and his counsaile is lyke a pure fountaine of life.

14 The heart of a foole is lyke a broken vessel, he can keepe no wysdome.

15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth a wyse worde, he shall commend it and make much of it: but if a voluptuous man heare it, he shall haue no pleasure therein, but cast it behinde his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is lyke an heauy burthen by the way: but to heare a wise man speake, it is pleasure.

17 Where a doubt is in the congregation, it is asked at the mouth of the wyse, and they shall ponder his wordes in their heartes.

18 Lyke as is a house that is destroyed, euen so is wysdome vnto a foole: as for the knowledge of the vnwyse, it is but darke wordes.

19 Doctrine is vnto him that hath no vnderstanding, derstanding, euen as fetters about his feete, and lyke manicles vpon his right hande.

20 * A foole lifteth vp his voyce with laughter: but a wyse man shall scase laugh secretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wyse man a iewell of golde, and lyke an armlet vpon his right arme.

22 A foolishe mans foote is soone in his neighbours house: but one that hath experience shalbe ashamed at the person of the mightie.

23 A foole wyll peepe in at the windowe into the house: but he that is wel nurtured wyll stande without.

24 A foolishe man standeth hearkening at the dooze: but he that is wyse wyll be ashamed.

25 The lippes of the vnwyse wyl be telling foolishe thinges: but the wozdes of such as haue vnderstanding shalbe wayed in the balaunce.

26 The heart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wyse is in their heart.

27 When the vngodly curseth the (b) blasmer, he curseth his owne soule.

28 * A priuie accuser of other men shall defile his owne soule, and be hated of euery man: but he that keepeth his tongue and is discreete, shal come to honour.

(b) For while he curseth an other, he doth the same thing, and so curseth him selfe. Leui. xix.d.

¶ The .xxii. Chapter.

1 Of the sluggard. 12 Not to speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience feareth not.

1 A slouthfull bodye is moulded (a) of a stone of claye, and euery man wyll speake to his dispayse.

2 A slouthfull body is made of the doung of oxen, and euery one that toucheth him must wasshe his handes againe.

3 A misnurtured sonne, is the dishonour of the father: a foolishe daughter shalbe litle regarded.

4 A wyse daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but she that cõmeth to dishonestie, bringeth her father in heauinesse.

5 A daughter that is past shame, dishonoureth both her father and her husband: the vngodly shall regarde her, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of time, is as musicke in mourning: but wysdome knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 If children lyue honestly and haue wherewithall, they shall put away the shame of their parentes:

8 But if children be proude with hautines and foolishnes, they blot out the nobilitie of their kinred.

9 Who so teacheth a foole, is euen as one that gleweth a potsharde together, as one that telleth a tale to him that heareth him not, and as one that rayseth a man out of an heauy sleepe.

10 Who so telleth a foole of wysdome, is euen as a man which speaketh to one that is a sleepe: when he hath tolde his tale, he saith, what is the matter?

11 When one dyeth, lamentation is made for him, because the light fayleth him: euen so, let men mourne ouer a foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding. Make but litle weeping because of the dead, for he is come to rest: but the lyfe of the foole is worse then the death.

12 Seuen dayes do men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation ouer the vnwyse and vngodly should endure all the dayes of their lyfe.

13 Talke not much with a foole, and go not with him that hath no vnderstanding: beware of him, lest it turne thee to trauaile, and thou shalt not be defiled with his sinne. Depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and shalt not be drawen backe into his foolishnes.

14 (b) What is heauier then leade? and what shoulde a foole be called els but leade?

15 * Sande, salte, and a lumpe of iron is easier to beare, then an vnwyse, foolishe, and vngodly man.

16 Lyke as the bande of wood bounde together in the foundation of the house can not be loosed: euen so is it with the heart that is stablished in the thought of counsell. The thought of the wyse shall neuer feare, nor be offended at any time.

17 Lyke as a faire plastered wall in a winter house and a hye building may not

(a) That is, lyke as the stone gathereth moste hardnes, so there the slothfull wyll rather sicken then labour of body and corruption of minde: and as filthy mire doth a man by the handes, euen so doth the slothfull abhorre the company of wyse men, till he be ouercome by the dares them.

(b) Though leade be heauy, yet may it be borne, but the insolent foole may not be borne, as Pro. xxvii. Heauy is the stone and weightie is the sande: but the furie of a foole both passe them both.

not abide the winde and storme: euen so is a fooles heart afraide in his imagination, he feareth at euery thing, and can not endure.

8 A wauering heart in the imagination of a foole wyll not euer stande in awe: but he that abideth in the commaundementes of God, wyll alway feare.

D 19 He that nippeth a mans eye, bringeth forth teares: and he that pricketh the heart, bringeth forth the meaning and thought.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the birdes, frayeth them away: and he that blasphemeth his freend, breaketh frendship.

21 Though thou drewest a sworde at thy freend, yet dispaire not: for thou mayst come againe to thy freend.

22 If he speake sourely, feare not: for ye may be agreed together againe, except it be that thou blaspheme him, disdayne him, open his secretes, and wounde him trayterously: for all such thinges shall dryue away a freend.

23 Be faithfull vnto thy neighbour in his pouertie, that thou mayst reioyce with him also in his prosperitie: abyde stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou maist be heyre with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to be contempned, nor the riche that is foolish to be had in estimation.

24 Lyke as the vapour and smoke goeth out at the ouen before the fire: euen so euill wordes, rebukes, and threatninges go before bloodshedding.

25 Be not ashamed to defende thy freend, as for me I wyll not hide my face from E him though he should do me harme: whosoeuer heareth it, shall beware of him.

26 Who shal set a watch before my mouth, Psal.cxii.a. and a sure seale vpon my lippes, that I fall not with them, and that my tongue destroy me not:

The .xxiii. Chapter.

A prayer against pride, lechery, and gluttony. 13 Of othes, blasphemy, and vnwyse communication. 16 Of the three kindes of sinnes. 23 Many sinnes proceede of adultrie. 27 Of the feare of God.

A 1 O Lorde, father and gouernour of my lyfe, leaue me not in their imagination and counsell: Oh let me not fall 2 in such reproofe.

Who wyll keepe my thought with the scourge, and the doctrine of wysdome in myne heart: that he spare not myne ignorauce, that I fall not with them:

3 Lest myne ignorauces increase, that myne offences be not many in number, and that my sinnes exceede not: lest I fall before myne enemies, and so my aduersarie reioyce, whose hope is farre frō thy mercie.

4 O Lorde thou father and God of my lyfe, leaue me not in their imagination: O let me not haue a proude looke, but turne away all voluptuousnesse fro me.

5 Take from me the lustes of the body, let not the desires of vnclennesse take holde vpon me,

6 And geue me not ouer into an vnshamefast and obstinate minde.

7 Heare me O ye children, I wyll geue you a doctrine how ye shall order your mouth: Whoso kepeth it shal not perishe through his lippes, nor be hurt through wicked workes.

8 As for the sinner, he shalbe taken in B his owne vanitie: he that is proude and cursed, shall fall therein.

9 *Let not thy mouth be accustomed Exo.xx.b. with swearing, for in it there are many fals: let not the naming of God be continually in thy mouth, and meddle not with the names of saintes, for thou shalt not be excused of them.

10 For lyke as a seruaunt which is oft punished, can not be without some sore: euen so whatsoeuer he be that sweareth and nameth God, shall not be cleane purged from sinne.

11 A man that vseth much swearing shal be filled with wickednesse, & the plague shall neuer go from his house: if he beguile his brother, his fault shalbe vpon him, if he knowledge not his sinne, he maketh a double offence, & if he sweare in vaine, he shall not be founde righteous: for his house shalbe full of plagues.

12 *The wordes of the swearer bringeth Leui.24.c death, God graunt that it be not founde in the house of Jacob: but they that feare feare God eschue all such, and lye not weltering in sinne.

13 *Use not thy mouth to vnhoneste & filthy talking, for in it is the word of sinne.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother when thou art set among great men: lest God forget thee in their sight, and lest thou doting in thy custome, suffer rebuke, and wishe not to haue ben borne, and so curse the day of thy natiuitie.

15 *The man that is accustomed with the wordes of blasphemie, will neuer be reformed all the dayes of his lyfe.

16 To sinne twise is to much, but the third bringeth wrath and destruction: *An hot stomacke can not be quenched (euen like a burning fire) til it haue swalowed vp some thing: euen so an vnchaste man hath no rest in his flesh, till he haue kindled a fire.

17 All bread is sweete to an whoremonger, he will not leaue of till he dye.

18 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and regardeth not his soule, but sayth, *Tushe who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkenesse, the walles couer me, no body seeth me, whom neede I to feare? the hyghest will not remember my sinnes:

19 He vnderstandeth not that his eyes see all thinges, for all such feare of men driueth away the feare of God from hym: for he feareth onely the eyes of men, and considereth not that the eyes of the Lord are clearer then the sunne, beholding all the wayes of men, & the ground of the deepe, and loking euen to mens heartes in secrete places.

20 The Lorde God knewe all thinges or euer they were made, and after they be brought to passe also he loketh vpon them all.

21 *The same man shalbe openly punished in the streetes of the citie, & shalbe chased abrode lyke a young horse foale; and when he thinketh least vpon it, he shalbe taken.

22 Thus shall he be put to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstand the feare of the Lorde: And thus shal it go also with euery wyfe that leaueth her husbande, and getteth inheritaunce by a straunge mariage.

23 *First, she hath ben vnfaythful vnto the lawe of the hyghest: secondly, she hath forsaken her owne husbande: thyrdly, she hath played the whore in adultrie, & gotten her children by an other man.

24 She shalbe brought out of the congregation, and her children shalke loked vpon.

25 Her children shal not take roote: and as for fruite her braunches shall bring forth none.

26 A shamefull report shall she leaue behinde her, and her dishonour shall not be put out.

27 And they that remayne, shall knowe that there is nothing better then the feare of God, and that there is nothing sweeter then to take heed vnto the commaundementes of the Lorde.

28 A great worship is it to folowe the Lord: for long lyfe shalbe receaued of hym.

The. xxiiii. Chapter.

1 A prayse of wysdome proceeding forth of the mouth of God. 6 Of her workes and place where she resteth.

A 1 WYsdome shall prayse her selfe, and be honoured in God, & reioyce in the middest of the people:

2 In the congregations of the hyghest shall she open her mouth, and triumph in the beholding of his power.

3 In the middest of her people shall she be exalted, and wondred at in the holy fulnesse.

4 In the multitude of the chosen she shalbe commended, and among such as be blessed she shalbe praysed, and shal say,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the hyghest, first borne before all creatures.

6 I caused the light that fayleth not to arise in the heauen, and couered all the earth as a cloude.

7 My dwelling is aboue in the heygth, and my seate is in the pyller of the cloude. B

8 I my selfe alone haue gone round about the compasse of heauen, and pearsed the grounde of the deepe.
9 I haue walked in the fluddes of the sea, and haue stande in all landes, my dominion is in euery people and in euery nation, and with my power haue I troden downe the heartes of all, both hye and lowe.
10 In all these thinges also I sought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritaunce.
11 So the creator of all thinges gaue me a commaundement, and he that made me, appoynted me a tabernacle, and sayd vnto me: Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritaunce in Israel, & roote thy selfe among my chosen.
Pro.viii.c. 12 *I was created from the beginning and before the world, and shall not leaue of vnto the world to come: *In the holy habitation haue I serued before hym, and so was I stablished in Sion.
Exo.xxxi.a
Psal.xl.a. 13 *In the holy citie rested I in like maner, and in Hierusalem was my power.
14 I toke roote in an honorable people, euen in the portion of the Lorde and in his heritage, and kept me in the fulnesse of the sainctes.
15 I am set vp an hye like a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Cipers tree vpon the mount Hermon.
16 I am exalted lyke a palme tree in Cades, and as a rose plant in Jericho, as a fayre Olyue tree in the fielde, and am exalted like as a plantaine tree by the water side.
17 I haue geuen a smell in the streetes as the Cinamon and Balme that hath so good a sauour, yea a sweet odour haue I geuen as it were myrre of the best: I haue made my dwellinges to smell as it were of Rosin, Galbanum, of Cloues, Insence, and as Libanus when it is not hewen downe, and myne odour is as the pure balme.
(a) Terebint is a harde tree spred a-brode with long boughes, where out of runneth the gome called a pure turpentine, which clenseth the stomacke of putrified humours, & purifieth the ayre: so the wisdome of God declared in hys scriptures, spreadeth abrode her manifolde braunches of knowledge & vnderstanding, to purge the inward cares and corruption of the soule.
18 As the (a) Terebint haue I stretched out my braunches, and my braunches are the braunches of honour and louing sauour.
19 As the vine haue I brought foorth frute of a sweete sauour, & my floures are the fruite of honour and riches.
20 I am the mother of beautie, of loue, of feare, of knowledge, and of holy hope: I geue eternall thinges to all my children to whom God hath commaunded.
21 In me is all grace of lyfe and trueth, in me is all hope of lyfe and vertue.
22 D come vnto me al ye that be desirous of me, & fill your selues with my frutes. D
23 For my spirite is sweeter then hony, and so is myne inheritaunce more then the hony combe: the remembraunce of me endureth for euermore.
24 They that eate me, shall haue the more hunger: and they that drinke me, shall thirst the more.
25 Who so hearkeneth vnto me, shall not come to confusion, and they that worke in me shall not offende: they that take me to be knowen, shall haue euerlasting lyfe.
26 All these thinges are the booke of lyfe, the couenaunt of the highest, and the knowledge of the trueth: *Moyses commaunded the lawe in the preceptes of righteousnesse for an heritage vnto the house of Jacob, and committed the promise vnto Israel. Exo.xx.a. and xxiii.a
27 Be not weery to behaue yourselues valiauntly with the Lord, that he may also confirme you: Cleaue vnto him, for the Lord almightie is but one God, and besides hym there is none other sauiour.
28 (*Out of Dauid his seruaunt he ordeyned to rayse vp a most mightie king, sitting in the seate of honour for euermore.) Psa.lxxxix.b. Act.ii.d. E
29 *This filleth with wysdome, lyke as the fludde of Phison, and as the fludde of Tigris when the newe fruites are a growing. Deute.xliii.a. and xxix.b.
30 *This bringeth a plenteous vnderstanding like Euphrates, and filleth it vp as Jordane in the time of haruest. Iosu.iii.c.
31 This maketh nurture to breake foorth as the light, and as the Water Gehon in the haruest.
32 The first hath not knowen her perfectly: no more shall the last seke out the grounde of her.
33 For her thought is fuller then the sea, and her counsell is profounder then the great deepe.
34 I wysdome haue cast out fluddes, I am as a great water brooke out of the riuer, I am as the riuer Dorix, and as a water conduite am I come out of the garden of pleasure.
35 I sayde, I will water the garden of my young plantes, and fil the fruite of my byrth: So my water brooke became exceeding great, and my riuer approched vnto the sea.

36 For

36 For I make doctrine to be vnto al men as light as the faire morning, and I shal make it to be euer the clearer.

37 I will pearse thorowe all the lower parties of the earth, I will loke vpon al such as be a sleepe, and lighten all them that put their trust in the Lorde.

38 I shall yet powre out doctrine lyke as prophecie, and leaue it vnto such as seke after wysdome, and their generations shall I neuer fayle vnto the holy euerlasting worlde.

39 *Beholde howe that I haue not laboured for my selfe onely: but for all them that seke after the trueth. Ec.xxxiii.b.

The .xxv. Chapter.

1 Of three thinges whiche please God, and of three which he hateth. 7 Of nyne thinges that be not to be suspect, and of the tenth. 15 Chiefely of the malice of a woman.

A 1 THree thinges there are that my spirite fauoureth, which be also alowed before God and men: *The vnitie of brethren, *the loue of neyghbours, *a man and wyfe that agree well together. Gene.xlii.d. Rom.xii.b. Eccle.xl.d.

2 Three thinges there be which my soule hateth, and I vtterly abhorre the life of them: A poore man that is proude, a riche man that is a lyar, *and an old body that doteth and is vnchaste. Gen.xviii.b

3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what wilt thou find then in thine age?

4 O howe pleasaunt a thing is it when gray headed men are discrete, and when the elders can geue good counsell?

5 O howe comely a thing is wisdome vnto aged men? yea, vnderstanding & counsel to men of honour is a glorious thing.

6 The crowne of olde men, is to haue much experience: and the feare of God, is their worshyp.

B 7 There be nyne thinges which I haue iudged in my heart to be happy, and the tenth will I tell forth vnto men with my tongue: A man that whyle he liueth hath ioy of his children, and seeth the fal of his enemies.

8 Well is hym that dwelleth with an houswyfe of vnderstanding, *and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not ben fayne to serue such as are vnmeete for hym. Eccle.xix.c. and xxviii.a. Lamen.iii.a.

9 Well is hym that findeth "a faythfull friend: and well is him which talketh of wysdome to an eare that heareth hym. "Or, vpright.

10 O howe great is he that findeth wysdome and knowledge? yet is he not aboue him that feareth the Lorde.

11 The feare of God hath set it selfe aboue all thinges.

12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is graunted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shall he be likened that kepeth it fast?

13 The feare of God is the beginning of his loue: and the beginning of fayth, is to cleaue fast vnto it.

14 The heauinesse of the heart is all the punishement, and the wickednesse of a woman goeth aboue all. C

15 All punishement and plague is nothing in comparison of the plague of the heart: euen so, al wickednesse is nothing to the wickednesse of a woman.

16 What so euer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in comparison of it that his euil willers do vnto him: and al vengeaunce is nothing to the vengeaunce of the enemie.

17 There is not a more wicked head then the head of the serpent: and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman.

18 *I wyll rather dwel with a lion and dragon, then to kepe house with a wicked wyfe. Pro.xxi.a.

19 The wickednesse of a woman chaungeth her face, she shal moffle her countenaunce as it were a beare, and as a sacke shal she shewit among the neyghbours.

20 Her husbande is brought to shame among his neyghbours because of her: & when he heareth it, it maketh him to sigh.

21 All wickednesse is but litle to the wickednesse of a woman: the portion of the vngodly shall fall vpon her. D

22 Lyke as the clymyng vp a sandy way is to the feete of the aged: euen so is a wife full of wordes to a still quiete man.

23 *Loke not too narowly vpon the beautie of a woman, lest thou be prouoked in desire towarde her. Eccle.xlii.a. ii.Reg.xi.a. and xiii.a.

24 The wrath of a woman is dishonour and great confusion: If a woman get the mastrie, then is she contrarie to her husbande.

25 A wicked wyfe maketh a sory heart, an heauy countenaunce, and a dead wound: *weake handes & feeble knees is a woman that her husband is not the better for.

Gen.iii.c. i.Tim.ii.b.

26 Of the woman came the (a) beginning of sinne, & thorowe her we all are dead.

27 Geue thy water no passage, no not a litle, neither geue a wicked woman her will.

28 If she walke not after thy hande, she shall confounde thee in the sight of thine enemies: Cut her of then from thy flesh, that she do not alway abuse thee.

(a) 1.Tim.2. Adam was not deceaued. But to the Rom.5. he sayth. By one man sinne entred into the worlde. The occasion was offered by the woman, but the sinne was finished by the man consenting thereunto.

The.xxvi. Chapter.

1 The prayse of a good woman. 5 Of the feare of three thinges, and of the fourth. 6 Of the iealousie and drunkennesse of a woman. 28 Of two thinges that cause sorowe, of the thyrde whiche moueth wrath.

A 1 HAppy is the man that hath a vertuous wyfe: for the nũber of his yeres shalbe double.

2 An honest woman maketh her husbande a ioyfull man, and she shall fill the yeres of his lyfe in peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a noble gift, Whiche shalbe geuen for a good portion vnto such as feare God:

4 Whether a man be riche or poore, he may haue euer a mery heart, & a cheareful countenaunce.

5 There be three thinges that my heart feareth, and my face is afrayde of the fourth: treason in a citie, a seditious people, and noysome tongues: all these are heauyer then the death.

B 6 When one woman is ielous ouer an other, it bringeth payne and sorowe vnto the heart: and a woman that telleth out all thinges, is a scourge of the tongue.

Iud.xvi.a.

7 When one hath an euyll wyfe, it is euen as when an vnlyke payre of oxen must drawe together: *he that getteth her, getteth a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman is a great plague: for she can not couer her owne shame.

Eccle.xlii.d. 9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowen in the pryde of her eyes and eye liddes.

10 *If thy daughter be not shamefast, hold her straytly, lest she abuse her selfe thorowe ouer much libertie.

11 Beware of all the dishonestie of her eyes, & maruel not if she do against thee.

☞ 12 As a way faring man that is thirstie, when he hath founde a well drinketh of euery water: so will she sit downe by euery hedge, and make her selfe common to euery man that passeth by.

13 A louing wyfe reioyceth her husbande, & feedeth his bones with her wysdome.

14 A woman of fewe wordes is a gift of God: to all nurtured myndes may nothing be compared.

15 An honest and manerly woman is a gift aboue other giftes: and there is no wayght to be compared vnto a minde that can rule it selfe.

16 Like as the sunne when it ariseth, is an ornament in the hie heauen of the Lord: so is a vertuous wyfe the beautie of all her house.

17 Like as the cleare light is vpon the holy candelsticke: so is the beautie of the face vpon an honest body. Can.v.d.

18 *Like as the golden pillers are vpon the sockettes of siluer: so are the fayre feete vpon a woman that hath a constant mynde.

19 Perpetual are the foundations that be layed vpon a whole stony rocke: so are the commaundementes of God vpon the heart of an holy woman.

20 There be two thinges that greeue my heart, & in the thirde is displeasure come vpõ me: When an experte man of warre D suffreth scarsenesse and pouertie, when men of vnderstanding and wisdome are not set by, and when one departeth from righteousnesse vnto sinne: who so doth such, the Lorde hath prepared him vnto the sworde.

21 There be two maner of thinges which me thinke to be harde and perilous: A marchaunt can not lightly kepe hym from wrong, neither a tauerner hym selfe from sinne.

The. xxvii. Chapter.

3 Of the poore that woulde be riche. 5 The probation of the man that feareth God.
13 The vnconstantenesse of a foole. 16 The secretes of a friend are not to be vttered.
20 The wicked imagineth euyll, whiche returneth vpon him selfe.

A 1 BEcause of pouertie haue many one offended: and he that seketh to be riche, turneth his eyes aside.

2 Like as a nayle in the wal sticketh fast betwixt two stones: euen so doth sinne sticke betwixt the bier and the seller.

3 If he holde him not diligently in the feare of the Lorde, his house shall soone be ouerthrowen.

4 Like as when one sifteth, the filthynesse remayneth in the syue: So remayneth there some vncleane thing in the thought of man.

5 The ouen proueth the potters vessel: *so doth temptation of trouble trye righteous men. Sa.viii. 1.Pet.iii.b.

6 *The tree of the fielde is knowen by his fruite: so is the thought of mans heart knowen by his wordes. Mat.vii.b.

B 7 Prayse no man except thou haue heard him: for a man is knowen by his wordes.

8 If thou folowest righteousnes, thou shalt get her, and put her vpon thee as a fayre garment: and thou shalt dwell with her, and she shall defende thee for euer, and in the day of knowledge thou shalt finde stedfastnesse.

9 The byrdes resorte vnto their lyke: so doth the trueth turne vnto them that be occupied withall.

10 The lion wayteth the pray: so doth sinne vpon them that worke vnrighteousnesse.

11 The talking of him that feareth God, is nothing but wysdome: as for a foole he chaungeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vndiscrete, kepe thy wordes to a conuenient time: but among such as be wise, speake on hardyly.

13 The talking of fooles is abhomination, and their sport is volupteousnesse and misnurture.

Eccl.xxii.b. 14 *Much swearing maketh the heere to stande vp: and to stryue with such, stoppeth the eares.

15 The stryfe of the proude is bloodshedding, and their blasphemyng is heauy to heare.

16 *Who so discouereth secretes, leeseth his credence, and fyndeth no friende after his will. Eccl. xix b. and .xxii.d.

17 Loue thy friende, and binde thy selfe in faythfulnesse with him: but if thou bewrayest his secretes, thou shalt not get him againe.

18 For like as the man is that destroyeth his enemie: so is he also that dealeth falsly in the friendship of his neyghbour.

19 Like as one that letteth a byrde go out of his hande, can not take her againe: Euen so thou, if thou geue ouer thy friende, thou canst not get him againe.

20 Yea thou canst not come by him, for he is to farre of: He is vnto thee as a Roe escaped out of the snare, for his soule is wounded.

21 As for woundes, they may be bounde vp againe, and an euyll worde may be reconciled: but who so bewrayeth the secretes of a friende, there is no more hope to be had vnto him. D

22 *He that winketh with the eyes, imagineth some euyll: and he that knoweth him, will let him alone. Pro.ix.b.

23 When thou art present, he shall hyghlie commende and prayse thy wordes: but at the last he shall turne his tayle, and sclaunder thy saying.

24 Many thinges haue I hated, but nothing so euyll: for the Lorde him selfe also abhorreth such a one.

25 *Who so casteth a stone an hye, it shal fal vpon his owne head: and he that smyteth with guyle, woundeth him selfe. Exo. xxi. b.

26 Who so diggeth a pit shall fall therein, and he that layeth a stone in his neyghbours way, shall stumble theron, and he that layeth a snare for another, shall be taken in it him selfe.

27 *Who so geueth a wicked noisome counsell, it shall come vpon hym selfe, and he shall not knowe from whence. Deut vii.d. Psal.vii.d. Pro xxvi.c. Eccle.x.a.

28 The proude blaspheme and are scorneful: but vengeaunce lurketh for them as a lion.

29 They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous shall be taken in the snare: anguishe of heart shall consume them before they dye.

30 Anger and rigorousnesse are two abhominable thinges, and the vngodly hath them both vpon hym.

The .xxviii. Chapter.

1 we ought not to desire vengeaunce, but to forgeue the offence. 13 Of the vices of the tongue, and of the daungers therof.

A

Deut.32.a. Roma.xii.c.

1 HE *that seketh vengeaunce, shal find vengeaunce of the Lorde, which shal surely kepe hym his sinnes.

Mat.v.b.vi. b.xviii.b.

2 *Forgeue thy neyghbour the hurt that he hath done thee, and so shal thy sinnes be forgeuen thee also when thou prayest.

3 A man that beareth hatred against another, how dare he desire forgeuenesse of God:

4 He that sheweth no mercie to a man which is like him selfe, how dare he aske forgeuenesse of his sinnes:

5 If he that is but flesche, beareth hatred and kepeth it, who will intreate for his sinnes:

6 Remember the ende, and let enmitie passe Whiche seketh death and destruction, and abyde thou in the commaundementes.

B

7 Remember the commaundementes, so shalt thou not be rigorous ouer thy neyghbour: Thinke vpon the couenaunt of the hyghest, and forgeue thy neyghbours ignorance.

Eccle.lviii.a.

8 *Beware of stryfe, and thou shalt make thy sinnes fewer.

9 For an angry man kindleth bariaunte: and the vngodly disquieteth friendes, and putteth discorde among them that be at peace.

Pro.xxvi.c.

10 *The more wood there is, the more behement is the fire, and the mightier that men be, the greater is the wrath: according to his riches his anger increaseth, and the longer the stryfe endureth, the more it burneth.

11 And hastie brawling kindleth a fyre, and an hastie stryfe sheddeth blood: A tongue also that beareth false witnesse, bringeth death.

12 If thou blow the sparke it shall burne, yf thou spyt vpon it, it shall go forth, and both these come out of the mouth.

13 *The sclaunderer and doubble tongued is cursed: for many one that be friendes, setteth he at bariaunte. Eccle. xxi.d

14 The "thirde tongue hath disquieted many one, and dryuen them from one lande to another: Strong cities of the riche hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houses of great men: The strength of the people hath it brought downe, and ben the decay of mightie nations.

" Or, A double tonge: which sayth and vnsayth, or speaketh one thing and thinketh an other. The third tongue do some take for that which speaketh neither out of the newe nor the old testament, but of their owne brayne.

15 The thirde tongue hath cast out many an honest woman, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who so hearkeneth vnto such, shal neuer finde rest, and neuer dwell safely.

17 The stroke of the rod maketh printes in the skinne: but the stroke of the tongue smyteth the bones in sunder.

18 There be many that haue perished with the sworde: but many mo thorow the tongue.

19 Well is him that is kept from an euyll tongue, and commeth not in the anger thereof, Which draweth not the yoke of such, and is not bounde in the bandes of it.

20 For the yoke therof is of yron, and the bande of it of "steele. " Or, brasse.

21 The death therof is a very euyl death: hell were better for one, then such a D tongue.

22 But the fire of it may not oppresse them that feare God, and the flambe thereof may not burne them.

23 Such as forsake the Lorde, shall fall therin, and it shall burne them, and no man shall be able to quenche it: It shall fall vpon them as a lion, and deuour them as a leoparde.

24 Thou hedgest thy goodes with thornes: why doest thou not rather make doores and barres for thy mouth:

25 Thou

25 Thou wayest thy gold and siluer: why doest thou not waye thy wordes also vpon thy balaunce, and make a doore, and a barre, and a sure bridell for thy mouth:

26 Beware that thou slide not thy tongue, and so fal before thyne enemies that lay wayte for thee, and thy fal be incurable, euen vnto death.

The. xxix. Chapter.

1 Howe we ought to lende our money, and do almes. 15 Of a faythfull man answering for his friende. 22 Of liberalitie and hospitalitie.

A 1 Deute.xv.a. Luk.vi.d. WHo so will shewe mercie, *let hym lende vnto his neyghbour: and he that is able, let him kepe the commaundementes.

2 Lend vnto thy neyghbour in time of his neede, and paye thou thy neyghbour againe in due season.

3 Kepe thy worde, and deale faythfully with him: and thou shalt alway finde the thing that is necessarie for thee.

4 There haue ben many, that when a thing was lent them, reckened it to be founde, and made them trauayle and labour that had helped them.

5 Whyle they receaue any thing, they kisse the handes of such as geue them, and for their neyghbours good they humble their voyce: but when they should paye againe, they kepe it backe, and geue euyl wordes, and make many excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he be able, yet geueth he scarse the halfe againe, and reckeneth the other to be founde: And if he withholde not his money, yet hath he an enemie of him, and that vndeserued: he payeth him with cursing and rebuke, and geueth him euyll wordes for his good deede.

B 7 There be many one which are not glad for to lende, not because of euyl: but they feare to lose the thing that they lende.

8 Yet haue thou patience with the simple, and withholde not mercie from him.

9 Helpe the poore for the commaundementes sake, and let hym not go emptie from thee, because of his necessitie.

10 Lose thy money for thy brother and neyghbours sake, and burie it not vnder a stone where it rusteth and corrupteth.

Mat.vi.c. Luk.xii.d. 1.Tim.vi.d. 11 *Gather thy treasure after the commaundement of the hyghest, and so shal it bring thee more profite then golde.

12 *Lay vp thyne almes in the hande of the poore, and it shall kepe thee from all euyll. Tob.iiii.d. * Or, In the secrete chambers.

13 *A mans almes is as a purse with him, & shal kepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and afterwarde shall it arise and paye euery man his rewarde vpon his head. Dani.iii.d. Luk.xii.d. Act.x.a.

14 It shall fight for thee against thyne enemies, better then the shielde of a gyaunt or speare of the mightie. C

15 A good honest man is a suertie for his neyghbour, but a wicked person: letteth him come to shame.

16 Forget not the friendship of thy suertie: for he hath geuen his soule for thee.

17 The vngodly despiseth the good deede of his suertie. (a) As he is a fole that ta-, suretie for euery man: so is he vngodly that in no case will be suretie for one man.

18 (a) The wicked will not become suertie, and the vnthankeful and ignorant leaueth his suertie in daunger.

19 Some man promiseth for his neyghbour: & when he hath lost his honestie, he shall forsake him.

20 Suertiship hath destroyed many a riche man, and remoued them as the waues in the sea: Mightie people hath it dryuen away, and caused them to wander in straunge countreys.

21 An vngodly man transgressing the commaundement of the Lorde, shall fal into an euyll suertiship: and though he force him selfe to get out, yet shall he fall into iudgement. D

22 Helpe thy neyghbour out after thy power, and beware that thou thy selfe fall not in such debte.

23 *The chiefe thing that kepeth in thy life, is water, & bread, clothing, and lodging, to couer the shame. Eccle 39.

24 Better is it to haue a poore lyuing in a mans owne house, then delicate fare among the straunge.

25 *Be it litle or much that thou hast, hold thee content withall: and thou shalt not be blamed as a vagabounde. Psal 36.b. 1.Tim.vi.b. Heb.xiii.a.

26 For a miserable lyfe is it to go from house to house, and where a man is (a) fremde, he dare not open his mouth.

(a) That is, a straunger without acquayntaunce or kindred.

27 Though one be lodged, & haue meate and drinke, yet shall he be taken as vnworthy, and heare many bytter rough wordes, [namely thus:]

28 Go thy way thou straunger, and prepare a table for thy selfe, and feede me also of that thou hast.

29 Geue place thou straunger to an honorable man, my brother commeth into my house, and so telleth him the necessitie of his house.

30 These thinges are heauy to a man that hath vnderstanding: [namely] the forbidding of the house, and that the lender casteth him in the teeth.

The. xxx. Chapter.

1 Of the correction of children. 14 Of the commoditie of health. 17 Death is better then a sorowfull lyfe. 18 Of hyd wysdome. 22 Of the ioy and sorowe of the heart.

A 1 WHo so loueth his child, *holdeth hym still vnder correction, that he may haue ioy of him afterwarde, and that he grope not after his neyghbours doores.

Pro.xiii.f. and xxiii b.

Deut.vi.a.

2 *He that teacheth his sonne shall haue ioy in hym, and needе not to be ashamed of him among his aquayntaunce.

3 Who so enfourmeth and teacheth his sonne, greeueth the enemie: and before his frendes he may haue ioy of him.

4 Though his father dye, yet is he as though he were not dead: for he hath left one behinde him that is like hym.

5 In his lyfe he sawe him and had ioy in him, and was not sory in his death, neither was he ashamed before the enemies.

6 For he left behynde hym an auenger against his enemies, and a good doer vnto the frendes.

B 7 For the lyfe of children, he shall bynde the woundes together, and his heart is greeued at euery crye.

8 An vntamed horse will be harde, and a wanton childe will be wilfull.

9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, he shal make thee afrayde: and if thou play with hym, he shall bring thee to heauinesse.

10 Laugh not with hym, lest thou wepe with hym also, & lest thou gnashe with thy teeth at the last.

Eccle.vii.c. 11 *Geue him no libertie in his youth, and excuse not his follie.

12 Bowe downe his necke whyle he is young, hyt him vpon the sides whyle he is yet but a childe, lest he ware stubburne, & geue no more force of thee, & so shalt thou haue heauinesse of soule.

13 Teach thy childe, and be diligent therein, lest it be to thy shame.

14 Better is the poore beyng whole and strong, then a man to be riche, and not to haue his health: ℭ

15 Health and welfare is aboue all golde, and a whole body aboue all treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sounde body, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the heart.

17 Death is better then a bitter lyfe, and eternall rest better then continuall sickenesse.

18 (a) The good thinges that are put in a close mouth, are lyke as when meate is layde vpon the graue.

(a) Like as meate that is set vpon the graues of dead men is vnprofitable for that they eate is not: euen so knowledge in him that openeth not his mouth to vtter it, is vnprofitable. Eccle.41. wysdome that is hyd.&c. Bel.d.

19 What good doth the offering vnto an idoll: * for he can neither eate, tast, nor smell: Euen so is he that is chased of the Lorde, and beareth the rewardes of iniquitie.

20 He seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man, that lyeth with a virgin, and sygheth.

21 *Geue not ouer thy mynde into heauinesse, and vexe not thy selfe in thyne owne counsell.

Pro. xxii.d. xv.b.xvii.d.

22 *The ioy & chearefulnesse of the heart is the lyfe of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolonging of his dayes.

Eccle.38 c. Pro. xiii. b.

23 Loue thyne owne soule, and comfort thyne heart: as for sorowe & heauinesse, driue it farre from thee, *for heauinesse hath slayne many a man, and bringeth no profite.

ii.Cor.vii.b.

24 Zeale and anger shorten the dayes of the lyfe: carefulnesse and sorowe bring age before the time.

25 Vnto a mery heart euery thing hath a good tast that he eateth.

The

The .xxxj. Chapter.

1 We ought to geue diligent heede to honestie. 2 Of them that take paine to gather riches. 8 The prayse of the rich man without a fault. 12 We ought to flee drunkennesse and folowe sobernesse.

A 1  Rauaile and carefulnesse for * riches taketh away the sleepe, and maketh the flesshe to consume.

1 Tim.vi.b.

2 When one lyeth and taketh care, he waketh euer vp, lyke as a great sickenesse breaketh the sleepe.

3 The rich hath great labour in gathering his riches together, and then with the pleasure of his riches he taketh his rest and is refreshed.

4 But who so laboureth and prospereth not, he is poore: and though he leaue of, yet is he a begger.

5 He that loueth riches, shal not be iustified: and who so followeth corruption, shall haue inough thereof.

Eccle.viii.a. 6 * Many one are come in great misfortune by the reason of golde, and haue founde their destruction before them.

B 7 It is a tree of falling vnto them that offer it vp, and all such as be foolishe fal therein.

8 Blessed is the rich which is founde without blemishe, & hath not gone after golde, nor hoped in money & treasures.

9 Where is there such a one, and we shal commend him and call him blessed: for wonderfull thinges doth he among his people.

10 Who so is tryed and founde perfect in such thinges, shalbe commended and praysed: Who might offende, and hath not offended: Who coulde do euill, and hath not done it:

11 Therfore shall his good be stablished, and the whole congregation shall declare his almes.

12 If thou sit at a great mans table, open not thy mouth wide vpon it, and say not there is much meate on it.

C 13 Remember that an euil eye is a shrewe: What thing created is worse then a wicked eye: therefore weepeth it before euery mans face:

14 Laye not thyne hande vpon euery thing that thyne eye seeth: and striue not with him in the dishe.

Math.vii.a. 15 * Ponder by thy selfe what thy neighbour would faine haue, and be discreete in euery poynt.

16 Eate the thing that is set before thee manerlie as it becommeth a man, and eate not to much, lest thou be abhorred.

17 Leaue thou of first of al, because of nurture, lest thou be he whom no man may satisfie, which may turne to thy decay.

18 When thou sittest among many men, reache not thyne hand out first of al, neither call thou first for drinke.

19 * O how well content is a wyse man with a litle wine: so that in sleepe thou shalt not be sicke thereof, nor feele any payne. Eccle.37.c. D

20 A sweete holsome sleepe shall such a one haue, and feele no inwarde greefe, he ryseth vp betimes in the morning, and is wel at ease in him selfe: but an vnsatiable eater sleepeth vnquietly, and hath ache and payne of the body.

21 If thou feelest that thou hast eaten to much, arise, go thy way, cast it of thy stomacke, and take thy rest: and it shall ease thee, so that thou shalt bring no sicknesse vnto thy body.

22 My sonne heare me, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt finde as I haue tolde thee: * In all thy workes be diligent and quicke, so shall there no sicknesse happen vnto thee. Rom.xii.c.

23 Who so is liberall in dealing out his meate, many men shall blesse him, and prayse him with their lippes: and the same is a sure token of his loue & faithfulnesse.

24 But he that is vnfaithfull in meate, the whole citie shall complaine of him: and that is a sure experience of his infidelitie and wickednesse.

E 25 Shewe not thy valiantnes in wine, for wine hath destroyed many a man.

26 The fire prooueth the hard iron: euen so doth wine proue the heartes of the proude, when they be druncken.

27 * Wine soberly druncken, quickeneth the lyfe of man: If thou drinkest it measurably, thou shalt be temperate: What is the lyfe of him that is ouercome with wine: What taketh away the lyfe: euen death. Pro xxii.a.

28 Wine

28 Wine was made from the beginning to make men glad, and not for drunkennesse: wine measurably drunken is a reioycing of the soule and body: A measurable drinking is health to soule and body.

29 But if it be dronken with excesse, it maketh bitternesse and sorowe vnto the minde.

30 Drunkennesse filleth the minde of the foolishe with shame & ruine, minusheth the strength, and maketh woundes.

31 * Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise him not in his mirth: Geue him no dispitefull wordes, and preasse not vpon him with contrary sayinges. Eccle.xxx.

¶ The .xxxii. Chapter.

1 Of the discretion and prayse of the preacher and of the hearer. 15 Of the feare, faith, and confidence in God.

A 1 IF thou be made a ruler, * pride not thy selfe therein, but be thou as one of the people: *take diligent care for them, and loke well thereto. Deu.xvii.d. Rom.xii.b.

2 And when thou hast done all thy ducte, sit thee downe, that thou mayst be mery with them, and receaue a crowne of honour.

3 Speake thou that art the elder, for it becommeth thee, but with sure knowledge: hinder not musicke.

4 Speake not where there is no audience: * and poure not forth wysdome out of time at an importunitie. Eccle.iii.a.

5 Lyke as the carbuncle stone shineth that is set in golde: so doth a song garnisshe the wine feaste.

6 And as the Smaradge that is set in golde: so is the sweetenes of musicke by the mirth of wine.

B 7 Geue eare and be still, and for thy good behauour thou shalt be loued.

8 Thou young man speake that becommeth thee, and that is profitable, and yet scarse when thou art twyse asked.

9 Comprehende much with fewe wordes, in many thinges be as one that is ignoraunt: geue eare and holde thy tongue withall.

10 If thou be among men of high authoritie, desire not to compare thy selfe vnto thē: and when an elder speaketh, make not thou many wordes therein.

11 Before the thunder, goeth lightening: and before nurture and shamefastnesse, goeth loue and fauour.

12 Stand vp betimes, and be not the last: but get thee home soone, 13 And there take thy pastime, and do what thou wilt: so that thou do no euil, and defie no man.

14 But for all thinges geue thankes vnto him that hath made thee, and replenished thee with his goodes. C

15 Who so feareth the Lord, wyl receaue his doctrine: and they that get them to him betimes, shall finde grace.

16 He that seeketh the law, shall be filled withal: as for him that is but fayned, he wyll be offended thereat.

17 They that feare the Lorde shall finde the iudgement, and their righteousnesse shalbe kindled as a light.

18 An vngodly man wyll not be reformed, but can helpe him selfe with the example of other in his purpose.

19 A man of vnderstanding despiseth no good counsaile: but a wylde and proude body hath no feare, yea euen when he hath dealt rashly with another man: but his owne doinges shalbe his rebuke.

20 My sonne, do nothing without aduisement: so shall it not repent thee after the deede. D

21 Go not in the way where thou mayst fall, nor where thou mayst stumble against the stone: againe, neither trust thou to the way that is playne.

22 And beware of thyne owne children, and take heede of them that be of thyne owne household.

23 In all thy workes put thy trust in God from thy whole heart: for that is the keeping of the commaundementes.

24 Who so beleueth gods worde, taketh heede to the commaundementes: and he that putteth his trust in the Lorde, shall want nothing.

¶ The

The .xxxiii. Chapter.

1 The deliueraunce of him that feareth God. 4 The aunswere of the wyse. 5 The litle discretion of a foole. 12 Man is in the hande of God, as the earth is in the hande of the potter. 25 We ought not to dispose our selues to become subiect to other.

A 1 There shall no euil happen vnto him that feareth God: but when he is in temptation, the Lorde shall deliuer him, & keepe him from euill.

2 A wyse man hateth not the lawe: but an hypocrite (a) is as a ship in raging water.

(a) As the ship in the surging waues without a guide, dasheth against the rocks, or runneth on the sandes: so the hypocrite that is not stayde vpon gods worde, is ouerthrowen with euery bluste of trouble and temptation.

3 A man of vnderstanding geueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the law is faithfull vnto him.

4 Be sure of the matter, then talke therof: be first wel instructe, then mayst thou geue aunswere.

5 The heart of the foolishe, is lyke a cart wheele, and his thoughtes runne about lyke the axeltree.

6 (b) Lyke as a wylde horse that neyeth vnder euery one that sitteth vpon him, so it is with a scornefull friende.

(b) As a horse carpeth euery man, and yet neuerthelater euery mare: so is a scornefull friend that will flatter and serue euery man, and yet laugh him to scorne.

7 Why doth one day excell an other, seeing all the dayes of the yere come of the sunne?

8 The wysdome of the Lorde hath so parted them a sunder, and so hath he ordayned the times and solempne feastes.

9 Some of them hath he chosen and halowed before other dayes.

10 And all men are made of the * grounde, and out of the earth of Adam: In the multitude of science hath the Lorde sundred them, and made their wayes of diuers fashions.

Gene.iii.23

11 Some of them hath he blessed, made much of them, halowed them, and claymed them to him selfe: but some of them hath he cursed, brought them low, and put them out of their estate.

12 Lyke as the claye is in the potters hande, and all the ordering therof at his pleasure: so are men also in the hande of him that made them, so that he may geue them as lyketh him best.

13 *Against euil is good, and against death is lyke: so is the vngodlie against such as feare God.

14 Beholde, these are the workes of the hiest, and (c) there are euen two against two, and one set against another.

(c) Because of the contrarye qualities which kepeth the vniuersall harmonie of al thinges, one counteruayling an other in number, weight, and measure, or els would one getting the gouernment, destroy all the rest: so that colde doth temper the heate, moysture the drouth, lightnes, heauines, brightnes, darkenes: and contrarywyse, so that all thinges do stand of concord and discorde.

15 I am awaked vp last of al, as one that gathereth after in haruest: in the giftes of God and in his blessing I am increased, and haue filled my wine presse, lyke a grape gatherer.

16 * Beholde how I haue not laboured onely for my selfe, but for all such as loue nurture and wysdome. Eccle.24.d.

17 Heare me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares ye rulers of the congregation. D

18 Geue not thy sonne, and wyfe, thy brother, and friend, power ouer thee whyle thou liuest: and geue not away thy substaunce & good to another, lest it repent thee, and thou be faine to aske of them againe.

19 As long as thou lyuest and hast breath (d) let no man chaunge thee.

(d) Let no man vse thee as his seruaunt, when thou hast committed all thy goodes into his hande.

20 For better it is thy children to pray thee, then that thou shouldest be faine to loke in their handes.

21 In all thy workes be excellent, that thy honour be neuer stayned.

22 At the time when thou shalt ende thy dayes and finishe thy lyfe, distribute thyne inheritaunces.

23 The fodder, the whippe, and the burthen belongeth vnto the asse: meate, correction, and worke vnto the seruaunt.

24 If thou set thy seruaunt to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shall seeke libertie.

25 The yoke and the whippe bowe downe the hard necke: but tame thou thy euill seruaunt with bondes and correction.

26 Sende him to labour, that he go not idle: for idlenesse bringeth much euill. E

27 Set him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him, and becommeth him wel.

28 If he be not obedient, binde his feete: but do not to much vnto him in any wyse, and without discretion do nothing.

29 If thou haue a [faithfull] seruaunt, let him be vnto thee as thyne owne soule: entreate him as a brother, for in blood hast thou gotten him: if thou haue a seruaunt holde him as thy selfe, for thou hast neede of him as of thy selfe:

30 If thou intreatest him euil, and kepest him hard, and makest him to be proude, and to runne away from thee, thou canst not tell what way thou shalt seeke him.

The .xxxiiij. Chapter.

1 Of dreames, diuinations, and enchauntmentes. 6 We ought to confute baine hope, and lying. 13 The prayse of them that feare God. 22 Of diuers workes of men. 27 God doth not alowe the workes of an vnfaithfull man.

A 1 VAnyse people beguile themselues with vaine and deceitfull hope, " and fooles trust in dreames.

" Or, dremes make fooles to haue winges: For honour, ryches, pleasures, & such lyke, are but as dreames, wherin fooles do glorie: for when they awake from their long sleepe, this thing shalbe vanquished cleane away.

2 Who so regardeth dreames, is lyke him that wyll take holde of a shadowe, and folowe after the winde.
3 Euen so is it with the appearinges of dreames: before the face is the lykenesse of a face.
4 Who can be cleansed of the vncleane? or what trueth can be spoken of a lyer?
5 Soothsaying, witchcrafte, sorcerie, and dreaming is but vaine: lyke as when a woman trauayleth with childe, & hath many fantasies in her heart.
6 Where as such visions come not of God, set not thyne heart vpon them:
7 For dreames haue deceaued many a B man, and they failed that put their trust therein.
8 The lawe shalbe fulfilled without lyes, & wysdome is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tryed?
9 A wyse man that is well instruct, vnderstandeth much: and he that hath good experience, can talke of wysdome.
10 He that hath no experience, knoweth litle, and he that erreth, causeth much wickednesse: he that is not tryed, what thinges knoweth he? he that hath ben deceaued, is full of subtiltie.
11 When I was yet in errour, I learned much also: yea, I was so learned, that I could not expresse it all,
12 And came oft in perill of death therefore, tyll I was delyuered from it through the grace of God.
C 13 Now I see that they which feare God, haue the right spirit, for their hope standeth in him that can helpe them: and the eyes of the Lorde are on them that loue him.
14 Who so feareth the Lorde, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afraide: for the Lorde is his hope and comforte.
15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the lord: in whom putteth he his trust? Who is his strength?
16 For the eyes of the Lord haue respect vnto them that loue him, he is their mightie protection and strong grounde: A defence for the heate, a refuge for the hot noone day, a succour for stumbling, and an helpe for falling.
17 He setteth vp the soule, and lighteneth the eyes: he geueth lyfe and blessing.
18 He that geueth an offering of vnrighteous good, his offering is refused: and the scornefull dealinges of the vnrighteous please not God.
19 The Lorde is theirs onely that patiently abide him in the way of the trueth D and of righteousnesse.
20 The highest doth not alowe the giftes of the wicked: and God hath no delight in the offeringes of the vngodly, neither may sinne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations.
21 Who so bringeth an offering out of the goodes of the poore, doth euen as one that killeth the sonne before the fathers eyes.
22 The bread of the nedefull, is the lyfe of the poore: he that defraudeth him thereof, is a man of blood.
23 Who so robbeth his neighbour of his lyuing, doth as great sinne as though he slue him to death: he that defraudeth the labourer of his hyre, is a blood shedder.
24 When one buildeth and an other breaketh downe: what profite haue they then but labour?
25 (a) When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voyce wyl the Lorde heare?
26 He that washeth him selfe because of a dead body, and then toucheth the dead againe, what doth his washing?
27 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, and doth them againe: who wyll heare his prayer? or what doth his fasting helpe him?

(a) When one riche man hauing gotten his goodes by robberie, extortion, briberie, or craft, and subtelte, vsurie or sumome, or withholding seruauntes or labourers wages, and of that wyl offer a gift vnto God that he may heare his prayer: on the other part, the poore which is oppressed or defrauded, prayeth to God to see & iudge his cause: whose prayer thinke you wyll god most chiefly heare?

Tre.iii.d.
17 * The prayer of him that humbleth him selfe, goeth through the cloudes: till she come nye she wyll not be comforted, nor go her way tyll the highest God haue respect vnto her, geue true sentẽce, and performe the iudgement.
18 And the Lorde wyll not be slacke in comming, nor tary long, tyll he haue smitten in sunder the backes of the vnmercifull, and auenged him selfe of the heathen, tyll he haue taken away the multitude of the cruell, and broken the scepter of the vnrighteous, tyll he geue euery man after his workes, and rewarde them after their domges, tyll he haue deliuered his people, maintayned their cause, and reioyced them in his mercie.
19 O how faire a thing is mercie in the time of anguishe and trouble? it is lyke a cloude of rayne that commeth in the time of drouth.

¶ The. xxxvi. Chapter.

1 A prayer to God in the person of all faithfull men. 22 The praise of a good woman.

1 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lorde, thou God of all thinges, haue respect vnto vs: shewe vs the light of thy mercies,
2 And sende thy feare among the heathen and straungers which seeke not after thee, that they may knowe that there is no God but thou, and that they may shew thy wonderous workes.
3 Lyft vp thyne hande ouer the outlandishe heathen, that they may learne to knowe thy might and power.
4 Lyke as thou art halowed in vs before them: so bring to passe that thou mayst be magnified also in them before fore vs.

5 That they may know thee, lyke as we know thee: for there is none other God but onely thou O Lorde.
6 Renue the tokens, and chaunge the wonderous workes: shew thyne hand and thy right arme glorioustie.
7 Rayse vp thyne indignation, and poure out thy wrath: take away the aduersarie, and smite the enemie.
8 Make the time shorte, remember thy couenaunt, that thy wōderous workes may be praysed.
9 Let the wrath of the fyre consume them that lyue so carelesse: and let them perishe that do thy people hurt.
10 Smyte in sunder the head of the princes that be our enemies, and say, there is none other but we.
11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together againe, that they may knowe how that there is none other God but onely thou, that they may shewe thy wonderous workes: and be thou thy peoples heritage, lyke as from the beginning.
12 O Lorde haue mercie vpon the people that hath thy name, and vpon Israel * whom thou hast lykened to a first borne sonne. Exo.iiii.c.
13 O be mercifull vnto Hierusalem the citie of thy sanctuarie, *the citie of thy rest. ℭ i.Par.vi.g.
14 Fill Sion with thyne vnspeakable vertues, and thy people with thy glorie.
15 Geue witnesse vnto thy creature whō thou madest from the beginning, and rayse vp the prophesies that haue ben shewed in thy name.
16 Rewarde them that wayte for thee, that thy prophetes may be founde faithfull.
17 O Lorde heare the prayer of thy seruauntes according to the blessing of Aaron ouer thy people, and guide thou vs in the way of righteousnes: *that al they which dwell vpon the earth may know that thou art the Lorde the eternall God, which is from euerlasting. Num.vlt.
18 The belly deuoureth all meates: yet is one meate better then another.
19 Lyke as the tongue tasteth venison: ℧ *so doth an heart of vnderstandyng marke false wordes. i.Cor.i.b.
20 A froward heart geueth heauines: but a man of experience lyfteth him vp againe.
21 The woman receaueth euery man: yet is one daughter better then another.
22 A faire wyfe reioyceth her husband: and a man loueth nothing better.
23 If there be in her tongue gentlenes, meekenes, and holsome talke: then is not her husband lyke other men.
24 He that hath gotten a vertuous woman, hath a goodlie possession: she is vnto him a helpe, and piller wherevpon he resteth.
25 Where no hedge is, there the goodes are spoyled: and where no huswyfe is, there the frendles mourneth.
26 Lyke as there is no credence geuen to a robber that goeth from one citie to another: so is not the man beleued that hath no nest, and must turne in where he may abide in the night.

The .xxxvii. Chapter.

1 Howe a man should knowe frendes and counsellers. 12 and searche the company of an holy man.

A 1 Very friende sayth, I wyll be friendly vnto him also: but there is some friend, which is onely a frende in name.
2 Remaineth not there heauines vnto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemie?
3 O most wicked presumption: from whence art thou sprong vp to couer the earth with falshood and disceite?
4 *There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyceth with his friend: Eccle.vi.b.
but in the time of trouble, he taketh part against him.
5 *There is some companion that mourneth with his friend for the bellies sake: but when trouble commeth, he taketh holde of the shielde. *Or, There is some companion that helpeth his friend for the bellies sake, & taketh vp the buckler against the enemie. ℭ
6 Forget not thy friend in thy minde, & thinke vpon him in thy riches.
7 Seeke no counsell at thy kinsmen, and hide thy counsel from such as beare thee no good wyll.
8 *Euery counseller prayseth his counsell: neuertheles, there is some that counselleth but for his owne profite. Eccle.viii.f.
9 Beware

9 Beware of the counseller, and be aduised afore whereto thou wylt vse him (for he wyll counsaile for him selfe) lest he cast the lot vpon thee,
10 And say vnto thee, Thy way and purpose is good: and afterwarde he stande against thee, and loke what shal become of thee.
11 Aske no counsaile at him that suspecteth thee for an enemie, & hide thy counsaile from such as hate thee: aske no counsell for religion of him that is without religion, nor for iustice of him that hath no iustice: aske no counsel at a woman, touching her of whō she is ielous, nor at a fearefull and faint harted body in matters of warre: or at a marchaunt how deare he wyl cheape thy wares toward his: or at a byer, of selling: or at an enuious man, of thankesgeuing: or at the vnmerciful, of louing kindnesse: or at an vnhoneste man, of honestie: or at the slothfull, of worcking: or at an hyreling which hath no house, of profit or wealth: or at an idle body of much labour: take no such folkes to counsell.
12 But be diligent to seeke counsaile at a vertuous man that feareth God, such a one as thou knowest to be a keper of the commaundementes, which hath a minde after thyne owne minde, and is sory for thee when thou stumblest.
13 And holde thy counsell fast in thyne heart: for there is no man more faithfull to kepe it, then thou thy selfe.
14 For a mans minde is sometime disposed to tell out more, then seuen Watchmen that sit aboue in an hie place loking about them.
15 And aboue all this, pray the highest that he wyll leade thy way in faithfulnes and trueth.
16 Before all thy worckes aske counsell first: and or euer thou doest any thing, be well aduised.
17 There be foure thinges that declare a chaunged heart, whereout there springeth euill and good, death and lyfe, and a maisterfull tongue that bableth much.
18 Some man is apt and well instructed in many thinges, and yet very vnprofitable vnto him selfe.
19 Some man there is that can geue wyse and prudent counsel, and yet is he hated and continueth a begger, D
20 For that grace is not geuen him of God to be accepted.
21 Another is robbed of al wysdome: yet is he wyse vnto him selfe, and the frute of vnderstanding is commēdable in his mouth.
22 A wyse man maketh his people wyse, & the fruites of his wysdome fayle not.
23 A wyse man shalbe plenteously blessed of God: and all they that see him, shall speake good of him.
24 The lyfe of man standeth in the number of the dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.
25 A wyse man shall obtayne faithfulnes and credence among his people, and his name shalbe perpetuall.
26 My sonne, proue thy soule in thy selfe, and if thou see any euill thing, geue it not vnto her:
27 * For all thinges are not profitable for all men, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thing. i.Cor.vi.c.
28 Be not greedy in euery eating, and be not to hastie vpon all meates.
29 *For excesse of meates bringeth sickenesse, and gluttonie commeth at the last to an vnmeasurable heate. Eccle.xxx.b
30 Through surfet haue many one perished: but he that dieteth him selfe temperatelie, prolongeth his lyfe.

¶ The. xxxviij. Chapter.

¶ A phisition is commendable. 16 To burie the dead. 24 The wysdome of him that is learned.

A 1 HOnour the phisition, honour him with that honour that is due vnto him, because of necessitie: for God hath 2 created him. For of the highest commeth medicine, and he shall receaue gifftes of the king.
3 The wysdome of the phisition bringeth him to great worship, and in the sight of the great men of this worlde he shalbe honourably taken.
4 The Lorde hath created medicine of the earth: and he that is wyse, wyll not abhorre it.

learne to knowe the vertue thereof.

6 The Lord hath geuen men wysdome and vnderstanding, that he might be honoured in his wonderous workes.

B 7 With such doth he heale men, and taketh away their paynes:

8 Of such doth the pothecarie make a confection, yet can no man perfourme al his workes: for of the Lorde commeth prosperous wealth ouer all the earth.

ii.Par.xvi.d 9 My sonne, despise not this in thy sickenes: but * pray vnto the Lorde, and he shall make thee whole.

10 Leaue of from sinne, and order thy handes a right, clense thyne heart from all wickednesse.

11 Geue a sweete sauoured offering, and the fine floure for a token of remembraunce: make the offering fat, as one that geueth the first fruites, 12 And geue roome to the phisition, for the Lorde hath created him: let him not go from thee, for thou hast neede of him.

C 13 The houre may come, that the sicke may be helped through them, 14 When they pray vnto the Lorde, that he may recouer and get health to lyue longer.

15 He that sinneth before his maker, shall fall into the handes of the phisition.

Eccle.xxii.e 16 My sonne, * bring foorth thy teares ouer the dead, and beginne to mourne as if thou haddest suffered great harme thy selfe: and then couer his body after a conuenient maner, and despise not his buriall.

17 Enforce thy selfe to weepe, & prouoke thy selfe to mourne, and make lamentation expediently, and be earnest in mourning, and vse lamentation as he is worthie, and that a day or two, lest thou be euill spoken of: and then comfort thy selfe, because of the heauines.

ii.Tes.iiii.

Pro.xii.d. 18 * For of heauines commeth death, the heauines of the heart breaketh strēgth.

D 19 Heauines and pouertie, greeueth the heart in temptation and offence.

20 Take no heauines to heart, driue it away, and remember the last thinges.

21 Forget it not, for there is no turning againe, thou shalt do him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement, thyne also shalbe lyke wyse: vnto me yesterday, vnto thee to day.

ii.Reg.xii.c. 23 * Let the remembraunce of the dead ceasse in his rest, & comfort thee againe ouer him, seing his spirite is departed from him.

24 The wysdome of the scribe is at conuenient time of rest: and he that ceaseth from exercises and labour, shalbe wyse.

25 How can he get wysdome that holdeth the plough, and he that hath pleasure in the goade and in driuing the oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and his talke is but of the breeding of bullockes? C

26 He setteth his heart to make forowes, and is diligent to geue the kine fodder.

27 So is euery carpenter also and workmaister, that laboureth still night and day: he caruеth, graueth, cutteth out, & his desire is in sundry cunning thinges, his heart imagineth how he may cunningly cast an image, his diligence also and watching perfourmeth the worke.

28 The iron smith in lyke maner bydeth by his stithie, and doth his diligence to labour the iron: the vapour of the fyre brenneth his flesh, and he must fight with the heate of the fornace: the noyse of the hammer euer soundeth in his eares, and his eyes loke still vpon the thing that he maketh: he hath set his minde thereupon that he wyll make out his worke, & therefore he watcheth how he may set it out, and bring it to an ende.

29 So doth the potter set by his worke: he turneth the wheele about with his feete, he is diligent and carefull in all doinges, and maketh his worke in number.

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth it: his heart imagineth howe he may make it pleasaunt, and his diligence is to clense the ouen.

31 All these hope in their handes, & euery one thinketh to be cunning in his worke. F

32 Without these may not the cities be mayntayned, inhabited, nor occupied:

33 Yet come they not hye in the congregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgement seates: they vnderstand not the couenaunt of the lawe, they can not declare equitie and iudgement, they can not finde out the darke sentences.

34 But through them shall the creature of the worlde be maintayned, their desire concerneth onely the worke and labour of cunning.

The. xxxix. Chapter.

1 A wyse man. 16 The workes of God. 24 Unto the good, thinges do profite: but unto the euyll, euen good thinges are euyll.

A 1 HE that applieth his mynde to vnderstande the lawe of God, doth diligently seke out the wysdome of them of the olde time, and exercyseth hym selfe in the prophetes.

2 He kepeth the sayinges of famous men, and preasseth to the vnderstanding of darke sentences of wysdome.

3 He seketh out the misterie of secrete sayinges, and exercyseth hym selfe therin continually.

4 He doth service among great men, and appeareth before the prince: he goeth into a straunge countrey, and trauayleth thorowe it: loke what good or euyll is among men, he proueth and seketh it out.

5 He purposeth in his heart to resort early vnto the Lord that made him, and to pray before the highest God: he openeth his mouth in prayer, and prayeth for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lorde will, he shalbe filled with the spirite of vnderstanding, that he may then powre out wyse sentences, and geue thankes vnto the Lord in his prayer.

B 7 He shall order his deuice, and leade his knowledge a right, and geue him vnderstanding of secrete thinges.

8 He shall shewe forth the science of his learning, and reioyce in the couenaunt of the lawe of the Lorde:

9 The whole congregation shall commende his wysdome, and it shall neuer be put out: the remembraunce of hym shall neuer be forgotten, and his name shal continue from one generation to an other.

Ecclx liii.b 10 *His wysdome shalbe spoken of among the people, and the whole congregation shall openly declare his prayse.

11 While he liueth, he hath a greater name then a thousand beside: and after death, the same name remayneth vnto hym.

12 Yet will I speake of mo men of vnderstanding, for I am ful as the moone.

13 Hearken vnto me ye holy vertuous children, bring forth fruite as the rose that is planted by the brookes of the fielde,

14 And geue ye a sweete smell as incense, florishe as the rose garden, sing a song of prayse. O geue thankes vnto God ouer all his workes: C

15 Geue magnificence vnto his name, and set hym forth in his prayse with your lippes, & with musicke and harmonie: Yea euen with the song of your lippes, with harpes and playing, and in geuing thankes vnto him, say after this maner:

16 *All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, & all his commaundementes are meete and conuenient in due season. Gen i.d.

17 A man neede not to say, What is that: What is that? for at a time conuenient they shall all be sought: At his commaundement the water was as a wall, and at the worde of his mouth the water stoode still.

18 *In his commaundement is euery thing acceptable and reconciled, and his health can not be minished. Gen. vii b.

19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and there is nothing hyd from his eyes.

20 He seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing to wonderful or hye vnto hym.

21 A man neede not to say then, What is this, or that? for he hath made al thinges to do good vnto man.

22 His blessing shall run ouer as the streame, and moysture the earth lyke a fludde of water.

23 Like as he maketh the drouth: so shall his wrath fall vpon the heathen.

24 His wayes are playne and right vnto the iust: but the vngodly stumble at them. Ose.xiiii.b. Rom.viii.d.

25 (a) For the good, are good thinges created from the beginning, & euyll thinges for the vngodly.

26 All thinges necessarie for the lyfe of man are created from the beginning: water, fire, iron, and salt, meale, wheate, and hony, milke, and wine, oyle and clothing:

27 All these thinges are created for the best to the faythfull: but to the vngodly shall all these thinges be turned to hurt and harme.

(a) The creatures of God are good by creation. But as good men vse them to the glorie of God, the profite of others, & their owne necessitie: so the vngodly do not acknowledge them as the good giftes of god, but abuse them either in riot & excesse, or els in miserable keping of them, take them for their God.

 28 There

28 There be spirites that are created for vengeaunce, and in their rigorousnesse haue they fastened their tormentes: *In the time of the ende they shall poure out their strength, and pacifie the wrath of him that made them.

Mat. xxv d

29 *Fire, hayle, hunger, and death: al these thinges are created for vengeaunce.

Eccle. xl. b.

30 The teeth of wilde noysome beastes, the scorpions, serpentes, and the sworde, are created also for vengeaunce, to the destruction of the vngodly.

31 They shalbe glad to do his commaundementes, and when neede is, they shalbe redy vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commaundement of the Lorde.

32 Therfore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought to put these thinges in writing, and to leaue them behinde me:

33 *All the workes of the Lorde are good, and he geueth euery one in due season, and when neede is.

Gen. vi. b.

34 So that no man neede not to say: This is worse then that: for in due season they are all pleasaunt and good.

35 And therefore prayse the Lorde with whole heart and mouth, & geue thankes vnto his name.

The .xl. Chapter.

1 Many miseries light in a mans life. 11 All thinges passe away, but a firme and stable fayth ramayneth. 14 Of the blessing of the righteous, and prerogatiue of the feare of God.

A 1 Great trauaile is created for all men, and an heauy yoke vpon all the sonnes of Adam, from the day that they go out of their mothers wombe, till they be buried in [the earth] the mother of all thinges.

2 [Namely] their thoughtes and imaginations, feare of the heart, counsel, meditations, longing & desire, the day of death:

3 From the hyghest that sitteth vpon the glorious seate, vnto the lowest and most simple vpon the earth:

4 From him that is gloriously arayde and weareth a crowne, vnto him that is but homely and simplie clothed.

5 There is nothing but wrath, zeale, fearefulnesse, vnquietnesse, and feare of death, rigorousnes, anger, & stryfe: And in the night when one shoulde rest and sleepe vpon his bed, the sleepe chaungeth his vnderstanding and knowledge.

6 A litle or nothing is his rest in the sleepe, as vel as in the day of labour: he feareth & is disquieted in the vision of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battayll.

B 7 And in the time of health he awaketh, and maruayleth that the feare was nothing.

8 Such thinges happen vnto all fleshe, both man and beast: but seuen folde to the vngodly.

9 *Moreouer, death, bloodshedding, strife, and sworde, oppression, hunger, destruction, and punishement:

Ec. xxxix. c

10 These thinges are all created against the vngodly, *and for their sakes came the fludde also.

Gen. vii. d.

11 *All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe, and al waters ebbe againe into the sea.

Gen. iii. d.

12 All vnbes and vnrighteousnesse shalbe put away: but faythfulnesse and trueth shall endure for euer.

13 The substaunce and goodes of the vngodly shalbe dryed vp, and sinke away as a water fludde, (a) & they shal make a sound like a great thunder in the rayne.

(a) That is, with great tumult and trouble shall they be dispersed, and scattered abroade like as the roring thunder.

14 Like as the righteous reioyceth when he openeth his hande: so shall the transgressours be faynt when their goodes vanishe and consume away.

15 *The children of the vngodly shal not obtayne many braunches:

Eccl. xli. b.

16 And the vncleane rootes vpon the hye rockes, shalbe rooted out before the grasse by the water side, & vpon the riuer bankes.

17 Frendlinesse and liberalitie in the increase & blessing of God, is like a paradise and garden of pleasure: such mercie also and kindnesse endureth for euer.

18 *To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a swecte pleasaunt life: and that is, to finde a treasure of al treasures.

neth a fire.

The. xli. Chapter.

1 Of the remembraunce of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the lawe of God. 12 Good name and fame. 14 An exhortation to geue heede vnto wysdome. 17 Of what thinges a man ought to be ashamed.

1 A In Temporal death is bitter to them that forsakes quietnesse, to persons that wish for no life after this: for O, to them that set their pleasure in their riches from whence they vnwillingly must needs depart: read to them the 41. chapter of the Ecclesiasticus, to them that be strong and mighty in Loue, for that they strongly wrestle with God. But sweete vnto the contrarie.

O Death (a) how bitter is the remembraunce of thee to a man that seketh rest and comfort in his substaunce & riches, vnto the man that hath nothing to vexe him, & that hath prosperitie in all thinges, yea vnto him that yet is able to receaue meate:
2 O death, howe acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the needefull; and vnto him whose strength fayleth, and that is nowe in his last age, and that in all thinges is full of care and fearfulnesse, vnto him also that is in dispayre, and hath no hope nor patience:
3 Be not thou afraide of death, remember them that haue ben before thee, and that come after thee: this is the iudgement of the Lord ouer all flesh.
Gene viii.d. 4 *And why wouldest thou be against this pleasure of the hyghest: whether it be ten, an hundreth, or a thousand yeres, "death asketh not howe long one hath lyued.
5 The children of the vngodly are abhominable children, and so are they that kepe company with the vngodly.
Eccle.xi.c. 6 *The inheritaunce of vngodly children shall come to naught, & their posteritie shal haue perpetuall shame & confusion.
7 The children complayne of an vngodly father: and why? for his sake they are rebuked and dispised. B
8 Wo be vnto you, O ye vngodly whiche haue forsaken the lawe of the hyghest God: for though ye do encrease, yet shal you perishe.
9 If ye do liue, ye shalbe accursed: if ye die, the curse shall be your portion.
Eccle.xi.b. 10 *All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: so go the vngodly also out of the curse into destruction.
11 Though men mourne for their body: yet the name of the vngodly shall be put out, for it is nothing worth.
Eccle.xxii.a 12 *Labour to get thee a good name: for that shall continue surer by thee, then a thousande great treasures of golde.
13 A good life hath a number of dayes: but a good name endureth euer.
Eccl.xx.b. 14 *My children, kepe Wisdome in peace: for Wisdome that is hid and a treasure that is not seene, what profite is in them both?

*a. There is no defence against death.

15 A man that hydeth his foolishenes, is better then a man that hydeth his wysdome.

16 Therefore be ye turned at my wordes: for it is not good in all thinges and alway to be ashamed: (a) True fayth must proue and measure it.

17 Be ashamed of Whordome before father and mother: be ashamed to leasing before the prince and men of auctoritie:

18 Of sinne, before the iudge and ruler: of offence, before the congregation & people: of vnrighteousnes, before a companoin and friende:

19 Of theft, before thy neyghbours: As for the trueth of God and his couenaunt, be not ashamed therof: (b) be ashamed to lye with thyne elbowes vpon the bread, or to be reproued for geuing or taking,

20 And of silence vnto them that salute thee: be ashamed to loke vpon harlottes:

21 Be ashamed to turne away thy face from thy kinsman, be ashamed " to take and not to geue, 22 Be ashamed also to loke vpon an other mans wyfe, and to make many trifling wordes with her mayden, or to stand by her bed side.

23 Be ashamed to vnbrayde thy friende: when thou geuest any thing, cast hym not in the teeth withall, 24 Or to report the matter that thou hast heard, or to disclose the secrete wordes: so shalt thou well be shamefast, and shalt find fauour with all men.

(a) True fayth doth all thinges in season and opportunitie, when and how euery one ought to be ordered. For strong meate and hard bread nourisheth some, & straungleth other: some one hearbe healeth some mans disease, and increaseth some againe.

(b) Beyng bidden to an other mans table, presume not to the highest place, be not so homely that thou lye with thine elbowes vpon the table ouer thy bread, for that is vnmannerly. Luc. 14.

" Or, to take away a gift from any man D

The. xlii. Chapter.

1 The lawe of God must be taught, 9 A daughter, 14 A woman. 18 God knoweth all thinges, yea euen the secretes of the heart.

A 1 OF these thinges be not ashamed, and accept no person to offend. [Namely of these thinges be not ashamed:]

2 Of the lawe of God, of the couenaunt, of iudgement to bring the vngodly from his vngodlinesse vnto righteousnesse, & to make him a good man,

3 To deale faithfully with thy neyghbour and companion, to distribute the heritage vnto the friendes:

4 To be diligent to kepe true measure & wayght: to be content whether thou getteste much or litle:

5 To deale truely with temporall goodes in bying and selling, to bring vp children with diligence, to correct an euyll seruaunt:

6 To kepe that thyne is from an euyll wyfe, to set a locke where many handes are:

B 7 What thou deliuerest and geuest out to be kept, to tell it, and to wey it: to write vp all thy outgeuing and receauing:

8 To enforme the vnlearned and vnwise, of the aged that are iudged of the young: If thou be diligent in these thinges, truely thou shalt be learned and wyse, and accepted of all men.

9 The daughter maketh the father to watch secretly, and the carefulnesse that he hath for her, taketh away his sleepe, yea in her youth, lest she shoulde ouergrowe him, and when she hath an husbande lest she shoulde be hated:

10 Lest she shoulde be defiled or rauished in her virginitie, or gotten with childe in her fathers house: or when she commeth to the man, lest she behaue her selfe not right, or continue vnfruitefull.

11 If thy daughter be wanton, kepe her straytly, lest she cause thyne enemies to laugh thee to scorne, and the whole citie to geue thee an euyll report: and so thou be fayne to heare thy shame of euery man, and be confounded before all the people.

12 *Behold not euery bodies beautie, and haue not much dwelling among wome. Eccl. xxv.

13 For like as the worme and moth commeth out of clothing: *so doth wickednesse come of women. Gen. iii. d.

14 It is better to be with an euyll man, C then with a friendly wyfe that putteth one to shame and rebuke.

15 I will remember the wordes of the Lord, and declare the thing that I haue seene: In the wordes of the Lorde are his workes.

16 The sunne ouerloketh all thinges with his his shine, "and all his workes are full of the clearenes therof.

"Or, and all the world is full of the glorie of the Lord.

17 Hath not the Lord brought to passe, that his saintes shoulde tell out all his wonderous workes which the almightie Lord hath stablished: All thinges endure in his glorie.

18 He seketh out the grounde of the deepe, and the heart of men, and he knoweth all their imaginations and wisdome: for the Lord knoweth all science, and he loketh into the token of the time.

19 He declareth the thinges that are past and for to come, and discloseth thinges that are secrete.

20 *No thought may escape hym, neither may any worde be hyd from him.

Iob.xlii.c. Esa.xxix.c.

21 He hath garnished the hye excellent workes of his wysdome, and he is from D euerlasting to euerlasting: Unto him may nothing be added, neither can he be minished, he hath no neede also of any mans counsel.

22 O howe amiable are all his workes, and as a sparke to loke vpon:

23 They liue all, and endure for euer: and when so euer neede is, they are all obedient vnto him.

24 They are all double, one against another: he hath made nothing that hath fault or blemishe.

25 He hath stablished the goodes of euery one: (a) and who may be satisfied with his glorie when he seeth it?

(a) As who shoulde say, no man, for wher Dauid sayth Psal.17. I shalbe satisfied when the glorie appeareth, he speaketh of that glorie whiche he desireth to obtaine, which he yet wanting is not satisfied: but when he hath obtayned it, he hath the thing he doth desire, & yet is not wery of it, but desireth in that ioy which neuer shalbe ended as. 1.Pet.1.

The .xliii. Chapter.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God.

A 1 THe glorie of the height is *the faire and cleare firmament, the beautie of the heauen is his glorious clearnesse. Psal.viii.a.

2 The sunne when it appeareth, declareth the day in the going out of it, a maruelous worke of the hyghest:

3 At noone it burneth the earth, and who may abyde for the heate therof?

4 Who so kepeth an ouen when it is hot, three times more doth the sunne burne vpon the mountaynes: when it breatheth out the fire beames & shineth, with the brightnesse of it it blindeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lorde that made it, and in his commaundement he causeth it to runne hastyly.

Gene.i.b. 6 *The moone also in al thinges according to her season is a declaration of the time, and a signe for the world. B

Exo.xii.a. 7 *The token of the solempne feast is taken of the moone, a light that minisheth and increaseth againe.

8 The moneth is called after the moone, it groweth wonderously in her changing.

9 The armie of heauen also is in hyght: in the firmament of heauen it geueth a cleare and a glorious shyne: This is the clearnesse of the starres, the beautifull apparell of heauen, the apparel that the Lorde lighteneth in the heyght.

10 In his holy worke they continue in their order, and not one of them fayleth in his watch).

11 *Loke vpon the rayneboW, and prayse hym that made it: very beautifull is it in his shine. Gen.ix.d.

12 He compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, the handes of the highest haue bended it.

13 Through his commaundement he maketh the snow to fall, and the thunder of his iudgement to smyte hastyly.

14 Therowe his commaundement the treasures are opened, and the cloudes flee as the foules.

15 In his power hath he strengthened the C cloudes, and broken the hayle stones.

16 The mountaynes "leape at the sight of hym, the Winde bloweth according to his will. "Or, moue.

17 The sounde of his thunder beateth the earth, & so doth the storme of the north: the whirle wind also lighteth downe as a fethered foule, casteth out & spreadeth the snowe abrode, and as the grashoppers that destroy al, so falleth it downe.

18 The eye maruayleth at the beautie of the whytenesse therof, and the heart is afrayde at the rayne of it.

19 He powreth out the frost vpon earth like salt, and when it is frosen, it is as sharpe as the pricke of a thistle.

20 When the colde north Winde bloweth, harde christall commeth of the Water: He lighteth downe vpon all the gatherynges together of Water, and putteth on the water as a brestplate.

21 He deuoureth the mountaynes, & burneth the wildernesses: and loke what is greene, he putteth it out lyke fire.

22 The medicine of all these is, when a cloude commeth hastyly, and when a deaw commeth vpon the heate, it shalbe refreshed againe.

23 In his worde he stilleth the winde, in his counsell he appeaseth the deepe, and hath planted Iles in it.

24 They that sayle ouer the sea, tel of the perils and harmes therof, and when we heare it with our eares, we maruell therat.

25 For there be straunge wonderous workes, diuers maners of nyce beastes, and whale fishes.

26 Thorow him are al thinges set in good order and perfourmed, and in his word all thinges endure.

27 I speake much, but I can not sufficiently attayne vnto it: for he hym selfe onely is the perfection of all wordes.

28 We shoulde prayse the Lorde after all our power, for he is great in all his workes.

29 The Lorde is to be feared, yea very great is he,* & maruelous is his power. Psal. cxvi.a

30 Prayse the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye may, yet doth he far exceede all prayse:* O magnifie him with al your power, and labour earnestly, yet are ye in no wise able sufficiently to prayse him. Psal.cvi.a.

31 Who hath seene hym, that he might tell vs: *who can magnifie hym so greatly as he is: Deut.v.c. Iohn.i.b.

32 For there are hyd yet greater thinges then these be: as for vs, We haue seene & but fewe of his workes.

33 For the Lorde hath made all thinges, & geuen wisdome to such as feare God.

The. xliii. Chapter.

1 The prayse of certayne holy men, 16 Enoch, 17 Noe, 17 Abraham, 22 Isaac, and Jacob.

A

1 LEt vs commende the noble famous men, & the generation of our fore elders and fathers.

2 Many more glorious actes haue the Lorde done in them, and shewed his great power euer sence the beginning.

3 The noble famous men raigned in their kingdomes, and bare excellent rule, in their wysdome and vnderstanding, they folowed the counsel shewed in the prophecies.

Exo.xviii.c. 4 *They led the folke thorow the counsell and wysdome of the scribes of the people, wyse sentences are founde in their instruction:

5 They sought the sweetnesse and melodie of musicke, and brought forth the pleasaunt songues in scripture:

6 They were riche also, and coulde comfort and pacifie those that dwelt with them.

B 7 All these were very noble and honorable men in their generations, & were well reported of in their times.

8 These haue left a name behynde them, so that their prayse shall alway be spoken of.

9 Afterward, there were some whose remembraunce is gone, *they came to naught & perished as though they had neuer ben, and became as though they had neuer ben borne, yea and their children also with them. Gen.vii.b

10 Neuertheless these are louyng men, whose righteousnesse shall neuer be forgotten, but continue by their posteritie.

11 Their children are an holy good heritage: their seede endured fast in the couenaunt.

12 For their sakes shall their children and seede continue for euer, and their prayse shal neuer be put downe.

13 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name lyueth for euermore.

14 The people can speake of their wysdome, and the congregation can talke of their prayse. C

15 *Enoch walked right and acceptably before the Lorde, therfore was he translated for an example of amendement to the generations. Eccle. xli. c. Gen.v.c.

16 *Noe was a stedfast and righteous man, and in the time of wrath he became a reconciling: therfore was he left a remnaunt vnto the earth when the fludde came. Gen.vi.a and vii. viii.

17 An

17 An euerlasting couenaunt was made with hym, that all flesshe should*perishe no more with the water. Gen.ix.

Gen.xvii.a. 18 Abraham was a*great father of many people, in glorie was there none like vnto hym.

19 He kept the law of the hyghest, & came into a couenaunt with hym.

20 He set the couenaunt in his flesshe, and when he*was proued, he was founde faythfull. Gen.xxii.a.

D 21 Therfore swore God vnto him with an oth, that he woulde blesse all people in his seede, that he woulde multiplie and increase him as the dust of the earth, and to exalt his seede as the starres: yea and that his seede shoulde haue the possession, an inheritaunce of the lande, from sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the borders of the worlde.

22* With Isaac dyd he stablishe the same couenaunt for Abraham his fathers sake: Yea that gratious blessing & health of all men, and couenaunt dyd he stablishe with Isaac, and made it rest vpon the head of Jacob. Gen.xxvi.a

23 (a) He knewe him, in that he prospered him so wel and richely, and gaue him an heritage, and sundered his portion by it selfe, and parted among the twelue tribes. (a) He did allow him, and made hym worthy and meete for such blessinges of riches and increase: or els he made it knowen by this blessing Laban his vncle so often changing his wages, yet did God prosper him, that it did well appeare he bare a fauour to him as to Joseph and Daniel. &c.

24 Mercifull men brought he out of hym, whiche founde fauour in the sight of all flesshe.

The. xlv. Chapter.

1 The prayse of Moyses, 6 Aaron, and Phinehes.

A 1  Oyses*beloued of God & men, whose remembraunce is in hie prayse: Exo.xi.a. Act.vii.c.

2 Hym that the Lorde made like in the glorie of the sainctes, & magnified him, so that the enemies stoode in awe of him.

3 Through his wordes he did great wonders: he made hym glorious in the sight of kinges, gaue him commaundement before his people, and shewed him glorious power.

Num.xii.a. 4 *He stablished hym with faythfulnesse and meekenesse, and chose him out of all men.

5 For he hearde his voyce, and he led hym in the darke cloude, *and there he gaue him the commaundementes, yea the law of life and wysdome: that he might teach Jacob the couenaunt and Israel his lawes. Exo.xix.d.

6 He chose Aaron his brother also out of the tribe of Leui, exalted him, and made hym such like.

B 7 An euerlasting couenaunt made he with him, and gaue hym the priesthod in the people: he made him glorious in beautifull aray, and clothed him with the garment of honour.

8 He put perfect ioy vpon him, and girded hym with strength, he deckt hym with side clothes and a tunicle, with an ouerbody coate also, and a girdle.

9 Round about made he hym belles of golde, and that many: *that when he went int, he founde might be heard, that they might make a noyse in the sanctuarie, and geue the people warning. Exo.xviii.f.

10 The holy garment was wrought and bordered with golde, yelow silke, and purple: and in the brestlappe there was a goodly worke, Wherin was fastened light and perfectnesse.

11 *Upon the same also there was a worke fastened and set with costly precious stones all bound with golde, and this he brought in his ministration: The stones were fastened for a remembraunce, after the number of the twelue tribes of Israel. Exo.xxiii.c.

12 Upon his miter there was a plate of pure gold, a grauen image of holinesse, a famous and noble worke, garnished, and pleasaunt to loke vpon.

13 Before hym were there seene no such faire ornamentes, & these it behoued him alway to vse: There might none other put them on, but onely his children, and his childers children perpetually.

14 Dayly perfourmed he his burnt offeringes two times. C

15 *Moyses filled (b) his handes, & annoynted him with holy oyle: This was now confirmed him with an euerlasting couenaunt, and to his seede as the dayes of heauen: namely, that his children should alway minister before him, & perfourme the office of the priesthood, and wysshe the people good in his name. Leuit.viii.a. (a) That was, either he put into his hand the booke of the law written to reade vnto the people, or els some sacrifice that he might offer vnto God for their offences.

16 Before al men lyuing chose he him, that he shoulde offer incense before the Lord, and make odours for a sweete sauour and remembraunce, that he should reconcile the people of the Lord with hym agayne.

Deu. xvii.c. and xix a. Mal.ii.a. 17 *He gaue him auctoritie also in his commaundementes and in the couenaunt, that he should teach Jacob the statutes and testimonies, and to enfourme Israel in the lawe.

Nu.xvi.a. 18 *Therfore there stoode vp certayne against him, and had enuie at him in the Wildernesse: namely they that were of Dathan and Abirons side, and the furious congregation of Core.

19 This the Lorde saw, and it displeased hym, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: A great wonder did he vpon them, and consumed them with the fire.

Exo.xxv.f. Le.xxiii.b. 20 *Besides this, he made Aaron yet more honorable and glorious, he gaue hym an heritage, & parted the first fruites vnto him: *Unto him specially he appoynted the bread of sustenaunce, Deut. xii b. and xviii. D 21 For the priestes dyd eate of the offeringes of the Lorde: this gaue he vnto him and his seede.

22 *Els had he no heritage nor portion in the land & With the people: for the Lord him selfe is his portion & inheritaunce. Eze. xliii.b.

23 The thirde noble and excellent man, is *Phinehes the sonne of Eleazer, Which pleased the God of Israel, because he had the zeale and feare of the Lord: For when the people were turned backe, he put him selfe forth right soone, and that with a good will, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord towarde Israel. Num. xv.e.

24 Therfore Was there a couenaunt of peace made with him, that he should be the principall among the righteous in the people, that he and his posteritie shoulde haue the office of the priesthood for euer.

25 Like as there Was made a couenaunt with Dauid of the tribe of Juda, that from among his sonnes only there shoulde be a king: and that Aaron also and his seede should be an heritage, to geue vs wysdome in our heart, to iudge his people in righteousnesse, that his goodes shoulde not come into forgetfulnesse, and that their honour might endure for euer.

The .xlvi. Chapter.

1 The prayse of Josue. 9 Caleb. 13 Samuel.

A Io.xii.c. Nu xxvii.d Deu.34.b. Iosue.i.a. 1 MAnly & strong in battel *Was Jesus the sonne of Naue, and Was the successour of Moyses in prophesies, & Was geuen to be captaine of the people, Which according vnto his name Was a great sauiour vnto the elect of God, to punishe the enemies that rose vp against Israel, that Israel might optayne their inheritaunce.

2 O how great, noble, and excellent Was he, When he lift vp his hande and drewe out his sworde against the cities?

3 Who stoode so manly before him? for the Lord him selfe brought in the enemies?

Iosue.x.c. 4 *Stoode not the sunne still at his commaundement, and one day Was as long as two?

5 He called vpon the hyghest and most mightie When the enemies preassed vpon him on euery side, and the mightie Lord heard him With the hayle stones.

6 They smote the heathenishe people mightyly, and in falling downe they slue all the aduersaries: so that the heathen knew his boast, and all his defence, that the Lord him selfe fought against them: for he followed vpon the mightie men of them. Nu.xxiiii.a.

7 *In the time of Moyses also, he and Caleb the sonne of Jephune dyd a good Worke, Whiche stoode against the enemies, withheld the people from sinne, and stilled the wicked murmuring. B Nu.xxvi.g.

8 *And of sixe hundreth thousande people of foote, they two were preserued to bring them into the heritage, namely, a lande that floweth with mylke & hony. Iosue.xiii.c.

9 *The Lord gaue strength also vnto Caleb, Which remayned With him vnto his age: so that he Went vp into the hie places of the land, and his seede conquered the same for an heritage:

10 That al the children of Israel might see howe good a thing it is to be obedient vnto the Lorde.

11 And

11 And the iudges or rulers euery one after his name, whose heart went not a whoring nor departed from the Lorde, and that forsooke not the Lord vnfaithfully, whose remembraunce hath a good report.

12 Yea their bones florishe out of their place, and their names shall neuer be chaunged: but honour remayneth still with the children of those holy men:

C

13 Samuel the prophete, beloued of the Lorde his God,* ordayned a king, and annoynted the princes ouer the people. i.Reg.x.a.

14 In the lawe of the Lord ruled he, and iudged the congregation, and the Lorde had respect vnto Jacob.

15 The prophete was founde diligent in his faithfulnes: yea & he is knowen faithful in his workes, because he sawe the God of light. i.Reg.vii.a.

16 * He called vpon the Lorde almightie, when the enemies preassed vpon him on euery side, what time as he offered the sucking lambe.

17 And the Lorde thundered from heauen, & made his voyce to be heard with a great noyse.

18 He discomfited the princes of Tyre, and all the rulers of the Philistines.

19 * Before his last ende, he made protestation in the sight of the Lorde and his annoynted, that he toke neither substaunce nor good of any man, no not so much as a shoe: and no man might accuse him. i.Reg.xii.a.

D

20 After this he tolde that his ende was at hand, and shewed the king also his ende and death: and from the earth lyft he vp his voyce in the prophetie, that the vngodlie people should perishe.

The .xlvii. Chapter.

1 The prayse of Nathan, 2 Dauid, 12 and Solomon.

A

1 AFterward in the time of king Dauid, there rose vp a prophet called Nathan.

2 For lyke as the fat is taken away from the offering: so was Dauid chosen out of the children of Jsrael.

3 He played with the lions as with kidds, and with beares lyke as with lambes of sheepe. i.Reg.xvii.f.

4 * Slewe he not a giaunt when he was yet but young, & toke away the rebuke frō his people, what time as he toke the stone in his hande, and smote downe proude Goliath with the sling?

5 For he called vpon the highest Lorde, which gaue him strength in his right hande, so that he ouerthrewe the mightie giaunt in the battaile, that he might set vp the horne of his people againe.

6 So he glorified him in ten thousand, and made him to haue a good report in the prayse of the Lorde, that he should weare a crowne of glorie.

B

7 * For he destroyed the enemies on euery side, rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their horne in sunder, lyke as it is broken yet this day. i.Reg.v.b.

8 In all his workes he praysed the hyest and holiest, and ascribed the honour vnto him: with his whole heart did he prayse the Lorde, and loued God that made him.

9 * He set singers also before the aulter, ii.Par.xvi.a.
& in their tune he made sweete songes, that they might geue prayses euery day to God with songes.

10 He ordayned to kepe the holy dayes worshipfully, & that the solempe feastes through the whole yere should be honorably holden, with praysing the name of the Lorde, and with singing betimes in the morning in the sanctuary.

11 * The Lorde toke away his sinnes, and ii.Reg.xii.d
exalted his horne for euer: he gaue him the couenaunt of the kingdome, and the throne of worship in Jsrael.

12 * After him there rose vp the wyse sonne [called Solomon.] Who by him dwelt in a large possession, and for his sake he droue the enemies away far of. iii.Reg.iii.c.

13 This Solomon raigned with peace in his time, and he obtayned glory: For God gaue him rest from his enemies on euery side, that he might builde him an house in his name, and prepare the sanctuarie for euer.

14 How wyse wast thou in thy youth, and filled with wysdome and vnderstanding, as it were with a water flood?

15 Thou coueredst and filledst the whole lande with similitudes, & wyse prudent sentences.

16 Thy name went abrode in the Iles, because of thy peace thou wast beloued.
17 All landes marualed at thy songes, prouerbes, similitudes, and at thy interpretations.
18 And in the name of the Lorde God, which is called the God of Israel, *thou gatheredst golde as tinne, & thou hadst as much siluer as leade.
iii.Reg.x b.
D
19 Thou wast moued in inordinate loue toward women, and wast ouercome in affection.
iiii.Reg.xi.a
20 Thou staynedst thy honour & worship, yea thy posteritie defiledst thou also, in bringing the wrath of the Lorde vpon thy children, and hast felt sorowe for thy folly.
21 *So that thy kingdome was deuided, and Ephraim became an vnfaithfull and a rebellious kingdome.
iii Reg xii.e
22 Neuertheless, God forsooke not his mercie, neither was he vtterly destroyed because of his workes, that he should leaue him no posteritie: as for the seede that came vpon him, which he loued, he brought it not vtterly to naught, but gaue yet a remnaunt vnto Jacob, and a roote vnto Dauid out of him.
ii Reg.vii.e.
23 Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and out of his seede he left behinde him a verie foolishnes of the people, and such one as had no vnderstanding: *euen Roboam, which turned away the people through his counsell, and Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, * which caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of vngodlines:
iii.Re.xii.k
iii.Re.xiid.
24 Insomuch that their sinnes and misdeedes had the vpper hande so sore, that at the last they were driuen out of the lande for the same:
25 Yea, he sought out and brought vp all wickednes, tyll the vengeaunce came vpon them.

¶ The. xlviij. Chapter.

The prayse of Elias, Elizeus, Ezechias, and Esaias.

A 1 Then stoode vp *Elias the prophete as a fyre, and his worde brent lyke a cresset.
ii Re.xvii.a.
2 He brought an hunger vpon them, and in his zeale he made thē fewe in number: for they might not away with the commaundementes of the Lorde.
3 Through the worde of the Lorde he shut the heauen, *& three times brought he the fire downe.
iii.Reg 18.c.
4 O Elias, howe honorable art thou in thy wonderous deedes: Who may make his hoast to be lyke thee:
5 *One that was dead thou raysedst vp from death, and in the worde of the hyest thou broughtest him out of the graue againe.
iii.Reg 17.c.
6 Thou hast cast downe kinges and destroyed them, and the honorable from their seate.
B 7 Upon the mount Sina thou heardest the iudgement, & vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeaunce.
8 Which diddest annoynt kinges to retompence, *and ordaynedst prophetes after thee.
i.Reg 19.c.
iii.Reg.ii.c.
9 *Thou wast taken vp in the stormе of fire, in a charet of fiery horses.
10 Thou wast ordayned in the reprooues in time, to pacifie the wrath of the Lorde before it *raged, to turne the heartes of the fathers vnto the children, & to set vp the tribes of Jacob againe.
Luk.i.i.
11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, and were garnished in loue, for we lyue in lyfe: but after death we shall haue no such name.
12 *Elias was couered in the storme, but Elizeus was filled with his spirite: While he lyued he was afrayde of no prince, and no man might ouercome him.
iiii.Reg.ii.a
13 There coulde no worde deceaue him, *and after his death his body prophecied.
C iiii.Reg.ii.d.
14 He did wonders in his lyfe, & in death were his workes marualous.
15 For all this the people amended not, neither departed they from their sinnes, *tyll they were caryed away prisoners out of the lande, and were scattered abrode in all countries, so that of them there remayned but a very litle people, and a prince vnto the house of Dauid.
4.Re.xviii.
16 Howbeit some of them did right, and some heaped vp vngodlynes.
17 *Ezechias made his citie strong, conueyed water into it, digged through the stony stony rocke with iron, and made vp a wall by the water side.

4.Reg.18.a 18 * In his time came Sennacherib vp, and sent Rabsakes, lyft vp his hande against Sion, & defied them with great pride.

D 19 Then trembled their heartes and handes, so that they sorowed lyke a woman trauayling with childe.

20 So they called vpon the Lord which is mercifull, and lyft vp their handes before him, immediately the Lorde heard them out of heauen.

21 He thought no more vpon their sinnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enemies: but deliuered them by the hande of Esaias.

4.Reg.xix.g 22 * He smote the hoast of the Assyrians, and his angel destroyed them.

23 For Ezechias had done the thing that pleased the Lorde, and remayned stedfastly in the way of Dauid his father, as Esaias the great & faithfull prophete in the sight of God had commaunded him.

4.Re.xx.b. 24 In his time the sunne went backward, and he lengthened the kinges lyfe.

25 With a right spirite prophecied he what shoulde come to passe at the last: and to such as were sorowfull in Sion, he gaue consolation, wherewith they might comfort them selues for euermore.

26 He shewed thinges that were for to come and secrete, or euer they come to passe.

¶ The .xlix. Chapter.

Of Josias, Ezechias, Dauid, Jeremie, Ezechiel, Zorobabel, Jesus, Nehemias, Enoch, and Joseph.

A 4.Reg.22.a. 1 THe remembraunce of * Josias, is lyke as whē the apothecarie maketh many precious sweete smelling thinges together: his remembraunce shalbe sweete as hony in all mouthes, and as the playing of musicke at a banket of wine.

2 He was appoynted to turne the people againe, and to take away all abhominations of the vngodlie.

3 He directed his heart vnto the Lorde, and in the time of the vngodlie he set vp the worship of God againe.

(a) These also were sinners, but either they were not idolaters which here is chefely counted sinne: or els they did repent, so that their sinnes were couered, for that they were enemies to idolatrie.

4 All kinges except (a) Dauid, Ezechias, and Josias, committed wickednes: for euen the kinges of Juda also forsoke the lawe of God.

5 For they gaue their horne vnto other, their honour & worship also to a straūge people.

The .1. Chapter.

1 Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to prayse the Lorde.

A 1 SImon * the sonne of Onias the hye priest, which in his lyfe set vp the house againe, and in his dayes made fast the temple.

2.Machab.3.a

2 The height of the temple also was founded of him, the double building, and the hye walles of the temple.

3 In his dayes the welles of water flowed out, and were exceeding full as the sea.

4 He toke care for his people, and deliuered them from destruction: he kept his citie & made it strong, that it shoulde not be besieged.

5 How honorable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house couered with the vaile?

6 He gaue lyght as the morning starre in the middest of the cloudes, and as the moone when it is full:

B 7 He shined as the sunne in the temple of God, he is as bright as the rayneboWe in the faire cloudes,

8 And florisheth as the floures and roses in the spring of the yere, and as lylies by the riuers of water, like as the braũches vpon the mount Libanus in the time of summer:

9 As a fire and incense that is kindled, lyke as an whole ornament of pure gold set with all maner of precious stones,

10 And as an Olyue tree that is fruiteful, and as a Cypres tree which groweth vp an hye.

11 When he put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with al beautie, when he went to the holy aulter, he made the garment of holynes honorable.

12 When he toke the portions out of the priestes hande, he him selfe stoode by the hearth of the aulter, and his brethren rounde about in order: as the braunches of Cedar tree vpõ the mount Libanus, so stoode they rounde about him:

C 13 And as the braunches of the Olyue tree, so stoode all the sonnes of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lorde in their handes before al the congregation of Israel.

14 And that he might sufficiently performe his seruice vpon the aulter, and garnishe the offering of the highest god, 15 He stretched out his hande, and toke of the drinke offering, and powred in of the wine: so he poured vpon the bottome of the aulter a good smell vnto the highest prince.

16 Then began the sonnes of Aaron to sing, and to blow with trumpettes, and to make a great noyse, for a remembraunce and prayse vnto the Lorde.

17 Then al the people together were hasted, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces to worship the Lorde their God, & to geue thankes to the almightie God.

18 They song goodly also with their voyces, so that there was a pleasaunt noyse in the great house of the Lorde.

19 And the people in their prayer besought the Lorde the highest that he would be D mercifull, tyll the honour of the Lorde were performed, and they had ended their ministration and seruice.

20 Then went he downe and stretched out his handes ouer the whole multitude of the people of Israel, that they shoulde geue prayse and thankes out of their lippes vnto the Lorde, and to reioyce in his name.

21 He began yet once also to pray, that he might openly shewe the thankesgeuing before the highest,

22 [Namely thus] O geue prayse and thankes all ye vnto the Lord our God, which hath euer done noble and great thinges, which hath increased our dayes from our mothers wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercie,

23 That he wyll geue vs the ioyfulnes of heart, and peace for our time in Israel:

24 which faithfully kepeth his mercie for vs euermore, and alway deliuereth vs in due season.

25 There be two maner of people that I abhorre from my heart, as for the third whom I hate, it is no people:

26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foo-ushe people that dwelt in Sichimis.

27 ¶ Jesus, the sonne of Sirach Eleazarus, of Hierusalem, haue tokened vp these informations and documentes of wysdome and vnderstanding in this booke, and poured out the wysdome of my heart.

28 Blessed is he that exerciseth him selfe therein: ¶ Who so taketh such to heart, shalbe wyse for euer.

29 If he do these thinges, he shalbe strong in all: for the lyght of the Lorde leadeth him, which geueth wysdome to the godlie: The Lorde be praysed for euermore, so be it, so be it.

¶ The. lj. Chapter.

The prayer of Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

A 1 I wyll thanke thee O Lorde and king, and prayse thee O God my sauiour: I wyll yeelde

2 prayse vnto thy name. For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserued my body from destruction, from the snares of trayterous tongues, and from the lippes that are occupied with lyes.

3 Thou hast ben my helper from such as stoode vp against me, and hast deliuered me after the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy holy names sake, from the roring of them that prepared them selues to deuour me, out of the handes of such as sought after my lyfe, from the multitude of them that troubled me,

4 And from them that went about to set fyre vpon me on euery side, so that I am not brent in the middest of the fyre:

5 From the deepe of hell, from an vncleane tongue, from lying wordes, from false accusation to the king, and from an vnrighteous tongue.

6 My soule shall prayse the Lorde vnto death: for my lyfe drewe nye vnto hell

B 7 downewarde.

They compassed me round about on euery syde, and there was no man to helpe me: I loked about me if there were any man that would succour me: but there was none.

8 Then thought I vpon thy mercie O Lorde, and vpon thy actes that thou hast done euer of olde: [namely] that thou deliuerest such as put their trust in thee, and riddest them out of the handes of the heathen.

9 Thus lyft I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliueraunce from death.

10 I called vpon the Lorde the father of my Lorde, that he would not leaue me without helpe in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proude.

11 I wyll prayse thy name continually, yeelding honour and thankes vnto it: and so my prayer was heard.

12 Thou sauedst me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the vnrighteous time: therefore wyll I acknowledge and prayse thee, and magnifie the name of the Lorde.

C 13 When I was yet but young, or euer I went astray, I desired (a) wysdome openly in my prayer.

14 I came therfore before the temple and sought her vnto the last: then flourished she vnto me, as a grape that is soone rype.

15 My heart reioyced in her, then went my foote the right way: yea from my youth vp sought I after her.

16 I bowed downe myne eare and receaued her: I founde me much wysdome, and prospered greatly in her.

17 Therfore wyll I ascribe the glory vnto him that geueth me wysdome.

18 For I am aduised to do thereafter, I wyll be gelous to cleaue vnto the thing that is good, so shall I not be confounded.

D 19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue ben diligent to be occupied in her: I lift vp myne handes on hye, then was my soule lightened through wysdome that I knowledged my foolishnes.

20 I ordered my soule after her, she and I were one heart from the beginning, and I found her in cleannesse, and therfore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My heart longed after her, and I gat a good treasure.

22 Through her the Lorde hath geuen me a new tongue, wherewith I wyll prayse him.

(a) wysdome is obtayned by one of these three meanes: first by prayer, as Solomon did and Jacob, secondly, by diligent reading of gods booke, wherein wysdome is obtayned Psal. 19. Sa. 6. Thirdly, by godly conuersation and continuing in the feare of God. Pro. 2. Iohn. 7. If any man wyll do my wyll, he shall knowe my doctrine.

23 *Come vnto me ye vnlearned, and dwell in the house of wysdome:
Esai.lv.a.
24 Withdrawe not your selues from her, but talke & commune of these thinges: for your soules are very thirstie.
25 I opened my mouth, and spake: Come and bye wysdome without money.
26 Bowe downe your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shall receaue wysdome: she is harde at hande, and is content to be founde.
27 Beholde with your eyes, *howe that I haue had but litle labour, & yet haue founde much rest. Eccle.vi.c.
28 Receaue wysdome, and ye shal haue plenteousnes of siluer and golde in possession.
29 Let your minde reioyce in his mercie, and be not ashamed of his prayse.
30 Worke his worke betimes, and he shal geue you your rewarde in due season.

The ende of the booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the Prophete Baruch.

¶ The first Chapter.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Jeconias and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Hierusalem to their other brethren, to the entent that they should pray for them.

1 AND these are the wordes of the booke, which were(a) writtē by Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, ṕ sonne of Sedechias, the sonne of Helchias, at Babylon,

(a) Baruch was secretarie to Jeremie the prophete, of whō in Jeremie is often made mention

2 In the fifth yere, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldees toke Hierusalem, and brent it vp with fyre.

3 And Baruch did reade the wordes of this booke that Jechonias the sonne of Joachim king of Juda might heare, and in the presence of all the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And before all the nobles, the kinges sonnes, and before the elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest: before all them that dwelt at Babylon, by the water of "Sody,

"Or Sud.

5 which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lorde.

6 They made a collection also of money, according to euery mans power:

7 And sent it to Hierusalem vnto Joachim the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Salom priest, with the other priestes, and to all the people which were with him at Hierusalem, B

8 (what time as they had gotten the "vessels of the temple of the Lord that were taken away out of the temple, that they might bring them againe into the lande of Juda the tenth day of the moneth (b) Siuan [namely] siluer vessels which Sedechias the sonne of Josias king of Juda had made,)

"Or, ornamentes.

(b) Siuan contayneth part of May, and part of June, it is the third moneth after the reckoning of the Iewes.

9 After that Nabuchodonozor king of Babylon had taken Jechonias, with al his princes, lordes, and all the people, and led them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon:

10 And they saide, Beholde, we haue sent you money * to bye you burnt offringes and incense withall, prepare a meate offering, and offer for sinne vpon the aulter of the Lorde our God:

Deu.14.c.

11 *And (c) pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonozor i.Tim.ii.b.

(c) By this example we are taught to pray for kinges and princes as 1. Timo. 2.

buchodonozor king of Babylon, and for the welfare of Balthasar his sonne, that their dayes may be vpon earth as the dayes of heauen:

12 That God also may geue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, that we may lyue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonozor king of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balthasar his sonne, that we may long do them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

¶ 13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lorde our God: for we haue sinned against the lord our God, and vnto this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs.

14 And see that ye reade this booke, which we haue sent vnto you to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lorde vpon the hye dayes, and at time conuenient.

Baru.ii.d. 15 Thus shall ye say: *The Lorde our God is righteous, but we are worthy of confusion and shame, lyke as it is come to passe this day vnto all Juda, and to euery one that dwelleth at Hierusalem, 16 To our kinges, princes, priestes, prophetes, and to our fathers.

17 We haue sinned before the Lorde our God, we haue not put our trust in him, nor geuen him credence, 18 We haue not obeyed him, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in the commaundementes that he gaue vs openly.

19 Since the day that he brought our forefathers out of the lande of Egypt, vnto this present day, we haue ben euer a misbeleuing and an vnfaithfull people vnto the Lorde our God, destroying our selues vtterly, and shrincking backe, that we should not heare his voyce. D

20 *Wherefore there are come vpon vs great plagues and diuers curses, lyke as the Lord deuised by Moyses his seruaunt, *which brought our fathers out of the lande of Egypt, to geue vs a lande that floweth with milke & hony, lyke as it is to see this day. Leui.26. Exo.xii.

21 Neuertheless, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, according to all the wordes of the prophetes, whom he sent vnto vs [and to our rulers:]

22 But euery man followed his owne minde and wicked imagination, to offer vnto straunge goddes, and to do euil in the sight of the Lorde our God.

The .ii. Chapter.

1 The Jewes confesse that they iustly suffer for their sinnes. 2 The true confession of the christen. 11 The Jewes desire to haue the wrath of God turned from them. 21 The Lorde wyll that we obeye vnto princes, although they be euill. 32 He promyseth that he wyll call againe the people from captiuitie, and geue them a newe and an euerlasting testament.

A 1 Dan.ix.b. FOr the* which cause the Lorde our God hath performed his deuice, whereof he certified vs, & our heades that ruled in Hierusalem, yea & our kinges, our princes, with all Jsrael and Juda:

2 And such plagues hath the Lorde brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, lyke as it is fulfilled in Hierusalem, *according as it is written in the lawe of Moyses, Deu.28.f.

3 That a man shoulde eate the flesh of his owne sonne, & the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, he hath deliuered them into the handes of all the kinges that are rounde about vs, to be confounded and desolate, and scattered them abrode in al landes and nations.

5 Thus are we brought beneath and not aboue, because we haue sinned against the Lorde our God, and haue not ben obedient vnto his voyce.

6 * Therefore the Lorde our God is righteous, and we with our fathers [as reason is] are brought to open shame, as it is to see this day. Baruch. i.d.

7 And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs alredy, the Lorde had deuised them for vs: B

8 Yet would we not pray vnto the Lord our God, that we might euery man turne from his vngodlie wayes.

9 So the Lord hath caused such plagues to come vpon vs: for he is righteous in all his workes which he hath cõmaunded vs:

10 Which we also haue not done, nor hearkened vnto his voyce for to walke in the commaundementes of the Lorde, that he he hath geuen vnto vs.

Dan.ix.c. 11 *And nowe O Lorde God of Israel, thou that * hast brought thy people out Exo.vii.d. of the lande of Egypt with a mightie hande, with tokens and wonders, with thy great power & outstretched arme, and hast gotten thy selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day:

12 O Lord our God, We haue sinned, We haue done wickedly, We haue behaued our selues vngodly in all thy righteousnesses.

13 Turne thy wrath from vs [we beseche thee,] for we are but a fewe left among € the heathē where thou hast scatered vs.

14 *Heare our prayers O Lorde, and our ii.Par.vi.c. petitions, bring vs out of captiuitie for thyne owne sake, get vs fauour in the sight of them which haue led vs away:

15 That all landes may know that thou art the Lorde our God, and that Israel and his generation calleth vpon thy name.

16 *O Lorde loke downe from thy holy Deu.26.c. house vpon vs, encline thyne eare and heare vs.

17 Open thyne eyes, and beholde: *for the Psal.xxiii.c. dead that be gone downe to their graues, & whose soules are out of their bodies, ascribe vnto the Lorde neither prayse nor righteousnes:

18 But the soule that is vexed for the multitude [of her sinnes,] which goeth on heauyly and weakly, whose eyes begin to faile, yea such a soule ascribeth prayse and righteousnes vnto the Lorde.

D 19 For we poure out our prayers before thee, and require mercie in thy sight O Lorde our God, not for any godlynes of our fathers:

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, according as thou diddest threaten vs by thy seruauntes the prophetes, saying:

Ier.xxviii.a 21 *Thus saith the Lorde, Bowe downe your shoulders and neckes, and serue the king of Babylon: so shall ye remaine still in the lande that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 But if ye wyll not heare the voyce of the Lorde your God, to serue the king of Babylon, 23 I wyll destroy you in the cities of Iuda within Hierusalem and without: I wyll also take from you the voyce of mirth and the voyce of ioy, the voyce of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride, and there shal no man dwel more in the lande.

24 But they would not hearken vnto thy voyce, to do the king of Babylon seruice: and therefore hast thou performed the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruauntes the prophetes: [namely] that the bones of our kinges and the bones of our fathers should be translated out of their places:

25 And lo, nowe are they layde out in the heate of the sunne, and in the colde of the night, and dead in great miserie, with hunger, with sword, [with pestilence] and € are cleane cast foorth.

26 As for the temple wherein thy name was called vpō, thou hast layd it waste, as it is to see this day, and that for the wickednesse of the house of Israel and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lorde our God, thou hast intreated vs after all thy goodnes, and according to all that great louing mercie of thyne, 28 Lyke as thou spakest by thy seruaunt Moyses, in the day when thou diddest commaunde him to write thy lawe before the children of Israel, saying: Deu.iiii.d.

29 *If ye wyl not hearkē vnto my voyce, then shall this great multitude be turned into a very small people among the nations, for I wyll scatter them abrode.

30 Notwithstanding, I am sure that this folke wyl not heare me, for it is an hard necked people: but in the lande of their captiuitie they shall remember them selues, 31 And learne to know that I am the Lorde their God, when I geue them an heart to vnderstande, and eares to F heare.

32 Then shal they prayse me in the lande of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my name.

33 Then shal they turne them from their harde backes, and from their vngodlines: then shall they remember the thinges that happened vnto their fathers which sinned against me.

34 So wyll I bring them againe into the lande which I promysed with an oth vnto their fathers Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, and they shalbe lordes of it, yea I wyll encrease them, and not minishe them.

35 * And I wyll make an other cou- Heb.viii.c. enaunt with them, such one as shall endure dure for euer: [namely] that I will be their God, and they shalbe my people: and I will no more driue my people the children of Israel out of the lande that I haue geuen them.

The. iii. Chapter.

1 The people continueth in their prayer begun for their deliueraunce. 9 He prayseth wysdome vnto the people, shewing that so great aduersities came vnto them for the despising therof. 36 Only God was the finder of wysdome. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

A1 AND nowe, O Lorde almightie, thou God of Israel: our soule that is in trouble, and our spirite that is vexed cryeth vnto thee:

2 Heare vs O Lord, and haue pitie vpon vs, for thou art a mercifull God: be gracious vnto vs, for we haue sinned before thee.

3 Thou endurest for euer: shoulde we then vtterly perishe?

4 O Lorde almightie, thou God of Israel, heare nowe the prayer *of the dead Israelites and of their children, whiche haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde their God, for the whiche cause these plagues hang nowe vpon vs.

Ephe.ii.a. Dani.c. Jere.c.iii.c xxv.c

5 O Lord remember not the wickednesse of our forefathers, but thinke vpon thy power and name nowe at this time:

6 For thou art the Lorde our God, and thee O Lorde will we prayse.

Psal.xxiiii. Psa.77.a.

7 *For thou hast put thy feare in our hearies, to the intent that we should call vpon thy name and prayse thee in our captiuitie, & that we might turne from the wickednesse of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where as thou hast scattered vs to be an abhomination, curse, and subiect to exactions: *like as it hath happened vnto our fathers also, because of al their wickednesse and departing from thee.

Psal.xxix.a

9 O Israel heare the commaundementes of lyfe, ponder them well with thyne eares, that thou maiest learne wisdome.

10 But howe happeneth it Israel that thou art in thyne enemies lande: thou art waxen olde in a straunge countrey, and defiled with the dead.

11 Why art thou become lyke them that go downe to their graues?

12 Euen because thou hast *forsaken the well of wysdome.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God truely, thou shouldest haue remayned still safe in thyne owne lande.

14 *O learne then where is wysdome, where "vertue is, where vnderstanding is: that thou mayest knowe also from whence commeth * long continuaunce and lyfe, the light of the eyes, and quietnesse.

14 O ye dwellers about Sion, come and C let vs call to remembraunce the captiuitie that the euerlasting God hath brought vpon my sonnes & my daughters.

15 *He hath brought a people vpon them from farre, an vnkurteous people, and of a straunge language: whiche neither regarde the olde, nor pitie the young.

Deut.28.c. Ier.v.b.

16 These haue caried away the deare beloued of my widdowes, leauing me alone both desolate and childlesse.

17 But alas, What can I helpe you?

18 Now

18 Nowe he that brought these plagues vpon you, deliuer you also from the handes of your enemies.

19 Go your way O my children, go your way: for I am desolate and forsaken.

Deut.b. xxxx.a. Psa.xxx.a

20 *I haue put of the clothing of peace, & put vpon me the sacke cloth of prayer, and for my time I will call vpon the most hyghest.

21 Be of good cheare O my children, crye vnto the Lorde, and he shall deliuer you from the power of the princes your enemies. D

22 For verily I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous health, yea a very gladnesse is come vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercie that ye shal haue of our euerlasting sauiour.

23 With mourning and weeping dyd I let you go fro me: but with ioy and perpetuall gladnesse shall the Lorde bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as the neyghbours of Sion saw your captiuitie from God: euen so shall they also see shortly your health in God, which shall come on you with great honour and euerlasting worship.

Ba.xv.b. 25 O my children, *suffer patiently the wrath that shal come vpon you: for the enemie hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt treade vpon his necke.

26 My dearlinges haue gone rough hard wayes, for they are led away as a flocke that is scattered abrode with the enemies.

27 But be of good comfort O my children, and crye vnto the Lorde: for he that led you away, hath you yet in remembraunce. E

28 And like as ye haue ben mynded to swarue from your God: so shall ye now endeuour your selues ten times more to turne againe, and to seke him. Esa.lx.b.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, shall bring you euerlasting ioy againe with your health.

30 Take a good heart vnto thee O Hierusalem: for he whiche gaue thee that name, exhorteth thee so to do.

31 *The wicked doers that now put thee to trouble, shall perishe: & such as haue reioyced at thy fall, shalbe punished. Iere.l.a. b.c.

32 The cities whom thy children serue, and that haue caryed away thy sonnes, shalbe corrected.

33 For like as they be nowe glad of thy decay, and reioyce at thy fal: so shal they mourne in their owne destruction.

34 The ioy of their multitude shalbe taken away, and their cheare shalbe turned to sorowe.

35 For a fire shall fall vpon them from the euerlasting God long to endure, & it shal be inhabited of deuyls for a great season. F

36 O Hierusalem, loke about thee toward the east, and beholde the ioy that commeth vnto thee from God.

37 For lo, thy sonnes whom thou hast forsaken, and that were scattered abrode, come gathered together from the east and west, reioycing in the worde of the holy one, vnto the honour of God.

The. v. Chapter.

1 Hierusalem is moued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure therof, the church.

A 1 PUT of thy mourning clothes O Hierusalem and thy sorow, & decke thee with the worship & honour that commeth vnto thee from God with euerlasting glorie.

2 God shal put the garment of righteousnesse vpon thee, & set a crowne of euerlasting worship vpon thyne head:

3 For vpon thee will God declare his brightnesse, that is vnder the heauen.

4 Yea an euerlasting name shall be geuen thee of God, with peace of righteousnesse, and the honour of gods feare.

5 Arise O Hierusalem, stande vp on hye, loke about thee towarde the east, and beholde thy children gathered from the east vnto the west, whiche reioyce in the holy worde, hauing God in remembraunce.

6 They departed from thee on foote, and were led away of their enemies: but now shall the Lorde bring them caryed with honour, as children of the kingdome.

7 For God is purposed to bring downe al stout mountaynes, yea & all hie rockes, to fill the valleys, and so to make them euen with the ground, that Israel may be diligent to liue vnto the honour of God.

8 The woods & all pleasaunt trees, shall ouershadowe Israel at the commaundement of God.

9 For hyther shal God bring Israel with ioyfull mirth, and in the light of his maiestie, with the mercie and righteousnesse that commeth of him selfe.

The. vi. Chapter.

In this chapter are the makers and mayntayners of images mightyly confuted.

A copie of the epistle that Jeremie sent vnto the Iewes, whiche were led away prisoners by the king of Babylon: wherin he certifieth them of the thing that was commaunded him of God.

A 1 BEcause of the sinnes that ye haue done against God, ye shalbe led away captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonozor the king of Babylon.

Ier.xxv.a.

2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shall remayne there many yeres, and for a long season, [namely] (a) seuen generations: and after that will I bring you away peaceably from thence.

(a) That is, seuentie yeres

3 Nowe shall ye see in Babylon gods of golde, of siluer, of wood, and of stone, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cast out a fearfulnesse before the heathen.

4 But loke that ye do not as the other: be not ye afraide, & let not the feare of them ouercome you.

5 Therfore when ye see the multitude of people worshipping them behynde and before, say ye in your heartes: O Lorde, *it is thou that oughtest only to be worshipped.

Deu vi.c.

6 Myne angell also shalbe with you, and I my selfe will care for your soules.

" Dystongue. 7 As for the "timber of those gods, the carpenter hath pulliſhed them: yea gilted be they and layed ouer with siluer, yet are they but vayne thinges, and can not speake.

B 8 Like as a wench that loueth paramours is trimly dect: euen so are these made and hanged with golde.

9 Crownes of golde verily haue their gods vpon their heades: so the priestes them selues take golde and siluer from them, and put it to their owne vses:

10 Yea they geue of the same vnto harlottes, & trumme their whores withall: againe, they take it from the whores, and decke their gods therwith:

11 *Yet can not these gods deliuer them selues from rust and mothes.

Ier.x.a.

12 When they haue couered them with clothing of purple, they wype their faces for the dust of the temple, whereof there is much among them.

13 One hath a scepter in his hande as though he were iudge of the countrey, yet can he not slay such as offende hym.

14 Another hath a sworde or an axe in his hand: for al that, he is neither able to defende hym selfe from battayle, nor from murtherers. ℭ

15 By this ye may vnderstande, that they be no gods: therefore see that ye neither worship them, nor feare them.

16 For like as a vessell that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broken, euen so is it with their gods: when they be set vp in the temple, their eyes be ful of dust throwe the feete of those that come in.

17 And like as the doores are shut in round about vpon hym that hath offended the king, or as it were a dead body kept beside the graue: Euen so, the priestes kepe the doores with barres & lockes, lest their gods be spoyled with robbers.

18 They set vp candels before them, yea verily and that many, wherof they can not see one: but euen as blockes, so stande they in the temple.

19 It is sayd, that the serpentes & wormes whiche come of the earth gnawe out their hartes, eating them & their clothes also, and yet they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke, throwe the smoke that is in the temple. D

21 The owles, swalowes, and byrdes flee vpon them, yea and the cattes run ouer their heades.

22 By

22 By this ye may be sure that they are not gods, therfore feare them not.

23 The golde that they haue is to make them beautifull: for all that, except some body dight of their rust they wil geue no shine, and when they were cast into a fourme, they felt it not.

24 They are bought for money, and haue no breath of lyfe within them.

xliii.c. 25 *They must be borne vpon mens shoulders as those that haue no feete, whereby they declare vnto men that they be nothing worth: *confounded be they then that worship them.

26 For if they fall to the ground, they can not rise vp againe of them selues: yea though one helpe them vp and set them right, yet are they not able to stande alone, but must haue proppes set vnder them like dead men.

27 As for the thing that is offred vnto them, their priestes sell it, & abuse it, yea the priestes wyues take thereof: but vnto the sicke & poore they geue nothing of it.

28 The women with childe and the menstruous lay handes of their offringes: By this ye may be sure that they are no gods, therefore be not ye afrayde of them.

29 From whence commeth it then that they be called gods: the women set before the gods of siluer, golde, and wood,

30 And the priestes sit in their temples, hauing open clothes, whose heades and beardes are shauen, and haue nothing vpon their heades, 31 Roaring and crying vpon their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.

32 The priestes also take away the garmentes of the images, and decke their wyues and children withall.

33 Whether it be good or euyll that any man do vnto them, they are not able to recompence it: they can neither set vp a king, nor put him downe.

Buck.v.a. 34 In like maner, they may neither geue riches, nor reward euyll: *though a man make a vow vnto them and kepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mighty.

36 They can not restore a blind man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can shewe no mercie to the widowe, nor do good to the fatherlesse.

38 Their gods of wood, stone, golde, and siluer, are but euen as other stones that be hewen of the mountayne: they that worship them, shalbe confounded.

39 Howe shoulde they then be taken for gods? yea howe dare men call them gods?

40 And though the Chaldees worshipped them not, hearing that they were but dombe and coulde not speake:

41 Yet they them selues offer vnto Bel, and woulde fayne haue hym to speake: as who say they coulde feele, that may not moue.

42 But when these men come to vnderstanding, they shall forsake them, for their gods haue no feeling.

43 A great sort of women girde with coardes, sit in the streetes, & burne "olyue beries: Now if one of them be conueyed away, and lye with such as come by, she casteth her neyghbours in the teeth, because she was not worthyly reputed, nor her coarde broken. "Or, strawe.

44 What so euer is done for them, it is but in vayne and lost: Howe may it then be thought or sayde, that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldesmithes make them: neither be they any other thing, but euen what the workemen wil make of them.

46 Yea the goldsmithes them selues that make them are of no long continuaunce: howe shoulde then the thinges that are made of them, be gods?

47 Vayne therfore are the thinges, yea very shame is it that they leaue behinde them for their posteritie.

48 For assoone as there commeth any warre or plague vpon them, then the priestes imagine where they may hyde them selues with them.

49 Howe can men thinke then that they be gods, whiche neither may defende them selues from warre, nor deliuer them from misfortune?

50 For seyng they be but of wood, of stone, of siluer, and of golde, all people and kinges shall knowe hereafter that they be but vayne thinges: yea it shalbe openly declared that they be no gods, but euen the very workes of mens handes, and that God hath nothing to do with them.

51 It is manifest then that they are no gods, but the workes of mens handes, and no worke of God in them.

52 They can set no king in the lande, nor geue rayne vnto men.

53 They can geue no sentence of a matter, neither defende the lande from wrong: for they are not able to do so much as a crowe that fleeth betwixt heauen and earth.

54 When there happeneth a fire into the house of those gods of wood, and siluer, and of golde, the priestes will escape and saue them selues, but the gods burne as the balkes therin.

55 They can not withstande any king or battell: howe may it then be thought or graunted that they be gods?

56 Moreouer, these gods of wood, of stone, of gold and siluer, may neither defend them selues from theeues nor robbers:

57 Yea the very wicked are stronger then they: these stryp them out of their apparell that they be clothed withall, these take their golde and siluer from them, & so get them away, yet can they not helpe them selues.

58 Therfore it is much better for a man to be a king, and so to shewe his power, or els a profitable vessell in a house, wherin he that oweth it might haue pleasure, yea or to be a doore in a house, to kepe such thinges safe as be therein: then to be such a vayne god.

59 The sunne, the moone, & al the starres, seing they geue their shine and light, are obedient, and do men good.

60 When the lightning glistreth, all is cleare.

61 The Winde bloweth in euery countrey: & When God commaundeth the cloudes to go rounde about the whole worlde, they do as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue and commaunded, it burneth by hilles & woodes: but as for those gods, they are not like one of these thinges, neither in beautie, neither in strength.

63 Wherfore, men shoulde not thinke nor say that they be gods, seing they can neither geue sentence in iudgement, nor do men good.

64 Forsomuch nowe as ye are sure that they be no gods, then feare them not:

65 For they can neither speake euyll nor good of kinges.

66 They can shew no tokens in heauens for the heathen, neither shyne as the sunne, nor geue light as the moone:

67 Yea the vnreasonable beastes are better then they: for they can get them vnder the roofe, and do them selues good.

68 So can ye be certified by no maner of meanes that they be gods, therefore feare them not.

69 For like as a scarcrowe in a garden of herbes kepeth nothing: euen so are their gods of wood, of siluer, and golde.

70 And like as a white thorne in an orcharde that euery byrd sitteth vpon, yea lyke as a dead body that is cast in the darke: euen so is it with those gods of wood, siluer, and golde.

71 By the purple & scarlet which they haue vpon them and soone fayleth away, ye may vnderstande that they be no gods: yea they them selues shall be consumed at the last, whiche shalbe a great confusion of the lande.

72 Blessed is the godly man that hath no images and worshippeth none: for he shalbe farre from reproofe.

The ende of the prophete Baruch, whiche is not in the Canon of the Hebrue.

The song of the three children, whiche were put into the hot burning ouen. The common translation readeth this song in the iii. Chapter of Daniel.

25 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The crueltie of the king. 48 The flambe deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The angell of the Lorde was in the fornace. 51 The three children prayse the Lorde, and prouoke all creatures to the same.

24 AND they walked in the middest of the flambe, prayesing God & magnifiyng the Lorde.

25 Then Azarias stoode vp, & prayed on this maner: euen in the middest of the fire opened he his mouth, and sayde:

26 Blessed be thou O Lorde God of our fathers, right Worthy to be praysed and honoured is that name of thine for euermore:

27 For thou art righteous in al the thinges that thou hast done to vs, yea faythfull are al thy Workes, thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgementes true.

€ 28 In all ỹ thinges that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon the holy citie of our fathers, euen Hierusalem, thou hast executed true iudgement: yea according right and equitie hast thou brought all these thinges vpon vs, because of our sinnes.

29 For Why? We haue offended and done Wickedly, departing from thee.

Deut.ix.c. 30 *In all thinges haue we trespassed, & not obeyed thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast bidden vs, that We may prosper.

Baruc.iii.b. 31 *Wherefore all that thou hast brought vpon vs, and euery thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the handes of our enemies, among vngodly and Wicked abhominations, and to an vnrighteous king, yea the most frowarde vpon earth.

33 And nowe We may not open our mouthes, We are become a shame and reproofe vnto thy seruauntes, & to them that Worship thee.

34 Yet for thy names sake [we beseche thee] geue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy couenaunt,

35 And take not away thy mercie from vs for thy beloued Abrahams sake, for thy seruaunt Isaacs sake, and for thy holy Israels sake:

36 To whom thou hast spoken and promised * that thou Wouldest multiplie their seede as the starres of heauen, & as the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shore. F Gen.xv.e. Deut.x.d.

37 For We O Lord, are become lesse then any people, and be kept vnder this day in all the Worlde, because of our sinnes.

38 So that nowe We haue neither prince, duke, prophet, burnt offering, sacrifice, oblation, incense, nor sanctuarie before thee.

39 Neuertheless, in a contrite heart and an humble spirite let vs be receaued, that We may obtayne thy mercie.

40 Like as in the burnt offering of rammes and bullockes, and like as in thousandes of fat lambes: so let our offering be in thy sight this daye, that it may please thee: *for there is no confusion vnto thē that put their trust in thee. 1.Pet.ii.a. Rom.x.c. Esa.28.d. Rom.ix.g.

41 And nowe We folowe thee With al our heart, We feare thee, and seke thy face.

42 Put vs not to shame: but deale With vs after thy louing kindnesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs by thy miracles O Lorde, and get thy name an honour: that all they Which do thy seruauntes euyl, may be confounded:

44 Let them be ashamed thorow thy almightie power, and let their strength be broken:

45 That they may knowe, how that thou only art the Lorde God, and honour Worthy throughout all the Worlde.

46 And the kinges seruauntes that put them in, ceassed not to make the ouen hot With (a)Wild fire, drie straw, pitche, towe, and fagottes: (a) which is called Maphtha, which is certeyne kind of fat and chalkie clay.

47 So that the flambe Went out of the ouen vpon a fourtie and nyne cubites:

48 Yea it toke away and brent vp those Chaldees that it gat holde vpon beside the ouen.

 49 But

49 But the angell of the Lorde came downe into the ouen to Azaria and his felowes, and smote the flambe of the fire out of the ouen, 50 And made the middes of the ouen as it had ben a colde winde blowing: so the fire neither touched them, greeued them, nor dyd them hurt.

51 Then these three as out of one mouth, praysed, honoured, and blessed God in the fornace, saying:

i.Mac.iii.d. 52 *Blessed be thou O Lorde God of our fathers: for thou art prayse and honour worthy, yea & to be magnified for euermore.

Psa.lxxii.c. 53 *Blessed be the holy name of thy glorie, for it is worthy to be praysed & magnified in all worldes.

54 Blessed be thou in the holy temple of thy glorie: for aboue all thinges thou art to be praysed, yea and more then worthy to be magnified for euer.

55 Blessed be thou in the throne of thy kingdome: for aboue al thou art worthy to be well spoken of, and to be more then magnified for euer.

56 Blessed be thou that lokest thorow the deepe, and sittest vpon the Cherubims: for thou art worthy to be praysed, and aboue all to be magnified for euer.

57 Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen: for thou art prayse and honour worthy for euer.

58 O all ye workes of the Lorde, speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

Psa.xlvi.a. 65 *O ye showres and dewe speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

66 O all ye windes of God, speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

67 O ye fire and heate speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

68 O ye winter and sommer speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

69 O ye deawes and frostes speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

70 O ye frost and colde speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

71 O ye yce and snowe speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

72 O ye nightes and dayes speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

73 O ye light and darkenesse speake good of the Lord: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

74 O ye lightninges and cloudes speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

75 O let the earth speake good of the Lorde: yea let it prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

76 O ye mountaynes and hilles speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

77 O all ye greene thinges vpon the earth speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

78 O ye welles speake good of the Lord: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

79 O ye seas and fluddes speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

80 O ye whales and all that moue in the waters speake good of the Lord: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

81 O all ye foules of the ayre speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

82 O all ye beastes and cattel speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

83 O ye children of men speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

91 O all deuout men, ſpeake ye good of the Lorde, the God of all goddes: O prayſe him and geue him thankes, for his mercie endureth worlde without ende.

The ſtory of Suſanna, vvhich is the thirteenth Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

8 The two gouerners are taken with the loue of Suſanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They ſolicite her to wickednes. 23 She chooſeth rather to obey God, though it be to the daunger of her lyfe. 34 She is accuſed. 45 Daniel doth deliuer her. 62 The gouernours are put to death.

A1 THere dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim,

2 That toke a wyfe whoſe name was Suſanna, the daughter of Helcia, a very faire woman, and ſuch one as feared God.

3 Her father and her mother alſo were good people, and taught their daughter according to the lawe of Moyſes.

4 Now Joacim [her husband] was a great rich man, and had a faire orchard ioyning vnto his houſe: and to him reſorted the Jewes commõly, becauſe he was a man of reputation among them.

5 The ſame yere were there made two iudges, ſuch as the Lorde ſpeaketh of, The wickednes of Babylon commeth from the elders [that is] from the iudges which ſeeme to rule the people.

6 Theſe came oft to Joacims houſe: and all ſuch as had any thing to do in the lawe, came thyther vnto them.

7 Now when the people departed away at noone, Suſanna went into her husbandes orchard to walke. B

8 The two elders ſeeing this, that ſhe went in dayly and walked, they burned for luſt to her,

9 Yea they were almoſt out of their wittes, and caſt downe their eyes, that they ſhould not ſee heauen, nor remember that God is a righteous iudge.

10 For they were both wounded with the loue of her, neither durſt one ſhewe another his griefe:

11 And for ſhame they durſt not tell her their inordinate luſt, that they woulde faine haue had to do with her:

12 Yet they layed wayte for her earneſtly from day to day, that they might [at the leaſte] haue a ſight of her.

13 And the one ſaid to the other: Up, let vs go home, for it is dinner time. So they went their way one from an other.

14 When they returned againe, they came together, enquiring out the matter betwixt them ſelues, yea the one tolde the other of his wicked luſt: Then appointed they a time when they might take Suſanna alone.

15 It

15 It happened alſo that they ſpied out a conuenient time when ſhe went foorth to walke, as her maner was, and no body with her but two maydens, and Exo.ii.c. thought *to waſhe her ſelfe in the garden: for it was an hot ſeaſon.
16 And there was not one perſon there, except the two elders that had hid themſelues to beholde her.
17 So ſhe ſaide to her maydens: Go fet me oyle and ſope, and ſhut the orchard dooze, that I may waſhe me.
18 And they did as ſhe bad them, and ſhut the orchard dooze, and went out themſelues at a backe dooze to fetch the
* Or, but they ſawe not the elders becauſe they were hid. thing that ſhe had commaunded: * but Suſanna knew not that the elders laye there hid within.
D 19 Now when the maydens were gone foorth, the two elders gat them vp, and ranne vpon her, ſaying:
20 Now the orchard dooꝛes are ſhut that no man can ſee vs, we haue a luſt vnto thee, therefore conſent vnto vs, and lye with vs:
21 If thou wylt not, we ſhall bring a teſtimonial againſt thee, that there was a young felowe with thee, & that thou haſt ſent away thy maydens from thee for the ſame cauſe.
22 Suſanna ſighed, and ſaide, Alas, I am in trouble on euery ſide: though I folowe your minde, it wyl be my death: and if I conſent not vnto you, I can not eſcape your handes.
23 Wel, it is better for me to fall into your hande without the deede doing, then to ſinne in the ſight of the Lorde.
24 And with that ſhe cryed out with a loude voyce: the elders alſo cryed out againſt her.
E 25 Then ranne there one to the orchard dooze, and ſmote it open.
26 Now whē the ſeruauntes of the houſe heard the crye in the orchard, they ruſhed in at the backe dooze to ſee what the matter was.
27 So when the elders tolde them, the ſeruauntes were greatly aſhamed: for why? there was neuer ſuch a repoꝛt made of Suſanna.
28 On the morowe after came the people to Joachim her huſband, and the two elders came alſo ful of miſchieuous imaginations againſt Suſanna, to bring her vnto death, 29 And ſpake thus before the people: Send for Suſanna the daughter of Helchias, Joachims wyfe. And immediatly they ſent for her.
30 So ſhe came with her father and mother, her children and all her kindred.
31 Now Suſanna was a tender perſon, and marueylous faire of face.
32 Therefore the wicked men commaunded to take her clothes from her face (for ſhe was couered) that at the leaſt they might ſo be ſatiſfied in her beautie.
33 Then her friendes, yea and all they that knew her, began to weepe.
34 Theſe two elders ſtoode vp in the mid- E

vpon the head of Suſanna,
35 Which wept, and loked vp toward heauen: for her heart had a ſure truſt in the Lorde.
36 And the elders ſaide: As we were walking in the orchard alone, this woman came in with her two maydens, whom ſhe ſent away from her, and ſparred the orchard dooꝛes:
37 With that a young felowe which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.
38 As for vs, we ſtoode in a corner of the orchard: and when we ſawe this wickednes, we ranne to them, and we ſawe them as they were together.
39 But we could not holde him, for he was ſtronger then we. Thus he opened the dooze and gat him away.
40 Now whē we had taken this woman, we aſked her what young felowe this was, but ſhe would not tel vs. This is the matter, & we be witneſſes of the ſame.
41 The common ſorte beleeued them, as F thoſe that were the elders and iudges of the people, & ſo they condemned her to death.
42 Suſanna cryed out with a loude voyce and ſaide: O euerlaſting God, * thou Hebre. iiii.c.
ſearcher of ſecretes, thou that knoweſt all thinges before they come to paſſe:
43 Thou wotteſt that they haue borne falſe witneſſe againſt me, and behold I muſt dye, whereas I neuer did any ſuch thinges as theſe men haue maliciouſly inuented againſt me.
44 And the Lorde heard her voyce.
45 For when ſhe was led foorth to death, the lord rayſed vp the ſpirite of a young childe, whoſe name was Daniel, 46 Which cryed with a loude voyce, * I ii Reg.iii.f.

am cleane from this blood.

47 Then all the people turned towarde him, & ſaide: What meane theſe Wordes that thou haſt ſpoken?

48 Daniel ſtoode in the middeſt of them, and ſaide: are ye ſuch fooles O ye children of Iſrael, that ye can not diſcerne nor know the trueth? Ye haue here condẽpned a daughter of Iſrael vnto death, and knowe not the trueth wherefore?

49 Go ſit in iudgement againe: for they haue ſpoken falſe witneſſe againſt her.

f 50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all the haſte: and the elders [that is the principall heades] ſaide vnto him: Come ſit downe here among vs, and ſhewe vs this matter, ſeeing God hath geuẽ thee as great honour as an elder.

1.Reg.iii.d. 51 And Daniel ſaide vnto them: * put theſe two aſyde one from an other, and then ſhall I examine them.

52 When they were put aſunder one from an other, he called one of them and ſaide vnto him: O thou olde cankarde carle that haſt vſed thy Wickednes ſo long, thyne vngratious deedes which thou haſt done afore are now come to light.

53 For thou haſt geuen falſe iudgementes, thou haſt oppreſſed the innocent, and letten the giltie go free: where as yet the Exo.23.a. Lorde ſaith, * The innocent and righteous ſee thou ſlay not.

54 Well then, if thou haſt ſeene her, tel me vnder what tree ſaweſt thou them companying together? He aunſwered: vnder a " Mulbery tree. " Oya Lentiſcus.

55 And Daniel ſaide: Very well, nowe thou lyeſt euen vpon thyne head: lo, the meſſenger of the Lorde hath receaued the ſentence of him, to cut thee in two.

56 Then put he him aſide, and called for the other, and ſaide vnto him: O thou ſeede of Chanaan, but not of Juda, fairenes hath deceaued thee, and luſt hath ſubuerted thyne heart.

57 Thus dealt ye afore with the daughters of Iſrael, and they for feare conſented vnto you: but the daughter of Juda would not abide your Wickednes.

58 Now tel me then vnder what tree didſt thou take them companying together? He aunſwered: vnder a " Pomegranate tree. " Or, a prune tree, or a nurſell tree.

59 Then ſaide Daniel vnto him: Very well, nowe thou lyeſt alſo euen vpon thyne head: the meſſenger of the Lord ſtandeth wayting with the ſword to cut thee in two, and ſlay you both.

60 With that all the whole multitude gaue a great ſhoute, and prayſed God * which alway deliuered them that put their truſt in him. Pſal.xvii.a.

61 And they came vpon the two elders, whom Daniel had conuict with their G owne mouth, that they had geuen falſe witneſſe, 62 And dealt with them euen lykewyſe as they would haue done with their neighbours, yea they did * accordyng to the law of Moyſes, and put them to death: Thus the innocent blood was ſaued the ſame day. Deu.xix.d.

63 Then Helcias and his wyfe prayſed God for their daughter Suſanna, with Joacim her huſband, and al the kinred: that there was no diſhoneſtie founde in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the ſight of the people.

65 And king Aſtyages was layde with his fathers, and Cyrus of Perſia raigned in his ſteede.

¶ The story of Bel and of the Dragon, which is the fourteenth Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

A

1 DAniel did eate at the kinges table, and was had in reuerence aboue all his friendes.

2 There was at Babylō an image called Bel, and there were spent (a) vpon him euery day (b) twelue takes, fourtie sheepe, and sixe great (c) pottes of wine.

(a) Of Bel the meate geuen to him, which the priestes deuoured.

(b) Or twelue great measures of fine floure called Artaba, whereof euery one contayned somwhat more then nine gallons, which maketh in all an hundred and eyght gallons at the leaste.

(c) Called Metreta, and euery one of these contayned about ten gallons, which in all maketh ix. gallons.

3 Him did the king worship him selfe, and went dayly to honour him, but Daniel worshipped his owne God: And the king saide vnto him, Why doest not thou worship Bel?

4 He answered and saide: *Because I may not worship thinges that be made with handes, but the liuing God which made heauen and earth, and hath power vpon all flesh.

5 The king said vnto him: Thinkest thou not that Bel is a lyuing God? or seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh euery day?

6 Daniel smyled and saide, O king deceaue not thy selfe: for this is but made of clay within, and of brasse without, *neither eateth he euer any thing.

Eccle 30. c.

7 Then the king was wroth, and called for his priestes, and saide vnto them: If ye tell me not who is this that eateth vp these expences, ye shall dye:

8 But if ye can certifie me that Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall dye: for he hath spoken blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel said vnto the king: Let it so be, according as thou hast saide.

9 The priestes of Bel were threescore and ten, besides their wyues and children: And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

10 So Bels priestes saide, Lo, we wyl go out: & set thou the meate there O king, and poure in the wine, then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thyne owne signet:

11 And to morowe when thou commest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten vp all, we wyll suffer death: or els Daniel, that hath lyed vpon vs.

12 The priestes thought them selues sure inough: for vnder the "aulter they had made a priuy entraunce, and there went they in euer, and did eate vp what there was.

"Or, table.

13 So when they were gone foorth, the king set meates before Bel: Now Daniel had commaunded his seruauntes to bring asshes, & these he "sifted throughout all the temple, that the king might see: then went they out and sparred the doore, sealing it with the kinges signet, and so departed.

"Or, strewed.

C

14 In the night came the priestes, with their wyues and children, as they were wont to do, and did eate and drinke vp all.

15 In the morning betimes at the breake of the day the king arose, and Daniel with him.

16 And the king said: Daniel, are the seales whole yet? He answered: yea O king, they be whole.

17 Now assoone as he had opened the doore, the king loked vnto the "aulter, & cryed with a loude voyce: Great art thou O Bel, and with thee is no deceite.

"Or, table.

18 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and saide: Beholde the pauement, marke well whose footesteps are these?

19 The king saide: I see the footesteps of men, women, and children.

20 Therefore the king was angry, and toke the priestes, with their wyues and children: and they shewed him the priuie doores where they came in, and dyd eate vp such thinges as were vpon the

Ier. li. g. Esai. xlvi.

22 And in that same place there was a great Dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.

23 And the king said vnto Daniel, Sayest thou that this is but a god of brasse also? Lo, he lyueth, he eateth & drinketh, so that thou canst not say that he is no lyuing God: therfore worship him.

24 Daniel saide vnto the king: I wyll worship the Lorde my God, *he is the true lyuing God: as for this, he is not the God of lyke.

25 But geue me leaue O king, and I shal destroy this Dragon without sworde or staffe staffe. The king said: I geue thee leaue.

26 Then Daniel toke pitch, fat, and heary wooll, and did seeth them together, and made lumpes thereof: this he put in the Dragons mouth, and so the Dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel saide: Lo, there is he whom ye worshipped, 27 when they of Babylon heard that, they toke great indignation, and gathered them together against the king, saying: The king is become a Iewe, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slaine the Dragon, & put the priestes to death.
28 So they came to the king, and saide: Let vs haue Daniel, or els we will destroy thee and thyne house.
29 Nowe when the king sawe that they rushed in so sore vpon him, and that necessitie constrained him, * he deliuered Daniel vnto them:
Daniel.vi.c.
30 which cast him into the lions denne, where he was sixe dayes.
31 In the denne there were seuen lions, & they had geuen them euery day two bodies & two sheepe: which then were not geuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.
32 There was in Iurie a prophete called f Habacuc, which had made potage, & broken bread in a boule, & was going into the fielde for to bring it to the reapers.
33 But the angel of the Lorde saide vnto Habacuc: Go cary the meate that thou hast, into Babylon vnto Daniel, which is in the lions denne.
34 And Habacuc saide: Lorde, I neuer sawe Babylon, and as for the denne I know it not.
Ezec.viii.a.
35 * Then the angell of the Lorde toke hym by the toppe, and bare him by the heere of the head, and through a mightie winde set him in Babylon vpon the denne.
36 And Habacuc cryed, saying: O Daniel *thou seruaunt of God, haue, take the "breakfast that God hath sent thee.

" Or, dinner.
37 And Daniel saide: O God, hast thou thought vpon me? Wel, thou neuer fayleste them that loue thee.
38 So Daniel arose & did eate. And the angell of the Lorde set Habacuc in his owne place againe immediatly.
39 Vpon the seuenth day, the king went to beweepe Daniel: and when he came to the denne, he loked in, and beholde, Daniel sate [in the middest of the lions.]
40 Thē cryed the king with a loude voyce, saying: Great art thou O Lorde God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee. G 41 *And he drew him out of the lions den, & cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.
Iere.37.b.
42 After this, wrote the king vnto al people, kinredes and tongues, that dwelt in all countries,
43 Saying, Peace be multiplied with you: My cōmaundement is in al the dominion of my realme, that men feare and stand in awe of Daniels God, for he is the lyuing God, which endureth euer:
44 His kingdome abideth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlasting:
45 It is he that can deliuer and saue, he doth wonders and meruailous workes in heauen and in earth: for he hath saued Daniel from the power of the lions.

¶ The prayer of Manasses king of Iuda, when he was holden captiue in Babylon.

O Lorde almightie, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, and of the righteous seede of them: which hast made heauen and earth, with al the ornament therof, which hast "ordained the sea by the worde of thy commaundement, which hast shut vp the deepe, and hast sealed it for thy fearefull and laudable name, which all men feare, and tremble before the face of thy power, and not for the anger of thy threatning, the which is importable to sinners, but the mercie of thy promise is great and vnsearchable: for thou art the Lorde God most high aboue all the earth, long suffering, and exceeding mercifull, and repentaunt vpon the malice of men: Thou Lord after thy goodnes hast promysed repentaunce of the remission of sinnes, and thou that art the god of the righteous, hast not put repentaunce to the righteous Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, vnto them that haue not sinned against thee: but because I haue sinned aboue the number of the sandes of the sea, and that myne iniquities are multiplied, I am "humbled with many bandes of iron, and there is in me no breathing, I haue prouoked thyne anger, and haue done euil before thee, in committing abhominations, and multiplying offences: And now I bowe the knees of my heart, requiring goodnesse of thee O Lord. I haue sinned Lord, I haue sinned, and know myne iniquitie, I desire thee by prayer O Lord forgeue me, forgeue me, & destroy me not with myne iniquities, neither do thou alwayes remember myne euils to punishe them: but saue me (which am vnworthy) after thy great mercie, and I will praise thee euerlastingly all the dayes of my lyfe: for all the powre of heauen prayseth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glory, worlde without ende, Amen.

The first booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

1 After the death of Alexander the king of Macedonia, 11 Antiochus taketh the kingdome. 12 Many of the children of Israel make couenaunt with the Gentiles. 21 Antiochus subdueth Egypt and Hierusalem vnto his dominion. 43 Hierusalem being burnt, they make lawes of their owne, and forbid to kepe gods lawes. 50 Antiochus setteth vp an idoll ouer the aulter of God.

1 AFter that Alexander king of Macedonia sonne of Philip went forth of the lande of "Cethim, and (a) slew Darius king of the Persians and Medes, and raigned for him as he had done before in Grecia:

2 It happened that he toke great warres in hand, wanne very many strong cities, and slue many kinges of the earth,

3 Going through to the endes of the worlde, and getting many spoyles of the people, insomuch that the whole worlde stoode in awe of him,* and therfore was he proude in his heart.

4 (b) Now when he had gathered a mightie strong hoast,

5 And subdued the landes and people with their princes, so that they became tributaries vnto him,

6 Then he fell sicke, and when he perceaued that he must needes dye,

7 He called for his noble estates, which had ben brought vp with him of childrē, *and parted his kingdome among them while he was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander raigned twelue yeres, and then dyed.

9 (c) After his death fell the kingdome vnto his princes, and they obtayned it euery one in his roome,

10 And caused them selues to be crowned as kinges: and so did their children after them many yeres, and much wickednes increased in the worlde.

11 Out of these came the vngratious roote "noble Antiochus, the sonne of Antiochus the king,* which had ben a pledge at Rome: and he raigned in the hundred thirtie and seuen yere of the empire of the Grekes.

12 (d) In those dayes went there out of Israel wicked men, which moued much people with their counsel, saying, *Let vs go and make a couenaunt with the heathen that are rounde about vs: *for since we departed from them, we haue had much sorowe.

13 So this deuice pleased them well,

14 (e) And certaine of the people toke vpon them for to go vnto the king, which gaue them licence to do after the ordinaunce of the heathen.

15 * (f) Then set they vp an open schoole at Hierusalem of the lawes of the heathen:

16 (g) And made themselues vncircumsized, but forsooke the holy testament, and ioyned them selues to the heathen,* and were cleane soulde to do mischiefe.

17 So when Antiochus began to be mightie in his kingdome, he went about to obtayne the lande of Egypt also, that he might haue the dominion of two realmes.

18 * Upon this entred he into Egypt with a strong hoast, with charets, Elephants, horsemen, and a great number of ships, 19 (h) And began to warre against Ptolome the king of Egypt: But Ptolome was afrayde of him, and fled, and many of his people were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities, and toke away great good out of the lande of Egypt.

21 * And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundred fourtie and three yere, and went toward Israel,

22 And came vp to Hierusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudely into the sanctuarie, and toke away the golden alter, the candelsticke, and al the ornaments therof, the table of the shewbread, the pouring ring vessels, the chargers, the golden spoones, the vayle, the crownes, & golden apparell of the temple, and brake downe all in peeces.

24 He toke also the siluer and golde, the precious iewels, and the secret treasures that he founde.

25 And when he had taken away altogether, caused a great murther of men, and spoken very proudly, the departed into his owne lande.

26 Therefore there was great lamentation throughout all Israel.

27 The princes and the elders of the people mourned, the young men and the maydens were [a] defiled, and the faire beautie of women was chaunged:

28 The bridegrome and the bryde toke them to mourning,

29 The lande and those that dwelt therein was moued: for all the house of Jacob was brought to confusion.

30 (i) *After two yeres the king sent his chiefe treasurer vnto the cities of Juda, which came to Hierusalem with a great multitude of people,

31 Speaking peaceable wordes vnto thē, but all was deceite: for when they had geuen him credence,

32 He fell sodenly vpon the citie, & smote it sore, & destroyed much people of Israel:

33 * And when he had spoyled the citie, he set fire on it, casting downe houses and walles on euery side.

34 The women and their children toke they captiue, and led away their cattell.

35 Then builded they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, and with mightie towres, and made it a strong holde for them.

36 Beside all this, they set wicked people and vngodlie men to kepe it, 37 Stored it with weapons and vitailes, gathered the goodes of Hierusalem, and layed them vp there: Thus became it a theeuishe castel.

38 Thus they became a heauy burthen, laying wayte for the people that went into the sanctuary, and for the cruell destruction of Israel.

39 Thus they shed innocent blood on euery side of the sanctuary, and defiled it:

40 Insomuch that the citezins were faine to depart, and the citie became an habitation of straungers, being desolate of her owne seede: for her owne natiues were faine to leaue her.

41 * Her sanctuary was cleane wasted, her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbathes were had in derision, & her honour brought to naught. 1 obiit a.

42 (k) Loke how great her glory was before, so great was her confusion, and her ioye turned into sorowe. k) Josephus. li 12. Cap. 6. et 7.

43 * Antiochus also the king sent out a commission vnto all his kingdome, that all the people should be one. ii. Mac vi. a.

44 Then they left euery man his lawe, and al the heathen agreed to the commaundement of king Antiochus:

45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented therevnto, offering vnto idols, and defiling the Sabbath.

46 So the king Antiochus sent his messegers with his commission vnto Hierusalem, and to all the cities of Juda, that they should folow the lawes of the heathen:

47 And forbad either burnt offering, meate offering, or peace offering to be made in the temple of God, & that there should no Sabbath nor hie feast day be kept:

48 But commaunded that the sanctuary and the holy people of Israel should be defiled:

49 He commaunded also, that there should be set vp other aulters, temples, & idols, to offer vp swines flesh, and other vncleane beastes,

50 That men should leaue their children vncircumcized, to defile their soules with all maner of vncleanesse and abhominations:

51 That they might so forget the lawe, and chaunge all the holy ordinaunces of God, 52 And that whosoeuer would not do according to the commaundement of king Antiochus, should suffer death.

53 In lyke maner cōmaunded he throughout all his realme, and set rulers ouer the people, for to compell them to do these thinges:

54 Commaunding al the cities of Juda to do sacrifice vnto idols.

55 Then went the people vnto the heathen by heapes, forsoke the lawe of the Lorde, and committed much euil in the lande:

56 And drone the Israelites into secrete places, euen where so euer they coulde flee for succour.

61 And through his authoritie they executed these thinges euery moneth, vpon the people of Israel that Were founde in the cities.

63 According to the commaundement of king Antiochus they put certaine Women to death, Which had caused their children to be circumcized:

64 Not onely that, but they hanged vp the childrẽ by the neckes throughout al their houses, and slue the circumcizers of thẽ.

65 Yet were there many of the people of Israel, Which determined in thẽ selues that they Woulde not eate vncleane thinges: but chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled With vncleane meates:

66 So because they Would not breake the blessed lawe of God, they Were cruelly slaine.

67 And this great tiranny encreased very sore vpon the people of Israel.

The .ii. Chapter.

1 The mourning of Mathathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie. 19 They refuse to do sacrifice vnto idols. 24 The zeale of Mathathias for the lawe of God. 33 They are slaine and will not fight againe, because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mathathias dying, commaundeth his sonne to sticke by the worde of God, after the example of the fathers.

A 1 IN those dayes there did stand vp one Mathathias the sonne of John, the sonne of Simeon the priest, out of the kinred of Joarib, from Hierusalem, and dwelt vpon the mount of Modin,

2 And had fiue sonnes: John, called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thasi,

4 Judas, otherwyse called Machabeus,

5 Eleazer, otherwyse called Abaron, and Jonathã Whose surname was Apphus.

6 These sawe the euill that was done among the people of Juda and Hierusalem.

lem.
7 And Mathathias sayd: Wo is me, alas that euer I was borne, to see this misB erie of my people, & the piteous destruction of the holy citie, and thus to sit so still, it beyng deliuered into the handes of the enemies.
8 *Her sanctuarie is come into the power of straungers, her temple is as it were a man that hath lost his good name:
9 Her pretious ornamentes are caried away captiue, her olde men are slayne in the streetes, and her young men are fallen thorow the sworde of the enemies.
10 What people is it that hath not some possession in her kingdome: or who hath not gotten some of her spoyles?
11 *All her glorie is taken away, she was a free woman, and nowe she is become an handemayde.
12 Behold our sanctuarie, our beautie and honour is wasted away and defiled by the gentiles.
13 What helpeth it vs then to liue?
C 14 And Mathathias rent his clothes, he and his sonnes, and put sackecloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.
15 Then came the men thyther whiche were sent of king Antiochus, to compell such as were fled into the citie of Modin, for to do sacrifice, & to burne incense vnto idoles, and to forsake the lawe of God.
16 So many of the people of Israel consented and enclined vnto them: but Mathathias and his sonnes remayned stedfast.
17 Then spake the commissioners of king Antiochus, and sayd vnto Mathathias: Thou art a noble man, of hye reputation, and great in this citie, hauing many fayre children and brethren:
18 Come thou therfore first and fulfill the kinges commaundement, like as all the heathen haue done, yea and the men of Juda, and such as remayne at Hierusalem: so shalt thou and thy children be in the kinges fauour, and enriched with golde, siluer, and great rewardes.
19 Mathathias aunswered, & spake with a loude voyce: Though all nations obey the king Antiochus, and fall away euery man from keping the lawe of their fathers, though they consent to his commaundementes:
20 (a) Yet will I and my sonnes and my brethren not fall from the lawes of our fathers.
21 God forbid we shoulde: that were not good for vs* that we shoulde forsake the lawe and ordinaunces of God, and to agree vnto the commaundement of king Antiochus. D Actes.v.b.
22 Therfore we will do no such sacrifice, neither breake the statutes of our lawe, *to go another way. Pro.iiii.c.
23 And when he had spoken these wordes, there came one of the Jewes, whiche openly in the sight of all, did sacrifice vnto the idoles vpon the aulter in the citie of Modin according to the kinges commaundement.
24 When Mathathias sawe this, it greeued (b) hym at the heart, so that his reynes shoke withall, and his wrath kindled for very zeale of the lawe: with that he start vp, and killed the Jewe beside the aulter: (b) It is a griefe to the godly to see the people offend. Exod.23. 3.Reg.19.
25 Yea and slue the kinges commissioner that compelled hym to do sacrifice, & destroyed the aulter at the same time:
26 Such a zeale had he vnto the lawe of God, *like as Phinehes dyd vnto Zambri the sonne of Salomi. Nu.xxv.b.
27 And Mathathias cryed with a loude voyce thorow the citie, saying: Who so is feruent in the lawe, and will kepe the couenaunt, let him folowe me.
28 *So he and his sonnes fled into the mountaynes, and left all that euer they had in the citie. ii.Mach.v.e.
29 Many other godly men also which lyued iustly and vprightly departed into the wildernesse, with their children, their E wiues, and their cattell, and remayned there: for the tiranny increased sore vpon them.
30 Now when the kinges seruauntes, and the hoast whiche was at Hierusalem in the citie of Dauid, hearde that certayne men had broken the kinges commaundement, and were gone their way to the wildernesse into secrete places:
31 Then many pursued after them, and after they had ouertaken them, they camped them selues, and set the battell in aray against them in the Sabbath day, 32 And sayd vnto them: Will ye yet rebell? Get you hence, and do the commaundement of king Antiochus, and ye shall lyue.
33 They aunswered: *We will not go [for] Iosu.v.c. thee, neither will we do the kinges commaundemēt, to defile the Sabbath day.

34 Then began they to fight against them:
35 But the other gaue them none other aunswere, neither cast they one stone at them, nor made fast their priuie places:
36 But sayde, We will dye all in our innocentie, heauen & earth shall testifie with vs that ye put vs to death wrongfully.
F 37 Thus they fought against them vpon the Sabbath, and slue both men & cattayle, their wyues and their children, to the number of a thousande people.
38 When Mathathias and his friendes heard this, they mourned for them right sore, 39 And sayde one to another: If so be that we al do as our brethren haue done, and fight not for our lyues and for our lawes against the heathen, then shall they the sooner roote vs out of the earth.
40 So they concluded among them selues at the same time, saying:
41 Whatsoeuer he be that commeth to make battayle with vs vpon the Sabbath day, we will fight against him, and not dye all as our brethren that were murthered in the wildernesse.
42 Upon this came the assemblie of the Assideans vnto them, whiche were of the strongest men in Israel, and all such as were feruent in the lawe:
43 And al they that were fled for persecution, came to helpe them, and to stand by them:
44 Insomuch that they gathered an hoast of men, and slue the wicked doers in their gelousie, and the vngodly men in their wrath: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.
45 Then Mathathias and his friendes went about, and destroyed the aulters, 46 And circumcised the children that had not yet receaued circumcision, as many as they found within the coastes of Is-
G rael:
47 And followed mightily vpon the proud men: and this acte prospered in their handes,
48 Insomuch that they kept the lawe against the power of the gentiles and the kinges, and gaue not ouer their dominion vnto wicked doers.
49 After this, when the time drewe on fast that Mathathias shoulde dye, he sayde vnto his sonne: Now is pryde and perfecution increased, nowe is the time of destruction & wrathfull displeasure:
50 Wherefore O my sonnes, be ye feruent in the lawe, and ieoparde your liues for the testament of the fathers.
51 Call to remembraunce what actes our fathers dyd in their time, so shall ye receaue great honour and an euerlasting name.
52 *Remember Abraham: Was not he founde faythful in temptation, & it was reckened vnto him for righteousnesse? Iames.ii.d. Rom.iiii.a. Gen.xxii.b. Heb.xi.d.
53 *Joseph in time of his trouble kept the commaundement, & was made a Lorde of Egypt. Ecc.xliii.c Gen.xli.f.
54 *Phinehes our father was so feruent for the honour of God, that he obtayned the couenaunt of an euerlasting priesthood. Nu.xxvii.d Ecclc.xlv.f.
55 *Josuah for fulfilling the word of God, was made the captayne of Israel. Nu.xxvii.c. Iosu.i.a.
56 *Caleb bare recorde before the congregation, and receaued an heritage. Num.xiii.a 67 *Dauid also in his mercifull kindnesse, obtayned the throne of an euerlasting kingdome. 1.Reg.25.c.
58 *Elias being ielous and feruent in the lawe, was taken vp into heauen. 4.Reg.7.c.
59 *Ananias, Azarias, and Misael remayned stedfast in faith, and were deliuered out of the fire. Dan.iii.c.
60 In like maner *Daniel beyng vngiltie, was saued from the mouth of the lions. Dan.vi.e.
61 And thus ye may consider throughout all ages sence the worlde began, *that whosoeuer put their trust in God, were not ouercome. Heb.xi.b.
62 *Feare not ye then the wordes of an vngodly man, * for his glorie is but doung and wormes: Mat x d. Esa.xl.a. and li.c.
63 To day is he set vp, and to mo rowe is he gone: for he is turned into earth, and his memoriall is come to naught. 1.Pet.1.b. Iames.1.b. Eccl.xiiii.b. Psal.xxxvi.
64 Wherefore O my sonnes, take good heartes vnto you, and quyte your selues like men in the lawe: for if ye do the thinges that are commaunded you in the lawe of the Lorde your God, ye shall obtayne great honour therin.
65 And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of wysdome: see that ye geue eare vnto him alway, he shalbe a father vnto you.
66 As for Judas Machabeus, he hath euer ben mightie and strong from his youth vp: let him be your captayne, and order the battayle of the people.

67 Thus

67 Thus shall ye bring vnto you all those that fauour the lawe, and see that ye auenge the wrong of your people, 68 And recompence the heathen againe, & applie your selues wholly tothe commaundement of the lawe.
69 So he gaue them his blessing, and was layed by his fathers:
70 And died in the hundred fourtie and fiue yere at Modin, where his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

The .iii. Chapter.

1 Judas is made ruler ouer the Jewes. 11 He killeth Apollonius and Seron the prince of Syria. 44 The confidence of Judas towarde God. 55 Judas determineth to fight against Lysias, whom Antiochus had made captayne ouer his hoast. 60 The praier of the ableyners.

A 1 Then stoode vp Judas Machabeus in his fathers steade,
2 *And all his brethren helped hym, and so dyd all they that helde with his father, and fought with cherefulnesse for Israel.
3 So Judas gate his people great honour: he put on a brest plate as a giaunt, and arayed him selfe with his harnesse, and defended the hoast with his sword.
4 In his actes he was like a lion, and as a lions whelpe roring at his pray.
5 *He was an enemie to the wicked, and hunted them out, *and brent vp those that vexed his people:
6 So that his enemies fled for feare of hym, and all the workers of vngodlinesse were put to trouble: such lacke and prosperitie was in his hande.
7 This greeued diuers kinges: but Jacob
B was greatly reioyced thorow his actes, and he gate hym selfe a great name for euer.
8 He went thorow the cities of Juda, destroying the vngodly out of them, turning away the wrath from Israel,
9 And releauing such as were oppressed: and the fame of him went vnto the vttermost part of the earth.
10 Then Apollonius [a prince of Syria] gathered a mightie great hoast of the heathen, & out of Samaria, to fight against Israel:
11 Whiche when Judas perceaued, he went forth to meete him, fought with him, slue him, & a great multitude with hym: the remnaunt fled, and he toke their substaunce.
12 Judas also toke Apollonius owne sworde, and fought with it all his lyfe long.
13 Nowe when Seron a prince of the armie of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered vnto hym the congregation and church of the faythfull,
14 He sayde: I will get me a name and a prayse thorowout the realme: for I will go fight with Judas and them that are with hym, as many as haue despised the kinges commaundement. C
15 So he made him redy, and there went with hym a great mightie hoast of the vngodly, to stand by him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.
16 And when they came nye vnto Bethoron, Judas went forth against them with a small companie.
17 And when his people sawe such a great hoast before them, they sayde vnto Judas: Howe are we able, beyng so few, to fight against so great a multitude and so strong, seyng we be so weery, and haue fasted all this day?
18 *But Judas sayde, It is a small matter for many to be ouercome with fewe: yea there is no difference to the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small companie: i.Re. xiii.a.
19 *For the victorie of the battell standeth not in the multitude of the hoast, but the strength commeth from heauen. 2.Para.xx.b.
20 Beholde, they come against vs with a cruell and proude multitude, to destroy vs, our wyues, and our children, and to robbe vs:
21 But we will fight for our lyues, and for our lawes, D
22 And the Lorde hym selfe shall destroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afrayde of them.
23 Assoone as he had spoken these wordes, he leapt sodenly vpon them: Thus was Seron smitten, & his hoast put to flight, 24 And Judas folowed vpon them beyonde Bethoron, vnto the playne fielde, where there were slaine eyght hundreth men of them, and the residue fledde into the lande of the Philistines.

25 Then all the heathen on euery side were afrayde of Judas & his brethren:

26 So that the rumour of him came vnto the kinges eares, for all the gentiles coulde tell of the warres of Judas.

27 So when king Antiochus heard these tidinges, he was angry in his mynde: wherfore he sent foorth, and gathered an hoast of his whole realme, very strong armies:

E 28 And opened his treasurie, and gaue his hoast a yeres wages in hande, commaunding them to be redy at all times.

29 Neuertheless, when he saw that there was not money enough in his treasuries, and that thorow the discorde and persecution which he made in the lande to put downe the lawes that had ben of olde times, his customes and tributes of the lande were minished:

30 He feared that he was not able for to beare the coastes and charges any lenger, nor to haue such giftes to geue so liberally as he dyd afore, more then the kinges that were before him.

31 Wherfore he was heauy in his minde, and thought* to go into Persides for to take tributes of the lande, and so to gather much money. i.Mach.vi.a.

32 So he left Lysias a noble man of the kinges blood to oversee the kinges businesse, from the Water Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to kepe well his sonne Antiochus, till he came againe.

34 Moreouer, he gaue hym halfe of his hoast, and Elephantes, and committed vnto him euery thing, and gaue him the charge of all thinges that he woulde haue done, concerning those whiche dwelt in Juda and Hierusalem:

53 That he shoulde sende out an armie against them, to destroy and to roote out the power of Israel and the remnaunt of Hierusalem, to put out their memoriall from that place,

F 36 To set straungers for to inhabite all their quarters, and to part their land among them.

Iosep.cap.x lib.antiq. 37 *Thus the king toke the other part of the hoast, and departed from Antioche a cite of his realme, ouer the Water Euphrates, in the hundreth & fourtie and seuen yere, and went thorowe the hye countreys.

38 *And Lysias chose vnto hym Ptolomi the sonne of Dorymmus, Nicanor and Gorgias, mightie men, and the kinges friendes. i.Mac. viii.d

39 These he sent with fourtie thousande footemen, and seuen thousande horsemen, for to go into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, as the king commaunded.

40 So they went foorth with all their power, and came to Emmaus into the playne fielde.

41 When the marchauntes of the countrey hearde the rumour of them, they & their seruauntes toke very much siluer & gold for to bye the children of Israel to be their bondemen: There came vnto them also yet mo men of warre on euery syde, out of Syria, and from the Palestines.

42 Now when Judas and his brethren saw that trouble increased, and that the hoast drew nye vnto their borders, considering the kinges wordes whiche he commaunded vnto the people [namely] that they shoulde vtterly waste and destroy them:

43 They sayde one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, let vs fight for our folke & for our sanctuarie.

44 Then the congregation were soone redy gathered to fight, to pray and to make supplication vnto God for mercie and grace. G

45 *As for Hierusalem, it lay voyde, & was as it had ben a wildernesse: there went no man in nor out at it, and the sanctuarie was troden downe, the aliauntes kept the castle, there was the habitation of the heathen, the mirth of Jacob was taken away, the pype and the harpe was gone from among them. i.Mach.i.d.

46 The Israelites gathered them together, & came to Maspha before Hierusalem: for in Maspha was the place *where they prayed aforetime in Israel. i.Reg.vii.b.

47 So they fasted that day, and put sackeclothes vpon them, cast asshes vpon their heades, rent their clothes,

48 And layde foorth the bookes of the lawe, wherout the heathen sought to paynt the lykenesse of their images:

49 And brought the priestes ornamentes, the firstlinges, and the tithes: they set there also the* Nazarites, which had accomplished their vowes before God: Nume.vi.b.

50 And

50 And cryed with a loude voyce toward heauen, saying: What shall we do with these: and whyther shall we cary them away:
51 For thy sanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, the priestes are come to heauinesse and dishonour, 52 And beholde, the heathen are come together for to destroy vs: Thou knowest what thinges they imagine against vs.
53 Howe may we stande before them, except thou (O God) be our helpe:
54 Then they blewe out the trumpet also with a loude voyce.
Exo.18.d. 55 Then Judas ordeyned *captaynes ouer the people, ouer thousandes, ouer hundredes, ouer fiftie, and ouer ten.
56 But as for such as builded them houses, maried wyues, planted them vineyardes, and those that were fearfull, he commaunded them euery man to go home againe, according *to the lawe.
Deut.xx.a. Iud. vii.a. 57 So the hoast remoued, and pitched vpon the south side of Emmaus.
58 And Judas sayd: Arme your selues, be strong O my children, make you redy against to morowe in the morning, that ye may fight with these people, whiche are agreed together to destroy vs and our sanctuarie.
59 Better is it for vs to dye in battayle, then to see our people and our sanctuarie in such a miserable case.
60 *Neuertheles, as thy will is O God in heauen, so be it.
Math. vi. b Luk.xi.a.

The. iiii. Chapter.

1 Judas goeth against Gorgias, which lyeth in wayte. 14 He putteth Gorgias & his hoast to flight. 28 Lysias inuadeth Jurie. 29 But Judas dryueth him out. 43 Judas purifieth the temple, and dedicateth the aulter.

Then toke Gorgias fiue thousand *mē of foote, and a thousand of the best horsmen, and remoued out of the campe by night, Ioseph.xii. cap.x.
2 To come nye where the Jewes hoast lay, & so to slay them sodenly: (Nowe the men that kept the castle, were the conueyers of them.)
3 Nowe when Judas heard this, he remoued, and al the strong men that were with hym, to smyte the chiefe and principall of the kinges hoast at Emmaus:
4 For the army was not yet come together.
5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night into Judas tentes, and when he founde no man there, he sought them in the mountaynes, and thought they had ben fled away because of him.
6 But when it was day, Judas shewed hym selfe in the fielde with three thousande men only, which had neither harnesse, nor swordes to their mindes.
7 But on the other side, they saw that the
B heathen were mightie and well harnessed, and their horsemen about them, and all these well expert in feates of warre.
8 Then sayde Judas to the men that were with him: Feare not ye the multitude of them, be not afrayde of their violent running.
9 Remember howe our fathers were deliuered *in the red sea, when Pharao followed vpon them with a great hoast.
Exo.xiiii f.
10 Euen so let vs also crye nowe toward heauen, and the Lord shall haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenaunt of our fathers, yea & destroy this hoast before our face this day:
11 And all the heathen shall knowe, that it is God him selfe which deliuereth and saueth Israel.
12 Then the heathen lift vp their eyes, and when they sawe that they were comming against them, 13 They went out of their tentes into the battayle, and they that were with Judas blewe vp the trumpettes.
14 *So they buckled together, and the heathen were discomfited, and fled ouer the playne fielde:
ii.Ma vii.d.
15 But the hinmost of them were slayne with the swoord: For they followed them vnto "Azaremoth, and into the fieldes of Idumea toward Azot and Jamnia: so that there were slayne of them vpon a three thousande men.
" Or, Gazeron.
C
16 So Judas turned againe with his hoast,

17 And sayd vnto the people, Be not greedy of the spoyles, We haue yet a battayle to fight:
18 For Gorgias and his hoast are here by vs in the mountaynes, but stand ye fast against our enemies, & ouercome them, then may ye safely take the spoyles.
19 As Judas was speaking these wordes, behold, there appeared one part of them vpon the mount.
20 But when Gorgias sawe that they of his partie were fled, and the tentes brent vp (for by the smoke they might vnderstande what was done) they perceauing this, were very sore afrayde:
℣ 21 And when they sawe also that Judas and his hoast were in the fielde redy to stryke battayle, 22 They fled euery one into the lande of the heathen.
23 So Judas turned againe to spoyle the tentes, where they gat much golde and siluer, precious stones, purple, and great riches.
24 Thus they went home, and song a Psalme of thankesgeuing, and prayed God in heauen, *For he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.
Psa.cvii.a. Psa.xviii.a
25 And so Israel had a great victorie in that day.
26 Now all the heathen that escaped, came and tolde Lysias euery thing that had happened:
27 Wherfore Lysias was sore afrayde and greeued in his minde, because Israel had not gotten such misfortune as he woulde they should, neither as the king commaunded.
℣ 28 The next yere following, gathered Lysias three score thousande chosen men of foote, and fyue thousande horsemen, to fight against Hierusalem.
29 So they came into Jurie, and pitched their tentes at Bethoron: where Judas came against them with ten thousande men.
30 And when he sawe so great and mightie an hoast, he made his prayer, & sayde: Blessed be thou ℣ sauiour of Israel, *which diddest destroy ỹ violent power of the giaunt in the hande of thy seruaunt Dauid, *& gauest the hoast of the heathen into the hand of Jonathan the sonne of Saul, & of his harnesse bearer:
i.Re.xvii.a. i.Re.xiiii.b.
31 Put this hoast now into the hand of thy people of Israel, & let them be confounded in their multitude and horsemen.
32 Make them afrayde, and discomfite the boldnesse of their strength, that they may be moued thorowe their destruction.
33 Cast them downe thorowe the sworde of thy louers, then shall all they that knowe thy name, prayse thee with thankesgeuing.
34 So they stroke the battell, and there were slayne of Lysias hoast fiue thousande men.
35 Then Lysias seyng the discomfyting of his men, and the manlinesse of the Jewes, howe they were redy either to lyue or to dye lyke men: he went vnto Antioch, and chose out men of warre, that when they were gathered together, they might come againe into Jurie.
36 Then sayde Judas and his brethren: Behold, our enemies are discomfited, let vs nowe go vp to clense and to repayre the sanctuarie. ℰ
37 *Upon this, al the hoast gathered them together, and went vp into mount Sion. ii.Mach.x.a
38 Nowe when they sawe the sanctuarie layed wast, the auiter defiled, the doores brent vp, the shrubbes growing in the courtes, like as in a wood or vpon mountaynes, yea and that the priestes chambers were broken downe:
39 They rent their clothes, & made great lamentation, cast asshes vpon their heades, 40 Fell downe flat to the grounde vpon their faces, made a great noyse with the trumpettes, and cryed toward heauen.
41 Then Judas appoynted certayne men to fight against those which were in the castle, till they had clensed the sanctuarie.
42 So he chose priestes that were vndefiled, such as had pleasure in the lawe of God:
43 And they clensed the sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place.
44 And forsomuch as the auiter of burnt offeringes was vnhalowed, he toke aduisement what he might do ℱ withall:
45 So he thought it was best to destroy it, lest it shoulde happen to do them any shame, for the heathen had defiled it: and therfore they brake it downe.
46 As for the stones, they layed them vp vpon the mountayne by the house in a conconuenient place, till there came a prophete to shewe what shoulde be done with them.

Exo.xx.d. De.xxvii.a. Iosue.viii.g. 47 *So they toke whole stones, according to the lawe, and buylded a newe aulter, such one as was before,

48 And made vp the sanctuarie within and without, & halowed the house and the courtes:

49 They made newe holy ornamentes, & brought the candlesticke, the aulter of incense, and the table into the temple.

50 The incense layed they vpon the aulter, & lighted the lampes whiche were vpon the candelsticke, that they might burne in the temple:

51 They set the shew bread vpon the table, and hanged vp the vayle, and finished all the workes which they had begun to make,

52 *And vpon the twentie and fifth day of the nynth moneth (whiche is called the moneth of" Casleu) in the hundred fourtie and eyght yere:

1.Mach.x.a

Nouemb

53 They rose vp betimes in the morning, for to do sacrifice according to the lawe vpon the newe burnt offring aulter that they had made.

54 After the time and season that the heathen had defiled it, the same day was it set vp againe, with songues, pypes, harpes, and cymbales, 55 And all the people fel vpon their faces, worshipping and thanking the God of heauen, whiche had geuen them the victorie.

56 *So they kept the dedication of the aulter eyght dayes, offring burnt sacrifices and thanke offeringes with gladnesse: ii.Par. vii.b.

57 They deckt the forefrunt of the temple also with crownes and shieldes of gold, and halowed the portes and celles, and hanged doores vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, because the blasphemie of the heathen was put away.

59 So Judas and his brethren, with the whole congregation of Israel, ordeyned *that the time of the dedication of the aulter shoulde be kept in his season from yere to yere, by the space of eyght dayes, from the twentie and fifth day of the moneth" Casleu with myrth and gladnesse. Ioh.x.c. Nouember.

60 And at the same time buylded they vp the mount Sion, with hye walles and strong towres round about, lest the gentiles shoulde come and treade it downe, as they did afore.

61 Therfore Judas set men of warre in it to kepe it, and made it strong for to defend *Bethsura, that the people might haue a refuge against the Edomites. 1.Mac.6.b.f.

The .v. Chapter.

3 Judas banquisheth the heathen that go about to destroy Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Jonathas. 50 He ouerthroweth the citie of Ephron, because they denied him passage thorowe it.

A 1 IT happened also, that when the heathen rounde about hearde howe that the aulter *& the sanctuarie were set vp in their old estate, it displeased them very sore, Ios. cap xii. lib. xiii.

2 wherfore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was among them: in so much that they began to slay and to persecute certayne of the people.

Eze.xxv.b. and xxxv.a 1.Mach.c. 3 *Then Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Arabathane: for they dwelt rounde about the Israelites, where he slue and spoyled a great multitude of them.

4 He thought also vpon the malice and vnfaythfulnesse of the children of Bean, how they were a snare and stoppe vnto the people, and howe they layed wayte for them in the hye way:

5 wherfore he shut them vp into towres, and came vnto them, besieged them, and destroyed them vtterly, & brent vp their towres, with all that were in them.

6 Afterward went he against the children of Ammon, whereof he founde a mighty power and a great multitude of people, with Timothi their captayne.

7 So he stroke many battayles with them, which were destroyed before hym. B

8 And when he had slayne them, he wan Gazer the citie, with the townes belonging therto, and so turned againe into Jurie.

9 The heathen also in Galaad, gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castle of Dathemam,

10 And sent letters vnto Judas and his brethren, saying: The heathen that are about vs are gathered against vs on euery side, to destroy vs.

11 And nowe they make them redy for to come and lay siege to the castel wherevnto we are fled, and Timothi is captayne of their hoast:

12 Come therefore and deliuer vs out of their handes, for there is a great multitude of vs slayne alredy.

13 Yea and our brethren that were at Tubin, are slayne and destroyed wellnye a thousande men and their wyues, their children and their goodes haue the enemies led away captiue.

€ 14 Whyle these letters were yet a reading, beholde there came other messengers from Galilee with rent clothes, whiche tolde euen the same tidinges, 15 And sayde, that they of Ptolomais, of Tyrus, and of Sidon were gathered against them, and that all Galilee was filled with enemies to destroy Israel.

1. Mach. 8. c. 16 *When Judas and the people hearde this, they came together a great congregation, to deuise what they might do for their brethren that were in trouble and besieged of their enemies.

17 And Judas sayd vnto Simon his brother: Choose thee out certayne men, & go deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: As for me & my brother Jonathas, We will go into Galaaditim.

18 So he left Josephus the sonne of Zachart, and Azarias, to be captaynes of the people, to kepe the remnaunt of the hoast in Jewry, 19 And commaunded them, saying: Take the ouersight of this people, and see that ye make no warre against the heathen, vntill the time that We come againe.

20 And vnto Simon he gaue three thousand men for to go into Galilee: but Judas him selfe had eyght thousand in Galaaditim.

D 21 Then went Simon into Galilee, and stroke diuers battayles with the heathen, whom he discomfited, 22 And followed vpon them into the port of Ptolomais: and there were slayne of the heathen almost three thousande men.

23 So he toke the spoyles of them, and caried away the Israelites that were in Galilee and Arbatis, with their wyues, their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Jewry with great gladnesse.

24 Judas Machabeus also and his brother Jonathas went ouer Jordane, and trauayled three dayes iourney in the wildernesse:

25 where the Nabathees met them, and receaued them louingly, and tolde them euery thing that had happened vnto their brethren in Galaaditim:

26 And howe that many of them were besieged in Barasa, Bosor, Alimis, Casbon, Mageth, and Carnaim (all these are strong walled and mightie great cities,)

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaaditim also, and to morowe they are appoynted to bring their hoast vnto these cities, to take them, and to destroy them in one day.

28 So Judas and his hoast turned in all € the haste in the wildernesse toward Bosor, and wan the citie, slue all the males with the swoorde, toke all their goodes, and set fire vpon the citie:

29 And in the night they toke their iourney from thence, and came to the castell,

30 And betimes in the morning when they loked vp, beholde there was an innumerable people bearing ladders and other instrumentes of warre, to take the castell, and to ouercome them.

31 When Judas sawe that the battayl began, and that the noyse therof went vp and rang into the heauen, and that there was so a great crye in the citie,

32 He sayd vnto his hoast, Fight this day for your brethren:

33 And so came behinde their enemies in three companies, and blewe vp the trumpettes, and cryed in their prayer to God:

34 But so soone as Timotheus hoast perceaued that Machabeus was there, they fled from hym: and he slue them downe right sore, so that there were killed of them the same day almost eyght thousande men.

35 Then departed Judas vnto Malpha, F layed siege vnto it, and wan it, slue al the males in it, spoyled it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went he and toke Casbon, Mageth, Bosor, and the other cities in Galaaditim.

37 After

37 * After this, gathered Timothi another hoast, which pitched their tentes before Raphon beyond the water.

38 Judas also sent to spye the hoast, and they brought him worde againe, saying: All the heathen that be rounde about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoast is very great:

39 Yea, they haue hired the Arabians to helpe them, & haue pitched their tentes beyond the water, and are redie to come and fight against thee. So Judas went on to meete them.

40 And Timothi saide vnto the captaines of his hoast: Whē Judas and his hoast come nye the ryuer, if he go ouer first, we shall not be able to withstand him: for why? he wyll be to strong for vs.

41 But if he dare not come ouer, so that he pitch his tent beyond the water: then wyll we go ouer, for we shalbe strong inough against him.

42 Now assoone as Judas came to the riuer, he appoynted certaine scribes of the people by the riuer, and cōmaunded them, saying: See that ye leaue none behinde vpon this side of the riuer, but let euery man come to the battaile.

43 So he went first ouer vnto them, & all his people after him, and al the heathen were discomfited before him, & let their weapons fall, and ranne into the temple that was at Carnaim, 44 which citie Judas wanne, and brent the temple, with all that were in it: So was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Judas.

45 Then Judas gathered all the Israelites that were in Galaaditim, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their children, a very great hoast, for to come into the lande of Israel.

46 * So they came vnto Ephron, which was a mightie great and strong citie, and laye in their way: for they coulde not go by it, neither on the right hande nor on the left, but must go through it.

47 Neuertheless, they that were in the citie, woulde not let them go through, but walled vp the portes with stones: And Judas sent vnto them with peaceable wordes, saying:

48 Let vs passe through your lande, that we may go into our owne countrey, there shall no body do you harme, we wyl but onely go through on foote. But they would not let them in.

49 Wherfore Judas commaunded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoast, that euery man should assault the citie in his order.

50 And so they did their best, lyke valiaunt men: and Judas besieged the citie all that day, and all that night, and so wanne it, 51 where they slue as many as were males, and destroyed the citie, and spoyled it, and went through al the citie ouer them that were slaine.

52 Then went they ouer Jordane into the playne fielde before Bethsam.

53 And Judas helped those forward that came behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation al the way through, til they were come into the lande of Juda.

54 Thus they went vp vnto the mount Sion, where they offered burnt offeringes with mirth* and thankesgeuing, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe peaceably. ii.Par.xx.a. G

55 Now what time as Judas and Jonathas were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galilee before Ptolomais:

56 Then Josephus the sonne of Zachari and Azarias the captaynes, hearing of the actes that were done, and of the battailes that were striken, saide:

57 Let vs get vs a name also, and go fight against the heathen that are rounde about vs.

58 So they gaue their hoast a commaundement, and went toward Jamnia.

59 Then came Gorgias and his men out of the citie, to fight against them:

60 Josephus also and Azarias were chased vnto the borders of Jewry, and ther were slaine that day of the people of Israel two thousand men: so that there was a great miserie among the people of Israel, i.Mac.v.b.

61 * And all because they were not obedient vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought they shoulde quite them selues manfully.

62 Neuertheless, they came not of the seede of these men by whom Israel was helped.

63 But the men that were with Judas were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and all the heathen, where-soeuer their name was heard vpon.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 After

65 After this, went Judas foorth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the lande that lyeth toward the south, where he wan the citie of Hebron and the townes that lye beside it: and as for the walles and towers rounde about it, he brent them vp.

66 Then remoued he to go into the lande of the Philistines, and went through Samaria.

67 At the same time were there [many] priestes slaine in the battaile, which wilfully and without aduisement went out for to fight to get them honour.

68 And when Judas came to Azot in the Philistines lande, he brake downe their aulters, brent the images of their idols, spoyled the cities, and came againe into the lande of Juda. Deu.vii.a.

The. vj. Chapter.

1 Antiochus willing to take the citie of Elymas for a pray, is driuen away of the citezins. 8 He falleth into sickenesse and dyeth. 17 His sonne Antiochus is made king. 34 The besieging of the towre of Sion. Eupator commeth into Jewry with a great armie. 43 The boldenesse of Eleazar.

A 1 NOw when king Antiochus trauailed thorough ỹ hie countries, he heard that Elymas in Persia was a noble and plenteous citie in siluer and golde,

2 And that there was in it a very rich temple, where as were clothes, coate armours, and shieldes of golde, which Alexander the sonne of Philip king of Macedonia that raigned first in Grecia had left behinde him.

3 Wherefore he went about to take the citie & to spoyle it, but he was not able: for the citezins were warned of it, and fought with him:

4 And so he fled, and departed with great heauinesse, and came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tidinges in Persia, * that his hoastes which were in the lande of Juda were driuen away, i.Mac.iii.e.

6 And how that Lysias went foorth first with a great power, and was dryuen away of the Jewes, how that they had wonne the victory, and gotten great goodes out of the hoastes that perished,

B 7 How they had broken downe the abhomination * which he set vp vpon the aulter at Hierusalem, & fenced the sanctuary with hie walles, lyke as it was afore, yea and Bethsura his citie also. i.Mac.i.f.

8 So it chaunced, that when the king heard these wordes, he was afrayde, & greeued very sore: wherefore he layde him downe vpon his bed, and fell sicke for very sorowe, and all because it had not happened as he had deuised.

9 And there continued he long: for his griefe was euer more and more, so that he sawe he must needes dye.

10 Therfore he sent for all his friendes, & saide vnto them: The sleepe is gone fro myne eyes for the very sorowe and vexation of heart that I haue.

11 For when I consider in my minde the great aduersitie that I am come vnto, and the fluddes of heauines which I am come in, where as afore time I was so merie, and so greatlie set by by reason of my power:

12 Againe, considering the euill that I haue done at Hierusalem, from whence I toke all the riches of golde and siluer that were in it, and sent to destroye the inhabitours of Jurie without any reason why:

13 I know that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause: and behold, I must dye with great sorowe in a straunge lande.

14 Then called he for one Phillip, a frend of his, whom he made ruler of all his realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, his robe, and his ring, that he shoulde take his sonne Antiochus vnto him, & bring him vp, till he might raigne him selfe.

16 * So the king Antiochus died there, in the hundred fourtie and nine yere. ii.Mac.ix.a. Iosep.cap. xiii.lib.xii.

17 When Lysias knew that the king was dead, he ordained Antiochus his sonne, whom he had brought vp, to raigne in his fathers steede, and called him Eupator.

18 Nowe they that were in the castle [at Hierusalem] kept in the Jewes rounde about the sanctuary, and sought euer still still to do them harme, for the strengthening of the Heathen.

D 19 Wherefore Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together, that they might lay siege vnto them.

20 So they came together in the hundred and fiftie yere, and besieged them, laying foorth their ordinaunce & instrumentes of warre.

21 Then certaine of them that were besieged, went foorth: vnto whom some vngodly men of Israel ioyned them selues also,

22 And went vnto the king, saying: how long wyll it be or thou punishe, and auenge our brethren:

23 We haue euer ben minded to do thy father seruice, to walke in his statutes, and to obey his commaundementes, 24 Therfore our people fell from vs: and whereseuer they founde any of vs, they slue them, and spoyled our enheritaunce.

25 And they haue not onely medled with

E vs, but with all our countries.

26 And beholde, this day are they besieging the castle at Hierusalem to take it, *and haue made vp the strong holde in Bethsura:

1. Macca. 27 And if thou doest not preuent them right soone, they wil do more then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

1. Macca. 28 *When the king heard this, he was very angry, and called all his friendes, the captaines of his armie, and [all his footemen and] horsemen:

29 He hired men of warre also, of other realmes pertayning to the kinges that were confederate with him, and of the Iles of the sea, which came vnto him.

30 And the number of his hoast was an hundred thousand footemen, and twentie thousand horsemen, and thirtie & two Elephantes well exercised to battaile.

1. Macca. 31 *These came through Idumea vnto Bethsura, and besieged it a long season, & made diuers instrumentes of warre against it: but the Iewes came out and brent them with fire, & fought like men.

32 Then departed Judas from the castle

F [at Hierusalem] and remoued the hoast toward Bethzacaran, ouer against the kinges armie.

33 So the king arose before the day, and brought the power of his hoast into the way to Bethzacarã: where the hoastes made them redie to the battaile, blowing the trumpettes.

34 And to prouoke the Elephantes for to fight, they shewed them the sappe of red grapes, and mulberies,

35 And deuided the Elephantes among the hoast: so that by euery Elephant there stoode a thousand men well harnessed, & helmettes of steele vpon their heades: yea, vnto euery one of the Elephantes also were ordained fiue hundred horsemen of the best,

36 Which wayted on the Elephant, going whereseuer he went, and departed not from him.

37 Euery Elephant was couered with a strong towre of wood, fastened thereon with instrumentes, whereupon were thirtie, and two valiaunt men with weapons to fight, and within was a man of Inde, to rule the beaste.

38 As for the remnaunt of the horsemen, he set them vpon both the sides in two partes with trumpettes, to prouoke the hoast, & to stirre vp such as were slowe in the armie.

39 And when the sunne shone vpon their shieldes of golde and steele, the mountaines glistered againe at them, & were as bright as the tressets of fire.

40 The kinges hoast also was deuided, one parte vpon the hie mountaines, the other low beneath: so they went on, taking good heede, and keping their order. G

41 And all they that dwelt in the lande, were afrayd at the noyse of their hoast when the multitude went foorth, and when the weapons smote together: for the hoast was both great and mightie.

42 Judas also and his hoast entred into the battaile, and slue fiue hundred men of the kinges armie.

43 Now when Eleazar the sonne of *Saura did see one of the Elephantes deckt with the kinges badge, and was a more goodly beast then the other, he thought the king should be vpon him:

* Or, Abaron.

44 And ieoparded him selfe to deliuer his people, & to get him a perpetual name.

45 Wherfore he ranne with a courage vnto the Elephant in the middest of the hoast, smiting them downe on both the sides, and slue many about him.

46 So went he to the Elephantes feete, and gat him vnder him, (a) and slue him: then fel the Elephant downe vpon him,

(a) This example is not to be followed, because it is contrary to the comaundement.

and

and there he dyed.

47 Judas also and his men, seeing the power of the king and the mightie violence of his hoast, departed from them.

48 And the kinges armie went vp against them toward Hierusalem, and pitched their tentes in Jurie beside mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, the king toke truice with them that were in* Bethsura: but whē they came out of the citie (because they had no vitayles, but were shut vp within, and the lande lay vntilled) i.Mac.iiii.g.

50 The king toke Bethsura, and set men to keepe it, and turned his hoast to the place of the sanctuary, 51 And layed siege to it a great while, where he made all maner ordinaunce, handbowes, firie dartes, racketts to cast stones, scorpions to shoote arrowes, and slinges.

52 The Jewes also made ordinaunce against theirs, and fought a long season.

53 But in the citie there were no vittailes, for it was the seuenth yere of ỹ warres: and those heathen that remayned in Jurie, had eaten vp all their store.

54 And in the sanctuary were fewe men left: for the hunger came so vpon them, that they were scattred abrode euery man to his owne place.

55 So when Lysias heard that Philip *(whom Antiochus the king while he was yet liuing, had ordained to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might be king) ii.Mac.vi.b.

56 Was come againe out of Persia & Medea with the kinges hoast, and thought to obtaine the kingdome with the gouernaunce of all thinges:

57 He gate him to the king in al the haste, and to the captaynes of the hoast, and saide, We decrease dayly, and our vittailes are but small: Againe, the place that we laye siege vnto is very strong, & it were our part to see for the realme:

58 Let vs agree with these men, and take truice with them, and with al their people, 59 And graunt them to lyue after their lawe, as they did afore: for they be greeued, and do all these thinges against vs, because we haue" despised their lawe.

" Or, broken.

60 So the king and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace: and they receaued it.

61 Now when the king and the princes had made an oth vnto them, they came out of the castle,

62 And the king went vp to mount Sion: but when he saw that the place was well fenced, he brake the oth that he had made, and commaunded to destroy the wall rounde about.

63 Then departed he in all the haste, and returned vnto Antioch, where he found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: So he fought against him, and toke the citie againe into his handes.

The. vij. Chapter.

1 Demetrius raigned after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias. 5 He troubleth the children of Israel through the counsel of certaine wicked persons. 37 The prayer of the priestes against Nicanor. 41 Judas killeth Nicanor, after he hath made his prayer.

A 1 IN the hundred fiftie and one yere, came Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus from the citie of Rome with a smal company of men, vnto a citie of the sea coast, and there he bare rule.

2 And when he came to Antioch the citie of his progenitours, his hoast toke Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them vnto him.

3 But when it was tolde him, he saide: let me not see their faces.

4 So the hoast put them to death. Now whē Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome,

5 There came vnto him wicked and vngodlie men of Israel, whose captayne was Alcimus, that would haue ben made hie priest:

6 These men accused the people of Israel vnto the king, saying: Judas and his brethren haue slaine thy frendes, and driuen vs out of our owne lande.

7 Wherfore, send now some man, to whō thou geuest credence, that he may go and see al the destruction which he hath done vnto vs and to the kinges lande, and let him be punished, with all his frendes and fauourers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of of his, which was a man of great power in the realme beyond the water, and faithful vnto the king, and sent him

[to see the destruction that Judas had done.]
9 And as for that wicked Alcimus, he made him hie priest, and commaunded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.
10 So they departed [from the king] and came with a great hoast into the lande of Juda, sending messengers to Judas and his brethren, & speaking vnto them with peaceable wordes, but vnder disceite.
1.Mac.b. 11 *Therefore Judas and his people be-leued not their saying: for they saw that they were come with a great hoast.
12 After this, came the scribes together vnto Alcimus & Bacchides, to entreate of reasonable couenauntes:
13 And the Assideans were the first a℄ mong the children of Israel that required peace of them,
14 Saying: Alcimus the priest is come of the seede of Aaron, how can he deceaue vs though he come with an armie:
15 So he gaue them louing wordes, and swore vnto them, & saide: We wyl do you no harme, neither your friendes.
16 And they beleued him: but the very same day toke he threescore men of them, and slue them, according to the wordes that are written,
Psal.xxx.a 17 * They haue cast the flesche of thy sainctes and shed their blood rounde about Hierusalem, & there was no man that would burie them.
18 So there came a great feare and dreade among al ỹ people, saying: There is neither trueth nor righteousnesse in them:
for they haue broken the appoyntment and oth that they made.
19 And Bacchides remoued his hoast frō Hierusalem, & pitched his tent at Bethzetha, where he sent foorth, & toke many of them that had forsaken him: He slue many of the people also, and cast them into a great pit.
℗ 20 Then committed he the lande vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: and Bacchides him selfe went vnto the king.
21 And thus Alcimus defended his hye priesthood.
22 And all such as vexed Israel, resorted vnto him: insomuch that they obtayned the lande of Juda, and did much euill vnto the Israelites.
23 Nowe When Judas sawe all the mis-chiefe that Alcimus and his company had done (yea more then the heathen them selues) vnto the Israelites:
24 He went foorth rounde about all the borders of Jurie, and punished those vnfaithfull runnagates, so that they came no more out into the countrie.
25 So When Alcimus sawe that Judas
& his people had gotten the vpper hand, and that he was not able to abide them:
he went againe to the king, and saide all the worst of them that he coulde.
26 Then the king sent Nicanor, one of his chiefe princes, which bare cuil wil vnto ℰ Israel, and commaunded him that he should vtterly destroy the people. ii.Mac.xv.a 27* So Nicanor came to Hierusalem With a great hoast, and sent vnto Judas and his brethren With friendly wordes: but vnder disceyte, saying:
28 There shall be no warre betwixt me and you, I wyll come With a fewe men to see how ye do With frendship.
29 Upon this he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were appoynted to take Judas by violence.
30 Neuertheless, it was tolde Judas that he came vnto him but vnder disceyte:
Wherfore he gate him away from him, and would see his face no more.
31 When Nicanor perceaued that his counsel was bewrayed, he went out to fight against Judas, beside "Capharsa- "Or, Car-lama: phalalama.
32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors hoast fiue thousand men, and the residue fled vnto the castle of Dauid.
33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and the priestes With the elders of the people went foorth to salute ℱ him peaceably, & to shewe him the burnt sacrifices that were offered for the king.
34 But he laughed them and the people to scorne, mocked them, defiled their offeringes, and spake disdainefully:
35 Yea, and swore in his wrath, saying:
*If Judas and his hoast be not delue- ii.Mac.14.c.
red nowe into my handes, assoone as euer I come againe and fare well, I shall burne vp this house. With that went he out in a great anger.
36 Then the priestes came in, and stoode before the aulter of the temple, weeping, and saying:

37 For

37 Forsomuch as thou O Lorde hast chosen this house, that thy name might be called vpon therin, and that it should be an house of prayer and petition for thy people:

Esa.lvi b.

38 Be auenged of this man and his hoast, and let them be slaine with the sword: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer not them to continue any longer.

39 When Nicanor was gone from Hierusalem, he pitched his tent at Bethoron, and there an hoast met him out of Syria.

40 And Judas came to Adarsa with three thousand men, and made his prayer vnto God, saying:

41 O Lorde, *because the messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, the angell went foorth and slue an hundred fourscore and fiue thousand of them:

Esai.37.f.

42 Euen so, destroy thou this hoast before vs to day, that other people may knowe howe that he hath blasphemed thy sanctuary, and punishe him according to his maliciousnes.

43 And so the hoastes stroke the fielde the thirteenth day of the moneth "Adar: and Nicanors hoast was discomfited, Februart.

*and he him selfe was first slaine in the battaile.

1.Mac xv.d

44 When Nicanors men of warre sawe that he was killed, they cast away their weapons and fled:

45 But the Jewes folowed vpon them a whole dayes iourney, from Adazer vnto Gazara, blowing with the trumpettes, and making tokens after them.

46 So the Jewes came foorth of all the townes rounde about, & blew out their hornes vpon them, and turned against them: Thus were they all slaine, and not one of them left.

47 Then they toke their substaunce for a pray, and smote of Nicanors head, and his right hande * Which he helde vp so proudely, and brought it with them, and hanged it vp afore Hierusalem.

ii.Ma.xiiii.c

48 Wherefore the people were exceedingly reioyced, and passed ouer that day in great gladnes.

49 And Judas ordayned that the same day [namely] the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, shoulde be kept in mirth euery yere.

50 Thus the lande of Juda was in rest a litle while.

The. viij. Chapter.

2 Judas considering the power and godly pollicie of the Romaines, maketh peace with them. 22 The rescript of the Romaines sent vnto the Jewes.

1 Udas heard also the fame of the Romaines, that they were mightie and valiaunt men, and agreeable to all thinges that are required of them, and make peace with all men which come vnto them,

2 And how they were doughtie men of strength: besides that, it was tolde him of their battailes and noble actes which they did in Galatia, how they had conquered them, and brought them vnder tribute,

"Or, Frechmen.

3 And what great thinges they had done in Spayne: how that with their wysdome and sober behauour they had wonne the mines of siluer and gold that are there,

4 And obtayned al the land, with other places farre from them: how they had discomfited & slaine downe the kinges that came vpon them from the vttermost parte of the earth, and how other people gaue them tribute euery yere:

5 How they had slaine and ouercome Philip and Perses kinges of "Cethim, and other mo in battaile, which had brought their ordinaunce against them:

"Or, the Macedonians.

6 How they discomfited great Antiochus king of Asia, that woulde needes fight with them, hauing an hundred and twentie Elephantes, with horsemen, charets, and a very great hoast:

7 How they toke him selfe aliue, and ordained him, with such as shoulde raigne after him, to pay them a great tribute, yea and to finde them good sureties and pledge besides all this:

8 How they had taken from him India, Media, and Lydia, his best landes, and geuen them to king Eumenus:

9 Againe, how they perceauing that the Grekes were comming to vexe them,

10 Sent against them a captayne of an hoast, boast, which gaue them battaile, slue many of them, led away their wyues and children captiue, spoyled them, tooke possession of their lande, and destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bondmen, vnto this day.

11 Moreouer, how that as for other kingdomes and Iles which sometime withstoode them, they destroyed them, and brought them vnder their dominion:

12 But kept amitie with their owne frendes, and those that were confederate with them, and conquered kingdomes both farre and nye: & that whosoeuer heard of their renowme, was afrayde of thē.

13 For whom they woulde helpe to their kingdomes, those raigned: and whom it lyked not them to raigne, they put them downe: And howbe they were come to great preheminence,

14 Yaning no king among them, neither any man clothed in purple to be magnified therethrough:

15 But had ordained them selues a " parliament, wherin there sat three hundred and twentie senatours dayly vpon the counsell, to dispatch euer the busines of the people, and to kepe good order:

16 And howbe that euery yere they chose a " Maire to haue the gouernaunce of al their lande, to whom euery man was obedient, and there was neither euill wyll nor discention among them.

17 Then Judas chose Eupolemus, the sonne of John the sonne of " Jacob, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome for to make frendship and a bonde of loue with them, 18 That they might take from them the bondage of the Grekes: for the Jewes saw that the Grekes would subdue the kingdome of Israel.

19 So they went vnto Rome, a very great iourney, & came vnto the " parliament, and saide:

20 Judas Machabeus, with his brethren, and the people of the Jewes, hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of frendship and peace with you, and ye to note vs as your louers and friendes.

21 And that matter pleased the Romanes right well:

22 Wherefore it was written vp: of the which the Romanes made a writing in tables of brasse, and sent it to Hierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the same peace and bonde of frendship, after this maner:

23 God saue the Romanes and the people of the Jewes both by sea & by lande, and kepe the swoorde and enemie from them for euermore:

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romanes or any of their frendes throughout all their dominion, 25 The people of the Jewes shall helpe them, as the time requireth, and that with all their heartes.

26 Also they shall neither geue nor send vnto their enemies vitailes, weapons, money, nor shippes: but fulfil their couenauntes at the Romanes pleasure, taking nothing of them therefore.

27 Againe, if the people of the Jewes happen first to haue warre, the Romanes shal stand by them with a good wyl, according as the time wyll suffer:

28 Neither shall they geue vnto the Jewes enemies vitailes, weapons, money, or shippes: Thus are the Romanes content to do, and shall fulfill their charge without any disceite.

29 According to these articles, the Romanes made ꝑ bond with the Jewes.

30 Now after these articles [saide they] if any of the parties wyll put to them, or take any thing from them, they shall do it with the consent of both: and whatsoeuer they adde vnto them, or take from them, it shall stande fast.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Jewes, we haue writtē vnto him, saying: Wherfore layest thou thy heauie yoke vpon the Jewes our friendes and louers:

32 If they make any complaint of thee againe vnto vs, we shall defende them, and fight with thee by sea and by lande, according to iustice.

The

The. ix. Chapter.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Judas. 18 Judas is slaine. 34 Jonathas is put in the steade of his brother. 47 The strife betweene Jonathas and Bacchides. 55 Alcimus is taken with the paulsie, and dyeth. Bacchides returneth againe vnto the king. 68 He commeth vpon Jonathas by the counsell of certaine wicked persons, and is ouercome. 70 The truce of Jonathas with Bacchides.

A 1 In the meane season, whē Demetrius heard that* Nicanor and his hoast was slaine in the fielde, he proceeded further to send Bacchides and Alcimus againe into Jurie, & the chiefe strength of his hoast with them.

2 So they went foorth by the way that leadeth vnto Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Masaloth (which is in Arbellis) and wan the citie and slue much people.

3 In the first moneth of the hundred fiftie and two yere, they brought their hoast and layde their siege against Hierusalem:

4 But rayling their campe, they came to Berea with twentie thousand footemen, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Nowe Judas had pitched his tent at Laisa, with three thousand chosen men,

* Or, Elea. 6 And when they sawe the multitude of the other armie that it was so great, they were sore afrayde, and many conueyed them selues out of the hoast, insomuch that there abode no mo of them but eyght hundred men.

B 7 When Judas sawe that his hoast failed him, and that he must needes fight, it brake his heart, that he had no time to gather them together: wherefore the man was in extreme trouble.

8 Neuertheless, he saide vnto them that remayned with him: Vp, let vs go against our enemies, peraduenture we shall be able to fight with them.

9 But they woulde haue stopped him, saying, We shall not be able: therefore now let vs saue our lyues, and turne againe to our brethren: for shoulde we fight against them, being so fewe:

(a) The which God is wont to plage and ouercome, to ouercome when he trusteth in his strength and courage, praise. 10 And Judas saide, (a) God forbyd that we should flee from them: Wherefore if our time be come, let vs dye manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour.

11 Then the hoast remoued out of the tentes, and stoode against them, and the horsemē were deuided in two partes: the sling casters and archers went before the hoast, and all the mightie men were formost in the fielde.

12 Bacchides him selfe was in the right wing of the battaile, and the hoast drew nye in two partes, and blewe the trumpettes.

13 They of Judas side blewe the trumpettes also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the hoastes: and they strake a fielde from the morowe till night. C

14 And when Judas sawe that Bacchides hoast was strongest of the right side, he toke with him all the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing of their order, & followed vpon them vnto mount Azot.

16 Now when they which were the left wing, sawe that the right side was discomfited, they persecuted Judas and them that were with him hard at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battaile: for many were slaine & wounded on both the partes.

18 Judas also him selfe was killed, and the remnaunt fled.

19 So Jonathas and Simon toke Judas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin. D

20 And al the people of Israel made great lamentatiō for him, and mourned long, saying:

21 Alas that this worthy should be slaine, which deliuered the people of Israel.

22 As for other thinges pertayning to the battailes of Judas, the noble actes that he did, and of his worthynes, they are not written, for they were very many.

Iosephus, cap. xii. lib. xiii. ant.

23 * Now after the death of Judas, wicked men came vp in al the coastes of Israel, & there arose all such as did worke vngodlinesse.

24 In those dayes was there a great dearth in the lande, and all the countrie gaue ouer them selues and theirs vnto Bacchides.

25 So

25 So Bacchides chose wicked men, and made them lordes in the lande.

26 These sought out and made search for Judas frendes, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged him selfe vpon them with great dispite.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no prophete was seene there.

D 28 Then came all Judas frendes together, and sayde vnto Jonathas:

29 Forsomuch as thy brother Judas is dead, there is none like him to go forth against our enemies, against Bacchides and such as are aduersaries of our owne people:

30 wherefore this day we choose thee for him, to be our prince and captayne, to order our battayle.

31 And Jonathas toke the gouernaunce vpon him at the same time, and ruled in steade of his brother Judas.

32 When Bacchides gat knowledge therof, he sought for to slay hym.

33 But Jonathas & Simon his brother perceauing that, fled into the wildernesse of Thecua with al their campanie, and pitched their tentes by the water poole of Asphar.

E 34 Which when Bacchides vnderstoode, he came ouer Jordane with al his hoast vpon the Sabbath day.

35 Nowe had Jonathas sent his brother [Jhon] a captayne of the people, to pray his frendes the Nabuthites, that they would lende them their ordinaunce, for they had much.

"Or, Ambri 36 So the children of "Jambri came out of Madaba, and toke Jhon and all that he had, and went their way withall when they had taken it.

37 Then came worde vnto Jonathas and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great mariage, & brought the bride from Madaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Chanaan.

38 Wherefore they remembred the blood of Jhon their brother, and went vp, and hyd them selues vnder the shadowe of the mountayne.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and loked, & beholde there was much a do & great preparation: for the brydegrome came forth, and his frendes and his brethren mette them with tympanies, instrumentes of musicke, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathas and they that were with hym, rose out of their lurking places against them, and slue many of them: and the remnaunt fled into the mountaynes, and they toke all their substaunce.

41 Thus the mariage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of their melody into lamentation. F

42 And so when they had auenged the (a)blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Jordane. (a) Blood doth require blood.

43 Bacchides hearing this, came vnto the very border of Jordane with a great power, vpon the Sabbath day.

44 And Jonathas sayd to his companie, Let vs get vp, & fight against our enemies: for it standeth not with vs to day, as in time past.

45 Behold, our enemies are in our way, the water of Jordane vpon the one side of vs, with banckes, fennes, and woods on the other side, so that there is no place for vs to depart vnto.

46 *Wherefore crye nowe vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: So they stroke the battayle. ii Para.x.a. i.Mach.iiii.b

47 And Jonathas stretched out his hande to smyte Bacchides, but he fled backwarde.

48 Then Jonathas and they that were with him, leapt into Jordane, & swimmed ouer Jordane vnto the further banke: but the other woulde not passe ouer Jordane after him.

49 And there were slayne of Bacchides G side that day a thousande men.

50 Therfore Bacchides with his hoast turned againe to Hierusalem, and buylt vp the castles and strong holdes that were in Jurie, Jericho, Emaus, Bethoron, Bethel, Thamnata, "Phara, and "Thopo, with hye walles, with portes, and with lockes: "Or, Pharathoni. "Or, Tepho 51 And set men to kepe them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He walled vp the citie Bethsura, Gazara, and the castle, and prouided them with men and vittayles.

53 He toke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the countrey for pledges, & put them in the castle at Hierusalem to be kept.

54 Afterwarde in the hundred fyftie and three yere, in the seconde moneth, Alcimus commaunded that they should destroy the walles of the inwarde court of the sanctuarie, and he pulled downe and began to destroy the monumentes of the prophetes, 55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued and smitten with a paulsie, and his enterprises were hindered, & his mouth was stopped [by God] so that he could no more speake nor commaunde any of his house concerning his businesse.

56 Thus died Alcimus in great miserie at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides sawe that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the king: & so the land was in rest two yeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying: Behold, Jonathas and his company are at ease, and dwel without care, wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hyther, and he shall take them all in one night.

59 So they went and gaue Bacchides this counsell.

60 Which arose to come with a great hoast, & sent letters priuily to his adherentes which were in Jurie, to take Jonathas and those that were with hym: but they might not, for the other had gotten knowledge of their deuice.

61 And Jonathas toke fyftie men of the countrey, whiche were theringleaders of them, and slue them.

62 Then Jonathas & Simon with their companie departed vnto the citie "Bethbasin, whiche lyeth in the wilderneſſe, and repaired the decay therof, and made it strong.

" Or, Bethbassen.

63 When Bacchides knewe this, he gathered all his hoast, and sent word to them that were in Jurie.

64 Then came he & layed siege to Bethbasin, and fought against it a long season, and made instrumentes of warre.

65 Nowe Jonathas left his brother Simon in the citie, and went foorth hym selfe into the countrey, and came with a certayne number, 66 And slue "Odomeras and his brethren, and the children of Phaseron in their tentes, so that he began to be strong and to increase in power.

" Or, Dieneb.

67 As for Simon and his companie, they went out of the citie, and brent vp the instrumentes of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him: and Bacchides was sore vexed, because his counsell and trauayle was in vayne.

69 Wherfore he was wroth at the wicked men (a) that gaue him counsel to come into their land, & slue many of them: Then purposed he with his companie to go away into his owne countrey.

(a) Wicked counsel falleth on the counsellours.

70 Wherof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto hym for to make peace with hym, and that he shoulde deliuer him his prisoners againe.

71 To the whiche Bacchides consented gladly, and dyd according to his desire: yea & made an oth that he should neuer do him harme all the dayes of his lyfe.

72 So he restored vnto him all the prisoners that he had taken out of the lande of Juda, and then turned and went his way into his owne land, neither proceeded he any further to come vnto the borders of Juda.

73 Thus Israel had no more warre, and Jonathas dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

The .x. Chapter.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Jonathas. 48 Alexander moueth warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slayne. 51 The friendship of Ptolomeus and Alexander.

A 1 IN the hundred and threescore yere, came Alexander the sonne of noble "Antiochus, and toke Ptolomais, whose citizines receaued him, and there he raygned.

" Or, Epiphanes.

2 When Demetrius heard therof, he gathered an exceeding great hoast, and went foorth against him to fight.

3 Wherfore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathas with louing wordes, and prayſed him greatly.

4 For he sayde: We will first make peace with him, before he bynde him selfe with Alexander against vs:

5 Els

5 Els he shall remember the euyl that we haue done against him, his brother, and his people.

6 And so he gaue Jonathas leaue to gather an hoast, to make weapons, & to be confederat with him, and commaunded the pledges that were in the castle to be deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathas to Hierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of al the people, and of them that were in the castle.

8 And therefore were they sore afrayde, because they hearde that the king had geuen him licence to gather an hoast.

9 Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Jonathas, which restored them to their parentes.

10 Jonathas also dwelt at Hierusalem, and began to buylde vp and to repayre the citie:

11 Commaunding the workmen to wall it and the mount Sion rounde about with free stone, to be a strong hold: and so they did.

12 As for the heathen that were in the castles whiche Bacchides had made vp, they fled:

13 So that euery man left the place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Only at Bethsura remayned certayne of the Jewes, whiche had forsaken the lawe and commaundementes of God, for Bethsura was their refuge.

15 Nowe when king Alexander heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathas, and when it was tolde him of the battayles and noble actes which he and his brethren had done, and of the great trauayles that they had taken,

16 He sayde: Where shall we finde such a man? Well, we wil make him our friend, and be confederat with hym.

17 Upon this he wrote a letter vnto him, with these wordes:

18 King Alexander saluteth his brother Jonathas.

19 We haue hearde of thee that thou art a valiaunt man, and meete to be our friende:

20 Wherfore this day we ordayne thee to be the hye priest of thy people, and to be called the kinges friende (Upon this he sent hym a purple clothing, & a crowne of gold) that thou mayest consider what is for our profite, and kepe friendship to-warde vs. loving friends Com and see

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundred and threescore yere, vpon the solempne feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathas put the holy rayment vpon him: then gathered he an hoast, and prepared many weapons. D

22 Whiche when Demetrius hearde, he was marueylous sory,

23 And sayde: Alas what haue we done, that Alexander hath preuented vs, in getting the friendship of the Jewes for his owne defence?

24 Yet will I wryte louingly vnto them also, yea and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may be of my syde.

25 Wherevpon he wrote vnto them these wordes: King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto the people of the Jewes:

26 Whereas ye haue kept your couenaunt toward vs, and continued in our friendship, not inclining to our enemies, we were glad when we hearde therof.

27 Wherfore remayne still and be faythfull to vs, and we shall well recompence you for the thinges that ye haue done on our partie:

28 We shal releasse you of many charges, & and geue you rewardes.

29 And now I discharge you and all the Jewes from tributes, I forgeue you the customes of salt, and releasse you of the crowne taxes, of the thirde part of seede,

30 And halfe the fruite of trees, whiche is myne owne duetie, I do releasse them from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the lande of Juda, nor of the three cities which are added therunto out of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth, for euermore.

31 Hierusalem also, with all thinges belonging therto shalbe holy and free, yea the tythes and tributes shall pertayne vnto it.

32 As for the power of the castle whiche is at Hierusalem, I remit and geue it vnto the hygh priest, that he may set in it such men as he shall choose to kepe it.

33 I freely deliuer all the Jewes that are prisoners throughout all my realme, so that euery one of them shalbe free from paying any tribute, yea euen of their cattell.

34 All the solempne feastes, Sab-bathes, neiue moones, the dayes appoynted, the three dayes before and after the feast, shalbe free for all the Jewes in my realme.

35 So that in them no man shall haue power to do any thing, or to vexe any of them in any maner of cause.

36 There shall thirtie thousand also of the Jewes be written vp in the kinges hoast, and haue their wages payed as all other men of warre of the kinges should haue: and of them shalbe ordeyned certayne to kepe the kinges strong holdes, 37 Yea and some of them shalbe set ouer the kinges secret affaires: and their gouernours and princes shalbe of them selues, and lyue after their owne lawes, as the king hath commaunded in the lande of Juda.

F 38 And the three cities that are fallen vnto Jurie from the countrey of Samaria, shalbe taken as Jurie, and be vnder one, neither be subiect to any straunge lord, but to the hie priest.

39 As for Ptolomais and the land pertayning therto, I geue it vnto the sanctuarie at Hierusalem, for the necessarie expences of the holy thinges.

40 Moreouer, I will geue euery yere fyfteene thousande sicles of siluer of the kinges reuenues, out of the places appertayning vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not payed for thinges due, as they dyd in the former yeres, from henceforth they shall geue it towarde the workes of the temple.

42 And besides this, the fyue thousande sicles of siluer which they receaued yerely of the account appoynted for the interteynement of the sanctuarie these yeres passed, euen these thinges shalbe released, because they appertaine to the priestes that minister.

43 Item, Whosoeuer they be that flee vnto the temple at Hierusalem, or within the liberties therof, where as they are fallen into the kinges daunger for any maner of businesse, they shalbe pardoned, and al the goodes that they haue in my realme shalbe free.

44 For the buylding also and repayring of the worke of the sanctuarie, expences shalbe geuen out of the kinges reuenues:

45 Yea and for the making of the walles rounde about Hierusalem, for the breaking downe of the olde, and for the setting vp of the strong holdes in Jurie, shall the costes and charges be geuen out of the kinges reuenues.

46 *But when Jonathas and the people heard these wordes, they gaue no credence vnto them, neither receaued them: for they remembred the great wickednesse that he had done vnto Israel, and howe sore he had vexed them. *1. Mac. vii.d.

47 Wherfore they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prince that had dealt friendly with them, and so they stoode by him alway.

48 *Then gathered king Alexander a great hoast, and brought his armie against Demetrius: *Iosep. ca. i v lib. xiii.

49 So the two kinges stroke battayle together, but Demetrius hoast fled, and Alexander followed after, and fell vpon G them.

50 A mightie sore fielde was it, continuing till the sunne went downe: and Demetrius was slayne the same day.

51 And Alexander sent ambassadours vnto Ptolomi the king of Egypt, with these wordes, saying:

52 Forsomuch as I am come againe to my realme, and am set in the throne of my progenitours, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercommed Demetrius,

53 Conquered the lande, & striken a fielde with hym, so that we haue discomfited both hym and his hoast, and sit in the throne of his kingdome:

54 Let vs nowe make friendship together, geue me thy daughter to wyfe, so shal I be thy sonne in lawe, and both geue thee rewardes, and her according to thy dignitie.

55 Ptolomi the king gaue answere, saying: Happy be the day wherein thou art come againe to the lande of thy progenitours, and set in the throne of their kingdome.

56 And nowe will I fulfill thy writing: but meete me at Ptolomais, that we may see one another, and that I may marry my daughter vnto thee according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolomi went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais in the hundred threescore and two yere, 58 Where king Alexander mette hym: and he gaue Alexander his daughter Cleo-

Cleopatra, and maried them at Ptolomais with great worship, like as the maner of kinges is to be.

59 Then wrote king Alexander vnto Jonathas, that he shoulde come and meete him.

60 So he went honorably vnto Ptolomais, & there he mette the two kinges, and gaue them and their frendes great presentes of golde and siluer, and founde fauour in their sight.

61 And there came together against Jonathas certayne wicked men and vngratious persons of Israel, making complaynes of him: but the king regarded them not.

62 As for Jonathas, the king commaunded to take of his garmentes, & to cloth him in purple: and so they did. Then the king appoynted him to sit by him, 63 And sayde vnto his princes: Go with him into the middest of the citie, & make a proclamation, that no man complayne against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cause.

64 So it happened, that when his accusers sawe the worship whiche was proclaymed of him, & that he was clothed in purple, they fled euery one.

65 And the king made much of him, wrote him among his chiefe frendes, made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

Iosep cap. xiii. antiqu. 66 *Thus Jonathas went againe to Hierusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 In the hundred threescore & fyft yere, came Demetrius, the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta, into his fathers lande:

68 Wherof when Alexander heard tell, he was right sory, and returned vnto Antioch.

1 Mach. iii. a. 69 And Demetrius chose *Apollonius, whiche had the gouernaunce of Celosiria, to be his captayne: So he gathered a great hoast, and came vnto Jamnia, & sent worde vnto Jonathas the hygh priest, saying:

70 Darest thou withstande vs thy selfe alone? As for me, I am but laughed to scorne, and shamed, because thou diddest vaunte thy strength against vs in the mountaynes.

71 Now therfore, if thou trustest in thyne owne strength, come downe to vs into the playne fielde, & there let vs trye the matter together, for thou shalt knowe that I haue the strength of many cities,

72 And shalt knowe who I am, and the other that stand by me, which say, That your foote is not able to stande before our face, for thy fathers haue ben twyse chased in their owne lande.

73 And nowe howe wilt thou be able to abyde so great an hoast of horsemen and footemen in the fielde, where as is neither rocke, stone, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathas hearde the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his mynde, wherfore he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Hierusalem: and Simon his brother mette hym for to helpe hym.

75 And they pitched their tentes at Joppa: but the citie kept hym foorth, for Apollonius garrison was in Joppa.

76 Then Jonathas layed siege to it, and they that were in the citie for very feare let him in: and so Jonathas wan Joppa.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, toke three thousand horsemen, with a great hoast on foote, and went to Azotus as though he woulde go further, and came immediatly into the playne fielde, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathas followed vpon hym to Azotus, and the army skirmished with his rereward, and there they stroke the battayle.

79 Nowe had Apollonius left a thousande horsemen behynde them priuily in the tentes.

80 And when Jonathas knewe that such wayte was layed behynde them, they went rounde about the enemies hoast, and shot dartes at the people from the morning to the euening.

81 As for Jonathas people, they kept their order as he had commaunded them, and the enemies horses were weery.

82 Then brought Simon forth his hoast, and set them against the footemen (for the horsemen were weery alredy:) So he discomfited them, and they fled.

83 And they that were scattered in the fielde, gat them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idoll, that they might there saue their liues.

84 But Jonathas set fire vpon Azotus and all the cities rounde about it, and i.Mach. xi a toke their goodes, and *brent vp the temple of Dagon, with all them that were fled into it.
85 Thus were slayne and brent welnye eyght thousande men.
86 So Jonathas remoued the hoast from thence, and brought them to Ascalon, where the men of the citie came foorth, and mette him with great worship.
87 After this, went Jonathas and his hoast againe to Hierusalem, with great substaunce of good.
88 And When king Alexander heard these thinges, he thought to do Jonathas more worship:
89 And sent him a coller of gold, as the vse is to be geuen vnto such as are of the kinges next blood: he gaue him also the citie of Accaron, with the landes belonging therto, in possession.

The .xi. Chapter.

3 The discention betwixt Ptolomeus and Alexander his sonne in lawe. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius raigneth after the death of Ptolomeus. 22 Sion is besieged of Jonathas. 42 Demetrius seing that no man resisteth hym, sendeth his armie againe. 54 Tryphon moueth Antiochus against Demetrius. 60 Demetrius is deliuered by the succour of Jonathas. 63 After his deliueraunce he breaketh his couenaunt that he had made.

A 1 AND the king of Egypt gathered an hoast like the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and many shippes, *& went about thorow disceyte to obtayne the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne realme.
Iosep.ca.vii. lib.xiii.
2 Upon this he toke his iourney into Syria, vsing gentle wordes, so that he was letten into the cities, & men came foorth to meete hym: for king Alexander had commaunded them so to do, because he was his father in lawe.
3 Nowe when Ptolomi entred into any citie, he left men of warre to kepe it: and this he did thorowout all the cities.
ii.Mach.x.c 4 And When he came to Azotus, *they shewed hym the temple of Dagon, and Azotus that was brent vp, with the other thinges which were destroyed, the dead bodies cast abrode, and the graues that they had made by the way side for such as were slayne in the fielde, 5 And tolde the king that Jonathas had done all these thinges, to the intent they might get him euyll will: But the king sayde not one worde therto.
6 And Jonathas mette the king with great honour at Joppa, where they saluted one an other, and toke their rest.
7 So When Jonathas had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Hierusalem.
8 Nowe Ptolomi had gotten the dominion of the cities vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander, B
9 And sent ambassadours vnto Demetrius, saying: Come, let vs make a bonde betwixt vs, so shall I gene thee my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou shalt raigne in thy fathers kingdome.
10 I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to slay me.
11 And thus he slaundered Alexander, because he woude haue had his realme.
12 Thus he toke his daughter from him, gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsoke Alexander: so that his malice was openly knowen.
13 And Ptolomi came to Antioch, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, the crowne of Egypt, and of Asia.
14 In the meane season was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places had rebelled against hym. C
15 But when Alexander hearde of this, he came to warre against hym: So king Ptolomi brought foorth his hoast, and mette him with a mightie power, and chased him away.
16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: and king Ptolomeus honour increased.
17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote of Alexanders head, & sent it vnto Ptolomi.
18 But the thirde day after died king Pto-

Ptolomi hym selfe, and they whom he had set in the strong holdes, were slayne one of another.

19 And Demetrius raigned in the hundred threscore and seuenth yere.

20 At the same time gathered Jonathas them that were in Jurie, to lay siege vnto the castle which was at Hierusalem, & so they made many instrumentes
C of warre against it.

21 Then went there certayne vngodly persons, whiche hated their owne people, vnto king Demetrius, and told hym that Jonathas besieged the castle.

22 So when he hearde it, he was angry, and immediatly came vnto Ptolomais, & wrote vnto Jonathas, that he should not lay siege to the castle, but come and speake with hym at Ptolomais in all haste.

23 Neuertheless, when Jonathas heard this, he commaunded to besiege it: He chose also certayne of the elders and priestes of Israel, and put hym selfe in peryll, 24 And toke with him golde, siluer, clothing, and diuers presentes, and went to Ptolomais vnto the king, and founde him gracious.

25 And though certayne vngodly men of his owne people made complayntes vpon him, i.Mach.x.d.

26 Yet the king intreated him, *like as his predecessours had done before, and promoted hym in the sight of all his friendes,

27 Confirmed hym in the hye priesthood
D with all the worship that he had afore, i.Mach.x c. and xi.d. and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Jonathas also desired the king that he woulde make Jurie free, *with the three head cities of Samaria, and the landes perteyning therto: vpon this did Jonathas promise hym three hundred talentes.

29 Wherunto the king consented, and gaue Jonathas writing of the same, conteyning these wordes:

30 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto his brother Jonathas, and to the people of the Jewes.

31 We sende you here a copie of the letter which we did write vnto our cosen Lasthenus concerning you, that ye shoulde knowe it.

32 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto Lasthenus his father.

33 For the faythfulnesse that our frendes the people of the Jewes kepe vnto vs, and for the louing kindnesse which they beare towarde vs, We are determined to do them good.

34 Wherfore we assigne vnto the coastes of Judea the three gouernemētes, Afferema, Lydda, and Ramatha, whiche are added vnto Jurie from Samaria and all the landes pertayning therevnto, to be freely separated for such as do sacrifice in Hierusalem, both concerning the paymentes whiche the king toke yerely aforetime, & the fruite also of the earth and trees:

35 As for other tithes and tributes that E belonged vnto vs, We discharge them therof from this time forth.

36 In like maner We graunt vnto them all the customes of salt, & crowne taxes, which were brought vnto vs: and this freedome shal they haue firme and stedfast from this time forth for euermore.

37 Therefore, see that ye make a copie of these our letters, and deliuer it vnto Jonathas, that it may be set vpon the holy mount in a conuenient place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the king sawe that his land was in rest, and that no resistaunce was made against him, he sent away all his hoast, euery man to his owne place, except certayne bandes of straungers, whom he brought from the Iles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoast hated him.

39 *Now was ther one Tryphon that had i.Mac.xii.c. ben of Alexanders part afore, whiche when he saw that all the hoast murmured against Demetrius, he went to Samalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander, 40 And lay fore vpon him to deliuer hym this young Antiochus, that he might raine in his fathers steade: He tolde him also what great euyll Demetrius had done, & how his men of warre loued him not: & so remayned there a long season.

41 And Jonathas sent vnto king Demetrius, to driue them out which were in the castle at Hierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses, for they vexed Israel great harme.

42 So Demetrius sent word vnto Jonathas, saying, I will not only do these F thinges for thee and thy people: but at time conuement I will do both thee and thy people great worship.

43 But now thou shalt do me a pleasure if thou wilt sende me men to helpe me: for all myne armie is gone fro me.

44 So Jonathas sent hym three thousande strong men vnto Antioch, & they came vnto the king, wherefore the king was very glad at their comming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twentie thousand men, gathered them together in the middest of the citie, & would haue slaine the king:

46 whiche fled into his court, and the citezins kept the streetes of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called for the Jewes helpe, which came vnto him altogether, and went abrode thorowe the citie, 48 And slue the same day an hundred thousand men, set fire vpon the citie, and gat many spoyles in that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So when the citezins sawe that the Jewes had gotten their will of the citie, and they themselues disapointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king, saying:

50 Graunt vs peace, and let the Jewes ceasse from troubling vs and the citie,

51 And vpon this they cast away their weapons. Thus they made peace, and the Jewes gat great worship in the sight of the king and in the sight of all that were in his realme, and were spoken of throughout the kingdome: and so they came againe to Hierusalem with great goodes.

52 So the king Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his lande.

53 Neuertheles, he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrewe hym selfe from Jonathas, neither rewarded him according to the benefites which he had done for hym, but troubled hym very sore.

54 After this came Tryphon againe with young Antiochus, which raigned & was crowned king.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre whom Demetrius had put away, these fought against Demetrius: whith fled and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon toke the Elephantes, and wan Antioche.

57 And young Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathas, saying: I confirme thee in thy priesthood, and make thee ruler of foure countreys, that thou mayst be a friende of the kinges.

58 Upon this he sent hym golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue hym leaue to drinke in golde, to be clothed in purple, and to weare a coller of golde.

59 He made his brother Simon also captayne, from the coastes of Tyrus vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathas toke his iourney, and went thorowe the cities beyonde the water of Jordane, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered them vnto hym for to helpe hym: So he came vnto Ascalon, & they of the citie receaued hym honorably.

61 And from thence went he to Gaza, but they woulde not let hym in: wherefore he layed siege vnto it, burning vp and spoyling the places that were about the citie.

62 And the citezins of Gaza submitted them selues vnto Jonathas, whithe made peace with them: but toke of their sonnes to pledge, sent them to Hierusalem, and went thorow the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 Now when Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades which is in Galilee, with a great hoast, purposing to dryue him out of the countrey:

64 He came against them, and left Simon his brother in the lande.

65 And Simon came to Bethsura, and layed siege to it a long season, and discomfited them.

66 So they desired to haue peace with hym: whiche he graunted them, & afterwarde put them out from thence, toke the citie, and set men to kepe it.

67 And Jonathas with his hoast came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning gat them to the playne fielde of Azor:

68 And behold, the hoastes of the heathen mette them in the fielde, & layed watch for them in the mountaynes:

69 So that when Jonathas came against them, the other whiche were layed to watch rose out of their places and fought, 70 And they that were of Jonathas side fled euery man, & there was not one of them left, except Mathathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphi the captayne of the hoast.

71 Then

71 Then Jonathas rent his clothes, layde earth vpon his head, (a) made his prayer, 72 And turned againe to them in the fielde, where they fought together, and he put them to flight.
73 Now when his owne men that were fled, sawe this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to followe vpon all their enemies vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.
74 So there were slaine of the heathen the same day three thousand men, and Jonathas turned againe to Hierusalem.

(a) Gr. made the custome of prayer.

The. xij. Chapter.

1 Jonathas sendeth Ambassadours to Rome, 2 and to the people of Sparta to renue their couenaunt of frendship. 20 Jonathas putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius. 40 Cryphon taketh Jonathas by deceite.

A 1 JOnathas seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certaine men, and sent them vnto Rome for to stablish and to renue * the frendship with them:
2 He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in lyke maner.
3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the "counsel, and saide: Jonathas the hie priest & the people of the Jewes, sent vs vnto you for to renue the olde frendship and bonde of loue.
4 Upon this the Romanes gaue them free passortes, that men shoulde leade them home into the land of Juda peaceably.
5 And this is the copie of the letters that Jonathas wrote vnto the Spartians.
6 Jonathas the hie priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Jewes, sende greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.
B 7 There were letters sent long ago vnto Onias the hie priest, from "Arius which then raigned among you, that ye are our brethren, as the copie here vnder written doth specifie.
8 And Onias entreated the Ambassadour that was sent honorably, and receaued the letters, wherein there was mention made of the bonde of loue and frendship.
9 But as for vs, we neede no such writinges, for why? we haue ỹ holy bookes of scripture in our handes to our comfort.
10 Neuertheless, we had rather sende vnto you, for the renuing of the brotherhood and frendship, lest we shoulde be straunge vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent worde vnto vs.
11 Wherefore, in the sacrifices that we offer, and other ceremonies vpon the hie solempe dayes, and other, we allway remember you without ceassing, lyke as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thinke vpon our brethren, 12 Yea, and are right glad of your prosperous honour.
C 13 And though we haue had great troubles and warres, so that the kinges about vs haue fought against vs:
14 Yet woulde we not be greeuous vnto you, nor to other of our louers & frendes in these warres.
15 For we haue had helpe from heauen that hath succoured vs, so that we are deliuered, and our enemies subdued.
16 Wherefore we chose Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes, for to renue the olde "bonde of frendship and loue with them.
17 We commaunded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concerning the renouation of our brotherhood.
18 And now ye shal do right wel to geue vs an aunswere thereunto.
D 19 And this is the copie of the writing which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Onias.
20 Arius the king of the Spartians, sendeth greeting vnto Onias the hie priest:
21 It is founde in writing, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, & come out of the generation of Abraham:
22 And now forsomuch as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do wel to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.
23 As for vs, we haue written our minde vnto you, our cattaile and goodes are yours, and yours ours: these thinges haue we cõmaunded to be shewed vnto you.

you.

24 When Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come foorth to fight against him with a greater hoast then afore, 25 He went from Hierusalem, and met them in the land of Hemath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tentes, which came againe and tolde him that they were appoynted to come vpon him in the night season.

27 Wherefore when the sunne was gone downe, Jonathas cõmaunded his men to watch all the night, and to be redie with weapons for to fight, and set watchmen roundē about the hoast.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathas was redie with his men to the battaile, they feared, & were afraid in their heartes, and kindled fires in their tentes, brake vp, and gat them away.

29 Neuertheless, Jonathas and his company knewe it not till the morning, for they sawe the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathas followed vpon them, but he might not ouertake thē, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathas departed vnto the Arabians, which were called Zabadei, slue them, and toke their goodes.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went through all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother toke his iourney, and came to Ascalon, and to the next strong holdes, departing vnto Joppa, and wan it, 34 (For he heard that they would deliuer the holde to them that toke Demetrius parte) Wherfore he set men of warre in the citie to kepe it.

35 After this came Jonathas home againe, and called the elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to build vp the strong holdes in Jurie, 36 And to make the walles of Hierusalem higher, to set vp an hie wall betwixt the castle and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men should neither bye nor sell in it.

37 Vpon this, they came together for to builde vp the citie, and forsomuch as the wall vpon the brooke of the east side, called Caphetetah was fallen downe, repaired it.

38 And Simon set vp Adiada in Sephela, and made it strong, setting portes and lockes vpon it.

39 Now when * Tryphon purposed to raigne in Asia, to be crowned, and to slay the king Antiochus: 1.Mac.xi.c.

40 He was afraide that Jonathas would not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore he went about to take Jonathas and to kill him: So he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Jonathas foorth against him to the battaile with fourtie thousand chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan also:

42 But when Tryphon sawe that Jonathas came with so great an hoast to destroy him, he was afraide:

43 And therefore he receaued him honorably, commended him vnto all his friendes, and gaue him rewardes, and commaunded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him, as to him selfe:

44 And saide vnto Jonathas, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauaile, seeing there is no warre betwixt vs?

45 Therefore sende them home againe, and choose certaine men to wayte vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolomais: for I wyll geue it thee, with the other strong holdes, men of warre, and their officers: as for me, I must depart, this is onely the cause of my comming.

46 Jonathas beleued him, and did as he saide, putting away his hoast, which went into the lande of Juda.

47 He kept but three thousand by him, whereof he sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him selfe.

48 Now assoone as Jonathas entred into Ptolomais, the citezins sparred the gates of the citie, and toke him, and slue all them with the swoorde that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoast of footemen and horsmen into Galilee, and into the great plaine field, to destroy all Jonathas company:

50 But when they knewe that Jonathas was taken, and all they slaine that waited vpon him, they toke counsel together, and encouraged one another, and came foorth against them redie to fight.

51 So

51 So when they which folowed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of lyke, they turned backe againe.
52 As for the other, they went into the lande of Juda peaceably, and bewayled Jonathas and them that were with him right sore: and Israel made great lamentation.
53 Then al the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them:
54 For they said, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them, therfore let vs ouercome them, and roote out their name from among men.

The. xiij. Chapter.

1 After Jonathas was taken, Simon is chosen captaine, 17 of whom Tryphon taking his children and money for the redemption of Jonathas, killeth him and his children. 25 The graue of Jonathas. 31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus, and possesseth the realme. 36 Demetrius taketh truice with Simon. 43 Simon winneth Gaza. 50 He possesseth the towre of Sion. 53 He maketh his sonne John captaine.

A 1 NOwe when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great hoast to come into the lande of Juda, and to destroy it,
2 And saw that the people was in great fearefulnes and care: he came vp to Hierusalem, and gathered the people together,
3 And gaue them exhortation, saying: Ye know what great battailes I and my brethren and my fathers house haue fought for the lawe and the sanctuarie, and what maner of troubles we haue seene.
i Mac. vi. c. 4 Through occasion whereof, *all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.
5 And now let not me spare myne owne lyfe in any maner of trouble, for I am no better then my brethren:
6 But wyll auenge my people and the sanctuarie, our children and our wyues: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs, of very malice.
B 7 At these wordes the heartes of the people were kindled together,
8 So that they cried with a loude voyce, saying: Thou shalt be our captaine, in steade of Judas and Jonathas thy brethren:
9 Order thou our battaile, and whatsoeuer thou commaundest vs, we shall do it.
10 So he gathered all the men of warre, making haste to finishe all the walles of Hierusalem, which he made strong rounde about.
11 Then sent he Jonathas the sonne of Absalomus with a freshe hoast vnto Joppa, which droue them out that were in the castle, and remained there him selfe.
12 Tryphon also remoued from Ptolomais with a great armie, to come into the lande of Juda, and Jonathas with him, in warde.
13 And Simon pitched his tentes at "Addus before the plaine fielde. "Or, Ioddis.
C
14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stoode vp in steade of his brother Jonathas, and that he would warre against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying:
15 Where as we haue kept Jonathas thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the kinges accompt, concerning the busines that he had in hande.
16 Wherefore, sende nowe a hundred talentes of siluer and his two sonnes for suretie (that when he is letten foorth, he shal not forsake vs) and we shall sende him againe.
17 Neuertheless, Simon knew that he dissembled in his wordes: yet commaunded he the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, lest the Israelites might haue hated him, 18 And saide, Because he sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathas dead.
D
19 So Simon sent him the children and an hundred talentes: but he dissembled, and would not let Jonathas go.
20 Afterwarde came Tryphon into the lande to destroy it, and went rounde about by the way that leadeth vnto Ador: But whersoeuer they went, thyther went Simon and his hoast also.
21 Now they that were in the castle, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he should make haste to come by the wildernesse, and to sende them vitailes.

22 And

22 And Tryphon made redie al his horſmen to come the ſame night: neuertheleſſe, it was a very great ſnowe, ſo that he came not becauſe of the ſnowe, but he remoued and went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he drue nye Baſchama, he ſlue Jonathas and his ſonnes there,

E 24 And then turned for to go home into his owne lande.

25 Then ſent Simon for to fetch his brothers dead coarſe, and buried it in Modin his fathers citie.

26 So al Iſrael bewayled him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very longe.

27 And Simon made vpon the ſepulchre of his father and his brethren, a building, hie to loke vnto, of free ſtone, behinde and before,

28 And ſet vp ſeuen pillers vpon it one againſt another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And ſet great pillers rounde about them, with armes vpon them for a perpetuall memorie, and carued ſhippes beſide the armes, that they might be ſeene of men ſayling in the ſea.

30 This ſepulchre which he made at Modin, ſtandeth yet vnto this day.

Ioſeph. cap. xiii. lib. xiii. 31 * Nowe as Tryphon went forth to walke with the young king Antiochus, he ſlue him trayterouſly, 32 And raigned in his ſteade, crowned him ſelfe king of Aſia, and did much euil in the lande.

F 33 Simon alſo built vp the caſtles in Iurie, making them ſtrong with hie towers, great walles, portes and lockes, and layde vp vitailes in the ſtronge holdes.

34 And Simon chooſe certaine men, & ſent them to king Demetrius, to deſire him that he would diſcharge the lande from all bondage, for Tryphon had ſpoyled it very ſore.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king aunſwered him, and wrote vnto him, after this maner:

36 Demetrius the king ſendeth greeting vnto Simon the hie prieſt his friend, with the elders & people of the Iewes:

37 The golden crowne and precious ſtone that ye ſent vnto vs, haue we receaued, and are redie to make a ſtedfaſt peace with you, yea and to write vnto our officers for to releaſe you, concerning the thinges wherein we made you free.

38 And the appoyntment that we make with you, ſhalbe firme and ſtable: the ſtrong holdes which ye haue builded, ſhalbe your owne.

39 As for any ouerſight or fault committed vnto this day, we forgeue it, and the crowne taxe that ye ought vs alſo: And where as was any other tribute in Hieruſalem, it ſhall now be no tribute:

40 And loke who are meete among you to be in our court, let them be written vp, that there may be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Iſrael, in the hundred and ſeuentith yere.

42 And the people of the Iewes began to write in their letters and actes on this maner: * In the firſt yere of Simon the hie prieſt, a gouernour and prince of the Iewes. i. Mac. xiii. d G

43 In thoſe dayes went Simon vnto Gaza, & beſieged it rounde about, where he ſet vp ordinaunce of warre, and wan a towre, which he toke.

44 So they that gat into the towre, lept into the citie, which was in a great feare:

45 Inſomuch that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and clymed vp vpon the walles, with their wiues and children, beſeching Simon to be at one with them, ſaying:

46 Orewarde vs not after our wickednelſe, but be gratious vnto vs, [and we ſhall do thee ſeruice.]

47 Then Simon for very pitie woulde fight no more againſt them, but put thē out of the citie, and cauſed the houſes wherein the images were, to be cleanſed, and ſo entred the citie with pſalmes of prayſe, geuing thankes vnto the Lorde.

48 So when he had caſt all abhominations out of the citie, he ſet ſuch men in it as kept the lawe of God, and made the citie ſtrong, and builded a dwelling place for him ſelfe.

9 Now when they in the caſtle at Hieruſalem were kept ſo ſtraightly that they coulde not come forth nor go into the countrey, & might neither bye nor ſel, they were very hungry, and many of them famiſhed to death:

50 Inſomuch that they beſought Simon to be at one with them, which he graunted them: So he put them out from thence, and cleanſed the caſtle from filthineſſe.

51 And

51 And vpon the twentie and three day of the second moneth, in the hundred threescore and eleuenth yere, they entred into it with thankesgeuing, and braunches of paulme trees, with harpes, croudes, cymbales, and lutes, singing psalmes and songes of praise vnto God, for that the great enemie of Israel was ouercome.

52 And Simon ordained that the same day shoulde be kept euery yere with gladnesse, 53 And made strong the hill of the temple that was beside the castle, where he dwelt him selfe with his company.

34 Simon also perceauing that Jhon his sonne was a mightie man of armes, made him captaine of all the hoastes, and caused him to dwell at " Gaza. " Or, Gazaris.

The. xiiij. Chapter.

1 Demetrius is ouercome of Arsaces. 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietnesse in Israel. 18 The couenaunt of frendship with the Romanes and with the people of Sparta is renued.

A 1 IN the hundred threescore and twelfth yere, gathered king Demetrius his hoast, and departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.

2 Now when Arsaces the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him aliue, [and to bring him vnto him.]

3 So he went and slue Demetrius hoast, toke him selfe, brought him to Arsaces, which kept him in warde.

4 And all the lande of Juda was in rest so long as Simon liued, for he sought the wealth of his people, therfore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to do him worship alway.

5 Simon wan the citie of Joppa also for an hauen towne, and made it an entraunce into the Iles of the sea:

6 He enlarged the borders of his people, and conquered them more lande:

B 7 He gathered vp many of their people that were prisoners, he had the dominion of Gaza, Bethsura, and the castle which he cleansed from filthynes, and there was no man that resisted him.

8 So that euery man tilled his grounde in peace, the lande of Juda and the trees gaue their fruite and encrease.

9 The elders sate all in iudgement, and toke their deuice for the wealth of the lande, the young men put on worshippe and harnesse vpon them.

10 He prouided vitailes for the cities, and made goodly strong holdes of them, so that the fame of his worship was spoken of vnto the ende of the worlde.

11 *For he made peace throughout the lande, and Israel was full of mirth and ioy. *Le.xxvi.a.

12 Euery man sate vnder his vine & figge trees, and there was no man to fraye them away.

13 There was none in the lande to fight C against them, for then the kinges were ouercome.

14 He helped those that were in aduersitie among his people, he was diligent to see the lawe kept: as for such as were vngodly and wicked, he toke them away.

15 He set vp the sanctuary, and encreased the holy vessels of the temple.

16 When the Romanes and Spartians had gotten worde that Jonathas was dead, they were right sory:

17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made hie priest in his steade, and how he had wonne the land againe with the cities in it:

18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renue the frendship and bonde of loue which they had made afore with Judas and Jonathas his brethren. i.Mac.viii.c. and xii.a.

19 which writinges were read before the congregation at Hierusalem. And this is the copie of the letters that the Spar- D tians sent:

20 The Senatours and citezins of Sparta send greeting vnto Simon the great priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Jewes their brethren:

21 When your Ambassadours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your worship, honour, & prosperous wealth:

We

we were glad of their comming,

22 And haue written the ambassage in the publike recordes in this maner: [namely] that Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason the Jewes ambassadours, are come vnto vs, for to renue the olde frendship with vs.

23 Upon this the people contented, that the men should be honorably intreated, and that the copie of their ambassage should be written in the speciall bookes of the people for a perpetuall memorie vnto the Spartians, yea and that we should send a copie of the same vnto Simon the great priest.

24 After this, did Simon send Numenius vnto Rome, with a golden shielde of a thousand pound waight, to confirme the frendship with them.

25 Which when the Romanes vnderstoode, they saide: What thankes shall we recompence againe vnto Simon and his children?

26 For he and his brethren and the house of his father, hath stablished Israel, and ouercommed their enemies, Wherefore they graunted him to be free, and confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillers in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the writing is this: The eighteenth day of the moneth Elul, in the hundred threescore and twelfth yere, in the third yere of Simon the hie priest, 28 In the great congregation of the priestes, rulers of the people, and elders of the countrey at " Saramel, were these wordes openly declared:

" Or, Hierusalem.

29 Forsomuch as there was much warre in our lande, therfore Simon the sonne of Mathathias come of the children of Jarib, & his brethren put them selues in perill, and resisted the enemies of their people, that their sanctuary and lawe might be maintayned, and did their people great worship.

30 Jonathas in lyke maner, after that he had gouerned his people and ben their hie priest, dyed, and lyeth buried beside his elders.

31 After that would their enemies haue troden their holy thinges vnder foote, destroyed their lande, and vtterlie wasted their sanctuary.

32 Then Simon withstoode them, and fought for his people, spent much of his owne money, weaponed the valiaunt men of his people, gaue them wages, 33 Made strong the cities of Juda, with Bethsura that lyeth vpon the borders of Jurie, where the ordinaunce of their enemies laye sometime, and set Jewes there for to kepe it.

34 He made fast Joppa also which lyeth vpon the sea, and " Gaza that bordereth vpon Azotus, where the enemies dwelt afore, and there he set Jewes to kepe it: and whatsoeuer was mete for the subduing of the aduersaries, that layed he therein.

" Or, Gazara.

35 Now when the people sawe the noble actes of Simon, and what worship he purposed to do for them, his godly behauour and faithfulnes which he kept vnto them, and how he sought by alwayes the wealth of his people: because he did all this, therefore they chose him to be their prince and hie priest.

36 And in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their lande, and they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Hierusalem in the castle, where they went out and defiled all thinges that were about the sanctuary, and did great harme vnto cleanlinesse:

37 And Simon put men of the Jewes in it for the defence of the land and citie, and set vp the walles of Hierusalem.

38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthood

39 For these causes: made him his friend, and did him great worship:

40 For he heard that the Romanes called the Jewes their friendes, louers, and brethren: howe honorably they receaued Simons Ambassadours:

41 Howe the Jewes and priestes contented that he should be their prince and hie priest perpetually, till God raysed vp the true prophete:

42 And that he shoulde be their captaine, to care for the sanctuarie, and to set officers vpon the workes thereof, ouer the lande, ouer the weapons, ouer the houses of defence, to make prouision for the holy thinges,

43 And to be obeyed of euery man, and all the writinges of the lande to be made in his name, that he should be clothed in purple and golde:

44 And that it should be lawfull for none of the people nor priestes to breake any of these thinges, to withstand his wordes, nor to call any congregation in the lande without him: that he should be clothed in purple, and weare a coller of golde.

of

45 And if there were any which disobeyed or brake this ordinaunce, that he should be punished.

46 So al the people consented to alow Simon, & to do according to these wordes:

47 Simon also him selfe toke it vpon him, and was content to be the hie priest, the captaine and prince of the Jewes and priestes, and to gouerne them all.

48 And they commaunded to make this writing in tables of brasse, and fasten it vnto the wall that compasseth the sanctuary, in an open place:

49 And to lay vp a copie of the same in the treasurie, that Simon and his posteritie might haue it.

The. xv. Chapter.

1 Antiochus maketh a couenaunt of frendship with Simon, 11 and Tryphon is persecuted. 15 The Romanes write letters vnto kinges and nations in the defence of the Jewes. 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his couenaũt.

1 A Moreouer, king Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius, sent letters from the Iles of the sea, vnto Simon the hie priest and prince of the Jewes, and to all the people,

2 Concerning these wordes: Antiochus the king sendeth greeting vnto Simon the hie priest, and to the people of the Jewes.

3 Forsomuch as certaine wicked men haue gotten the kingdome of our progenitours, I haue purposed to chalenge the realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great hoast, and made shippes of warre:

4 That I may go through the countrey, and be auenged of them which haue destroyed our lande, and wasted many cities in my realme.

5 And therefore nowe I make thee free also from all the tributes whereof all kinges my progenitours haue discharged thee, & from other customes wherefrom they haue released thee, whatsoeuer they be:

6 Yea, I geue thee leaue to smite money of thyne owne within thy lande.

7 As for Hierusalem, I wyll that it be holy and free, and all the weapons and B houses of defence which thou hast builded and kepest in thyne handes shable thyne.

8 Whereas any thing is or shalbe owing vnto the king, I forgeue it thee, from this time foorth for euermore.

9 And when we haue obtayned our kingdome, we shall do thee, thy people, and the temple, great worship: so that your honour shalbe knowen throughout the whole worlde.

10 In the hundred threescore & fourteenth yere went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the men of warre came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So the king Antiochus followed vpon him: but he fled vnto Dora, which lyeth by the sea side:

12 For he sawe that there was mischiefe comming vnto him, and that his hoast had forsaken him.

13 Then came Antiochus vnto Dora with an hundred and twentie thousand C men of armes on foote, and eyght thousand horsmen: so he compassed the citie rounde about, and the shippes came by the sea.

14 Thus they vexed the citie by land and by water, insomuch that they suffered no man to go in nor out.

15 In the meane season came* Numenius, & they that had ben with him, from the citie of Rome, hauing letters written vnto the kinges & prouinces, wherein were contayned these wordes: i.Mac.14.d.

16 Lucius the consull of Rome, sendeth greeting vnto Ptolomi the king.

17 The Ambassadours of the Jewes our frendes, being sent from Simon the hie priest, and from the people of the Jewes, came vnto vs for to renue the D olde frendship and bonde of loue,

18 Brought a shielde of golde weying a thousand pounde,

19 Wherefore, we thought it good to write vnto the kinges and prouinces, to do them no harme, nor to take part against them, their cities, nor countries, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.

20 And

20 And we were content to receaue of them the shielde.
21 If there be any wicked persons therefore fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hie priest, that he may punishe them according to their owne lawe.
22 The same wordes wrote the Romanes also vnto Demetrius the king, to Attalus, Araba, Arsaces, 23 And to all regions: as Samsanes, to them of Spartia, "Delo, "Mydo, Sidon, Caria, Samos, Pamphilia, Lycia, Alicarnassem, and to the Rhodes, to Faselidis, Coo, Sida, Arado, Cortyna, Gnidum, to Cypres, and Cyren.
24 And of euery letter they sent a copie to Simon the hie priest.
D 25 So Antiochus the king brought his hoast vnto Dora the second time to take it, where he made diuers ordinaunce of warre, and kept Tryphon in that he should not go eyther in or out.
26 Then sent Simon vnto Antiochus two thousand chosen men to helpe him, with golde, siluer, & other plenteous thinges.
27 Neuertheless, he would not receaue them, but brake all the couenaũt which he made with Simon afore, and withdrewe him selfe from him.
28 He sent Athenobius also a frend of his vnto Simon for to reason with him, saying: Ye withholde fro me Joppa and Gaza, with the castle that is at Hierusalem, which are cities of my realme, 29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed, and done great euill in the lande, hauing the dominion in many other places of my kingdome.
30 Wherfore deliuer now the cities which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places that ye haue rule vpon without E the borders of Jurie:
31 Or els geue me fiue hundred talentes of siluer: yea & for the harme that ye haue done in the cities & for the tributes of the same, other fiue hundred talentes: yf no, we shall come and fight against you.
32 So Athenobius the kinges friend came to Hierusalem, and when he sawe the great worship & honour of Simon in golde, siluer, & so great plentie of ornamentes, he marualed: & tolde Simon as the king commaunded him.
33 Then answered Simon, and saide vnto him: *As for vs, We haue neither taken other mens landes, nor withholden thē: but onely our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certaine time. *1.Mac.xi.d.
34 This heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in processe of time.
35 And Whereas thou complaynest concerning Joppa & Gaza, they did great harme to our people and in our lande, yet will we geue an hundred talentes for them. Neuertheless, Athenobius answered him not one worde:
36 But turned againe wrothfully vnto the king, & tolde him al these words, and the great dignitie of Simon, with al that he had seene: & the king was very angry.
37 And in the meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Orthosias.
38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him an hoast of footemen and horsemen, F
39 Commaunding him to remoue the hoast toward Jurie, & to builde vp the citie of Cedron, to make vp the portes, and to warre against the people of the Jewes: As for the king him selfe, he followed vpon Tryphon.
40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to vexe the people, to treade downe Jurie, to take the people prisoners, to slay them, 41 And *to builde vp Cedron, where he set horsmen and other men of warre, that they might come forth, and go through the streetes of Jurie, lyke as the king had commaunded him. *1.Mac.xvi.b

"Or, Delus. "Or, Mydus.

The. xvj. Chapter.

1 Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus hoast, is put to flight of the sonnes of Simon.
11 Ptolomeus the sonne of Abobus killeth Simon and his two sonnes at a banket, 23 John killeth them that lye in wayte for his lyfe.

A 1 Then came John vp from *Gaza, and tolde Simon his father what Cendebeus had done [among their people.] *1.Mac.xiii.f
2 Upon this called Simon two of his eldest sonnes, Judas and John, and saide vnto them: I and my brethren and my fathers house haue euer from our youth vp vnto this day foughten against the enemies of Israel: and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Israel ofttimes.

3 And

3 And now forsomuch as I am olde, and ye by gods goodnesse are of a sufficient age, be ye in steade of me and my brother, to go forth and fight for our people: and the helpe of God be with you.
4 So he chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey, with horsemen also, whiche went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.
5 In the morning they arose and went into the playne fielde, and beholde a mightie great hoast came against them, both of footemen and horsemen: Nowe was there a water broke betwixt them,
6 And Iohn remoued the hoast towarde them: and when he saw that the people was afrayde to go ouer the water broke, he went ouer first him selfe: and the men seyng this, folowed him.
B 7 Then Iohn set his horsemen and footemen in order, the one by the other: for their enemies horsemē were very many.
8 But when they blewe vp the priestes trumpettes, Cendebeus fled with his hoast: whereof many were slayne, and the remnaunt gat them to their strong holdes.
9 Iudas also Iohns brother was wounded at the same time, and Iohn folowed still vpon the enemies, till he came to Cedron, *which Cendebeus had builded. *Mac. xv. f.
10 The [enemies] fled also vnto the towres that were in the fieldes of Azotus, and those dyd Iohn burne vp with fyre: Thus there were slayne two thousand men of them, and Iohn turned againe peaceably into Iurie.
11 And in the fielde of Iericho was Ptolomi the sonne of Abobus made captayne: which, because he had aboundaunce of siluer and golde
12 (For he had maried the daughter of Simon the hye priest)
13 Waxed proude in his minde, & thought to conquer the land, imagining falshood against Simon and his sonnes, to destroy them.
C 14 Nowe as Simon was goyng about thorow the cities that were in the countrey of Iurie, and caring for them, he came downe to Iericho with Mathathias & Iudas his sonnes, in the hundred threescore & seuenteenth yere, in the eleuenth moneth, called Sabat.
15 Then [Ptolomi] the sonne of Abobus receaued them, but with disceyte, into a strong house of his, called Dochus, whiche he had buylded, where he made them a banket, and had hyd men there.
16 So when Simon and his sonnes were mery, and had dronken well, Ptolomi stoode vp with his men [whom he had hid there] and toke their weapons, entred into the banket house, and slue Simon with his two sonnes, and certayne of his seruauntes.
17 Such great vnfaythfulnesse dyd Ptolomi in Israel, and recompenced euyll for good.
18 Then wrote Ptolomi these thinges, & sent vnto king [Antiochus] requiring him that he shoulde sende hym an hoast to helpe him: and so should he deliuer him the lande, with the cities and tributes of the same.
19 He sent other men also vnto Gaza for to take Iohn, and wrote vnto the captaynes to come to him, and he shoulde geue them siluer, gold, and rewardes.
20 And to Hierusalem he sent other to take it, and the sanctuarie.
21 Then ran there one before, and tolde D Iohn in Gaza, that his father and his brethren were slayne, & howe that Ptolomi had sent to slay him also.
22 When Iohn hearde this, he was sore abashed, and layed handes of them that were come to destroy hym, and slue them: for he knewe that they went about to kill hym
23 As for other thinges concerning Iohn, of his warres, of his noble actes wherin he behaued hym selfe manfully, of the buylding of walles which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 They are written in the cronicles of his priesthood, from the time forth that he was made hye priest after his father.

¶ The end of the first booke of the Machabees.

The seconde booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

1 An epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Hierusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherin they exhort them to geue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hyd in the pit. 24 The prayer of Nehemias.

A 1 The brethren of the Iewes which be at Hierusalem, & in the lande of Iurie, wishe vnto these brethrē of the Iewes that are throwout Egypt health and peace.

2 God be gracious vnto you, and thinke vpon his couenaunt that he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, his faythfull seruauntes:

Deu.xxx.b 3 *And geue you all such an heart that ye may loue and serue hym, yea and perfourme his will with an whole heart and a willing mynde:

4 He open your heartes vnto his law, and in his commaundementes, & sende you peace,

5 Heare your prayers, be at one with you, and neuer forsake you in time of trouble,

6 Forsomuch as now we here be praying for you.

B 7 What time as Demetrius raigned, in the hundred threescore & nyne yere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble & violence that came vnto vs: In those yeres, after that Iason departed out of the holy lande and kingdome,

8 They brent vp the portes, and shed innocent blood: then made we our prayer vnto the Lorde, and were heard, we offered vp sacrifices and fine floure, setting forth cakes and bread:

Leu.xxiii.f. Nouem. 9 *And nowe come ye vnto the feast of tabernacles in the moneth *Casleu.

10 In the hundred fourescore and eyghteene yere, the people that was at Hierusalem and in Iurie, the counsel, and Iudas him selfe, sent this wholsome salutation vnto Aristobulus king Ptolomies maister, Whiche came of the generation of the annoynted priestes, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt:

11 Insomuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke hym hyly, no lesse at all then if we had vanquished the king in battell.

12 For when he with those that had fought against the holy citie, dyd set vpon Persia:

13 For as he was in Persis [namely] the captayne with the great hoast, he perished in the temple of Naneas, beyng disceaued throwe the deuice of Naneas priestes.

14 For when Antiochus, as he that should marry with her, came, and his friendes with him, into the place to receaue by name of dowrie the money whiche the priestes of Naneas had set forth: C

15 He entred with a small companie into the compasse of the temple, and so they shut the temple.

16 Nowe when Antiochus entred by opening the priuy entraunce of the temple, the priestes stoned the captayne to death, hewed them in peeces that were with him, smote of their heades, and threwe them out.

17 In all thinges God be praysed, Which hath deliuered the wicked into our handes [to be punished]

18 Where as we are now purposed to kepe the purification of the temple vpon the twentie & fiue day of the moneth Casleu, we thought necessarie to certifie you therof: that ye also might *kepe the tabernacles feast day, and the day of the fire', Whiche was geuen vs when Nehemias offered, after that he had set vp the temple and the aulter. Leu.xxiii.f. Nu.xxix.b. iii.Esdr.v.c.

19 For what time as our fathers were led away vnto Persis, the priestes whiche then sought the honour of God, toke the fire priuily from the aulter, and hyd it in a valley, where as was a deepe drye pit: and therin they kept it, so that the place was vnknowen to euery man.

20 Nowe

20 Nowe after many yeres, When it pleased God that Nehemias shoulde be sent from the king of Persia, *he sent the childers children of those priestes which had hyd the fyre, to seke it: and as they told vs, they found no fire, but thicke Water.

21 Then commaunded he them to drawe it vp, and to bring it him, and the offeringes withall. Nowe When the sacrifices were layed on and ordred, Nehemias commaunded the priestes to sprinckle them and the wood With Water.

22 When this was done, & the time come that the sunne shone Whiche afore was hyd in the cloude, there Was a great fire kindled, in so much that euery man marueyled.

23 Now all the priestes prayed Whyle the sacrifice was a making: Jonathas prayed first, and the other gaue aunswere.

24 And Nehemias prayer was after this maner: O Lorde God, maker of all thinges, thou fearfull and strong, thou righteous and mercifull, thou that art onely a gratious king,

25 Only liberall, only iust, almightie and euerlasting, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, thou that hast chosen the fathers & halowed them fauorably:

26 Receaue the offering for thy Whole people of Israel, preserue thyne owne portion, and halowe it, 27 Gather those together that are scattred abrode from vs, deliuer them that are vnder the heathens bondage, loke vpon them Whiche are despised and abhorred: that the heathen may know and see howe that thou only art God, Which art our God.

28 Punishe them that oppresse & proudly put vs to dishonour. D

29 Set thy people againe in thy holy place, *like as Moyses hath spoken. Deu.xxx.a,

30 And the priestes song Psalmes of thankesgeuing, so long as the sacrifice endured.

31 Nowe When the sacrifice was brent, Nehemias commaunded the great stones to be sprinkled With the residue of the Water.

32 *Which When it was done, there was kindled a flambe of them also: but it was consumed thorowe the light that shyned from the aulter. Iud.vi.d. 3.Re.xviii.c Eccl.xlvii,a 33 So When this matter Was knowen, it was tolde the king of Persia, that in the place Where the priestes Which were led away had hyd fyre, there appeared Water, and that Nehemias and his companie had purified the sacrifices withall.

34 Then the king considering and pondering the matter diligently, inclosed the place, and consecrated a temple, to proue the thing that Was done:

35 And When he founde it so in deede, he gaue the priestes many giftes & diuers rewardes, yea he toke them With his owne hand, and gaue them.

36 And Nehemias called the same place (a) Nephthar, Whiche is as much to say as a clensing: but many men call it Nephi. (a) Ephthar which is to say, a shyning: it is also called Nephi or Nephthar, Whiche is a clensing.

The .ii. Chapter.

4 Howe Jeremie hyd the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter in the hyll. 23 Of the fiue bookes of Jason conteyned in one.

A 1 IT is founde also in the Writinges of Jeremi the prophete, that he commaunded them Whiche Were caried away, to take fyre, *as it is sayde afore. Mach.i.e. xxxx.b. Baruch.vi.a

2 He commaunded them also that they should not forget the lawe & commaundementes of the Lorde, and that they shoulde not erre in their mindes, When they see images of siluer and gold, With their ornamentes.

3 These and such other thinges commaunded he them, and exhorted them that they shoulde not let the law of God go out of their heartes.

4 It is Written also, how the prophete at the commaundement of God charged them to take the tabernacle & the arke With them: and he went forth vnto the mountayne Where Moyses clymed vp, *and sawe the heritage of God. Deute.34.a.

5 And When Jeremi came there, he found an open caue, Wherin he layed the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter of incense, and so stopped the doore.

6 There came certayne men together also, folowing him to marke the place, but they coulde not finde it.

7 Whiche when Jeremie perceaued, he reproued them, saying: As for that place it shalbe vnknowen, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and receaue them vnto mercie.

8 Then shall God shewe them these thinges, and the maiestie of the Lorde shal appeare* & the cloude also, like as it was shewed vnto Moyses: and like as when Solomon desired that the place might be honorablie sanctified, and it was shewed hym.

Exo. xiii.d. i. Reg. viii.b

9 For he beyng a wyse man, handled honorably and wysely, offering vnto God in the halowing of the temple when it was finished.

Leui. x.d.

10 *And like as when Moyses prayed vnto the Lorde, the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering: Euen so prayed Solomon also, *and the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering.

11 And Moyses sayde: Because the sinne offering was not eaten, therefore it is consumed.

ii. Para. vii. a.

12 In like maner Solomon kept the dedication [or halowing] eyght dayes.

13 In the annotations and writinges of *Jeremi were these thinges put also: and howe he made a library, and howe he gathered out of all countreys the bookes of the kinges, & of the prophetes, and of Dauid, and the epistles of the kinges concerning the holy giftes.

Some reade Nehemias.

14 Euen so Judas also, loke what he learned by experience of warre, and such thinges as hath happened vnto vs, he gathered them altogether, and so we haue them by vs.

15 If ye now desire to haue the same, send some body to fetch them vnto you.

16 Where as we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you: therefore ye shall do well, if ye kepe the same dayes.

17 We hope also, that the God which deliuered his people, and gaue them al the heritage, kingdome, priesthood, and sanctuarie,

Den. xxx.a

18 *That he promised them in the law, shal shortly haue mercie vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holie place: for he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath clensed the place.

19 As concerning Judas Machabeus and his brethren, the purification of the great temple, the dedication of the aulter:

20 Yea and of the warres that concerne noble Antiochus & *Eupator his sonne: i. Mach. vi.a

21 And the miracles shewed from heauen by the valiaunt actes of those which defended the Jewes religion, so that a fewe ran through the whole countrey, and draue away the barbarous armies:

22 Repaired againe the temple that was spoken of throughout all the world, deliuered the citie, doyng their best that the law of the Lord which was put downe, might with all tranquilitie be restored againe vnto the Lord, that was so mercifull vnto them. ¶

23 As touching Jason also of Cyren, we haue vndertaken compendiously to bring into one booke the thinges that were comprehended of him in fyue.

24 For we, considering the multitude of the bookes, and howe hard it shoulde be for them that woulde meddle with stories and actes, and that because of so diuers matters:

25 Haue vndertaken so to comprehend the stories, that such as are disposed to reade, might haue pleasure and pastime therin: and that they which are diligent in such thinges, might the better thinke vpon them: yea and that whosoeuer reade them, might haue profite therby.

26 Neuertheless, we our selues that haue medled with this matter for the shortening of it, haue taken no small labour, but great diligence, watchinges, and trauayle.

27 Like as they that make a feast, would fayne do other men pleasure: euen so we also for many mens sakes, are very well content to take the labour,

28 Where as we may shortly comprehend the thinges that other men haue truely written. ¶

29 For he that buyldeth an house anewe, must prouide for many thinges to the whole buylding: but he that paynteth it afterward, seketh but only that is comely, meete and conuenient to garnishe it withall.

30 Euen so do we also in like maner: And why? he that beginneth first to wryte a storie, must with his vnderstanding gather the matter together, set his wordes in order, and diligently ligently seke out euery part.

31 But he that afterwarde will shorten it, vseth fewe wordes, and toucheth not the matter at the largest: Let this be sufficient for a prologue.
32 Now will we begin to shew the matter: for it is but a foolishe thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the storie it selfe.

The. iii. Chapter.

1 Of the honour done vnto the temple by the kinges of the gentiles. 6 Simón vttereth what treasure is in the temple. 9 Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 26 He is striken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

A 1 What time as the holy citie was inhabited in all peace and wealth, and when the lawes were yet very well kept: for so was it ordeyned thorowe the godlinesse of Onias the hye priest, and other godly men that were enemies to wickednesse,
2 It came therto, *that euen the kinges and princes them selues dyd the place great worship, and garnished the temple with great giftes:
3 Insomuch that Seleucus king of Asia of his owne rentes bare all the coastes belonging to the seruice of the offringes.
4 Then *Simon, of the tribe of Beniamin, ruler of the temple, vpon a variaunce risen betweene him & the hygh priest for wickednesse that was done in the citie,
5 For that he could not ouercome Onias, he gat him to *Apollonius the sonne of Thraseas, which then was chiefe Lorde in Celosyria and Phenices,
6 And tolde hym, that the treasurie in Hierusalem was full of innumerable money, & how that the common goodes whiche belongeth not vnto the offeringes, were exceeding great also: yea and howe it were possible that all these might come vnder the kinges power.
B 7 Now when Apollonius had shewed the king of the money, as it was tolde him: the king called for Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundement to bring him the same money.
8 Immediatly Heliodorus toke his iourney, but vnder a colour as though he woulde go thorowe Celosyria and Phenices to visite the cities, but his purpose was to fulfill the kinges pleasure.
9 So when he came to Hierusalem, and was louingly receaued of the hye priest into the citie, he tolde what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comming: he asked also if it were so in deede.
10 Then the hye priest tolde hym, that there was such money layed vp for the vpholding of wydowes and fatherlesse children,
11 And how that a certayne of it belonged vnto Hyrcanus the sonne of Tobias a noble man, & that of all the money (and not as that wicked Simon had reported) there were foure hundreth talentes of siluer, and two hundred of golde:
12 Yea & that it were vnpossible for those mens meaning to be disceaued that had put assured confidence in the holinesse of the place, & in the maiestie & vndoubted safetie of the temple, Whiche is had in worship thorowe the whole worlde, for the mayntenaunce and honour of the same.
13 Whervnto Heliodorus aunswered, that the king had commaunded hym in any wyse to bring hym the money.
C 14 So at the day appoynted, Heliodorus entred into the temple to order this matter: Wherefore there was no small feare throughout the whole citie.
15 The priestes fell downe before the aulter in their vestmentes, and called vnto heauen vpon hym *Whiche had made a lawe concerning stuffe geuen to kepe that they shoulde be safely preserued for such as commited them vnto keping. Exo. xxii. b.
16 Then who so had loked the hye priest in the face, it woulde haue greeued his heart: for his countenaunce and the chaunging of his colour, declared the inwarde sorowe of his mynde.
17 The man was all in heauinesse, and his body in feare: whereby they that loked vpon him, might perceaue the griefe of his heart.
18 The other people also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come into confusion.

i. Mach. i. b. 2
ii. Mac. iii. a.
ii. Mac. iii. b.

19 The women came together thorowe the streetes with heary clothes about their brestes: the virgins also that were kept in, ran to Onias, some of them ran to the gates, some vp vpon the walles, other some loked out at the windowes.

20 Yea they all helde vp their handes towarde heauen, and prayed:

D

21 A miserable thing was it to loke vpon the common people, and the hie priest beyng in such trouble.

22 But they besought almightie God that the goodes which were committed vnto them, might be kept whole for those that had deliuered them vnto their keping.

23 Neuertheleſſe, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to do, that perfourmed he in the same place, he hym selfe personally beyng about the treasurie with his men of warre.

24 But the spirite of almightie God shewed him selfe openly, so that all they which presumed to obey Heliodorus, fel thorow the power of God into a great fearefulneſſe and dread.

ii. Mach. x. e and xi. b.

25 *For there appeared vnto them an horse, with a terrible man sitting vpon him, decke in goodly aray, and the horse smote at Heliodorus with his forefeete: Nowe he that sate vpon the horse, had harneſſe of golde vpon him.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two fayre and beautifull young men of notable strength in goodly aray, whiche stoode by him, scourged him of both the sides, and gaue hym many strypes without ceasſing.

ii. Mach. v. c

27 *With that fell Heliodorus sodenly vnto the grounde, so they toke him vp beyng compaſſed about with great darkeneſſe, & bare him out vpon a beere.

E

28 Thus he that came with so many runners and men of warre into the sayde treasurie, was borne out, where as no man might helpe hym, beyng destitute of harneſſe and weapons: and so the power of God was manifest & knowen.

29 He lay still dumbe also by the power of God, destitute of all hope and life.

30 And they prayſed the Lord, that he had shewed his power vpon his place and temple, which a litle afore was full of feare and trouble, and that thorough the reuelation of the almightie Lord it was filled with ioy and gladneſſe, 31 Then certayne of Heliodorus friendes prayed Onias that in al haſte he would call vpon God, to graunt hym his lyfe, which was geuing vp the ghoſt.

32 So the hye priest fearing leſt the king should suſpect that the Jewes had done Heliodorus some[a] euyll, he offered an offering for his health.

(a) In working some treachery, or sorcerie against him.

33 Nowe when the hye priest had obtaytayned his petition, the same young men in the same clothing appeared, & stoode beside Heliodorus, saying, Thanke Onias the hye priest: *for for his sake hath the Lorde graunted thee thy lyfe.

Act. xxviii c

34 Therfore seyng that God hath scourged thee, geue hym prayſe and thankes, and shewe euery man his might and power. And when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto hym whiche had graunted him his lyfe, thanked Onias, toke his hoaſt, and went againe to the king.

F

36 Then teſtified he vnto euery man, of the great workes of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the king aſked Heliodorus who were meete to be sent yet once againe to Hieruſalem, he sayde:

38 If thou haſt any enemie or aduerſarie vnto thy realme, sende him thyther, and thou shalt haue hym puniſhed, if he escape with his lyfe: for in that place [no doubt] there is a special power and working of God.

30 For he that dwelleth in heauen, viſiteth and defendeth that place, and all that come to do it harme he puniſheth and plagueth them.

40 This is nowe the matter concerning Heliodorus, and the keping of the treaſurie [at Hieruſalem.] G

The

The .iiii. Chapter.

1 Simon reporteth euyll of Onias. 7 Jason desiring the office of the hie priest, corrupted the king with rewardes. 19 The wicked intent of Jason.

A 1 THis Simon nowe (of whom we spake afore) being a bewrayer of the money and of his owne natural cõtrey, reported ẏ worst of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, & as though he had ben a bringer vp of euil.

2 Thus was he not ashamed to call hym an enemie of the realme, that was so faythful an ouerseer and defender of the citie and of his people, yea and so feruent in the lawe of God.

3 But when the malice of Simon increased so farre, that thorowe his frendes there were certayne manslaughters committed:

4 Onias considered the peryll that might come thorowe this stryfe, and howe that Apollonius the chiefe Lorde in Celosiria and Phenices, was al set vpon tiranne, and Simons malice increased the same:

5 He gat him to the king, not as an accuser of the citezins, but as one that by him selfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude.

6 For he sawe it was not possible to liue in peace, neither Simon to leaue of from his foolishnesse, except the king did loke therto.

B 7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, whiche is called the noble, toke the kingdome, Jason the brother of Onias laboured to be hye priest:

8 For he came vnto the king, and promised hym three hundred and threescore talentes of siluer, and of the other rentes fourescore talentes.

9 Besides this, he promised hym yet an hundred and fiftie more, if he might haue licence to set vp a schoole and an exercise of weapons, and that he might call them of Hierusalem Antiochians.

10 Which when the kinḡ had graunted, and he had gotten the superiorite, he began immediatly to draw his kinsmen to the custome of the heathen,

11 Put downe the thinges that the Jewes had set vp of loue by Jhon the father of Eupolonius, whiche was sent ambassadour vnto Rome for to make the bonde of friendship and loue, he put downe all the lawes and liberties of the Jewes, and set vp the wicked statutes.

12 For when he had made a schoole of fence vnder the castle, he drewe all the chiefest yong men on his side, and trayned them to were (a) hattes.

(a) Thes hattes were tokens of wantonnesse that the gentiles vsed.

13 And there was such a feruent desire to come to the maners of the heathen, and to take vp newe straunge fashions brought in thorowe the vngratious and vnhearde wickednesse of Jason, which shoulde not be called a priest, but an vngodly person:

14 Insomuch that the priestes were now no more occupied about the seruice of the aulter: but despised the temple, regarded not the offeringes, yea gaue their diligence to learne to fight, to wrastle, to leape, to daunce, and to cast the stone: C

15 Not setting by the honour of the fathers, but liked the glorie of the Grekes best of all:

16 For the which they stroue perylously, & were greedy to folow their statutes, yea their lust was in all thinges to be like them, whiche afore were their enemies and destroyers.

17 Howbeit to do wickedly against the law of God, shal not escape vnpunished, but of this we shall speake hereafter.

18 What time as the *Olimpians sportes were played at Tyrus, the king hym selfe beyng present, *These were kept euery fifteth yere

19 This vngratious Jason sent wicked men, bearing from them of Hierusalem (which nowe were called Antiochians) three hundred drachmes of siluer for an offering to Hercules: these had they that caryed them desired vnder such a fashion as though they should not haue ben offered, but bestowed to other vses.

20 Neuertheles, he that sent them, sent them to the intẽt that they should be offered vnto Hercules: but because of those that were present, they were geuen as to the making of shippes.

21 And Apollonius the sonne of Menestheus was sent into Egypt, because of the noble men of king Ptolomi Philometor. Nowe when Antiochus perceaued that he was put out from (a) medling in the realme, he sought D his owne profite, departed from thence,

(a) From his honour and gaynes.

came to Joppa, and then to Hierusalem,
D 22 where he was honorably receaued of Jason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torche light and with great prayse: and so he turned his hoast vnto Phenices.
23 After three yeres Jason sent Menelaus
1.Mac.iiii.b (the foresayd Simons brother) *to beare the money vnto the king, & to bring him aunswere of other necessarie matters.
24 But he when he was commended to the king for magnifiyng of his power, turned the priesthood vnto him selfe, laying vp three hundred talentes of siluer for Jason.
25 So when he had gotten commaunde-mentes from the king, he came, hauing nothing that becommeth a priest, but bearing the stomacke of a cruel tyraunt, and the wrath of a wilde brute beast.
1.Mach.iii.b 26 *Then Jason which had disceaued his owne brother, seyng that he hym selfe was begiled also, was fayne to flee into the lande of the Ammonites, 27 And Menelaus gat the dominion: but as for the money that he had promised vnto the king, he dyd nothing therin, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it of him.
E 28 For Sostratus was the man that gathered the customes: wherefore they were both called before the king.
29 Thus was Menelaus put out of the priesthood, & Lysimachus his brother came in his steade, and Sostratus left Crates ouerseer of the (b) Cyprians.
(b) That is, of them that measured the coyne.
30 It happened in the meane season, that the Tharsians and Mallotians made insurrection, because they were geuen for a present vnto Antiochus the kinges concubine.
31 Then came the king in all haste to still them againe, and to pacifie the matter, leauing Andronicus there to be his deputie as one meete therfore.
32 Now Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a right conuenient time, stole cer-tayne vessels of golde out of the temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present: and some he solde at Tyrus, and in the cities therby.
33 Whiche when Onias knewe of a sure-tie, he reproued him: but he kept him in a sanctuarie beside Daphnis, that lyeth by Antioche.
34 Wherefore Menelaus gat hym to An-dronicus, and prayed him that he would slay Onias. So when he came to Onias, he counseled hym craftyly to come out of the sanctuarie, geuing hym his hande with an oth, (how be it he suspect hym) and then he slue Onias without any regarde of righteousnesse.
35 For the whiche cause not onely the F Jewes, but other nations also, toke indignation, and were displeased for the vnrighteous death of so godly a man.
36 And when the king was come againe from Cilicia, the Jewes and certayne of the Grekes went vnto hym, complay-ning for the vnrighteous death of Onias.
37 Yea Antiochus hym selfe was sory in his mynde for Onias, so that it pitied him: and he wept, remembring his sobernesse and manerly behauour.
38 Wherefore he was so kindled in his minde, that he commaunded Andronicus to be stripped out of his purple clothing, and so to be led throughout the ci-tie, yea and the vngratious man to be slayne in the same place where he committed his wickednesse vpon Onias:
Thus the Lorde rewarded him his pu-nishement, as he had deserued.
39 Now when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the temple thorow the counsell of Menelaus, and the voyce came abrode: the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus, for he had caryed out now much golde.
40 So when the people arose, and were full of displeasure, Lysimachus armed three thousande vnthrifties to defende him, a certayne tyraunt being their captayne, which was growen both in age and woodnesse.
41 They therefore seyng the interprise of Lysimachus, caught vp, some stones, some blockes endes, & some handfulles of dust that was next at hand, & threwe them vpon the rebelles of Lysimachus bande that had set vpon them.
42 Thus there were many of them wound- G ded, some beyng slayne, and all the other chased away: But as for the wicked church robber hym selfe, they killed him beside the treasurie.
43 Of these matters therefore, there was kept a court against Menelaus.
44 Now when the king came to Tyrus, three men that were sent from the senate pleaded him giltie before the king.

45 But

45 But Menelaus being nowe conuict, went & promised Ptolomi the sonne of Dozymenes to geue him much money, if he woulde pacifie the king towarde him.

46 So Ptolomi went to the king into a court, where as he was set to coole him, and brought him out of that minde:

47 Insomuch that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, that notwithstanding was cause of all mischiefe: and those poore men which if they had tolde their cause, yea before the Scythians, they shoulde haue ben iudged innocent, them he condepmned to death.

48 Thus were they soone punished, which followed vpon the matter for the citie, for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they also of Tyrus, moued with hatred of that wicked deede, caused them to be very honorably buried.

50 And so through the couetousnesse of them that were in power, Menelaus remayned still in authoritie, encreasing in malice, to the hurt of the citezins.

The .v. Chapter.

2 Of the signes and tokens seene in Hierusalem. 6 Of the ende and office of Jason.
11 The pursute of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15 The spoyling of the temple.

A 1 About the same time Antiochus vndertoke his second viage into 2 Egypt.

And then were there seene throughout all the citie of [Hierusalem] fourtie dayes longe, horsmen running in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bandes of speare men,

3 And as troupes of horsmen set in aray, incountering and coursing one against another, with shaking of shieldes and multitude of dartes, and drawing of swordes, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harnesse of all sortes.

4 Wherefore euery man prayed that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Now When there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had ben dead, Jason toke a thousand men, and came sodenly vpon the citie: the citezins ranne vnto the walles, at the last was the citie taken, and Menelaus fled into the castle.

6 As for Jason, he spared not his owne citezins in the slaughter, neither considered he what great euill it were to destroy the prosperitie of his owne kinsemen: but did as one that had gotten the victory of his enemies, and not of his

i.Mac.iiii.f. 7 For all this gat he not the superioritie, but at the last receaued confusion for his malice, * and fled againe lyke a vacabound into the land of the Ammonites.

8 Finally, for a reward of his wickednesse, he was accused before Aretha the king of the Arabians, insomuch that he was faine to flee from citie to citie, being despised of euery man as a forsaker of the lawes, and an abhominable person: and at the last as an open enemie of his owne naturall countrey and of the citezins, he was driuen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that afore put many out of their owne native lande, perished from home him selfe: he went to Lacedemon, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And he that afore had caste many one out vnburied, Was throwen out him selfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: so that he neither enioyed the buriall of a straunger, neither was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 Now when this was done, the king suspected that the Iewes woulde haue fallen from him, wherefore he came in a great displeasure out of Egypt,* & toke i.Mac.i.c.
the citie by violence.

12 He commaunded his men of warre also, that they should kill and not spare: but slay downe such as withstoode them, or clymed vp vpon the houses.

13 Thus was there a great slaughter of C young men, olde men, women, children, and virgins.

14 In three dayes were there slaine fourscore thousand, fourtie thousand put in prison: and there were as many solde as were slaine.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst go into the most holy temple of al the worlde, Menelaus that traytour to the lawes and to his owne naturall countrey

countrey being his guide.

16 And with his wicked handes toke the holy vessels, which other kinges and cities had geuen thyther for the garnishing & honour of the place, them toke he in his handes vnworthyly, and defiled them.

17 So mad was Antiochus, that he considered not how that God was not a little wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which such confusion came vpon that place.

Iudi.v.b. 18 * And why? if it had not happened them to haue ben lapped in many sinnes, this Antiochus assoone as he had come, had sodenly ben punished and shut out of his presumption,* like as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to robbe the treasurie.

ii Mac.iii.b.

D 19 Neuertheless, God hath not chosen the people for the places sake: but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shall it enioy the wealth of them: And lyke as it was now forsaken in the wrath of almightie God, so when the great God is reconsiled, it shalbe set vp in hie worship againe.

21 So when Antiochus had taken a thousand and eyght hundred talentes out of the temple, he gat him to Antioch in al the haste, thinking in his pride that he might make men saile vpon the drye lande, and to go vpon the sea, such an hie minde had he.

22 He left deputies there to vexe the people: at Hierusalem left he Philip a Phrygian, in maners more cruell then him selfe that set him there:

23 At Garizim he left Andronicus and Menelaus, which were more greeuous to the citezins then other.

i.Mac.i.a. 24 *Nowe as he was thus set in malice against the Iewes, he sent Apollonius, a cruell prince, with an armie of twentie and two thousand, commaunding him to slay those that were of perfect age, and to sell the women, maydens, and children.

E 25 When he came now to Hierusalem, he faigned peace, & kept him still vntill the Sabbath day: and then he commaunded his men to take them to their weapons, for the Iewes kept holy day:

26 And so he slue all them that were gone forth to the open play, running [here and there] through the citie with his men weaponed, and murthered a great number.

i.Mac.i.c. 27 *But Iudas Machabeus, which was the tenth, fled into the wildernesse, led his lyfe there with his company among wylde beastes and vpon the mountaynes, dwelling there, and eating hearbes, lest they shoulde be partakers of the filthynesse.

The. vj. Chapter.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the lawe of God. 4 The temple is defiled.
12 The readers are admonished that they shall not abhorre the aduersitie where-with the Lorde afflicteth them. 28 The greeuous paine of Eleazarus.

A 1 NOt longe after this, sent the king an olde man of Antioch, "for to compell the Iewes to transgresse the ordinaunces of the fathers, & of the lawe of God, "Or, Athen.

2 To defile the temple that was at Hierusalem, and to call it the temple of Iupiter Olimpius: and that they shoulde be in Garizim, as those which dwel at the place of Iupiter the harberous.

3 This wicked sedition of the vngodlie, was heauy vpon all the people:

4 For the temple was full of voluptuousnes, bibbing and bolling of the heathen, of rybaudes and harlots together: the women went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawfull.

5 The aulter also was full of vnlawfull thinges, which the law forbiddeth to lay vpon it,

6 The Sabbathes were not kept, the other solempne feastes of the land were not regarded: to be plaine, there durst no man be knowē that he was a Iewe.

7 In the day of the kinges birth they were compelled parforce to offer, and B when the feaste of Bacchus was kept, they were constrayned to weare garlandes of iuie, and so to go about to the honour of Bacchus.

8 Moreouer, through the counsell of Ptolomeus, there went out a cōmaundement dement vnto the next cities of the heathen against the Jewes, that the lyke custome & banketting should be kept.

9 And who so would not conforme themselues to the maners of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue seene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women accused to haue circumcized their sonnes: whom when they had led rounde about the citie the babes hanging at their brestes, they cast them downe headlonges ouer the walles.

11 Some that were crept in dennes, and had kept the Sabbath, were accused vnto Philip, and brent in the fire, because that for the feare of God they kept the commaundement so stiffely, and would not defende themselues.

12 Now Jbeseche all those which reade this booke, that they refuse it not for these fals of aduersitie, and iudge the thinges that are happened for no destruction, but for a chastening of our people.

13 And why? when God suffereth not sinners long to folow their owne minde, but shortly punisheth them, *it is a token of his great louing kindnesse.

14 For this grace haue we of God more then other people, That he suffreth not vs long to sinne vnpunished, lyke as other nations, 15 That when the day of iudgement commeth, he may punishe them in the fulnes of their sinnes.

16 If we sinne, he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraweth his mercie from vs: and though he punishe with aduersitie, yet doth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this that we haue spoken now with fewe wordes, be for a warning and exhortation" of the heathen: Now wyll we come to the declaring of the matter.

18 Eleazar one of the principall scribes, an aged man, and of a well fauoured countenaunce, was constrained to gape with open mouth, *and to eate swynes flesh.

19 But he desiring rather to dye gloriously then to lyue with shame, offered himselfe willingly to the martirdome.

20 Now when he saw that he must nedes go to it, he toke it patiently: for he was at a poynt with himselfe, that he would not consent to any vnlawful thing for any pleasure of lyfe.

21 They that (a) stoode by, being moued with pitie (but not a right) for the olde frendship of the man, toke him aside priuilie, and prayed him that he would let such flesh be brought him as were lawfull to eate, and then to make a countenaunce as though he had eaten of the flesh of the sacrifice, like as the king commaunded,

22 For so he might be deliuered from death: and so for the olde frendship of the man, they shewed him this kindnes.

23 But he began to consider discreetely, and as became his age and the excellencie of his auncient yeres, and the honour of his gray heares whereunto he was come, and his most honest conuersation from his childhood, but chiefely the holy law made and geuen by God, therefore he aunswered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the graue:

24 For it becommeth not mine age, saide he, in any wyse to dissemble, whereby many young persons might thinke that Eleazar being fourscore yeres olde and ten, were nowe gone to a straunge religion:

25 And so through myne hypocrisie for a litle time of a transitorie lyfe, they might be deceaued: by this meanes also should J defile myne age, and make it abhominable.

26 For though J were nowe deliuered from the tormentes of men, yet shoulde J not escape the hand of almightie God neither aliue nor dead.

27 Wherefore J wyll dye manfully, and do as it becommeth myne age:

28 Whereby J may peraduenture leaue an example of stedfastnes for such as be young, if J with a redie minde & manfully dye an honest death for the most worthy and holy lawes. When he had saide these words, immediatly he was drawen to the torment.

29 Now they that led him, and were milde a litle afore, began to take displeasure because of the wordes that he saide: for they thought he had spoken them of an hie minde.

30 But when he was in his martirdome, he mourned, and saide: Thou O Lorde which hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly, that where as J might be deliuered from death, J suffer these sore

paynes

(a) They that had the charge of that wicked banquet.

Amos.i.a.

paynes of my body: but in my minde I am well content to suffer them, because I feare thee.

31 Thus this man dyed, leauing the memorial of his death for an example, not onely vnto young men, but vnto all the people, to be stedfast and manly.

The .vij. Chapter.

The punishment of the seuen brethren and of their mother.

A 1 IT happened also that there were seuen brethren with their mother, taken, and compelled by the king * against the lawe to eate swines flesh, [namely] with scourges and leatherne whippes.

Leui.xi.a.

2 And one of them, which was the chiefe, saide: what seekest thou, and what requirest thou of vs? As for vs, We are redie rather to suffer death, then to offende the lawes of God and the fathers.

3 Then was the king angry, and bad heate cauldrons & brasen pottes: which when they were made hot,

4 Immediately he commaunded the tongue of him that spake first to be cut out, to pull the skin ouer his head, to pare the edges of his handes and feete: yea and that in the sight of his mother and the other of his brethren.

5 Now when he was cleane mangled, he cõmaunded a fire to be made, and so (while there was any breath in him) to be fried in the cauldron: In the which when he had ben long pained, the other brethren, with their mother, exhorted him to dye manfully, saying:

6 The Lorde God shall regarde the trueth, and comfort vs, lyke as Moyses testifieth* and declareth in his song [saying:] And he wyll haue compassion on his seruauntes.

Deu.32.c.

B 7 So when the first was dead after this maner, they brought the second to haue him in derision, pulled the skinne with the heere ouer his head, and asked him if he would eate swines flesh or he were payned in the other members also throughout his body.

8 But he aunswered in his owne language, and said, I wyll not do it: And so he was tormented lyke as the first.

9 And when he was euen at the geuing vp of the ghost, he sayd, Thou most vngratious person puttest vs now to death: but the king of the worlde shal rayse vs vp which dye for his lawes, in the resurrection of euerlasting lyfe.

10 After him was the third had in derision, and when he was required he put out his tongue, and that right soone, holding forth his handes manfully, 11 And spake with a stedfast faith: These haue I of heauẽ, but now for the lawes of God I despise them: for my trust is, that I shal receaue them of him againe.

12 Insomuch that the king & they which were with him, marueyled at the young mans boldnes, that he nothing regarded the paynes. C

13 Now when he was dead also, they vexed the fourth with tormentes in like maner.

14 So when he was now at his death, he saide: It is better that We being put to death of men haue our hope & trust in God, for he shall rayse vs vp againe: * as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to lyfe. Iohn.v.c.

15 And when they had spoken to the fifth, they tormented him.

16 Then loked he vnto the king, and said, Thou hast power among men, for thou art a mortall man also thy selfe to do what thou wylt: but thinke not that God hath forsaken our generation.

17 Abide thee, tary still awhile, and thou shalt see the great power of God, howe he wyll punishe thee and thy seede.

18 After him they brought the sixt, which being at the poynt of death, saide, Be not deceaued O king: for this we suffer for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, and therefore marueylous thinges are shewed vpon vs.

19 But thinke not thou which takest in hande to striue against God, that thou shalt escape vnpunished. D

20 This excellent mother worthy to be wel reported of & had in remembrãce, saw her seuen sonnes dye in one day, and suffered it patiently, because of the hope that she had in God:

Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her her countrey language, and that boldly and stedfastly with perfect Wysdome, waking vp her womanish thought with a manly stomake, and saide vnto them,

22 I can not tell howe ye sprang in my wombe: for I neither gaue you breath, nor soule, nor lyfe, it is not I that ioyned the members of your bodies together,

23 But the maker of the worlde which fashioned the byrth of man, and began all thinges: Euen he also of his owne mercie shall geue you breath and lyfe againe, lyke as ye now regard not your owne selues for his lawes sake.

24 Now thought Antiochus that she had despised him, therfore he let her go with her reproffes, and began to exhort the youngest sonne which yet was left, not onely with wordes, but swore vnto him with an oth, that he shoulde make him a rich and wealthy man, if he would forsake the lawes of his fathers: yea, and that he shoulde geue him whatsoeuer
D were necessarie for him.

25 But when the young man would not be moued for all these thinges, he called his mother and counselled her to saue her sonnes lyfe.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many wordes, she promysed him that she would speake to her sonne.

27 So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruell tyraunt to scorne, and spake in her countrey language: O my sonne, haue pitie vpon me, that bare thee nine monethes in my wombe, that gaue thee sucke, nourished thee: and brought thee vp vnto this age,

28 I beseche thee my sonne, loke vpon heauen and earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them and mans generation of naught:

29 So shalt thou not feare this hangman, but suffer death stedfastly, lyke as thy brethren haue done: that I may receaue thee againe in the same mercie with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these wordes, the young man saide: Whom loke ye for? [wherefore do ye tary?] I wyl not obey the kinges commaundement, Leui.xi.a.
*but the law that God gaue vs by Moyses.

31 As for thou that imaginest al mischiefe against the "Jewes, thou shalt not escape the hande of God. "Or, Hebrues.

32 For we suffer these thinges because of our sinnes.

33 And though the liuing Lord be angry with vs a litle while for our chastening and reformation, yet shall he be at one againe with his seruauntes.

34 But thou O godlesse man, and of all other the most wicked, pride not thy selfe through vaine hope, in being so malitious vpon the seruauntes of God:

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgementes of God, which is almighty, & seeth all thinges.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a litle paine, are nowe vnder the couenaunt of euerlasting lyfe: but through the iudgement of God, thou shalt be punished righteously for thy pride.

37 As for me, lyke as my brethren haue done, I offer my "soule and my bodye for the lawes of our fathers, calling vpon God that he wyll soone be mercifull vnto our people: yea and with paine and punishment* to make thee graunt that he onely is God. "Or, lyfe. ii Mac ii.c.

38 In me nowe and in my brethren, the wrath of almighty God is at an ende, which righteously is fallen vpon all our people.

39 Then the king being kindled in anger, was more cruell vpon him then vpon al the other, and toke indignation that he was so lightly regarded.

40 So this young man dyed vndefiled, and put his trust still in the Lorde.

41 Last of all, after the sonnes was the mother put to death also.

42 Let this now be inough spoken concerning the offeringes and extreme cruelnesse.

The. viij. Chapter.

1 Judas gathereth together his hoast. 9 Nicanor is sent against Judas. 16 Judas exhorteth his souldiers to constantnes. 20 Nicanor is ouercome. 27 The Jewes geueth thankes after they haue put their enemies to flight, deuiding the spoyles vnto the fatherlesse and vnto the wydowes. 35 Nicanor fleeth vnto Antiochus.

A 1 When Judas Machabeus, and they that were with him, went priuilie into the townes, called their kinsefolkes & friendes together, toke vnto them al such as continued yet in the faith and lawe of the Jewes, and brought forth fyue thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lorde, that he woulde haue an eye vnto his people, which was troden downe of euery man, to be gratious vnto the temple, that was defiled of the vngodly,

3 To haue compassion vpon the destruction of the citie, which was shortly lyke to be layde waste, to heare the voyce of the blood that cryed vnto him:

4 To remember the most vnrighteous deathes of young innocent children, the blasphemies also done vnto his name, and to punishe them.

i.Mac.ii a. 5 * Now when Machabeus had gathered this multitude together, he was to mightie for the heathen, for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercie, 6 He fell vpon the townes and cities vnwares, brent them, toke the most commodious places, and slue many of the enemies.

B 7 But specially he made such chases by night, insomuch that his manlines was spoken of euery where.

8 So when Philip sawe that the man encreased by litle and litle, and that the matter prospered with him for the most parte: he wrote vnto Ptolomi, which was a captaine in Celosyria and Phenices, to helpe him in the kinges busines.

9 * Then sent he Nicanor the sonne of i.Mac.iii.c. Patroclus, a speciall friend of his, in all the haste, and gaue him of the common sorte of the heathen no lesse then twentie thousand harnessed men, to roote out the whole generation of the Jewes, hauing to helpe him one Gorgias a man of warre, which in matters concerning battailes had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordayned also the tribute, which the Romanes shoulde haue had, to be euen vnto the king out of the captiue of the Jewes, [namely] two thousand talentes.

11 And immediatly he sent to the cities of the sea coaste, requiring them for to bye Jewes to be their seruauntes and bondmen, promysing to sell them fourscore and ten for one talent: but he considered not the wrath of almightie God that was to come vpon him.

12 When Judas knewe of this, he tolde the Jewes that were with him, of Nicanors comming.

13 Now were there some of them feare- C full, not trusting vnto the righteousnes of God, and fled their way, and abode not in that place:

14 But the other that remained, came together, and besought the Lorde to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had solde them or euer he came nye them:

15 And though he woulde not do it for their sakes, yet for the couenaunt that he made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious name.

i.Mac.v.b. 16 * And so Machabeus called his men together [namely] about fyue thousand, exhorting them not to agree vnto their enemies, * neither to be afraide for the Deu.xx.a. multitude of their aduersaries comming against them vnrighteously, but to fight manly, 17 Considering the reproofe that they had done to the holy place without cause, how they had despised and oppressed the citie, yea and destroyed the lawes of the fathers.

Iere.xix.b. 18 * For they, saide he, trust in their weapons and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the almightie Lorde, which in the twinkling of an eye may both destroye them, and come against vs, and all the worlde.

19 He exhorted them also to call to remem- D

26 Therfore I pray you and require you to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally and in especiall, and that euery man wil be faythfull to me and my sonne.

27 For I hope that he shalbe of sober and louing behauour, and if he folowe my deuice, he shalbe indifferent vnto you.

28 *Thus that murtherer and blasphemer of God was sore smitten: and like as he had intreated other men, so he died a miserable death in a straunge countrey vpon a mountayne. Deut viii.c.

29 And his body dyd Philip that went with him cary away, which fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolomi Philometor. D

The. x. Chapter.

1 Judas Machabeus taketh a citie and the temple. 10 He beginneth to shewe the actes of Eupator. 16 The Jewes fight against the Idumeans. 24 Timotheus inuadeth Jurie, with whom Judas ioyneth battell. 29 Fiue men appeare in the ayre to the helpe of the Jewes. 39 Timothi is slayne.

1 MAchabeus nowe and his company *thorowe the helpe of the Lorde wan the temple and the citie againe, A Mac. viii.

2 Destroyed the aulters and chappels that the heathen had buylded through the streetes, Exod.xx.a. 3 Clensed the temple, *made another aulter of bricke stone, and after two yeres they offered sacrifices, set foorth the incense, the lightes, and shewe bread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the grounde, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such trouble: but if they sinned any more against him, he him selfe to chasten them with mercie, and not to come in the handes of those alauntes and blasphemous men.

5 Nowe vpon the same day that the straungers polluted the temple, it happened that on the very same day it was clensed againe: (namely) *the twentie and fyfth day of the moneth called *Casleu. Mach iiii.f Nouemb.

6 They kept eyght dayes in gladnesse, like as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembring that not long afore they held the feast of the tabernacles vpon the mountaynes and in dennes, like beastes.

7 And to the same token they bare greene bowes, braunches, & palmes, and song Psalmes before hym that had geuen them good successe to clense his place.

8 They agreed also together, and made a statute that euery yere those dayes shoulde be solemply kept of all the people of the Jewes.

9 How Antiochus then, that was called the noble, died, it is sufficiently tolde.

10 Nowe will we speake of Eupator the sonne of that wicked Antiochus howe it happened with hym, and so with fewe wordes to comprehende the aduersitie that chaunced in the warres.

11 When he had taken in the kingdome, he made one Lysias whiche had ben captayne of the hoast in Phenices and "Syria, ruler ouer the matters of the realme. "Or, Celosyria.

12 For Ptolomi, that was called Macron, beyng a ruler for the Jewes, and specially to sit in iudgement for such wrong as was done vnto them, vndertoke to deale peaceably with them.

13 For the whiche cause he was accused of his friendes before Eupator: and when he was suspect to be a traytour, because he had left Cypres that Philometor had committed vnto him, and because he departed from noble Antiochus that he was come vnto, he poysoned hym selfe, and died.

14 Now when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he toke straungers, and vndertoke oft times to warre with the Jewes. C

15 Moreouer, the Idumeans that helde the strong holdes, receaued those that were dryuen from Hierusalem, and toke in hande to warre also.

i.Mach. v.a. 16 *But they that were with Machabeus besought & prayed vnto the Lorde that he woulde be their helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans, 17 And wan many places by strength: such as came against them they slue, and killed no lesse of all together then twentie thousande.

18 Neuertheless some, no lesse then nyne thousande, were fled into two strong towres, hauing all maner of ordinaunce to withstande them.

19 Then Machabeus leauing Simon, Iosephus, Zacheus, and those that were with them, whiche were very many, went to besiege them, & to fight where most neede was.

20 Nowe they that were with Simon, beyng led with couetousnesse, were intreated for money thorowe certayne of those that lay in the castles, toke threescore and ten thousande (a) dragmas: and let some of them escape.

(a) A dragma is the eyght part of an ounce, whiche is about .xpence.

21 But when it was tolde Machabeus what had happened, he called the captaynes of the people together, accusing those persons, that they had sold the brethren for money, & let their enemies go.

D 22 So he slue those traytours, & immediatly went in hande with the two castles.

23 And when they had ordred them selues manly with their weapons & handes, they slue in the two castles mo then twentie thousande.

g.Mach.v.b. h.Mach.viii. 24 *Now Timotheus, whom the Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered a multitude of strange people, brought an hoast also of horsemen of the Asians to winne Iurie by strength.

25 But when he drewe nye, Machabeus and they that were with him, *fell to their prayer, sprinkled asshes vpon their heades, beyng gyrded with heery cloth about their loynes, ii.Ma.xi.b.

26 Fell downe before the aulter, and besought the Lord that he would be mercifull to them, but an enemie vnto their enemies, and to take part against their aduersaries, *according as it is promised in the lawe. De.xxviii.a

27 So after the prayer, they toke their weapons & went on further from the citie: & when they came nye the enemies, they prepared them selues against them.

28 And betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, both the hoastes buckled together: *The one part had the Lorde for their refuge, which is the gener of prosperitie, strength, and victorie: the other had a manly stomacke, Which is a captayne of warre. E Iere. xvii.d. 2.Par.xx.b.

29 The battayle nowe beyng great, *there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen fiue goodly men vpon horsebackes, With bridels of gold, leading the Iewes: 3 Reg.6.a. 1. Mac.iii.a. and xi.b.

30 And two of them hauing Machabeus betwixt them, that kept him safe on euery side with their weapons, but shot dartes and lightninges vpon the enemies, where thorowe they were confounded with blindnesse, and so sore afrayde that they fell downe.

31 There were slayne of footemen twentie thousand and fyue hundreth, and fiue hundreth horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus him selfe, he fled vnto Gazara, a very strong hold, wherin Chereas was captayne.

33 But Machabeus and his companie layed siege to it chearfully fo:re dayes.

34 Now they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, cursed and banned exceedingly, and made great craking with wicked wordes.

35 Neuertheless, vpon the fyft day in the morning, twentie yong men of Machabeus company, beyng set on fire in their mindes because of the blasphemie, came manfully vnto the wall, and with bolde stomakes smote downe those that they mette. F

36 Others also clymed vp vpō the towres, vndertaking to set fire vpon the portes, & to burne those blasphemous persons quicke with the fiers that they had made, others brake open the gates, and receaued the rest of the armie, and toke the citie.

37 Two dayes were they destroying the castle, which when they founde Timotheus that was crept in a corner, they killed him, and slue Chereas his brother in like maner, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they song Psalmes with prayses and thankesgeuing vnto the Lorde, Which had done so great thinges for Israel, and geuen them the victorie.

The

The .xi. Chapter.

1 Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Jewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Jewes. 16 The letter of Lysias to the Jewes. 20 The letter of king Antiochus vnto Lysias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Jewes. 34 A letter of the Romanes to the Jewes.

A 1 NOT long after this, Lysias the kinges stewarde and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernaunce of his matters, toke sore displeasure for the thinges that had happened,

2 And when he had gathered fourescore thousand men of foote, with al the hoast of the horsemen, he came against the Jewes, thinking to winne the citie, to make it an habitation for the heathen:

3 *And the temple woulde he haue to be an house of lucre, like as the other gods houses of the heathen are, and to sell the priestes office euery yere,

4 Not considering the power of God, but was wilde in his mynde, *trusting in the multitude of footemen, in thousandes of horsemen, & in his fourescore Elephantes.

5 So he came into Jurie, and then to Bethsura, a castle of defence, lying in a narow place fiue furlonges from Hierusalem, & layed sore siege vnto it.

6 Nowe when Machabeus and his company knew that the strong holdes were beleiged, *they fell to their prayers with weeping and teares before the Lorde: and all the people in lyke maner besought him that he woulde send a good angel to deliuer Israel.

B 7 Machabeus him selfe was the first that made him redy to the battayle, exhorting the other that were with hym to ieoperde them selues, and to helpe their brethren.

8 And when they were goyng forth of Hierusalem together with a redy and willing mynde, *there appeared before them vpon horsbacke a man in whyte clothing, with harnesse of gold, shaking his speare.

9 Then they praysed the Lorde all together whiche had shewed them mercie, and were comforted in their mindes, insomuch that they were redy not onely to fight with men, but with the most cruel beastes, yea & run thorowe walles of iron.

10 Thus they went on willingly, hauing an helper from heauen, and the Lorde mercifull vnto them.

11 They fell mightyly vpon their enemies like lions, slue eleuen thousande footemen, sixteene hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight, 12 Many of them beyng wounded, and some gat away naked: yea Lysias him selfe was fayne to flee shamefully, and so to escape.

13 Neuertheless, that man was not without vnderstanding, but considered by him selfe that his power was minished, and pondred howe the Jewes beyng defended by the helpe of almightie God, were not able to be ouercome: wherfore he sent them worde, 14 And promised, that he would consent C to all thinges whiche were reasonable, and to make the king their friende.

15 To the which praier of Lysias, Machabeus agreed, seking in all thinges the common wealth: & whatsoeuer Machabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Jewes, the king graunted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Jewes from Lysias, conteyning these wordes: Lysias sendeth greeting to the people of the Jewes.

17 John and "Absolon which were sent from you, deliuered me writinges, and required me to fulfill the thinges concerning their errande. "Or, Absalom.

18 Therefore loke what might be graunted, I certified the king therof: & whatsoeuer was conuenīt, he agreed therto.

19 If ye now wil be faythful in these matters, I shall endeuour my selfe hereafter also to do you good.

20 As concerning these thinges by euery article thereof, I haue committed them to your messengers and to those whom I sent vnto you, to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare ye well. In the hundred four- D tie and eyght yere, the twentie & fourth day of the moneth Dioscorinthus.

22 Now the kinges letter conteyned these wordes: King Antiochus sendeth greeting vnto his brother Lysias.

ii. Mac.ix.b

23 Forsomuch as our father *is now translated vnto the gods, our will is, that they which are in our realme, liue without any insurrection, and euery man to be diligent in his owne matters:

24 We vnderstande also, that the Jewes would not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the gentiles, but stifly to kepe their owne statutes, for the which cause they require of vs also, to let them remayne still after their owne lawes.

25 Wherfore our minde is, that this people shalbe in rest: We haue concluded and determined also to restore them their temple againe, that they may lyue according to the vse and custome of their forefathers.

26 Thou shalt do vs a pleasure therefore, if thou send vnto them, and graunt them peace: that when they are certified of our mynde, they may be of good cheare, and loke to their owne wealth.

27 And this was the letter that the king wrote vnto the Jewes: King Antiochus sendeth greeting vnto the counsell, and the other people of the Jewes.

D 28 If ye fare well, We haue our desire: as for vs, We are in good health.

29 Menelaus came & tolde vs, howe that your desire was to returne home, and peaceably to enioy your owne possessiõs.

30 Wherfore, those that wil come, We geue them free libertie, vnto the thirtie day of the moneth of *Aprill, 31 That they may vse the meates of the Jewes and their owne lawes like as afore: and none of them by any maner of wayes to haue harme for thinges done in ignorance. Zanthicus.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare ye well. In the hundred fourtie and eyght yere, the fyfteenth day of the moneth of Aprill.

34 The Romaynes also sent a letter, conteyning these wordes: Quintus Memmius, & Titus Manlius ambassadours of the Romaynes, sende greeting vnto the people of the Jewes.

35 Loke what Lysias the kinges kinsman hath graunted you, We graunt you the same also.

36 But as concerning the thinges which he referred vnto the king, send hither some with speede, and ponder the matter diligently among your selues, that we may "cast the best to your profite, for We must depart nowe vnto Antioche. E

"Or, consult the best.

37 And therefore write shortly againe, that We may knowe your mynde.

38 Fare well. In the hundreth fourtie and eyght yere, the fyfteenth day of the moneth of Aprill.

The .xii. Chapter.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Jewes. 3 The wicked deede of them of Joppa against the Jewes. 9 Judas is auenged of them. 9 He setteth fire on the gate of Jamnia. 20 The pursute of the Jewes against Timothi. 24 Timothi is taken and let go vnhurt. 32 Judas pursueth Gorgias. 43 Judas offering sacrifice for the dead, sheweth the hope of the resurrection.

A 1 When these couenauntes were made, Lysias went vnto the king: and the Jewes tilled their grounde.

2 But Timotheus, & Apolonius the sonne of Gennei, Jerome, and Demophon (the proude) Nicanor the captayne of Cypers, and they that lay in those places, would not let them lyue in rest & peace.

3 They of Joppa also dyd euen such a shameful deede: they prayed the Jewes that dwelt among them, to go with their wyues & children into the shippes which they had prepared, and dyd with them as though they had ought them no euyll will.

4 Forsomuch then as there was gone forth a generall proclamation throwe the citie because of peace, they consented therto, & suspect nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 Whē Judas knew of this crueltie shewed vnto his people, he cõmaunded those that were with him to make them redy,

6 Exhorting them to call vpon God the righteous iudge, went forth against those murtherers of his brethren, set fire in the hauen by night, brent vp the shippes: and those that escaped from the fire, he slue [with the sworde.]

7 And when he had done this, he departed, as though he woulde come againe and roote out all them of Joppa.

8 But when he had gotten word that the Jamnites were mynded to do in lyke maner vnto the Jewes which dwelt among mong them,

9 He came vpon the Jamnites by night, & set fire on the hauen with the shippes: so that the light of the fire was seene at Hierusalem vpon a two hundred and fourtie furlonges.
10 Nowe when they were gone from thence nyne furlonges in there iourney towarde Timotheus, fiue thousande men of foote, and fyue hundreth horsemen of the Arabians, fought with hym.
11 So when the battell was earnest, and prospered with Judas throwe the helpe of God: the residue of the (a) Arabians beyng ouercome, besought Judas to be at one with them, and promised to geue him certayne " pastures, and to do him good in other thinges.
12 Judas thinking that they shoulde in deede be profitable concerning many thinges, promised them peace: whereupon they shoke handes, and so they departed to their tentes.
13 Judas went also vnto a citie, whiche was very fast kept with brydges, fenced round about with walles, and diuers kindes of people dwelling therin, called Caspin.
14 They that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in their store of vittayles, that they were the slacker in their doynges, cursing and reuiling Judas with blasphemies, and speaking such wordes as it becommeth not.
15 But Machabeus calling vpon the great prince of the (world, which without any battayle rammes or ordinaunce of warre, did *cast downe the walles of Jericho, in time of Josuah) fel manfully vpon the walles, 16 Toke the citie, & through the helpe of the Lorde made an exceeding great slaughter: insomuch that a lake of two furlonges brode whiche lay therby seemed to flowe with the blood of the slayne.
17 Then departed they from thence seuen hundred and fiftie furlonges, and came to " Taraca vnto the Jewes that are called Tubianei.
18 But as for Timotheus they could not get him there: for (not one matter dispatched) he was departed from thence, and had left certayne men in a very strong holde.
19 But Dositheus & Sosipater, whiche were captaynes with Machabeus, slue those that Timotheus had left in the house of defence, more then ten thousand men.
20 And Machabeus prepared him with the fyre thousand men that were about him, set them in order by companies, & went forth against Timotheus, which had with him an hundred and twentie thousande men of foote, two thousande and fyue hundred horsemen. D
21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas comming, he sent the women, children, and the other baggage vnto a castle called Carnion: For it could not be wonne, and was hard to come vnto, the wayes of the same places were so narowe.
22 And when Judas his first bande came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, throwe the presence of God which seeth all thinges: Insomuch that they fleyng one here, another there, were rather discomfited of their owne people, *& wounded with the strokes of their owne swordes. Iud. vii. f. i. Re. xiii. c. ii. Par. xx. d.
23 Judas also was very earnest in folowing vpon them, punishing those vngodly, & slue thirtie thousande men of them.
24 Timotheus also hym selfe fel into the handes of Dositheus and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him go with his lyfe, because he had many of the Jewes fathers & brethren in prison, which if they put him to death shoulde be despised.
25 So when he had promised faythfully to deliuer them againe according to the condition made, they let him go without harme, for the health of the brethren.
26 Then Machabeus marched forth to Carnion and Atargation, and there slue twentie and fiue thousande men.
27 Nowe after that he had chased away and slayne his enemies, he remoued the hoast towarde *Ephron a strong citie, wherin was Lysias and a great multitude of diuers nations: and the strong young men kept the walles, defending them mightyly, in this citie was much ordinaunce and prouision of dartes. i. Mach. v. c.
28 But when Judas and his companie had called vpon almightie God, Which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wan the citie, and slue twentie and fiue thousand of them that were within. E
29 From thence went they to the citie of

(a) The Moabites of Israel so called: perhaps they were shepherds. Or, tents. " Or, Characa.

the "Scythians, which lyeth fiue hundred furlonges from Hierusalem.

30 But when the Jewes whiche were in the citie, testified that the citezins dealt louingly with them, yea & intreated thē kindly in the time of their aduersitie, 31 Judas and his companie gaue them thankes, desiring them to be friendly stil vnto them: and so they came to Hierusalem, the hye feast of the weekes beyng at hande.

32 And after the feast of Pentecost, they went foorth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea, F 33 who came out with three thousande men of foote, & foure hundred horsemen.

34 Whiche when they mette together, it chaunced a fewe of the Jewes to be slayne.

35 And Dositheus one of the Bacenors, a mightie horsman, toke holde of Gorgias, and would haue taken him quicke: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote of his arme, so that Gorgias escaped and fled into "Maresa.

36 When they nowe that were of "Gorgias side, had foughten long and were weery, Judas called vpon the Lorde, that he would be their helper, and captayne of the fielde:

37 And with that he began in his owne language, & song Psalmes with a loude voyce: insomuch that he made the enemies afrayde, & Gorgias men of warre toke their flight.

38 So Judas gathered his hoast, and came into the citie of Odolla: and when the seuenth day came vpon them, they cleansed them selues as the custome was, & kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as necessitie required, Judas and his company came to take vp the bodyes of them that were slayne, and to burie them in the fathers graues.

40 Nowe vnder the coates of certayne Jewes which were slayne, they founde iewels that they had taken [out of the temple and] from the idoles of the *Jamnites, whiche thing is forbidden the Jewes by the lawe: then euery man sawe that this was the cause wherfore they were slayne. Deu.vii.d. Iosu.vii.a.

41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for his righteous iudgement, whiche had opened the thing that was hyd. G

42 They fel downe also vnto their prayers, and besought God that the fault whiche was made might be put out of remembraunce: Besides that, Judas exhorted the people earnestly to kepe them selues from such sinne, forsomuch as they sawe before their eyes that these men were slayne for the same offence.

43 So he gathered of euery one a certayne, and sent two thousande drachmes of siluer vnto Hierusalem, that there might a sacrifice be offered for the misdeede: In the which place he did wel and right, for he had some consideration and pondring of the lyke that is after this time.

44 For if he had not thought that they whiche were slayne shoulde ryse againe, it had ben superfluous and vayne to make any vowe or sacrifice for them that were dead.

45 But forsomuch as he sawe that they which die in the fauour & beleefe of god, are in good rest and ioy, he thought it to be good & honorable for a reconsiling, to do the same for those which were slaine, that the offence might be forgeuen.

The .xiii. Chapter.

1 The comming of Eupator into Jurie. 4 The death of Menelaus. 10 Machabeus goyng to fight against Eupator, moueth his souldiers vnto prayer. 15 He killeth fourteene thousande men in the tentes of Antiochus. 21 Rhodocus the betrayer of the Jewes is taken. 24 Antiochus retayned friendship with the Jewes.

A i.Mach.vi.d

1 IN the hundred fourtie and nine yere, gat* Judas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator was comming with a great power into iurie,

2 And Lysias the stewarde and ruler of his matters with him, hauing an hundred & ten thousand men of foote of the Grecians, fyue thousande horsemen, twentie and two Elephantes, and three hundred charettes set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned hym selfe with them, but with great disceyte spake faire to the king, not for any good of the countrey, but because he thought to haue ben made some great man of authoritie.

4 But the king of kinges moued Antiochus chus minde against this vngodly person, and Lysias enformed the king that this Menelaus was the cause of all mischiefe: so that the king commaunded to bring him vnto Berea, and as the maner of them is, to put him vnto death in the same place.

5 There was also in the same place a towre of fiftie cubites hie, heaped with asshes: and it had an instrument that turned rounde, & on euery side it rouled downe into the asshes, and there whosoeuer was condempned of sacriledge, or of any other greeuous crime, was cast of all men vnto the death.

6 Whereinto the king cõmaunded that shamefull person to be cast among the asshes, as one that was cause of all vngraciousnesse.

B 7 And reason it was that the vnthrift should dye such a death, and not to be buried,

8 For he had done much mischiefe vnto the aulter of God, whose fire and asshes were holy: therefore was it right that he him selfe also should be destroyed with asshes.

9 But the king was wood in his minde, and came to shew him selfe more cruell vnto the Jewes, then his father was.

Mac.15.c. 10 Which when Judas perceaued, * he commaunded the people to call vpon the Lord nyght and day, that he would nowe helpe them also lyke as he had done allway: for they were afraide to be put from their lawe, from their natural countrey, and from the holy temple:

11 And not to suffer the people which a litle while afore began to recouer, to be subdued againe of the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this together, and besought the Lorde for mercie, with weeping and fasting three dayes long flat vpon the grounde, Judas exhorted them to make them selues redie.

C 13 But he and the eldest together deuised to go forth (first with the people) afore the king brought his hoast into Jurie, and afore he besieged the citie, and so to commit the matter vnto God.

14 Wherefore he committed the charge of all thinges vnto God the maker of all the worlde, exhorting his people to fight manfully, yea euen vnto death, for the lawes, the temple, the citie, their owne natiue countrey, and to defend the citezins: and he set his hoast before Modin.

15 He gaue them also that were with him a token of the victory of God, choosing out the manliest young men, went by night into the kinges pauilion, slue of the hoast fourteene thousand men, * and the greatest of the Elephantes, with those that sate vpon him. i.Mac.vi.f.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare and rumour among the tentes of their enemies, and al thinges went prosperously with them, 17 They departed in the breake of the day, God being their helper and defender.

18 Nowe when the king perceaued the manlinesse of the Jewes, he went about to take the strong places by craft,

19 And remoued his hoast * vnto Bethsura, which was a wel kept house of defence of the Jewes: but they were chased away, hurt, and discomfited. ii.Mac.xi.a. D

20 And Judas sent vnto them that were in it, such thinges as were necessarie.

21 In the Jewes hoast also there was one Rhodochus, which tolde the enemies their secretes: but they sought him out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the king commune with them that were in Bethsura, take truce with them, departed, and stroke a battaile with Judas, which ouercame him.

23 But when he vnderstoode that Philip, whom he had left to be ouerseer of this busines at Antioch, began to rebell against him, he was astonied in his mind, so that he yeelded him selfe to ỹ. Jewes, and made them an oth to do whatsoeuer they thought right.

24 Now when he was reconciled with them, he offered, made much of the temple, gaue great giftes vnto it, 25 Embraced Machabeus, making him E captaine and gouernour from Ptolomais vnto the Gerrhenes.

26 Neuertheles when he came to Ptolomais, the people of the citie were not content with the bond of frendship: for they were afraide that he would breake the couenaunt.

27 Then went Lysias vp into the iudgement seate, and excused the fact as well as he coulde, and enformed the people, shewed them the cause why, & pacified them them: so he came againe to Antioch. This is now the matter concerning the kinges iourney, and his returne.

The .xiiij. Chapter.

1 By the motion of the Lorde, Demetrius sendeth Nicanor to kill the Jewes 18 Nicanor maketh a compact with the Jewes, 29 which he yet breaketh through the motion of the king. 37 Nicanor commaundeth Razias to be taken. 41 The boldnes of Razias.

A 1 After three yeres, was Judas informed how that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and shippes, through the hauen of Tripolis,

2 To take certaine commodious places and countreys, against Antiochus and his captaine Lysias.

3 Nowe Alcimus whiche had ben hie priest, and wylfully defiled him selfe in the time of the mixting, seeing that by no meanes he could be helped, nor haue any more entraunce to the aulter,

4 He came to king Demetrius in the hundred fiftie and one yere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, a paulme, and an olive tree, which as men thought belonged to the temple: and that day held his tongue.

5 But when he had gotten opportunitie for his madnesse, Demetrius called him to counsel, and asked him what thinges or counsels the Jewes leaned vnto:

6 He aunswered: The Jewes that be called Assidei (whose captaine is Judas Machabeus) maintayne warres, make insurections, and wyl not let the realme be in peace.

B 7 For I being depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the hie priesthood) am come hyther:

8 Partly because I was faithfull vnto the king, and partly because I sought the profite of myne owne citezins: And why? all our people, through the wickednesse of them, are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefore I beseche thee O king, consider all these thinges diligently, and then make some prouision for the lande and the people, according to the kindnes that thou hast offered vnto them.

10 For as long as Judas liueth, it is not possible that men can lyue in peace.

11 When he had spoken these wordes, other friendes also hauing euill wyll at Judas, set the king Demetrius on fire [against him.]

12 * which immediatly sent Nicanor ruler of the Elephantes, a captaine, into Jurie, i.Mac.vii.c

13 Commaunding him to slay Judas, C & to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus hie priest of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen, which fled out of Jurie from Judas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thinking the harme and decay of the Jewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Jewes heard of Nicanors comming, and the gathering together of the heathen, they sprinckled themselues with earth, * and besought him which made them his people, and euer defended his owne portion with euident tokens, that he woulde preserue them still. ii.Mac.xi.

16 So at the cõmaundemẽt of the captaine they remoued straight wayes from thence, & came to a towne called Dessau.

17 And Simon, Judas brother, fell in hand with Nicanor: but through the sodaine " comming of the enemies he was afraide. " Or, Departure.

18 Neuertheless, Nicanor hearing the manlinesse of them that were with Judas, and the bolde stomakes that they had to fight for their natural countrey, durst not proue the matter with bloodshedding.

19 Wherfore he sent Possidonius, "Theodorus, and Mathathias before, to geue and to take peace. "Or, Theodorus. Mathias. D

20 So when they had taken long aduisement thereupon, and the captaine shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde to haue peace.

21 And they appoynted a day to sit vpon these matters quietly among them selues, and for euery one stooles also were brought and set forth.

22 Neuertheless, Judas commaunded certaine men of armes to wayt in conuenient places, lest there should sodenly arise any euill through the enemies: and so they communed reasonably together.

gether.

23 Nicanor While he abode at Hierusalem, ordered him selfe not vnreasonably, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

24 He loued Judas euer with his heart, and fauoured him.

€ 25 He prayed him also to take a wyfe, and to bring foorth children. So he maryed, liued in rest, and they led a common life.

26 But Alcimus perceauing the loue that was betwixt them, and how they were agreed together, came to Demetrius, and tolde him that Nicanor had taken straunge matters in hande, and ordayned Judas, an enemie of the realme, to be the kinges successour.

27 Then the king was sore displeased, and through the wicked accusations which Alcimus made of Nicanor, he was so prouoked, that he wrote vnto Nicanor, saying: that he was very angry for the frendship and agreement which he had made with Machabeus, Neuertheless, he cõmaunded him in al the haste that he should take Machabeus prisoner, and sent him to Antioch.

28 Which [letters] When Nicanor had sene, he was at his wittes ende and sore greeued, that he shoulde breake the thinges wherein they had agreed, specially seeing Machabeus was that man that neuer did him harme.

29 But because he might not withstand the king, he sought opportunitie to fulfill his commaundement.

30 Notwithstanding when Machabeus saw that Nicanor began to be churlishe vnto him, & that he entreated him more roughly then he was wont, he perceaued that such vnkindnesse came not of good, and therefore he gathered a fewe of his men, and withdrewe him selfe from Nicanor.

31 Which when he knew that Machabeus had manfully preuẽted him, he came into the great and most holy temple, and commaunded the priestes which were doing their vsuall offeringes, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they sware that they could not tell where the man was whom he sought, 33 He stretched out his right hande toward the temple, and made an oth, saying: If ye wyll not deliuer me Judas captiue, I shall remoue this temple of God into the plaine fielde, I shal breake downe the aulter, and consecrate this temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these wordes he departed. Then the priestes lyft vp their handes toward heauen, and besought him that was euer the defender of their people saying:

35 Thou O Lord of all, which hast nede of nothing, wouldest that the temple of thy habitation should be among vs: 1.Mac.iii.c.

36 Therefore nowe O most holy Lorde, kepe this house euer vndefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop all the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor one Razis an alderman of Hierusalem, a louer of the whole citie, & a man of good reporte, which for the kinde heart that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Jewes.

38 This man oft times when the Jewes were minded to kepe them selues vndefiled, defended and deliuered them, being content stedfastly to spend his body & his lyfe for his people. G

39 So Nicanor wylling to declare the hate that he bare to the Jewes, sent fiue hundred men of warre to take him:

40 For he thought if he gat him he should bring the Jewes in great decay.

41 Now when the people began to rushe in at his house, to breake the doores, and to set fire on it, he being nowe taken, (c) fel vpon his sword,

(c) This fact is not to be approued, for that it is contrary to gods commaundement, & our shalt not kill. Exo.xx. Deute.v.

42 Chosing rather to dye manfully, then to yeelde him selfe to those wicked doers: & because of his noble stocke, he had rather haue ben put to extreme cruelte.

43 Notwithstanding, What time as he missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwixt the doores, he ranne boldly to the wall, and cast him selfe downe manfully among the heape of them:

44 Which gaue soone place to his fall, so that he fell vpon his belly.

45 Neuertheless, While there was yet breath within him, he was kindled in his minde, & while his blood gushed out exceedingly (for he was very sore wounded) he ranne through the middest of the people, and gat him to the top of a rocke.

46 So When his blood was nowe gone, he toke out his owne bowels with both his handes, & threw them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lorde of lyfe & spirite to rewarde him this againe: and so he dyed.

The. xv. Chapter.

2 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Judas on the Sabbath day. 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor. 14 Machabeus expounding vnto the Jewes the vision, boldeneth their heartes. 21 The prayer of Machabeus. 30 After the hoast of Nicanor is once ouercome, Machabeus commaundeth his head & his handes to be cut of, and his tongue to be geuen vnto foules.

A 1 NOwe when Nicanor knew that Judas and his company were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with al his power to strike a fielde with him vpon a Sabbath day.

i.Mac.vii d.

2 Neuertheleſſe the Jewes that were compelled to go with him, saide: O do not so cruelly and vnkindly, but halowe the Sabbath day, and worshippe him that seeth all thinges:

3 [For all this,] yet saide the vngratious person,* Is there a mightie one in heauen that commaunded the Sabbath day to be kept?

iii Re.xx.c.

4 And when they saide: yea the lyuing God, the mightie Lord in heauen* commaunded the seuenth day to be kept,

Exo.xx.b

5 He saide: And I am mightie vpon earth, to commaunde them for to arme them selues, & to perfourme the kinges busyneſſe. Notwithstanding, he might not haue his purpose.

6 Nicanor had deuised with great pride to ouercome Judas, and to bring away the victory:

B 7 But Machabeus had euer a fast confidence and a perfect hope in God, that he would helpe him:

8 And exhorted his people not to be afrayde at the comming of the heathen: but alway to remember the helpe that had ben shewed vnto them from heauen, yea and to be sure nowe also that almightie God would geue them the victorie.

9 He spake vnto them out of the lawe and prophetes, putting them in remembraunce of the battailes that they had striken afore, and made them to be of good courage.

10 So when their heartes were pluckt vp, he shewed them also the deceitefulneſſe of the heathen, and how they woulde kepe no couenaunt nor oth).

11 Thus he weaponed them not with the armour of shielde and speare, but with wholsome wordes and exhortations: he shewed them a dreame also, wherethrough he made them all glad,

12 Which was this: He thought that he saw Onias, which had ben hie priest, a vertuous and louing man, sad and of honest conuersation, well spoken, and one that had ben exercised in godlines from a childe, holding vp his handes toward heauen, and praying for his people.

13 After this, there appeared vnto him another man, which was aged, honorable, and glorious. C

14 And Onias saide: This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Israel: this is he that prayeth much for the people and for all the holy citie, Jeremie the prophete of God.

15 He thought also that Jeremie helde out his right hande, and gaue vnto Judas a sword of golde, saying:

16 Take this holy sworde, a gift from God, wherwith thou shalt smite downe the enemies of the people of Israel.

17 And so they were well comforted through the wordes of Judas, whiche were very sweete and able to stirre vp their courage: and toke courage vnto them, so that the young men were determined in their mindes to fight, and to abide stifly at it: insomuch that in the thinges which they toke in hande their boldneſſe shewed the same, because the holy citie, the sanctuary, and the temple were in perill,

18 For the which they toke more care, then for their wyues, children, brethren, and kinſfolkes. D

19 Againe, they that were in the citie, were most carefull for those which were to fight.

20 Now, when they were all in a hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hande, and the enemies drue nye, the hoast being set in aray, the Elephantes and horsemen euery one standing in his place:

21 Machabeus considering the cõming of the multitude, the ordinaunce of diuers weapons, the cruelnes of the beastes, helde vp his handes towarde heauen, heauen, calling vpon the Lorde that doth wonders, *which geueth not the victory after the multitude of weapons and power of the hoaste, but to them that please him, according to his owne wyll.

22 Therefore in his prayer he saide these wordes, O Lorde* thou that diddest send thyne angell in the time of Ezekiah king of Juda, and in the hoast of Sennacherib slewest an hundred fourscore and fiue thousand:

23 Send now also thy good angel before vs O Lorde of heauens, in the fearefulnesse and dreade of thy mightie arme,

E 24 That they which come against thy holy people to blaspheme them, may be afrayd. And so he made an ende of his wordes.

25 Then Nicanor & they that were with him, drue nye with trumpettes & showtinges for ioy:

26 But Judas and his company, with prayer and calling vpon God, encountred with the enemies.

27 With their handes they smote, but with their heartes they prayed vnto the Lorde, and slue no lesse then thirtie and fiue thousand men: For through the present helpe of God, they were gloriously comforted.

28 Now when they left of, and were turning againe with ioy, they vnderstoode that Nicanor him selfe was slaine with the other, for all his armour.

29 Then they gaue a great shout and a crye, praysing the almightie Lorde in their owne language.

30 And Judas which was euer redie to spend his body and lyfe for his citezins, cõmaunded to smite of Nicanors head, with his arme and hande, and to be brought to Hierusalem.

31 When he came there, he called all the people & the priestes to the aulter, with those that were in the castle, F

32 And shewed them Nicanors head, and his wicked hande which he had presumptuously holden vp against the temple of God.

33 He caused the tongue also of that vngodly Nicanor to be cut in litle peeces, and to be cast to the foules, and that cruel mans hande to be hanged vp before the temple.

34 So euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde, saying: Blessed be he that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 As for Nicanors head he hanged it vp vpon the hie castle for an euident and playne token of the helpe of God.

36 And so they agreed al together to kepe that day holy, [namely] the thirteenth day of the moneth " Adar, Februari

37 Which in the Syrians language is called the next day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus was Nicanor slaine, and from that time forth the Jewes had the citie in possession: and here wyll I nowe make an ende. G

39 If I haue done well and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly & barely, I haue done that I coulde.

40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water, & as wine tempred with water is pleasaunt & deliteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eare of them that reade the story: And here shalbe the ende.

¶ The newe Testament of our saviour Iesus Christe.

1595

I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christe, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to all that beleue. Rom.i.

1595

A preface into the newe Testament.

THE newe Testament so called, conteyning the writinges of the Euangelistes, with the Epistles of Christes Apostles, and with other such diuine bookes, declare playnely vnto vs the summe and effect of all the scriptures expressed in the olde Testament. That whiche was in figure and in obscuritie inuolued by the patriarkes and prophetes in their propheticall volumes, written by the inspiration of the holy ghost: is in this booke more playnely and euidently set out, vttered also in the selfe same spirite by the children of the prophetes the holy Apostles. In deede the lawe was geuen by Moyses, but grace and veritie came by Iesus Christe, whiche grace this booke of the newe Testament doth most euidently commende and set out. In this is discoursed the whole misterie of our saluation and redemption, purchased by our sauiour Christe, here is his holy conception described, his natiuitie, his circumcision, his whole life and conuersation, his godly doctrine, his diuine miracles. In this booke of the newe Testament is set out his death, his resurrection, his ascention, his sending of the holy spirite, his session in our flesshe on the right hande of his father, making continuall intercession to him for vs. In this booke is contayned the fourme and order of his last iudgement, after the generall resurrection of our bodyes. These be the misteries of our fayth, these be the groundes of our saluation, these be thus written that we shoulde beleue them, and by our beliefe shoulde enioy life euerlasting. Once and in tymes past God diuersly and many vvayes spake vnto the fathers by the prophetes, but in these last dayes he hath spoken vnto vs (vpon vvhom the endes of the vvorlde be come) by his ovvne sonne, vvhom he hath made heire of all thinges, vvhose dignitie is suche, that he is the brightnesse of his fathers glory, the very image of his substaunce, ruling all thinges by the vvorde of his povver. This heauenly doctour so indued vvith glory and maiestie, vve ought most reuerently to beleue, as commended vnto vs from the authoritie of the heauenly father, to be hearde as his most vvelbeloued sonne, in vvhom is his vvhole delight, by vvhom he vvyll be pleased and pacified: It vvyll els come to passe saith that prophete Moyses, that vvhosoeuer shall not here and obay that prophete in the vvordes that he shall speake in his fathers name, I vvill be saith the father, reuenger of him. This is the last prophete to be looked for to speake vnto vs: In hym be vniuersally inclosed the riches and treasures of the vvisdome and knovvledge of God his father, by him he hath decreed finally to iudge the vvhole vvorlde, the liuing and the dead: by him hath he decreed to geue to his elect the life euerlasting, and to the reprobate (vvho hath contempned his life and doctrine) death euerlasting. Let vs therfore seriously heare and obay this our heauenly teacher, submit our selues to this our iudge and reuvarder: Let vs esteeme his doctrine and conuersation, as a ful, perfect, and sufficient patterne of al holynes and vertue: Let vs esteeme the doctrine of this booke, as a most inflexible rule to leade vs to all ttueth and nevvnesse of life. Here may vve beholde the eternall legacies of the nevve Testament, bequeathed from God the father in Christe his sonne to all his electes, I say the legacies liuely renevved vnto vs, not of deliueraunce from Pharao his seruitude, but from the bondage and thraldome of that perpetuall aduersarie of ours the deuill: here may vve beholde our inheritaunce, not of the temporall lande of Chanaan, or of the translation of vs to the place of vvorldly paradise: but here vve may see the full restitution of vs, both in body and soule, to the celestiall paradise, the heauenly citie of Hierusalem aboue, there to raigne vvith God the father, God the sonne, and God the holy ghost for euer. vvhiche legacies of his Testament promised and bequeathed, vvere notvvithstanding recorded in the bookes of the olde Testament to our auncient fathers, vvhiche in hope beleued in Christe to come, vvho vvas painted before them in figures and shadovves, and signified in their olde sacramentes ordayned for that tyme: but novve more euidently renevved and exhibited vnto vs, not in figure, but in deede, not in promise, but in open sight, in feeling, in handling and touching of this eternall life, most manifestly confirmed vnto vs in Christe his blood in this his nevve Testament continued and reuiued, yet in nevve sacramentes, the better to beare in our remembraunce this his eternall Testament of all ioyfull felicities. Let vs novve therefore good christian people, reioyce in these glad tidinges expressed vnto vs by the name of the gospell of our sauiour Christe, and let it neuer fall out of our remembraunce that vve vvere sometime ouervvhelmed in darkenesse, and set in the shadovve of death: let vs consider that vve vvere sometime by our naturall byrth the children of God his vvrath, and vvholly estraunged from the housholde of God. Let vs beare in minde that vve vvere somtime no people of God, nor his beloued, that vve vvere by nature braunches of the vvilde oliue, and novve by mere mercy grafted into the right and naturall oliue tree: vvhervpon let vs the rather repose our life in feare and reuerence. If vve be novve the chyldren of light, let vs vvalke in this our light in all holynesse and godlynesse of life, approuing that vvhiche is pleasing to the Lorde. Let vs haue no felovvship vvith the vnfruitfull vvorkes of darknesse, and let vs henceforth be no more chyldren, vvauering and caried about vvith euery vvinde of doctrine, and by the deceipt and craftinesse of men, vvherby they lay in vvayte to deceaue vs: but let vs folovve the trueth in loue and charitie, and in al thinges grovve vp into him vvhich is the head, that is Christe our sauiour. If vve be novve the chyldren of grace, and made liuely membres of his body, though someryme straungers and forreyners farre of, and made neare by the bloud of Christe, and made citizens vvith the saintes, and of the housholde of God: let vs direct our heartes thither vvhere our head is, delting our selfe in all heauenly cogitations, vvalking in all spirituall vvorkes and fruites of the spirite, as Gods deare elect. God graunt that Christe may so dvvell in our heartes by fayth, that vve may be hable to comprehende vvith all sainctes the vnspeakable loue of Christe, vvhich passeth all mans knovvledge. Vnto him therefore vvhiche is hable to do exceeding aboundauntly aboue all that vve can aske or thinke, be prayse in the Churche by Christe Iesus, throughout all generations for euer. Amen.

In prologo vet. testam.

And here yet once againe, let the reader be admonished charitably to examine this translation of the nevve Testament folovving, and be not offended vvith diuersitie of interpretation, though he finde it not to agree to his vvont text, or yet to disagree from the common ttanslation: Remembring vvhat Santes Pagninus testifieth of that auncient interpreter saint Hierome, that in many places of his commentaries, he doth reade and expounde othervvise then is founde in the common translation: yea saith Santes, Hierome doth retract very many places, and doth playnely confesse, that him selfe vvas deceaued by the haste of his translating in the doubtfull signification of the vvordes. And therfore saith the saide Hierome thus: I thinke it better to rebuke mine ovvne errour, then (vvhyle I am ashamed to confesse my lacke of skill) to persist in an errour. For vvho vvas euer, saith he, so vvell learned, that hath not somevvhere ben deceaued. Thus farre saint Hierome, vvhervpon good reader I exhort thee, reade aduisedly, expende learnedly, and correct charitably, and be not offended (good englishe reader) to see the holy scriptures in thyne ovvne language, as a matter nevvly seene: seeing that our ovvne countreyman that venerable priest Bede, many yeres agone did translate saint Iohns gospell into the vulgare tongue, Ad vtilitatem ecclesiæ, to the profite of the Church, saith Cuthbert & Durhams story, who reporteth Bedes ovvne saying: Nolo vt discipuli mei mendatium legant, I vvoulde not that my disciples shoulde reade any lye, or spende their labour after my departure vvithout fruite. VVhiche thing also the auncient lyte of Bede doth testifie of him. In hiis diebus etiam euangelium Iohannis in Anglicam transtulit linguam iuxta Apostolum: Sapientibus, & insipientibus debitor sum, & omnibus omnia factus. In these dayes (of his sickneſſe) he did translate the gospell of saint Iohn into the englishe tongne, saying vvith the apostle: I am detter to the learned and vnlearned, I am made all to all. The rather he so did saith VVilliam Malmesberi,: Quia hoc euangelium difficultate sui, mentes legentium exercet: Because this gospell by the difficultie that is in it, doth so much exercise the vvittes of the readers, therfore he did interprete it into the englishe tongue: and so did condiscende (saith he) to them vvhiche vvere not skilfull in the latin tongue. God graunt that all readers may take so much profite therby, asthe good translatours ment vnto them, Amen.

¶ 1 The Genealogie of Christe from Abraham. 18 The maryage of his mother Marie. 20 The Angell satisfieth Josephes mynde. 21 The interpretation of Christes names.

1 THis is the (b) booke of the generation of Jesus Christ, the sonne of Dauid, the sonne of Abraham.

2 *Abraham begat Isaac, *Isaac begat Jacob, *Jacob begat Judas, and his brethren.

3 *Judas begat Phares, and Zara of Thamar, *Phares begat Esrom, *Esrom begat Aram.

4 *Aram begat Aminadab, *Aminadab begat Naasson, *Naasson begat Salmon.

5 *Salmon begat Boos, of Rachab, *Boos begat Obed of Ruth, *Obed begat Jesse.

6 *Jesse begat Dauid the kyng, *Dauid the kyng begat Solomon, of her that was the wyfe of Urie.

7 *Solomon begat Roboam, *Roboam begat Abia, *Abia begat Asa.

8 *Asa begat Josaphat, Josaphat begat Joram, *Joram begat Ozias.

9 Ozias begat Joatham, *Joatham begat Achas, *Achas begat Ezekias.

10 *Ezekias begat Manasses, *Manasses begat Amon, *Amon begat Josias.

11 *Josias begat Jacim, *Jacim begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the tyme they were caryed away to Babylon.

12 And, after they were brought to Babylon, *Jechonias begat Salathiel, Salathiel begat Zorobabel.

13 *Zorobabel begat Abiud, *Abiud begat Eliakim, Eliakim begat Azor.

14 Azor begat Sadoc, Sadoc begat Achen, Achen begat Eliud.

15 Eliud begat Eleazar, Eleazar begat Matthan, Matthan begat Jacob.

16 Jacob begat Joseph, the husband of Marie, of whō was borne Jesus, that is called Christe. ☞

17 And so, all the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are fourteene generations: and from Dauid vntyll the carying away into Babylō, are fourteene generations: and frō the carying away into Babylon vnto Christe, are fourteene generations.

¶ 1 The tyme and place of Christes birth. 11 The wyse men offer their presentes. 14 Christe fleeth into Egipte. 16 The young chyldren are slayne. 23 Christe turneth into Galilee.

A 1 When Jesus was borne in Bethlehem, a citie of Jurie, in the dayes of Herode the kyng: beholde, there came wise men from the east to Hierusalem,

2 Saying: Where is he that is borne kyng of Jewes? For we haue seene his *starre in the east, and are come to worship hym. Nu.xxiiii.c.

3 When Herode the kyng had hearde these thynges, he was troubled, and all [the citie of] Hierusalem with hym.

4 And when he hadde gathered all the chiefe Priestes and Scribes of the people together, he demaunded of them where Christe shoulde be borne.

5 And they saide vnto him: At Bethlehem in Jurie. For thus it is written by the prophete.

Miche.v.a.

6 *And thou Bethlehem [in] the lande of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda. For out of thee shall there come a capitain, that shal gouerne my people Israel. Iohn.vii.g.

7 Then Herode, when he had preuilye called the wyse men, inquired of thē diligentlỹ, What tyme the starre appeared.

B 8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and sayde: Go, and search diligently for the young childe, and when ye haue founde hym, bryng me worde agayne, that I may come, and worship hym also.

9 & When they had hearde the kyng, they departed, and loe, the starre which they sawe in the east, went before them, tyl it came & stoode ouer [the place] wherein the young chylde was.

10 When they sawe the starre, they reioyced exceedyngly with great ioy.

11 And went into the house, and founde the young chylde with Marie his mother, *and fell downe, and worshypped hym, and opened their treasures, and presented vnto hym gyftes, golde, and frankensence, and mirre. Psal.lxii.d. Esai.lx.b.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they shoulde not go agayne to Herode, they returned into their owne countrey another way.

13 When they were departed, beholde, the Angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dreame, saying: Aryse, & take the young chylde and his mother, and flee into Egipte, and be thou there, tyll I bryng thee worde. For it wyll come to passe, that Herode shall seke ỹ young chylde, to destroy hym.

C 14 When he arose, he toke the young chylde and his mother, by nyght, and departed into Egipt.

15 And was there, vnto the death of Herode, that it myght be fulfylled which was spoken of the Lorde, by the prophete, saying: *Out of Egipte haue I called my sonne. Osee.xi.a. Nu.xxiii.c.

¶ 1 Johns preachyng, office, lyfe, baptisme, 7 reprehendyng of the Pharisees, 13 and baptizyng of Christe in Jordane.

1 IN those dayes, came John the *Baptist, preachyng in the wyldernesse of Jurie, and saying.

2 *Repent, (a) for the kingdome of heauen is at hande.

3 *For this is he, of whom it is spoken by the prophete Esayas, saying. * The voyce of one crying in the wyldernesse: prepare ye the Way of the Lorde, make his pathes straycht.

4 This John had his rayment of Camels heere, *and a girdle of a skynne about his loynes, *his meate was locustes, and *wylde hony.

5 Then went out to hym Hierusalem, and all Jurie, and all the region rounde about Jordane,

6 And were baptized of hym in Jordane, confessyng their sinnes.

7 But when he sawe many of the Pharisees, and Saducees come to his baptisme, he sayde vnto them. *O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the anger to come?

8 Bryng forth therefore fruites meete for repentaunce.

9 And be not of suche mynde, that ye woulde say within your selues, We haue Abraham to [our] father. For I say vnto you, that God is able, of these stones to rayse vp chyldren vnto Abraham.

10 Euen now is the axe also put vnto the roote of the trees: therefore, *euery tree which bryngeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire. Math.vii.c. Luk.iii.b.

11 I baptize you in water *vnto repentaunce: But he that shall come after me, is mightier then I, whose shoes I am not worthy to beare, he shall baptize you with the holy ghost, and with fire. Mark.i.a. Luk.iii.c. Iohn.i.d.

12 *Whose fanne is in his hande, and he wyll purge his floore, and gather his wheate into [his] garner: but wyl burne vp the chaffe with vnquencheable fire. Luk.iii.c.

13 Then commeth Jesus from Galilee to Jordane, vnto John, *to be baptized of hym. Mark.i.b.

14 But John forbad hym, saying. I haue nede to be baptized of thee, and commest thou to me?

15 Jesus answeryng, sayde vnto hym: Suffer it to be so nowe. For thus it becommeth vs, to fulfyll all righteousnes. Then he suffred hym.

16 And Jesus, when he was baptized, came straycht waye out of the water, and loe *the heauens was open vnto hym, and (John) sawe the spirite of God descendyng lyke a doue, and lyghtyng vpon hym. Mark.i.b. Luk.iii.d. Iohn.i.e.

¶ In this Chapter, and in the two nert folowyng, is conteyned the moſt excellent and louyng Sermon of Chriſte, in the mount. Which Sermon, is the very key, that openeth the vnderſtandyng into the lawe. In this fifth Chapter ſpecially, 3 he preacheth of the eyght beatitudes, or bleſſynges, 21 of manſlaughter, 22 wrath, and anger, 27 of adultrie, 33 of ſwearyng, 39 of ſufferyng wrong, 44 and of loue, euen towarde a mans enemies.

11 When he ſaw the multitude, he went vp into a mountayne: & when he was ſet, his diſciples came to hym.

2 And he opened his mouth, & taught them, ſaying.

Luke vi.d. 3 *Bleſſed (are) the poore in ſpirite: for theirs is the kyngdome of heauen.

Luke xi. b. 15 *Neyther do men lyght a candell, and put it vnder a buſſhell: but on a candelſticke, and it geueth lyght vnto all that are in the houſe.

16 Let your lyght ſo ſhyne before men, *that they may ſee your good workes, and glorifie your father, whiche is in heauen.

17 Thynke not that I am come to deſtroy the lawe, or the prophetes. I am not come to deſtroy, but *to fulfyll. ¶ Matth. i. d. and. ii. c. Luke xvi. d. Eſay. xl. c.

18 For truely I ſay vnto you, *tyll heauen and earth paſſe, one iotte, or one tittle of the lawe ſhall not ſcape, tyll all be fulfylled.

19 Whoſoeuer therfore breaketh one *of theſe leaſt commaundementes, and teacheth men ſo, he ſhalbe called the leaſte in the kyngdome of heauen. But who ſo euer doeth, and teacheth (ſo) the ſame ſhalbe called great in the kyngdome of heauen. Iacob. ii. b. Eze. xviii. b.

20 For I ſay vnto you: except your righteouſnes, excede the rightcouſnes of the Scribes and Phariſees, ye ſhall not enter into the kyngdome of heauen.

21 Ye haue hearde, that it was ſayde to them of the olde tyme, *thou ſhalt not kyll: Who ſo euer kylleth, ſhalbe in daunger of iudgement. D Exod. xx. e. Luke xvii. d. Deut. v. b.

22 But I ſay vnto you, that Who ſo euer is angry with his brother, vnaduſedly, ſhalbe in daunger of iudgement. And Who ſo euer ſhall ſay vnto his brother, racha, ſhalbe in daunger of a councell: But, Whoſoeuer ſhall ſaye (thou) foole, ſhalbe in daunger of hell fire.

23 Therfore, if thou bring thy gyft to the aulter, and there remembreſt, that thy brother hath ought agaynſt thee:

24 Leaue there thy gyft, before the aulter, *and go thy way, firſt and be reconciled to thy brother: and then, come and offer thy gyft. ☞ Iob. xlii. b.

¶ The.vj. Chapter.

¶ 1 Of almes, 5 prayer, 16 and fastyng. 19 He forbyddeth the carefull sekyng of worldly thynges.

TAKE heede to your almes, that ye geue it not in the sight of men, to the intente that ye woulde be sene of thē, or els ye haue no reWarde of your father, which is in heauen.

2 Therefore, When thou geuest thyne almes, thou shalt not make a trumpet to be blowen before thee, as hypocrites do, in the synagogues, & in the streates, ỳ they might be esteemed of mē. Verily I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

3 But when thou doest [thyne] almes, let not thy left hande knowe, what thy right hande doeth,

4 That thyne almes may be in secrete: And thy father, which seeth in secrete, shall reWarde thee openly.

And

5 And When thou prayest, *thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are. For they loue to stande, praying in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streates, that they may be seue of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue theyr rewarde.

6 But When thou prayest, *enter into thy chaumber, and When thou hast shut thy dore, pray to thy father, Which is in secrete, and thy father Which seeth in secrete, shall rewarde thee openly.

7 But When ye pray, *babble not much, as the heathen do. For they thynke [it wyl come to passe,] that they shalbe heard, for theyr much bablinges sake.

8 Be not ye therfore lyke vnto them. *For your father knoweth, What thynges ye haue nede of, before ye aske of hym.

9 After this maner therfore pray ye. *O our father, Which art in heauen, halowed be thy name.

10 Let thy kyngdome come. Thy Wyll be done, as Well in earth, as it is in heauen.

11 Geue vs this day our dayly breade.

12 And forgeue vs our dettes, as We forgeue our detters.

13 And leade vs not into temptation, but delyuer vs from euyll. For thyne is the kyngdome, and the power, and the glory, for euer. Amen.

14 For, *yf ye forgeue men theyr trespasses, your heauenly father shall also forgeue you.

15 But, yf ye forgeue not men theyr trespasses: no more shall your father, forgeue [you] your trespasses.

16 Moreouer, *When ye fast, be not of an heauy countenaunce, as hypocrites are. For they disfigure theyr faces, that they myght appeare vnto men, to fast. Verely I say vnto you, they haue theyr rewarde.

17 But thou, When thou fastest, annoynt thyne head, and Washe thy face:

18 That thou appeare not vnto men, to fast: but vnto thy father, Which is in secrete, and thy father, Which seeth in secrete, shall rewarde thee openly.

19 Hoorde not vp for your selues, treasures vpon earth, Where the moth and rust doth corrupt, and Where theeues breake through, and steale.

20 *But laye vp for you, treasures in heauen, Where neyther moth nor rust doth corrupt, and Where theeues do not breake through, nor steale.

21 For, Where your treasure is, there Wyll your heart be also.

22 *The lyght of the body, is the eye. Wherfore, yf thyne eye be single, all thy body shalbe full of lyght. Luk.xi.c.

23 But and yf thyne eye be Wicked, all thy body shalbe ful of darknesse. Wherfore, yf the lyght that is in thee, be darknesse, howe great is that darknesse?

24 ☞*No man can serue two maisters. For either he shall hate the one, & loue the other: or els leane to the one, and dispise the other. Ye can not serue God, and (a) mammon. Luk.xvi.e

25 Therfore I say vnto you, *be not carefull for your lyfe, What ye shall eate, or drynke: nor yet for your body, What ye shall put on. Is not the lyfe more Worth then meate? & the body then rayment? Luke.xii.c. Psal.lv.d. i.Pet.v.c.

26 Beholde the fowles of the ayre: For they sowe not, neither do they reape, nor cary into the barnes: yet your heauenly father feedeth them. Are ye not much better then they?

27 *Which of you, by takyng of carefull thought, can adde one cubite vnto his stature? Luke.xii.d.

28 And Why care ye for rayment? Learne of the Lylies of the fielde, howe they growe. They Weery not [them selues] With labour, neither [do they] spinne:

29 And yet I say vnto you, that euen Solomon in all his royaltie, Was not arayed lyke one of these.

30 Wherfore, yf God so clothe the grasse of the fielde, Which though it stande to day, is to morowe cast into the ouen: shall he not much more [do] the same for you, O ye of litle fayth?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying: What shall We eate? or, What shall We drynke? or, WhereWith shall We be clothed?

32 (For after all these thynges, do the Gentiles seke:) for your heauenly father knoweth, that ye haue nede of all these thynges.

33 But rather, seke ye first the kyngdome of God, and his ryghteousnesse, and all these thynges shalbe ministred vnto you.

34 Care not then for the morowe: for the morowe shall care for it selfe. (b) Sufficient vnto the day, is the euyll therof. (b) That is, the pyller hath enough of his owne grief or affliction. Peter.

¶ The .vij. Chapter.

¶ 1 He forbyddeth foolyshe and rashe iudgement, 5 reproueth hypocrisie, 7 exhorteth vnto prayer, 13 & to enter in at the strayte gate, 15 warneth to beware of false prophetes, 24 and wylleth the hearers of his worde, to be doers of the same.

A 1 IUdge * not, that ye be not iudged. Luk.vi.f.

2 * For with what iudgement ye iudge, ye shalbe iudged: * And with what measure ye meate, it shalbe measured to you agayne. Rom.ii.a. Luk.vi.f.

Luk.vi.f. 3 * Why seest thou a mote in thy brothers eye, but perceiuest not the beame that is in thyne owne eye?

4 Or, howe sayest thou to thy brother: suffer me, I wyll plucke out a mote out of thyne eye: and beholde, a beame is in thyne owne eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first caste out the beame out of thine owne eye: and then shalt thou see clearely, to plucke out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

6 Geue not that which is holy, vnto dogges, neyther caste ye your pearles before swyne, lest they treade them vnder their feete, and turning agayne, all to rent you.

B 7 Aske, and it shalbe geuen you: * seke, and ye shall fynde: knocke, and it shalbe opened vnto you. Ier.xxix.c. Iohn.xvi.f. Luk.xi.b.

8 For he that asketh, receaueth: and he that seketh, fyndeth: and to hym that knocketh, it shalbe opened.

9 Is there any among you, which, yf his sonne aske hym bread, wyll geue hym a stone?

10 Or yf he aske fyshe, wyll he geue hym a serpent?

11 If ye then, beyng euyll, knowe to geue your children good gyftes: howe much more shall your father, which is in heauen, geue good thynges, to them that aske hym?

Eccl.xxxiib 12 Therfore all thynges, * whatsoeuer ye woulde that men shoulde do to you, do ye euen so to them: For this is the lawe, and the prophetes. Toby.iiii.c. Luk.vi.c.

Luk.xiii.c. 13 * Enter in at the strayte gate. For wyde is the gate, and brode is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in therat.

14 Because, strayte is the gate, and narowe is the way, which leadeth vnto lyfe, and fewe there be that fynde it.

15 * Beware of false prophetes, which come to you in sheepes clothyng: but inwardly they are rauenyng woolfes. Deut.xiii.a. i.Iohn.iv.a.

16 Ye shall knowe them by theyr fruites, ¶ * Do men gather grapes of thornes? or fygges of thystles? Luk.vi.g.

17 Euen so, euery good tree, bryngeth forth good fruite: But a corrupt tree, bryngeth forth euyll fruite.

18 * A good tree, can not bryng forth bad fruite: neither can a bad tree, bryng forth good fruite. Math.xii.c.

19 * Euery tree that bryngeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fyre. Math.iii.d. Luk.iii.b.

20 Wherfore, by theyr fruites, ye shall knowe them.

21 Not euery one, that sayeth vnto me * Lorde, Lorde, shall enter into the kyngdome of heauen: but he that doeth the wyll of my father, which is in heauen. Mat.xxv.b Luk.vi.g. and xiii.c.

22 Many wyll say to me in that day, ¶ Lorde Lorde, haue we not prophesied thorowe thy name? * and thorowe thy name haue cast out deuyls? & done many great workes thorowe thy name? Act.xix.c

23 And then wyll I confesse vnto them, I neuer knewe you: * Depart from me, ye that worke iniquitie. Psal.vi.b. Luk.xiii.d.

24 Therfore, Whosoeuer heareth of me these sayinges, and doeth the same, I wyll lyken hym vnto a wyse man, which * buylt his house vpon a rocke: Luk.vi.g.

25 And the rayne descended, and the fludes came, and the wyndes blewe, and beat vpon that house, and it fell not, because it was grounded on a rocke.

26 And euery one that heareth of me these sayinges, * and doeth them not, shalbe lykened vnto a foolyshe man, which buylt his house vpon the sande: Iacob.i.b. Eze.xiii.b.

27 And the rayne descended, and the fludes came, and the wyndes blewe, and beat vpon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

28 And it came to passe, that when Iesus had ended these sayinges, the people were astonied at his doctrine.

The .viij. Chapter.

¶ 2 Christe clenseth the leper, 5 healeth the captaynes seruaunt, and many other diseases, 14 helpeth Peters mother in lawe, 24 stylleth the sea, and the wynde, 28 and dryueth the deuyls out of the possessed, into the swyne.

1 A WHEN he was come downe frō the mountayne, great multitudes followed hym.

2 And beholde, * there came a leper, and worshipped hym, saying: Lorde, yf thou wylt, thou canst make me cleane.

3 And Jesus put forth his hande, and touched hym, saying: I wyll, be thou cleane. And immediatlye his leprosie was clensed.

4 And Jesus sayth vnto hym: See thou tell no man, * but go, [and] shewe thy selfe to the priest, and offer the gift that Moyses commaunded, for a Witnes vnto them.

5 ☞ And When Jesus was entred * into Capernaum, there came vnto hym a Centurion, besechyng hym.

6 And saying: Lorde, my seruaunt lyeth at home sicke of the paulsie, greeuously payned.

7 And Jesus sayth. When I come, I wyll heale hym.

8 The Centurion answered, & sayde: Lorde, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come vnder my roofe: but * speake the worde only, & my seruaunt shalbe healed.

9 For I also my selfe am vnder authoritie, and haue souldiers vnder me: and I say to this man go, and he goeth: and to another, come, and he commeth: and to my seruaunt, do this, and he doth it.

10 When Jesus hearde [him], he marueyled, & sayde to them that followed [him]: Verely I say vnto you, I haue not founde so great fayth in Israel.

11 I say vnto you, that * many shall come from the east and west, and shall rest with Abraham, and Isaac, & Jacob, in the kyngdome of heauen.

12 But the chyldren of the kyngdome shalbe caste out, into vtter darcknesse: there shalbe wepyng, and gnashyng of teeth.

13 And Jesus sayde vnto the Centurion: Go thy way, and as thou hast beleued, so be it vnto thee. And his seruaunt was healed, in the selfe same houre.

14 *And When Jesus was come into Peters house, he sawe his wyues mother layed, and sicke of a feuer. Mark.i.c. Luke.iiii.f.

15 And he touched her hande, and the feuer left her, and she arose, and ministred vnto them.

16 When the euen was come, they brought vnto hym many, that were possessed with deuyls, and he cast out the spirites with a worde, and healed all that were sicke.

17 That it myght be fulfylled, which was spoken by Esayas the prophete, saying: *He toke on hym our infirmities, and bare [our] sicknesses. Esay.liii.b. i.Pet.ii.d.

18 When Jesus sawe great multitudes about hym, he commaunded that they shoulde go ouer the water. ¶

19 And a certayne Scribe came, & sayde vnto hym: *Maister, I wyll followe thee, whyther soeuer thou goest. Luke.ix.g.

20 And Jesus sayth vnto hym. The foxes haue holes, and the birdes of the ayre haue nestes: but the sonne of man, hath not where to rest his head.

21 And another, of the number of his disciples, sayde vnto hym: *Lorde, suffer me first to go and bury my father. Luke.ix.g.

22 But Jesus sayde vnto hym: Followe me, and let the dead bury theyr dead.

23 ☞ And When he entred into a shippe, his disciples followed hym:

24 And beholde, * there arose a great tempest in the sea, [in so much] that the shippe was couered with waues: but he was a slepe. Mark.iiii.b. Luke.viii.c.

25 And his disciples came to hym, and awoke hym, saying: Lorde saue vs, we perysshe.

26 And he sayth vnto them: Why are ye fearefull, O ye of litle fayth? Then he arose, *and rebuked the windes, and the sea: and there followed a great calme. Iob.xxvi.d Psal.cvii.c.

27 But the men marueyled, saying: ¶ What maner of man is this, that both wyndes and sea obey hym? ☜

28 *And When he was come to the other syde, into the countrey of the Gergesenes, there met hym two, possessed with deuyls, which came out of the graues, and were very fierce, so that no man Mark.v.a. Luk.viii.d.

man myght go by that way.

29 And beholde, they cryed out, saying: * O Jesu, thou sonne of God, * What haue we to do with thee? Art thou come hyther, to torment vs before the tyme?

Math.v.a. Luk.viii.d. 1.Cor.vi.c.

30 And there was, a good way of from them, * a hearde of many swyne, feedyng.

Mark.viii.d

31 So, the deuyls besought hym, saying: Yf thou cast vs out, suffer vs to go away into the heard of swyne.

32 And he sayde vnto them, go. Then went they out, and departed into the heard of swyne: And beholde, ỹ whole heard of swyne rushed headlong into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 Then they that kept them, fledde, and went theyr wayes into the citie, and tolde euery thyng, and what was done of the possessed with the deuyls.

34 And beholde, the whole citie came out to meete Jesus: and when they sawe hym, * they besought hym, that he would depart out of theyr coastes.

¶ 2 He healeth the paulsie. 9 Calleth Matthewe from the custome. 11 Answereth for his disciples. 22 Healeth the woman of the blooddy issue. 25 Helpeth Jairus daughter. 29 Geueth two blynde men theyr syght. 33 Maketh a dumbe man to speake, and dryueth out a deuyll.

A 1 AND he entred into a shippe, & passed ouer, & came into his owne citie.

2 And beholde, * they brought to him a man, sicke of the paulsie, lying in a bedde. And When Jesus sawe the fayth of them, he sayde vnto the sicke of the paulsie: Sonne, be of good cheare, thy sinnes be forgeuen thee.

Mark.ii.a. Luke.v.d.

3 And beholde, certayne of the Scribes sayde, within them selues: This man blasphemeth.

4 And whē Jesus sawe their thoughtes, he sayde: Wherefore thynke ye euyll in your heartes?

5 Whether is easyer to say, thy sinnes be forgeuen thee? Or to say, aryse and walke?

6 But that ye may knowe, that the sonne of man hath power to forgeue sinnes in earth (then sayde he to the sicke of the paulsie) * Aryse, take vp thy bedde, and go vnto thyne house.

Actes.iii.b. and.ix.f. Mark.ii.b. Luke.v.c. Iohn.v.b.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But When the multitudes sawe it, they marueyled, & glorified God, Which had geuen such power vnto men.

9 ☞ And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he sawe a man, named Matthewe, sytting at the receipte of custome: & he sayth vnto hym, folowe me. And he arose, and folowed hym.

10 And it came to passe, as Jesus sate at meate in his house, beholde, many publicans also and sinners came, and sate downe with Jesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees sawe it, they sayde vnto his disciples: Why eateth your maister with publicans and sinners?

12 But When Jesus hearde that, he sayde vnto them: They that be whole, nede not the phisition, but they that are sicke.

13 Go ye, and learne what that meaneth, I wyll [haue] mercie, and not sacrifice: for I am not come, to call the righteous, but sinners to repentaunce. ☞

Osee.vi.c. Math.xii.a.

14 ☞ Then came the disciples of John vnto hym, saying: * Why do We and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?

Math.xi.b. Mark.ii.c. Luke.v.f.

15 And Jesus sayde vnto them: Can the chyldren (a) of the bryde chaumber mourne, as long as the brydegrome is with them? But the dayes wyll come, when the brydegrome shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

22 But Jesus turned hym about, and when he sawe her, he saide: Daughter be of good comfort, thy faith hath made thee safe. And the woman was made whole from that same houre.)

23 *And, When Jesus came into the rulers house, and sawe the minstrels, and the people, makyng a noyse, 24 He sayde vnto them: Geue place, for the maide is not dead, *but slepeth. And they laughed hym to scorne.

25 But when the people were put foorth, he went in, and toke her by the hande, and the mayde arose.

26 And the fame [of this] went abrode into all that lande.

27 And when Jesus departed thence, two blynde men folowed hym, crying, and saying: O thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on vs.

28 And whē he was come into the house, the blynde came to hym. And Jesus sayth vnto them: Beleue ye that I am able to do this? They sayde vnto hym, yea Lorde.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying: *Accordyng to your fayth, be it vnto you. Mat.viii.b.

30 And their eyes were opened. And Jesus straytly charged them, saying: see that no man knowe [of it.]

31 But they, when they were departed, spread abrode his name in all that lande.

32 As they went out, beholde, *they brought to him a dumbe man, possessed with a deuyll. Mark.vii.d. Luk.xi.b.

33 And when the deuyll was cast out, the dumbe spake, and the multitudes marueyled, saying, that it was neuer so seene in Israel.

34 But the Pharisees sayde: *He casteth out deuils, through the prince of deuils. Math. xii.b. Mark.iii.b. Luk.xi.b.

35 *And Jesus went about all cities and townes, teachyng in their synagogues, and preachyng the Gospell of the kyngdome, and healyng euery sickenesse, and euery disease among the people. Mark.vi.b.

36 But when he sawe the multitudes, *he was moued with compassion on them, because they were destitute, and scattered abrode, euen as sheepe, hauing no shepheard. Mark.vi.d.

37 Then sayth he vnto his disciples: the *haruest truely is plenteous, but the labourers are fewe. Luk.x.a.

The. xi. Chapter.

1 Chriſte preacheth. 2 John Baptiſt ſendeth his diſciples vnto him. 7 Chriſtes teſtimonie concernyng John. 18 The opinion of the people concernyng Chriſte and John 20 Chriſte vpbraydeth the vnthankfull cities. 25 The Goſpell is reuealed to the ſimple. 28 They that labour and are laden. 29 Chriſtes yoke.

A 1 AND it came to paſſe, that When Jeſus had made an ende of commaundyng his twelue diſciples, he departed thence to teache and to preache in their cities.

2 ☞When John being in priſon heard the workes of Chriſte, he ſent two of his diſciples, and ſayde vnto him:

3 Art thou he that ſhoulde come? or do we loke for another?

4 Jeſus aunſwered and ſayd vnto them: Go and ſhewe John agayne what ye haue hearde and ſeene.

Matth. 5 *The blinde receaue their ſight, the halt do walke, the lepers are cleanſed, and the deafe heare, the dead are raiſed vp, and the poore *receaue the Goſpell.

Matthia. 6 And happy is he that is not offended in me.

B 7 *And as they departed, Jeſus began to ſay vnto the multitude cõcerning John: What went ye out into the wilderneſſe to ſee? A reede ſhaken with the winde?

Luk.xi.d. 8 Or What went ye out for to ſee? A man clothed in ſoft rayment? Beholde, they that weare ſoft [clothyng] are in kinges houſes.

9 But what went ye out for to ſee? A prophete? yea I ſay vnto you, and more then a prophete.

10 For this is he of whom it is written: *Beholde I ſende my meſſenger before thy face, which ſhall prepare thy way before thee. ☜

11 ☞Verily I ſay vnto you, among them that are borne of women, aroſe not a greater then John the Baptiſt: Notwithſtandyng, he that is leſſe in the kingdome of heauen, is greater then he.

12 From the dayes of John the Baptiſt vntyll nowe, the kingdome of heauen ſuffereth violence, & the violent plucke it [vnto them.]

13 *For all the prophetes and the lawe it ſelfe prophecied vnto John.

14 And if ye wyll receaue it, *this is Elias which was for to come.

15 He that hath eares to heare, let him heare. ☜

16 *But wherevnto ſhall I liken this generation? It is like vnto litle children, which ſit in the marketes, and call vnto their felowes, 17 And ſay: We haue pyped vnto you, and ye haue not daunſed: We haue (a) mourned vnto you, and ye haue not ſorowed.

(a) we haue long mournyng ſonges vnto you.

18 For John came neither eatyng nor drinking, and they ſay, he hath the deuil.

19 The ſonne of man came eatyng and drinking, and they ſay, behold a glutton and an [vnmeaſurable] drinker of wine, and a friende vnto publicans & ſinners: And wiſdome is iuſtified of her children.

20 ☞*Then began he to vpbrayd the cities which moſt of his mightie workes were done in, becauſe they repented not. Luk.x.c.

21 Wo vnto thee Chorazin, wo vnto thee Bethſaida: for if the mightie workes which were ſhewed in you had ben done in Tyre or Sidon, they had repented long ago in ſackcloth and aſhes. D

22 Neuertheleſſe I ſay vnto you, it ſhalbe eaſier for Tyre and Sidon at the day of iudgement, then for you.

23 And thou Capernaum, which art lift vp vnto heauen, ſhalt be brought downe to hell: For if the mightie workes which haue ben done in thee had ben done among them of Sodome, they had remayned vntyll this day.

24 Neuertheleſſe, I ſay vnto you, that it ſhalbe eaſier for the lande of Sodome in the day of iudgement, then for thee. ☜

25 ☞At that tyme Jeſus aunſwered and ſayde: I thanke thee O father, Lorde of heauen and earth, becauſe thou haſt hid theſe thinges from the wiſe and prudent, and haſt ſhewed them vnto babes.

26 Euen ſo [it is] O father, for ſo was it thy good pleaſure.

27 *All thinges are geuen vnto me of my father: *And no man knoweth the ſonne but the father, neither knoweth any man the father ſaue the ſonne, and he to whomſoeuer the ſonne wyll open him. Mat.28.d. Luk.x.d. Ioh.iii.d. Ioh.vii.d. and.viii.c.

28 Come vnto me all ye that labour ſore, and are laden, and I wyll eaſe you.

29 *Take my yoke vpon you and learne of me, for I am meeke & lowly in heart: and ye ſhall finde reſt vnto your ſoules. Eccle.vi.d.

30 For my yoke is eaſie, *and my burthen is lyght. ☜ i.Ioh.v.a.

The .xij. Chapter.

3 Christe excuseth his disciples which plucke the eares of corne. 10 He healeth the dryed hande, 22 helpeth the possessed that was blynde and dumbe. 31 Blasphemie. 34 The generation of vipers. 35 Of good wordes. 36 Of idle wordes. 38 He rebuketh the vnfaithfull that woulde needes haue tokens, 49 and sheweth who is his brother, sister, and mother.

AT that tyme Jesus went on the Sabbath dayes * through the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and began to * plucke the eares of corne, & to eate.

Mark.ii.d.

Deut.23.d.

2 But when the Pharisees sawe it, they sayde vnto hym: Beholde, thy disciples do that which is not lawfull to do vpon the Sabbath day.

3 But he sayde vnto them: Haue ye not read what Dauid did when he was an hungred, and they that were with him:

1.Reg.21.a. 4 *Howe he entred into the house of God, and did eate the shew bread, which was not lawfull for hym to eate, neither for them which were with hym, but only for the priestes:

5 Or haue ye not read in the lawe, howe that on the Sabbath dayes the priestes in the temple (a) prophane the Sabbath, and are blamelesse:

(a) That is, do vncleane workes

6 But I say vnto you, that in this place is one greater then the temple.

B 7 Wherfore if ye wist what this meaneth, *I will mercie & not sacrifice: ye woulde not haue condempned the giltlesse.

Mar.xi.b. Ozee.vi.b.

8 For the sonne of man also is Lorde euen of the Sabbath day.

Mar.iii.a. Luk.vi.b. 9 And he departed thence, *and went into their synagogue, 10 And beholde there was a man which had his hande dryed vp, and they asked him, saying: *Is it lawfull to heale vpon the Sabbath dayes: that they might accuse him.

Luk.xiiii.a.

11 And he sayde vnto them: what man of you wyll there be that shall haue * a sheepe, & if it fall into a pit on the Sabbath day, wyll he not take holde of it, and lift it out:

Deu.xxii.a.

12 Howe much more then is a man better then a sheepe: Wherfore it is lawfull to do a good deede on the Sabbath dayes.

13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hande. And he stretched it forth: and it was made whole like as the other.

C 14 *Then the Pharisees went out, and helde a counsayle agaynst him, howe they might destroy hym.

Mark.iii.a. Ioh.x.g.

15 But when Jesus knewe it, he departed thence: and great multitudes folowed him, and he healed them all,

16 And charged them that they shoulde not make him knowen:

17 That it might be fulfylled which was spoken by Esaias the prophete, saying:

18 *Beholde my childe whom I haue chosen, my beloued in whom my soule well delighteth: I wyll put my spirite vpon him, and he shall shewe iudgement to the gentiles.

Esai.xlii.a.

19 He shall not striue nor crye, neither shal any man heare his voyce in the streetes.

20 A bruised reede shall he not breake, and smokyng flare shall he not quenche, tyll he sende forth iudgement vnto victorie:

21 And in his name shall the gentiles trust.

D

22 *Then was brought to him one possessed with a deuyll, blinde, and dumbe: and he healed him, insomuch that the blinde and dumbe both spake and sawe.

Luk.xi.b.

23 And all the people were amased and sayde: Is not this that sonne of Dauid:

24 *But when the Pharisees hearde it, they sayde: This [felowe] driueth the deuils no otherwise out, but by Beelzebub the prince of the deuils.

Mat.xii.d. Mark.iii.c. Luk.xi.c.

25 But whē Jesus knew their thoughtes, he sayde vnto them, Euery kingdome deuided agaynst it selfe shalbe brought to naught: and euery citie or house deuided agaynst it selfe shall not stande.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, then is he deuided agaynst him selfe: howe shall then his kingdome endure:

27 Also if I by Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom do your children cast them out: Therfore they shalbe your iudges.

28 But if I cast out the deuils by the spirite of God: then is the kingdome of God come vpon you.

29 Or els * howe can one enter into a strong mans house, & spoyle his goodes, except he first binde the strong man, and then spoyle his house:

Luk.xi.c

30 He that is not with me, is agaynst me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth abrode.

31 Wherfore

31 Wherfore, I say vnto you, all maner of sinne and blasphemy shalbe forgeuen vnto men, *but the blasphemy agaynst the spirite, shall not be forgeuen vnto men.

32 *And Whosoeuer speaketh a worde agaynst the sonne of man, it shalbe forgeuen hym: But Whosoeuer speaketh agaynst the holy ghost, it shall not be forgeuen hym, neither in this worlde, neither in the worlde to come.

33 *Either make the tree good, and his fruite good: or els make the tree euyll, and his fruite euyll. *For the tree, is knowen by his fruite.

34 O generation of vipers, howe can ye speake good thynges, When ye your selues are euyll: *For out of the aboundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man, out of the good treasure of the heart, bryngeth foorth good thynges: And an euyll man, out of euyll treasure, bryngeth foorth euyll thynges.

36 But I say vnto you, of euery idell worde that men shall speake, they shall geue accompt therof, in the day of iudgment.

37 *For of thy wordes, thou shalt be iustified: and of thy wordes, thou shalt be condemned. ☜

38 ☞ Then certayne of the Scribes, and of the Pharisees, aunswered hym, saying. *Maister, We wyl see a signe of thee.

39 But he aunswered and sayde to them. *The euyll and adulterous generation *seketh a signe, and there shall no signe be geuen to it, but the signe of the prophete Jonas.

40 *For as Jonas was three dayes, and three nyghtes, in the whales belly: so shall the sonne of man be three dayes, and three nyghtes, in the heart of the earth.

41 The men of Ninive shall ryse in the iudgement, with this nation, and condemne it, because *they repented at the preachyng of Jonas: and beholde, here [is] one greater then Jonas. Ionas.iii.c.

42 *The Quene of the south shall ryse in the iudgement, with this generation, and shall condemne it: for she came from the vtmost partes of the earth, to heare the wisdome of Solomon. And beholde, in this place [is] one greater then Solomon. Luk.xi.d. iii. Reg.x.a. ii.Para.ix.a.

43 *When the vncleane spirite is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout dry places, seking rest, and fyndeth none. Luk.xi.d.

44 Then he sayeth: I wyll returne into my house, from whence I came out. And when he is come, he fyndeth it emptie, swept, and garnyshed.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh vnto hym seuen other spirites, worse then hym selfe, and they enter in, and dwell there: And *the ende of that man, is worse then the begynnyng. Euen so shall it be also, vnto this frowarde generation. ii.Pet.ii.d. Heb.vi.a.

46 Whyle he yet talked to the people, *beholde, his mother, and his brethren stoode without, desyryng to speake with hym. Mark.iii.d. Luk.viii.c.

47 Then one sayde vnto hym: beholde, *thy mother, and thy brethren, stande without, desyryng to speake with thee. Mark.iii.d. Luk.viii.c.

48 But he aunswered, and sayde vnto hym that had tolde hym: Who is my mother: or Who are my brethren:

49 And he stretched foorth his hande towarde his disciples, & sayde, *beholde my mother, and my brethren. Iohn.xv.b.

50 For Whosoeuer shall do the wyll of my father Which is in heauen, the same is my brother, sister, and mother. ☜

¶ The .xiij. Chapter.

¶ 3 The parable of the seede, 24 of the tares, 31 of the mustarde seede, 33 of the leuen, 44 of the treasure hyd in the fielde, 45 of the pearles, 47 and of the nette.

1 THE same day, went Jesus out of the house, & *sate by the sea syde.

2 And great multitudes were gathered together vnto hym, so greatly that he went and sate in a shippe, and the Whole multitude stoode on the shore.

3 And he spake many thynges to them in parables, saying: Beholde, the sower went foorth to sowe.

4 And when he sowed, some seedes fell by the wayes side, and the fowles came, and deuoured them vp.

5 Some fell vpon stony places, where they had not much earth, and anone they sprong vp, because they had no depe neſſe of earth.

6 And when the ſonne was vp, they caught heate, and becauſe they had not roote, they wythered awaye.
7 Agayne, ſome fell among thornes, and the thornes ſprong vp and choked them.
8 But ſome fell into good grounde, and brought foorth fruite, ſome an hundred folde, ſome ſixtie folde, ſome thirtie folde.
9 Who hath eares to heare, let hym heare.
B 10 And the diſciples came, and ſayde vnto hym: Why ſpeakeſt thou to them by parables?
11 He aunſwered and ſayde vnto them: Mark.iii.a. Luk.viii.b. * becauſe it is geuen vnto you, to knowe the ſecretes of the kyngdome of heauen, but to them, it is not geuen.
Mat.xxv.c. Mark.iii.c. Luk.viii.b. xix.d. 12 * For whoſoeuer hath, to hym ſhalbe geuen, and he ſhall haue more aboundaunce: But whoſoeuer hath not, from hym ſhalbe taken away, euen that he hath.
13 Therfore ſpeake I to them in parables: becauſe they ſeeyng, ſee not: and hearyng, they heare not: neither do they vnderſtande.
Eſay.vi.c. Mar.iii.b. Luk.viii.b. Iohn.xii.b. Act.xxviii.f Rom.xi.b. 14 And in them is fulfylled the prophecie of Eſaias, ſayng: * by hearyng ye ſhall heare, and ſhall not vnderſtande, and ſeeyng, ye ſhall ſee, & ſhall not perceaue.
15 For this peoples heart is waxed groſſe, and their eares are dull of hearyng, and their eyes haue they cloſed: leſt at any tyme they ſhoulde ſee with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and ſhoulde vnderſtande with their heart, & ſhoulde conuert, that I myght heale them.
Luk.x.d. 16 * But bleſſed are your eyes, for they ſee: and your eares, for they heare.
C i.Pet.i.d. 17 Verely I ſay vnto you, * that many prophetes and righteous men haue deſired to ſee thoſe thynges which ye ſee, and haue not ſeene: and to heare thoſe thynges which ye heare, and haue not hearde.
Mark.iiii.b. Luk.viii.b. 18 * Heare ye therfore the ſimilitude of the ſower.
19 When one heareth the worde of the kyngdome, and vnderſtandeth it not, then commeth that euyll, and catcheth away that which was ſowen in his heart: this is he, which receaued ſeede by the way ſyde.
20 But he that receaued the ſeede into ſtony places, the ſame is he that heareth the worde, and anone with ioy, receaueth it:
21 Yet hath he not roote in hym ſelfe, but dureth for a ſeaſon: for when tribulation or perſecution aryſeth becauſe of the worde, by and by he is offended.
22 He alſo that receaued ſeede into the thornes, is he that heareth the worde: and the care of this worlde, and the deceiptfulnes of ryches, choke vp the worde, and ſo is he made vnfruitfull.
23 But he that receaued ſeede into the good grounde, is he that heareth the worde, and vnderſtandeth it, which alſo beareth fruite: and bryngeth foorth, ſome an hundred folde, ſome ſixtie folde, ſome thirtie folde.
D 24 Another parable put he foorth vnto them, ſaying: ☞ * The kyngdome of Mark.iv.c. heauen is likened vnto a man, which ſowed good ſeede in his fielde.
25 But whyle men ſlept, his enemye came & ſowed tares among the wheate, and went his way.
26 But when the blade was ſprong vp, and had brought foorth fruite, then appeared the tares alſo.
27 So, the ſeruauntes of the houſholder came, and ſayde vnto hym. Sir, diddeſt not thou ſowe good ſeede in thy fielde? from whence then hath it tares?
28 He ſayde vnto them: the malicious man hath done this. The ſeruauntes ſayde vnto hym: Wylt thou then that we go, and gather them vp?
29 But he ſayde, nay: leſt whyle ye gather vp the tares, ye rote vp alſo the wheate with them.
30 Let both growe together vntyll the harueſt: & in tyme of harueſt, I wyl ſay to the reapers, gather ye together firſt the tares, and bynde them in bundels to burne them: but carrie the wheate into my barne. ☜
31 ☞ Another parable put he foorth vnto them, ſaying. * The kyngdome of hea- Mat.iii.c. Luk.xvii.d. uen is like to a grayne of muſtard ſeede, which a man toke & ſowed in his fielde.
32 Which in dede is the leaſt of all ſeedes: But when it is growen, it is the greateſt among herbes: and is a tree, ſo that the byrdes of the ayre come & make their neſtes in the braunches therof.
33 Another parable ſpake he vnto them: E * The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto Luk.xiii.d. leuen, which a woman taketh & hydeth in three peckes of meale, tyll all be leuened.

34 *All these thynges spake Jesus vnto the people in parables: and without a parable spake he not vnto them.

35 That it myght be fulfylled, Which was spoken by the prophete, that sayth: *I wyll open my mouth in parables, I wyll speake forth thynges which haue ben kept secrete from the foundation of the worlde. ☞

36 Then Jesus sent the people away, & went into the house: * And his disciples came vnto hym, saying: Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the fielde. ☞

37 He aunswered and sayde vnto them: He that soweth the good seede, is the sonne of man.

38 The fielde, is the worlde: & the good seede, they are the childrē of ỳ kingdom: the tares, are the chyldren of ỳ wicked.

39 The enemie that soweth them, is the deuyll: the haruest, is the ende of the worlde: the reapers, be the Angels.

40 Euen as the tares therfore, are gathered and brent in the fyre: so shall it be in the ende of this worlde.

41 *The sonne of man shall sende forth his Angels, and [they] shall gather out of his kyngdome, all thynges that offende, and them which do iniquitie:

42 And shall cast them into a furnesse of fyre: There shalbe waylyng and gnasshyng of teeth.

43 *Then shall the ryghteous shine as the Sunne, in the kingdome of their father. Who hath eares to heare, let hym heare. ☞

44 ☞Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto treasure hyd in the fielde: the which a man hath founde, and hyd, and for ioy therof, goeth and selleth all that he hath, and byeth the fielde.

45 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a marchaunt man, seekyng goodly pearles.

46 Which, when he founde one precious pearle, went and solde all that he had, and bought it.

47 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of all kynde:

48 Which when it was full, men drewe to lande, and sat downe, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the ende of the world: The Angels shall come forth, and seuer the bad from among the iuste: ☞

50 And shall cast them into a furnesse of fyre: * there shalbe waylyng and gnasshyng of teeth. Mat.xxii.b and.xxv.a

51 Jesus sayth vnto them: haue ye vnderstande all these thynges? They say vnto hym: yea Lorde.

52 Then sayde he vnto them: Therfore, euery Scribe which is taught vnto the kyngdome of heauen, is lyke vnto a man that is an householder, whiche bryngeth forth out of his treasure, thynges newe and olde. ☞

53 And it came to passe, that when Jesus had finished these parables, * he departed thence. Mark.vi.a.

54 And when he came into his owne countrey, he taught them in their synagogues, in so much, that * they were astonyed, and sayde: Whence commeth this wysdome and powers vnto hym? Luk.iiii.c.

55 *Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas? Mark.iii.a. Iohn.vi.c.

56 And are not all his sisters with vs? Whence hath he then all these thynges?

57 And they were offended in hym. Jesus sayde vnto them: *A prophete is not without honour, saue in his owne countrey, and in his owne house. Mark. vi.a. Luk.iiii.d. Iohn.v.f.

58 And he did not many mightie workes there, because of their vnbeliefe.

The.xiiij. Chapter.

¶ 1 o John is taken, and beheaded. 19 Christe feedeth fyue thousande men with fyue loaues & two fyshes, 25 and appeareth by nyght vnto his disciples vpon the sea.

1 AT that tyme *Herode the Tetrarch, hearde of the fame of Jesu.

2 And sayde vnto his seruauntes: this is John the Baptist, he is risen from the dead, and therfore great workes do shewe forth them selues in hym.

3 For Herode *had taken John, and bounde hym, and put hym in prison, for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wyfe. Mark.vi.c. Luk.iii.d.

4 For John sayde vnto hym: *it is not lawfull lawfull for thee to haue her.

5 And when he woulde haue put hym to death, he feared the people: * because they counted hym as a prophete. Mat.xxi.b.

6 But when Herodes * birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias daunsed before them, and pleased Herode. Gene.xl.d.

7 * Wherfore he promised with an othe, that he woulde geue her whatsoeuer she woulde aske. Mark.vi.c.

8 And she, beyng instruct of her mother before, sayde: geue me here Johñ Baptistes head in a platter.

9 And the kyng was sory: Neuertheless, for the othes sake, and them which sate also at the table, he commaunded it to be geuen her:

10 And sent, and beheaded Johñ in the pryson.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, and geuen to the damsell: and [she] brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and toke vp his body, and buryed it: and went, and tolde Jesus.

13 When Jesus hearde of it, he * departed thence in a shyp, vnto a desert place, out of the way: And when the people had hearde therof, they folowed hym on foote out of the cities. Mark.vi.d. Luk.ix.d. Iohn.vi.a.

14 And Jesus went forth, and sawe much people: and was moued with mercye towarde them, and he healed their sicke.

15 And when the euen drewe on, his disciples came to hym, saying: this is a desert place, and the hour is nowe past, let the people depart, that they may go into the townes, and bye them vittels.

16 But Jesus sayde vnto them: They haue no nede to go away, geue ye them to eate.

17 They saye vnto hym: We haue here but fyue loaues, and two fisshes.

18 He sayde: bryng them hyther to me.

19 And he commaunded the people to sit downe on the grasse, and he toke the fyue loaues, and the two fisshes, and lift vp his eyes towarde heauen, & blessed: And when he had broken [them], he gaue the loaues to his disciples, and his disciples to the people.

20 And they dyd all eate, and were suffised. And they gathered vp (of the fragmentes that remayned) twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about fyue thousande men, besyde women and chyldren.

22 * And strayghtway Jesus constrayned his disciples to get vp into a shippe, and to go before hym vnto the other syde, whyle he sent the people away. Mark.vi.f. Iohn.vi.b.

23 And when the people were sent away, he * went vp into a mountayne alone to pray: And when nyght was come, he was there hym selfe alone. Luk.vi.c.

24 But the shippe was nowe in the myddes of the sea, & was tost with wawes: for it was a contrary wynde.

25 And in the fourth watch of the nyght, Jesus went vnto them, walkyng on the sea.

26 And when the disciples sawe hym walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, it is a spirite: and they cryed out for feare.

27 But straygh way, Jesus spake vnto them, saying: be of good cheare, it is I, be not afrayde.

28 Peter aunswered hym, and sayde: Lorde, yf it be thou, byd me come vnto thee, on the water.

29 And he sayde: come. And when Peter was come downe out of the shippe, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.

30 But when he sawe a myghty wynde, he was afrayde: And when he began to sincke, he cryed, saying, Lorde saue me.

31 And immediatly Jesus stretched forth his hande, and caught hym, and sayde vnto hym: O thou of litle fayth, wherefore diddest thou doubt?

32 * And when they were come into the shippe, the wynde ceassed Mark.vi.g.

33 Then they that were in the shippe, came and worshypped hym, saying: of a trueth thou art the sonne of God.

34 And when they were gone ouer, they came into the lande of Gennezaret.

35 And when the men of that place, had knowledge of hym, they sent out into all that countrey roumde about: and brought vnto hym all that were sicke.

36 And besought hym, that they myght touche the hemme of his garment only: And as many as touched [it] were made whole.

¶ The .xv. Chapter.

¶ 3 Christe excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes and Pharisees for transgressyng Gods commaundement through their owne traditions, 18 the thyng that goeth into the mouth, defyleth not the man, 22 he delyvereth the woman of Cananees daughter, 30 healeth the multitude, 36 and with seuen loaues, and a fewe litle fishes, feedeth foure thousande men, beside women and chyldren.

Marc. vii.a.

Then * came to Jesus Scribes and Pharisees, Which were come from Hierusalem, saying:

2 Why do thy disciples transgresse the traditions of the elders? for they washe not their handes when they eate bread.

3 But he answered and sayde vnto them: Why do ye also transgresse the commaundement of God, by your tradition?

Exod.xx.b. Deut.v.b. 4 For God cõmaunded, saying: *honour father and mother, and he that curseth father or mother, let hym dye the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoeuer shall say to father or mother: *by the gyft that [is offered] of me, thou shalt be helped:

Exod.xxi.b Ephe.vi.a. Deut.v.b. 6 And so shall he not honour his father or his mother. And thus haue ye made the commaundement of God, of none effect, by your tradition.

7 Hypocrites, full well dyd Esayas prophecie of you, saying:

Esa.xxix.g. Ezech.xxxiii.g Marc.vii.b. 8 *This people draweth nye vnto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lippes: howbeit, their hearts are farre from me.

9 But in vayne do they worshippe me, teachyng doctrine, preceptes of men.

B 10 And he called the people to hym, and sayde vnto them: heare, & vnderstande.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defyleth not the man: but that which commeth out of the mouth, defyleth the man.

12 Then came his disciples, and sayde vnto hym: knowest thou not, that the Pharisees were offended after they hearde this saying?

13 But he answered and sayde: Euery plantyng which my heauenly father hath not planted, shalbe rooted vp.

14 Let them alone, they be the blynde leaders of the blynde. If the blynde leade the blynde, both shall fall into the dytche.

15 Then answered Peter, and sayde vnto hym: Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Jesus sayde: Are ye also without vnderstandyng?

17 Do not ye yet vnderstande, that whatsoeuer entreth in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those thynges which proceade out of the mouth, come forth from the heart, and they defyle the man.

19 For out of the heart, proceade euyll thoughtes, murders, adulteries, whordomes, thefftes, false witnesse, blasphemyes.

20 These are the thynges, which defyle a man: But to eate with vnwashen handes, defyleth not a man. ☜

21 ☞ And Jesus went thence, and departed into the coastes of Tyre and Sidon. C

22 And beholde, a woman of the Chananites, which came out of the same coastes, cryed vnto hym, saying: Haue mercie on me O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid: My daughter is greeuously vexed with a deuyll.

23 But he answered her not a worde: and his disciples came, and besought hym, saying: sende her away, for she cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and sayde: I am not sent *but vnto the lost sheepe of the house of Israel. Luk.xix.b.

25 Then came she, and worshipped him, saying: Lorde, helpe me.

26 He answered, and sayde: it is not meete to take the chyldrens bread, and to cast it to litle dogges.

27 She answered and sayde, trueth Lorde: and yet litle dogges eate of the crummes, which fall frõ their maisters table.

28 Then Jesus answered, and sayde vnto her: O woman, great is thy fayth, be it vnto thee, euen as thou wylt. And her daughter was made whole, euen from that same tyme. ☜

29 And Jesus went from thence, and D came nye vnto the sea of Galilee, and went vp into a mountayne, and sate

31 In so much that the people wondred, when they sawe the dumbe speake, the maymed to be Whole, the lame to walke, and the blynde to see: And they glorified the God of Israel.
Mark.viii.a. 32 *Then Jesus called his disciples vnto hym, and sayde: I haue compassion on the people, because they continue with me nowe three dayes, and haue nothing to eate: and I wyll not let them depart fastyng, lest they faynt in the way.
33 And his disciples say vnto hym: Whence [shoulde we get] so much bread in the wyldernesse, as to suffise so great a multitude?
34 And Jesus sayeth vnto them: howe many loaues haue ye? And they say, * seuen, and a fewe litle fisshes. Mat.xvi.b
35 And he commaunded the people to sit downe on the grounde:
36 And toke the seuen loaues, and the fisshes: and after that he had geuen thankes, he brake them, and gaue to his disciples, and the disciples gaue them to the people.
37 And they dyd all eate, and were suffised: And they toke vp, of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskets full.
38 And yet, they that did eate, were foure thousande men, beside women and chyldren.
39 And he sent away the people, and toke shippe, and came into the parties of Magoala.

12 Then vnderstoode they, howe that he bad not them beware of the leuen of bread: but of the doctrine of the Pharisees, and of the Saducees.
C 13 When Jesus came into the coastes of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying: * Whom do men say that I the sonne of man am? Mark.viii.c. Luk. ix.c
14 They sayde: some say [that thou art] John Baptist, some Helias, some Jeremias, or one of the prophetes.
15 He sayth vnto them: but Whom say ye that I am?
16 Simon Peter aunswered and sayde: * Thou art Christe, the sonne of the lyuyng God. Luk.ix.c Iohn.vi.g.
17 And Jesus aunswered, and sayde vnto

20 Then charged he his disciples, that they shoulde tell no man, that he was Jesus Christe.

21 * From that tyme forth, began Jesus to shewe vnto his disciples, howe that he must go vnto Hierusalem, and suffer many thynges of the elders, and hye priestes, & scribes, and [must] be kylled, and be raysed agayne the thyrde day.

22 And when Peter had taken him aside, he began to rebuke hym, saying: Lorde, fauour thy selfe, this shall not be vnto thee.

23 But he turned hym about, and sayde vnto Peter: go after me Satan, thou art an offence vnto me: for thou sauerest not the thynges that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 Then sayde Jesus vnto his disciples: ☞ If any man wyll folowe me, let hym forsake him selfe, and take vp his crosse, and folowe me.

25 * For, who so wyll saue his lyfe, shall lose it: Agayne, who so doth lose his lyfe for my sake, shall fynde it. Mark.x.d. Luk.ix.c. Mark.viii.d Iohn.vi.d.

¶ 2 The transfiguration of Christe, 15 he healeth the lunaticke, 27 and payeth tribute.

1 AND * after sixe dayes, Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bryngeth them vp into an hye mountayne, out of the way,

2 And was transfigured before them, * and his face did shyne as the sunne, and his clothes were as whyte as the lyght.

3 And beholde, there appeared vnto them, Moyses, and Elias talkyng with hym.

4 Then answered Peter, and sayde vnto Jesus: Lorde, it is good for vs to be here. If thou wylt, let vs make here three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moyses, and one for Elias.

5 Whyle he yet spake, beholde, a bryght cloude shadowed them: And beholde, [there came] a voyce out of the cloude, which sayde, * this is my beloued sonne * in whom I am well pleased, * heare hym.

6 And when the disciples hearde [these thynges] they fell on their face, and were sore afrayde.

7 And Jesus came, and touched them, and sayde: aryse, and be not afrayde.

8 And when they had lyft vp their eyes, they sawe no man, saue Jesus only.

9 * And when they came downe from the mountayne, Jesus charged them, saying: shewe the vision to no man, vntyll the sonne of man be ryssen agayne from the dead. ☞ Mark.ix.a.

10 ☞ And his disciples asked hym, saying: Why then say the scribes, that Elias must first come?

11 Jesus answered, & sayde vnto them: * Elias truely shall first come, and restore all thynges: Mala.iii.d.

12 But I say vnto you, that * Elias is come alredy, and they knewe hym not, but haue done vnto hym, whatsoeuer they lusted. Math.xi.b.

13 Lykewyse, shall also the sonne of man suffer of them.

Then the disciples vnderstode, that he spake vnto them of John Baptist.

¶ 14 And when they were come to the people, there came to hym a certayne man, kneling downe to hym, and saying:

15 Lorde, haue mercy on my sonne, for he is lunaticke, and sore vexed: for oft tymes he falleth into the fyre, and oft into the water.

Mark ix.f. Luk.ix.c. 16 *And I brought hym to thy disciples, and they coulde not heale hym.

18 And Jesus rebuked the deuyll, and he departed out of hym: And the chylde was healed euen that same tyme. ☞

¶ 19 *Then came the disciples to Jesus Mark.ix.d. secretely, and sayde: Why coulde not we cast hym out:

20 Jesus sayde vnto them: because of your vnbeliefe. For verily I say vnto Luk.xvii.a. you: *If ye haue fayth as a grayne of mustarde seede, ye shall say vnto this mountayne: remoue hence to yonder place, and it shall remoue, neither shall any thyng be vnpossible vnto you.

21 Howebeit, this kynde goeth not out, but by prayer and fastyng.

22 Whyle they were occupyed in Galilee, Jesus sayde vnto them: *it wyll come Mat.xvi.e. and.xx.c. to passe, that the sonne of man shalbe Mark. viii.d betrayed into the handes of men: ix.d.and.xi

23 And they shall kyll hym, & the thyrde Luk. ix.c. day shall he ryse agayne: And they were exceadyng sory.

24 ☞ And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receaued tribute money, came to Peter, and sayde: Doth not your maister pay tribute:

25 He sayth: yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus preuented hym, saying: What thynkest thou Simon: of whom do the kynges of the earth take tribute or toule: of the chyldren, or of straungers:

26 Peter sayth vnto hym: of straungers. Jesus sayth vnto hym: Then are the chyldren free.

27 Notwithstandyng, lest we shoulde offende them, go thou to the sea, and cast an angle, and take the fisshe that first commeth vp: and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt fynde a peece of twenty pence: that take, and geue it vnto them for me, and thee. ☞

Mark.ix.f Luk.xvii.a 6 *But who so shall offende one of these litle ones, which beleue in me, it were better for hym, that a mylstone were hanged about his necke, & that he were drowned in the deapth of the sea.

7 Woo vnto the worlde, because of offences. *It must nedes be, that offences i Cor.xi.d come: But woo to that man, by whom the offence commeth.

8 If thes* thy hande or thy foote offende B thee, cut them of, and cast [them] from Math.v.e. Mark.ix.f. thee. It is better for thee to enter into lyfe, halt or maymed, [rather] then thou shouldest, hauyng two handes, or two feete, be cast into euerlastyng fyre.

9 And yf thyne eye offende thee, plucke it out, and cast [it] from thee: It is better for thee to enter into lyfe with one eye, [rather] then, hauyng two eyes, to be cast into hell fyre.

10 Take heede that ye despise not one of these litle ones: For I say vnto you, that in heauē their Angels do alwayes beholde the face of my father, which is in heauen.

11 ☞ For the sonne of man, is come to saue that which was lost.

Howe

12 Howe thynke ye: * If a man haue an hundred sheepe, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leaue ninetie & nine, and goeth into the mountaynes, and seketh that which went astray?

13 And yf it so be that he fynde it, verely I say vnto you, he reioyceth more of that sheepe, then of the ninetie and nine, which went not astray.

14 Euen so, it is not the wyll of your father in heauen, that one of these litle ones shoulde perysshe.

15 ☞ Moreouer, * yf thy brother trespas agaynst thee, go and tell hym his faulte betwene thee and hym alone: If he heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

16 But yf he heare thee not, then take yet with thee one or two: that * in the mouth of two or three witnesses, euery worde may be stablysshed.

17 If he heare not them, tell it vnto the Churche: If he heare not the Churche, let hym be vnto thee as an Heathen man, and a publicane.

18 Verely I say vnto you: * whatsoeuer ye bynde on earth, shalbe bounde in heauen: And whatsoeuer ye loose on earth, shalbe loosed in heauen.

19 Agayne, truely I say vnto you, that if two of you agree in earth, as touching any thyng that they shall aske, it shalbe done for them, of my father, which is in heauen.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the myddes of them.

21 Then came Peter to hym, and sayde: Lorde howe oft shall my brother sinne agaynst me, and I forgeue hym? tyll seuen tymes?

22 Jesus sayth vnto hym, I say not vnto thee vntyll seuen tymes: but, vntyll seuentie tymes seuen. ☜

23 ☞ Therfore is the kyngdome of heauen, lykened vnto a certayne man, that was a kyng, which woulde take accomptes of his seruauntes.

24 And when he had begunne to recken, one was brought vnto hym, which ought hym ten thousande talentes.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his Lorde commaunded hym to be solde, and his wyfe, and chyldren, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The seruaunt fell downe, & besought hym, saying: Lorde, haue patience with me, and I wyll pay thee all.

27 Then the Lorde of that seruaunt, moued with pitie, loosed hym, and forgaue hym the debt.

28 But the same seruaunt went out, and founde one of his felowes, which ought hym an hundred pence: and he layde handes on hym, and toke hym by the throte, saying: pay me that thou owest.

29 And his felowe fel downe at his feete, and besought him, saying: haue patience with me, and I wyll pay thee all.

¶ 1 Christe teacheth by a similitude, that God is better vnto no ma. 20 He teacheth his disciples to be lowly, 30 and geueth two blynd men their syght.

A

FOR the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a man, that is an housholder, whiche went out earlye in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyarde.

2 And he agreed with the labourers for a peny a day, & sent them into his vineyarde.

3 And he went out about the thirde houre, and sawe other standyng idle in the market place,

4 And saide vnto them: Go ye also into ỹ vineyard, & whatsoeuer is right, I wyl geue you. And they went their way.

5 Agayne, he went out about the sixth and nynth houre, and dyd lykewyse.

6 And about the eleuenth houre, he wẽt out, and founde other standyng idle, and saide vnto them: Why stande ye here all the day idle?

7 They saye vnto him: because no man hath hyred vs. He sayth vnto them: go ye also into the vineyarde, and whatsoeuer is ryght, that shall ye receaue.

8 So, when euen was come, the lorde of the vineyard sayth vnto his steward: Call the labourers, and geue them their hire, beginning at ỹ last, vntyll the first.

9 And when they came, that [were hired] about the eleuenth houre, they receaued euery man a peny.

B 10 But when the firste came also, they supposed that they shoulde haue receaued more: and they lykewyse receaued euery man a peny.

11 And when they had receaued it, they murmured against the good man of the house, 12 Saying: These laste haue wrought but one houre, & thou hast made them equall vnto vs, whiche haue borne the burthen and heate of the day.

13 But he answered to one of thẽ, & said: Frende, I do thee no wrong: dyddest thou not agree with me for a peny?

14 Take that thyne is, and go thy way: I wyll geue vnto this laste, euen as vnto thee.

15 Is it not lawfull for me, to do that I wyll with myne owne? Is thyne eye euyll, because I am good?

22 But Jesus answered, and saide: Ye D wote not what ye aske. Are ye able to drynke of the cuppe that I shall drynke of? and to be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with? They say vnto hym: We are able.

23 He sayth vnto them: Ye shall drynke in deede of my cuppe, and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with: But to syt on my ryght hande, & on my lefte, is not myne to geue, but to them for whom it is *prepared for of my father. Mat. xxv.a

24 *And when the ten hearde [this], they disdayned at the two brethren. Mark.x.f.

29 *And as they departed from Hierico, much people folowed hym.

30 And behold, two blind men syttyng by the waye syde, when they hearde that Jesus passed by, they cryed, saying: O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

31 And the people rebuked them, because they should holde their peace. But they cryed the more, saying: haue mercy on vs, O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid.

32 And Jesus stode styll, & called them, and sayde: What wyll ye that I shall do vnto you?

33 They saye vnto hym: Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediatly their eyes receaued syght. And they folowed hym.

¶ The .xxj. Chapter.

¶ 7 He rydeth into Hierusalem, 12 dryueth the marchauntes out of the temple, 19 curseth the fygge tree, 28 and rebuketh the pharisees with the similitude of the two sonnes, 35 and of the husbande men that slewe such as were sent vnto them.

Mark. xi.a. Luk.xix.e.

AND when they* drewe nye vnto Hierusalem, & were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of Olyues, thē sent Jesus two disciples,

2 Saying vnto thē: Go into the towne that lyeth ouer agaynste you, and anone ye shall fynde an Asse tyed, & a colt with her: loose [them and] bryng [them] vnto me.

3 And yf any man saye ought vnto you, saye ye, the Lorde hath nede of them: and strayghtway he wyll let them go.

4 All this was done, that it myght be fulfylled which was spoken by the prophete, saying:

Esay. lxii.d. Zach.ix.b. Iohn.xii.c. 5 *Tell ye the daughter of Sion: behold, thy kyng commeth vnto thee meke, and syttyng vpon an Asse, & a colt, the foale of [the Asse] vsed to the yoke.

6 The disciples went, and did as Jesus commaunded them,

7 And brought the Asse, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and set hym theron.

8 And many of the people spread their garmētes in the way. Other cut downe braunches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

Luk.xix.f. Iohn.xii.b. Psal cxviiid Mark.xi.c. 9 Moreouer, the multitudes that went before, & that came after, cryed, saying: Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid. *Blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lorde, *Hosanna in the hyest.

10 And when he was come into Hierusalē, all the citie was moued, saying: Who is this?

11 And the multitude saide: This is Jesus *that prophete of Nazareth in Galilee. Mat.xiii.a. Luk.xix.g.

12 And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the money chaungers, and the seates of them that solde doues, 13 And sayde vnto them, it is written: *My house shalbe called the house of prayer, but ye haue made it a denne of thieues. 3.Reg.8.def Esay.lvi.c. Iere.vii.c.

14 And the blynde and the halt came to hym in the temple, and he healed them.

15 When the chiefe priestes and scribes sawe the wonders that he dyd, and the chyldren crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid, they disdayned, 16 And sayde vnto hym: Hearest thou what these saye? But Jesus sayth vnto them, yea, haue ye neuer read: *Out of the mouth of babes & suckelynges thou hast ordeyned prayse? Psal.viii.a.

17 And he left them, and went out of the citie, *vnto Bethanie: and he lodged there. John.vii.a.

18 *In the morning, as he returned into the citie, he hungred. Mark.xi.c.

19 And when he sawe one fygge tree in the waye, he came to it, and founde nothyng theron but leaues only, & said vnto it: neuer fruite growe on thee hence forwarde. And anone the figge tree wythered away. Luk. xiii.b.

20 And when his disciples sawe it, they marueyled, saying: Howe soone is the figge tree wythered away?

Jesus

21 Jesus aunswered, and saide vnto thē: Verely I saye vnto you, *yf ye haue fayth, and doubt not, ye shall not onlye do this [which is done] to the figge tree: but also, yf ye shall say vnto this mountayne, be thou remoued, and, be thou cast into the sea, it shalbe done.

22 And all thynges, whatsoeuer ye aske in prayer, beleuyng, ye shall receaue them.

23 ☞*And When he was come into the temple, the chiefe priestes, & the elders of the people, came vnto hym teaching, and saye: *By what auctho*itie doest thou these thynges: and Who gaue thee this power:

24 Jesus aunswered, & saide vnto them: I also wyll aske you one questiō, which yf ye tell me, I in likewise wyll tell you by what auctho*itie I do these thinges:

25 The baptisme of John, whence was it, from heauen, or of men: And they reasoned with them selues saying: if We shall say from heauen, he wyll say vnto vs, Why dyd ye not then beleue hym:

26 But yf We shall say of men, then feare We the people: *for all [men] holde John as a prophete.

27 And they aunswered vnto Jesus, and sayde: We can not tell. And he saide vnto them: neither tell I you, by what auctho*itie I do these thynges.

28 But What thynke you: ☞ A man had two sonnes, and came to the first, and saide: sonne, go and worke to day in my vineyarde.

29 He aunswered and saide, I wyll not: but afterwarde he repented, and went.

30 Then came he to the seconde, & sayde lyke wyse. And he aunswered & saide, I wyll sir, and went not.

31 Whether of them twayne did the wyl of the father: And they saide vnto him, the first. Jesus sayth vnto them: Verily I saye vnto you, that publicanes & harlottes go into the kingdome of God, before you.

32 For *John came vnto you by the way of righteousnes, & ye beleued hym not: but publicanes & harlottes beleued him. And ye, When ye had sene [it] were not moued afterwarde with repentaunce, that ye myght haue beleued hym. ☜

33 ☞ Hearken another similitude. *There was a certayne man, an householder, which (a) made a vineyarde, & hedged it rounde about, and made a wynepresse in it, and buylt a towre, and let it out to husbande men: and went into a strange countrey.

34 And When the time of the fruite drewe neare, he sent his seruauntes to the husbande men, that they might receaue the fruites of it.

35 And the husbande men caught his seruauntes, and beatte one, killed another, and stoned another.

36 Agayne, he sent other seruauntes, mo then the first: and they dyd vnto them lykewyse.

37 But laste of all, he sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying: they wyll stande in awe of my sonne.

38 But When the husband men sawe the sonne, they sayde among them selues: *this is the heire, come, let vs kyll hym, and let vs enioy his inheritaunce.

39 And they caught hym, and thrust him out of the vineyarde, and slewe [hym].

40 When the Lorde therfore of the vineyarde commeth, What wyll he do vnto those husbande men:

41 They sayde vnto hym: He wyll miserably destroy those wicked [men] & wyll let out his vineyard vnto other husband men, which shall delyuer him the fruite in due seasons.

42 Jesus sayth vnto them. Did ye neuer reade in the Scriptures: *The stone which the buylders refused, the same is become the head of the corner. This is the Lordes doing, and it is marueylous in our eyes.

43 Therefore saye I vnto you, the kyngdome of God shalbe taken from you, & geuen to a nation bryngyng foorth the fruites therof.

44 And *Whosoeuer falleth on this stone, shalbe broken in peeces: but on *whomsoeuer it falleth, it shal all to grynd him.

45 And When the chiefe priestes and pharisees had heard his parables, they perceaued that he spake of them.

46 *And they went about to laye handes on hym, *but they feared the multitudes, because they toke him as a prophet.

¶ 2 The mariage of the kynges sonne. 17 Tribute to be geuen to the Emperour, 25 Christe confuteth the opinion of the Saducees concernyng the resurrection, 36 and aunswereth the Scribe vnto his question.

1 AND Jesus aunswered, and spake vnto them againe by parables, and sayde:

2 ☞ The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto *a man that was a kyng, Luk.xiiii.d. which made a mariage for his sonne.

3 And sent foorth his seruauntes, to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they woulde not come.

4 Agayne, he sent foorth other seruauntes, saying: Tell them which are bidden, beholde, I haue prepared my dinner, my oxen and my fatlynges are kylled, and all thynges are redy: come vnto the mariage.

5 But they made lyght of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, another to his marchaundize:

6 And the remnaunt toke his seruauntes, and entreated them spitefully, and slewe them.

7 But when the kyng hearde [therof], he was wroth, and sent foorth his men of warre, and destroyed those murtherers and brent vp their citie.

8 Then sayde he to his seruauntes, the mariage in dede is prepared: But they which were bidden, were not worthy.

9 Go ye therfore out into the hye wayes: and as many as ye fynde, bid [them] to the mariage.

10 And the seruauntes went out into the hye wayes, and gathered together all, as many as they coulde fynde, both good and bad: and the weddyng was furnished with ghestes.

11 Then the kyng came in, to see the ghestes: and whē he spyed there a man, Esay.lxi.d. which had not on a *weddyng garmēt, 12 He sayde vnto hym: frende, howe camest thou in hyther, not hauyng a weddyng garment? And he was euen speachlesse.

13 Then sayde the kyng to the ministers: bynde hym hande and foote, and cast Mat. xiii. g. and.xxv.c. hym into vtter darknesse: *there shalbe wepyng and gnashyng of teeth.

14 For many be called, but fewe are chosen. ☜

15 ☞ *Then went the Pharisees, and toke councell how they myght intangle Mark.xii.a. hym in his talke.

16 And they sent out vnto hym their disciples, with the Herodians seruauntes, saying: *Maister, we knowe that thou Luk.xx.d. art true, and teachest the way of God truely, neither carest thou for any man: for thou doest not respect mens persons.

17 Tell vs therfore, howe thynkest thou: Is it lawfull that tribute be geuen vnto Caesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceauyng their wickednesse, sayde: Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? ¶

19 Shewe me the tribute money. And they brought vnto hym a peny.

20 And he sayde to them: Whose is this image and superscription?

21 They say vnto hym, Caesars. Then Mat. xvii.d sayde he vnto them: *Geue therfore vnto Caesar, the [thynges] which are Rom.xiii.d. Caesars: and vnto God, those [thynges] that are gods. ☜

22 When they had hearde [these wordes] they marueyled, and left hym, and went their way.

23 *The same day came to hym the Saducees, which say that there is no re- Mark.xii.b. Luk.xx.e. surrection, and asked hym, Act.xxiii.b

24 Saying: Maister, Moyses sayde, that Deu.xxv.b *if a man dye, hauing no childrē, his brother shoulde mary his wyfe, and rayse vp seede vnto his brother.

25 Ther were with vs seuen brethren, and the first maryed a wyfe, and deceassed without issue, and left his wyfe vnto his brother.

26 Likewyse, the seconde, and the thirde, vnto the seuenth.

27 Last of all, the woman dyed also.

28 Therfore, in the resurrection, whose wyfe shall she be of the seuen? For they all had her.

29 Jesus aunswered & sayde vnto them: ye do erre, not knowyng the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection, they neither mary, nor are geuen in maryage: but are as the Angels of God in heauen.

31 But as touchyng the resurrection of of the dead: haue ye not read that which is spoken vnto you of God, which sayth.

32 *I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob: God is not the God of the dead, but of the lyuyng.
33 And when the multitudes hearde this, they were astonyed at his doctrine.
34 ☞ But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Saducees to silence, they came together.
35 And one of them, which was a lawyer, asked hym a question, temptyng hym, and saying:
36 Maister, which is the great commaundent in the lawe?
37 Jesus sayde vnto hym: Thou shalt *loue the Lorde thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy mynde.
38 This is the first and great commaundement.
39 And the seconde is lyke vnto this. *Thou shalt loue thy neyghbour as thy selfe.
40 In these two commaundementes, hang all the lawe and the prophetes.
41 Whyle the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying: What thynke ye of Christe? Whose sonne is he? They sayde vnto hym [the sonne] of Dauid.
43 He sayde vnto them: *howe then doth Dauid in spirite call him Lorde, saying:
44 The Lorde sayd vnto my Lorde: *sit thou on my ryght hande, tyll I make thyne enemyes thy footestoole?
45 If Dauid then call him Lorde, howe is he then his sonne?
46 And no man was able to aunswere hym a worde: neither durst any man (from that day forth) aske hym any mo questions. ☜

1 Then spake Jesus to the multitudes, and to his disciples,
2 Saying: *The Scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moyses seate.
3 All therfore, whatsoeuer they bid you obserue, that obserue and do: but do not ye after their workes, for they say, and do not.
4 *Yea, they bynde together heauy burthens, and greeuous to be borne, and lay them on mens shoulders: but they themselues wyll not moue them with [one] of their fingers.
5 All their workes they do, for to be sene of men: They make broade their phylacteries, and enlarge the hemmes of their garmentes.
6 And loue the vppermost seates at feastes, and to syt in the chiefe place in councels,
7 And greetynges in the marketes, and to be called of men, Rabbi.
8 *But be not ye called Rabbi: For one is your maister, [euen] Christe, and all ye are brethren.
9 And call [no man] your father, vpon the earth: for one is your father, which is in heauen.
10 Neither be ye called maisters: for one is your maister [euen] Christe.
11 He that is greatest among you, shalbe your seruaunt.
12 *But whosoeuer exalteth hym selfe, shalbe brought lowe: And he that humbleth hym selfe, shalbe exalted. ☜
13 Wo vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye shut vp the kingdome of heauen before men: *ye neither go in your selues, neither suffer ye them that come, to enter in.
14 Wo vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye deuoure widdowes houses, and that vnder a pretence of long prayer: therfore ye shall receaue the greater dampnation.
15 Wo vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye compasse sea and lande, to make one (a) proselyte: & when he is become one, ye make hym two folde more the chylde of hell, then ye your selues [are].
16 Wo be vnto you ye blynde gudes: for ye say, whosoeuer doth sweare by the temple, it is nothyng: but whosoeuer sweareth by the golde of the temple, he is a (b) detter.

The.xxiiij. Chapter.

1 Christe sheweth his disciples the destruction of the temple, 6. 29 the ende of the worlde, and the tokens of the later dayes, 42 and warneth them to wake, 44 for the worlde shall sodaynely perysshe.

1 AND Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and *his disciples came to hym, for to shewe hym the buildynges of the temple. A Mark.xiii.a Luk.xxi.a.
2 Jesus sayde vnto them: See ye not all these thynges? Verely I say vnto you *there shall not be here left [one] stone vpon another, that shall not be destroyed. Luk.xix.e.
3 And as he sat vpon a mount of Olyues, his disciples came vnto hym secretly, saying: Tell vs, when shall these thynges be? & what shall be the token of thy commyng, & of the ende of the worlde?

And

4 And Jesus aunswered, and sayde vnto them: * take heede, that no man deceaue you.

5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christe: and shall deceaue many.

6 Ye shal heare of warres, & rumours of warres: See that you be not troubled. For all [these thynges] must come to passe, but the ende is not yet.

7 * Nation shall ryse agaynst nation, and realme agaynst realme: and there shalbe pestilence, and famine, and earthquakes, in [certayne] places.

8 All these are the begynnynges of sorowes.

9 * Then shall they put you to trouble, and shall kyll you, and ye shalbe hated of all nations for my names sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And many false prophetes shall aryse, and shall deceaue many.

12 * And because iniquitie shall abounde, the loue of many shall ware colde.

13 * But he that endureth to the ende, the same shalbe saued.

14 * And this Gospell of the kyngdome, shalbe preached in all the worlde, for a witnesse vnto all nations: and then shall the ende come.

15 * When ye therefore, shall see the abhomination of desolation, spoken of by * Daniel the prophete, stande in the holy place, (Who so readeth, let hym vnderstande.)

16 Then let them which be in Jurie, flee into the mountaynes:

17 And let hym which is on the house toppe, not come downe to fet any thyng out of his house:

18 Neither let hym which is in the fielde, returne backe to fetche his clothes.

19 Wo shalbe in those dayes, to them that are with chylde, and to them that geue sucke.

20 But pray [ye] that your flyght be not in the winter, neither on the Sabboth day:

21 For then shalbe great tribulation, * such as was not since the begynnyng of the worlde, to this tyme, nor shalbe.

22 Yea, and except those dayes shoulde be shortened, there shoulde no flesh be saued: but for the chosens sake, those dayes shalbe shortened.

23 * Then yf any man saye vnto you: lo, here is Christe, or there: beleue it not. Mark.xiii.c Luk.xvii.c.

24 For there shall aryse false Christes, and false prophetes, * and shall shewe great signes, and wonders: In so much, that yf it were possible, the very elect, shoulde be deceaued. ii.Thes.ii.b. Deut.xiii.a.

25 Beholde, I haue tolde you before.

26 Wherfore, yf they say vnto you, beholde, he is in the desert: go not forth. Beholde, he is in the secrete places: beleue it not.

27 For as the lyghtnyng commeth out of the east, and shineth into the west: so ℭ shall the commyng of the sonne of man be.

28 * For wheresoeuer a dead carkas is, euen there wyll the Egles also be gathered together. Iob.39.d. Luk.xvii.g. Mar.xiii.c. Luk.xxi.e.

29 Immediatly * after the tribulation of those dayes, shal the sunne be darkened, and the moone shall not geue her lyght, and the starres shall fall from heauen, and the powers of heauen shalbe shaken. Ioel.ii.c.

30 And then shall appeare the signe of the sonne of man, in heauen: And then shall all the kynredes of the earth mourne, and they shall * see the sonne of man comming in the cloudes of heauen, with power and great glory. Actes.i.b.

31 * And he shall sende his Angels, with the great sounde of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his chosen, from the foure wyndes, euen from one ende of heauen, to the other. Dan.xii.a. i.Thes.4.d.

32 * Learne a parable of the fygge tree: when his braunche is yet tender, and the leaues spryng, ye knowe that sõmer is nye: Mark.xiii.c Luk.xxi.f.

33 So lykewyse ye, when ye see all these thynges, be ye sure that it is neare, euen at the doores.

34 Verely I say vnto you: this generation shall not passe, tyll all these thynges be fulfylled.

35 * Heauen and earth shall passe away, * but my wordes shall not passe away. Esay.ii.b. Esay.xl.c. Math.v.e. Actes.i.a.

36 But of that day and houre * knoweth no man, no not the Angels of heauen, but my father only.

37 * But as the dayes of Noe were, so shall also the commyng of the sonne of man be. ℭ Gen.vii.d. Luk.xvii.f.

38 For as in the dayes [that went] before the fludde, they dyd eate, and drynke, marry, and geue in maryage, euen vntyll the day that Noe entred into the Arke:

39 And knewe not, tyll the fludde came, and toke them all away: So shall also the commyng of the sonne of man be.

40 Then shall two be in the fielde, the one receaued, and the other refused.

Luk.xvii.g. 41 *Two [women] shalbe grindyng at the mill, the one receaued, and the other refused.

Mat.xxv.b Mark.xiii.d Luk.xii.e. 42 *Watch therfore, for ye knowe not what houre your Lorde doth come.

43 Of this yet be sure, that yf the good man of the house, knewe what watche Apo.xvi.c. *the thiefe would come, he would surely watche, and not suffer his house to be broken vp.

44 Therfore, be ye also redy: for in such an houre as ye thynke not, the sonne of man commeth.

45 Who is a faythfull and wise seruaunt, whom his Lorde hath made ruler ouer his householde, to geue them meate in season.

46 Blessed is that seruaunt, whom his Lorde when he commeth, shall fynde so doyng.

47 Verely I say vnto you, that he shall make hym ruler ouer all his goodes.

48 But and yf that euyll seruaunt say in his heart, my Lorde wyll be long a commyng:

49 And so begyn to smyte his felowes, yea, and to eate and drynke with the dronken:

50 The same seruauntes Lorde shall come in a day, when he loketh not for hym, and in an houre that he is not ware of:

51 And shall hewe hym in peeces, & geue hym his portion with hypocrites: there shalbe wepyng and gnasshyng of teeth.

A 1 Then shall the kyngdome of heauen be lykened vnto ten virgins, which toke their lampes, and went to meete the brydegrome.

2 But fyue of them were foolyshe, and fyue were wyse.

3 They that were foolyshe, toke their lampes, but toke none oyle with them:

4 But the wise, toke oyle in their vessels, with their lampes also.

5 Whyle the brydegrome taryed, they all slumbred and slept.

6 And euen at mydnyght, there was a crye made: beholde, the brydegrome commeth, go out to meete hym.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and prepared their lampes.

8 So the foolyshe sayde vnto the wyse: geue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are gone out.

9 But the wyse aunswered, saying: [not so] lest there be not inough for vs & you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and bye for your selues.

B 10 And whyle they went to bye, the brydegome came: and they that were redy, went in with hym, to ỹ maryage, and the gate was shut vp.

11 Afterwarde came also the other virgins, saying: *Lorde, Lorde, open to vs. Math.vii.c.

12 But he aunswered and sayde: verely I say vnto you, I knowe you not. Ma.xxiiii.d

13 *Watch therfore, for ye knowe neither the day, nor yet the houre, wherin the sonne of man shall come. Mark.xiii.d Luk.xii.c.

14 ☞ *Lykewyse, as a [certayne] man, redy to take his iourney into a straunge countrey, called his owne seruauntes, and delyuered vnto them his goodes. Mark.xiii.d Luk.xix.b.

15 And vnto one, he gaue fyue talentes, to another two, and to another one: to euery man after his habilitie, & straygt way departed.

16 Then he that had receaued the fyue talentes, went, and occupyed with the same, & made [them] other fyue talentes.

17 And lykewyse, he [that receaued] two: he also gayned other two.

18 But he that receaued that one, went and digged in the earth, and hyd his Lordes money.

19 After a long season, the Lorde of those seruauntes commeth, and reckeneth with them.

20 And so, he that had receaued fyue talentes, came, and brought other fyue talentes, talentes, saying: Lorde, thou delyueredst vnto me fyue talentes, beholde, I haue gayned with them fyue talentes mo.

21 His Lorde saide vnto him: well done, thou good and faythfull seruaũt. Thou hast ben faythfull ouer fewe thynges, I wyll make thee ruler ouer manye thynges: enter thou into the ioy of thy Lorde.

22 He also that had receaued two talentes, came, and sayde: Lorde thou delyueredst vnto me two talentes, beholde, I haue wonne two other talẽtes with them.

23 His Lorde saide vnto him: well done, good and faithfull seruaunt. Thou hast ben faythfull ouer fewe thinges, I wyl make thee ruler ouer many thynges: enter thou into the ioy of thy Lorde.

24 Then he which had receaued the one talent, came, and saide: Lorde I knewe thee, that thou art an harde man, reapyng where thou hast not sowen, & gatheryng where thou hast not strowed.

25 And [therfore] was I afrayde, & went and hid thy talent in the earth: loe, there thou hast that thyne is.

26 His Lorde answered, and sayde vnto hym: Thou euyll and slouthfull seruaũt, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I haue not strowed, 27 Thou oughtest therfore to haue delyuered my money to the exchaungers, and then at my commyng shoulde I haue receaued myne owne with vauntage.

28 Take therfore the talent from hym, and geue it vnto hym whiche hath ten talentes.

29 *For vnto euery one that hath, shalbe geuen, and he shall haue aboundaunce: But he that hath not, from hym shalbe taken away, euen that which he hath. *Math.xiii.c Mark.iu.c.

30 And cast the vnprofitable seruaunt into vtter darknesse, *there shalbe wepyng, and gnasshyng of teeth. *Math.xiii.g and.xxu.b.

38 When sawe we thee harbourlesse, and toke thee in: or naked, and clothed thee:

39 Or when sawe we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee:

40 And the kyng shall answere, and say vnto them: Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done [it] vnto me.

41 Then shall he saye vnto them on the left hande: Depart from me ye cursed *into euerlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuyll and his angels. Psal.vi.d. Math.vii.d. Luk.xiii.f. Esay.xxx.g Dani. vii.d.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meate: I was thirstie, and ye gaue me no drynke.

43 I was harbourlesse, and ye toke me not in: I was naked, and ye clothed me not: I was sicke, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answere hym, saying: Lorde, when sawe we thee an hungred, or a thirste, or harbourlesse, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee:

45 Then shall he answere them, saying: Verely I say vnto you, in as much *as ye dyd it not to one of the least of these, ye dyd it not to me. Prou. xiii.c. and.xvii.a.

¶ The .xxvj. Chapter.

¶ 10 Marie Magdalene annoynted Christe. 26 They eate the Easter lambe. 31 Christe prayeth in the garden, 48 Judas betrayeth hym, 62 Peter smyteth of Malchus eare, 64 Christe is accused by false witnesses, 69 Peter denyeth hym.

AND it came to passe, when Jesus had finished all these sayinges, he sayde vnto his disciples:

Math.xiii.a Luk.xxii.a. 2 ☞*Ye knowe, ỳ after two dayes is ỳ feast of Passouer, and the sonne of man is betrayed, to be crucified.

Iohn.xi.f. 3 *Then assembled together the chiefe priestes, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, vnto the palace of the hye priestе, which was called Caiaphas:

4 And helde a councell, that they might take Jesus by subtiltie, and kyll hym.

5 But they sayde: Not on the feast[day] lest there be an vproze among ỳ people.

Mar. xiiii.a. Iohn.xii.a. 6 when *Jesus was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper, Luk.vii.f. 7 There came vnto him a woman, *hauing an Alabaster boxe of precious oyntment, and powred it on his head, as he sate [at the boorde.]

8 But when his disciples sawe it, they had indignation, saying: to What purpose [is] this Waste?

9 This oyntment might haue ben well solde, and geuen to the poore.

10 When Jesus vnderstode that, he sayde vnto them: Why trouble ye the womã? for she hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

Deut. xv.b. 11 *For ye haue the poore alwayes with you: but me shall ye not haue alwayes.

12 For in that she hath cast this oyntment on my body, she dyd it to bury me.

13 Verely I say vnto you, Wheresoeuer this Gospell shalbe preached in the world, there shall also this that she hath done, be tolde for a memoriall of her.

B 14 *Then one of the twelue, called Judas Iscariot, wẽt vnto ỳ chiefe priestes, Mar.xiiii.b. Luk. xxii.a. Ioh.xii. a. 15 And sayde [vnto them:] What Will ye geue me, and I Will delyuer hym vnto you? And they appoynted vnto hym thirtie peeces of syluer.

16 And from that tyme foorth, he sought opportunitie to betray hym.

Mar.xiiii.b. Luk.xxii.a 17 *The first day of Sweete bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying vnto him: Where Wylt thou that We prepare for thee, to eate the Passouer?

18 And he saide: Go into the citie, to such a man, and say vnto hym, the maister sayth, my tyme is at hand, I Will kepe the Passouer at thy house, With my disciples.

19 And the disciples dyd as Jesus had appoynted them: and they made redye the Passouer.

Mar.xiiii.c. Luk.xxii.b. 20 *When the euen Was come, he sate downe With the twelue.

Iohn. xiii.c. 21 And as they dyd eate, he sayde: Verily I say vnto you, that *one of you shall betray me.

22 And they Were exceadyng sorowfull, and began euery one of them to say vnto hym, Lorde is it I?

23 He answered, and saide: He that dippeth his hand With me in the dishe, the same shall betray me.

Psal.xli.b. ¶ 24 *The sonne of man truely goeth, as it is Writtẽ of him: but Wo vnto that man by Whom the sonne of man is betrayed: It had ben good for that man, yf he had not ben borne.

25 Then Judas, Which betrayed [hym] answered and sayde: Maister, is it I? He sayde vnto hym, thou hast sayde.

26 When they Were eatyng, Jesus toke bread, and When he had geuen thankes, he brake [it,] and gaue [it] to the disciples, and saide: *Take, eate, this is my body.

i.Cor.xi.e. Luk.xxii.b. Mar. xiii.c.

27 And he toke the cuppe, and after he had geuen thankes, gaue it them, saying: Drinke ye all of this,

28 For this is my blood, Whiche [is] of the newe testament, that is shedde for many, for the remission of sinnes.

29 But I say vnto you, I Will not drinke henceforth of this fruite of the vine tree, vntyll vntyll that day When I shall drynke it newe with you, in my fathers kyngdome.

30 *And when they hadde prayed [God] they wēt out vnto the mount of Olives. Mar.xiiii.c.

31 Then sayth Jesus vnto them: All ye shalbe offēded because of me this night. For it is written: *I wyll smyte the shepheard, and the sheepe of the flocke shalbe scattered abrode. *Zach.xiii.c. *Mar.xiiii.c.

32 But after I am rysen againe, I wyll go before you into Galilee.

33 Peter answered, and said vnto him: *though all men be offended, because of thee, yet wyll I neuer be offended. *Mar.xiii.c. *Luk.xxii.d.

34 Jesus sayde vnto hym: Verely I say vnto thee, that in this same nyght, before the Cocke crowe, thou shalt denie me thryse.

35 Peter sayde vnto hym: Though I shoulde dye with thee, yet wyll I not denie thee. Lykewyse also sayde all the disciples.

D 36 *Then came Jesus with them vnto a place, which is called Gethsemane, and sayde vnto the disciples: Sit ye here, whyle I go and pray yonder. *Mar.xiiii.d.

37 And he toke with him Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedee, and began to ware sorowfull and heauy.

38 Then sayde Jesus vnto them: *My soule is heauy, euen vnto the death, tary ye here, and watche with me. *Mar.xiii.d *Matth.xxvi.b.

39 And he went a litle farther, and fell flat on his face, and prayed, saying: O my father, if it be possible, *let this cuppe passe from me: Neuertheless, not as I wyll, but as thou wylt. *Luk.xxii.d. *Mark.xiiii.d

40 And he came vnto the disciples, and founde them a slepe, and sayth vnto Peter: what, coulde ye not watche with me one houre?

41 Watche, and praye, that ye enter not into temptation: *The spirite in deede is wyllyng, but the flesshe is weake. *Galath.v.c.

42 *He went away once againe, & prayed, saying: O my father, if this cuppe may not passe away frō me, except I drinke it, thy wyll be fulfylled. *Mar.xiii.c.

43 And he came, and founde them a slepe agayne: for, their eyes were heauy.

44 And he left them, and went agayne, and prayed the thirde tyme, saying the same wordes.

E 45 Then commeth he to his disciples, and sayth vnto them: Slepe henceforth, & take your rest, beholde, the houre is at hande, and the sonne of man is betrayed into the handes of synners.

46 Ryse, let vs be goyng: beholde, he is at hande that doth betray me.

47 *Whyle he yet spake, loe Judas, one of the twelue, came, and with hym a great multitude, with swordes & staues, from the chiefe priestes and elders of the people. *Mar.xiiii.e. *Luk.xxii.e.

48 But he that betrayed him, gaue them a token, saying: Whomsoeuer I kysse, that same is he, holde hym fast.

49 And forthwith, he came to Jesus, and sayde, hayle maister: and kyssed hym.

50 And Jesus sayde vnto hym: Frende, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and layed handes on Jesus, and toke hym.

51 And beholde, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hande, and drewe his sworde, and stroke a seruaunt of the hye priestes, and smote of his eare.

52 Then sayde Jesus vnto hym: Put vp thy sworde into his sheathe. *For all they that take the sworde, shall perysshe with the sworde. *Genes. ix.a. *Ioh. xviii.b. *Apoc. xiii.c *Ezech. xi.b.

53 Thynkest thou that I can not nowe pray to my father, and he shall geue me more then twelue legions of Angels?

54 But howe then shall the scriptures be fulfylled? For *thus must it be. *Lu.xxiiii.d.

55 In that same houre, sayde Jesus to the multitudes: *Ye be come out, as it were vnto a thiefe, with swordes and staues, for to take me. I sate dayly with you, teachyng in the temple, and ye toke me not. *Mar. xiiii.f. *Luk. xxii.f.

56 *But all this is done, that the scriptures of the prophetes myght be fulfylled. *Then all the disciples forsoke him, and fledde. *Psal.xxi. and.lxix. F *Mar.xiiii.f. *Luk.xxii.f. *Ioh. xviii.e.

57 And they toke Jesus, and ledde hym to Caiaphas the hye priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

58 But Peter folowed hym a farre of, vnto the hye priestes palace, and went in, and sate with the seruauntes to see the ende.

59 *The chiefe priestes, and elders, and all the councell, sought false witnesse agaynst Jesus, for to put hym to death, *Mar.xiiii.f. *Actes.vi.d.

60 But founde none: yea, when many false witnesses came, yet founde they none. At the last, came two false witnesses,

Mer. xiiii.f. Iohn.ii.d. 61 And sayde: This [felowe] sayde: *I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to buylde it agayne in three dayes.

Mar. xiiii.f. 62 *And the chiefe priest arose, and sayde vnto hym: Aunswerest thou nothyng? why do these beare witnesse agaynst thee?

Mar. xiiii.f. 63 But Jesus helde his peace. *And the chiefe priest aunswered, and sayde vnto hym: I charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tel vs, whether thou be Christ the sonne of God?

64 Jesus saith vnto him: thou hast said. Mar.xiiii.g Luk. xxii.g Neuertheless, I saye vnto you, *hereafter shall ye see the sonne of man sitting on the ryght hande of power, and comming in the cloudes of the skye.

G Mar.xiiii.g. 65 *Then the hye priest rent his clothes, saying: He hath spoken blasphemie, what nede we of any mo witnesses? Beholde, now ye haue heard his blasphemie, 66 what thynke ye? They aunswered and sayde: he is worthy to dye.

Esay.l.c. 67 *Then dyd they spyt in his face, and buffeted hym with fistes. And other smote hym on his face with the paulme of their handes, 68 Saying: prophecie vnto vs, O Christ, who is he that smote thee?

69 Peter sate without in the palace: And a damsell came to hym, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70 But he denied before them all, saying: I wote not what thou sayest.

71 When he was gone out into the porch, another wenche sawe hym, and sayde vnto them that were there: This felowe was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

72 And agayne he denyed with an oth: I do not knowe the man.

73 And after a whyle, came vnto hym they that stode by, and sayde vnto Peter: *Surely thou art euen one of them, for thy speache bewrayeth thee. Mar.xiiii.g. Luk.xxii.g. Ioh.xviii.c.

74 Then began he to curse, & to sweare, that he knewe not the man. And immediatly *the Cocke crewe. Mat.xxvi.c

75 And Peter remembred the worde of Jesu, which sayde vnto hym, before the Cocke crowe, thou shalt denie me thrise: and he went out, and wept bytterly.

66 So they went, and made the sepulchre sure with the watch, and sealed the stone.

The. xxviij. Chapter.

¶ 6 The Resurrection of Christe. 12 The hye priestes geue the souldiers money, to say that Christe was stolen out of his graue. 17 Christe appeareth to his disciples, and sendeth them foorth to preache, and to baptize.

A 1 Mark.xv.a. Lu.xxiii.a. Iohn.xx.a. IN the later ende of the Sabboth day, whiche dawneth the first daye of the weke, came Marie Magdalen, and the other Marie, to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake, for the Angell of the Lorde descended from heauen, and came & roulled backe the stone from the doore, and sate vpon it.

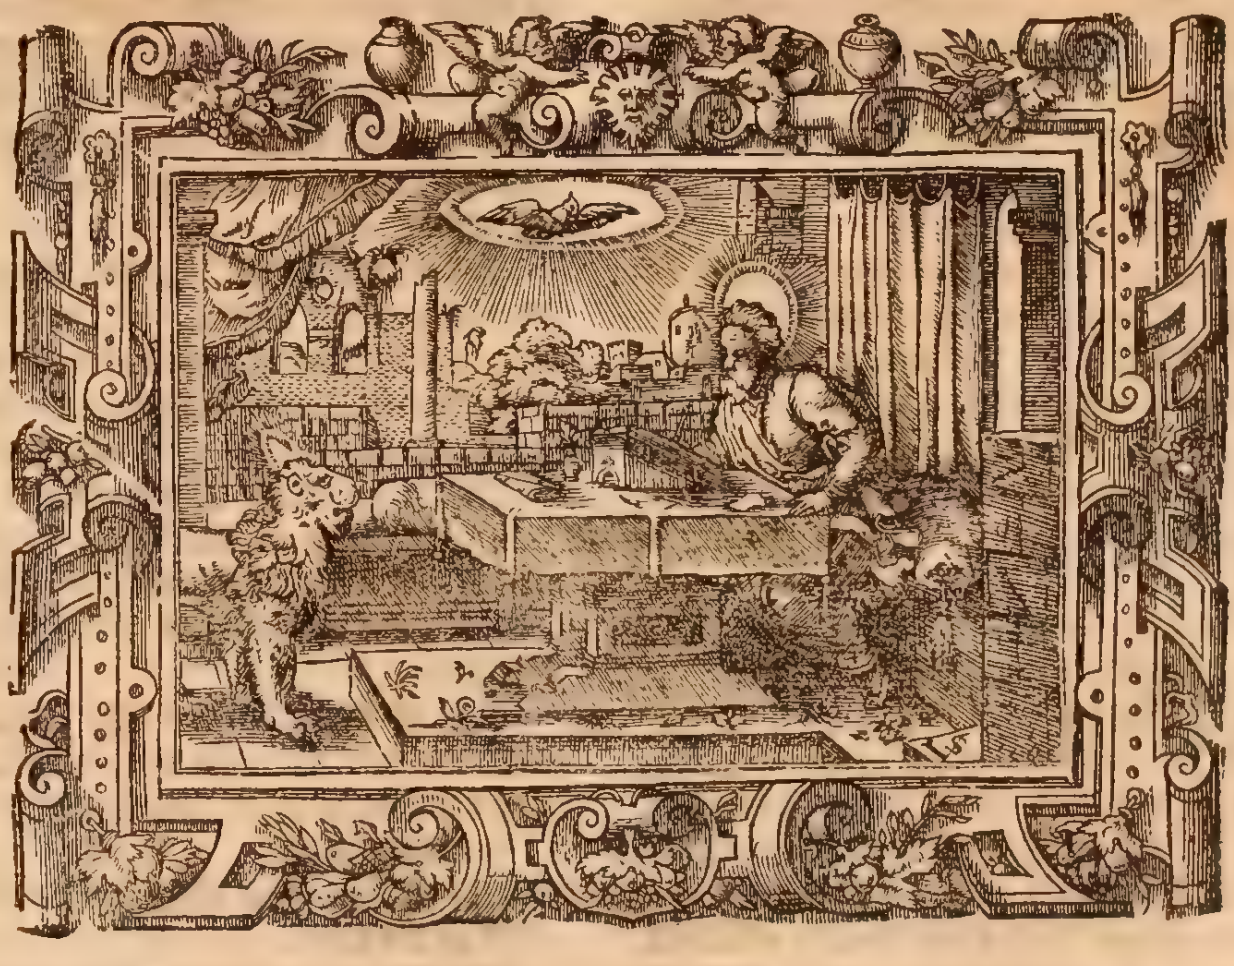
3 His countenaunce was lyke lyghtnyng, and his rayment white as snowe.

4 And for feare of him, the kepers were astonyed, and became as dead men.

Mar.xvi.b. Lu.xxiii.a. 5 *The Angell aunswered, and sayde vnto the women, feare ye not: For I knowe that ye seke Jesus whiche was crucified.

6 He is not here, he is ryssen, as he saide. Come, se the place where that the Lord was layde.

7 And go quickly, & tell his disciples that he is ryssen agayne from the dead. And beholde, he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see hym. Loe, I haue tolde you.



8 ☞ *And they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare, and great ioy, and dyd runne, to bryng his disciples worde. Mar.xvi.b. Lu.xxiii.b.

9 And as they went to tell his disciples, beholde, Jesus met them, saying: All hayle. And they came and held him by the the feete, and worshypped hym.

10 Then sayde Jesus vnto them: be not afrayde. Go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, & there shal they see me.
11 ℭ When they were gone, beholde, some of the watche came into the citie, and shewed vnto the hye priestes all the thynges that were done.
12 And they gathered thē together, with the elders, and toke councell, and gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying. Saye ye, that his disciples came by nyght, & stole hym away while ye slept.
14 And yf this come to the deputies[eares] we wyll persuade hym, and saue you harmeless.
15 So they toke the money, & dyd as they were taught. And this saying is noysed among the Jewes, vntyl this day.
16 ☞ Then the eleuen disciples went a- ℣ waye into Galilee, into a mountayne, where Jesus had appoynted them.
17 And when they sawe hym, they worshypped hym: But some doubted.
18 And Jesus came, and spake vnto thē, saying: *All power is geuen vnto me in heauen and in earth. Math.xi.d. Ioh.xvii.a.
19 *Go ye therfore, & teache all nations, baptizing them in the name of the father, and of the sonne, and of the holye ghost: Mar.xvi.c.
20 Teachyng thē to obserue all thynges, whatsoeuer I haue commaunded you. And loe, *I am with you alway, euen vnto the ende of the worlde. Ioh.xiiii.b.

¶ The first Chapter.

℣ 2 The office of John the Baptist. 9 The baptisme of Christe, 13 his fastyng, 14 his preachyng, 17 and the callyng of Peter, Andrewe, James, & John. 23 Christe healeth the man with the vncleane spirite, 29 helpeth Peters mother in lawe, 41 and cleanseth the leper.

A 1 THE begynnyng of the Gospel of Jesu Christ, the sonne of God.
2 As it hath ben written in the prophetes: *Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy waye before thee. Mala.iii.a Matth.xi.b. Luk.vii.d.
3 A voyce of hym that crieth in the wyldernesse: *Prepare ye the waye of the Lorde, and make his pathes straight. Esay.xl.a. Math.iii.a. Luk.iii.a. Mark.i.b.
4 *John did baptize in the wyldernesse, and Luk.iii.c.

Mark.iii. b. Luk.iii.c. and preached the baptisme of *repentaunce, for the remission of sinnes.

5 And all the land of Jurie, and they of Hierusalem, went out vnto hym, and were all baptized of hym in the ryuer of Jordane, confessyng their synnes.

Math.iii.a. 6 *John was clothed with Camelles heere, and with a girdle of a skynne about his loynes: and he did eate locustes and wylde hony.

Mar.iii.b. Luk.iii.c. Iohn.i.d. 7 And preached, saying: *He that is stronger then I, commeth after me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to stowpe downe, and vnloose.

8 I haue baptized you with water: but he shal baptize you with the holy ghost.

9 And it came to passe in those dayes, that Jesus came frō Nazareth, of Galilee, *& was baptized of John in Jordane.

Math.iii.c.

10 And assone as he was come vp out of the water, *he sawe heauen open, & the spirite descending vpon hym like a doue.

Math.iii.d.

11 And there came a voyce from heauen: *Thou art my deare sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

Math.iiii. a. Esay.xlii.a. Mark.ix. a. 12 And immediatly *the spirite driueth hym into wyldernesse.

13 And he was there in the wyldernesse fourtie dayes, and was tempted of Satan, & was with wylde beastes. * And the Angels ministred vnto hym.

Math.iiii.b.

14 After that John was deliuered [to prison] *Jesus came into Galilee, *preachyng the Gospell of the kyngdome of God, Math.iiii. c. Luk.iii.b.

15 And saying: The tyme is come, and the kyngdome of God is at hande: *repent, and beleue the Gospell.

Math.iii.a. Mat.iii.c. 16 *As he walked by the sea of Galilee, he sawe Simon, and Andrewe his brother, castyng nettes into the sea (for they were fyshers.)

17 And Jesus saide vnto them: Folowe me, and I wyll make *you to become fyshers of men.

Ier.xvi.c.

18 And strayghtway they forsoke their nettes, and folowed hym.

19 And when he had gone a litle further thence, he sawe James the sonne of Zebedee, and John his brother, which also were in the shippe, mendyng their nettes.

20 And anone he called them: And they lefte their father Zebedee in the shippe with the hired seruauntes, and folowed hym.

21 *And they came into Capernaum, & strayghtway, on the Sabboth dayes, he entred into the synagogue, & taught. ℂ Math.iiii.b.

22 And they were astonyed at his learnyng: *For he taught them, as one that had auctoritie, & not as the Scribes. Math.vii.d. Luke.iii.c.

23 *And there was in their synagogue, a man vexed with an vncleane spirite, & he cried, Math.vii.d. Luk.iiii.c.

24 Saying: Alas, what haue we [to do] with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth: Art thou come to destroy vs: I knowe thee what thou art, euen that holy one of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked hym, saying: holde thy peace, and come out of hym.

26 And when the vncleane spirite hadde torne hym, & cryed with a loude voyce, he came out of hym.

27 And they were all amased, insomuch that they demaunded one of another among them selues, saying: What thing is this: what newe doctrine is this: For with auctoritie commaunded he the fowle spirites, and they obeyed him.

28 And immediatly his fame spread abrode throughout all the region borderyng on Galilee.

29 And foorthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, *they entred into the house of Simon, and Andrewe, with James, and John. Mat.viii.b. Luk.iiii.f.

30 But Simons wyues mother lay sicke of a feuer: & anone they tell hym of her.

31 And he came, & toke her by the hande, and lyft her vp: and immediatly the feuer forsoke her, and [she] ministred vnto them.

32 And at euen, when the sonne was downe, they brought vnto hym all that were diseased, and them that were vexed with deuyls:

33 And all the citie was gathered together at the dore. ℗

34 And he healed many, that were sicke of diuers diseases, and *caste out many deuyls: and suffred not the deuyls to speake, because they knewe hym. Luk.iiii. g. Mark.iii. b.

35 And in the mornyng, before day, Jesus, when he was rysen vp, departed, and went out into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, & they that were with hym, folowed after hym:

37 And when they had founde hym, they sayde vnto hym: all men seke for thee.

38 And he saide vnto them: let vs go vnto the the nexte townes, that I may preache there also: for, therfore am I come.

39 And he preached in their synagogues, in all Galilee, and cast the deuyls out.
40 *And there came a leper to hym, besechyng hym, and kneelyng downe to him, and sayng vnto hym: If thou wylt, thou canst make me cleane.
41 And Jesus had compassion on hym, and put foorth his hande, touched hym, and sayth vnto hym: I will, be thou cleane.
42 And assoone as he had spoken, immediatly the leprosie departed from hym, and he was made cleane.
43 And after he had geuen hym a strayte commaundement, he sent hym away foorthwith, 44 And sayth vnto hym: *See thou saye nothing to any man, but get thee hence, shew thy selfe to the priest, and offer for thy clensyng those thinges which Moyses commaunded, for a witnesse vnto them.
45 But he, assoone as he was departed, began to tell many thynges, and to publishe the saying: insomuch, that Jesus could no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desert places: And they came to him from euery quarter.

¶ The. ij. Chapter.

¶ 3 He healeth the man of the paulsie, 14 calleth Leui the customer, 16 eateth with open synners, 18 and excuseth his disciples.

AFter [a fewe] dayes also, he entred into Capernaum agayne, and it was noysed ỳ he was in the house.
2 And anone many were gathered together, in so much that nowe there was no rowme to receaue them, no, not so muche as about the doze: and he preached the Word vnto them.
3 *And they came vnto hym, bryngyng one sicke of the paulsie, whiche was borne of foure men.
4 And when they coulde not come nye vnto hym for preasse, they vncouered the roofe [of the house] that he was in: And whē they had broken vp the roofe, they dyd [with cordes] let downe the bedde, wherin the sicke of the paulsie lay.
5 When Jesus sawe their fayth, he saide vnto the sicke of the paulsie: *Sonne, thy synnes be forgeuen thee.
6 But there were certayne of the scribes sytting there, and reasouyng in their hearetes:
7 Why doeth he thus speake blasphemies: who can forgeue sinnes, but God only:
8 And immediatly, when Jesus perceaued in his spirite, that they so reasoned within them selues, he saith vnto them: Why reason ye suche thynges in your heartes:
9 Whether is it easyer to say to the sicke of the paulsie, thy synnes be forgeuen thee: or to say, aryse, take vp thy bedde, and walke:
10 But that ye may know, that the sonne of man hath power in earth to forgeue synnes (He spake vnto the sicke of the paulsie)
11 I saye vnto thee, *aryse, and take vp thy bedde, and get thee hence vnto thine house.
12 And immediatly he arose, toke vp the bedde, and went foorth before them all: insomuch that they were all amazed, & glorified God, saying: We neuer sawe it on this fashion.
13 *And he went againe vnto the sea: and all the people resorted vnto him, and he taught them.
14 And as Jesus passed bye, he sawe Leui [the sonne] of Alphee, sittyng at the receipt of custome, and sayde vnto hym: folowe me. And he arose, and folowed hym.
15 And it came to passe, that when Jesus sate at meate in his house, many publicanes and sinners sate also together at meate with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many that folowed him.
16 And when the scribes and pharisees sawe hym eate with publicanes and sinners, they saide vnto his disciples: howe is it that he eateth and drynketh with publicanes and synners:
17 When Jesus hearde that, he saide vnto them: They that be whole, haue no nede nede of the phisition, but they that are sicke: *I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentaunce.

i.Tim.i.c. Math.ix.b. Luk.v.f.

18 And the disciples of Johan, & the Pharisees dyd fast. And they come, and say vnto him: Why do ỹ disciples of Johan, and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

19 And Jesus sayde vnto them: Can the chyldren of the brydechaumber fast, whyle the brydegrome is with them? As long as they haue the brydegrome with them, they can not fast.

20 But the dayes wyll come, when the brydegrome shalbe taken awaye from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

D 21 No man also soweth a peece of newe cloth, vnto an olde garment: otherwayes, his newe peece taketh awaye from the olde, and so the rent is made worse.

22 And no man powreth newe wine into olde vessels: els the newe wine doth burst the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are marred: But newe wine, must be put into newe vessels.

23 *And it came to passe, that he went thorowe the corne fieldes on the Sabboth dayes, and his disciples began by ỹ way to plucke the eares of corne. Math.xii.a. Luk.vi.a.

24 And the pharisees sayde vnto hym: Beholde, why do they on the Sabboth dayes, that which is not lawfull?

25 And he sayde vnto them: Haue ye neuer read what Dauid did, when he had nede, and was an hungred, both he, and they that were with hym?

26 *Howe he went into the house of God [in the dayes] of Abiathar the hye priest, and dyd eate the shewe bread, which is not lawfull to eate, but for the priestes, and gaue also to them which were with hym? i.Reg.xxi.b

27 And he sayde vnto them: The Sabboth was made for man, and not man for the Sabboth.

28 Therfore is the sonne of man, Lorde also of the Sabboth.

¶ The. iij. Chapter.

¶ 1 He helpeth the man with the dryed hande, 14 choseth his Apostles, 22 and casteth out the vncleane spirite, whiche the pharisees ascribe vnto the deuyll. 35 The brother, sister, and mother of Christe.

A 1 AND he entred agayne into the synagogue, & a man was there whiche had a *wythered hande: Math.xii.a. Luk.vi.a.

2 And they watched hym, whether he woulde heale hym on the Sabboth daye, that they myght accuse hym.

3 And he saide vnto the man which had the wythered hande: Aryse, [and stande] in the myddes.

4 And he saide vnto them: Is it lawful to do good on the Sabboth dayes, or to do euyl? to saue lyfe, or to kyll? But they helde their peace.

5 And when he had loked rounde about on them with anger, mourning for the hardnesse of their heartes, he sayth to the man: *stretch forth thyne hande. And he stretched it out: *And his hande was restored, euen as whole as the other. Math.xii.b. Luk.vi.b. 3.Reg.xiii.b

Math.xii.b. 6 *And the pharisees departed, and strayghtway gathered a councell, with the Herodians, agaynst hym, that they myght destroy hym.

7 But Jesus auoyded, with his disciples, to the sea: *And a great multitude folowed hym from Galilee, and from Jurie, Math.iiii.d. Luk.vi.c.

8 And from Hierusalem, & from Idumea, and from beyonde Jordane, *and they that dwelled about Tyre & Sidon, a great multitude [of men:] which, whē they had hearde what thynges he dyd, came vnto hym. Math.iiii.b. Luk.vi.c. Iohn.vi.a.

9 And Jesus cōmaunded his disciples, B that a shippe shoulde wayte on hym, because of the people, leste they shoulde thronge hym.

10 For he had healed many: insomuche, that they preassed vpon him for to touch hym, as many as had plagues.

11 And when the vncleane spirites sawe hym, they fell downe before hym, and cryed, saying: Thou art the sonne of God.

12 And he straytely charged them, that they shoulde not make hym knowen.

And

13 And he went vp into a mountayne, & called vnto him whom he woulde: and they came vnto hym.

14 *And he ordeyned twelue, that they shoulde be with him, and that he might sende them forth to preache, 15 And that they myght haue power to heale sicknesses, and to cast out deuyls.

16 And he gaue vnto Simon to name, Peter.

17 And he called James [the sonne] of Zebedee, and John, James brother (and gaue them to name Boanarges, which is to say, the sonnes of thunder.)

18 And Andrewe, and Philip, and Bartholomewe, and Matthewe, and Thomas, and James the sonne of Alphee, and Thaddeus, and Simon Cananite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed hym. And they came into the house:

20 And the people assembled together agayne, so that they had no leysure so much as to eate bread.

21 And when they that belonged vnto hym, hearde of it, they went out to laye handes vpon hym: For they sayde, he is madde.

22 And the scribes whiche came downe from Hierusalem, sayde: He hath Beelzebub, and * by the chiefe deuyll, casteth he out deuyls.

23 And he called them vnto hym, & sayde vnto them in parables: Howe can Satan driue out Satan?

24 And yf a realme be deuided agaynst it selfe, that realme can not endure.

25 And yf a house be deuided agaynst it selfe, that house can not continue.

26 And yf Satan make insurrection agaynst him selfe & be deuided, he can not continue, but hath an ende.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and take away his goodes, except he first bynde the strong man, and then spoyle his house.

28 Verely I say vnto you, al sinnes shalbe forgeuen vnto the chyldren of men, & blasphemies wherewith so euer they haue blasphemed:

29 *But he that speaketh blasphemie agaynst the holy ghoste, hath neuer forgeuenesse, but is in daunger of eternall dampnation. Math. xii. c. Luk. xii. b.

30 For they sayde: He hath an vncleane spirite.

31 *There came also his mother, and his brethren, and stoode without, and sent vnto hym, to call hym out. Math. xii. d. Luk. viii. c.

32 And the people sate about him, & saide vnto hym: Beholde, thy mother and thy brethren seke for thee without.

33 And he aunswered them, saying: Who is my mother, and my brethren?

34 And when he had loked rounde about on his disciples, which sate in compasse about hym, he sayde: Beholde my mother, and my brethren.

35 For whosoeuer doeth the wyl of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

¶ The .iiij. Chapter.

¶ 2 The parable of the sower. 37 Christe stylleth the tempest of the sea, which obeyed hym.

AND he began agayne to teache by the sea syde: And ther gathered vnto hym much people, so greatly, that he entred into a shippe, * and sate in the sea: and all the people was by the sea syde on the shore:

2 And he taught them many thinges by parables, and sayde vnto them in his doctrine.

3 Hearken: Beholde, *there went out a sower to sowe:

4 And it fortuned as he sowed, that some fell by the way syde, and the fowles of the ayre came, and deuoured it vp.

5 Some fell on stonie grounde, where it had not muche earth: and immediatly sprange vp, because it had not deapth of earth.

6 But assoone as the sonne was vp, it caught heate: and because it hadde not roote, it wythered away.

7 And some fell among thornes: and the thornes grewe vp, and choked it, and it gaue no fruite.

8 And some fell vpon good grounde, and dyd dyd yelde fruite, that sprang vp, and grewe, and brought foorth, some thirtie folde, and some sixtie folde, and some an hundred folde.

9 And he saide vnto them: He that hath eares to heare, let hym heare.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about hym, with the twelue, asked of hym the parable.

Math.xiii.b Luk.viii.b. 11 And he sayde vnto them: *To you it is geuen to knowe the misterie of the kingdome of God: But vnto them that are without, all thynges are done by parables, 12 That when they see, they may see and not discerne: and whē they heare, *they may heare and not vnderstande, lest at any tyme, they shoulde turne, and their sinnes shoulde be forgeuen them.

Esay.vi.c. Mat. xiii.b. Luk.viii.b. Ioh.xii. f. Act.xxviii f Rom. xi.b.

Math. xiii.c Luk.viii.b. 14 *The sower, soweth the worde.

15 And they [that receaued seede] by the way side, are those where the worde is sowē: but when they haue hearde, Satan cōmeth immediatly, and taketh away the word that was sowen in their heartes.

16 And lykewyse they that receaue seede into the stonie grounde, are they, which when they haue hearde the worde, at once receaue it with gladnesse.

17 Yet haue no roote in them selues, and so endure but a tyme: and anone when trouble and persecution aryseth for the wordes sake, immediatlye they are offended.

18 And those be they that receaue seede among thornes: and those [I saye] are such as heare the worde, 19 And the cares of this worlde, and the deceytfulnesse of ryches, and the lustes of other thynges enter in, and choke the worde, and it is made vnfruitefull.

25 For *vnto hym that hath, shall it be geuen: and from hym that hath not, shalbe taken away, euen that which he hath. Math.xiii.b and. xxv. c. Luk.viii.c. and.xix.d.

26 And he sayde, so is the kyngdome of God: euen as *yf a man shoulde sowe seede in the grounde, Math. xiii.d

27 And shoulde slepe, and ryse vp nyght and day, and the seede shoulde spryng & growe vp, he knoweth not howe.

28 For the earth bringeth foorth fruite of her selfe, first the blade, then the eare, after that, the full corne in the eare.

29 But when the fruite is brought foorth, anone he thrusteth in the sickle, because the haruest is come.

30 And he sayde: wherevnto shall we lyken the kyngdome of God? Or with what comparyson shall we compare it?

31 *It is like a grayne of mustarde seede, Whiche when it is sowen in the earth, is lesse then all seedes that be in the earth. Math.xii.d Luk.iii.d

32 When it is sowen, it groweth vp, and is greater then all herbes, and beareth great braunches, so that the fowles of the ayre may make their nestes vnder the shadowe of it.

33 *And with many such parables preached he the worde vnto them, as they were able to heare it. Math.xiii.c

34 But without parable spake he nothing vnto them. But when they were alone, *he expounded all thynges to his disciples. Math.xiii.e

35 And the same day, when euen was come, he saide vnto them: Let vs passe ouer vnto the other syde.

36 And they left the people, and toke hym, euen as he was in the shippe. And there were also with him, other litle shippes.

37 *And there arose a great stormie of wynde, and the waues dasshed into the shippe, so that it was nowe full. Math.viii.c Luk.viii.c

38 And he was in the sterne a slepe on a pelowe. And they awaked hym, and sayde vnto hym: Maister, carest thou not that we perysshe?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wynde, and saide vnto the sea, peace and be styll.

And

And the wynde ceassed, & there folowed a great calme.

40 And he sayde vnto them: Why are ye so fearefull? Howe is it, that ye haue no fayth?

41 And they feared exceadyngly, and sayde one to another: Who is this? For both wynde and sea obey hym.

The.v.Chapter.

¶ 1 Christe delyuereth the possessed from the vncleane spirite, 25 the woman from the blooddy issue, 41 and rayseth the captaynes daughter.

AND they came *ouer to the other syde of the sea, into the countrey of the Gadarenites. Al & rud. & rud.

2 And When he was come out of the shippe, immediatly there met hym from among the tombes, a man [possessed] of an vncleane spirite:

3 which had his abidyng among the tombes: And no man coulde bynde him, no not With cheynes,

4 Because, that When he was often bounde With fetters and cheynes, he plucked the cheynes a sunder, and brake the fetters in peeces: Neither coulde any man tame hym.

5 And alWayes, nyght and day, he Was in the mountaynes, and in the tombes, crying, and beatyng hym selfe With stones.

6 But When he had spied Jesus a farre of, he ranne, and Worshypped hym,

7 And cried With a loude voyce, & sayde: *What haue I to do With thee Jesus thou sonne of the most hyest God? I require thee in the name of God, that thou torment me not. vii.d. xvi.c

8 (For he sayde vnto hym: come out of the man thou foule spirite.)

9 And he asked hym, What is thy name? And he aunswered and sayd vnto hym: my name is legion, for We are many.

10 And he prayed hym instantly, that he Woulde not sende them away, out of the countrey.

11 But there Was there, nye vnto the B mountaynes, *a great heard of swyne feedyng. n.viii.d. viii.d.

12 And all the deuyls besought hym, saying: sende vs into the swyne, that We may enter into them.

13 And anone Jesus gaue them leaue. And the vncleane spirites Went out, and entred into the swyne: And the heard ran headlong into the sea, (they Were about two thousande,) & Were drowned in the sea.

14 And the swyneheardes fled, and tolde it in the citie, and in the countrey. And they Went out for to see What Was done:

15 And came to Jesus, and sawe hym that Was vexed With the fiende, and had the legion, syt, both clothed, and in his right mynde: & they Were afrayde.

16 And they that sawe it, tolde them, howe it came to passe to hym that Was possessed With the deuyll: and also of the swyne.

19 Howbeit, Jesus Woulde not suffer hym, but sayde vnto hym: go home to thy frendes, and shewe them howe great thynges the Lorde hath done for thee, and howe he had compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publyshe in the ten cities, howe great thynges Jesus had done for hym: and all men dyd maruayle.

21 And When Jesus Was come ouer agayne by shippe, vnto the other syde, much people gathered vnto hym, and he Was nye vnto the sea. ¶

22 *And beholde, there came one of the rulers of the synagogue, Whose name Was Jairus: and When he sawe hym, he fell downe at his feete, Math.ix.e. Luk.viii.f.

23 And besought hym greatly, saying: my young daughter lieth at poynt of death, [I pray thee] come and lay thy hande on her, that she may be safe, and lyue.

24 And he Went With hym, and much people folowed him, and thronged him.

25 *And there Was a certayne Woman, Which had ben diseased of an issue of blood twelue yeres, Math.ix.c. Luk.viii.f.

26 And had suffred many thynges, of many many physitions, and had spent all that she had, and felt none amendemet at all, but rather the worse.

27 When she had heard of Jesus, she came in the preasse behynde hym, and touched his garment.

28 For she sayde: yf I may but touche his clothes, I shalbe whole.

29 And strayghtway the fountayne of her blood was dryed vp: & she felt in her body, that she was healed of ý plague.

30 And Jesus immediatly, knowyng in hym selfe, that vertue proceaded from hym, turned hym about in the preasse, and sayde: who touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples sayde vnto hym: thou seest the people thrust thee, & askest thou, who dyd touche me?

32 And he loked rounde about, for to see her that had done this thyng.

33 But the woman, fearyng & tremblyng, knowyng what was done within her, came, and fell downe before hym, and tolde hym all the trueth.

Luk.viii.g. 34 And he sayde vnto her: Daughter *thy fayth hath saued thee, go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

Math.ix.c. Luk.viii.g. D 35 *Whyle he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogues [house], certayne, which sayde: thy daughter is dead, why diseasest thou the maister any further?

36 Assoone as Jesus hearde the worde that was spoken, he sayde vnto the ruler of the synagogue, be not afrayde, only beleue.

37 And he suffred no man to folowe him, saue Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.

Math.ix.c. Luk.viii.g. 38 *And he came to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and sawe the tumult, and them that wept & wayled greatly.

39 And went in, and sayde vnto them: Why make ye this a doe, and wepe? the damsell is not dead, but slepeth.

40 And they laught hym to scorne: But he put them all out, and taketh the father and the mother of the damsell, and them that were with hym, and entreth in where the damsell laye, 41 And taketh the damsell by the hande, and sayth vnto her. Talitha cumi, Which is, yf one do interprete it, damsell (I say vnto thee) aryse.

42 And strayghtway the damsell arose, and walked: For she was of the age of twelue yeres. And they were astonyed out of measure.

43 And he charged them straytly, that no man shoulde knowe of it: and commaunded to geue her meate.

¶ The. vj. Chapter.

¶ 4 Of Christes doynges and estimation in his owne countrey, 7 he sendeth forth his Apostles, 15 diuers opinions of Christe, 25 howe Herode beheaded John Baptiste, 38 of the miracle of fyue loaues and two fisshes, 48 Christe walketh vpon the sea, 55 and healed them that touched hym.

Mat.xiii.g. Luk.iii.e. A 1 AND he *departed thence, & came into his owne countrey, and his disciples folowed hym.

2 And when the sabboth day was come, he begaune to teache in the synagogue: And many that hearde hym, were astonyed, and sayde: from whence hath he these thynges? And what wisdome is this that is geuen vnto hym? and such myghtie workes that are wrought by his handes?

Mat.xiii.g. 3 *Is not this the carpenter Maries sonne, the brother of James & Joses, and of Juda and Simon? and are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended at hym.

Mar.xii.g. Luk.iii.d. Iohn.v.f. 4 Jesus sayde vnto them, *that a prophete is not without honour, but in his owne countrey, and among his owne kynne, and in his owne house.

5 And he coulde there shewe no myghtie worke: but layde his handes vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed them.

Mark.ix.d Math.x.e. 6 And he marueyled, because of their vnbeliefe. ¶ *And he went about by B the townes that lay on euery syde, teachyng.

7 *And he called the twelue, and begaune to sende them forth, two and two, and gaue thē power ouer vncleane spirites.

8 And commaunded them, that they shoulde take nothyng in their iourney, saue saue a staffe (a)only: no scrippe, no bread, no money in their purse.

9 But shoulde be shoed With sandales: And that they shoulde not put on two coates.

10 And he sayde vnto them: whersoeuer ye enter into an house, there abyde tyll ye depart thence.

11 *And Whosoeuer shall not receaue you nor heare you, When ye depart thence, shake of the dust that is vnder your feet, for a Witnesse vnto them: *I say verily vnto you, it shalbe easyer for the Sodomites and the Gomorrheans in the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

12 *And they Went out, & preached, that men should repent.

13 And they cast out many deuyls, and annoynted many that were sicke, With oyle, and healed them.

14 *And king Herode heard [of hym] for his name was spread abrode: And he sayde, John Baptist is rysen agayne from the dead, and therefore myghtie Workes do shewe forth them selues in hym.

15 Other saide, it is Elias. Some saide, it is a prophete, or as one of the prophetes.

16 But When Herode heard of hym, he saide: It is John, whom I beheaded, he is rysen from death agayne.

17 For Herode himselfe had sent forth, and layde handes vpon John, & bounde hym in prison, for Herodias sake, his brother Philippes wyfe, because he had maryed her.

18 For John sayde vnto Herode: *It is not lawful for thee to haue thy brothers wyfe.

19 Therefore Herodias layde wayte for hym, and Woulde haue kylled hym: but she coulde not.

20 For Herode feared John, knowyng that he was a iuste man and an holye, and gaue hym reuerence: and When he heard hym, he dyd many thynges, and heard hym gladly.

21 And Whē a conuenient day was come, that Herode on his *birth daye made a supper to the lordes, hye captaynes, and chiefe estates of Galilee. Gene.xl.d.

22 And When the daughter of the same Herodias came in, and daunced, and pleased Herode, and them that sate at boorde also, the kyng said vnto the damsell: Aske of me What thou wylt, and I wyll geue it thee.

23 *And he sware vnto her: whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I wyll geue it thee, euen vnto the one halfe of my kingdome. Math.xiiii.a

24 And she went forth, & sayde vnto her mother: what shall I aske? She saide, John Baptistes head.

25 And she came in strayght waye, With haste, vnto the kyng, and asked, saying: I wyll, that thou geue me by and by in a charger, the head of John Baptist.

26 And the kyng was sory, howbeit, for his othes sake, & for their sakes Whiche sate at supper also, he Woulde not caste her of.

27 And immediatlye the kyng sent the hangman, and commaunded his head to be brought in: And he Went, and beheaded hym in the pryson, &

28 And brought his head in a charger, & gaue it to the damsell, and the damsell gaue it to her mother.

29 And When his disciples heard of it, they came, and toke vp his body, and layed it in a tombe.

30 And the Apostles gathered themselues together vnto Jesus, and tolde hym all thynges, both What they had done, and What they had taught.

31 And he sayde vnto them: *Come ye a lone out of the Way, into ỹ Wyldernesse, and rest awhyle: For there were many commers and goers, and they had no leysure, so much as to eate. Mat.xiiii.b. Luk.ix.b. Iohn.vi.a.

32 *And he wēt by shippe out of the Way, into a desert place. Mat.xiiii.b.

33 And the people spyed them, When they departed, and many knewe hym, and ranne a foote thyther, out of all cities, & came thyther before them, and came together vnto hym.

34 And Jesus Went out, and sawe much people, *and had compassion on them, because *they were lyke sheepe, not hauyng Math.ix.d. and. xiii.b. Ezech.34.a.

¶ 35 *And when the day was nowe farre spent, his disciples came vnto hym, sayeng: This is a desert place, & nowe the tyme is farre passed:

Mat.xiiii.b Luk.ix.b. Iohn.vi.a.

36 Let them departe, that they may go into the countrey rounde about, and into the townes, and bye them bread: for they haue nothyng to eate.

37 He answered and sayde vnto them: geue ye them to eate. And they saide vnto hym: Shall we go and bye two hundred penyworth of bread, & geue them to eate?

Mar.viii.a. 38 He sayde vnto them: *Howe many loaues haue ye, go loke? And when they had searched, they sayde, fyue, and two fisshes.

39 And he commaunded them, to make them all sit downe by companies vpon the greene grasse.

40 And they sate downe, here a rowe, and there a rowe, by hundredes, & by fifties.

41 And when he had take the fiue loaues and the two fisshes, and loked vp to heauen, he blessed, and brake the loaues, & gaue them to his disciples to set before them: and the two fisshes deuided he among them all.

42 And they all did eate, & were satisfied.

43 And they toke vp twelue baskets full, of the fragmentes, & of the fisshes.

44 And they that dyd eate, were about fyue thousande men.

¶ 45 *And straightway, he constrayned his Mat.xiiii.c. disciples to go into the shippe, and to go ouer the sea before, vnto Bethsaida, whyle he sent away the people.

Mat.xiiii.c. Iohn.vi.b. 46 *And assoone as he had sent them away, he departed into a mountayne to pray.

47 ☞ And when euen was come, the shyp was in the myddes of the sea, and he alone on the lande.

48 And he sawe them troubled in rowyng (for the wynde was contrary vnto them:) And about the fourth watche of the nyght, he came vnto them, walking vppon the sea, and woulde haue passed by them.

49 But when they sawe hym walkyng vpon the sea, they supposed it had ben a spirite, and cryed out.

50 For they all sawe him, & were afraide. And anone he talked with them, & saide vnto them: Be of good cheare, it is I, be not afrayde.

51 *And he went vp vnto them into the shippe, and the wynde ceassed, and they were sore amased in themselues beyond measure, and marueyled. Mat.xiiii.c

52 For they vnderstoode not [the miracle] of the loaues, because their heart was hardened.

53 And when they had passed ouer, they came into the lande of Genezareth, and drewe vp into the hauen.

54 And assoone as they were come out of the shippe, straightway they knewe him, 55 And ranne foorth throughout all the region rounde about, & began to carry about in beddes those that were sicke, thither, where they heard that he was.

56 And whethersoeuer he entred, into townes, cities, or villages, they layde the sicke folkes in the streates, & prayed him that they myght touche and it were but the hemme of his garment: And as many as touched it, were made whole. ¶

¶ The. vij. Chapter.

¶ 2 The pharisees fynde fault at the disciples eatyng of meate with vnwasshen handes. 8 The commaundement of God is transgressed by mans traditions. 22 Meate defileth not a man: but that which commeth from hym. 24 Of the woman of Syrophenissa. 32 The healyng of the deafe and dumbe.

¶ 1 AND *the pharisees came together vnto hym, & certayne of the scribes which came from Hierusalem. Luth.xv.a.

2 And whē they sawe some of his disciples eate bread with common [that is to say, with vnwasshen] hands, they founde fault.

3 For the pharisees and all the Iewes, except they washe their handes oft, eate not, obseruing the traditions of ỹ elders.

4 And [when they come] from the market, except they washe, they eate not. And many other thinges there be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue [as] the washyng of cuppes and pottes, and brasen vessels, and of tables.

5 Then asked hym the pharisees and ¶ scribes: why walke not thy disciples according to the traditiō of the elders, but eate eate bread with vnwasshen handes:

6 He aunswered, and sayde vnto them, that Esaias hath prophesied well of you hypocrites, as it is written: *This people honoreth me with their lippes, but their heart is farre from me.
7 Howebeit, in vayne do they worship me, teachyng doctrines, the commaundementes of men.
8 For ye laye the commaundement of God apart, and obserue the tradition of mẽ: as the washing of pottes & cuppes. And many other such like thinges ye do.
9 And he sayde vnto them: Well, ye cast asyde the commaundement of God, to mayntayne your owne tradition.
10 *For Moyses sayde, Honor thy father and thy mother: and, *Who so curseth father or mother, let him dye the death.
11 But ye say, yf a man shall say to father or mother Corban (that is, by the gyft) that [is offred] of me, thou shalt be helped.
12 And so ye suffer hym no more to do ought for his father or his mother.
13 And make the worde of God of none effect, through your tradition, which ye haue ordeyned. And many such thinges do ye.
14 And When he had called all the people vnto hym, he sayde vnto them: Hearken vnto me, euery one of you, and vnderstande.
15 *There is nothyng without a man, that can defyle hym, When it entreth into hym: But the thynges Whiche proceade out of a man, those are they that defyle the man.
16 If any man haue eares to heare, let hym heare.
17 And When he came into the house, away from the people, his disciples asked hym of the similitude.
18 And he sayde vnto them: Are ye also so Without vnderstandyng? Do ye not yet perceaue, that Whatsoeuer thing frõ Without, entreth into a man, it can not defyle hym, 19 Because it entreth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purgyng all meates?
20 And he sayde: That Which commeth out of a man, defyleth the man.
21 For from Within, euen out of the heart of men, proceade euyll thoughtes, adultrie, fornication, murther, 22 Theft, couetousnes, Wickednes, deceit, Wantonnes, a Wicked eye, blasphemies, pride, foolyshnes.
23 All these euyll thynges come frõ Within, and defyle a man.
24 *And from thence he rose, and Went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, & entred into an house, and Woulde that no man shoulde haue knowen: but he coulde not be hyd. Math.xv.b.
25 For a certayne Woman, Whose young daughter hadde an vncleane spirite, assoone as she hearde of hym, came, & fell at his feete.
26 The Woman Was a Greke, out of the nation of Syrophenissa: & she besought hym, that he Woulde cast out the deuyll from her daughter.
27 But Jesus saide vnto her, let the children first be fedde: For it is not meete to take the chyldrens bread, and to caste it vnto litle dogges.
28 She aunswered, and saide vnto hym, euen so Lorde: *neuertheless, the litle dogges also eate vnder the table, of the chyldrens crumbes. Math.xv.c.
29 And he sayde vnto her: For this saying, go thy Way, the deuyll is gone out of thy daughter.
30 And When she Was come home to her house, she founde that the deuyll Was departed, and her daughter lying on the bedde.
31 *And he departed agayne from the coastes of Tyre and Sidon, & came vnto the sea of Galilee, through the middes of the coastes of the ten cities. Math.xv.c.
32 *And they brought vnto hym one that Was deafe, and had an impediment in his speache: and they prayed him to put his hande vpon hym. Math.ix.d.
33 And When he had taken hym asyde from the people, he put his fyngers into his eares, and dyd spyt, and touched his tongue, 34 And loked vp to heauen, and sighed, and sayde vnto him Ephphatha, that is to say, be opened.
35 And straightWay his eares were opened, and the stryng of his tongue Was loosed, and he spake playne.
36 *And he commaunded them, that they shoulde tell no man: But the more he forbad them, so much the more a great deale they published it. Mark.i.d.
37 And Were beyonde measure astonyed, saying: He hath done all thynges Well, he hath made both the deafe to heare, and the dumbe to speake.

Mat.xix.a

2 And the pharisees came, and asked hym: Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wyfe? tempting hym.

3 And he answered, and sayde vnto them: *what did Moyses commaunde you to do?

Deu.xxiiij.a Mat.xix.a

4 And they sayde: Moyses suffred to write a booke of diuorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Jesus answered, and sayde vnto thē: For the hardnesse of your heart, he wrote this precept vnto you.

6 But from the begynnyng of the creation, *God made them male & female.

Gen.i.d. Mat.xix.a.

7 [And sayde] for this cause *shall a man leaue his father and mother, and byde by his wyfe:

Ephe.v.g. Gen.ii.d.

8 *And they twayne shalbe one flesshe. So then are they no more twayne, but one flesshe.

9 Therfore, what God hath coupled together, let not man seperate.

10 And in the house, his disciples asked hym agayne, of the same matter.

Mat.v.c. xix.a. Luk.xvi.b.

11 And he sayth vnto them: *Whosoeuer putteth away his wyfe, & maryeth another, committeth adulterie agaynst her.

12 And yf a woman put away her husbande, and be maryed to another, she committeth adulterie.

Mat.xix.b Luk.xviii.d

13 *And they brought young chyldren to hym, that he shoulde touche them: And his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But When Jesus sawe it, he was sore displeased, and sayde vnto them: Suffer the young children to come vnto me, forbyd them not: For of such, is the kyngdome of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, whosoeuer doth not receaue ỹ kingdome of God *as a young childe, he shall not enter therin.

Mat.xviii.a. Luk.xviii.a.

16 And When he had taken them vp in his armes, he put his handes vpon thē, and blessed them.

17 ☞ And When he was gone forth into the way, there came one runnyng, and kneeled to hym, and asked hym: *good Maister, What shall I do, that I may inherite eternall lyfe?

Mat.xix.d. Luk.xviii.d

18 Jesus sayde vnto hym: Why callest thou me good? There is no man good but one, which is God.

19 Thou knowest the commaundementes: Thou shalt not commit adulterie, Thou shalt not kyll, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witnesse, Thou shalt defraude no man, Honour thy father and mother. ℭ

20 He answered, and sayde vnto hym: Maister, all these haue I obserued from my youth.

Mat.xix.b. Luk.xviii.d

22 But he was discomforted because of that saying, and went away mournyng: for he had great possessions.

23 And When Jesus had loked rounde about, he sayde vnto his disciples: *Howe hardly shall they that haue riches, enter into the kyngdome of God?

Mat.xix.e. Luk.xviii.e.

24 And the disciples were astonyed at his wordes. But Jesus answereth agayne, and sayth vnto them: Children, howe harde is it for thē that trust in ryches, to enter into ỹ kyngdome of God.

25 It is easier for a camel to go thorowe the eye of a needle, then for the riche to enter into the kyngdome of God. ℭ

26 And they were astonyed out of measure, saying betwene them selues: Who then can be saued?

27 Jesus loked vpon them, & sayde: With men it is vnpossible, but not With God: for *With God all thynges are possible.

28 And Peter began to say vnto him: Lo, *we haue forsaken all, & haue folowed thee.

Mat.xix.e. Luk.xviii.

29 Jesus answered, & sayde: Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wyfe, or chyldren, or landes, for my sake and the Gospels, 34 And they shall mocke hym, & scourge hym, spit vpon hym, and kyll hym: And the thirde day he shall ryse agayne.

Math.xx.e. 35 *And James and John, the sonnes of Zebedee, came vnto hym, saying: Maister, we would that thou shouldest do for vs, whatsoeuer we desyre.

36 He sayde vnto them: what would ye, that I shoulde do for you?

37 They sayde vnto hym: graunt vnto vs, that we may sit, one on thy ryght hande, and the other on thy left hande, in thy glory.

38 But Jesus sayde vnto them, Ye wote not what ye aske: Can ye drynke of the cuppe that I drynke of? and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with?

39 And they sayde vnto hym: that we can. Jesus sayde vnto them: ye shall in deede drynke of the cup that I drynke of, and with the baptisme that I am baptized withall, shall ye be baptized:

F 40 But to syt on my ryght hande, and on my left hande, is not myne to geue, but vnto them, for whom it is prepared.

41 *And when the ten hearde it, they began to disdaine at James and John. Math.xx.d

29 Jesus aunswered hym, the first of all the commaundementes is: Heare O Israel, *The Lorde our God, is one Lorde:

30 And thou shalt loue the Lorde thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy mynde, and with all thy strength. This is the first commaundement.

31 And the seconde is lyke vnto this: *Thou shalt loue thy neyghbour as thy selfe. There is none other commaundement greater then these.

32 And the scribe sayde vnto hym: well maister, thou hast sayde the trueth, for there is one God, & there is none but he.

33 And to loue hym with all the heart, and with all the vnderstandyng, & with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue a [mans] neyghbour as hym selfe, is greater then all the burnt offerynges and sacrifices.

34 And when Jesus sawe that he aunswered discretely, he sayde vnto hym: Thou art not farre from the kingdome of God. And no man after that, durst aske hym any question.

35 And Jesus aunswered and sayde, teachyng in the temple: howe say the scribes that Christe is ỹ sonne of Dauid?

24 *Moreouer, in those dayes, after that tribulation, the sunne shall Waxe darke, and the moone shall not geue her light. (Math.24.c. Ioel. ii.c. Luk.xxi.e.)

25 And the starres of heauen, shall fall: and the powers Which are in heauen, shalbe shaken.

26 *And then shall they see the sonne of man comming in the cloudes, With great power and glory. (Daniel.vii.c)

27 And then shall he sende his Angels, and shall gather together his elect, from the foure Wyndes, from the ende of the earth, to the vtmost part of heauen.

28 *Learne a parable of the fygge tree. When his braunche is yet tender, and hath brought forth leaues, ye knowe that sommer is neare: (Math.24.d. Luk.xxi.f.) D

29 So ye in lyke maner, When ye see these thynges come to passe, vnderstand, that [he] is nye, euen at the doores.

30 Verely I say vnto you, that this generation shall not passe, tyll all these thynges be done.

31 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my Wordes shall not passe away.

32 But of that day and tyme knoweth no man: no not the Angels Which are in heauen, neither the sonne him selfe, saue the father only.

33 *Take heede, Watche and pray: for ye knowe not When the tyme is. (Math.24.d. Luk.xii.e.)

34 *As a man Which is gone into a straunge countrey, and hath left his house, and geuen auctoritie to his seruauntes, and to euery man his Worke, and commaunded the porter to Watche: (Mat.xxv.b. Luk. xix.b.)

35 Watche ye therfore, (for ye knowe not whē the maister of the house wyl come, at euen, or at mydnyght, Whether at the cocke crowyng, or in the dawnyng.)

36 Lest yf he come sodenly, he fynde you slepyng.

37 And that I say vnto you, I say vnto all, Watche.

¶ The.xiiij. Chapterr.

¶ 1 The hygh prieſtes conſpire agaynſt Chriſte, 3 A woman powreth precious oyntment on Chriſtes head, 10 Judas for money betrayeth Chriſte, 12 the Paſſouer is prepared and eaten, 22 the inſtitution of the Lordes Supper, 25 Chriſtes prayers and agonie in Gethſemani, 46 the takyng and examinyng of Chriſte before the hygh prieſt, 67 Peter denieth Chriſte, 72 and weepeth.

¶ 1 A Fter two dayes was [the feaſte] of the Paſſouer, & of vnleuened bread. *And the hye prieſtes and the ſcribes, ſought howe they myght take him by craft, and put hym to death.

Mat.xxvi.a Luk.xxii.a.

2 But they ſayde: not in the feaſt day, leſt any buſines ariſe among the people.

3 *And when he was at Bethanie, in the houſe of Simon the leper, euen as he ſate at meate, there came a woman hauyng an alabaſter boxe of very precious oyntment, [called] Narde piſtike, and ſhe brake the boxe, and powred it on his head.

Mat.xxvi.a Joh.xii.f.

4 And there were ſome, that had indignation within them ſelues, and ſayde: What neded this waſte of oyntment?

5 For it myght haue ben ſolde for more then three hundred pence, and haue ben geuen to the poore. And they grudged agaynſt her.

6 And Jeſus ſayde: let her alone, Why trouble ye her? She hath done a good worke on me.

Deut.xv.c. 7 *For ye haue poore with you alwayes, and whenſoeuer ye wyll, ye may do the good: but me haue ye not alwayes.

8 She hath done that ſhe coulde: ſhe came aforehande, to annoynt my body to the burying.

9 Verily I ſay vnto you, Wherſoeuer this Goſpel ſhalbe preached, throughout the whole worlde, this alſo that ſhe hath done, ſhalbe rehearſed, in remembraunce of her.

B 10 *And Judas Iſcariot, one of the twelue, went away vnto ỹ hye prieſtes, to betray hym vnto them.

Mat.xxvi.b Luk.xxii.a. Joan.xiii.a.

11 When they hearde that, they were glad, and promiſed that they woulde geue hym money. And he ſought howe he myght conueniently betray hym.

Mat.xxvi.b Luk.xxii.a. 12 *And the firſt day of vnleuened bread, when they dyd ſacrifice the Paſſouer, his diſciples ſayde vnto hym: Where wylt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayeſt eate the Paſſouer?

13 And he ſendeth forth two of his diſciples, and ſayth vnto them: Go ye into the citie, & there ſhall meete you a man bearing a pitcher of water, folowe him.

14 And whyther ſoeuer he goeth in, ſay ye to the good man of the houſe, the maiſter ſayth: Where is the gheſt chaumber, where I ſhall eate the Paſſouer with my diſciples?

15 And he wyll ſhewe you a large vpper chaumber, paued and prepared: there make redy for vs.

16 And his diſciples went forth, & came into the citie, & founde as he had ſayd vnto them: & they made redy the Paſſouer.

17 *And when it was nowe euen tyde, he came with the twelue. ¶ Mat.xxvi.b Luk.xxii.b.

18 And as they ſate at boord & dyd eate, Jeſus ſayde: Verily I ſay vnto you, *one of you, that eateth with me, ſhall betray me. Iohn. xiii.c.

19 And they began to be ſory, and to ſay to hym one by one, is it I? And another ſayde, is it I?

20 He aunſwered and ſayde vnto them: It is one of the twelue, euen he that dyppeth with me in the platter.

21 The ſonne of man truely goeth as it is written of hym: but Wo to that man by whom the ſonne of man is betrayed. Good were it for that man, yf he had neuer ben borne.

22 *And as they dyd eate, Jeſus toke breade: and whē he had bleſſed, he brake [it] and gaue to them, and ſayde: Take, eate, this is my body. Mat.xxvi.c. Luk.xiii.b. 1.Cor.xi.e.

23 And he toke the cup, and when he had geuen thankes, he toke it to them: and they all dranke of it.

24 And he ſayde vnto them: This is my blood, of the newe Teſtament, which is ſhed for many.

25 Verily I ſay vnto you, I wyll drinke no more of the fruite of the vine, vntyll that day, that I drinke it newe in the kyngdome of God.

26 *And when they had prayſed [God,] they went out into ỹ mount of Olives. Mat. xxvi.c

And

27 And Jesus sayth vnto them: All ye shalbe offended because of me this nyght. For it is Written: *I wyll smyte the sheepehearde, and the sheepe shalbe scattered.
Zach.xii.c. Mat.xxvi.c Luk.xxii.d. Iohn.xvi.d.

28 But after that I am risen agayne, I wyll go into Galilee before you.

29 Peter sayde vnto hym: Although all men be offended, yet [wyll] not I.

30 And Jesus sayth vnto hym: Verely I say vnto thee, that this day, euen, in this night, before the cocke crowe twise, thou shalt deny me three tymes.

31 But he spake more vehemently: no, yf I shoulde dye with thee, I wyll not deny thee. Likewise also sayde they all.

D 32 *And they came into a place which was named Gethsemani, and he sayth to his disciples: Sit ye heare, whyle I shall pray.
Math.26.d.

33 And he taketh with hym, Peter, and James, and John, and began to waxe abasshed, and to be in an agonie.

34 And sayth vnto them: *My soule is heauie, euen vnto the death, tarry ye here and watche.
Math.26.d. Iohn.xii.d.

35 And he went forth a litle, and fell flat on the grounde, and prayed: that yf it were possible, the houre myght passe from hym.

36 And he sayde: *Abba father, all thynges are possible vnto thee, take away this cup from me. Neuertheless, not that I wyll: but that thou [wylt, be done.]
Math.26.d. Luk.xxii.d.

E 37 And he came & founde them slepyng, and sayth vnto Peter: Simon, slepest thou? Couldest not thou watche one houre?

38 Watche ye, and pray, lest ye enter into temptation: the spirite truely is redy, but the flesshe is weake.

39 *And agayne he went aside, & prayed, and spake the same wordes.
Math.26.d.

40 And he returned, and founde them a slepe agayne. For their eyes were heauie: neither wist they what to answere hym.

41 And he came the thirde tyme, & sayde vnto them: slepe henceforth, and take your ease, it is inough: The houre is come, beholde, the sonne of man is betrayed into the handes of sinners.

42 Ryse vp, let vs go: Lo, he that betrayeth me, is at hande.

43 *And immediatly whyle he yet spake, commeth Judas, which was one of the twelue, and with hym a great number of people, with swordes & staues, from the hye priestes, and scribes, and elders.
Mat.xxvi.e Luk.xxii.e.

44 And he that betrayed hym, had geuen them a general token, saying: who soeuer I do kysse, that same is he, take hym, and leade hym away warely.

45 And assoone as he was come, he goeth strayghtway to hym, and sayth vnto hym: Maister, Maister, and kissed hym.

46 And they layde their handes on hym, and toke hym.

47 And one of them that stoode by, F drewe out a sworde, & smote a seruaunt of the hye priest, and cut of his eare.

48 And Jesus aunswered, and saide vnto them: *Ye be come out as vnto a thiefe with swordes and with staues, for to take me.
Mat.xxvi.e Luk.xxii.f.

49 I was dayly with you in the temple, teachyng, and ye toke me not, [but these thynges come to passe,] that the Scriptures shoulde be fulfylled.

50 *And they all forsooke hym, & ranne away.
Mat.xxvi.e Luk.xxii.f. Ioh.xviii.b.

51 And there folowed hym, a certayne young man, clothed in lynnen vpon the bare: and the young men caught hym.

52 And he left his lynnen garment, and fled from them naked.

53 *And they ledde Jesus away to the hyest priest, and with hym came all the hye priestes, and the elders, and the scribes.
Mat.xxvi.f Luk.xxii.f. Ioh.xviii.b.

54 And Peter folowed hym a great way of, euen tyl he was come into the palace of the hye priest, and he sate with the seruauntes, and warmed hym selfe at the fyre.

55 *And the hye priestes, and all the counsell sought for witnesse agaynst Jesus, to put hym to death, and founde none.
Mat.xxvi.f Actes.vi.d.

56 For many bare false witnesse agaynst hym, but their witnesse agreed not together.

57 And there arose certayne, and brought false witnesse agaynst hym, saying.

58 We hearde hym say: *I wyll destroy this temple that is made with handes, and within three dayes I wyll buylde another, made without handes.
Mat.xxvi.f Iohn.ii.d.

59 But yet their witnesse agreed not together.

60 *And the hye priest stoode vp amongest them, and asked Jesus, saying: Answerest thou nothyng? Howe is it that these beare witnesse agaynst thee?
Mat.xxvi.f

But

61 But he helde his peace, & aunſwered nothyng. Agayne, *the hyeſt prieſt aſked hym, and ſayde vnto hym: Art thou Chriſte, the ſonne of the bleſſed?

Mat.xxvi.f Luk.xxii.f

62 And Jeſus ſayde, I am: *And ye ſhall ſee the ſonne of man ſittyng on the ryght hande of power, and commyng in the cloudes of heauen.

Mat.xxvi.f Luk.xxi.g. Joh.vi.g.

63 Then the hye prieſt rent his clothes, and ſayde: What neede we any further witneſſes?

64 Ye haue heard blaſphemie: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death.

65 And ſome began to ſpyt at hym, and to couer his face, and to beate hym with fiſtes, and to ſay vnto hym, prophecie. And the ſeruauntes dyd beate hym with roddes.

66 And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there came one of the wenches of the hyeſt prieſt:

Mat.xxvi.g Luk.xxii.f Joh.xviii.e

67 And *when ſhe ſawe Peter warmyng hym ſelfe, ſhe loketh on hym, and ſayth: And thou alſo waſt with Jeſus of Nazareth.

68 And he denyed, ſaying: I knowe hym not, neither wote I what thou ſayeſt. And he went out into the porche, and the cocke crewe.

69 And a damſell, when ſhe ſawe hym agayne, began to ſay to thē that ſtoode by, this is one of them.

70 And he denyed it agayne. And anone after, they that ſtoode by, ſayde agayne to Peter: Surely, thou art one of thē, for thou art of Galilee, and thy ſpeache agreeth therto.

71 But he began to curſe, and to ſweare, [ſaying]: I knowe not this man of whom ye ſpeake.

72 And the ſeconde tyme *the cocke crewe, & Peter remembred the worde that Jeſus ſayde vnto hym, before the cocke crowe twiſe, thou ſhalt deny me three tymes: And he began to weepe. Mat.xxvi.g Luk. xxii.g

¶ The. xv. Chapter.

¶ 1 Jeſus is delyuered bounde to Pilate, 2 and aunſwereth hym nothyng, 15 Barabbas is looſed, and Jeſus is deliuered vp to be crucified, 16 the maner of Chriſtes paſſion & death, 39 the Centurions confeſſion of Chriſte, 43 Joſeph beggeth Chriſtes body, and buryeth it, 47 women that behelde his paſſion and ſepulchre.

Mat.27.a. Luk.xxiii.a Joh.xviii.e

AND anone in the dawnyng, * the hye prieſtes held a councel, with the elders, and the ſcribes, and the whole congregation, and bound Jeſus, and ledde hym away, and deliuered hym to Pilate.

2 And Pilate aſked hym: Art thou the kyng of the Jewes? And he aunſwered and ſayde vnto hym: thou ſayeſt it.

3 And the hye prieſtes accuſed hym of many thynges.

4 So Pilate aſked hym agayne, ſaying: *Aunſwereſt thou nothyng? Beholde, howe many thynges they witneſſe agaynſt thee.

Mat.27.b. Luk.xxiii.b

5 Jeſus yet aunſwered nothyng, ſo that Pilate marueyled.

6 At that feaſt, Pilate dyd delyuer vnto them a priſoner, whomſoeuer they woulde deſire.

7 And there was one, that was named Barabbas, which lay bounde, with them that made inſurrection: which [men] had committed murther alſo in the inſurrection.

8 And the people crying aloude, began to deſire [hym] that he woulde do, according as he had euer done vnto them.

9 Pilate aunſwered them, ſaying: Wyll ye that I let looſe vnto you the kyng of the Jewes?

10 For he knewe, that the hye prieſtes had delyuered hym of enuie.

11 But the hye prieſtes moued the people, that he ſhoulde rather delyuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 Pilate aunſwered agayne, and ſayde vnto them: *what wyll ye then that I do vnto hym, whom ye call the kyng of the Jewes? Math.27.b. Luk.xxiii.e

13 And they cryed agayne, crucifie hym.

14 Pilate ſayde vnto them: what euyll hath he done? And they cryed the more feruently, crucifie hym.

15 And ſo Pilate, wyllyng to content the people, *let looſe Barabbas vnto them, and deliuered vp Jeſus, when he had ſcourged hym, for to be crucified. Math.27.c,

16 And the ſouldiers led hym away, into the hall, called Prætorium, and called together the whole bande [of ſouldiers:]

And

17 And they clothed hym with purple, and they platted a crowne of thornes, and crowned hym withall, 18 And began to salute hym: Hayle kyng of the Jewes.
19 And they smote hym on the head with a reede, & did spit vpon him, and bowed their knees, and worshipped hym.
20 And when they had mocked hym, they toke the purple of hym, and put his owne clothes on hym, and led hym out to crucifie hym.
Math.27.d. Luk.xxiii.d 21 *And they compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (comming out of the fielde, the father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse.
Mat.27.d. ℂ 22 *And they brought hym to a place named Golgotha, which is, if a man interprete it, the place of [dead mens] sculles.
23 And they gaue hym to drynke, wyne myngled with myrre: but he receaued it not.
24 And when they had crucified hym, Math. 27.d. Psal.xxii.d. *they parted his garmentes, castyng lottes vpon them, what euery man shoulde take.
25 And it was the thyrde houre, and they crucified hym.
26 And the title of his cause was Written: THE KYNG OF THE IEVVES.
Math. 27.d. Luk.xxiii.d 27 *And they crucifed with hym two thieues: the one on the ryght hande, and the other on his left.
28 And the Scripture was fulfylled Esay.liii.d. Math. 27.d. which sayth: *He was counted among the wycked.
Math. 27.d. Luk.xxiii.b 29 *And they that went by, rayled on him, wagging their heades, and saying: A wretche, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three dayes, 30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.
31 Lykewyse also mocked hym the hye priestes among them selues, with the scribes, and sayde: He saued other men, hym selfe he can not saue.
32 Let Christe the kyng of Israel descende nowe from the crosse, that we may see, and beleue. And they that were crucified with hym, checked hym also.
Mat 27.e. Luk.xxiii.f 33 *And when the sixth houre was come, darknesse arose ouer all the earth, vntil the nynth houre.
34 And at the nynth houre, Jesus cryed with a loude voyce, saying: Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani: Which is, yf one interprete it, *My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Math.27.f. Psal.xxii.a.
35 And some of them that stoode by, whē they heard that, sayde: Beholde, he calleth for Elias.
36 *And one ran, and fylled a spunge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, & gaue hym to drynke, saying: let hym alone, let vs see whether Elias wyll come and take hym downe. Math.27.e.
37 But Jesus cryed with a loude voyce, and gaue vp the ghost.
38 *And the vayle of the temple dyd rent in two peeces, from the toppe to the bottome. Math.27.f. Luk.xxiii.g
39 *And when the Centurion, which stoode before hym, sawe, that he so cryed, and gaue vp the ghost, he sayde: Truely this man was the sonne of God. Math.27.f. Luk.xxiii.g
40 *There were also women a good way of, beholdyng hym: among whom was *Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of James the litle, and of Joses, and Salome. Math.27.f. Luk.xxiii.g Math.27.g.
41 *Which also when he was in Galilee, had folowed hym, and ministred vnto hym: and many other women, which came vp with hym vnto Hierusalem. Luk.viii.a.
42 And nowe when the euen was come, (because it was the day of preparyng, that goeth before the Sabboth)
43 *Joseph [of the citie] of Aramathia, a noble councellour, which also loked for the kyngdome of God, came, and went in boldely vnto Pilate, and begged of hym the body of Jesu. Math.27.g. Luk.xxiii.g Ioh.xix.g.
44 And Pilate marueyled that he was alredy dead: and called vnto hym the Centurion, and asked of hym, whether he had ben any whyle dead.
45 And when he knewe the trueth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Joseph.
46 And he bought a lynnen cloth, & toke hym downe, and wrapped hym in the lynnen cloth, & layde him in a sepulchre, that was hewē out of the rocke, & roulled a stone vnto the doore of ỹ sepulchre.
47 And Marie Magdalene, and Marie Joses, beheld where he was layde. ℂ

¶ The. xvj. Chapter.

¶ 1 The women come to the sepulchre, 5 an Angel telleth them that Christe is ryssen. 9 Christe appeareth to Marie Magdalene, 12 to two goyng into the countrey, 14 then to the eleuen, 15 whom he commaundeth to preache the Gospell. 19 Christe is receaued into heauen. 20 The signes that folowe the preachyng of the Gospell.

1 AND whē the Sabboth day was past, Marie Magdalen and Marie [the mother] of James, & Salome, bought sweete smellynge oyntmentes, that they myght come and annoynt hym.

Matth.28.a. Luc. xxiii. 2 Joh xx a. (a) That is, Sonday, the first day of the weeke.

2 *And early in the mornyng, the (a) first day of the Sabbothes, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the sunne was ryssen:

3 And they sayde among them selues, who shall roule vs away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

4 And when they loked, they sawe how that the stone was rouled awaye, for it was a very great one.

5 And they went into the sepulchre, and sawe a young man syttyng on the ryght syde, clothed in a long whyte garment, and they were amased.

Matth 28.b. 6 Luc.xxiiii.a 6 *And he sayth vnto them, be not amased: ye seke Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen, he is not here, beholde the place where they had put hym.

B 7 But go your way, & tell his disciples, and Peter, that he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see hym, as he sayde vnto you. ☜

Matth.28.a. Luk.xxiii a 8 *And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre, for they trembled & were amased: neither sayde they any thing to any man, for they were afraide.

C 9 ☞ When [Jesus] was ryssen early, the first [day] after the Sabboth, he appeared firste to Marie Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seuen deuils.

10 And she went & tolde them that were with hym, as they mourned & wept.

11 And they, when they hearde that he was alyue, and had ben seene of her, beleued it not.

12 *After that, appeared he vnto two of them in another fourme, as they walked and went into the countrey. Luk.xxiii.b

13 And they went and tolde it vnto the residue: and [they] beleued not these also.

14 ☞ Afterwarde, he appeared vnto the eleuen, as they sate at meate, and cast in their teeth their vnbeliefe and hardnes of heart, because they beleued not them whiche had seene that he was ryssen agayne from the dead.

15 And he sayde vnto them: *Go ye into all the worlde, and preache the Gospell to all creatures. Math. 28. d.

16 He that beleueth, and is baptized, shalbe saued: But he that beleueth not, shalbe dampned. D

17 And these tokens shall folowe them that beleue. *In my name they shal cast out deuils, they *shall speake with newe tongues, Actes.viii.b xvi.b. xx.c. Actes.ii.a. and.xix.b.

18 They shall driue away serpentes: and yf they drinke any deadly thyng, it shall not hurte them: They shall lay their handes on the sicke, & they shal recouer. Luk.x.c. and.xxiii.b.

19 So then, when the Lorde had spoken vnto them, *he was receaued into heauen, and sate hym downe on the ryght hande of God. Lu.xxiiii.g. Actes.i.b.

20 And they went forth, and preached euerywhere, the Lorde worckyng with them, *and confirmyng the worde with signes folowyng. Heb.ii.a.

Here endeth the Gospell by Saint Marke.

¶ The Gospell by Saint Luke.

The first Chapter.

¶ 1 The preface of Luke. 5 Of Zacharias and Elizabeth. 11 The Angel sheweth the nativitie of John Baptist. 20 The incredulitie of Zacharie is punysshed. 28 The Angel saluteth Marie, and sheweth the nativitie of Chryste. 40 Marie visiteth Elizabeth. 46 The songue of Marie. 57 The birth, circumcision, and graces of John Baptist. 68 The prophesie of Zacharie. 80 The office of John.

A 1 FOrasmuche as manye haue taken in hande, to set foorth in order, ỹ declaration of those thynges whiche are moste surelye to be beleued among vs,

2 Euen as they deliuered them vnto vs, which from the begynnyng sawe them them selues with their eyes, and were ministers of the (a) worde:

(a) That is, they were doers in suche thynges as be set foorth in the Gospel.

3 I determined also, assoone as I had searched out diligently all thynges from the begynnyng, that then I woulde write vnto thee, moste excellent Theophilus.

4 That thou myghtest knowe the certentie of those thynges wherof thou hast ben informed.

5 There was in the dayes of Herode the kyng of Jurie, a certaine priest, named Zacharias, *of the course of Abia, & his wyfe was of the daughters of Aaron, & her name was Elizabeth.

1. Par. 24. a.

6 They were both ryghteous before God, and walked in all the lawes and ordinaunces of the Lorde, that no man coulde fynde fault with them.

7 And they had no chylde, because that Elizabeth was barren: and they both were nowe well stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, that when Zacharie executed the priestes office before God, as his course came,

9 Accordyng to ỹ custome of the priestes office, his lot was to burne incence, whē he went into the temple of the Lorde. Exo. xxx. b Hebr. ix. b.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, whyle the incence was burnyng.

11 And there appeared vnto hym an Angel of the Lorde, standyng on the ryght syde of the aulter of incence.

12 And when Zacharias sawe him, he was troubled, and feare came vpō him.

13 But the Angel sayde vnto him: Feare not Zacharie, for thy prayer is hearde: and thy wyfe Elizabeth shall beare thee a sonne, & thou shalt cal his name John. B

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnesse, and many shall reioyce at his birth.

15 For he shalbe great in the syght of the Lorde, and shall neither drynke wine nor strong drynke: and he shalbe fylled with the holy ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

And

16 And many of the chyldren of Israel, shall he turne to their Lorde God.
17 And he shall go before hym, with the spirite and power of *Elias, to turne the hearte of the fathers to the chyldren, and the disobedient to the wisedome of the iust men, to make redy a perfect people for the Lorde.
18 And Zacharias saide vnto the Angel: By what token shall I know this? For *I am olde, and my wyfe well stricken in yeres.
19 And the Angel answered, and sayde vnto hym: I am Gabriel that stande in the presence of God, and am sent to speake vnto thee, and to shewe thee these glad tydynges.
20 And beholde, thou shalt be dumbe, & not be able to speake, vntyll the day that these thynges be performed, because thou beleuedst not my wordes, whiche shalbe fulfylled in their season.
21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marueyled that he taried so long in the temple.
22 And when he came out, he coulde not speake vnto them. And they perceaued that he had seene a vision in the temple: For he beckened vnto them, and remayned speachlesse.
23 ☞And it came to passe, that assoone as the dayes of his office were out, he departed into his owne house.
24 And after those dayes, his wyfe Elizabeth conceaued, and hyd her selfe fiue monethes, saying:
25 Thus hath the Lorde dealt with me, in the dayes wherein he loked on me, to take frō me my rebuke (b) among men.
26 And in the sixth moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God, vnto a citie of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin, spoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.
28 And the Angel went in vnto her, and sayde: Hayle [thou that art] freelie beloued, the Lorde is with thee, blessed art thou among women.
29 And when she sawe hym, she was troubled at his saying, and caste in her mynde what maner of salutation that shoulde be.
30 And the Angel saide vnto her: Feare not Marie, for thou hast founde grace with God.
31 For beholde, *thou shalt conceaue in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, & shalt call his name Jesus. Math.i.c. Luk.ii.c.
32 He shalbe great, & shalbe called ỹ sonne of the hyest: & the Lord God shall geue vnto him the seate of his father Dauid:
33 And *he shall reigne ouer the house of Jacob for euer, and of his kyngdome there shalbe none ende. Esai.ix.b.
34 Then said Marie vnto ỹ Angel: How shall this be, seing I knowe not a man? Dani.vii.b. Mich.iii.b.
35 And the Angel answered, & saide vnto her: The holy ghost shall come vpon thee, & the power of the hyest shall ouershadowe (c) thee. Therefore also that holy thyng whiche shalbe borne, shalbe called the sonne of God. (c) shall work secret elye in thee aboue all reason.
36 And beholde, thy cosin Elizabeth, she hath also conceaued a sonne in her olde age: & this is her sixth moneth, whiche was called barren.
37 For with *God, shall nothyng be vnpossible. Zach.viii.b. Math.xix.c Mark.x b.
38 And Marie saide: Beholde the handmayden of the Lorde, be it vnto me according vnto thy worde. ☞ And the Angel departed from her. Luk.xviii.c
39 ☞And Marie arose in those dayes, & went into the hyll countrey with haste, into a citie of Juda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharie, and saluted Elizabeth.
41 And it came to passe, that when Elizabeth hearde the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang in her wombe, and Elizabeth was fylled with the holy ghost. E
42 And she cryed with a loude voyce, and saide: Blessed art thou among women, because ỹ fruite of thy wombe is blessed.
43 And whence commeth this to me, that ỹ mother of my lord should come to me?
44 For loe, assoone as the voyce of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my wombe for ioy.
45 And blessed is she that beleued: For those thinges shalbe performed, which were tolde her from the Lorde.
46 And Marie saide: My soule magnifieth the Lorde. Esai.lxi.d.
47 And my spirite reioyceth in God my sauiour.
48 For he hath loked on the lowe degree of his handmayden: For loe, now from henceforth shal all generations call me blessed.
49 Because, he that is mightie, hath done to me great thinges, & holy is his name, 50 And his mercy is on them that feare him, from generation to generation.

51 He hath shewed strēgth with his arme, he hath scattered them that are proude, in the imagination of their heartes.
i.Reg.ii.b. Eccle.x.c. 52 *He hath put downe the myghtie frō their seates, and exalted them of lowe degree.
53 He hath fylled the hungry with good thynges, & sent away the riche emptie.
54 He hath helped his seruaunt Israel, in remembraunce of his mercy, Gen.xxii.c. 55 (*Euen as he promised to our fathers, Abraham, and to his seede) for euer.
56 And Marie abode with her about three monethes, and returned agayne to her owne house.
57 ☞ Elizabethes tyme came, that she shoulde be delivered, and she brought foorth a sonne.
58 And her neyghbours, and her cosins hearde howe the Lorde hadde shewed great mercy vpō her, and they reioyced with her.
F 59 And it came to passe, that on the eyght day they came *to circumcise the chylde, and called his name Zacharias, after the name of his father.
Gen.xvii.b. and.xxi.a. Leuit.xii.a.
60 And his mother answered, and said: not so, but he shalbe called John.
61 And they sayde vnto her: There is none in thy kinrede that is named with this name.
62 And they made signes to his father, howe he woulde haue hym called.
63 And he asked for wrytyng tables, and wrote, saying, his name is John. And they marueyled all.
64 And his mouth was opened immediatly, and his tounge [loosed] & he spake, and praysed God.
65 And feare came on all them that dwelt nye vnto them: And all these sayinges were noysed abrode throughout all the hyll countrey of Jurie.
66 And all they that heard them, layde them vp in their heartes, saying: What maner of chylde shall this be? And the hande of the Lorde was with hym.
67 And his father Zacharias was filled with ỹ holy ghost, & prophesied, saying.
68 Praysed be ỹ Lord God of Israel, for he hath visited & redeemed his people.
69 And hath raysed *vp an (b) horne of saluation vnto vs, in the house of his seruaunt Dauid. Psal.17.c (b) That is, his kingdome and power. 1.Sam.2.b. and Dan.7.d.
70 Euen as he promised by the mouth of his holy prophetes, whiche were sence the worlde began.
71 That he would saue vs from our enemies, and from the hande of all that hate vs. G
72 That he would deale mercyfully with our fathers, and remember his holy couenaunt.
73 *And that he woulde performe the oth, which he sware to our father Abraham, for to geue vs. Gen.xxiii.c
74 *That we, beyng deliuered out of the handes of our enemies, might serue him without feare, Esaias.38.c
75 All the dayes of our life, in [such] holynesse and righteousnes [as are accepted] before hym.
76 And thou childe shalt be called the prophete of the hyghest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lorde, to prepare his wayes.
77 To geue knowledge of saluation vnto his people, by the remission of their sinnes.
78 Through ỹ tender mercy of our God, wherby the day spryng from an hygh hath visited vs.
79 *To geue lyght to them that sitte in darknesse, and in the shadowe of death, to guide our feete into the way of peace. Esai.ix.c Math.iiii.c
80 And the chylde grewe, and waxed strong in spirite, and was in wildernesse till the day came when he should shewe hym selfe vnto the Israelites.

¶ The seconde Chapter.

¶ 1 The taksyng of the worlde by Augustus Cesar. 7 Christe is borne. 10 he is shewed vnto the sheepheardes. 14 The songue of the Angels. 21 The circumcision of Christ. 28 Simeon and Anna prophesie of hym. 40 Christe increaseth in wysdome, 46 disputeth with the doctours, 51 and was obedient to his parentes.

A 1 AND it came to passe in those dayes, ỹ there went out a commaundement frō Augustus Cesar, that all the (a) world should be taxed.
(a) So much as was subiect to the Romains.
2 (And this first taxing was made, when Syrenius was liefetenaunt in Syria.)
3 And euery man went vnto his owne citie, to be taxed.
4 And Joseph also went vp from Galilee, out of the citie Nazareth, into Jurie, Jurie, vnto *the citie of Dauid, Whiche is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and linage of Dauid,

5 To be taxed With Marie his spoused wyfe, Which was With chylde.

6 And so it was, that Whyle they were there, the dayes were accomplyshed, that she shoulde be deliuered.

7 And she brought foorth her first begotten (b) sonne, and wrapped him in swadlyng clothes, & layde hym in a manger, because there was no rowme for them in the Inne.

8 There were in ỳ same countrey sheepheardes, abydyng in the fielde, & watchyng their flocke by nyght.

9 And loe, the Angel of the Lorde stoode harde by them, and the glorie of the Lorde shone rounde about them, & they were sore afrayde.

10 And the Angel sayde vnto them, be not afrayde: For beholde, I bryng you tydynges of great ioy, that shall come to all people.

11 For vnto you is borne this daye, in the citie of Dauid, a sauiour, Which is Christ the Lorde.

12 And take this for a signe: Ye shal finde the chylde Wrapped in swadling clothes, and layde in a manger.

13 And straightway, there was With the Angel, a multitude of heauenly souldiers, praysyng God, and sayng.

14 Glorie to God on hye, and peace on the earth, and vnto men a good Wyll. ☜

15 And it came to passe, assoone as the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, ☞ the sheepheardes said one to another: Let vs go nowe euen vnto Bethlehem, and see this thyng that is come to passe, Whiche the Lorde hath shewed vnto vs.

16 And they came With haste, and founde Marie and Joseph, and the babe layde in a manger.

17 And When they had seene it, they published abrode the saying Whiche was tolde them, of that chylde.

18 And all they that harde it, wondred at those thinges Which were tolde them of the sheepheardes.

19 But Marie kept al those sayinges, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the sheepheardes returned, praysyng & laudyng God, for all the thinges that they had harde and seene, euen as it Was tolde vnto them. ☜

21 ☞ And When the eygth day Was come, that the chylde shoulde be *circumcised, *his name Was called Jesus, *Whiche Was so named of the Angel, before he Was conceaued in the Wombe. ☜ D
Gen.xvii.b. Math.i.c. Luk.i.c.

22 ☞ And When the dayes of her purification, after the lawe of Moyses, were accomplished, they *brought hym to Hierusalem, to present him to the Lord.
Leuit. xii.d. i.Reg.i.d.

23 (As it is Written in the lawe of ỳ Lord: *Euery man chylde that firste openeth the Wombe, shalbe called holy to ỳ lord)
Exod xiii.a Num.viii.g.

24 And to offer, as it is sayde in the lawe of the Lorde, a payre of turtle doues, or two young pigions.

25 And beholde, there Was a man in Hierusalem, Whose name Was Simeon: and the same man Was iust and godlye, and loked for the consolation of Israel, and the holy ghost Was vpon hym.

26 And a reuelation Was geuen hym of the holy ghost, not to see death, before he had seene the Lordes Christe. E

27 And he came by inspiration into the temple: And When the father & mother brought in the chylde Jesus, to do for hym after the custome of the *lawe, Leui. xxii.d

28 Then toke he hym vp in his armes, & praysed God, and sayde:

29 Lord nowe lettest thou thy seruãt depart in peace, according to thy promise.

30 For mine eyes haue seene thy saluatiõ,

31 Whiche thou hast prepared before the face of all people:

32 *A light to be reuealed to the gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel. ☜
Esai. xlix.b Act.xiii.g.

33 ☞ And Joseph and his mother maruepled at those thinges Which were spoken of hym.

34 And Simeon blessed (c) them, & saide vnto Marie his mother: beholde, this chylde is set to be the fall & (d) vprysyng agayne of many in Israel, & for a signe Which is spoken agaynst.

35 And moreouer, the swoorde (e) shall pearce thy soule, that the thoughtes of many heartes (f) may be opened.

36 And ther Was a prophetisse, one Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, Which Was of a great age, and had lyued With an husbande (g) seuen yeres from her virginitie.

37 And she had ben a wydowe about fourescore and foure yeres, Whiche departed not from the temple, but serued God With fastynges and prayers nyght and day.

(c) That is, prayed to god for them, & for the prosperitie of Christes kyngdome.

(d) Christ is ỳ head corner stone, vpõ the which ỳ electe are buylded: but ỳ wicked, vpon the same stone stumble, fall, and bruse in peeces Esay 28. Rom. 9 F

(g) That is, she was seuen yeres maried.

38 And she, commyng at the same instant vpon them, confessed lykewise the Lorde, and spake of hym, to all them that loked for redemptiõ in Hierusalem.

39 And when they had performed all thynges, accordyng to the lawe of the Lorde, they returned into Galilee, to their owne citie Nazareth.

i.Reg. ii.c. 40 And *the chylde grewe, and waxed strong in spirite, and was fylled with wisdome: & the grace of God was vpon hym.

Exod. xii.e. Leui.xxiii.a 41 Nowe, his parentes went to Hierusalẽ euery yere, *at the feast of ỹ Passouer.

42 And when he was twelue yere old, they ascended vp to Hierusalem, after the custome of the feast day:

43 And whẽ they had fulfilled the dayes, as they returned home, the chylde Jesus abode styll in Hierusalem: & Joseph and his mother knewe not of it.

44 But they, supposyng hym to haue ben in the company, came a dayes iourney, and sought hym among their kynsfolke and acquayntaunce.

45 And when they founde hym not, they turned backe againe to Hierusalem, and sought hym.

46 And it came to passe, that after three dayes, they founde hym in the temple, sittyng in the myddes of the doctours, hearyng them, and posyng them.

47 *And all that harde hym, were astonied at his vnderstanding & aunswares. Math.vii.d. Mark.i.c. Luk.iiii.e.

48 And when they sawe hym, they were amased. And his mother said vnto him: Sonne, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? Beholde, thy father and I haue sought thee, sorowyng.

49 And he sayde vnto them: Howe is it that ye sought me? wyste ye not, that I must go about my fathers busines?

50 And *they vnderstoode not that saying which he spake vnto them. Luk.ix.c. and.xviii.f.

52 And he went downe with them, and came to Nazareth, & was obedient vnto them: But his mother kepte all these sayinges in her heart.

53 And Jesus increased in wisedome and stature, and in fauour with God & men.

¶ The thirde Chapter.

¶ 3 The preachyng and baptisme of John, 7 he sharplye rebuketh the hypocrites, 15 he is thought to be Christe, 16 Johns testimonie of Christe, 20 his imprisonment, 21 Christe is baptized, 23 the age and genealogie of Christe.

A 1 Nowe, in the fifteenth yere of ỹ raigne of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being lieftenaũt of Jurie, and *Herode being tetrarch of Galilee, & his brother Philip tetrarch of Jturea, and of the region of ỹ Trachonites, and Lysanias the tetrarch of Abilene, Luk.xxiii.a

2 Whẽ Annas and Caiaphas were the hye (a) priestes, the worde of the Lorde came vnto John, the sonne of Zacharias, in the wyldernesse. (a) By ỹ law there shoulde haue ben but one hye priest only: but corruption of the tyme, by reasõ of Romaynes had rule, & the bribery of Caiaphas, brought to passe, that the office was deuided. Exay.xl.a.

3 And he came into all the coastes about Jordane, preachyng *the baptisme of repentaunce, for the remission of sinnes:

4 As it is writtẽ in ỹ booke of the wordes of Esaias the prophete, saying: *The voyce of a cryer in wyldernesse, prepare ye the way of ỹ Lorde, make his pathes straycht.

B 5 Euery valley shalbe fylled, and euery mountayne & hyll shalbe brought lowe: And thynges that be croked, shalbe made (b) straycht, and the rough wayes shalbe made playne. (b) All impedimentes shal be takẽ away that may hyde vs from our saluation in Christe, so ỹ Christes way to vs, and our way to hym, shalbe playne and manifest.

6 And all flesshe, shall see the saluation of God.

7 Then sayde he to the people that were come forth to be baptized of hym: *O generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come? Math.iii.b.

8 Bryng forth therefore due fruites of repentaunce, and begyn not to say within your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: For I saye vnto you, that God is able of these stones, to rayse vp childrẽ vnto Abraham.

9 Nowe also is the (c) axe layed vnto the roote of the trees: *Euery tree therfore which bryngeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire. (c) The vengeance of God is at hande. Math. iii.b.

10 And the people asked hym, saying: C *what shall we do then? Actes ii.f.

11 He answereth, and sayth vnto them: He that hath two (d) coates, let him part with hym that hath none: and he that hath meate, let hym do lykewyse. (d) He teacheth the ryche should be liberall and helpe the poore, as their abilitie wyll serue, & neyghbourly (e) whose office was to receaue the tribute money, and rulers.

12 Then came publicanes (e) also to be baptized, and saide vnto hym: Master, what what shall we do?

13 And he sayde vnto them: Require no more then that which is appoynted vnto you.

14 The souldiours lykewyse demaunded of hym, saying: And what shall we do? And he saide vnto them: Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your wages.

15 As the people wayted, & all men mused in their heartes of John, whether he were very Christe:

16 John answered, and said vnto them all, *In deede I baptize you with water: but one stronger then I commeth, whose shoes latched I am not worthy to vnlose, he shall baptize you with the holy ghost, and with fire.

17 *Which hath his fanne in his hande, & wyll purge his flooze, & wyll gather the wheate into his barne: but ꝯ chaffe wyl burne vp, with fire that neuer shalbe quenched.

18 And many other thinges, in his exhortation, preached he vnto the people.

19 *Then Herode the tetrarch, when he was rebuked of hym for Herodias, his brother Philippes wyfe, and for all the euyls which Herode dyd, 20 Added this aboue all, & shut vp John in prison.

21 Nowe it came to passe, as all the people were baptized, and *when Jesus was baptized, and dyd praye, that the heauen was opened,

22 And the holy ghost came downe, in a bodyly shape lyke a Doue, vpon hym: and a voyce came from heauen, which sayde, *Thou art my beloued sonne, in thee I am well pleased.

23 And Jesus him selfe began to be about thirtie yeres of age, *beyng (as he was supposed) the sonne of Joseph: which was [the sonne] of Heli,

24 which was the sonne of Matthat, which was the sonne of Leui, which was the sonne of Melchi, which was the sonne of Janna, which was the sonne of Joseph:

38 which was the sonne of Henos, which was ꝯ sonne of Seth, which was ꝯ sonne of Adam, which was the sonne of God.

¶ The. iiij. Chapter.

¶ 1 The temptation and fastyng of Christe. 13 He ouercommeth the deuyll. 16 He teacheth at Nazareth with great admiration of the people. 24 A prophete is despysed, teachyng in his owne countrey. 33 He healeth the man possessed with a deuill. 34 the deuill confesseth him to be Christe. 38 he healeth Peters wyues mother. 40 he healed many of diuers diseases. 41 the deuyls confesse Christe, and are of hym reproued. 43 and he preacheth through the cities.

A 1 Math. iiii.a. Mark.i.b. IEsus, being full of the holy ghost, returned from Iordane, *& was ledde by the spirite into wyldernesse,

2 And was fourtie dayes tempted of the deuyll, and in those dayes dyd he eate nothyng: And when they were ended, he afterwarde hungred.

3 And the deuyll sayde vnto hym: If thou be the sonne of God, commaunde this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Iesus answered hym, saying: It is written, that *man shall not lyue by bread only, but by euery word of god. Deut. viii.a. Math.iiii.a.

5 And the deuyll toke hym into an hye mountayne, & shewed hym all the kingdomes of ỹ worlde in a moment of time.

B 6 And the deuyl sayde vnto hym: all this power wyll I geue thee euerywhyt, & the glory of them, for that is deliuered vnto me, and to whomsoeuer I wyll, I geue (a) it.

(a) Satan betrayeth hymselfe, shewing his bold sacrilege, vsurping the empire of the earth.

7 If thou therfore wilt fall downe before me, & worship me, they shalbe all thine.

8 Iesus answered, & sayde vnto hym, Hence from me Satan: For it is writtē, *Thou shalt worship the Lorde thy God, and hym only shalt thou serue. Deut.vi.c. and.x.d. Math.iiii.b.

9 And he caryed hym to Hierusalem, & set hym on a pynacle of the temple, and sayde vnto him: If thou be the sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe from hence.

Psal. xxi.c. (b) How Satan is prince of the worlde. Iohn. xiii. 10 For it is written, that he shall geue his Angels charge ouer thee, to kepe thee.

11 And in their handes they shall beare thee vp, that thou dashe not thy foote at any tyme agaynst a stone.

12 And Iesus answered, and sayde vnto hym: It is sayde, *Thou shalt not tempt the Lorde thy God. Deut.vi.c. Math.iiii.g.

13 And assoone as all the temptatiō was ended, the deuyll departed from hym for a season.

C 14 ☞ And Iesus returned, by the power of the spirite, into Galilee: & there went a fame of hym, throughout all the regions rounde about.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, & was commended of all men.

16 *And he came to Nazareth, where he was nursed: and, as his custome was, he wēt into the synagogue on the Sabboth day, and stoode vp for to reade. Math.xiii.g Mark.vi.a.

17 And there was deliuered vnto hym the booke of the prophete Esaias: *And whē he had opened the booke, he founde the place where it was written, ii.Esd. viii.b

18 *The spirite of the Lord vpon me, because he hath annoynted me, to preache the Gospel to the poore he hath sent me, to heale the broken hearted, to preache deliueraunce to the captiue, & recouering of syght to the blynde, freely to set at libertie them that are bruised: Esay.lxi.a.

19 And to preache the acceptable yere of the Lorde.

D 20 And he closed the booke, and gaue it agayne to the minister, and sate downe: And the eyes of all them that were in ỹ synagogue, were fastened on hym.

21 And he began to say vnto thē: this day is this scripture fulfilled in your eares.

22 And all bare hym witnesse, *& wondred at ỹ gratious wordes whiche proceaded out of his mouth. ☜ And they sayde, is not this Iosephes sonne? Math.vii.g Mark.i.c Luk.iii.c

23 And he saide vnto them: Ye wyll vterly say vnto me this prouerbe, physition heale thy selfe: ☞ whatsoeuer we haue heard done in Capernaū, do ỹ same here lykewyse in thine owne countrey.

24 And he saide: Verily I say vnto you, *no prophete is accepted in his owne countrey. Math.xiii.g Mark.vi.a.

E 25 But I tell you of a trueth, *many wydowes were in Israel, in the dayes of Elias, when heauen was shutte three yeres & sixe monethes, when great famyshment was throughout all ỹ lande: 3.Reg.viii.b Iacob.v.d.

26 And vnto none of thē was Elias sent, saue vnto Sarepta, a citie of Sidon, vnto a woman that was a wydowe.

27 *And many lepers were in Israel, in the tyme of Elizeus the prophete: and none of them was clensed, sauyng Naaman the Syrian. 4.Reg.v.d.

And

28 And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these thynges, were fylled with wrath:
29 And rose vp, and thrust hym out of the citie, and led hym euen vnto the edge of the hyll (Wheron their citie was built,) ỹ they might cast hym downe headlong.
30 But he, passyng through the myddes
F of them, went his way: ☞
31 ☞ And came downe to Capernaum, a citie of Galilee, and there taught them on the Sabboth dayes.

trine: For his preachyng was with power.
33 *And in the synagogue, there was a man, which had an vncleane spirite of a deuyll, and cryed with a loude voyce, 34 Saying: Oh What haue We to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth: Art thou come to destroy vs: I knowe Who thou art, euen the holy one of God.
35 And Jesus rebuked hym, saying: Holde thy peace, and come out of hym. And When the deuyll had throwen him in the middes, he came out of hym, and hurt hym not.
36 And feare came on them all, and they spake among them selues, saying: What maner a thyng is this: For With auctoritie and power he commaundeth the foule spirites, and they come out.
37 And the fame of hym spread abrode, throughout euery place of the countrey rounde about. ☜ 38 ☞ *And When he was risen vp, and Mat.viii.b. Mark.i.c.
come out of the synagogue, he entred into Simons house: And Simons wiues mother was taken With a great feuer, & they made intercession to hym for her.
39 And he stoode ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and the feuer left her: And immediatly she arose, and ministred vnto them.
40 When the Sunne Was downe, all G they that had sicke, taken With diuers diseases, brought them vnto hym: And he layde his handes on euery one of them, and healed them.
41 *And deuyls also came out of many, Math.i.a. and.xiii.d.
crying & saying: Thou art that Christe, the sonne of God. And he rebuked thē, and suffred them not to speake: For they knewe that he Was Christe.
42 As soone as it Was day, he departed, and went into a desert place: And the people sought hym, and came to hym, and kept hym, that he shoulde not departe from them.
43 And he sayde vnto them, I must preache the kyngdome of God to other cities also: ☜ For therfore am I sent.
44 And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

¶ The .v. Chapterr.

¶ 1 Christe teacheth out of a shippe, 6 the great draught of fishe, 10 certayne disciples are called, 12 he cleanseth the leper, 16 he prayeth in the wildernesse, 18 he healeth the man of the paulsie, 27 calleth Matthewe the publican, 29 he eateth with sinners, 30 the pharisees murmure, 34 he excuseth his disciples, 35 shewyng their afflictions after his assention, 36 newe and olde agree not.

1 IT came to passe, that when ỹ people preassed vpon hym, to heare the
A worde of God, he stoode by the lake of Genezareth,
2 *And sawe two shippes stande by the lakes syde: But the fisshermen Were gone out of them, and Were washyng their nettes. Mark.iiii.a.
3 And he entred into one of the shippes, Which pertayned to Simon, and prayed hym that he Woulde thrust out, a litle from the lande: And he sate downe, and taught the people out of the shippe.
4 When he had left speakyng, he sayde vnto Simon: Launche out into the deepe, and let slip your nettes, to make a draught.
5 And Simon answered, and sayde vnto hym: Maister, We haue laboured all myght, and haue taken nothyng: Neuertheles, at thy commaundement I wyll loose foorth the nette.
6 And When they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fisshes: But their nette brake.
7 And they beckened vnto their felowes, which Were in the other shippe, that they shoulde come, and helpe them. And they came, and fylled both the shippes, B that they suncke agayne.
8 When Simon Peter sawe this, he fell downe at Jesus knees, saying: Lorde, go from me, for I am a sinfull man.
9 For he Was vtterly astonyed, and all that were With hym, at the draught of fisshes, Which they had taken.

And

10 And so was also James and John the sonnes of Zebedee, Whiche were parteners with Simon. And Jesus sayde vnto Simon: Feare not, from henceforth thou shalt (a) catch men.

(a) By the preachyng of the Gospel, as one then appointed to be an Apostle.

11 And when they had brought vp their boates to the shore, * (b) they forsoke all, and folowed hym. ☜

(b) That is, notyng that they possessed, was an impediment, wherby they might be let or hyndred from the preachyng of the Gospel.

℣ 12 And it came to passe, that whē he was in a certayne citie: Beholde, [there was] a man full of leprosie, and when he had spyed Jesus, he fell flat on his face, and besought hym, saying: Lorde, yf thou wylt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 And he stretched forth his hande, and touched hym, saying: I wyll, be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from hym. And he charged hym, that he shoulde tell no man:

Leui.xiiii.a 14 But go [sayth he] *and shewe thy selfe to the priest, and offer for thy clensyng, accordyng as Moyses commaunded, for a Witnesse vnto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abrode of hym, and much people came together to heare, and to be healed of hym, from their infirmities.

16 And he kept hym selfe a part in the wildernesse, and prayed.

☞ 17 ☜ And it came to passe, on a certayne day, as he was teachyng, that there were pharisees & doctours of the lawe, sittyng by, which were come out of all the townes of Galilee and Jurie, and Hierusalem: And the power of the Lorde was present, to heale them.

Math.ix.a. Mark.ii.a. 18 *And beholde, men brought in a bed, a man which was taken with a paulsie, and they sought meanes to bryng hym in, and to lay hym before hym.

19 And when they coulde not fynde on what syde they myght bryng hym in, because of the preasse, they went vpon the toppe of the house, and let hym downe through the tylyng, bed and all, euen in the myddes before Jesus.

℣ 20 Whē he sawe their faith, he saide vnto him: Man, thy sinnes are forgeuen thee.

21 And the scribes and the pharisees, began to thynke, saying: What felowe is this, which speaketh blasphemies: Mark.ii.c. *who can forgeue sinnes but God only: Esay.xlvi.d. and.xlviii.d.

22 But when Jesus perceaued their thoughtes, he answered, & sayde vnto them: What thynke ye in your heartes:

23 Whether is easier to say, thy sinnes be forgeuen thee: or to say, ryse vp & walke:

24 *But that ye may knowe that the sonne of man hath power to forgeue sinnes on earth (he sayde vnto the sicke of the paulsie) I say vnto thee, aryse, take vp thy bed, and go vnto thy house. Math.ix.a. Mark.ii.c. Act.iii.a.xv.f

25 And immediatly he rose vp before them, and toke vp his bed, wheron he lay, and departed to his owne house, praysyng God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they gaue the glory vnto God, and were fylled with feare, saying: Doutlesse we haue seene straunge thynges to day. ☜

27 *After these thynges, he went forth, & sawe a publicane named Leui, sittyng at the receipt of custome: and he sayde vnto hym, folowe me. ℣ Math.ix.a. Mark.ii.b.

28 And he left all, rose vp, & folowed him.

29 And Leui made hym a great feast in his owne house. And there was a great companie of publicanes, and of other that sate [at meate] with them.

30 *But they that were scribes and pharisees among them, murmured agaynst his disciples saying: Why do ye eate and drynke with publicanes and sinners: Math.ix.a. Mark.ii.b. Luk.vii.c. and.xv.a.

31 And Jesus answered, and saide vnto them, They that are whole, neede not the phisition: But they that are sicke.

(c) Those which accompt themselues, or seemde in the eyes of the worlde, to be righteous.

32 I came not to call the (c) ryghteous: but sinners to repentaunce.

33 And they sayde vnto hym: *Why do the disciples of John fast often, & pray, and the disciples of the pharisees also: but thyne eate and drynke: ℣

34 He sayde vnto them. *Can ye make the chyldren of the weddyng chaumber fast, whyle the brydegrome in with thē: Math.ix.b. Mark.ii.e.

35 But the dayes wyll come, when the brydegrome also shalbe taken away frō them: then shall they fast in those dayes.

36 He spake also vnto them a similitude. No man putteth a peece of a newe garment, into an olde vesture: For then the newe renteth [the olde,] and the peece that was [taken] out of the newe, agreeth not with the olde.

37 And no man powreth newe wyne into olde vessels: For yf he do, the newe wyne wyll burst the vessels, and runne out it selfe, and the vessels shall perishe.

38 But newe wine must be put into newe vessels, and both are preserued.

39 No man also that drinketh olde wyne, strayghtway can abaye with newe: For he sayth, the olde is better.

The.vj.Chapter.

¶ 1 The disciples pluckе eares of corne on the Sabboth. 6 he healeth the man with the withered hand, 13 the chosyng of his Apostles, 20 of blessynges and cursynges, 27 the loue of our enemies, 29 to forgeue one another, 37 rashe iudgemēt reprehended, 44 the tree is knowen by his fruite, 45 the hearte knowen by the workes, 47 with what fruite the worde of God is to be hearde.

Math.xii.a. Mark.ii.d.

2 And certayne of the pharisees sayde vnto them: Why do ye that, which is not lawfull to do on ỹ Sabboth dayes?

3 And Jesus answered them, & sayde: *Haue ye not read What Dauid dyd, when he hym selfe was an hungred, and they which were with hym:

4 Howe he went into the house of God, and dyd take and eate the shewe*bread, and gaue also to them that were with hym, which was not lawfull to eate, but for the*priestes only?

1.Reg.xxi.a. Exod.xxv.c

5 And he sayde vnto them: The sonne of man is Lord also of ỹ (a) Sabboth day.

(a) That is, hauing power to dispence with the keping of the Sabboth day

6 ☞*And it came to passe also in another Sabboth, that he entred into the synagogue, and taught: And there was a man, whose right hand was dried vp.

Math.xii.a. Mark.iii.a.

7 And the scribes & pharisees watched hym, whether he would heale on the Sabboth day: that they myght fynde howe to accuse hym.

8 But he knewe their thoughtes, and said to the man which had the withered hande: Ryse vp, and stande forth in the myddes. And he arose, and stoode forth.

9 Then sayde Jesus vnto them, I wyll aske you a question: whether is it lawfull on the Sabboth dayes to do good, or to do euyll: to saue ones lyfe, or to destroy it?

10 And he beheilde them all in compasse, & sayde vnto the man: Stretche forth thy hande. And he dyd so: * & his hande was restored agayne as whole as the other.

Luke xiii.b Math.xii.b. Mark.iii.a.

11 And they were fylled with madnesse, and communed together among themselues, What they myght do to Jesus.

17 ☞And he came downe with them, and stoode in the playne fielde, and the company of his disciples, *and a great multitude of people, out of all Jurie & Hierusalem, and frō the sea coast * of Tyre and Sidon, which came to heare hym, and to be healed of their diseases, Math. iiii.d. Mark.iii.a. Math.iiii.d. Iohn.vi.a.

18 And they that were vexed with foule spirites: and they were healed.

19 And all the people preassed to touche hym: for there went vertue out of hym, and healed them all.

20 And he lyft vp his eyes vpon his disciples, and sayde: *Blessed be ye poore, for yours is the kyngdome of God. Math.v.a.

21 Blessed are ye that hunger nowe, for ye shalbe satisfied. Blessed are ye that weepe nowe, for ye shall laugh.

22 Blessed shall ye be when men hate you, & seperate you [from their companie] and raile on you, & put out your names as an euyll thyng, for the sonne of mans sake.

23 Reioyce ye in that day, and be glad: For beholde, your rewarde is great in heauen: ☜ For thus dyd their fathers vnto the prophetes.

24 *But Wo vnto you that are riche: for ye haue your consolation. Amos.vi.a.

25 Wo vnto you that are full: for ye shall hunger. Wo vnto you that nowe laugh: for ye shall wayle and weepe.

26 Wo vnto you when all men prayse you: for so dyd their fathers to the false prophetes.

41 *And why seest thou a moate in thy brothers eye: but considerest not the beame that is in thyne owne eye? Math.vii.a.

42 Either, howe canst thou say to thy brother: Brother, let me pull out the moate that is in thyne eye, when thou seest not the beame that is in thyne owne eye? Thou hypocrite, caste out the beame out of thyne owne eye first, & then shalt thou see perfectly, to pul out the moate that is in thy brothers eye. ☜

43 *For it is not a good tree, that bryngeth forth euyll fruite: Neither is that an euyll tree, that bryngeth forth good fruite. Math.xii.c. ☜

44 For euery tree is knowen by his fruite: for of thornes do not mē gather fygges, nor of busshes, gather they grapes.

45 A good man, out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good: And an euyll man, out of the euyll treasure of his heart, bryngeth forth that which is euyll. *For of the aboundaunce of the heart, his mouth speaketh. Math.xii.c. Psal.xl.b.

46 Why call ye me *Lorde, Lorde, and do not as I byd you? Math.vii.f. and xxv.h.

47 Whosoeuer commeth to me, & heareth my sayinges, and doth the same, I wyll shewe you to whom he is lyke.

48 *He is lyke a man which built an house, and digged deepe, and layde the foundation on a rocke. And when the waters arose, the fludde beat vpon that house, and coulde not moue it: For it was grounded vpon a rocke. Math.vii.d. Iacob.d.

49 But he that heareth and doeth not, is lyke a man, that without foundation, built an house vpon the earth, against which the fludde dyd beate, and it fell immediatly: And the fall of that house was great.

¶ The. vij. Chapter.

¶ 2 He healed the captaynes seruaunt, 6 the fayth of the Centurion, 11 he rayseth vp the widdowes sonne, 16 he is confessed to be a great prophete, 19 John Baptist sent his disciples to Christe, 24 Christes testimonie of John, 31 he rebuketh the Jewes for their vnfaythfulnesse, 36 he eateth with the pharisee, 37 the woman washeth his feete with her teares.

1 When he had ended all his sayinges, in the audience of the people, *he entred into Capernaum. Mat.viii.a. Iohn.iii.f.

2 And a certayne Centurions seruaunt, which was deare vnto hym, lay sicke, and was in peryll of death.

3 And when he hearde of Jesus, he sent vnto hym the elders of the Jewes, beseechyng hym that he woulde come, and heale heale his seruaunt.

4 And when they came to Jesus, they besought hym instantly, saying he is worthy that thou shouldest do this for hym.
5 For he loueth our nation, and hath built vs a synagogue.
6 Then Jesus went with them. And when he was nowe not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friendes to hym, saying vnto hym: *Lorde, trouble
Math.viii.a. 7 not thy selfe, for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my roofe.
7 wherefore I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say thou the worde, & my seruaunt shalbe whole.
8 For I also am a man, set vnder power, and haue vnder me souldiers: and I say vnto one go, and he goeth: and to another, come, and he commeth: and to my seruaunt, do this, and he doth it.
9 When Jesus hearde these thynges, he marueyled at hym, and turned hym about, and sayde to the people that folowed hym: I say vnto you, I haue not founde so great fayth, no, not in Israel.
10 And they that were sent, turned backe home agayne, and founde the seruaunt whole, that had ben sicke.
¶ 11 ☞And it came to passe the [day] after, that he went into a citie, which is called Naim: and many of his disciples went with hym, and much people.
12 When he came nye to the gate of the citie, beholde, there was a dead man caryed out, [which was] the only sonne of his mother, and she was a widdowe: And much people of the citie was with her.
13 And when the Lorde sawe her, he had compassion on her, and sayde vnto her: weepe not.
14 And he came nye, & touched the beere, (and they that bare hym stoode styll) And he sayde: Young man, I say vnto thee, aryse.
15 And he that was dead, sate vp, and began to speake: *And he delyuered hym to his mother.
16 And there came a feare on them all, & they gaue the glory vnto God, saying: *A great prophete is risen vp among vs, and verely God hath visited his people.
17 ☞And this rumour of hym went foorth throughout all Jurie, & throughout all the regions which lye rounde about.
18 And the disciples of John, shewed hym of all these thynges.
19 *And John called vnto hym two of his disciples, and sent them to Jesus, saying: Art thou he that shoulde come, or shall we loke for another? Math.xi.a.
20 when the men were come vnto hym, they sayde, John Baptiste sent vs vnto thee, saying: Art thou he that shoulde come, or shall we loke for another?
21 And in that same houre, he cured many of their infirmities & plagues, and of euyll spirites, and vnto many that were blynde, he gaue sight.
22 Then Jesus answered, and sayde vnto them: Go your way, and bryng worde agayne to John, what thynges ye haue seene and hearde, howe that *the blynde see, the halt go, the lepers D are clensed, the deafe heare, the dead Esa.xxxv.a. and.xlii.a. ryse agayne, to the poore is the Gospell preached,
23 And happy is he, that is not offended at me.
24 *And when the messengers of John Math.xi.c. were departed, he began to speake vnto the people concernyng John: what went ye out into the wildernesse for to see? a reede shaken with the wynde?
25 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft rayment? Beholde, they which are gorgeously appareled, & lyue delicately, are in kynges courtes.
26 But what went ye foorth to see? A prophete? Yea, I say to you, and more then a prophete.
27 This is he, of whom it is written: Mark.xi.a. *Beholde, I sende my messenger before Mala.iii.a. thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.
28 For I say vnto you, among womens E chyldren, is there not a greater prophete then John Baptist. Neuertheles, he that is lesse in the kyngdome of God, is greater then he. ☜ 29 And all the people, and the publicanes that hearde hym, (a) iustified God, and (a) That is, prayse God, and acknowledged hym to be most sayth-full, good, and iuste. were baptized with the baptisme of John.
30 But the pharisees and lawyers despised the counsel of God, against them selues, and were not baptized of hym.
31 And the Lorde sayde: *wherevnto Math.xi.b. shall I lyken the men of this generation? and what [thyng] are they lyke?
32 They are lyke vnto chyldren, sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying: We haue pyped vnto you, and ye haue not daunsed: We haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

Matth.iii.a. 33 For John Baptist came, neither *eatyng bread nor drynkyng wyne, and ye say he hath the deuyll.

34 The sonne of man is come, and eateth and drynketh, and ye saye, beholde a gluttonous man, and an [vnmeasurable] drynker of wyne, a frende of publicanes and sinners.

(b) That is, the children of wisdome or the wyse, which beleue the Gospel, do acknowledge the wisdome of god therin, which the pharisees condemne, so that wisdome is then iustified of her children, when the gospell is receaued. 35 And Wisdome is iustified of (b) all her children.

36 ☞ And one of the pharisees desired hym, that he woulde eate with hym. And he went into the pharisees house, and sate downe to meate.

37 *And beholde, a Woman in that citie, which was a sinner, assoone as she knewe that Jesus sate at meate in the pharisees house, she brought an alabaster bore of ointment:

38 And stoode at his feete behynde hym, weepyng, and began to washe his feete with teares, & dyd wype them with the heeres of her head, and kyssed his feete, and anoynted them with the ointment.

39 When the pharisee which had bydden hym, sawe, he spake within hym selfe, saying: If this man were a prophete, he woulde surely knowe who, & what maner of woman this is, that touched hym, for she is a sinner.

40 And Jesus answered, and sayde vnto hym: Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he sayde: Master, say on.

41 There was a certayne lender, which had two detters: The one ought fyue hundred pence, and the other fyftie.

42 When they had nothyng to pay, he forgaue them both. Tell me therefore, which of them wyll loue hym most?

43 Simon answered and sayde: I suppose, that he to whom he forgaue most. And he sayde vnto hym: Thou haste truely iudged.

44 And he turned to the woman, & sayde vnto Simon: Seest thou this woman? I entred into thyne house, thou gauest me no water for my feete, but she hath washed my feete with teares, & wyped them with the heeres of her head. G

45 Thou gauest me no kysse: but she, sence the tyme I came in, hath not ceassed to kysse my feete.

46 Myne head with oyle thou dyddest not anoynt: but she hath anoynted my feete with ointment.

47 Wherfore I say vnto thee, many sinnes are forgeuen her: for she loued much. To whom lesse is forgeuen, the same doth lesse loue.

48 And he sayde vnto her: thy sinnes are forgeuen thee.

49 And they that sate at meate with hym, began to say within them selues, who is this that forgeueth sinnes also?

50 And he sayde to the woman: *Thy fayth hath saued thee, go in peace. Mark.v.a

¶ The .viij. Chapter.

¶ 2 Christe and his Apostles go from towne to towne, and preache, 3 the women minister of their goodes to Christe, 5 the parable of the seede, 16 of the candle, 21 who are his mother and brethren, 24 Christe ceasseth the tempest, 27 he casteth the legion out of the man possessed, into the heard of swyne, 37 the Gadarenites pray hym to go out of the countrey, 43 he healed the woman of her bloody issue, 49 he rayseth Jairus daughter from death.

AND it came to passe afterwarde, that he hym selfe wēt throughout euery citie & towne preachyng, & shewyng the kingdome of god, & the twelue with hym.

Lu.xxiii.d. 2 And also *certayne women, which were healed of euyll spirites, and infirmities, Marie which is called Magdalene, out of whom went seuen deuyls.

3 And Joanna the wyfe of Chusa Herodes stewarde, and Susanna, & many other which ministred vnto hym of their substaunce.

4 ☞ When much people were gathered together, & were come to hym out of all cities, he spake by a similitude.

5 *The sower wēt out to sowe his seede: and as he sowed, some fell by the way syde, and it was troden downe, and the foules of the ayre deuoured it vp. Math.xiii.b. Mark.iiii.a.

6 And some fell on stones, and assoone as it was sprong vp, it withered away, because it lacked moystnes.

And

7 And some fell among thornes, (*) and the thornes sprang vp with it, and choked it.

8 And some fell on good grounde, and sprang vp, and bare fruite, an hundred folde. And as he sayde these thynges, he cryed: He that hath eares to heare, let hym heare.

9 *And his disciples asked hym, saying what maner of similitude is this?

10 And he sayde, Vnto you it is geuen to knowe the secretes of the kyngdome of God: but to other by parables, that when they see, they shoulde not see, *and when they heare, they shoulde not vnderstande.

11 The parable is this. *The seede, is the worde of God.

12 Those that are beside the way, are they that heare: then commeth the deuyll, and taketh away the worde out of their heartes, lest they shoulde beleue, and be saued.

13 They on the stones, [are they] which when they heare, receaue the worde with ioy: & these haue no rootes, which for a whyle beleue, and in tyme of temptation go away.

14 And that which fell among thornes, are they, which whē they haue hearde, go foorth, and are choked with cares & ryches, and voluptuous lyuyng, & bring foorth no fruite.

15 But that [which fell] on ỹ good groūde, are they, Which with a pure and good hearte heare the worde, and kepe it, and bryng foorth fruite through patience.

16 *No man when he lyghteth a candel, couereth it with a vessell, or putteth it vnder a table, but setteth it on a candlesticke, that they which enter in, may see the lyght.

17 *For nothyng is secrete, that shall not come abrode: Neither any thyng hyd, that shall not be knowen, and come to lyght.

18 Take heede therfore, howe ye heare. For whosoeuer hath, to hym shalbe geuen: *And whosoeuer hath not, from hym shalbe takē, euen that same which he supposeth that he hath.

19 *Then came to hym his mother and his brethren, and coulde not come at hym for preasse.

20 And it was tolde hym [by certayne] which sayde: Thy mother and thy brethren stande without, & woulde see thee.

21 He aunswered, and sayde vnto them: My mother & my brethren (a) are these, Which heare the worde of God, & do it. (a) The spirituall kinrede, to be preferred before the carnall.

22 And it came to passe on a certayne day, that he went into a shippe, and his disciples also: and he sayde vnto them, Let vs go ouer vnto the other syde of the lake.

23 And they laūched foorth: But as they sayled he fell a slepe, *and there came downe a storme on the lake, and they were fylled [with water], and were in ieoperdie. Math. viii. c. Mark. iiii. d.

24 And they came to hym, and awoke hym, saying: Maister, Maister, we are lost. Then he arose, and rebuked the wynde, & the tempest of water, and they ceassed, and it wared calme.

25 And he sayde vnto them: Where is your fayth? And they feared, and wondred among them selues, saying: Who is this? For he commaundeth both the wyndes & water, and they obey hym. Mat. viii. d. Mark. v. a.

26 *And they sayled vnto the region of the Gadarenites, Which is ouer agaynst Galilee.

27 And When he went out to lande, there met hym out of the citie a certayne man, which had deuyls long tyme, and ware no clothes, neither abode in [any] house: but in graues.

28 When he sawe Jesus, and had cryed, he fell downe before hym, and with a loude voyce sayde: *What haue I to do with thee Jesus, thou sonne of God most hyest? I beseche thee torment me not. Math. viii. d Mark. v. a.

29 (For he commaunded the foule spirite to come out of the man: For oftentymes he had caught him, and he was bounde with chaynes, and kept with fetters: & he brake the bandes, and was caryed of the fiende into wildernesse.)

30 And Jesus asked hym, saying: What is thy name? And he sayde, Legion: because many deuyls were entred into hym.

31 And they besought hym, that he woulde not commaunde them, to go out into the deepe.

32 And there was there, an hearde of many swyne, feedyng on an hyll: and they besought hym, that he woulde suffer them to enter into them: and he suffered them.

33 Then went the deuyls out of the man, and entred into the swyne: And the heard[e] heard ran headlong with violence into the lake, and were choked.

34 When the heardmen sawe what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they tolde it in the citie, & in the villages.

35 Therfore they came out to see what was done, and came to Jesus, & founde the man out of whom the deuyls were departed, sittyng at the feete of Jesus: clothed, & in his ryght mynde, and they were afrayde.

36 They also which sawe it, tolde them by what meanes he that was possessed of the deuyls, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenites, besought hym that he woulde departe from them, for they were taken with great feare. *And he gat hym vp into the shippe, and returned backe agayne.

Mat.viii.d. Mark.v.b.

F 38 Then the man out of whom the deuyls were departed, besought hym that he myght be with hym. But Jesus sent hym away, sayng:

39 Go home agayne to thine owne house, and shewe what ○ thynges so euer God hath done for thee. And he went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what thynges so euer Jesus had done vnto hym.

○ Or, what great thynges God hath done vnto thee.

40 And it came to passe, ỹ when Jesus was come agayne, the people receaued hym: For they all wayted for hym.

41 *And behold, ther came a man named Jairus, & he was a ruler of ỹ synagoge, & he fell downe at Jesus feete, prayng him that he would come into his house:

coulde be holpen of any,

44 Came behynde hym, and touched the hemme of his rayment: and immediatly her issue of blood stauncht.

45 And Jesus sayde: Who is it that touched me? whē euery man denyed, Peter and they that were with hym, sayde: Maister, the people thrust thee, and vexe thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jesus sayde, Some body hath touched me: For I perceaue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman sawe that she was not hyd, she came trembling, and fell [at his feete] and tolde him before al the people, for what cause she had touched hym, and howe she was healed immediatly.

48 And he sayde vnto her: Daughter, be of good comfort, *thy fayth hath saued thee, go in peace.)

Math.ix.d. Mark.v.d.

49 Whyle he yet spake, there came one from the ruler of the synagogues house, which sayde to hym: Thy daughter is dead, disease not the Maister. G

50 But when Jesus hearde that worde, he aunswered him, saying: *Feare not, beleue only, & she shalbe made whole.

Math.ix.e. Mark.v.d.

51 And when he came to the house, he suffered no man to go in with hym, saue Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the mayden.

52 Euery body wept, & sorowed for her. And he sayde: Weepe not, the damsell is not dead, *but slepeth.

Iohn.xi.d.

53 And they laughed hym to scorne, knowyng that she was dead.

54 And he thrust them all out, and toke her by the hande, and cryed, saying: Mayde, aryse.

55 And her spirite came agayne, and she rose straightway: And he commaunded to geue her meate.

56 And the father and the mother of her, were astonyed: But he warned thē that they should tel no man what was done.

5 And whosoeuer wyll not receaue you, when ye go out of that citie, shake of the very dust from your feete, for a testimonie agaynst them.
6 And they departed, and went through the townes, preachyng the Gospell, and healyng euerywhere.
7 *And Herode the tetrarche heard of all that was done by hym, and doubted, because that it was sayde of some, that John was rysen agayne from death:
8 And of some, that Elias had appeared, and of some, that one of the olde prophetes was rysen agayne.
9 And Herode sayde, John haue I beheaded, but who is this of whō I heare such thinges: And he desired to see him.
10 And the apostles returned, & tolde him all that they had done. *And he toke thē and went aside into a solitarie place, nye vnto the citie that is called Bethsaida.
11 Which whē the people knew, they folowed him: And he receaued them, and spake vnto thē of the kingdome of God, & healed thē that had nede to be healed.
12 And when the day began to weare away, then came the twelue and sayde vnto hym: Sende the people awaye, that they may go into the townes and villages rounde about, and lodge, and get meate: for we are here in a place of wyldernesse.
13 But he said vnto them: Geue ye thē to eate. And they said: we haue no mo but fyue loaues and two fishes, excepte we should go & bye meate for al this people.
14 And they were about fyue thousande men. And he said to his disciples: Cause thē to sit downe by fifties in a companie.
15 And they dyd so, and made them all to sit downe.
16 And he toke the fyue loaues and the two fishes, and loked vp to heauen, and blessed them, and brake, and gaue to the disciples to set before the people.
17 And they dyd all eate, and were satisfied. And there was taken vp of that remayned to them, twelue baskettes full of broken meate.
18 *And it came to passe, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with hym, and he asked them, saying: *who say the people that I am?
19 They answered and sayde, John Baptist: some say, Elias: and some say that one of the olde prophetes is rysen.
20 He sayde vnto them: But whom say ye that I am? [Simon] Peter answered, & saide: [Thou art] Christe, *of God. Math.xvi.c Iohn.vi.g.
21 And he warned & commaunded them, that they should tell no man that thing,

27 I tell you of a trueth, *there be some standyng here, whiche shall not taste of death, tyl they see the kingdome of God. Math.xvi.d Mark.viii.c
28 *And it came to passe, about an eyght dayes after these sayinges, he toke Peter, and John, and James, and went vp into a mountayne to pray. Mat.xvii.a. Mark.ix.g.
29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenaunce was chaunged, & his garment was whyte, and shone.
30 And beholde, there talked with hym two men, which were Moyses & Elias:
31 That appeared in the maiestie, & spake of his departyng, which he shoulde end at Hierusalem.
32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heauie with sleepe: and whē they awoke, they sawe his maiestie, and two men standyng with hym.
33 And it came to passe, as they departed frō him, Peter said vnto Jesus: Maister it is good beyng here for vs, let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, & one for Moyses, and one for Elias: and wyst not what he sayde. Mat.xvii.a. Mark.x.a.
34 Whyle he thus spake, there came a cloude, and ouershadowed them, & they feared whē they wer come into ŷ cloude
35 And there came a voyce out of the cloude, saying: *this is my deare sonne, *heare him. ii.Pet.i.d. Mat.xvii.b. Mark.i.b. Luk.ix.d. Deu.xviii.c

€ 37 *And it came to passe, that on the next day, as they came downe from the hyll, much people met hym.

Mat.xvii.b. Mark.ix.b.

38 And beholde, a man of the companie cried out, saying: Maister, I beseech thee behold my sonne, for he is all ý I haue:

39 And see, a spirite taketh hym, and sodenly he cryeth, and teareth hym, that he fometh agayne, & with much payne departeth from hym, when he hath rent hym.

Math.xvii.c Mark.ix.c.

40 *And I besought thy disciples to cast hym out, and they coulde not.

41 Jesus answered, and saide: O faithlesse and croked nation, howe long shall I be with you, and shall suffer you? Bryng thy sonne hyther.

42 As he was yet a commyng, the fiende rent hym, and tare hym: And Jesus rebuked the vncleane spirite, and healed the chylde, and deliuered hym to his father.

45 *But they wyst not what that worde meant, and it was hydde from them that they vnderstoode it not: And they feared to aske hym of that saying.

46 Then there arose a disputatiō among them, which of them should be the greatest.

47 When Jesus perceaued the thought of their heartes, *he toke a chylde, and set hym harde by hym, Mat.xviii.a Mark.ix.c. Luk.xxii.f.

48 And sayde vnto them: Whosoeuer receaueth this chylde in my name, receaueth me: *And whosoeuer receaueth me, receaueth hym that sent me. For he that is least among you all, the same shalbe great.

Math.x.d. Luk.x.c. Iohn.xiii.c.

49 And John answered, and sayde: Maister, we sawe one castyng out deuyls in thy name, and we forbad hym, because he foloweth not with vs.

50 And Jesus sayde vnto hym, *Forbyd ye [hym] not: For he that is not against vs, is with vs.

G Num.xi.g.

51 And it came to passe, when the tyme was come that he shoulde be receaued vp, he set his face to go to Hierusalem.

52 And sent messengers before hym: And they went, & entred into a towne of the Samaritanes, to make redy for hym.

53 And they woulde not receaue hym, because (b) his face was as though he woulde go to Hierusalem.

(b) Because they knewe that he was a Jewe, & the Samaritans could not agree with the Jewes, Joh. iiii. for ý they differed in religion.

54 When his disciples, James & John, sawe this, they sayde: Lord, wylt thou that we cōmaunde fire to come downe from heauen and consume them, euen as *Elias dyd?

(c) When Christe calleth, we may not looke at any thynge which may hynder vs in our vocation, but with all speede folowe.

62 Jesus sayde vnto hym: No man that putteth his hande to the plowe, and loketh backe, is apt to the kyngdome of God. ☜

The. x. Chapter.

1 He sendeth seuentie disciples to preache, geuyng them charge howe to behaue themselues. 13 He threatneth the obstinate and vnthankfull cities. 16 He admonisheth his disciples of humilitie. 20 Wherof we shoulde reioyce. 21 He geueth thankes to his father. 26 He aunswered the lawyer that tempted hym, & who is our neyghbour. 38 Of Martha and Marie.

AFter these thynges, the Lorde appoynted other seuentie also, and sent them two and two before hym, into euery citie and place, whyther he hym selfe woulde come.

2 Therefore sayde he vnto them: *The harueste is great, but the labourers are fewe. Pray ye therfore the Lorde of the harueste, to sende (a) forth labourers into his harueste. *Matth.x.d.

12 When Jesus sawe her, he called her to hym, and sayde vnto her: woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he layde his handes on her, and immediatly, she was made straycht, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the Sabboth day, & sayde vnto the people: There are sixe dayes, in which men ought to worke, in them therfore come, that ye may be healed, and not on the Sabboth day.

15 But the Lorde answered hym, and sayde: Thou hypocrite, doth not eche one of you on the Sabboth day, * loose his ore or his asse from the staule, and leade hym to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bounde, lo eyghteene yeres, be loosed from this bonde on the Sabboth day?

17 And when he sayde these thynges, all his aduersaries were ashamed, and all the people reioyced on all the excellent deedes that were done by hym.

18 Then sayde he: What is the kyngdome of God lyke? or whereto shall I D compare it?

19 *It is like a grayne of mustarde seede, whiche a man toke & sowed in his garden: and it grewe, and waxed a great tree, and the foules of the ayre made nestes in the braunches of it.

Mat.xvii.d. and xxi.c.

7 But which of you, hauyng a seruaunt plowyng, or feedyng cattell, woulde say vnto hym by & by when he were come from the fielde, go and syt downe at the table:

8 And wouldе not rather say vnto hym, Dresse, wherwith I may suppe, & gyrde vp thy selfe, and serue me, tyll I haue eaten and dronken, and afterward eate thou, and drynke thou:

9 Doth he thanke that seruaunt, because he dyd the thynges that were commaunded vnto hym: I trowe not.

10 So lykewyse ye, when ye haue done all those thynges which are commaunded you, say, We are vnprofitable seruauntes, we haue done that which was our duetie to do.

11 ☞ And so it was, as he went to Hierusalem, that he passed through the myddest of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as he entred into a certayne towne, there met hym ten men that were lepers, which stoode a farre of,

13 And put foorth their voyces, & sayde: Iesu maister, haue mercie on vs.

14 When he sawe them, he sayde vnto them: * Go shewe your selues vnto the (c) priestes. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were clensed.

15 And one of them, when he sawe that he was healed, turned backe [agayne] and with a loude voyce prayed God:

16 And fell downe on his face at his feete, and gaue hym thankes: And the same was a Samaritane.

17 And Iesus answered, and sayde: Are there not ten clensed: But where are those nine:

18 There are not founde that returned agayne, to geue God prayse, saue [only] this straunger.

19 And he sayde vnto hym: aryse, go thy way, thy fayth hath made thee whole.

20 ☞ When he was demaunded of the pharisees, when the kyngdome of God shoulde come: he answered them, and sayde, The kyngdome of God shall not come with obseruation.

21 Neither shall they say, lo here, or lo there: For beholde, the kyngdome of God is (d) within you.

(d) yt can not be decerned by any outward shewe.

22 And he sayde vnto the disciples: the dayes wyll come, when ye shall desyre to see one (e) day of the sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.

(e) either because ỹ Gods worde was preached among them, or els, because that Christ was among thē, who they thought was absent.

27 They dyd eate, and drynke, they maryed wiues, and were maryed, euen vnto the same day that Noe went into the Arke: and the fludde came, & destroyed them all.

30 Euen thus shall it be, in the day when the sonne of man shalbe reuealed.
G 31 *At that day, he which is on the house [top,] and his stuffe in the house, let him not come downe to take it out: And let not him that is in the fielde, turne backe agayne lykewyse, to the thynges that he left behynde.
32 *Remember lottes wyfe.
33 *Whosoeuer wyll go about to saue his lyfe, shall loose it: and whosoeuer shall loose his lyfe, shall quicken it.

¶ The. xviij. Chapter.

¶ 2 Christe teacheth to continue in prayer, by the example of the wicked Judge and the widdowe. 10 The prayers of the pharisee and the publicane. 16 To chyldren belongeth the kyngdome of God. 18 Of the way to saluation, 20 and what thynges hynder the reward promised to his seruauntes. 31 He foreshewyth his death. 35 He restored a blynd man to his syght.

1 AND he put forth a parable vnto them, to this ende that mē ought *alwayes to pray, & not to be (a) weery,
2 Saying: There was in a certayne citie, a iudge, whiche feared not God, neither regarded man.
3 And there was a certayne widdowe in the same citie, and she came vnto him, saying: Auenge (b) me of mine aduersarie.
4 And he wouldе not for a whyle. But afterwarde he sayde within hym selfe: Though I feare not God, nor care for man,
5 Yet because this widdowe [much] troubleth me, I wyll auenge (b) her: leste she come at the last, & make me weery.
6 And the Lorde sayde: heare what the vnryghteous iudge sayeth.
7 And shall not God auenge his elect, which crye day and nyght vnto hym: yea, though (b) he deferre them,
8 I tell you he wyll auenge them, and that quickly. ☞ Neuertheles, when the sonne of man commeth, shall he fynde fayth on the earth?
9 ☞ And he tolde this parable vnto certayne which trusted in them selues, that they were perfect, and despised other.
10 Two men went vp into the temple to pray: the one a pharisee, and the other a publicane.
11 The pharisee stoode and prayed thus with hym selfe: God, I thanke thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, vniust, adulterers, or as this publicane. ℂ
12 I fast twise in the weeke, *I geue tithe of all that I possesse. Deut.xvi.c. Eccle.vii.a.
13 And the publicane standyng a farre of, wouldе not lyft vp his eyes to heauen, but smote vpon his brest, saying: God be mercifull to me a sinner.
14 I tell you, this man departed [home] to his house iustified, rather then the other. *For euery one that exalteth hym selfe, shalbe brought lowe: And he that humbleth hym selfe, shalbe exalted. Math. 24.a. Luk. xiiii.c. D
15 *They brought vnto him also (c) infantes that he should touch them: which, whē his disciples sawe it, they rebuked thē.

27 And he sayde: * The thynges which are vnpossible with men, are possible with God.

Zach. viii.b.

28 Then Peter sayde: * Lo, we haue forsaken all, and folowed thee.

29 He sayde vnto them. Verely I say vnto you: there is no man that hath forsaken house, either father, or mother, either brethren, or wyfe, or chyldren, for the kyngdome of Gods sake.

¶ The .xix. Chapter.

¶ 2 Of Zacheus. 12 The ten peeces of money deliuered to the seruauntes. 28 Christ rydeth into Hierusalem, & weepyng ouer it, foresheweth the destruction therof. 45 He casteth byers and sellers out of the Temple.

1 AND he entred in, and went through Hierico.

2 And beholde, there was a man named Zacheus, which was the chiefe among the publicanes, and was riche [also]:

3 And he sought [meanes] to see Iesus, what he shoulde be, & coulde not for the preasse, because he was litle of stature.

4 And he ran before, and clymed vp into a wylde sygge tree, to see hym: for he was to come that way.

5 And when Iesus came to the place, he loked vp and sawe hym, and sayde vnto hym: Zache, come downe at once, for to day I must abyde at thy house.

6 And he came downe hastyly, and * receaued hym ioyfully. Actes.xvi.

And

7 And when they al saw it, they murmured, saying that he was gone in to tary with a man that is a synner.

8 And Zache stoode foorth, and sayde vnto the Lorde: Behold Lorde, the halfe of my goodes I geue to the poore, and yf I haue taken from any man by forged (a) cauillation, I restore him foure folde.

9 Jesus sayde vnto hym: This daye is saluation come to this (a) house, because that he also is become the childe of (b) Abraham.

10 *For the sonne of man is come to seke, and to saue that which was lost.

11 And as they hearde these thynges, he added & spake a parable, because he was nye to Hierusalē, & because they thought that the kingdome of God should shortly appeare.

12 He sayde therfore: *A certayne noble man went into a farre countrey, to receaue for hym selfe a kyngdome, and to come agayne.

13 And he called his ten seruauntes, & deliuered thē ten peeces of money, saying vnto them, Occupie (c) tyl I (b) come.

14 But his citezins hated hym, and sent a message after hym, saying: We wyll not haue this man to raigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, that whē he had receaued his kyngdome and returned, he commaunded these seruauntes to be called vnto him, to whom he had geuen the money, to wyt howe muche euery man had done in occupying.

16 Then came the first, saying: Lorde thy peece hath gayned ten peeces.

17 And he sayde vnto hym: *Well thou good seruaunt, because thou hast ben faythfull in a very litle thing, haue thou auctoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the seconde came, saying: Thy peece hath encreased fiue peeces.

19 And to the same he sayde, be thou also ruler ouer fyue cities.

20 And another came, saying: Lorde beholde here is thy peece, whiche I haue layed vp in a napkin.

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a strayte man: Thou takest vp that thou laydest not downe, & reapest that thou dyddest not sowe.

22 He sayth vnto hym: *Of thyne owne mouth wyll I iudge thee, thou cuyll seruaunt. Knewest thou that I am a straite man, taking vp that I layed not downe, & reapyng that I dyd not sowe:

23 And wherfore gauest not thou my money into the banke, and at my commyng I myght haue required myne owne with vauntage?

24 And he sayde vnto them that stoode by: Take from hym that peece, and geue it to hym that hath ten peeces.

25 And they sayde vnto hym: Lorde he hath ten peeces.

29 *And it came to passe, when he was come nye to Bethphage & Bethanie, besides the mount which is called Oliuet, he sent two of his disciples, Math.xxi.a Mark.xi.a.

30 Saying: Go ye into the towne which is ouer agaynst you, into the whiche, assoone as ye are come, ye shall fynde a coult tyed, wheron yet neuer man sate: loose hym, and bryng hym hyther.

31 And yf any man aske you, Why do ye loose hym, thus shall ye say vnto hym: because the Lorde hath neede of hym.

32 They that were sent, went their way, & founde euen as he had said vnto them.

33 And as they were a loosyng the coult, the owners therof said vnto them, Why loose ye the coult?

34 And they sayde: For the Lorde hath neede of hym.

35 And they brought hym to Jesus, and cast their rayment on the coult, and set Jesus theron.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was nowe come nye to the going downe of the mount Oliuete, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce, and to prayse God with a loude voyce, for all the miracles that they had seene.

38 Saying: *Blessed be the kyng that cōmeth in the name of the Lorde, peace in (c) heauen, and glory in the hyest. Math.xxi.b

39 And some of the Pharisees of the compane sayde vnto hym: Maister, rebuke thy disciples.

¶ The .xx. Chapter.

4 Christe stoppeth the pharisees mouthes with another question, 9 he sheweth their destructiō by a parable of the vineyarde. 17 Christe the stone reproued, 19 the priestes seke to kyll hym. 22 Tribute to be payde. 25 Geue to Caesar, and to God, whiche to them belongeth. 27 He disputeth with Saducees of the resurrection. 41 Christe the sonne of Dauid, 46 he describeth the scribes.

1 AND it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught ỹ people in the temple, & preached the Gospell, the hie priestes and the scribes came vpō hym, with the elders.

2 And spake vnto him, saying: *Tell vs by what authoritie doest thou these thynges: Eyther who is he that gaue thee this authoritie:

Math.xxiic 2 Mark. xi.d.

3 Iesus answered, & sayde vnto them: I also will aske you one thyng, & answere me.

4 The baptisme of (a) John, was it from heauen, or of men:

(a) That is, the whole ministerie of Iohn.

5 And they reasoned within thē selues, saying, If we say from heauen, he will say, Why then beleued ye hym not:

6 But and yf we say of men, all the people will stone vs: For they be perswaded that Iohn is a prophete.

7 And they answered, that they coulde not tell whence it was.

8 And Iesus saide vnto them: Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these thynges. ☜

9 Then began he to put foorth to the people this parable. ☞A certayne man planted a vineyarde, and let it foorth to husbande men, and went hym selfe into a straunge countrey for a great season.

Mat.xxi.d. Mark.xii.a. Esaias.v.a. Gene.ix.c. Ierem.vii.c

10 And when the time was come, he sent a seruaunt to the husbande men, that they shoulde geue hym of the fruite of the vineyarde. And they beat hym, and sent hym away emptie.

11 And agayne, he sent yet another seruaunt: and hym they did beate, and entreated hym shamefully, and sent hym away emptie.

12 Agayne, he sent the thirde also: and hym they wounded, and cast hym out.

13 Then said the Lord of the vineyarde: what shal I do: *I will send my deare sonne, it may be they will reuerence hym, when they see hym.

Iohn.iii.b. Rom. viii.a. Gala.iiii.a.

14 But when the husbande men sawe ℂ him, they reasoned within themselues, saying: This is the heyre, *come, let vs kyll hym, that the inheritaunce may be ours.

Gen. 37.c. Math.xxi.d Mark. xii.a.

15 And they cast him out of the vineyard, and kylled hym. what shall the Lorde of the vineyarde therfore do vnto them:

16 He shall come and destroye these husbande men, & shall let out his vineyarde to other. when they hearde this, they sayde, God forbyd.

17 And he beheilde them, & sayde: what is this then that is written, The stone that (b) the buylders refused, the same is become the head of the corner.

Psal. cxviii. (b) By the corner stone he meaneth Christe himselfe, who was refused of the Iewes.

18 whosoeuer doth stumble vppon that stone, shalbe broken: but on whōsoeuer it falleth, it will grinde hym to powder.

19 And the hye priestes & the scribes, the same same houre went about to laye handes on hym: *and they feared the people. For they perceaued that he had spoken this similitude agaynst them.

20 And they watched hym, & sent foorth spyes, which shoulde fayne them selues ryghteous men, *to take hym in his wordes, and to delyuer hym vnto the power and auctoritie of the deputie.

21 And they asked hym, saying: Maister, we knowe that thou sayest and teachest ryght, neither considerest thou the outwarde appearaunce of any man, but teachest the Way of God truely:

22 Is is lawfull for vs to geue tribute vnto Caesar, or no?

23 He perceaued their craftynesse, & sayde vnto them: *Why tempt ye me?

24 Shewe me a penie, Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and sayde, Caesars.

25 And he sayde vnto them: Geue then vnto Caesar, the thynges which belong vnto Caesar, and to God the thynges that perteyne vnto God.

26 And they coulde not reproue his saying before the people: and they marueyled at his answere, & helde their peace.

27 Then *came to hym certayne of the saducees, *Which denie that there is any resurrection, and they asked hym, 28 Saying: *Maister, Moyses wrote vnto vs, yf any mans brother dye, hauyng a wyfe, and he dye without chyldren: that then his brother shoulde take his wyfe, & rayse vp seede vnto his brother.

29 There were therfore seuen brethren, and the first toke a wyfe, & dyed without chyldren.

30 And the seconde toke her, and he dyed chyldlesse.

31 And the thirde toke her, & in lyke wise the residue of the seuen, and left no chyldren behynde them, and dyed.

32 Last of all, the woman dyed also.

33 Nowe in the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she be? For seuen had her to wyfe.

34 Jesus answered and saide vnto the: The chyldren of this (c) worlde marrye wyues, and are marryed:

35 But they which shalbe counted worthy to enioy that worlde, and the resurrection from the dead, do not marrye wyues, neither are marryed,

36 Nor yet can dye any more: For they are equall vnto the angels, and are *the sonnes of God, inasmuche as they are chyldren of the resurrection.

37 And that the dead shall ryse agayne, Moyses also sheweth besides the bushe, when he calleth the Lorde* the God of Abraham, and the God of Jsaac, & the God of Jacob.

38 For he is not a God of dead, but of lyuyng: For all lyue vnto hym.

39 Then certayne of the pharisees answered, and sayde: Maister, thou hast well sayde.

40 And after that, durst they not aske hym any question at all.

41 And he sayde vnto them: *Howe saye they that Christe is Dauids sonne:

42 And Dauid hym selfe sayeth in the booke of the psalmes: *The Lord saide to my Lord, syt thou on my right hand, 43 Tyll I make thine enemies thy foote stoole?

44 Dauid therfore calleth hym Lorde, & howe is he then his (d) sonne?

45 Then in the audience of all the people, he saide vnto his disciples.

46 *Beware of the scribes, whiche wyll go in long robes, and loue greetinges in the markets, and the hyest seates in the synagogues, and the chiefe rowmes at feastes:

47 which deuour widowes howses vnder colour of longe prayers: The same shall receaue greater dampnation.

(c) That is, all they remayne in the worlde, and are abydyng therin.

(d) For the sonne is not lord ouer his father, & therfore it followeth that Christe is God.

2 And ỹ hie priestes and scribes *sought howe they myght kyll hym, for they feared the people.

3 *Then entred Satan into Judas, whose sirname was Iscariot, whiche was of the number of the twelue.

4 And he went his waye, and commuened with the hye priestes and officers, howe he myght betray him vnto them.

5 And they were glad, and promised to geue him money.

6 And he consented, and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them, when the people were away.

7 *Then came the day of sweete breade, when [of necessitie] the Passouer must be offered.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying: Go and prepare vs the Passouer, that we may eate.

9 They sayde vnto hym: where wylt thou that we prepare?

10 And he sayde vnto them: Beholde, when ye enter into the cite, there shall a man meete you, bearyng a pitcher of water, hym folowe into the same house that he entreth in.

11 And ye shall say vnto the good man of the house, the maister saith vnto thee, Where is the gheste chamber, where I shall eate ỹ Passouer with my disciples?

12 And he shal shew you an vpper chamber prepared, there make redye.

13 And they went, and founde as he had sayde vnto them: and they made redye the Passouer.

14 *And when the houre was come, he sate downe, & the twelue apostles with hym.

1 Jesus is accused before Pilate,and is sent to Herode. 8 Herode mocketh hym. 25 Barabas is set at libertie, and Jesus geuen to be crucified. 26 Simon of Cyrene. 27 The women lament Christe crucified, 34 he prayeth for his enemies. 40 One of the theues rayleth on hym, 41 and the other is saued by fayth. 46 He geueth vp the ghost, and is buryed.

A 1 AND* the whole multitude of them arose, & led hym vnto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse hym,saying:We founde this felow peruerting the people, and forbyddyng to paye tribute to Cesar, saying that he is Christe, a kyng.

3 And Pilate apposed hym,saying: Art thou the kyng of the Jewes? He aunswered hym,and sayde: Thou sayest it.

4 Then saide Pilate to the hye prestes, and to the people: I finde no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce,saying: He moueth the people, teaching throwout al Jurie,and began at Galilee, euen to this place.

6 When Pilate hearde [mention] of Galilee,he asked whether the man were of Galilee.

B 7 And assoone as he knewe that he belonged vnto Herodes iurisdiction, he sent hym to Herode,Whiche was also at Hierusalem at that tyme.

8 And when Herode sawe Jesus, he was exceeding glad: For he was desirous to see hym of a long season,because he had hearde many thinges of hym, and he trusted to haue seene some miracle done by hym.

9 Then he questioned with hym many wordes: But he aunswered hym nothing.

10 The hye prestes and scribes stoode forth,and accused hym straytely.

11 And Herode with his men of warre despised him: and when he had mocked hym,he arayed hym in whyte clothing, and sent hym agayne to Pilate.

12 *And the same day Pilate and Herode were made friendes together: For before they were at variaunce. Actes. iiii.a.

50 And he led them out into Bethanie, and lift vp his handes, & blessed them.

51 *And it came to passe, as he blessed them, he departed from them, and was caryed vp into heauen. Actes.i.b. Mark.xvi.c.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Hierusalem with great ioy, 53 And were continually in the temple, praysyng and laudyng God. Amen.

Here endeth the Gospell by Saint Luke.

¶ The Gospell by Saint Iohn.

❧ The first Chapter.

¶ 1 The diuinitie, humanitie, and office of Christe. 15 The testimonie of Iohn.
39 The calling of Andrewe, Peter, Philip, and Nathaniel.

1 IN the begynnyng was the Worde, & the Worde was with God: and that Worde was God.

2 The same was in the begynnyng with God.

Gen.i.a. 3 *All thynges were made by it: and without (a) it, was made nothyng that was made.

4 *In it was lyfe, and the lyfe was the *lyght of men,

5 And the lyght shyneth in darkenesse: and the darknesse comprehended it not.

6 There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn:

7 The same came for a witnesse, to beare witnesse of the (b) lyght, that all men through hym myght beleue.

8 *He was not that lyght: but was sent to beare witnesse of the lyght.

9 That lyght was the true lyght, which lyghteth euery man that commeth into the worlde.

10 He was in the worlde, and the worlde was made by hym, and the worlde knewe hym not.

11 He came among his owne, and his owne receaued hym not.

12 But as many as receaued hym, * to them gaue he (c) power to be the sonnes of God, euen them that beleued on his name.

13 Which were borne, not of blood, nor of the wyll of the flesshe, nor yet of the wyll of man, but of God.

14 *And the same Word () became (b) flesshe, and dwelt among vs (*and we sawe the glory of it, as the glory of the only begotten sonne of the father) full of grace and trueth. ☞

15 ☞ *Iohn beareth witnesse of hym, and cryeth, saying: This was he of whom I spake, he that commeth after me, is preferred before me, for he was before me.

16 *And of his fulnesse haue all we receaued, and grace (c) for grace.

17 For the lawe was geuen by Moyses: but grace and trueth came by Iesus Christe.

18 *No man hath seene God at any tyme: The onely begotten sonne which is in the bosome of the father, he hath declared hym. ☞

19 ☞ *And this is the recorde of Iohn: when the Iewes sent priestes and leuites ieuites from Hierusalem, to aske hym: what art thou?

20 And he confessed and denyed not, and sayde playnely, I am not that Christe.

Math.xi.b. 21 And they asked hym: what then? art thou Elias? And he sayth, I am not. Det.xviii.c. *Art thou that prophete? And he answered, no.

22 Then sayde they vnto hym: what art thou? that we may geue an answere to them that sent vs: what sayest thou of thy selfe?

Math.iii.a. Mark.i.a. Luk.iii.a. Esay.xl.a. 23 He sayde: *I am the voyce of a cryer in the wildernesse, make straight the way of the Lorde, *as sayde the prophete Esaias.

24 And they which were sent, were of the pharisees.

25 And they asked hym, and sayde vnto hym: why baptizest thou then, yf thou be not Christe, nor Elias, neither that prophete?

Math.iiii.b. Mark.i.a. Luk.iii.c. Actes.xix.g 26 Iohn answered them, saying: *I baptize with water, but there standeth one among you, whom ye knowe not, 27 He it is, which though he came after me, was before me, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to vnloose.

Iohn.iii.d. and x.d. 28 These thynges were done in Bethabara beyonde Iordane, *where Iohn dyd baptize.

29 The nexte day, Iohn seeth Iesus comming vnto hym, and saith, *beholde the lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the worlde.

Esay.liii.b. 1.Cor.v.b. 30 This is he of whom I sayde, After me commeth a man, which is preferred before me, for he was before me.

31 And I knewe hym not: but that he shoulde be declared to Israel, therfore am I come, baptizing with water.

Math.iii.d. Mark.i.b. Luk.iii.d 32 *And Iohn bare recorde, saying: I sawe the spirite descende from heauen, lyke vnto a doue, and abode vpon hym, 33 And knewe hym not. But he that sent me to baptize with water, the same saide vnto me: vpon whom thou shalt see the spirite descende, and tary styll on hym, the same is he which baptizeth with the holy ghost.

34 And I sawe, and bare recorde, that he is the sonne of God.

35 The nexte day after, Iohn stoode agayne, and two of his disciples.

36 And he beheilde Iesus as he walked by, & sayth: beholde the lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard hym speake, and they folowed Iesus.

38 And Iesus turned about, and sawe them folowe hym, & sayth vnto them: what seeke ye? They sayde vnto hym: Rabbi (which is to say yt one interprete it, Maister) where dwellest thou?

39 He sayeth vnto them: come and see. They came, and sawe where he dwelt, and abode with hym that day: For it was about the tenth ○houre.

○ That was about the houres beinge xx.

40 One of the two which heard Iohn speake, & folowed hym, was Andrewe, Simon Peters brother.

41 The same founde his brother Simon first, and sayth vnto hym: we haue founde Messias, which is by interpretation, the ○annoynted.

○ Or, the Christe.

42 And brought hym to Iesus. And Iesus beheilde hym, and sayde: Thou art *Simon the sonne of Iona, thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone. Mat.xvi.c.

43 The day folowyng, Iesus woulde go into Galilee, & founde Philip, and sayth vnto hym, folowe me.

44 *Philip was of Bethsaida, the citie of Andrewe and Peter. Iohn.xii.c.

45 Philip founde Nathanael, and sayth vnto hym: we haue founde hym, of whom *Moyses in the lawe, and the *prophetes, dyd write: Iesus of Nazareth, the sonne (t) of Ioseph. Gen.iii.c. and xxii.c. Deu.xviii.c

46 And Nathanael sayde vnto hym: *Can there any good thyng come out of Nazareth? Philip sayth vnto hym: come and see.

(t) He speaketh after the common opinion, for most men supposed hym to be Iosephes sonne.

47 Iesus sawe Nathanael commyng to hym, & sayeth of hym: Beholde a ryght Israelite, in whom is no guile.

48 Nathanael sayth vnto hym: whence knewest thou me? Iesus answered, and sayde vnto hym: Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast vnder the fygge tree, I sawe thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and sayde vnto hym: Rabbi, thou art euen the [very] sonne of God, thou art ỳ kyng of Israel.

50 Iesus answered, & sayde vnto hym: Because I sayde vnto thee, I saw thee vnder the fygge tree, thou ○ beleuest: Thou shalt see greater thynges then these.

○ Or, beleuest thou?

51 And he sayth vnto hym: Verely, verely I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see heauen open, and the Angels of God ascendyng & descendyng vpon the sonne of man.

¶ The. ij. Chapter.

¶ 7 Chriſte begynneth to worke miracles, and turned water into wyne, 12 he goeth to Capernaum, and ſo aſcendeth to Hieruſalem. 14 he caſteth buyers and ſellers out of the temple, 19 he forewarneth his death and reſurrection, 23 and many beleue in hym when they ſee his miracles.

AND the thirde day, was there a mariage in Cana [a citie] of Galilee, and the mother of Jeſus was there.
2 And Jeſus was called, and his diſciples vnto the mariage.
3 And whē the wyne fayled, the mother of Jeſus ſayth vnto hym: they haue no wyne.
4 Jeſus ſaith vnto her: Woman, *what haue I to do with thee, myne houre is not yet come.
5 His mother ſayth vnto the ○ miniſters: whatſoeuer he ſayth vnto you, do it.
6 And there were ſet there, ſixe water pottes of ſtone, after the maner of the purifiyng of the Jewes, conteynyng two or three ○ firkins a peece.
7 Jeſus ſayth vnto them: fyll the water pottes with water. And they fylled them vp to the brym.
8 And he ſayth vnto them: drawe out nowe, and beare vnto the gouernour of feaſt. And they bare it.
9 When the ruler of the feaſt had taſted the water that was made wyne, and knewe not whence it was (but the miniſters which drewe the water knewe) the gouernour of the feaſt calleth the bydegrome:
10 And ſayth vnto hym, Euery man at the begynnyng doth ſet forth good wine, and when men haue well dronke, then that which is worſe: But thou haſt kept the good wyne vntyll nowe.
11 This begynnyng of miracles dyd Jeſus in Cana of Galilee, and ſhewed his glory, & his diſciples beleued on hym.
12 *After this, he went downe to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his diſciples, and there continued not many dayes.
13 And the Jewes Paſſouer was at hande, & Jeſus went vp to Hieruſalem, 14 And founde ſittyng in the temple, thoſe that ſolde oxen, and ſheepe, and doues, and chaungers of money.
15 And when he had made [as it were] a ſcourge of ſmall cordes, he droue them all out of the temple, with the ſheepe, & oxen, and powred out the chaungers money, and ouerthrewe the tables,
16 And ſaide vnto them that ſolde doues: Haue theſe thinges hence, and make not my fathers houſe an houſe of marchaundize.
17 And his diſciples remembred that it was written: *The zeale of thine houſe hath euen eaten me.
18 Then aunſwered the Jewes, & ſayde vnto hym: what token ſheweſt thou vnto vs, ſeeyng that thou doeſt theſe thynges?
19 Jeſus aunſwered, & ſayde vnto them: *Deſtroy this temple, & in three dayes I wyll reare it vp.
20 Then ſayde the Jewes, fourtie and ſixe yeres was this temple a buildyng, and wilt thou reare it vp in three dayes?
21 But he ſpake of the temple of his body.
22 Aſſoone therfore, as he was ryſen from death [agayne,] his diſciples remembred that he thus had ſayde; And they beleued the ſcripture, & the wordes which Jeſus had ſayde.
23 When he was in Hieruſalem at the Paſſouer, in the feaſt day, many beleued on his name, when they ſawe his miracles which he dyd.
24 But Jeſus dyd not commit hym ſelfe vnto them, becauſe he knewe all men, 25 And neded not, that any ſhoulde teſtifie of man: *For he knewe what was in man.

¶ 3 Christe teacheth Nicodemus. 15 Of fayth. 16 The loue of God towarde the worlde. 19 Condemnation. 25 John baptizeth. 27 John teacheth his disciples.

A 1 ☞ THere was a man of the pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jewes.

Iohn.vii.g. 2 *The same came to Jesus by night, & said vnto him: Rabbi, We knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man coulde do these miracles that thou doest, except God were with him.

3 Jesus answered, & sayde vnto hym: Verely, verely, I say vnto thee, except a man be borne agayne, he can not see the kyngdome of God.

4 Nicodemus sayth vnto hym: Howe can a man be borne when he is olde: can he enter into his mothers wombe, and be borne agayne:

Iohn.iiii.b. and.vii.d. Titus. iii.a. 5 Jesus answered: *Verely, verely, I say vnto thee, except a man be borne of water and of the spirite, he can not enter into the kyngdome of God.

Rom. viii.a. 6 *That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh: and that which is borne of the spirite, is spirite.

7 Maruayle not thou that I sayde to thee, ye must be borne agayne.

8 The wynde bloweth where it listeth, B and thou heareste the sounde therof: *but canst not tell whence it commeth, and whither it goeth. So is euery one that is borne of the spirite.

Eccle.xi.a.

9 Nicodemus answered, and sayde vnto hym: howe can these thynges be:

10 Jesus answered, & sayde vnto hym: Art thou a master in Israel, and knowest not these thynges:

11 Verely, verely, I say vnto thee, We speake that we do knowe, & testifie that we haue seene: and ye receaue not our witnesse.

12 If I haue tolde you earthly thynges, and ye beleue not: howe shall ye beleue, yf I tell you of heauenly thynges:

(a) No man by his owne wyt can know the misteryes of Christes kyngdome, but by Christ hym selfe.

13 *And no man ascendeth vp to (a) heauen, but he that came downe from heauen, euen the sonne of man which is in (b) heauen.

(b) This is spoken for the vnitie of person, and that which is proper to one nature, is transferred to the other, as Act. xx. and. xxviij. and so Christe was in heauē, according to his deuine nature.

14 *And as Moyses lyft vp the serpent in the wyldernesse: euen so must the sonne of man be lyft vp:

15 That whosoeuer beleueth in hym, perishe not, but haue eternall lyfe. ☞

16 ☞ *For God so loued the worlde, that he gaue his only begotten sonne, that whosoeuer beleueth in hym, shoulde not perishe, but haue euerlastyng lyfe.

17 *For God sent not his sonne into the worlde, to condempne the worlde: but that the (c) worlde through hym myght be saued. He that beleueth on hym, is not condempned:

Luk.xix.a.

(c) That is, all sortes of people that beleue, whether they be Jewes or Gentiles.

18 But he that beleueth not, is condempned alredy, because he hath not beleued in the name of the only begottē sonne of God.

19 And this is the condempnation: *that lyght is come into the worlde, and men loued darknesse rather then lyght, because their deedes were euyll.

Iohn.i.a. and.xii.f.

20 For *euery one that euyll doeth, hateth the lyght: neither commeth to the light, lest his deedes shoulde be reproued.

Ephe.v.b.

21 But he that doeth trueth, cōmeth to the lyght, ỳ his deedes may be knowen, howe that they are wrought in God. ☞

22 After these thynges, came Jesus and his disciples into the lande of Jurie, and D there he taryed with thē, *& (d) baptized.

(d) Christe: hym selfe baptized not, but his disciples. Iohn.iiij.

23 And John also baptized in Enon, besides Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

24 *For John was not yet cast into prison.

Mark.iiii.b.

25 ☞ And there arose a question betwene Johns disciples and the Jewes, about purifyng.

26 And they came vnto John, and sayde vnto hym: Rabbi, he that was with thee beyonde Jordane, to whom thou bareste witnesse, beholde the same baptizeth, *and all men come to hym.

Iohn.iiii.a.

27 John answered, and sayde: A man can receaue nothyng, except it be geuen hym from heauen.

28 Ye your selues are witnesses, *howe that I sayde I am not Christe, but am sent before hym.

Iohn.i.b.

29 He that hath ỳ bride, is the bridegrome. But the friende of the bridegrome, which standeth & heareth him, reioyceth greatly because of ỳ bridegromes voyce. This my ioy therfore is fulfylled.

30 He must increace, but I must decreace.

31 He that commeth from an hye, is E aboue all: he that is of the earth, is earthlye, and speaketh of the earth. He that commeth from heauen, is aboue all:

And

32 And what he hath seene and heard, that he testifieth: and no man receaueth his testimonie.
33 He that hath receaued his testimonie, *hath set to his seale, that God is true.
34 For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the wordes of God: *For God geueth not the spirite by measure vnto hym.
35 The father loueth the sonne, *and hath geuen all thynges into his hande. Luk.i.d.
36 *He that beleueth on the sonne, hath euerlastyng lyfe: He that beleueth ○ not the sonne, shall not see life, but the wrath of God abydeth on hym. Iohn.vi.f. 1.Iohn.v.b. ○ Or, he that obeyeth not the sonne.

¶ 7 Christe weryed, asketh water of the woman of Samaria. 10 The liuely water. 24 He teacheth true worshippe. 26 He confesseth hym selfe to be Messias. 29 The woman sheweth the citizens that Christe is come. 32 Christes meate. 39 The Samaritanes beleue Christe. 45 Christe is receaued of the Galileans. 50 He healeth ẏ rulers sonne.

A1 SSoone as the Lord knew, how the pharisees had heard that Iesus made and baptized mo disciples then Iohn,
2 (Though that Iesus hym selfe baptized not, but his disciples:)
3 *He left Iurie, and departed agayne into Galilee. Mat.iiii.b.
4 For [it was so that] he must needes go through Samaria.
5 Then came he to a citie of Samaria, which is called Sichar, besydes the possession *that Iacob gaue to his sonne Ioseph. Gen.xlviii.d.
6 And there was Iacobs well. Iesus then beyng wery of his iourney, sate thus on the well. And it was about the sixt ○ houre: ○ That is, after the .vi. houre of the day.
7 And there came a woman of Samaria to drawe water: Iesus sayth vnto her, geue me drynke.
8 For his disciples were gone away, vnto the towne to bye meate.
9 Then sayth the woman of Samaria vnto hym: Howe is it, that thou beyng a Iewe, askest drynke of me, which am a Samaritane? *For the Iewes meddle not with the Samaritanes. Reg.37. Esdr.viii.b
B 10 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto her: yf thou knewest the gyft of God, & who it is that sayeth to thee geue me drynke, thou wouldest haue asked of hym, and he woulde haue geuen *thee water of lyfe. i.b. vi.b.
11 The woman sayth vnto hym: Syr, thou hast nothyng to drawe with, and the well is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of lyfe?
12 Art thou greater then our father Iacob, which gaue vs the well, and he hym selfe dranke therof, and his children, and his cattell?
13 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto her: Whosoeuer drynketh of this water, shal thyrst agayne:
14 But whosoeuer drynketh of the water that I shall geue hym, shall neuer be more a thyrst: but the water that I shall geue him, shalbe in him a well of water, spryngyng vp into euerlastyng lyfe.
15 The woman sayth vnto hym: Syr, geue me of that water, that I thyrst not, neither come hyther to drawe.
16 Iesus sayth vnto her: Go, call thy husbande, and come hyther.
17 The woman answered, and sayde [vnto hym]: I haue no husbande. Iesus sayde vnto her: Thou hast well sayde, I haue no husbande.
18 For thou hast had fyue husbandes, and he whom thou now hast, is not thy husbande. In that saydest thou truely.
19 The woman sayth vnto hym: *Syr, C I perceaue that thou art a prophete. Luk.vii.b.
20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountayne, *and ye say that in Hierusalem is the place, where men ought to worshippe. 3. Reg.9.a. 2. Par.vii.c.
21 Iesus sayth vnto her: Woman beleue me, the houre commeth, when ye shall neither in this mountayne, nor yet at Hierusalem, worshippe the father.
22 Ye worshippe ye wote not what. We knowe what we worshippe: *For saluation commeth of the Iewes. Exod. xxi.c
23 But the houre commeth, and nowe is, when the true worshippers, shall worshippe the father *in spirite, and in the trueth: For such the father also requireth to worshippe hym. Rom.i.a.
24 *God is a spirite, and they that worshippe hym, must worshippe hym in spirite, i.Cor iii.c.

26 Jesus sayth vnto her: *I that speake vnto thee, am he.

27 And immediatly came his disciples, and marueyled that he talked with the woman: Yet no man saide, What seekest thou, or Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water pot, and went her way into the citie, & sayth to the men:

29 Come, see a man which tolde me all thynges that euer I dyd: Is not he Christe?

30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto hym.

31 In the meane whyle his disciples prayed hym, saying: Maister, eate.

32 He sayde vnto them: I haue meate to eate that ye wote not of.

33 Therfore sayde the disciples among them selues: Hath any man brought hym ought to eate?

34 Jesus sayth vnto them: my meate is to do the wyll of hym that sent me, and to finishe his worke.

35 Say not ye, there are yet foure monethes, and then commeth harueste? Beholde, I say vnto you, lyft vp your eyes, and loke on the regions: for they are whyte alredy vnto harueste.

Math.ix.b. Luk.x.a.

36 *And he that reapeth, receaueth wages, and gathereth fruite vnto lyfe eternall: that both he that soweth, & he that reapeth, myght reioyce together.

38 I sent you to reape that, wherein ye bestowed no labour. Other men (a) laboured, and ye are entred into their labours.

(a) Meaning the prophets.

39 Many of the Samaritanes of that citie beleued on hym, for the saying of the woman, which testified that he tolde her all that euer she dyd.

40 So, when the Samaritanes were come vnto hym, they besought hym that he would tary with them: And he abode there two dayes.

41 And many mo beleued, because of his owne worde,

42 And sayde vnto the woman: Nowe we beleue, not because of thy saying: *for we haue heard him our selues, & know that this is euen Christe, the sauiour of the worlde. ☞

45 Then, assoone as he was come into Galilee, the Galileans receaued hym, when they had seene all the thynges that he dyd at Hierusalem, at the day of the feast. For they went also vnto the feast day.

46 So Jesus came agayne into Cana of Galilee, *where he turned the water into wyne. ☞ And there was a certayne ruler, *whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

Iohn.ii.a. Math.viii.a. Luk.vii.a.

47 Assoone as the same hearde that Jesus was come out of Jurie into Galilee, he went vnto hym, and besought hym that he woulde come downe, and heale his sonne: For he was euen at the poynt of death.

48 Then sayde Jesus vnto hym: except ye see signes and wonders, ye wyll not beleue.

49 The ruler sayth vnto hym: Syr, come downe or euer that my sonne dye.

50 Jesus sayth vnto hym: Go thy way, thy sonne lyueth. The man beleued the worde that Jesus had spoken vnto hym, and he went his way.

51 And as he was nowe going downe, the seruauntes met hym, and tolde him, saying, thy sonne lyueth.

52 Then enquired he of them the houre, ¶ when he began to amende. And they sayde vnto hym: Yesterday at the seuenth houre, the feuer left hym.

53 So the father knewe, that it was the same houre, in the which Jesus sayde vnto hym thy sonne lyueth: *And he beleued, and all his householde. ☞

Act.xviii.a.

54 This is agayne the seconde miracle, that Jesus dyd, when he was come out of Jurie into Galilee.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

5 Christe healed on the Sabboth the man that was sicke thirtie and eyght yeres, 10 the pharisees accuse hym. 19 Christe aunswereth for hym selfe, & reproueth them, 32 the wyng by the testimonie of his father, 33 of Iohn, 36 of his workes, 39 of the scriptures, 45 and of Moyses, who he is.

A 1 ☞ Fter this, Was there a feast day of the Iewes, and Iesus went vp to Hierusalem.

2 And there is at Hierusalem by the sheepe ○ market, a poole, which is called in the Hebrue tonge Bethesda, hauyng fyue porches.

3 In Which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blynde, halt, & wythered, waytyng for the mouyng of the water.

4 For an Angel went downe at a certayne season into the poole, and stirred the water: whosoeuer then firste after the stirring of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he hadde.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had ben diseased thirtie & eyght yeres.

6 When Iesus sawe hym lye, & knewe that he nowe long tyme had ben diseased, he sayth vnto hym: Wylt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man aunswered him: Sir, I haue no man whē the water is troubled to put me into the poole: But in the meane time, While I am about to come, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Iesus saith vnto him: *Ryse, take vp thy bedde, and walke.

9 And immediatly the man was made whole, and toke vp his bedde, & walked. And the same day was the Sabboth.

10 The Iewes therfore sayde vnto hym that was made whole: It is the Sabboth day, it is not lawfull for thee to carie thy bedde.

11 He aunswered them: He that made me whole, saide vnto me, take vp thy bedde and walke.

12 Then asked they hym: What man is that which sayde vnto thee, take vp thy bedde, and walke?

13 And he that was healed, wyste not who it was. For Iesus had gotten him selfe awaye, because that there was prease of people in that place.

14 *Afterwarde, Iesus founde hym in the temple, and saide vnto him: behold, thou art made whole, sinne no more, lest a worse thyng come vnto you.

15 The man departed, & tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus which had made him whole. ☞

16 And therefore the Iewes dyd persecute Iesus, and sought [the meanes] to slea hym, because he hadde done these thynges on the Sabboth day.

17 And Iesus aunswered them: ☞ *My father worketh hitherto, and I worke. i.Cor. xii.a.

18 Therfore the Iewes sought the more to kyll him, not only because he had broken the Sabboth, but sayde also, * that God was his father, and made himselfe equall with God. Mat.xxvi.f Mar.xiii.g. Luk.xxi.c.

¶ The. vj. Chapter.

10 Christe feedeth fyue thousande with fyue loaues & two fisshes. 15 The people would haue made hym kyng. 19 He walkyng on the sea, folowed the disciples whiche were troubled in a shippe with a great tempest. 26 They seke Christ, to be fedde. 29 Fayth is the worke of God. 30 They aske signes and wonders. 35 Of the bread of lyfe. 40 Of fayth. 66 The carnall are offended at hym, 67 some of his disciples offended, forsake hym. 69 The apostles confesse hym to be the sonne of God. 71 Judas is a deuyll.

1 After these thynges,* Iesus went his waye
A ouer the sea of Galilee, Math.xiiii.b Mark. vi.d. Math.xiv.d. Luk.vi.c. which is the sea of Tiberias.
2 And a great multitude folowed hym, because they sawe his miracles whiche he dyd on them that were diseased.
3 And Iesus went vp into a mountayne, & there he sate with his disciples.
4 And the Passouer, a feast of ỹ Iewes, was nye. ☞
5 ☞*When Iesus then lyft vp his eyes,
Mat.xiiii.b. Mark. vi.d. Luk.ix.b. and sawe a great company come vnto him, he saith vnto Philip: Whence shal we bye bread, that these may eate?
6 (This he sayde to proue hym: for he hym selfe knewe what he woulde do.)
7 Philip answered hym: *Two hundred ○penie worth of bread are not sufficient for them, that euery man may take a litle.
8 One of his disciples, Andrewe, Simō
Peters brother, sayth vnto hym:
9 There is a litle ladde here, whiche hath fyue barly loaues and two fisshes, but what are they among so many?
10 And Iesus sayde: Make the people syt downe. There was much grasse in the place. So the men sate downe, in number about fyue thousande.
11 And Iesus toke the bread, and when he had geuē thankes, he gaue to the disciples, and the disciples to them ỹ were set downe, and lykewyse of the fisshes, as much as they woulde.
12 When they had eaten enough, he saide vnto his disciples: Gather vp the broke meate that remayneth, that nothyng be lost.

13 And they gathered it together, & fylled twelue baskettes with the broken meate of the fyue barly loaues, whiche [broken meate] remayned vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, saide: This is of a trueth *the same prophete that shoulde come into the worlde.

15 When Iesus therfore perceaued, that they would come and take him, to make hym kyng, *he departed agayne into a mountayne hym selfe alone.

16 *And when euen was nowe come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea.

17 And gat vp into a shippe, and went ouer the sea, towardes Capernaū: And it was nowe darke, and Iesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose, with a great wynde that blewe.

19 So, when they had rowed about xxv. or xxx. furlonges, they sawe Iesus walkyng on the sea, and drawyng nye vnto the shippe, and they were afrayde.

20 But he sayth vnto them: It is I, be not afrayde.

21 And they wyllyngly receaued hym into the shippe, and immediatly the shippe was at the lande whyther they went.

22 The day folowyng, when the people, whiche stoode on the other syde of the sea, sawe that there was none other shippe there, saue that one whereinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not in with his disciples into the shippe, but that his disciples were gone [awaye] alone:

23 Howbeit there came other shippes frō Tiberias, nye vnto the place, where they dyd eate bread, after that the Lord had geuen thankes.

24 When the people therefore sawe that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also toke shippyng, and came to Capernaum, seekyng for Iesus.

25 And whē they had founde hym on the other side of the sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hyther? Iesus aunswered them, and sayde:

26 Verily verily I say vnto you, ye seke me, not because ye sawe the miracles, but because ye dyd eate of the loaues, & were fylled.

27 Labour not for the meate whiche perisheth, but for that whiche endureth vnto euerlastyng lyfe, which [meate] the sonne of man shall geue vnto you: For hym hath God the father sealed. D

28 Then saide they vnto him: what shall we do, that we myght worke ẏ workes of God?

29 Iesus aunswered, & sayde vnto them: This is the worke of God, that ye beleue on hym whom he hath sent.

30 They said therfore vnto hym: *what signe shewest thou then, ẏ we may see, & beleue thee? what doest thou worke? Math. xii. c. and xvi. a. Mark. viii. b Luk. xi. d.

31 Our fathers dyd eate Manna in the desert, as it is written: He gaue them *bread from heauen to eate. Exod. xvi. b

32 Then Iesus sayde vnto them: Verily verily I say vnto you, Moyses gaue you not ẏ bread frō heauen, *but my father geueth you ẏ true bread frō heauē. Math. xvi. c

33 For the bread of God, is he which cōmeth downe from heauen, and geueth lyfe vnto the worlde.

34 Then sayde they vnto hym: Lorde, euermore geue vs this bread.

35 And Iesus sayde vnto them, I am the bread of lyfe: he that cōmeth to me, shall not hunger: and he that beleueth on me, shall neuer thirst.

36 But I say vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and yet ye beleue not.

37 All that the father geueth me, shall come to me: and hym that commeth to me, I cast not away.

38 For I came downe from heauen, *not to do that I wyll: but that he wyll, which hath sent me. Luk. xxii. c.

39 And this is the fathers wyll whiche hath sent me: that of all which he hath geuen me, I shal lose nothing, but rayse it vp agayne at the last day.

40 And this is the wyll of him ẏ sent me: that euery one which seeth the sonne, * & beleueth on him, hath euerlastyng lyfe: And I wyll rayse him vp at ẏ last day. Iohn. v. e.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he sayd, I am the bread [of life] which came downe from heauen.

42 And they saide: *Is not this Iesus, ẏ sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we knowe? howe is it then that he sayth, I came downe from heauen? & Mat. xiii. g. Mark. vi. a.

49 Your fathers dyd eate Manna in the wyldernesse, and are dead.

50 This is that bread, which commeth downe from heauen, that yf any man eate therof, [he] shoulde not dye.

52 The Iewes therefore stroue among them selues, saying: Howe can this felowe geue vs that flesshe of his to eate?

53 Then Iesus saide vnto them: Verily verily I saye vnto you, excepte ye eate the flesshe of the sonne of man, and drynke his blood, ye haue no lyfe in you.

54 Who so eateth my flesshe, and drinketh my blood, hath eternall lyfe, and I wyl rayse hym vp at the last day.

55 For my flesshe is meate in deede, and my blood is drynke in deede.

56 He that eateth my flesshe, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, & I in hym.

57 As the lyuing father hath sent me, and I lyue by the father: Euen so, he that eateth me, shal liue by [the meanes of] me.

58 This is that bread, Which came downe from heauen: Not as your fathers dyd eate Manna, and are dead. He that eateth of this bread, shall lyue euer.

59 These thynges sayde he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therfore of his disciples, when they had hearde this, saide: This is an harde saying, Who can abyde the hearyng of it?

61 Iesus knewe in hym selfe, that his disciples murmured at it, and he sayde vnto them, doth this offende you? G

62 What and yf ye shall see the sonne of man ascende vp thyther where he was before?

63 It is the spirite that quickeneth, the flesshe profiteth (a) nothyng. The wordes that I speake vnto you, are spirite and lyfe.

64 But there are some of you that beleue not. For Iesus knewe from the begynning, Which they were that beleued not, and Who shoulde betray hym.

65 And he sayde: Therfore saide I vnto you, that *no man can come vnto me, except it were geuē vnto him of my father.

66 From that time, many of his disciples wēt backe, & walked no more with him.

67 Then sayde Iesus vnto the twelue: wyll ye also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him: Lorde, to whō shall we go? Thou hast the wordes of eternall lyfe:

69 *And we beleue and are sure that thou art Christe, the sonne of ỹ lyuyng God. Mat.xvi.c. Mark.viii.c. Luk.ix.c. Iohn.xi.c.

27 Howbeit, they vnderstoode not that he spake to them of his father.

28 Then saide Jesus vnto them: When ye haue lift vp [an hye] the sonne of man, then shall ye knowe that I am he, and that I do nothyng of my selfe: *but as my father hath taught me, euen so I speake these thynges.

29 And he that sent me, is with me. The father hath not left me alone: For I do allwayes those thynges that please him.

30 As he spake those wordes, *many beleued on hym.

31 ☞ Then sayde Jesus to those Jewes which beleued on him: Yf ye continue in my word, then are ye my very disciples.

32 And ye shall knowe the trueth, and the trueth shall make you free.

33 They (a) aunswered hym: We be Abrahams seede, and were neuer bonde to any man: howe sayest thou then, ye shalbe made *free?

34 Jesus aunswered them: Verely, verely I say vnto you, that *whosoeuer committeth sinne, is the seruaunt of sinne.

35 And the seruaũt abideth not in ỳ house & for euer: but the sonne abydeth euer.

36 Yf the sonne therefore shall make you free, then are ye free in deede.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seke [meanes] to kyll me, because my worde hath no place in you.

38 I speake that whiche I haue seene with my father: and ye do that whiche ye haue seene with your father.

39 They aunswered, and saide vnto him: Abraham is our father. Jesus saith vnto them: Yf ye were Abrahams childrẽ, ye woulde do the workes of Abraham.

40 But nowe ye go about to kyll me, a mã that hath tolde you the trueth, which I haue heard of god: this did not Abrahã.

41 Ye do the deedes of your father. Then said they to him: We be not borne of fornication, we haue one father, euen God.

42 Jesus saide vnto them: Yf God were your father, truely ye woulde loue me: For I proceaded forth, and came from God: neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not knowe my speache? euen because ye cannot heare my word.

44 Ye are of your father the deuyll, and & the lustes of your father will ye do. *He was a murtherer from the begynnyng, and abode not in the trueth: because there is no trueth in hym. When he speaketh a lye, he speaketh of his owne: For he is a lyer, and the father of the same thyng. Gen.iii.a. i.Iohn.iii.b.

45 And because I tel you the trueth, therfore ye beleue me not.

46 ☞ Which of you rebuketh me of sinne? Yf I say the trueth, why do not ye beleue me?

47 *He that is of god, heareth gods wordes. Ye therfore heare thẽ not, because ye are not of God. Iohn.x.c.

48 Then aunswered the Jewes, & saide vnto hym: Say we not well that thou art a Samaritane, and *hast the deuyl? Iohn.x.d.

49 Jesus aunswered, I haue not the deuyll: but I honour my father, and ye haue dishonoured me.

50 I seke not myne owne praise, there is & one that seketh, and iudgeth.

51 Verely verely I saye vnto you, yf a man kepe my saying, he shall neuer see death.

52 Then sayde the Jewes vnto hym: Now know we that thou hast ỳ deuyll.

Abrahaam is dead, & the prophetes: and thou sayest, yf a man kepe my saying, he shall neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater thē our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophetes are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Jesus aunswered: Yf I honour my selfe, mine honour is nothing. It is my father that honoureth me, which ye say is your God:

55 And yet ye haue not knowen him, but I knowe hym: And if I say I knowe hym not, I shalbe a lyer lyke vnto you. But I knowe hym, & kepe his saying.

56 Your father Abraham (b) was glad to see my day: and he sawe it, and reioyced.

57 Then sayde the Jewes vnto hym: Thou art not yet fiftie yeres olde, & hast thou seene Abraham.

58 Jesus sayde vnto them: Verily, verily I saye vnto you, before Abraham was, *I am.

59 Then toke they vp stones to caste at hym: but Jesus hyd hym selfe, *and went out of the temple. ☞

1 Christe restored sight vpon the Sabboth day, to him that was borne blynde. 13 The pharisees reason with him that was blynde. 27 The pharisees excommunicate those that beleue in Christe, 34 they excommunicate hym that was borne blynde, 35 Christe teacheth hym, and he beleueth. 39 To who[m] blynde men Christe restored syght.

ND as Jesus passed by, he sawe a man whiche was blynde frō his birth:

2 And his disciples asked hym, saying: Master, Who did sinne, this man, or his father and mother, that he was borne blynde?

3 Jesus aunswered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor yet his father & mother: but that the workes of God shoulde be shewed in hym.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent me, whyle it is (a) daye. The nyght commeth when no man can worke.

6 Assoone as he had thus spokē, he spat on the grounde, and made claye of the spittle, and he annoynted with the claye the eyes of the blynde,

B

7 And sayde vnto hym: Go, washe thee in the poole of *Siloe, Which by interpretation, is [as much to say, as] sent. He went his way therefore, & washed, and came agayne, seyng.

Esai.viii.b.

8 So, the neyghbours, and they that hadde seene hym before when he was blynde, sayde: Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some sayde, this is he: Other sayde, he is lyke hym. He hym selfe sayde, I am [euen] he.

C

10 Therfore sayde they vnto him: Howe are thyne eyes opened?

11 He aunswered and sayde: The man that is called Jesus made claye, and annoynted myne eyes, and sayde vnto me, go to the poole Siloe and washe: And when I went and washed, I receaued [my] syght.

12 Then sayde they vnto hym, where is he? He sayde, I can not tell.

13 They brought to the pharisees, hym that a litle before was blynde.

14 And it was the *Sabboth day when Jesus made ỹ claye, & opened his eyes.

Math.xii.a. Mark.ii.d. Luk.vi.a. Iohn.v.b.viie

15 Then againe the pharisees also asked hym, howe he had receaued his syght. He sayde vnto them: He put claye vpon myne eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therfore sayde some of the pharisees, this man is not of God, because he kepeth not the Sabboth day. Other said: How *How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a stryfe among them.

Iohn.vii.g.x.d

17 They spake vnto the blynde man againe: What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thyne eyes? He sayde, *he is a prophete.

Iohn.vii.f.

18 But the Jewes dyd not beleue the man, howe that he had ben blynde, and receaued his syght, vntyll they called the father and mother of hym that had receaued his syght:

19 And they asked them, saying: Is this your sonne, whom ye saye was borne blynde? Howe doeth he nowe see then?

20 His father & mother aunswered them, and sayde: We knowe that this is our sonne, sonne, and that he was borne blynde:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we can not tell: Or who hath opened his eyes, can not we tell. He is olde inough, aske him, let him answere for himselfe.
22 Such wordes spake his father & mother, because they feared the Jewes: For the Jewes had decreed alredy, that yf any man dyd confesse that he Iohn.xii.f. was Christe, *he shoulde be excommunicate out of the synagogue.
23 Therfore sayde his father & mother: he is olde inough, aske hym.
24 Then agayne called they the man that was blynde, and sayde vnto hym: Geue God the prayse, we knowe that this man is a sinner.
25 He answered, and sayde: whether he be a sinner or no, I can not tell: One thyng I am sure of, that wheras I was blynde, nowe I see.
26 Then sayde they to hym agayne: what dyd he to thee? howe opened he thyne eyes?
F 27 He answered them: I tolde you yer whyle, and ye dyd not heare. wherfore woulde ye heare it agayne? wyll ye also be his disciples?
28 Then rayted they hym, and sayde, Be thou his disciple: we are Moyses disciples.
29 We are sure, that God spake vnto Moyses: As for this felowe, we knowe not from whence he is.
30 The man answered, and sayde vnto them: this is a marueylous thyng, that ye wote not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened myne eyes.
31 For we be sure, that God heareth not sinners: But yf any man be a worshipper of God, and obedient vnto his wyll, hym heareth he.
32 Sence the worlde began, was it not hearde, that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blynde.
33 If this man were not of God, he coulde haue done nothyng.
34 They answered, & sayde vnto hym: Thou art altogether borne in sinne, and doest thou teache vs? And they cast hym out.
35 Jesus hearde that they had excom- G municate hym, & when he had founde hym, he sayde vnto hym: Doest thou beleue on the sonne of God?
36 He answered and sayde: who is he Lorde, that I myght beleue on hym?
37 And Jesus sayde vnto hym: Thou hast both seene hym, *and it is he that Iohn.iiii.c.
talketh with thee.
38 And he sayde, Lorde, I beleue: And (b) he worshipped hym. ☞
(b) He declared his fayth, by his outwarde confession.
39 And Jesus sayde vnto hym: I am come vnto iudgement into this worlde, that they which see not, myght see: and that they which see, myght be made blynde.
40 And some of the pharisees which were with hym, hearde these wordes, & sayde vnto hym: Are we blynde also?
41 Jesus sayde vnto them, *yf ye were Iohn.xv.d.
blynde, ye shoulde haue no sinne: But nowe ye say, we see, therfore your sinne remayneth.

43 Christe raysed Lazarus from death. 45 Certayne Iewes beleue in Christe. 47 The pharisees take councell agaynst hym. 50 Caiphas prophecieth that one must dye for the people. 54 Christe fleeth the pharisees. 57 The hye priestes and the pharisees, commaunded Christe to be taken.

A Certayne man was sicke, named Lazarus of Bethanie, the towne of Marie and her sister Martha.

2 (It was that Marie * which anoynted ỹ Lorde with oyntment, and wyped his feete with her heere, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therfore, his sisters sent vnto hym, saying: Lorde, beholde, he whom thou louest is sicke.

5 Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had hearde therfore that he was sicke, he abode two dayes styll in the same place where he was.

10 But yf a man walke in the myght, he stumbleth, because there is no lyght in hym.

11 These thynges sayde he, and after that, he sayde vnto them: Our friende Lazarus * slepeth, but I go to wake hym out of slepe.

12 Then sayde his disciples: Lorde, yf he slepe, he shall do well inough.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death, but they thought that he had spoken of the naturall slepe.

28 And assoone as she had so sayde, she went her way, and called Marie her sister secretely, saying: The Maister is come, and calleth for thee.

¶ The. xvij. Chapter.

1 Christe prayeth to his father, that their glory myght be made manifest. 9 he prayeth for his Apostles. 12 Judas lost. 14 The Apostles hated of the worlde. 20 Christ prayeth for all those that receaue the trueth.

THese wordes spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heauen, and sayde: Father, *the houre is come, glorifie thy sonne that thy sonne also may glorifie thee:
2 As thou hast geuen hym power ouer all flesshe, that he shoulde geue eternall life, to as many as thou hast geuen him.
3 This is *lyfe eternall, that they myght knowe thee, the only true God, & Iesus Christe whom thou hast sent.
4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: *I haue finished ỹ worke, which thou gauest me to do.
5 And nowe glorifie thou me, O father, with thine owne selfe, with the glory which I had with thee yer the worlde was.
6 I haue declared thy name vnto ỹ men, (a) which thou gauest me out of ỹ World. Thyne they were, and thou gauest thē me, and they haue kepte thy worde.
7 Nowe they haue knowen ỹ al thinges whatsoeuer ỹ hast geuen me are of thee.
8 For I haue geuen vnto them ỹ wordes which thou gauest me, and they haue receaued them, and haue knowē surely that I came out from thee, & they haue beleued, that thou diddest sende me.
9 I pray for them: I pray not for * the (a) worlde, but for them * which thou hast geuen me, for they are thyne.
10 And all myne are thyne, and thyne are myne, and I am glorified in them.
11 And nowe am I not in the worlde, and they are in the worlde, and I come to thee. ☞ Holy father, kepe through thine owne name, thē which thou hast geuen me, that they may also be (b) one, as we are.
12 Whyle I was with them in ỹ worlde, I kept them in thy name. *Those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, and none of them is lost, but that (c) lost chylde, * that the scripture myght be fulfylled.
13 Nowe come I to thee, and these wordes speake I in the worlde, that they myght haue my ioy fulfylled in them selues.
14 I haue geuen them thy worde, and * the worlde hath hated them, because they are not of the worlde, euen as I also am not of the worlde.
15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the worlde: but * that thou kepe them from euyll.
16 They are not of the worlde, as I also am not of the worlde.
17 Sanctifie them through thy trueth. Thy worde is the trueth.
18 As thou diddest sende me into ỹ world, euē so haue I also sent thē into ỹ world.
19 And for their sakes sanctifie I my selfe, that they also myght be sanctified through the trueth.
20 [Neuertheless,] I pray not for them alone: but for thē also, which shall beleue on me through their preachyng:
21 That they all may be * one, as thou father art in me, and I in thee, and that they also may be one in vs: that ỹ World may beleue, that thou hast sent me.

Or, forme Joanna. to Simon Peter: Simon ○ Joanna, louest thou me more then these? He sayd vnto hym: Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayth vnto hym: feede my lambes.

16 He sayth to hym agayne the seconde tyme: Simon Joanna, louest thou me? He sayth vnto hym: Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayde vnto hym: feede my sheepe.

17 He sayde vnto hym the thirde tyme: Simon Joanna, louest thou me? Peter was sory, because he sayde vnto hym the thirde tyme, louest thou me: And he Iohn.xvi.g. sayde vnto hym, Lorde thou *knowest all thynges, thou knowest that I loue thee. Jesus sayth vnto hym: feede my sheepe.

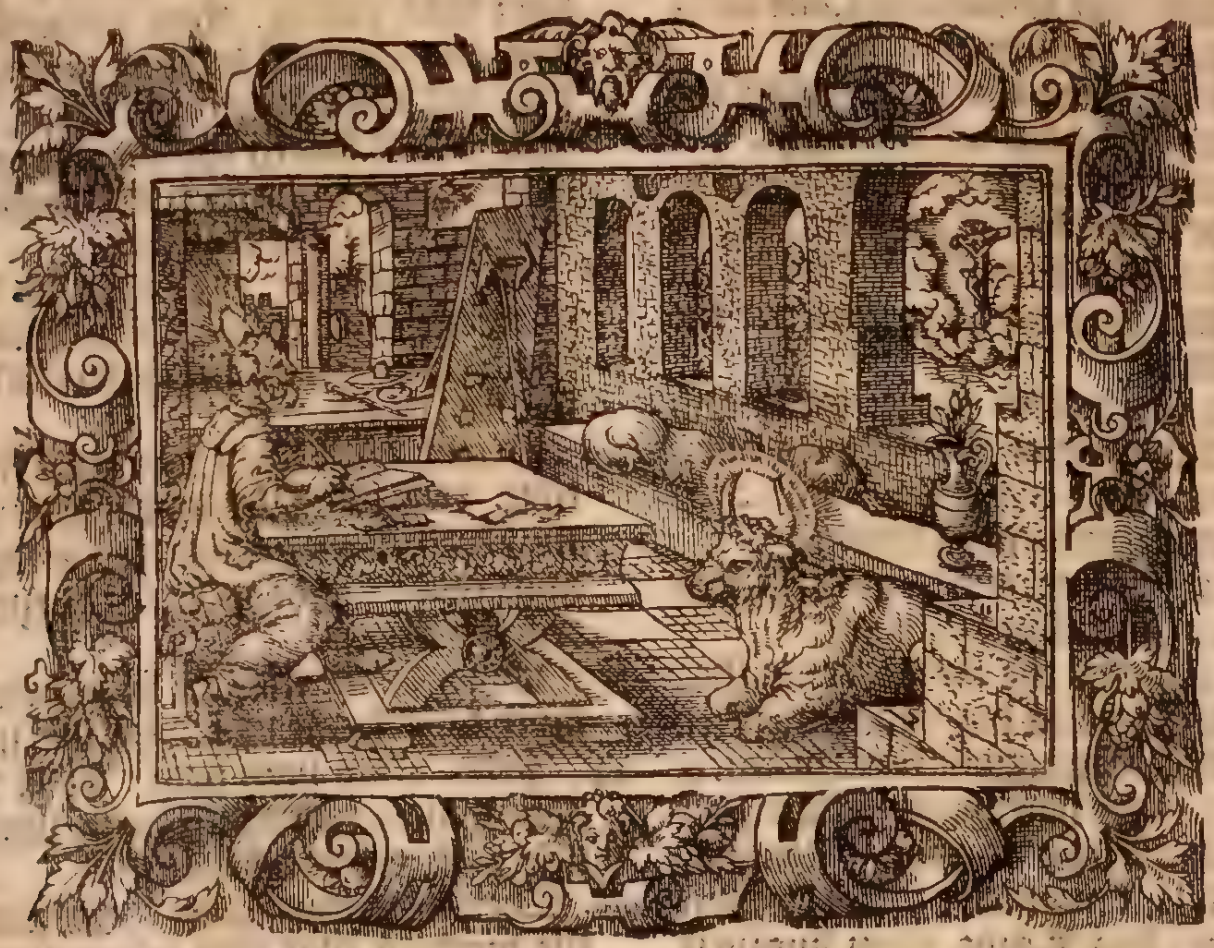
18 Verely verely I say vnto thee, when F thou wast young, thou gyrdedst thy selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be olde, *thou Iohn.xiii.d. Actes.xii.a. shalt stretch foorth thy handes, and another shall gyrde thee, and leade thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 That spake he, signifiyng by what death he should glorifie God. And whē he had spoken this, he sayth vnto hym, folowe me. ☞

20 Peter turned about, and sawe the dis- Ioh.xiii.c. and.xix.c. ciple, *whom Jesus loued, folowyng, G which also leaned on his brest at supper, and sayde, Lorde which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 When Peter therfore sawe hym, he sayth to Jesus: Lorde, what shal he do?

22 Jesus sayth vnto hym: If I wyll haue hym to tary tyll I come, what is that to thee? folowe thou me.



23 Then went this saying abrode among the brethren, that that disciple shoulde not dye: Yet Jesus sayde not to hym, he shall not dye: but, yf I wyll that he tary tyll I come, what is that to thee?

24 The same disciple is he, which testifieth of these thynges, and wrote these thynges: And we knowe that his testimonie is true. ☜

25 *There are also many other thynges, Iohn. xx.g. whiche Jesus dyd, the which, yf they shoulde be written euery one, I suppose the world could not conteine the bookes that shoulde be written.

11 which also sayde: Ye men of Galilee, why stande ye gasyng vp into heauen? This same Jesus, which is taken vp from you into heauen, *shall so come, euen as ye haue seene hym go into heauen.
12 Then returned they vnto Hierusalem, from the mount that is called Oliuete, which is from Hierusalem a Sabboth dayes iourney.
13 And when they were come in, they went vp into a parlour, where abode both *Peter, and James, and John, and Andrewe, Philip and Thomas, Barthelmewe and Matthewe, James the sonne of Alpheus, & Simō Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James.
14 These all continued with one accorde in prayer and supplication with the women, and Marie the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

¶ The. ij. Chapter.

3 The holy ghost came vpon the Apostles in visible signes. 6 The hearers were astonyed. 14 Peter preacheth, & stoppeth their mouthes. 41 He baptizeth a great number. 42 The godlie exercise of the faythfull.

1 AND when the day of Pentecost was, they were all with one accorde in one place:
2 And sodenly there came a sounde frō heauen, as it had ben the commyng of a mightie wynde, and it fylled all the house where they sate.
3 And there appeared vnto them clouen tongues, lyke as they had ben of fyre, and it sate vpon eche one of them.
4 *And they were all fylled with the holy ghost, and began to speake with other tongues, as the spirite gaue them vtteraunce.
5 There were dwellyng at Hierusalem, Jewes, deuout men, out of euery nation [of them] that are vnder heauen.
6 When this was noysed about, the multitude came together and were astonyed, because that euery man hearde them speake with his owne language.
7 They wondred all, and marueyled, saying among themselues: Beholde, are not all these which speake, of Galilee?
8 And howe heare we euery man his owne

(a) It is most lyke that the miracle was both in ỳ speakers and also in ỳ hearers. In the speakers, for that they, speakyng the Hebrue tongue, dyd well perceaue ỳ straungers of diuers nations and languages dyd vnderstande them: And in the hearers, for that euery man heard sensibly his owne countrey language out of the Apostles, speakyng in their mother tongue. (b) That is, such as were conuerted to the Iewes religion, and whole auncestours were no Iewes.

owne (a) tongue, wherin we were borne?
9 Parthians, and Medes, & Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Iurie, and in Capadocia, in Pontus and Asia,
10 Phrygia, & Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parties of Lybia, which is beside Cyrene, & straungers of Rome, Iewes and (b) Proselytes.
11 Cretes and Arabians: we haue heard them speake in our tongues, the wonderfull workes of God.
12 They were all amased, and wondred, saying one to another: What meaneth this?
13 Other mocked, saying: These men are full of newe wyne.
14 But Peter standyng foorth with the eleuen, lyft vp his voyce, and sayde vnto them: Ye men of Iurie, and all ye that dwell at Hierusalem, be this knowen vnto you, and with your eares heare my wordes.
15 For these are not dronken, as ye suppose, seeyng it is but the (c) thirde houre of the day.

(c) The Iewes count the houre of the day, from sixe of the clocke in ỳ mornyng, to ix at night. Therfore, the thirde houre, after ỳ Iewes computation, is our nyne of the clocke.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophete Ioel:
17 And it shalbe in the last dayes (sayth God) of my spirite I will powre out vpon all flesh: * And your sonnes and your daughters shall prophesie, and your yong men shall see visions, and your olde men shall dreame dreames.
18 And on my seruauntes, and on my handemaydens, I will powre out of my spirite in those dayes, and they shall prophesie.
19 And * I will shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, blood, and fyre, and the vapour of smoke.
20 The Sunne shalbe turned into darknesse, and the Moone into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come.
21 And it shall come to passe, that * whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lorde, shalbe saued.
22 ☞ Ye men of Israel, heare these wordes: Iesus of Nazareth, a man approued of God among you, with miracles, wonders, and signes, which God dyd by hym in the middes of you, as ye your selues also knowe.
23 Hym haue ye taken, by the handes of vnryghteous persons, after he was deliuered by the determinate councell and foreknowledge of God, and haue crucified and slayne hym.
24 Whom God hath raised vp, and loosed the sorowes of death, because it was vnpossible, that he shoulde be holden of it.
25 For Dauid speaketh of hym, *I sawe the Lorde alwayes set foorth before my face: for he is on my ryght hande, that I shoulde not be moued.
26 Therfore dyd my heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad. Moreouer also my flesh shall reste in hope, 27 Because thou wylt not leaue my soule in hell, neither wylt thou suffer thyne holy one to see corruption.
28 Thou hast shewed me the wayes of lyfe, thou shalt make me full of ioy with thy countenaunce.
29 Ye men and brethren, let me freely speake vnto you of the patriarke Dauid: * For he is both dead and buryed, & and his sepulchre remayneth with vs vnto this day.
30 Therfore, seeyng he was a prophete, and knewe that God had sworne with an oth to hym, that Christe, as concernyng the flesh, should come of the fruite of his loynes, & should syt on his seate:
31 He knowyng this before, spake of the resurrection of Christe, that his soule shoulde not be left in hell, neither his flesh shoulde see corruption.
32 This Iesus hath God raysed vp, * wherof we all are witnesses.
33 Then sence that he by the ryght hande of God was exalted, and hath receaued of the father the promise of the holy ghost, he hath shed foorth this, which ye nowe see, and heare.
34 For Dauid is not ascended into heauē, but he sayeth: * The Lorde sayde to my Lorde, syt thou on my ryght, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstoole.
36 Therfore, let all the house of Israel knowe for a suretie, that God hath made that same Iesus, whom ye haue crucified, Lorde and Christe.
37 Nowe when they hearde this, they were pricked in their heartes, and sayde vnto Peter, & vnto the other Apostles: Ye men & brethren, * what shall we do?
38 Then Peter sayde vnto them: Repent, and be baptized euery one of you in the name of Iesus Christe, for the remission of sinnes, and ye shall receaue the gyft of the holy ghost.

¶ The .iij. Chapter.

¶ 7 The halt is restored to his feete. 12 Peter preacheth Christe vnto the people.

1 NOwe Peter and John went vp together into the temple at the nynth houre of prayer.

2 And a certayne man, that was lame from his mothers wombe, was brought, whom they layde dayly at the gate of the temple which is called beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into the temple.

3 When he sawe Peter and John that they woulde go into the temple, he desired to receaue an almes.

4 And Peter fastenyng his eyes vpon hym with John, sayde: Loke on vs.

5 And he gaue heede vnto thē, trustyng to receaue somethyng of them.

6 Then sayde Peter: Syluer and golde haue I none, but such as I haue, geue I thee: In the name of Jesus Christe of Nazareth, *ryse vp, and walke.

7 And he toke hym by the ryght hande, and lyft hym vp. And immediatly his feete and ancle bones receaued strength.

8 And he sprang, stoode, and walked, and entred with them into the temple, walkyng, and leaping, & praysyng God.

9 And all the people sawe hym walke, and praise God.

10 And they knewe hym, that it was he, which sate and begged at the beautifull gate of the temple. And they wondred, and were sore astonyed at that which had happened vnto hym.

11 And as the lame which was healed, helde Peter and John, all the people ran amased vnto them, in the *porche that is called Solomons. iii.Reg.vi.a. Iohn.ii.c. Actes.v.c.

7 The Apostles are brought before the counsell, 18 beyng forbydden to preache, obey God rather then man. 24 They pray for good successe. 32 The Churche increaseth in doctrine and exercises of all godlynesse.

A1 AND as they spake vnto ỹ people, the priestes & the ruler of the temple, and the saducees, came vpon them,

2 Takyng it greuously that they taught the people, and preached in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they layde handes on them, and put them in holde, vntyll the next day: for it was nowe euentyde.

20 For we cannot but speake that, which we haue seene and heard.

(a) Christe is called ỹ chefe corner, or corner stone, because the Jewes and the Gentiles are ioyned together and buylded vpon hym by fayth, and made one Churche.

(b) Neither Saint, nor Angel, nor workes, nor ought els can saue, but Christ alone.

21 So threatned they them, and let them go, and founde nothyng how to punishe them, because of the people: For all men praysed God, because of *that which was done.

22 For the man was about fourtie yere olde, on whom this miracle of healyng was shewed.

23 Then assoone as they were let go, they came to their felowes, and shewed all that the hye priestes and elders had sayde vnto them.

24 And when they hearde that, they lyft vp their voyces to God with one accorde, and sayde: Lorde, thou art God, which hast made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that in them is,

25 which by the mouth of thy seruaunt Dauid, hast sayde: *Why dyd the heathen rage, & the people imagine vayne thynges?

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lorde Jesu: And great grace was with them all.

34 Neither was there any among them, that lacked: For as many as were possessers of landes, or houses, solde them, & brought the price of the thynges that were solde,

35 And layed it downe at the Apostles feete: And distribution was made vnto euery man, accordyng as he had neede.

36 And *Joses, which was also called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is to say) the sonne of consolation, being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cypers, Actes.i.d.

2 And kept away part of the price, his wyfe also beyng of counsell, and brought a certayne part, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.

3 But Peter sayde: Ananias, howe is it, that Satan hath fylled thyne heart, that thou shouldest lye vnto the holy ghost, and kepe away part of the price of the lande?

4 Whyles it remayned, was it not thyne owne? And after it was solde, was it not in thyne owne power? why haste thou conceaued this thyng in thyne heart? Thou hast not lyed vnto men, but vnto God.

5 When Ananias hearde these wordes, he fell downe, and gaue vp the ghost. And great feare came on all them that hearde these thynges.

6 And the young men rose vp, and put hym a part, and caryed hym out, and buryed hym.

7 And it came to passe, that as it were B about the space of three houres after, his wyfe came in, ignorant of that which was done.

8 And Peter sayde vnto her: Tell me, Solde ye not the lande for so much? And she sayde: Yea, for so much.

Then

9 Then Peter sayde vnto her: Why haue ye agreed together, to tempt the spirite of the Lorde? Beholde, the feete of thē which haue buried thy husbande, are at the doore, and shall cary thee out.

10 Then fell she downe strayghtway at his feete, and yelded vp the ghost. And the young men came in, and founde her dead, and caryed her out, and buryed her by her husbande.

Actes.xii.a and.xvi.f.

20 Go, and stande & speake in the temple to the people, all the wordes of this lyfe.

21 And when they hearde that, they entred into the temple early in ỹ morning, and taught: But the chiefe priest came, and they that were with hym, & called a counsayle together, and all the elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to fet them.

22 But when the officers came, & founde them not in the prison, they returned, and tolde, 23 Saying: The prison truely founde we shut with all diligence, & the kepers standyng without, before the doores: But when we had opened, we founde no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe priest and the ruler of the temple, and the hye priestes hearde these thynges, they doubted of them, whervnto this would growe.

25 Then came one and shewed them, saying: Beholde, the men that ye put in prison, stande in the temple, and teache the people.

26 Then went the ruler of the temple, with the officers, and brought them without violence: (For they feared the people, lest they should haue ben stoned)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the counsell. And the chiefe priest asked them, 28 Saying: *dyd not we straytghtly commaunde you, that ye shoulde not teache in this name? And beholde, ye haue fylled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and intende to bryng (b) *this mans blood vpon vs.

Actes.iiii.d.

(b) By this speache, they meane ỹ they would charge them as guilty of Christes blood that was shed.

29 Then Peter and the other Apostles aunswered, and sayde: *we ought more to obey God then men.

31 Hym hath God lyft vp with his right hande, to be a prince and a sauiour, for to geue repentaunce to Israel, and forgeuenesse of sinnes.

32 And we are recordes of these thynges which we say, & so is also the holy ghost, whom God hath geuen to them that obey hym.

33 When they hearde that, they claue a sunder, and sought meanes to slea thē.

34 Then stoode there vp one in the counsell, a pharisee, named *Gamaliel, a doctour of lawe, had in reputation among all the people, and commaunded the Apostles to go aside a litle space, Act.xxiii.a.

35 And sayde vnto them: Ye men of Israel, take heede to your selues, what ye entende to do, as touchyng these men.

36 For before these dayes rose vp one Theudas, boastyng him selfe, to whom resorted a number of men, about a foure hundred, which was slayne: and they all which beleued hym, were scattered abrode, and brought to naught.

37 After this man, arose vp one Iudas of *Galilee, in the dayes of tribute, and drewe away much people after hym: he also perished, and all, euen as many 38 And nowe I saye vnto you, refrayne your selues frō these men, and let them alone: For yf this counsell or this worke be of men, it wyll come to naught.

39 But and yf it be of God, ye can not destroy it, lest haply ye be founde to stryue agaynst God.

40 And to hym agreed the other: And when they had called the Apostles, they beat them, *and commaunded that they shoulde not speake in the name of Iesu, and let them go. Act.iiii.d.

41 And they departed from the counsell, *reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke for his name. Math.v.b.

3 Seuen deacons are ordeyned in the Churche. 11 Steuen is accused.

A1 AND in those dayes, when the number of ỹ disciples grewe, there arose a grudge among the Grekes agaynst ỹ Hebrues, because their wydowes were despysed in the dayly ministerie.

3 Wherfore brethren, loke ye out among you seuen men *of honest report, & full of the holy ghost, and wysedome, to whō we may commit this busynesse. iii.c.

B4 But we wyll geue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministerie of the worde.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude. And they chose Steuen, a man full of fayth, and of the holy ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, & Timon, and Permenas, and Nicolas a conuert of Antioche. a.ii.b.

6 These they set before the apostles: and whē they had prayed, they *layde their handes on them. xxvii.d. iiii.d. iii.b.

(b) The wicked setteth foorth false witnesses, when they by reasonyng cā not preuayle agaynst the trueth: And thus malice seketh false Christes, when the trueth fayleth her.

12 And they moued the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came vppon hym, and caught him, and brought him to the counsell.

13 And brought foorth false witnesses, which sayde: This man ceasseth not to D speake blasphemous wordes agaynste this holy place and the lawe.

14 For we heard hym say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shal destroy this place, & shall chaunge the ordinaunces which Moyses gaue vs:

27 But Barnabas toke hym, & brought hym to the Apostles, and declared to them howe he had seene the Lorde in the way, & that he had spoken to hym, and howe he had done boldely at Damasco in the name of Jesu.

28 And he had his conuersation with thē at Hierusalem, 29 Speakyng boldly in the name of the Lorde Jesu. And he spake and disputed agaynst the Grekes: but they went about to slea hym.

Actes.xxi.c 30 Which whē the brethren knewe, *they brought hym to Cesarea, and sent hym foorth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest throughout all Jurie, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lorde, & multiplied by the comfort of the holy ghost.

F 32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he came also to the Saintes which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he founde a certayne man, named Eneas, which had kept his bed eyght yeres, & was sicke of the paulsie.

34 And Peter sayde vnto hym, Eneas, Jesus Christe make thee whole: arise, and make thy bedde. *And he arose immediatly. Math.ix.b. Mark.ii.b. Luk.v.c. Iohn.v.b. Actes.iii.b.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda, and Saron sawe hym, and turned to the Lorde.

36 There was also at Joppa a certayne woman, a disciple, named Tabitha, which by interpretatiō is called (c) Dorcas: the same was full of good workes and almes deedes, which she dyd.

(c) Tabitha is called Dorcas. Dorcas signifieth a roe Buck, a beast of sharp syght. Such an one was Tabitha to this effect, that she being on earth farre from heauen, dyd behold heauenly thinges, & drewe neare vnto heauen with godly workes.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes that she was sicke, and dyed: whom when they had washed, they layde her in an vpper chamber:

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nye to Joppa, and the disciples hadde hearde that Peter was there, they sent vnto hym two men, desyryng hym that he would not be greeued to come vnto them.

G 39 Then Peter arose, & came with them, and when he was come, they brought hym into the vpper chamber: And all the wydowes stoode rounde about him weepyng, and shewyng the coates and garmentes which Dorcas made whyle she was with them.

40 And Peter put them all foorth, and kneled downe, and prayed, and turned hym to the body, and sayde: Tabitha *aryse. And she opened her eyes, and when she sawe Peter, she sate vp. 3.Reg.xvi.d 4.Reg.iiii.f Luk.viii.c

41 And he gaue her the hande, and lyfte her vp: and when he hadde called the saintes and wydowes, he deliuered her alyue.

42 And it was knowen throughout all Joppa, & many beleued in the Lorde.

43 And it came to passe, that he taryed many dayes in Joppa, with one Simō a tanner.

¶ The .x. Chapter.

3 The vision that Peter sawe, 17 He was sent to Cornelius. 19 The heathen receaue the spirite, and are baptized.

1 THere was a certayne man in Cesarea, called Cornelius, a captayne of the bande called the Italian bande,

2 A deuoute man, & one ỳ feared God, with all his housholde, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God alway.

3 The same sawe by a vision euidently, about the ninth houre of the daye, an Angel of God commyng in to hym, and saying vnto hym, Cornelius.

4 And when he loked on hym, he was afrayde, and sayde: What is it Lorde? And he sayde vnto hym: Thy (a) prayers and thyne almes, are come vp into remembraunce before God.

5 And nowe sende men to Joppa, & call for one Simõ, whose sirname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea syde: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the Angell whiche spake vnto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his household seruauntes, and a deuout souldier of them that wayted on hym,

8 And tolde them all the matter, & sent them to Joppa.

9 On the morowe as they went on their iourney, and drewe nye vnto the citie, Peter went vp *vnto the highest part of the house to pray, about the sixth houre.

10 And whẽ he waxed hungry, he would haue eaten: But whyle they made redie, he fell into a traunce.

11 And saw (b) heauen opened, and a certaine vessell come downe vnto him, as it had ben a great sheete, knyt at the foure corners, & was let downe to the earth.

12 Wherin were *all maner of fourefooted beastes of the earth, & wilde beastes, and wormes, and foules of the ayre.

13 And there came a voyce to hym: ryse Peter, kyll and eate.

14 But Peter sayde, Not so Lorde: For I haue neuer eaten any thyng that is common or vncleane.

15 And the voyce spake vnto hym againe the seconde tyme: *What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thryse, and the vessell was receaued vp agayne into heauen.

17 Nowe whyle Peter doubted in hym selfe, what this vision whiche he hadde seene meant: beholde, the men whiche were sent from Cornelius, had made inquiraunce for Simons house, & stoode before the doore, 18 And called, and asked whether Simõ which was sirnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 Whyle Peter thought on the vision, the spirite said vnto hym: beholde, three men seke thee.

20 Arise therfore, and get the downe, and go with them, & doubt not, for I haue sent them.

21 Then Peter went downe to the men which were sẽt vnto him frõ Cornelius, & said: Behold, I am he whõ ye seeke, what is the cause wherfore ye are come?

22 And they sayde: Cornelius the captayne, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the people of the Jewes, was warned by an holy Angel to sende for thee into his house, and to heare wordes of thee.

23 Then called he them in, *and lodged them. And on the morowe, Peter went away with them, and *certaine brethren from Joppa accompanied hym. Gen.xix.a. D Actes.xi.b.

24 And the thirde day after, entred they into Cesarea: And Cornelius wayted for them, and hadde called together his kinsemen and speciall friendes.

25 And it came to passe, as Peter came in, Cornelius met hym, & fell downe (c) at his feete, and worshipped [hym.]

26 But Peter toke him vp, saying: stande vp, *I my selfe also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, & found many that were come together.

28 And he said vnto thẽ: Ye knowe how that *it is an vnlawful thyng for a man that is a Jew, to companie or come vnto one of another natiõ: But God hath shewed me, that I shoulde not call any man common or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without delay, assoone as I was sent for: I aske therfore, for what intent ye haue sent for me?

30 And Cornelius sayde: This day nowe foure dayes, about this houre, I sate

(c) Cornelius dyd reuerence Peter more then he ought to haue done, supposyng him eyther to be a God, eyther to be endued with such power & vertue, for the which he shoulde be honoured as God. Deut.viii.a.

(a) The prayers and almes of Cornelius pleased God, for he was circumcised: but whosoeuer sayth God can not be pleased. Lyke as ther is no difference betwene Jew and Gentyle (as Peter doth wel note) but that he sayth, whosoeuer worketh his workes and liueth as pleaseth God. For (saith he) he hath not to do with the outward workes, but considereth the inward sayth.

(b) This vision doth teach vs manifold mysteries. First, the restraunt of meates vnto the Jewes is taken away, & pertayneth not to Christians. Secondly, nowe, to whom nothing is vncleane, all creatures are clene. Thirdly, the Gentyles and workes of God are common vnto all men, who be receyued into the same tyme excluded: Lykewise the thyng figured by the foure corners of the sheete, which signifyeth the foure quarters of the world. Now, heauen is open to all that is inclosed in the sheete, which is the congregation of God.

E fasting, and at the nynth houre, I prayed in my house: And beholde, a man stoode before me in bryght clothyng, 31 And sayde: Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thyne almes deedes are had in remembraunce in the syght of God.

32 Sende therfore to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter: He is lodged in the house of one Simõ, a tanner, by the sea syde, who when he commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediatly, and thou hast well done that thou art come. Nowe therfore are we all here present before God, to heare all thynges that are commaunded vnto thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and ii.Par.xix.c Rom.ii.b. Ephe.vi.b. said: Of a trueth I perceaue that God hath no regarde of persons:

35 But in euery nation, he that feareth hym, and worketh ryghteousnes, is accepted with hym.

39 And we are witnesses of all thynges which he dyd in the land of the Jewes, and at Hierusalem, whom they slewe, and hanged on tree.

40 Hym God raysed vp the thirde daye, and shewed hym openly,

41 Not to al the people, but vnto vs witnesses, chosen before of God, euen to vs whiche dyd eate and drynke with hym after he arose *from the dead. Luk.xxiiii.d

42 And *he commaunded vs to preache Iohu.xxii.b Math.xx.d. vnto the people, and to testifie that it is he whiche was ordeyned of God to be the iudge of quicke and dead.

44 Whyle Peter yet spake these wordes, G *the holy ghost fell on all them whiche Actes.ii.a. heard the worde.

45 And they of the circumcision which beleued, were astonied, as many as came with Peter, because that on the gentiles also was shedde out the gyft of the holy ghost.

46 For they heard them speake with tounges, & magnifie God. Then aunswered Peter:

47 *Can any man forbid water, that these Actes.viii.f. shoulde not be baptized, which haue receaued the holy ghost aswell as we?

48 And he commaunded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tary certaine dayes.

¶ The.xj. Chapter.

4 Peter sheweth the cause why he went to the Gentiles. 18 The Churche approueth it. 22 Barnabas & Paul preache at Antiochia. 28 Agabus prophesieth dearth to come.

A 1 ND the apostles & brethrẽ that were in Jurie, heard that ỹ heathẽ had also receaued the worde of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Hierusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended agaynst hym, Deut.vii.a. 3 Saying: *Thou wentest in to men vncircũcised, & diddest eate with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the begynnyng, and expounded it by order vnto them, saying:

Actes.x.b. 5 *I was in the citie of Joppa praying, and in a traunce I sawe a vision, a certayne vessell descende, as it had ben a great sheete, let downe from heauen by the foure corners, and it came to me.

8 But I sayde, Not so Lorde: For nothyng common or vncleane hath at any tyme entred into my mouth.

15 And as I began to speake, the holy ghost fell on them, *as he dyd on vs at the begynnyng.

Actes.ii.a.

16 Then came it to my remembraunce, howe that the Lorde sayde: *John baptized with water, but ye shalbe baptized with the (b) holy ghost.

Iohn.i.d. Actes.i.a. (b) To be endued with holy ghost, is to receaue the visible giftes and gyftes of the holy ghost.

17 For as much then, as God gaue them the lyke gyft as he dyd vnto vs, When we beleued on the Lorde Jesus Christ: what was I, that I shoulde haue withstande God?

18 When they hearde these thynges, they helde their peace, and glorified God, sayyng: Then hath God also to ỹ Gentiles, graunted repentaunce vnto lyfe.

19 *They also which were scattered abrode through the affliction that arose about Steuen, walked throughout vnto Phenices, and Cypers, and Antioche, preachyng the worde to no man, but vnto the Jewes only.

Actes.viii.a.

20 And some of thē were men of Cypers, and Cyrenes, which when they were come to Antioche, spake vnto ỹ Grekes, and preached the Lorde Jesus.

21 And the hande of the Lorde was with them, and a great number beleued and turned vnto the Lorde.

22 Then tydynges of these thinges came D vnto the eares of the Churche, which was in Hierusalē: And they sent foorth Barnabas, that he shoulde go vnto Antioche.

23 Which when he came, and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and *exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleaue vnto the Lorde.

Actes. xiii.c

24 For he was a good man, and full of the holy ghost, and of fayth: And much people was added vnto the Lorde.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seeke Saul.

26 And when he had founde hym, he brought hym vnto Antioche. And it came to passe, that a whole yere they had their cōuersation with the Church there, & taught much people: in so much, that the disciples of Antioche, were the (c) first that were called Christians.

(c) Not for that they were the first Christians, but for ỹ people both of the Jewes and Gentiles grewe into one body, and were more bolde freely to confesse the fayth of Christe.

27 *And in those dayes, came prophetes from Hierusalem vnto Antioche.

28 And there stoode vp one of them named Agabus, and signified (d) by the spirite, that there shoulde be great dearth throughout all the worlde: Which came to passe in the dayes of Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples, euery man accordyng to his abilitie, purposed to sende *succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Jurie.

30 Which thyng they also dyd, and sent it to the elders by the handes of Barnabas and Saul.

¶ The .xij. Chapter.

1 Herode persecuteth the Christians, 2 killeth James, and putteth Peter in prison, 7 whom the Lorde delyuereth by an Angel. 21 The horrible death of Herode. 24 The Gospel florisheth. 25 Barnabas and Saul turnyng to Antiochia, take John Marke with them.

AT the same tyme Herode the king stretched foorth his handes to vexe certayne of the Churche.

Actes.iii.e.

2 And he killed *James the brother of John with the sworde.

3 And because he sawe it pleased the Jewes, he proceaded further, and toke Peter also. (Then were the dayes of sweete bread.)

4 And when he had caught hym, he put hym in prison also, and delyuered hym to foure quaternions of souldiers to be kept, intendyng after Easter to bryng hym foorth to the people.

5 And Peter was kept in prison: But prayer was made without ceassyng of the Churche, vnto God for hym.

6 And when Herode woulde haue brought hym foorth vnto the people, the same same nyght slept Peter betweene two souldiers, bounde with two chaynes, and the kepers before the dooze kept the pryson.

Actes.v.d. 7 And beholde, *the Angel of ꝑ Lorde was there present, and a lyght shyned in the habitation: And he smote Peter on the syde, and stirred hym vp, saying:
Aryse vp quickly. And his chaynes fell of from his handes.
8 And the Angel sayde vnto hym: gyrde thy selfe, & bynde on thy sandales. And so he dyd. And he sayeth vnto hym: cast thy garment about thee, and folow me.
9 And he came out and folowed hym, and wyst not that it was trueth which was done by the Angel, but thought he had seene a vision.
10 When they were past the first and the seconde watch, they came vnto the yron Actes.v.d. gate, that leadeth vnto the citie, *which opened to them by the owne accorde:
And they went out, and passed through one streate, and foorthwith the Angel departed from hym.
11 And when Peter was come to hym selfe, he sayde: Nowe I knowe of a suertie, that the Lorde hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hande of Herode, and from all the waytyng for, of the people of the Jewes.
12 And as he considered the thyng, he came to the house of Marie the mother of John, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together
Actes.i.b. * in prayer.
13 As Peter knocked at the entrie dooze, a damsell came foorth to hearken, named Rhoda.
14 And when she knewe Peters voyce, she opened not the dooze for gladnesse, but ran in, and tolde howe Peter stoode before the dooze.
15 And they sayde vnto her: thou art mad. But she affirmed that it was euen
so. Then sayde they: it is (a) his Angel.
16 But Peter continued knockyng: And when they had opened the dooze, and sawe hym, they were astonyed.
17 *And when he had beckened vnto the with the hande, that they myght holde their peace, he tolde them by what meanes the Lorde had brought hym out of the pryson. And he sayde: Go shewe these thynges vnto James and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.
18 Nowe assoone as it was day, there was no litle adoe among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.
19 And when Herode had sought for hym, and founde hym not, he examined the kepers, and commaunded them to be caryed away. And he descended from Jurie to Cesarea, and there abode.
20 And Herode was displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: But they came all with one accorde to hym, and made intercession vnto Blastus the kynges chaumberlayne, and desired peace, because their countrey was norysshed by the kyng.
21 And vpon a day appoynted, Herode arayed hym in royall apparell, and set hym in his seate, and made an oration vnto them.
22 And the people gaue a shout [saying]
It is the voyce of God, & not of a man.
23 And immediatly the Angel of ꝑ Lorde smote hym, because he gaue not God ꝑ honour, & he was eaten of (b) wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.
24 And the worde of God grewe and
(c) multiplied.
25 And Barnabas and Saul returned to Hierusalem, when they had fulfylled their office, and toke with them *John, whose surname was Marke.

(a) For they did knowe by Gods worde, that Angels were appoynted to defende the faythfull, & also in those dayes, they were accustomed to see such syghtes.

(b) The vilenesse of the punyshment declareth here that God detesteth pride and tyranny. Herod gaundfather also was eaten of lice.

(c) The more that tyrantes go about to suppresse gods worde, the more doth it increase and multiplie.

¶ The. xiij. Chapter.

2 Paul and Barnabas are called to preache among the gentiles. 7 Of Sergius Paulus, and Elymas the sorcerer. 13 The departure of Marke. 14 Paul preacheth at Antiochia. 26 The Jewes are reiected. 28 They that are ordayned to lyfe, beleue.

A  here was also in the Churche that was at Antioche, certayne prophetes, and teachers: as Barnabas and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen, which had ben norysshed vp with Herode the tetrarch, and Saul.
2 As they ministred to the (c) Lorde and fasted, the holy ghost sayde: Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke wherunto I haue called them.
3 And when they had fasted & prayed, & layde their hãdes on thẽ, they let thẽ go.
And

(a) The worde signifieth, to execute a publike office, as the Apostles was, so that here is shewed, that they preached and prophesied, & dyd not offer a sacrifice, or say masse at Antioche, as some vntruely gather.

4 And they, after they were sent foorth of the holy ghost, departed vnto Seleucia, & from thence they sealed to Cyprus.
5 And when they were at Salamine, they preached the worde of God in the synagogues of the Jewes: And they had also *John to their minister.
6 And when they had gone through the Ile vnto Paphos, they founde a certayne sorcerer, a false prophete, a Jewe, whose name was Barjesu:
7 Which was with the deputie of the countrey, one Sergius Paulus, a prudent man: The same called vnto hym Barnabas and Saul, and desired to heare the worde of God.
8 But Elymas *the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstoode them, and sought to turne the deputie away from the fayth.
9 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) beyng full of the holy ghost, set his eyes on hym,
10 And sayde: O full of all subtiltie and all mischiefe, thou chylde of the deuyll, thou enemie of all righteousnesse, wylt thou not cease to peruert the wayes of the Lorde?
11 And nowe beholde, the hande of the Lorde is vpon thee, and thou shalt be blynde, and not see the sunne for a season. And immediatly, there fell on hym a myste, and a darcknesse, and he went about, seekyng [them] that shoulde leade hym by the hande.
12 Then the deputie, when he sawe what was done, *beleued, and wondred at the doctrine of the Lorde.
13 Nowe when they that were with Paul, were departed frō Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: And *John departed from them, and returned to Hierusalem.
14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioche in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on ỹ Sabboth day, and sate downe.
15 And after the lecture of the lawe and the prophetes, the rulers of the synagogue sent vnto them, saying: Ye men and brethren, yf ye haue any worde to exhort the people, say on.
16 Then Paul stoode vp, and *beckened with the hande, and sayde: Men of Israel, & ye that feare God, geue audience.
17 The God of this people of Israel, chose our fathers, & exalted the people, when they dwelt as straungers in the lande of Egypt, and *with an hye arme brought he them out of it.
18 And about the tyme of fourtie yeres, suffred he their maners in the wylderneſſe.
19 And he destroyed seuen nations in the lande of Chanaan, * and deuyded their lande to them by lot.
20 And afterwarde, *he gaue vnto them iudges, about the space of foure hundred and fyftie yeres, vnto the tyme of Samuel the prophete.
21 And afterwarde, they *desired a kyng, and God gaue vnto them * Saul, the sonne of Cis, a man of the tribe of Beniamin, by the space of fourtie yeres.
22 And when he was put downe, he set vp Dauid to be their kyng, of whom he reported, saying: * I haue founde Dauid the sonne of Jesse, a man after mine owne heart, which shall fulfyll all my wyll.
23 *Of this mans seede, hath God accordyng to his promise brought foorth to Israel, the sauiour Jesus.
24 When John had first preached before his commyng, the * baptisme of repentaunce to all the people of Israel.
25 And when John had fulfylled his course, he sayde: *whom ye thynke that I am, the same am I not. But behold, there commeth one after me, whose shoes of his feete I am not worthy to loose.
26 ☞Ye men and brethren, chyldren of the generation of Abraham, and whosoeuer among you feareth God, * to you is the worde of this saluation sent.
27 For they that dwell at Hierusalem, and their rulers, because * they knewe hym not, nor yet the voyces of the prophetes which are read euery Sabboth day, they haue fulfylled them in condempnyng hym:
28 *And though they founde no cause of death in hym, yet desired they Pilate to kyll hym.
29 And when they had fulfylled all that were written of hym, they toke hym downe from the tree, and put hym in a sepulchre.
30 But God rayled hym agayne from the dead:

Abacuc.i.a. 41 *Beholde ye despisers, and wonder, and perishe ye: for I do a worke in your dayes, a worke which ye shal not beleue though a man declare it you.
42 And when they were gone out of the synagogue of the Jewes, the Gentiles besought that they woulde preache these wordes to them ẏ next Sabboth.
43 Nowe when the congregration was broken vp, many of the Jewes and vertuous proselytes folowed Paul & Barnabas, which spake to them, * and exhorted them to continue in the grace of God. ☞ Actes.xi.d.
44 And the nexte Sabboth day came almost the whole citie together, to heare the worde of God.
45 But when the Jewes sawe the people, they were full of indignation, and spake agaynst those thynges which were spoken of Paul, speakyng against, and raylyng.
46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bolde, and sayde: It was meete * that the worde of God shoulde first haue ben spoken to you: but seeyng ye put it from you, and thynke your selues vnworthy of euerlastyng lyfe, loe, we turne to the Gentiles, Math.x.b.
47 For so hath the Lorde commaunded G vs. * I haue made thee a lyght of the Gentiles, that thou be the saluation vnto the ende of the worlde. Esai.xlix.b. Luk.i.e.
48 And when the Gentiles hearde this, they were glad, and glorified the worde of the Lorde, and as many as were ordayned to eternall lyfe, beleued.
49 And the worde of the Lorde was publisshed throughout all the region.
50 But the Jewes moued the deuout and (c) honest women, and the chiefe men of the citie, and raysed persecution agaynst Paule and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coastes:
51 *But they shoke of the dust of (d) their feete against them, and came vnto Iconium.
52 And the disciples were fylled with ioy, and with the holy ghost. ☞

(c) These were welthie and substantial women, and yet superstitious, beyng led with a blynde zeale, whom ẏ common people esteemed very godly, and therfore Luke speketh here of their women, as ẏ worlde esteemed of them.
(d) This they dyd according to the commaundement of the Gospel, for a witnesse of their traiayle, that they came into their citie and offered to them the doctrine of the Gospel, which they contemned, and therby signified also that they so detested their companie, for this their contempt, that they woulde not haue the dust of their citie hange vpon their shoes.

¶ The. xiiij. Chapter.

1 God geueth successe to his worde. 6 Paul and Barnabas preache at Iconium, and are persecuted. 13 At Lystra they woulde do sacrifice to Barnabas and Paul. 19 Paul is stoned. 22 They confirme the disciples in fayth & patience. 23 They appoynt ministers.

AND it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jewes, & so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jewes, & also of the Grekes beleued.
2 But the vnbeleuyng Jewes, stirred vp, and corrupted the myndes of the Gentiles agaynst the brethren.
3 Long tyme therfore abode they there, and quyt them selues boldely, with the helpe of the Lorde, which gaue testimonie vnto the worde of his grace, and graunted signes & wonders to be done by their handes.
4 But the multitude of the citie was deuided:

(a) deuided: and part helde with the Jewes, and part with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the gentiles, and also of the Jewes, with their rulers, to do them violence, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and *fled vnto Lystra & Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the regiõ that lieth rounde about:

7 And there preached the (b) Gospell.

8 And there sate a certayne man at Lystra, weake in his feete, beyng *a creple from his mothers wombe, and neuer had walked.

9 The same hearde Paul speake: which beholdyng hym, and̄ perceauyng that he had fayth to be whole,

10 Sayde with a loude voyce: stande vpryght on thy feete. And he *start vp, and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lyft vp their voyces, sayyng in the speache of Lycaonia: *Gods are come downe to vs in the lykenesse of men.

12 And they called Barnabas Jupiter, and Paul Mercurius, because he was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then Jupiters priest, which was before their citie, brought oxen and garlandes vnto the doore, and would haue done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the Apostles, Barnabas & Paul heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying, 15 And saying: Sirs, why do ye these thynges? *We are mortall men lyke vnto you, and preach vnto you, that ye shoulde turne from these vanities, vnto the lyuyng God, *which made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all thynges that are therin.

16 The which in tymes past suffred all nations to walke in their owne wayes.

17 *Neuertheles, he left not hym selfe without witnesse, in that he shewed his benefites from heauen, in geuyng vs rayne and fruitefull seasons, fillyng our hartes with foode and gladnesse.

18 And with these sayinges, scarce refrayned they the people, that they had not done sacrifice vnto them.

19 Then thyther came certayne Jewes from Antioche and Iconium: which, whē they had perswaded the (c) people, and had stoned Paule, drewe hym out of the citie, supposyng he had ben dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stoode round about hym, he arose vp, and came into the citie: And the next day, he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached to that citie, and had taught many, they returned agayne to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioche, 22 And strengthed the disciples soules agayne, and *exhorted them to continue in the fayth, and that we must *through much tribulation enter into the kyngdome of God.

23 And when they had ordeyned them elders by election in euery Churche, and had prayed, with (d) fastyng, they commended them to the Lorde, on whom they beleued.

24 And when they had gone throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia,

25 And when they had spoken the worde in Perga, they descended into Attalia, 26 And thence departed by shippe to Antioche, from whence they were committed vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they fulfylled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Churche together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, & howe he had opened the doore of fayth vnto the gentiles.

28 And there they abode long tyme with the disciples.

(b) Is it ī case ye wrie vnto vs? God, so better an exchāge that ye depart from all the worlde, and be at vnite with God, by beleeuyng at Christ Iesu hym, to haue peace with the worlde.

(b) The perfection of the Gospel is an occasion oft times of persecutiō vnto the preacher of the Gospel.

(c) They that a litle before, would haue worshipped Paul as God, nowe they are content that he shoulde be stoned as a wicked man, such inconstancie is in the ignorant multitude.

(d) Here we learne, that when soeuer we go about any waighty matter, we ought with abstinence prepare our myndes vnto prayer, that it may be the more earnest.

¶ The.xv. Chapter.

1 The decree of the Apostles concernyng circumcision, and other ceremonies of the Jewes. 35 Paul and Barnabas preache in Antioche. 39 Paul & Barnabas fallyng at stryfe, brake companie.

1 AND certayne men which came downe frō Jurie, taught the brethren, *except ye be circumcised after the maner of Moyses, ye can not be saued.

2 So, when there was rysen discention and disputyng, not a litle vnto Paul and Barnabas, agaynst them: they determyned that Paul and *Barnabas, and certayne other of them, shoulde go vp to Hierusalem, vnto the Apostles and elders, about this question.

And

3 And after they were brought on their way by ỹ Churche, they passed through Phenices and Samaria, declaryng the conuersation of the gentiles, and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethen.

4 And when they were come to Hierusalem, they were receaued of ỹ Church, and of the Apostles and elders: And they declared all thynges that God had done with them.

5 Then rose vp certayne of the sect of the pharisees, which dyd beleue, sayng that it was needefull to circumcise thẽ, and to commaunde to kepe the lawe of Moyses.

6 And the Apostles and elders came together, for to consider of this matter.

7 And when there had ben much disputyng, Peter rose vp, and sayde vnto thẽ: Ye men & brethren, ye knowe how that a good while ago, God did chose among vs, that the gentiles by my mouth, shoulde heare the worde of the Gospel, and beleue.

8 And God which * knoweth the hearres, bare them witnesse, and gaue vnto them the holy ghost, euen as he dyd vnto vs: Actes.i.b. Psal.vii.c. i para.28.b.

9 And put no difference betwene vs and them, purifyng their *hearres by fayth. Iohn.xiii.b.

10 Nowe therfore, why tempt ye God, to put on the disciples neckes, the (a) yoke *which neither our fathers nor we were able to beare:

(a) He meaneth the holy lawe, and not ỹ ceremonies only, & calleth it a yoke not able to be borne, because no man, not ỹ most holyest and perfect that euer was (Christe only excepted) was able to perfourme the same in all poyntes, both outwardly according to the letter, and inwardly according to the spirite.

11 But we beleue, that through the grace of the Lorde Jesu Christe, we shalbe saued, euen as they.

12 Then all the multitude was scilent, and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, which tolde what signes and wonders, God had shewed among the gentiles by them.

13 And when they helde their peace, James aunswered, sayng: Men and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 Simeon tolde, howe God at the begynnyng dyd visite, to receaue of the gentiles, a people in his name.

(b) The prophete in this place, prophecied of Christes comming in the flesh, which shoulde buyld agayne ỹ tabernacle of Dauid, which figured Gods Churche, but then vtterly defaced and brought to ruine, by the phar sees and Scribes superstitions.

15 And to this agree the wordes of the prophetes, as it is Written:

16 * After this I wyll returne, and wyll buylde agayne the (b) tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe: and that which is fallen in decay of it, wyll I buylde agayne, and I wyll set it vp:

17 That the residue of men myght seke after the Lorde, and all the gentiles vpon whom my name is called, sayth the Lorde, which doth all these thynges.

18 Knowen vnto God are all his workes from the begynnyng of the worlde.

19 Wherfore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the gentiles, are turned to God:

20 But that we write vnto them, that they absteyne them selues * from fylthynesse of idols, and frõ fornication, and from strangled, and * from blood. Exod.xx.a. Gen.ix.a. Leuit.vii.e.

21 For Moyses of olde tyme, hath in euery citie, them that preache hym in the synagogues, when he is read euery Sabboth day.

22 Then pleased it the Apostles & elders, D with the whole Church, to sende chosen mẽ of their owne companie to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas: [That is] *Judas, whose sirname was Barsabas, and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, Iohn.xiiii.a

23 And wrote letters by them, after this maner.

24 The Apostles, and elders, & brethren, sende greetinges vnto ỹ brethren, which are of the gentiles in Antiochia, Syria, & Cilicia. Forasmuch as we haue heard, E that certayne which departed from vs, haue troubled you with wordes, & cumbred your myndes, saying ye must be circumcised and kepe the lawe, to whõ we gaue no such commaundent:

25 It seemed therfore to vs a good thing, when we were come together with one accorde, to sende chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue ieoparded their lyues, for ỹ name of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

27 We haue sent therefore Judas and Silas, which shall also tell you ỹ same thynges by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy ghost, and to vs, to charge you with no more then these necessarie thynges [That is to say]

29 That ye abstayne from thynges offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication: From which yf ye kepe your selues, ye shall do well. So fare ye well.

30 Nowe therfore, when they were de- F parted, they came to Antioche, and gathered the multitude together, and delyuered the epistle.

31 which when they had read, they reioyced of the consolation.

And

32 And Judas, and Silas, beyng prophetes, exhorted ỹ brethren with many wordes, and strengthed them.
33 And after they had taryed there a space, they were let go in peace of the brethren, vnto the Apostles.
34 Notwithstandyng, it pleased Silas to abyde there styll.
35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioche, teachyng and preachyng the worde of the Lorde, with other many.
36 But after a certayne space, Paul sayde vnto Barnabas: Let vs go agayne, and visite our brethren, in euery citie where we haue shewed ỹ worde of the Lorde, [and see] howe they do.
37 And Barnabas gaue counsell to take with them John, whose surname was Marke.
38 But Paul woulde not take hym vnto their companie, * which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke. * Actes.xii.e.
39 And the (c) contention was so sharpe betwene thẽ, that they departed a sunder, one from the other, and so Barnabas toke Marke, & sayled vnto Cypers. (c) God suffereth ỹ most perfect to fall, and yet turne their infirmities to the settyng forth of his glory, as this breache of companie, caused the Gospel to be preached in mo places.
40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, beyng committed of the brethren vnto the grace of God.
41 And he went through Cyria & Cilicia, stablishyng the Churches.

¶ The. xvj. Chapter.

1 Paul circumciseth Timothie. 7 The spirite calleth them from one countrey to another. 24 Lydia is conuerted. 28 Paul and Silas imprisoned, conuert the iaylour, 37 and are delyuered because they be Romanes.

A1 Then came he to Derbe and to Lystra: And beholde, a certayne disciple was there, named Timotheus, a womans sonne which was a Jewesse, and beleued: but his father was a Greke.
2 Of whom the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium, reported well.
3 Paul woulde that he should go forth with hym, and toke & circumcised hym, because of the Jewes, which were in those quarters: for they knewe all, that his father was a Greke.
4 And as they went through the cities, they delyuered them the decrees for to kepe, that were * ordayned of ỹ Apostles and elders, which were at Hierusalem. * Actes.xv.e.
5 And so were the Churches stablished in the fayth, and encreased in number dayly.
B6 Nowe when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, and * were forbidden of the holy ghost to preache the worde in Asia, * Rom.i.c.
7 They comming to Mysia, sought to go into Bithynia: but the spirite suffred them not.
8 And they passyng through Mysia, came downe to * Troada. * Actes.xviii.c.
9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the nyght: There stoode a man of Macedonia, and prayed hym, saying: Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.
10 And after he had seene ỹ visiõ, immediatly we prepared to go into Macedonia, beyng certified that ỹ Lorde had called vs, for to preache the Gospel vnto them. C
11 When we loosed forth then from Troada, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:
12 And from thence, to Philippos, which is the chiefe citie in the partes of Macedonia, and a free citie: And we were in that citie abydyng certayne dayes.
13 And on the day of the Sabbothes, we went out of the citie, besydes a ryuer, where prayer was wont to be made: And we sate downe, and spake vnto the women which resorted thyther.
14 And a certayne woman, named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worshipped God, gaue vs audience: whose hearte the Lorde opened, that she attended vnto the thynges which Paul spake.
15 And when she was baptized, and her householde, she besought vs, saying: If ye haue iudged me to be faythfull to the Lorde, come into my house, and abyde there. And she constrayned vs. D
16 And it came to passe, as we went to prayer, a certayne damsell, possessed with a spirite of (a) southsaying met vs: which brought her maisters much vantage with southsaying. (a) whiche coulde tell of thynges past, and gesse of thynges to come, which knowledge in many thinges God permitteth to the dyuyll, to this ende (as Austen noteth) that he myght ỹ more myghtelye deceaue those ỹ would beleue hym.
17 The same folowed Paul and vs, and cryed, saying: These men are the ser-

uauntes of the most hye God, which shewe vnto vs the way of saluation.
18 And this dyd she many dayes. But Paul not content, turned about, & sayde to the spirite, I commaunde thee *in the name of Jesu Christe, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.
Mat.xvi.d.
19 And when her maisters sawe that the *hope of their gaynes was gone, they caught Paul & Silas, and drewe them into the market place, vnto the rulers, Actes.xix.c
20 And brought them to the officers, saying: These men trouble our citie, being Jewes:
21 And preache ordinauntes, which are not lawfull for vs to receaue, neither to obserue, seeyng we are Romanes.
22 And the people ran agaynst them, and the officers rent their clothes, and commaunded them * to be beaten with roddes.
ii Cor.xi.f.
23 And when they had beaten them sore, they cast them into prison, commaundyng the iayler of the prison to kepe them diligently.
24 Which when he had receaued such commaundement, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feete fast in the stockes.
25 And at mydnyght Paul and Silas prayed, and lauded God. And the prysoners hearde them.
26 And sodenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken, and *immediatly all the doores opened, and euery mans bandes were loosed.
Actes.v.d. and.xii.b.
27 When the keper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and sawe the prison doores open, he drewe out his sworde and woulde haue kylled hym selfe, supposyng that the prysoners had ben fled.
28 But Paul cryed with a loude voyce, saying: Do thy selfe no harme, for we are all here.
29 Then he called for a lyght, and sprang in, and came tremblyng, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, & sayde: Syrs, *what must I do to be saued?
Luk.iii.a. Actes.ii.f. Iohn.vi.b.
31 And they sayde: *beleue on the Lorde Jesus Christe, and thou shalt be saued, and thy household.
32 And they spake vnto hym the worde of the Lorde, and to all that were in his house.
33 And he toke them the same houre of the nyght, and washed their woundes, and was baptized hym selfe, & all they of his household strayght way.
34 And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and *ioyed that he with all his household beleued on God.
Luk.xix.g.
35 And when it was day, the officers sent the sergeauntes, saying: Let those men go.
36 And the keper of the prison tolde this saying to Paul, the officers haue sent worde to loose you. Nowe therfore, get you hence, and go in peace.
37 Then sayde Paul vnto them: They haue beaten vs openly vncondempned, beyng Romanes, and haue cast vs into prison: and nowe woulde they thrust vs out priuily? Nay verely, but let them come them selues, and fet vs out.
38 And the sergeaunts tolde these wordes vnto the officers, and they feared when they hearde that they were Romanes.
39 *And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired thē to depart out of the citie.
Math.viii.d
40 And they went out of the prison, and entred into the [house] of Lydia, & when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

The.xvij. Chapter.

1 Paul commeth to Thessalonica, where the Jewes set the citie in an vprore. 15 Paul escapeth to Athens, where he preacheth the vnknowen God.

NOw they made their iourney thorowe Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jewes.
2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabboth dayes disputed with thē out of the scriptures,
3 Openyng and alleagyng, that *Christ must needes haue suffred, and rysen agayne from the dead, and that this is Christe Jesus, which I preache to you.
Luk. 24.g.
4 And *some of them beleued, and ioyned with Paul and Silas, and of the deuout Actes.28.f.
Grekes

Grekes a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a fewe.

5 But the Jewes whiche beleued not, moued with enuie, toke vnto them certaine bagaboundes and euyll men, and gathered a companie, and set all the citie on a roze, and made assault vnto the house of Jason, & sought to bryng them out to the people.

6 And when they founde them not, they dzewe Jason and certaine brethren vnto the heades of the citie, crying: these that trouble the world, are come hyther also,

7 whom Jason hath receaued [priuily.] *And these al do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, (a) saying that there is another kyng [one] Jesus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the officers of the citie, when they hearde these thynges.

9 And when they were sufficiently aunswered of Jason, and of the other, they let them go.

10 And the brethren immediatlye sent away Paul & Silas by nyght, vnto Berea: which when they were come thyther, they entred into the synagogue of the Jewes.

11 These were the noblest of birth among them of Thessalonica, which receaued the worde with all redynesse of mynde, and searched *the scriptures dayly, whether those thynges were so.

12 Therfore many of them beleued. Also of honest women which were Grekes, and of men not a fewe.

13 But when the Jewes of Thessalonica had knowledge that ỹ worde of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thyther and moued the people.

14 And then immediatly the brethren sent away Paul, to go as it were to the sea: but *Silas & Timotheus abode there styll.

15 And they that guyded Paul, brought hym vnto Athens, and receaued a commaundement vnto Silas & Timotheus for to come to hym with speede, & went their way.

16 Whyle Paul wayted for them at Athens, his spirite was moued in hym, when he sawe the citie geuẽ to worshipping of idoles.

17 Therfore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jewes, and with the deuout persons, and in the market dayly with them that came vnto hym by chaunce.

18 Then certaine philosophers of the (b) Epicures, and of the Stoickes disputed with hym. And some saide: What wyll this babler say? Other some, he seemeth to be a setter fooꝛth of newe gods: because he preached vnto them Jesus, and the resurrection.

19 And they toke hym, and brought him into Marce streate, saying: Maye we not knowe what this newe doctrine wherof thou speakest is?

20 For thou bryngest certaine straunge thinges to our eares: we would knowe therfore what these thynges meane.

21 For all the Athenians and straungers which were there, gaue them selues to nothing els, but either to tell or to heare some newe thyng.

22 Then Paul stoode in the myddes of Marce streate, and sayde: ye men of Athens, I perceaue that in all thynges ye are to superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheilde the maner howe ye worship your gods, I founde an aulter, wherin was written, F vnto the vnknowẽ god. Whom ye then ignorauntly worship, him shewe I vnto you.

24 *God that made the worlde, & all that are in it, seing that he is Lorde of heauẽ and earth, *dwelleth not in temples made with handes:

25 Neither is worshipped with mens handes, as though he needed of any thing, seing he him selfe *geueth life and breath to all, euery where.

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men, for to dwell on all ỹ face of the earth, & hath determined the tymes before appoynted, and also the boundes of their habitation:

27 That they shoulde seke the Lorde, yf perhappes they myght haue felt and founde hym, though he be not farre frõ euery one of vs.

28 For in hym we liue, and moue, & haue our beyng, as certaine of your owne poetes sayde: for we are also his offspryng.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the (c) offspring of God, we ought not to thynke that the Godhead is lyke vnto golde, siluer, or stone, grauen by art, and mans deuice.

30 And the tyme of this ignorannce God wynncked at: but nowe byddeth all men euery where to repent:

(a) like qua ỹ wryngs, ỹ vsed a- ỹ Christ. whiche be reasons. wherby the ỹ old conti- ỹ tyghe- ỹ against ỹ members Christe, den and con.

(b) The Epicures were a sect of learned men, whiche (beyng without the knowledge of God) held: opinion, that ther was no lyfe or hope after this life, but that all mans felicitie dyd consist in ỹ pleasures of this worlde.

E The Stoickes were an other kynde of learned men, whiche lykewyse wantynge the knowledge of God, affirmed ỹ mans whole felicitie & happynesse did cõsist in the qualities and vertues of the mynde.

(c) The Apostle learneth vs the generation of God, not that we be of ỹ substance and nature of God, but because God hath created vs, and by his sonne Jesus Christe hath redeemed vs, and made vs his children by adoption.

31 Because he hath appoynted a day in the which he wyll iudge the worlde in ryghteousnesse, by that man by whom he hath appoynted, and hath offered fayth to all men, in that he hath rayſed hym from the dead.

32 And when they hearde of the reſurrection from the dead, ſome mocked, and other sayde, We wyll heare thee agayne of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit, certaine men claue vnto hym, and beleued: among the whiche was Denys Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, & other with them.

¶ The .xviij. Chapter.

3 Paul preacheth at Corinth. 19 Paul goeth agayne into Syria, and commeth to Epheſus and Antioche. 24 Of Apollos, 26 Aquila and Priſcilla.

1 After theſe thynges, Paul departed frō Athens, & came to Corinth,

2 And found a certaine Iewe, named Aquila, borne in Pouthus, lately come frō Italie with his wyfe Priſcilla (becauſe that Claudius had commaunded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and he came vnto them.

12 And when Gallio was the deputie of Achaia, the Iewes made inſurrection with one accord againſt Paul, & brought hym to the iudgement ſeate, 13 Saying: This felow counſelleth men to worſhip God contrary to the lawe.

14 And when Paul nowe was about to open his mouth, Gallio ſayde vnto the Iewes: If it were a matter of wrong, or an euyll deede, O ye Iewes, reaſon woulde that I ſhoulde beare with you:

15 But yf it be a queſtion of wordes and names, or of your lawe, loke ye to it your ſelues: for I wyll be no iudge of ſuch matters.

16 And he draue them frō the iudgement ſeate.

17 Then all the Grekes toke Soſtenes the chiefe ruler of ỹ ſynagogue, & ſmote hym before the iudgement ſeate: And Gallio cared for none of thoſe thinges.

18 And Paul after this, taried there yet a good whyle, and then toke his leaue of the brethren, & ſayled thence into Syria, (Aquila & Priſcilla accompanying him) And he ſhore his head in (b) Cenchrea, for he had a vowe.

(b) Cenchrea is a hauen at Corinth, where Paul takyng ſhippe dyd ſheare his head, accordyng to his vowe. For according to the lawe of Moyſes, they that vowed themſelues to God, were commaunded to ſuffer their heere to grow, as long as they would continue Nazarites, and afterward to ſheare it, and to burne it. This dyd Paul, not forgettyng what he had before decreed with the Apoſtles, touchynge the abroliſhyng of the lawe: but leſte ỹ Iewes which beleued ſhould be offended, he vayned hym ſelfe a Iewe to wyn the Iewes.

19 And he came to Epheſus, and left thē there, but he hym ſelfe entred into the ſynagogue, & reaſoned with ỹ Iewes.

20 When they deſired him to tary longer tyme with them, he conſented not:

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I muſt needes at this feaſt that commeth be in Hieruſalem: but I wyll returne agayne vnto you yf God wyll. And he ſayled from Epheſus.

22 And whē he was come vnto Ceſarea, and aſcended vp & ſaluted the Churche, he went to Antioche.

23 And whē he had taried there a while, he departed, and went ouer al the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, ſtrengthyng all the diſciples.

And

D 24 And a certaine Jewe, named *Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and myghtie in the scriptures.

*Cor.1.b.

25 The same was informed in the way of the Lorde, and spake feruently in the spirite, & taught diligently the thynges of the Lorde, and knewe but the baptisme of John only.

26 And the same began to speake boldly in the synagogue. Whom When Aquila and Priscilla had hearde, they toke him vnto them, and (c) expounded vnto him the way of God more perfectly.

(c) Apollo being a witte & a learned mā, was not ashamed to be taught & instructed in the doctrine of christ, of a poore craftes man and his wyfe.

27 And When he was disposed to go into Achaia, the brethrē wrote, exhorting the disciples to receaue hym: Which When he was come, helped them much which had beleued through grace.

28 For he ouercame the Jewes myghtilye, and that openly, shewyng by the scriptures, that Jesus was Christe.

¶ The .xix. Chapter.

3 Of baptisme. 6 Of the holy ghost geuen by Paules handes. 9 The Jewes blaspheme the doctrine of Paul. 13 The punyshment of the coniurers. 24 Demetrius rayseth sedition. 41 God delyuereth his, and appeaseth the sedition.

1 A

AND it came to passe, ỳ Whyle Apollo was at Corinth, Paul passed through the vpper coastes, and came to Ephesus, and founde certaine disciples,

2 And sayde vnto them: Haue ye receaued the (a) holy ghost sence ye beleued? And they saide vnto hym: We haue not hearde Whether there be any holy ghost or no.

(a) By the gyfte of ghoste which the measure of the distribution of graces of the holy spirite.

3 And he sayde vnto them: Unto What then Were ye baptized? And they sayde: vnto (b) Johns baptisme.

(b) By this figure, Johns baptisme signifieth Johns doctrine, whiche therfore is called, for that the sealed doctrine of the scale of baptisme in whom that beleued.

4 Then sayde Paul: John verily baptized With the baptisme of repentaunce, saying vnto the people, that they should beleue on hym Which shoulde come after hym, that is, on Christe Jesus.

5 When they heard this, they Were baptized (c) in the name of the Lorde Jesu.

(c) They that were baptized were not baptized with the name of the father, sonne, & holy ghost, but in the name of the Lorde Jesu. For John baptized with baptisme: but they were baptized with the gyftes of the holy ghost, which Saunt Luke declareth howe it came, where it was by the layenge on of S. Paules handes.

6 And Whē Paul had layde his handes vpon them, the holy ghost came on thē, and they spake With tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men Were about twelue.

8 And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldlye for the space of three monethes, disputyng & persuadyng those thynges that appertayne to the kyngdome of God.

9 But When diuers Waxed harde hearted, and beleued not, but spake euyll of the Way [of the Lorde] and that before the multitude, he departed from them, & seperated ỳ disciples. And he disputed dayly in the scoole of one called Tyrannus.

B

10 And this continued by the space of two yeres, so that all they Whiche dWelt in Asia, hearde the worde of the Lord Jesu, both Jewes and Grekes.

11 And God *Wrought speciall miracles by the handes of Paul.

Mark.xvi.d Actes.v.c.

12 So that from his body, Were brought vnto the sicke, napkins, and partlettes, and the diseases departed from them, & the *cuyll spirites Went out of them.

C

Math.xvi.d

13 Then certaine of the vagabounde Jewes, exorcistes, toke vpon them to call ouer them Which had cuyll spirites, the name of the Lorde Jesus, saying: We adiure you by *Jesus, Whom Paul preacheth.

Math. viii.e

14 And there were seuen sonnes of one Sceua a Jewe, and chiefe of ỳ priestes, Which dyd so.

15 And the euyll spirite aunswered, and sayde, Jesus I knowe, and Paul I knowe: but Who are ye?

16 And the man in Whom the euyll spirite Was, ran on them, & ouercame thē, & preuayled agaynst them, so that they fled out of that house naked & woūded.

D

17 And this was knowen to all ỳ Jewes & Grekes also Which dWelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, & the name of the Lorde Jesus Was magnified.

18 And many that beleued, came & *confessed, and shewed their Workes.

Mark.i.a.

19 Many also of thē Whiche vsed curious craftes, brought their bookes, & burned them before all men, and they counted the price of them, & founde it fiftie thousande peeces of syluer.

20 So myghtyly grew the Word of God, and preuayled.

21 After these thinges were ended, Paul purposed in the spirite, When he had passed ouer Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Hierusalem, saying: After I haue ben there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto hym, Timotheus and Erastus, but he hym selfe remayned in Asia for a season.
E 23 And the same time there arose no litle a do about that way.
24 For a certaine man, named Demetrius, a syluer smyth, which made shrines for Diana, was not a litle beneficiall vnto the craftes men.
25 Whom he called together, with the workemen of like occupation, and sayde: Sirs, ye knowe that by this craft *we Act.xvi.d. haue aduauntage.
26 Moreouer, ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath perswaded and turned away much people, saying Psal.cxv.a. that *they be not gods which are made with handes.
27 So that not only this our craft commeth into peryll to be set at naught, but also that the temple of ỹ great goddesse Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the worlde worshippeth.
28 And when they hearde these sayinges, they were full of wrath, and cryed out, saying: great is Diana of ỹ Ephesians.
29 And all the citie was on a roze, & they rushed into the common hall with one assent, and caught Gaius & Aristarcus, men of Macedonia, Paules companions.
F 30 When Paule woulde haue entred in vnto ỹ people, the disciples suffred hym not.
31 But certaine of ỹ chiefe of Asia, which were his friendes, sent vnto hym, desiryng hym that he would not preasse into the common hall.
32 Some therfore cryed one thyng, and some another, and the assemblie was all out of quiet, and the more part knew not wherfore they were come together.
33 And they drewe Alexander out of the multitude, the Iewes thrustyng hym forwardes. And Alexander *beckened Act.xxi.g with the hande, and would haue geuen the people an aunswere.
34 But when they knewe that he was a Iewe, there arose a shoute almost for the space of two houres, of all men, crying: great is Diana of the Ephesians.
35 And when the towne clarke had pacified the people, he sayde: Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the [image] whiche came downe from Iupiter:
36 Seing then that these thinges can not G be spoken against, ye ought to be contēt, and to do nothyng rashely.
37 For ye haue brought hyther these men, which are neither robbers of Churches nor yet despisers of your goddesse.
38 Wherfore, yf Demetrius & the craftes men which are with hym, haue a matter agaynst any man, the lawe is open, and there are deputies, let them accuse one another.
39 But yf ye inquire any thyng concernyng other matters, it shalbe determined in a lawfull assemblie.
40 For we are in ieopardie to be accused of this dayes vprore, forasmuch as there is no cause, wherby we may geue a reckenyng of this concourse of people.
41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assemblie depart.

¶ The .xx. Chapter.

1 Paul goeth into Macedonia and Grecia, 7 he celebrateth the Lordes supper, and preacheth. 9 At Troas he rayseth vp Eutichus from the dead. 17 At Ephesus he calleth the elders of the Church together, and committeth the keping of Gods flocke to them, 29 warneth them of false teachers, 36 maketh his prayer with them, 38 and departeth by shippe towardes Hierusalem.

A 1 AND after the vproze was ceassed, Paul called the disciples, & toke his leaue of them, and departed, for to go into Macedonia.
2 And whē he had gone ouer those parties, and had geuen them a long exhortation, he came into Grece.
3 And [there] abode three monethes. And when the Iewes layde wayte for hym as he was about to sayle into Syria, he purposed to returne through Macedonia.

13 And we went afore to shippe, & loosed vnto Asson, there to receaue Paul: For so had he appoynted, and would hym selfe go a foote.
14 And when he was come to vs to Assō, we toke hym in, and came to Mytilene.
15 And we sayled thence, and came the next day ouer agaynst Chios: and the next daye we arryued at Samos, and taryed at Trogyliū. The next day we came to Miletum:
D 16 For Paul had determined to sayle ouer by Ephesus, because he would not spend the tyme in Asia. For he hasted, yf it were possible for hym, to kepe at Hieru-salem the day of Pentecost.
17 And from Miletum, he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the Church.
18 which when they were come to hym, he saide vnto them: Ye knowe from the

¶ The .xxj. Chapter.

1 Paules iourney by shippe. 8 Of Philip the Euangelist, 10 and Agabus the prophete, which warneth Paule not to go to Hierusalem. 13 He remayned stedfast in his purpose, and is taken.

¶ A

AND when it came to passe that we had lauched forth, and were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Choos, and the day folowyng vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

2 And when we had gotten a shippe that woulde sayle vnto Phenice, we went aboorde, and set forth.

3 Nowe when Cyprus began to appeare vnto vs, we left it on the left hande, and sayled into Syria, and came vnto Tyre: For there the shippe vnladed the burthen.

4 And when we had founde disciples, we taryed there seuen dayes: Who said to Paule through the spirite, *that he shoulde not go vp to Hierusalem. Actes.xx.c.

5 And when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought vs on our way, with wyues and chyldren, tyll we were come out of the citie. And we kneeled downe in the shore, *and prayed. Actes.xx.g.

¶ 6 And whē we had taken our leaue one of another, we toke shippe, and they returned home agayne.

7 When we had full ended the course from Tyre, we went downe to Ptolomaida, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next daye, they that were of Paules companie departed, and came vnto Cesarea: And we entred into the house of Philip the *Euangelist (which was one of the seuen) and abode with hym. Actes.vi.d. and.viii.a.

9 And the same man had foure daughters, virgins, which dyd *prophesie. Ioel.ii.g.

10 And as we taryed there a good many of dayes, there came a certaine prophete from Jurie, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he toke Paules girdle, & bounde his owne handes and feete, & sayde: Thus sayth the holy ghost, *so shall the Jewes at Hierusalem bynde the man that oweth this girdle, and shall delyuer hym into the handes of the gentiles. Actes.ix.c. ii.Cor.xi.c.

12 And when we hearde these thynges, both we and other whiche were of the same place, besought him that he would not go vp to Hierusalem.

13 Then Paule answered: What do ye weepyng and veryng myne heart? For I am redy, not to be bounde only, but also to dye at Hierusalem for the name of the Lorde Jesu.

14 And when we coulde not turne his mynde, we ceassed, saying: *the wyll of the Lorde be fulfylled. Math.vi.b.

¶ D 15 And after those dayes, we toke vp our burthens, and went vp to Hierusalem.

16 *There went with vs also [certayne] of the disciples of Cesarea, & brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whom we shoulde lodge. Actes.ix.c.

17 And when we were come to Hierusalem, the brethren receaued vs gladly.

18 And on the morowe, Paule went in with vs vnto (a) James, and all the elders came together.

19 And when he had saluted them, he tolde by order all thinges that God had wrought among the gentiles by his ministerie.

20 And when they hearde it, they glorified the Lorde, & sayde vnto hym: Thou seest brother, howe many thousande Jewes

(a) This James was the Lordes brother, ỹ sonne of Marie, which was the sister of the blessed virgin: which James afterward was bishop of Hierusalem.

Jewes there are which beleue, & they are all carnest folowers of the lawe.

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jewes whiche are among the Gentiles to forsake Moyses, and sayest that they ought not to circumcise their chyldren, neither to walke after the customes.

22 What is it therefore? The multitude must needes come together: For they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Do therfore this that we saye to thee. We haue foure men, which haue a vow on them:

Num. vi.

24 Them take, & (b) purifie thy selfe with them, and do coste on them, that they may shaue their heades: And all shall knowe, that those thynges whiche they haue hearde concernyng thee, are nothyng, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and kepest the lawe.

(b) Paul yelonge to this ceremonie, ofkinded as sore as Peter did, when he was rebuked of Christ for abstayning from meates in the feast of the Gentiles: notwithstandyng through the vehemence of his zeale, he ieoparde each to wyn mo soules of the Jewes, for the salvation of whom, he wyshed him selfe to be separated frō Christe. Act. xiii. d.

25 As touchyng the Gentiles which beleue, *We haue written and concluded, that they obserue no suche thyng, saue only that they kepe them selues from thynges offered to idoles, & from blood, and from strangled, & from fornication.

26 Then Paul toke the men, and the nexte day purifiyng hym selfe with them, entred into the temple, declaryng the accomplishement of the dayes of the purification, vntyll that an offeryng should be offered for euery one of them.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Jewes which were of Asia, when they sawe hym in the temple, moued al the people, & layde handes on hym,

F 28 Crying: Men of Israel helpe. This is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the lawe, and this place: He hath also brought Grekes into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

Actes. xx. b. 1 Tim. iiii. d

29 For they had seene before with hym in the citie *Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.

30 And all the citie was moued, and the people swarmed together: And they toke Paul & drewe hym out of the temple, & foorthwith the doores were shut.

31 And as they went about to kyll hym, tydynges came vnto the hye captaine of the souldiers, that all Hierusalem was in an vprore.

32 Which immediatly toke (c) souldiers, and vnder captaines, and ran downe vnto them: And when they sawe the vpper captaine and the souldiers, they left smytyng of Paul.

(c) God often times appoynteth his magistrates to deliuer his faithfull ministers from al daungers of their enemies.

33 Then the chiefe captaine came neare, G & toke hym, and cōmaunded hym to be bounde with two chaynes, & demaunded who he was, & what he had done.

34 And some cryed one thyng, some another, among the people. And when he coulde not knowe the certaintie for the rage, he commaunded him to be caryed into the castle.

35 And when he came vpon the stayres, it was so that he was borne of the souldyers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people folowed after, crying, away with hym.

37 And when Paul began to be caryed into the castle, he saide vnto the hye captaine: May I speake vnto thee? Who sayde: Canst thou speake Greke?

38 Art not thou that Egyptian which before these dayes madest an vprore, and leddest out into the wyldernesse foure thousande men that were murtherers?

39 But Paul saide: I am a man which am a Jewe, of Tarsus, a citie in Cilicia, a citezin of no vyle citie, and I beseche the suffer me to speake vnto the people. Actes. ix. b. and. xxii. a.

23 And as they cryed, and caste of their clothes, and threwe dust into the ayre, 24 The chiefe captaine cōmaunded hym to be brought into the castle, & bade that he shoulde be scourged, and examined, that he myght knowe wherefore they cryed so on hym.

25 And as they bounde him with thonges, Paul saide vnto ẏ Centurion that stoode by: Is it lawfull for you to scourge a man that is a (b) Romane, and vncondempned?

(b) He was not borne at Rome, but at Tarsus: the citezins wher of, enioye the priuilege of ẏ citie of Rome, & were counted as Romanes.

26 When the Centurion hearde that, he went and tolde the vpper captaine, saying: Take heede what thou doest, for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the vpper captaine came, & saide vnto him: Tel me, art thou a Romane? he sayde, yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine aunswered: with a great summe obteyned I this freedome. And Paul saide: I was free borne.

29 Then strayghtway departed frō him they which should haue examined him. And the hie captaine also was afrayde, after he knew that he was a Romane, and because he had bounde hym.

30 On the morowe, because he woulde haue knowen the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Jewes, he loosed hym from his bandes, and commaunded the hye prieستes & all the counsell to come together, & *brought Paul foorth, and set hym before them.

Act. xxiii.b

C The

¶ The.xxiij.Chapter.

1 Paul commeth before the counsell. 2 Ananias causeth hym to be striken, 12 the captayne deliuereth hym, 11 God comforteth hym, 23 he is sent to Cesarea.

A 1 AND Paul earnestlie beholdyng the counsell, saide: Men & brethren, *I haue lyued in al good conscience before God vntyll this day.

2 And ỹ hye priest Ananias, commaunded thē that stoode by, to smyte hym on the mouth.

3 Then sayde Paul vnto him: God shall smite thee thou (a) paynted Wall: For, *sittest thou & iudgest me after the lawe, & cōmaundest me to be smitten contrary to the lawe?

4 And they that stoode by, sayde: *Reuilest thou Gods hye priest?

5 Then sayde Paul: I wyst not brethren, (b) that he was the hye priest. For it is written: *Thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceaued that the one part were saducees, and the other pharisees, he cryed out in the counsell: Men and brethren, *I am a pharisee, the sonne of a pharisee: *Of the hope & resurrection of the dead, I am iudged.

7 And when he had so sayde, there arose a debate betwene the pharisees and the saducees, & the multitude was deuided.

8 *For the saducees say, that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirite: But the pharisees confesse both.

9 And there arose a great crye: and whē the scribes which were of the pharisees part arose, they stroue, saying, We fynde none euyll in this man: But yf a spirite or an Angel hath spoken to hym, let vs not striue agaynst God.

10 And when there arose a great debate, the chiefe captayne, fearyng lest Paul shoulde haue ben pluckt asunder of thē, cōmaunded the souldiers to go downe, and to take him from among them, and to bryng hym into the castle.

11 And the nyght folowyng, the Lorde stoode by hym, and sayde: Be of good cheare Paul, for as thou hast testified of me in Hierusalem, *so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certayne of the Iewes gathered them selues together, and made a (c) vowe, saying that they woulde neither eate nor drynke, tyl they had kylled Paul.

13 And they were mo then fourtie men, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe priestes and elders, and sayde: We haue bounde our selues with a vowe, that we wyll eate nothyng vntyll we haue slayne Paul.

15 Nowe therfore geue ye knowledge to the vpper captayne, and to the counsell, that he bryng hym foorth vnto you to morrowe, as though ye woulde knowe somethyng more perfectly of hym: And we, or euer he come neare, are redy to kyll hym.

16 And when Paules sisters sonne heard of their laying awaite, he went & entred into the castle, and tolde Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the vnder captaynes vnto hym, and sayde: Bryng this young man vnto the hye captayne, for he hath a certayne thyng to shewe hym.

18 And he toke hym, and brought hym to the hye captayne, and sayde: Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bryng this young man vnto thee, which hath a certayne matter to shewe thee.

19 Then the hye captayne toke hym by & the hande, and went with hym out of the way, and asked hym: What is it that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he sayde: The Iewes are determined to desire thee, that thou wouldest bryng foorth Paul to morrowe into the counsell, as though they would enquire somewhat of hym more perfectly.

21 But folowe not thou their myndes: For there lye in wayte for him, of them, mo thē fourtie men, which haue bounde them selues with a vowe, that they will neither eate nor drynke, tyll they haue kylled hym. And nowe are they redy, and loke that thou shouldest promise.

22 The vpper captayne then let ỹ young man depart, and charged hym, see thou tell it out to no man, that thou hast shewed these thynges to me.

D (c) The word properly signifieth cursing, as when a man either sweareth, voweth, or wisheth hym selfe to dye, or to be geuen to the deuyll, except he bryng his purpose to passe.

And

23 And he called vnto hym two vnder captaynes, saying: Make redy two hundred souldyers, to go to Cesarea, and horsmen threescore and ten, and spearemen two hundred, at the thirde houre of the nyght:

24 And delyuer them beastes, that they may set Paul on, and bryng hym safe vnto Felix the hye deputie.

25 And he wrote a letter, after this maner.

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most mighty ruler Felix, sendeth greetinges.

Actes xx.f. 27 *This man was taken of the Jewes, and shoulde haue ben kylled of them: Then came I with souldeirs, & rescued hym, and perceaued that he was a Romane.

28 And whē I would haue knowen the cause, wherfore they accused hym, * I brought hym foorth into their counsell. Act.xxii.g

29 Whom I perceaued to be accused of questions of their lawe, *but was not gyltie of any thyng worthy of death, or of bondes. G Act.xxv.c.

30 And when it was shewed me howe that the Jewes layde wayte for the man, I sent [hym] strayghtway to thee, and gaue commaundement to his accusers, that the thynges which they haue agaynst hym, they shoulde tell before thee. Fare well.

31 Then the souldyers, as it was commaunded them, toke Paul, and brought hym by nyght to Antipatris.

32 On the morowe, they left the horsmen to go with hym, and returned vnto the castle.

33 which when they came to Cesarea, and delyuered the epistle to the deputie, presented Paul also before hym.

34 And when the deputie had read [the letter] he asked of what coūtrey he was. And when he vnderstoode that he was of Celicia,

35 * I wyll heare thee, sayde he, when thyne accusars are come also. And he cōmaunded hym to be kept in Herodes iudgement hall. Deut.xvii.a

The.xxiiij. Chapter.

Io Paul beyng accused, aunswereth for his lyfe and doctrine. 25 Felix gropeth hym, thinkyng to haue a bribe, 28 and after leaueth hym in pryson.

Act.xxv.d. 1 AND after fyue dayes, Ananias* the hie priest descended, with the elders, and with a certayne oratour, named Tartullus, which appeared before the deputie agaynst Paul.

2 And when Paul was called foorth, Tartullus began to accuse hym, saying: Seyng that we (a) obtayned great quietnesse by the meanes of thee, and that many good thynges are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 That alowe we euer, & in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankes.

4 Notwithstandyng, that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a fewe wordes.

5 For we haue founde this man a pestilent felowe, and a mouer of debate vnto all the Jewes in the whole worlde, and a maynteyner of the sect of the Nazarites.

6 And hath gone about to pollute the temple: *whom we toke, and woulde haue iudged accordyng to our lawe. Acts.xxi.c

7 But the hye captayne Lysias, came vpon vs, and with great violence toke hym away out of our handes,

8 Commaundyng his accusers to come vnto thee: Of whom thou mayest, yf thou wilt enquire, knowe the certayntie of all these thynges, wherof we accuse hym.

9 And the Jewes lykewyse affirmed, saying that these thynges were so.

10 Thē Paul, after that the deputie hym selfe had beckened vnto hym that he ℭ shoulde speake, aunswered: With a more quiet mynde do I aunswere for my selfe, forasmuch as I vnderstande, that thou haste ben of many yeres a iudge vnto this nation:

11 Because that thou mayest knowe, that there are yet but twelue dayes, sence I went vp to Hierusalem for to worshyp.

12 And *they neither founde me in the temple disputyng with any man, either raysyng vp the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the citie. Act.xxv.b

(a) Felix by his diligence had taken Eleazarus ye captayne of ye murderers, and put the Egyptians to flyght, which rayled vp tumultes in Iurie. For these the oratour prayed hym: otherwayes he was both cruell and couetous.

Neither

13 Neither can they proue the thynges wherof they accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way which they call (b) heresie, so worship I the God of my fathers, beleuyng all thynges which are written in the lawe and the prophetes, 15 And haue hope towardes God, that *the resurrection of the dead which they them selues loke for also, shalbe both of the iust and vniust.

16 And herein *studie I, to haue alway a cleare conscience toward God, and toward men.

17 Nowe after many yeres, I came* and brought almes to my nation, and offerynges:

18 In the which they founde me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor yet with vnquietnesse:

19 Howbeit, there were certayne Jewes out of Asia,

20 which ought to be here (c) present before thee, & accuse me, yf they had ought agaynst me:

21 Or els let these same here say, yf they haue founde any euyll doyng in me, whyle I stande here in the counsell:

22 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cryed standyng among them, *of the resurrection from the dead, am I iudged of you this day.

23 And whē Felix hearde these thynges, & he deferred them, for he knewe very well of that way, and sayde: when Lysias the captayne is come downe, I will knowe the vtmost of your matter.

24 And *he commaunded an vnder captayne to kepe Paul, and to let hym haue rest, and that he shoulde forbyd none of his acquayntaunce to minister vnto hym, or to come vnto hym.

25 And after certayne dayes, when Felix came, with his wyfe Drusilla, which was a Jewesse, he called forth Paul, and hearde hym of the fayth which is towarde Christe.

26 And as he reasoned of ryghteousnesse, & temperaunce, and iudgement to come, Felix (d) trembled, and aunswered: Go thy way for this tyme, when I haue a conuenient season, I will sende for thee.

27 He hoped also, that money shoulde haue ben geuen hym of Paul, that he myght loose hym: Wherfore, he sent for hym the oftener, and communed with hym.

28 But after two yere, Portius Festus came into Felix rowme: And Felix *wyllyng to shewe the Jewes a pleasure, left Paul bounde.

¶ The. xxv. Chapter.

2 The Jewes accuse Paul before Festus, 8 he aunswereth for hym selfe, 11 and appealeth vnto the Emperour, 14 his matter is brought before Agrippa, 23 and he is brought forth.

NOw when Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes, he ascended from Cesarea

2 vnto Hierusalem. Then enfourmed him the hye priest, and the chiefe of the Jewes, of Paul: And they besought hym,

3 And desired fauour agaynst hym, that he woulde sende for hym to Hierusalem: & they layde awayte in the way, to kyll hym.

4 But Festus aunswered, that Paul shoulde be kept at Cesarea, and that he himselfe woulde shortly depart thither.

5 Let them therfore, sayde he, which among you are able, come downe with vs, and accuse hym, yf there be any fault in this man.

6 And when he had taryed among them more then ten dayes, he went downe vnto Cesarea, & the next day sate downe in the iudgement seate, and commaunded Paul to be brought. B

7 Who beyng come, the Jewes which were come from Hierusalem, stoode about [hym] and layde many & grecuous complaynts agaynst Paul, which they coulde not (a) proue,

8 whyles he aunswered [for hym selfe] *that he had agaynst the lawe of the Jewes, neither agaynst the temple, nor yet agaynst Caesar offended any thyng at all.

9 But Festus *wyllyng to do ỳ Jewes a pleasure, aunswered Paul, and sayde: wylt thou go vp to Hierusalem, & there be iudged of these thynges before me?

10 Then said Paul: I stande at Caesars iudgement

(a) Whyles Paul lyued vnder ỳ lawe lyke other Jewes, his conuersation was perfect and notable, and after his conuersion vnto Christe, he became a more notable example of innocencie, but it is a cōmon cale, that the seruauntes of God are cupll spoken of, for their well doyng.

iudgement seate, where I ought to be iudged: To the Iewes haue I no harme done, as thou very wel knowest.

11 For yf I had done any hurt, or committed any thyng worthy of death, I refuse not to dye: But yf there be none of these thinges, wherof they accuse me, no man may delyuer me to them. I appeale vnto (b) Caesar.

(b) The iniquitie of the iudge, who contrarye to equitie, wylyng to pleasure the Iewes, deuised howe to betray Paul, draue Paul to appeale, which is the vttermost remedie for such as by wrong iudgement are oppressed, and this appellation by Gods prouidence was a meane that Paul shoulde testifie of Christe at Rome also.

12 Then spake Festus, with the counsell, and answered: Hast thou appealed vnto Caesar? vnto Caesar shalt thou go.

13 And after certayne dayes, king Agrippa and Bernice came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had ben there a good season, Festus rehearsed Paules cause vnto the kyng, saying: *There is a certayne man left in bondes of Felix, 15 About whom, when I came to Hierusalem, *the hye priestes and elders of the Iewes enfourmed me, and desired to haue iudgement agaynst hym.

16 To whom I answered: It is not the maner of the Romanes, for fauour to delyuer any man that he shoulde perishe, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers before hym, and haue licence to answere for hymselfe, concernyng the cryme layde agaynst hym.

17 Therfore, when they were come hyther, without any delay, on the morowe I sate to geue iudgement, and commaunded the man to be brought foorth.

18 Agaynst whom, when the accusers stoode vp, *they brought none accusation of such thynges as I supposed:

19 But had certayne questions agaynst hym of their owne superstition, and of one Iesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alyue.

20 And because I doubted of such maner of questions, I asked hym whether he woulde go to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be kept vnto the knowledge of Augustus, I commaunded hym to be kept, tyll I myght sende hym to Caesar.

22 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Festus: I woulde also heare the man my selfe. To morowe sayd he, thou shalt heare hym.

23 And on the morowe, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pompe, and were entred into the counsell house, with the chiefe captaynes, and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commaundement was Paul brought foorth.

24 And Festus sayde: Kyng Agrippa, and al men which are here present with vs, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue intreated me, both at Hierusalem, and also here, crying, that he ought not to lyue any longer.

25 Yet founde I nothyng worthy of death, that he had committed: Neuertheless, seeyng that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to sende hym:

26 Of whom I haue no certayne thyng to write vnto my Lorde. Wherfore, I haue brought hym foorth vnto you, and specially vnto thee, O kyng Agrippa, that after examination had, I myght haue somewhat to write.

27 For me thynketh it vnreasonable, for to sende a prysoner, and not to shewe the causes which are laide agaynst hym.

The.xxvj. Chapter.

1 Kyng Agrippa heareth Paul. 25 Paules modest answere agaynst the iniurie of Festus.

Act.xxiii.f

Then Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. Then Paul stretched foorth the hande, and answered [for hym selfe]

2 I thynke my selfe happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answere this day before thee, of all the thynges whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Namely, because thou art expert in all customes and questions, whiche are among (a) the Iewes: wherefore I beseche thee to heare me patiently.

4 My lyfe, that I haue led of a chylde, which was at the first among myne owne nation at Hierusalem, knowe all the Iewes,

5 which knewe me from the beginning, (yf they woulde testifie) that *after the most straytest sect of our (b) religion, I lyued a pharisee.

6 And nowe I stande and *am iudged, for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers:

(a) He knew much, but he fayled in the right applying of his knowledge, as they do which be wise in their owne conceiptes onlye, and haue the zeale of God, but not accordyng to knowledge.

(b) He taketh the sect of the pharisees to be perfectest, because their doctrine was better the the other sectes. The Sadducees denyed the resurrection of the dead. The Essens glorying in strayghtnesse of life, litle regarded true doctrine.

Unto

7 Unto which promise, our twelue tribes instantly seruyng God day & nyght, hope to come. For which hopes sake, kyng Agrippa, I am accused of the Jewes.

8 ℂ Why shoulde it be thought a thyng incredible vnto you, that God shoulde rayse agayne the dead?

9 I also verely thought in my selfe that I ought to do many contrary thynges, cleane agaynst the name of Jesus of Nazareth:

Gen.viii.a. 10 *Which thyng I also dyd in Hierusalem. And many of the Saintes dyd I shut vp in prison, hauyng receaued auctoritie of the hye priestes: And when they were put to death, I gaue the sentence.

Cor.xv.b. Galath.ii.c. 11 And I punished them oft in euery synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme: and was yet more mad vpon them, and persecuted them, euen vnto straunge cities.

12 About which thynges, as I went to Damascus, with auctoritie and commission of the hye priestes:

13 Euen at mydday, O kyng, I sawe in the way, a lyght from heauen, aboue the bryghtnesse of the Sunne, shyne rounde about me and them which iourneyed with me.

D 14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I hearde a voyce speakyng vnto me, and saying in the Hebrewe tongue: *Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is harde for thee to kicke agaynste the prickes.

Gen.ix.a. xxxii.c. 15 And I sayde: Who art thou Lorde? And he sayde: I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But ryse and stande vpon thy feete. For I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witnesse, both of those thynges which thou hast seene, and of those thynges in the which I wyll appeare vnto thee,

17 Delyuering thee from the people, and from the gentiles, vnto whom nowe I sende thee, 18 To open their eyes, that they may be turned from darknesse to lyght, & from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receaue forgeuenes of sinnes, & inheritaunce among them which are sanctified by fayth that is towarde me.

19 Wherfore, O kyng Agrippa, I was E not disobedient vnto the heauenly visiõ:

20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, & at Hierusalem, and throughout all the coastes of Jurie, and then to the gentiles, that they shoulde repent, and turne to God, and do such workes as become them that repent.

21 For this cause the Jewes caught me in the temple, & went about to kyll me.

22 Seyng therefore, that I haue obtayned helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessyng both to small and to great, sayng none other thynges, then those which the prophetes and Moyses dyd say shoulde come:

23 That Christe shoulde suffer, and that he shoulde be the first that shoulde ryse from the dead, and shoulde shewe lyght vnto the people, and to the gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for hym selfe, F Festus sayde with a loude voyce: Paul, thou art beside thy (c) selfe, much learnyng doth make thee mad.

25 But he sayde: I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speake foorth the wordes of trueth and soberneſſe.

26 For the kyng knoweth of these thynges, before whom also I speake freely, neither thynke I, that any of these thynges are hydden from him: For this thyng was not done in a corner.

27 Kyng Agrippa, beleuest thou the prophetes? I wote wel that thou beleuest.

28 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Paul: Somewhat thou perswadest (d) me to be a christian.

29 And Paul sayde: I woulde to God, that not only thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both somewhat, and also in a great deale, such as I am, except these bondes.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose vp, and the deputie, & Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betwene thẽ selues, saying: This man doth nothyng worthy of death, or of bondes.

32 Then sayde Agrippa vnto Festus: This man myght haue ben let loose, yf he had not appealed vnto Caesar.

(c) Festus beyng much troubled with Paules declaration, and hauyng nothyng to say agaynst it, yet wouldo not yelde vnto it, but clamorusly condempned it as wicked & superstitious, for worldlynges are loth to be cumbred with Godly matters, & count all such foolish that trouble them selues therwith.

(d) He sawe a litle lyght, but it was soone out, like vnto those, that hearyng a Sermon are for the tyme well mynded, but after returne to their olde trade.

¶ The. xxvij. Chapter.

1 Paul shippeth towarde Rome. 3 Julius the captayne entreateth hym curteously.
41 And at the last they suffer shipwracke.

A1 AND When it was cõcluded, that We shoulde sayle into Italie, they delyuered both Paul, & certayne other prysoners, vnto one named Julius, an vnder captayne of Augustus bande.

2 And We entred into a shippe of Adramyttium, & loosed from lande, appoynted to sayle by the coastes of Asia, one *Aristarchus out of Macedonia, of the countrey of Thessalonia, tarying styll with vs.

Col.iiii.a.

3 And the next day We came to Sidon: And Julius * curteouslye entreated Paul, and gaue hym libertie to go vnto his friendes, and to refreshe hym selfe.

Iere.39.c. Act.xxiiii.c

4 And When We had launched from thence, We sayled harde by Cypers, because the wyndes Were contrarye.

5 And When We had sayled ouer the sea of Cilicia, and Pamphylia, We came to Myra, Which is in Lycia.

B 6 And there the vnder captayne founde a shippe of Alexandria redy, that sayled into Italie, and he put vs therin.

7 And Whē We had sayled slowly many dayes, & scarce Were come ouer agaynst Gnydum, because ỹ wynde withstoode vs, We sayled harde by ○ Candie, ouer agaynst Salmo, ○ Or, Creta, which was an hygh hyll of Candie.

8 And With much worke sayled beyonde it, and came vnto a place Wich is called the Fayre hauens, nye Whervnto Was the citie of Lasea.

9 When much tyme Was spent, & When sayling Was nowe icopardus, because also that they had ouerlong fasted, Paul put them in remembraunce,

10 And sayde vnto them: Syrs, I perceaue that this vyage Will be With hurt and much damage, not of the ladyng and shippe only, but also of our lyues.

C 11 Neuertheless, the vnder captayne beleued the gouernour and the maister of the shippe, more then those thynges which Were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the hauen Was not commodious to Wynter in, many toke counsell to depart thence, yf by any meanes they myght attayne to Phenice, & there to Winter, Which is an hauen of Candie, and lyeth towarde the southWest and northWest Wynde.

13 And When the south wynde blewe softly, they supposyng to obtayne their purpose, loosed vnto Asson, and sayled past Candie.

14 But not long after, there arose against D their purpose, a flawe of Wynde out of the northeast.

15 And When the shippe Was caught, and coulde not resist the Wynde, We let her go, and Were dryuen With the weather.

16 But We Were caryed into an Ile Which is named Clauda, and had much worke to come by a boate, 17 Which they toke vp, and vsed helpe, and made fast the shippe, fearyng least they shoulde fall into the Syrtes: And so they let downe a vessel, & were caried.

18 The next day, When We were tossed With an exceading tempest, they lighted the shippe, 19 And the thirde day, We cast out With our owne handes, the tackelyng of the shippe.

20 And When neither ỹ sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that We should be saued, Was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stoode forth in the middes of them, and sayde: Syrs, ye shoulde haue harkened to me, & not to haue loosed frō Candie, neither to haue brought vnto vs this harme and losse.

22 And nowe I exhort you to be of good chere: For there shalbe no losse of any mans lyfe among you, but of the shippe.

23 For there stoode by me this nyght, the Angel of God, Whose I am, and Whom I serue, 24 Saying: Feare not Paul, *thou must be brought before Caesar. And lo, God hath geuen thee all them that (a) sayle With thee. Act.xxv.c.

(a) The graces and blessinges which God geueth to his chyldren, procure many tymes the enemyes, which are vnworthie to receaue ỹ fruite therof.

25 Wherfore syrs be of good cheare: for I beleue God, that it shalbe euen as it Was tolde me.

26 Howbeit, We must be cast into * a certayne Ilande.

27 But When the fourtenth nyght Was E come, come, as we were saylyng in Adria, about mydnyght the shypmen deemed that there appeared some countrey vnto them:

28 And sounded, and founde it twentie faddomes. And when they had gone a litle further, they sounded agayne, and founde it fyfteene faddomes.

29 Then fearyng lest they shoulde haue fallen on some rocke, they caste foure anckers out of the sterne, and wisshed for the day.

30 And as the shypmen were about to flee out of the shippe, when they had let downe the boate into the sea, vnder a colour, as though they woulde haue cast anckers out of the foreshippe, 31 Paul sayde vnto the vnder captayne, and to the souldiers: Except these abide in the (b) shippe, ye can not be safe.

32 Then the souldyers cut of the rope of the boate, and let it fall away.

33 And when the day began to appeare, Paul besought them all to take meate, saying: This is the foureteenth day, that ye haue taryed & continued fasting, receauyng nothyng at all.

34 Wherfore, I pray you to take meate, for this no doubt is for your health: for there shall not an (c) heere fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he toke bread, and *gaue thankes to God in presence of them all: And when he had broken it, he began to eate.

36 Then were they all of good cheare, and they also toke meate.

37 And we were altogether in the shippe, two hũdred threescore & sixteene soules.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lyghted the shippe, and cast out the wheate into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knewe not the lande: but they spyed a certayne hauen with a banke, into the which they were mynded, yf it were possible, to thrust in the shippe. G

40 And when they had taken vp the anckers, they committed [themselues] vnto the sea, and loosed the rudder bondes, and hoysted vp the mayne sayle to the wynde, and drewe to lande.

41 And when they fell into a place which had the sea on both sydes, they thrust in the shippe: And the forepart stucke fast & moued not, but the hynder part brake with the violence of the waues.

42 And the souldiers counsel was to kyll the prysoners, lest any of them, when he had swomme out, should runne away.

43 But the vnder captayne wyllyng to saue Paul, kept thẽ from their purpose, & commaunded that they which coulde swymme, shoulde cast them selues first into the sea, and scape to lande:

44 And the other, some on boordes, and some on brokẽ peeces of the shippe. And so it came to passe, that they escaped all safe to lande.

¶ The.xxviij. Chapter.

5 The viper hurteth not Paules hande, 8 he healeth Publius father, 23 and preacheth Christe at Rome.

AND when they were scaped, then they knewe that *the Ile was called Melite.

2 And ỹ straungers shewed vs no litle kyndnesse: for they kyndled a fyre, and receaued vs euery one, because of the present rayne, and because of the colde.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bondell of stickes, and layde them on the fyre, there came a viper out of the heat, and caught hym by the hande.

4 And when the straungers sawe the beast hang on his hande, they sayde among them selues, No doubt this man is a (a) murtherer; whom though he haue escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffreth not to lyue.

5 And he shoke of the viper into the fyre, and *felt no (b) harme.

6 Howbeit, they wayted whẽ he shoulde haue swolne, or fallen downe dead sodenlie: But after they had loked a great while, and sawe no harme come to him, they chaunged their myndes, and sayde *that he was a (c) God.

13 And from thence we fet a compasse, and came to Rhegium, & after one day the south wynde blewe, and we came the nexte day to Puteolus:

14 where we founde brethren, and were desired to tary with them seuen dayes, and so we came towarde Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren hearde of vs, they came to meete vs at Appii forum, and at the three tauernes. when Paul sawe thē, he thanked God, and waxed bolde.

16 And when we came to Rome, ỹ vnder captayne delyuered the prysoners to the chiefe captayne of the hoast: But Paul was suffred to dwell by him selfe, with a souldyer that kept hym.

D 17 And it came to passe, that after three dayes Paul called ỹ chiefe of the Iewes together. And whē they were come, he sayde vnto them: Men and brethren, though * I haue committed nothyng agaynst the people, or lawes of the fathers, * yet was I delyuered prysoner from Hierusalem, into the handes of the Romanes.

24 And * some were perswaded in the thynges which were spoken, and some beleued not.

Act.xvii.a.

25 And when they agreed not among E them selues, they departed after that Paul had spoken one worde, [that is to say] well spake the holy ghost by Esaias the prophete, vnto our fathers, 26 Saying: * Go vnto this people, and say, with your eares shall ye heare, and shall not vnderstande: and with your eyes shall ye see, and not perceaue.

Esaias.vi.a Math.xiii.b Mark.iiii.b. Luk.viii.b. Iohn.xii.f.

28 Be it knowen therfore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent to the gentiles, and they shall heare it.

29 And when he had sayde these wordes, the Iewes departed, and had great reasonyng among them selues.

30 And Paul dwelt two yeres full in his owne hired house, and receaued all that came in vnto hym,

¶ The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul, to the Romanes.

¶ The first Chapter.

1 Paul sheweth by whom and to what purpose he is called. 16 What the Gospell is. 18 The vengeaunce of God vpon the wicked. 20 The vse of the creatures. 24 The ingratitude and punishement of the wicked.

1 PAul the seruaunt of Jesus Christe, (a) called [to be] an Apostle, seuered into the Gospel of God.

2 which he had promised afore by his prophetes in ỹ holy scriptures

3 Of his sonne, which was made of the *seede of Dauid after the flesh:

4 And hath ben declared to be the sonne of (b) God, with power after the spirite that sanctifieth, by the resurrectiō from the dead, of Jesus Christe our Lorde.

5 *By whom we haue receaued grace and apostleship, that obedience myght be geuen vnto the fayth in his name, among all heathen.

6 Among whom, ye are also the called of Jesus Christe: ☞

7 To all that be in Rome, beloued of God, saintes by callyng, *grace to you, and peace, from God our father, and the Lorde Jesus Christe.

8 First verily I thanke my God through Jesus Christe for you all, that your fayth is published throughout all the worlde.

9 For God is my witnesse, whom I serue *with my spirite in the Gospell of his sonne, that without ceassyng I make mention of you, Iohn.iiii.c. i.Cor. iii.c.

10 Praying alwayes *in my prayers, that by some meane at the last, one tyme or other, I myght take a prosperous iourney by the wyll of God, to come vnto you. B Phil.i.a. Coloss.i.a.

11 For I long to see you, that I myght bestowe among you some spirituall gift, that ye myght be stablished.

12 That is, that I might haue consolation together with you, eche with others fayth, yours and mine.

13 I Woulde that ye should knowe brethren, howe that I haue oftentymes purposed to come vnto you (*and haue ben let hytherto,) that I myght haue some frute also among you, as among other of the gentiles. Act.xxvi.b

14 I am debter both to the grekes, and to the (c) barbarous, both to the wyse, and to the vnwise.

(c) All those that were not Jewes, by a comon worde were called heathen. And here they are deuided into Grekes & barbarous. By Grekes, he vnderstãdeth those that wer learned, cruel, and of good byngyng vp. By barbarous, he meaneth rude and lauage people, with whõ no man coulde well haue to do.

15 So that as much as in me is, I am redy to preache the Gospell to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospell of Christ, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to all that beleue, to the Jewe first, and also to the Greke.

17 For by it is the ryghteousnes of God opened frõ fayth to fayth. As it is Written: the iuste shall lyue by fayth.

18 For the wrath of God (d) appeareth from heauen, against all vngodlynesse & vnrighteousnes of men, which (e) withholde the trueth in vnrighteousnes.

(d) which aperaunce the worlde knoweth nothyng of. For in the syght of God all men are godlesse, synners, and the chyldren of wrath: & whē they knowe any thynge of God, yet they be naught, because they neyther thanke hym, nor serue hym, and ther fore plagues are powred vppon them from heauen.

(e) They hold the trueth in vnrighteousnes, y whiche vnderstande the trueth, & do not expresse the same in their dedes and lyfe.

19 For that that may be knowen of God, is manifest among them, because God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For his inuisible thinges, being vnderstanded by his workes, through the creation of the worlde, are seene, that is, both his eternall power and godhead: So that they are without excuse.

21 Because that when they knewe God, they glorified hym not as God, neither were thankefull, but waxed full of vanities in their imaginations, *and their foolishe heart was blynded.

22 When they counted them selues wyse, they became fooles:

23 *And turned the glorie of the immortall God, vnto an image, made not only after the similitude of a mortal man, but also of birdes, and foure footed *beastes, and of crepyng beastes.

Psal.cvi.c. Ierem.ii.c. Eze. xiiii.b.

24 Wherefore God gaue them vp to vncleanenesse, through the lustes of their owne heartes, to defyle their owne bodies among them selues. D

25 Whiche chaunged his (f) trueth for a lye, and worshipped and serued the creature, more then the creator, Which is to be praysed for euer. Amen.

(f) By his trueth, here he vnderstandeth the glorie of God, and his true religion: and a lie he calleth idoles, because the idolaters went about to take away frõ wood & stone that whiche they were, thynkyng thẽ to be neither wood nor stone, but attributed to thẽ that that they were not, that is, diuine power & nature.

26 Wherefore God gaue them vp vnto shamefull lustes: *For euen their women dyd chaunge the naturall vse, into that which is agaynst nature.

27 And likewise also, the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and brent in their lustes one with another, *and men with men wrought fylthynesse, and receaued to them selues the rewarde of their errour (as it was accordyng)

28 And as they regarded not to knowe God: *euen so God deliuered them vp vnto a leude mynde, that they should do those thinges which were not comely:

Actes.vii.f.

29 Beyng full of all vnrighteousnes, fornication, craftynesse, couetousnes, maliciousnes, full of enuie, murther, debate, deceite, euyll conditioned, whysperers,

30 Backbyters, haters of God, dispiteful, proude, boasters, bryngers vp of euyll thinges, disobedient to father & mother:

31 Without vnderstandyng, couenaunt breakers, without naturall affection, truice breakers, vnmercyfull.

32 The whiche knowyng the righteousnes of God, howe that they which commit such thynges are worthy of death, not only do the same, *but also haue pleasure in them that do them.

Ozee.vii.a.

¶ The .ij. Chapter.

1 Gods iudgement vpon the hypocrites. 12 Ignoraunce excuseth not. 13 All men are sinners. 15 The Gentiles by their conscience, 17 the Jewes by their lawe.

THerefore art thou inexcusable, O mã, Whosoeuer * thou be that (a) iudgest. For in that same wherin thou iudgest another, thou condempnest thy self. For thou that iudgest, doest euen ỹ selfe same thynges.

Math.vii.a.

(a) Saint Paul speketh here agaynst those men onely, who beyng them selues fylled with all wickednesse, and impietie, yet be of al other most busy and curyous in notyng and reprehendyng other mennes faultes: not of any godlye zeale, but to iustifie them selues, and to bryng other men into hatred & contempt.

2 But we are sure that the iudgement of god is according to the trueth, against them which commit such thynges.

3 Thinkest thou this, O thou man that iudgest them whiche do such thynges, and doest the same [thy selfe] that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Eyther despisest thou the rychesse of his goodnes, & pacience, and long sufferaunce, not knowyng *that the kyndnesse of god leadeth thee to repentaũce?

Esai.xxx.d. Act.xvii.g.

5 But thou after thy stubbernnesse and heart that can not repent, heapest vnto thy selfe wrath, agaynst the daye of wrath wrath and declaration of the righteous iudgement of God:

6 *which wyl reward euery man accordyng to his (a) deedes:

7 To them, whiche by continuyng in well doyng seke for glorie, and honour, and immortalitie, eternall lyfe.

8 But vnto them that are contentious, & that do not obey the trueth, but obey vnrighteousnes [shall come] indignation, and wrath.

9 Tribulation, and anguishe, vpon euery soule of man that doeth euyll, of the Jewe first, and also of the Greke:

10 But glorie, and honour, and peace to euery man that doeth good, to ỹ Jewe first, and also to the Greke.

11 For *there is no respect of persõs with God.

12 For whosoeuer hath sinned without lawe, shall also perishe without lawe: And as many as haue sinned in ỹ lawe, shalbe iudged by the lawe.

13 (For in the sight of God, they are *not righteous whiche heare the lawe: but the doers of the lawe shalbe iustified.

14 For when the Gentiles, which haue ¶ not the lawe, do of nature the thynges conteyned in the lawe: they hauing not the lawe, are a lawe vnto them selues.

15 Which shewe the workes of the lawe written in their heartes, their conscience bearing them witnesse, & their thoughtes, accusyng one another, or excusyng,)

16 At the day *when God shall iudge the secretes of men by Jesus Christe, accordyng to (c) my Gospell.

17 Behold, *thou art called a Jewe, and (d) restest in the lawe, and makest thy boast of God,

18 And knowest his wyll, and alowest the thinges that be excellent, informed by the lawe:

19 And beleuest that thou thy selfe art a guyde of the blynde, a lyght of them which are in darknesse, 20 An informer of them whiche lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned: which hast the fourme of knowledge, & of the trueth in the lawe.

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest not thy selfe? *Thou preachest a man shoulde not steale, yet thou stealest. D

22 Thou that sayest a man shoulde not commit adulterie, breakest wedlocke. Thou abhorrest idoles, and yet robbest God of his honour.

23 Thou that makest thy boast of ỹ lawe, through breakyng the lawe dishonorest God.

24 For the name of God is euyll spoken of among the Gentiles, through you: *As it is written.

25 For circumcision verily auayleth, yf thou kepe the lawe: But yf thou be a breaker of the lawe, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore if the (c) vncircumcisiõ kepe the ordinaunces of the law, shall not his vncircumcisiõ be counted for circumcisiõ?

27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature, if it kepe the law, iudge thee, which beyng vnder the letter & circumcision, doest transgresse the lawe?

28 For he is not a Jewe, whiche is a Jewe outwarde. Neither is that circumcision which is outwarde in the flesshe:

29 But *he is a Jewe whiche is one inwardly, and *the circumcisiõ of ỹ heart, which consisteth in the spirite, and not in the letter [is circumcision] whose prayse is not of men, but of God.

Math.xvi.d (a) Not that our workes be of such merite that they deserue reward: but the scripture vse this worde of speakyng, that we vp it may encourage and moue vs men vnto good lyuyng. Wherby our fayth may the more appeare. Which good workes God of his free grace, rewardeth.

(d) He awaketh ỹ Jewes which were asleepe through a certain securitie and confidence in the lawe.

Esaias.lii.a. Ezech.36.g.

(c) By this worde he meaneth al ỹ people, of what countrey or nation soeuer they be, which haue not receiued the signe of circumcision, according to the lawe of Moyses.

John.viii.c. Rom.ix.b. Coloss.ii.b.

¶ The. iij. Chapter.

1 The Jewes haue a prerogatiue. 10 The Jewes and Gentiles be both sinners.
21 All are iustified by grace through fayth, and not through workes.

(a) which is the performance of gods promise. For fayth is taken after two sortes, both for our beliefe, when we assure our selues that God wyl performe his promyse, and also for ỹ stedfastnes of Gods promise to his people. For although some of the Jewes dyd not beleue, yet Gods trueth neuer fayled.

WHAT preferment then hath ỹ Jewe? or what auauntageth circumcision? Much euery way. First, for *because ỹ vnto them were committed ỹ wordes of God.

3 What then though some of them dyd not beleue? *Shal their vnbeliefe make the (a) fayth of God without effect?

4 God forbyd. Yea let God be true, and euery man a lyer, as it is writtẽ: That thou myghtest be iustified in thy sayinges, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 But yf our vnrighteousnes setteth foorth the righteousnes of God, what shall we saye? Is God vnryghteous which taketh vengeaunce: I speake after the maner of men,

B 6 God forbyd. For howe then shall God iudge the worlde:

7 For yf the trueth of God hath more abounded through my lye, vnto his glory, why am I as yet iudged as a sinner:

8 And not rather (as men speake euyll of vs, and as some affirme that we say) let vs do euyll, that good may come therof: whose dampnation is iuste.

9 What then: Are we better [then they:] No, in no wise. For we haue alredy proued, howe that both Jewes and Gentiles are all vnder sinne.

Psal. xiiii.a. and.lii.a. 10 As it is written: *There is none righteous, no not one.

11 There is none that vnderstandeth, there is none that seketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the waye, they are all vnprofitable, there is none that doth good, no not one.

C

Psal.v.b. 13 *Their throte is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they haue deceaued, the poyso̅ of aspes is vnder their lippes.

Psal.v.b. 14 *Whose mouth is full of cursyng and bytternesse.

Prou.i. b. 15 *Their feete are swyft to shed blood.

Esaias.lix.b 16 *Heartes griefe & miserie are in their wayes.

17 And they way of peace haue they not knowen.

Psa.xxxvia 18 *There is no feare of God before their eyes.

19 ☞ Nowe we knowe that what thynges so euer the lawe saith, it saith it to them which are vnder the lawe: That all mouthes maye be stopped, and that al ỹ world may be indaungered to God.

20 Because that *by the deedes of the lawe, there shall no flesshe be iustified in his syght. For by the lawe, commeth the knowledge of sinne. (b) Galeth. ii.c. (b) He includeth here the whole lawe, both the ceremoniall and morall, whose workes can not iustifie, because they be imperfecte in all men.

21 But nowe is the righteousnes of God declared without the lawe, beyng witnessed by the testimonie of the lawe and of the prophetes.

22 The ryghteousnes of God [commeth] by the fayth of Jesus Christe, vnto all and vpon all them that beleue. There is no difference:

D

23 For all haue synned, and are destitute of the glorie of God,

24 *Iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christe Jesu: Esaias.liii.d.

25 Whom God hath set foorth *to be a propitiatiō, through fayth in his blood, to declare his ryghteousnes, in that he forgeueth the sinnes that are past, (c) Iohn. ii.a. (c) Which is a pacifying of Gods displeasure. That whereas we were sometime bondslaues to synne, God made his only sonne Christe Jesus a sacrifice for our sinnes, to reconcile vs agayne by fayth vnto gods fauour.

26 Which God dyd suffer, to shew at this tyme his righteousnes, that he might be iuste, & the iustifier of hym which beleueth on Jesus.

27 Where is then thy boasting: It is excluded. By What lawe: Of workes: Nay, but by the lawe of fayth.

28 Therfore, we holde that *a man is iustified by fayth, without the deedes of the lawe. Galat.ii.c.

29 Is he the God of the Jewes only: Is he not also of the Gentiles: Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God Whiche shall iustifie the circumcision by (d) fayth, and vncircumcision through fayth. (d) Meaning that ỹ Jewe and the Gentile are both iustified by one meanes, which is by fayth.

31 Do we then destroy the lawe through fayth: God forbyd: But we rather mayntayne the lawe.

¶ The .iiij. Chapter.

7 Justification is the free gyft of God, as it appeareth by Dauid and Abraham, 13 and also by the office of lawe and fayth.

A 1 What shall we saye then that *Abraham our father, as parteynyng to the flesshe, dyd fynde: Esaias.li.a.

2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, thē hath he wherein to boaste, but not before God.

Gene.xv.b. Galath.iii.a. Iames.ii.d. 3 For what sayth the scripture: *Abraham beleued God, and it was counted vnto hym for ryghteousnes.

4 To hym that worketh, is the reward not reckened of grace, but of duetie.

5 To hym that worketh (a) not, but beleueth on hym that iustifieth the (b) vngodly, his fayth is counted for ryghteousnes. (a) That is, whiche meaneth not to obteyne saluatiō through worthinesse of his workes. (b) God is sayde to iustifie the vngodly, because he pardoneth his synnes, & of a wicked man, maketh hym good.

6 Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednesse of the man vnto whom God imputeth righteousnesse without workes:

7 *Blessed are they whose vnrighteousnesse are forgeuen, & whose sinnes are couered. Psa.xxxii.a couered.

8 Blessed is that man to whō the Lorde wyll not impute sinne.
B 9 Came [this] blessednes then vpon the circumcision, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say, that fayth was recke-ned to Abraham for ryghteousnes.
10 Howe was it then reckened? When he was in the circumcision? or whē he was Gen.xv.b. in the vncircumcision? * Not in the circumcision: but in vncircumcision.
Gen.xvii.b. 11 And he receaued the *signe of circumcision, as the (c) seale of the ryghteous-nesse of fayth, whiche he had yet beyng vncircumcised, that he shoulde be the father of al them that beleue, though they be not circumcised, that ryghteousnes myght be imputed vnto them also.
12 And that he myght be father of circumcision, not vnto them only whiche came of the circumcised: but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the fayth that was in our father Abraham, before the time of circumcision.
C 13 For the promise that he shoulde be the heyre of the worlde, [was] not to Abraham or to his seede through the lawe, but through the ryghteousnes of fayth.
Galath.iii.c 14 *For yf they which are of the lawe be heyres, then is fayth but vayne, and the promise of none effect:
15 Because the lawe causeth wrath. For where no lawe is, there is no transgression.
16 Therefore by fayth [is the inheritaunce geuen] that it might [come] by grace, that the promise myght be sure to all ỹ seede, not to that only which is of the lawe, but to that also which is of the fayth of Abraham, *which is the father of vs al. Esaias.li.a.
17 (As it is written, *that I haue made Gen.xvii.a. thee a father of many nations) before God, whom he beleued, which restoreth the dead vnto life, and calleth those thynges whiche be not, (d) as though D they were.
18 Who contrary to hope, (e) beleued in hope, that he shoulde be the father of many nations, accordyng to that which was spoken: so shall thy seede be.
19 And he faynted not in the fayth, nor considered his owne body nowe dead, when he was almost an hundred yeres old, neither yet the (f) deadnesse o Sa-racs wombe.
20 He stackered not at the promise of God through vnbeliefe: but was strong in fayth, geuyng glorie to God:
21 And beyng full certified, that what he had promised, he was able also to perfourme.
22 And therfore was it reckened to hym for righteousnes.
23 *Neuertheles, it is not written for Rom. xv.a.
hym only, that it was reckened to him:
24 But also for vs, to whom it shalbe reckened, so that we beleue on hym that raysed vp Jesus our Lorde from the dead.
25 Which was deliuered for our sinnes, and was raysed agayne for our iustifi-cation.

(c) So was Abrahams circumcision called, because thereby was sealed ỹ ryghteousnes that through fayth was imputed to hym before his circumcision.

(d) In the creation of the world this appeared. For when he commaunded any thyng to be, foorthwith it was.

(e) That is, which beleued and hoped for those thynges whiche God dyd promyse, when as to mans reason they wer without hope.

(f) For that she was past childe bearing

¶ The. v. Chapter.

1 The fruite of fayth. 7 The loue of God, and obedience of Christe.
12 From whence commeth death, and from whence lyfe.

A 1 THerefore being iustified by fayth, we John.xvi.a. are * at (a) peace with GOD, thorowe our Lorde
Jesus Christe:
2 By whom also we haue had an entraūce by fayth, vnto this grace wherin we stande, and reioyce in hope of the glorie of God.
Hebr.iii.a. 3 Not that only: but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowyng that tribulation worketh patience:
4 Patience proue, proue hope:
5 And hope maketh not (b) ashamed, because the loue of God is shedde abrode in our heartes by the holy ghost, which is geuen vnto vs.
6 *For when we were yet weake, accor-dyng to the tyme, Christe dyed for the vngodly.
7 Nowe scarce wyll any man dye for the righteous: yet peraduenture for the good some men durst dye.

(a) By peace which is the fruite of faith, is meant the incredible and most constant ioy of mynde, our conscience beyng quyet, and established in Gods grace.

(b) Both for that the hope of the godly is not disapoynted of ỹ which they hope for, and also for that they are not ashamed of any afflictiō in this worlde, as the worldely mynded but constantly abide without shame, whatsoeuer trouble god doth send to them.

8 ☞ But *God setteth out his loue to-warde vs, seyng that whyle we were yet sinners, Christe dyed for vs. *iohn.iii.c. *iohn.iiii.b

9 Muche more then nowe, we that are iustified by his blood, shalbe saued from wrath through hym.

25 10 For, yf when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his sonne: much more, seyng we are reconciled, we shalbe saued by his lyfe.

11 Not only so, but we also ioye in God, through our Lorde Jesus Christe, by whō we haue nowe receaued the atonement.

12 Wherfore, as by one man sinne entred into the worlde, & *death by sinne: euen so, death entred into all men, insomuch as all haue sinned. *en.ii.c. *om.vi.d.

13 For vnto the lawe, was sinne in the worlde: but sinne is not imputed when there is no lawe.

14 Neuertheles, death raigned from Adam to Moyses, ouer them also that had not sinned with lyke transgression as dyd Adam, whiche is the figure of hym that was to come.

15 But not as the sinne, so is the gyft. For yf through the sinne of one many be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gyft by grace, *which is by one man Jesus Christe, hath abounded vnto many. *iohn.i.b.

16 And not as by one that sinned [euen so] the gyft. For the iudgement was of one into condemnation: but the gyfte, (b) of many sinnes into iustification.

17 For yf by the sinne of one, death raigned by the meanes of one: much more they, whiche receaue aboundaunce of grace, and of the gyfte of ryghteousnes, shall raigne in life by the meanes of one, Jesus Christe.

18 Lykewyse then, as by the sinne of one [sinne came] on all men to condempnation: euen so, by the ryghteousnes of one [good came] vpon all men to the ryghteousnes of lyfe.

19 For as by one mans disobedience many became sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall many be made ryghteous.

20 But *the lawe in the meane tyme entred in, that sinne shoulde encrease. But where sinne was plenteous, grace was more plenteous. *Gala. iii.c.

21 That as sinne hath raigned vnto death: euen so myght grace raigne throwe ryghteousnes vnto eternall lyfe, by Jesus Christe our Lorde.

D

(b) For by Christe we are not onlye deliuered frō the synnes of Adam, but also frō all suche sinnes as we haue added therevnto.

¶ The.vj.Chapter.

¶ Newnesse of lyfe foloweth iustification, to the which he exhorteth.

1 What shall we saye then: Shall we continue in sinne, that grace maye abound? God forbyd.

2 Howe shall we that are dead (a) to sinne, lyue any longer therin?

(a) He dyeth synne, in whom ye strength of sinne is broken, by the power of Christe.

3 ☞ Knowe ye not, that all we whiche haue ben baptized into Jesus Christe, haue ben baptized (b) into his death?

(b) That is, at sinne tho we Christes death, may be mortified and dead in vs: and that as we are made cleane inwardlye with water in the baptisme, so inwardlye our synnes may be washed away, and purified by the blood of christ

4 We are buryed then with him by baptisme into his death, that lykewyse as Christe was rayled vp from the dead by the glorie of the father: euen so, we also shoulde walke in newnesse of lyfe.

5 For if we be graft together by the likenesse of his death: euen so shall we be [partakers] of the resurrection:

6 Knowyng this, that our olde man is crucified with hym also, that the body of sinne might vtterly be destroyed, that henceforth we shoulde not serue sinne.

7 For he that is dead, is iustified from sinne.

8 And *yf we be dead with Christe, we beleue that we shall also lyue with him: *ii.Tim.ii.b.

9 Knowyng that Christe beyng rayled from the dead, *dyeth no more, death hath no more power ouer hym. *Apoc.i.b.

10 For as touchyng that he dyed, he dyed concerning sinne once: And as touching that he lyueth, he lyueth vnto God.

11 Lykewyse, recken your selues to be dead to sinne, but alyue vnto God, throwe Jesus Christe our Lorde.

12 Let not sinne raigne therefore in your mortall bodie, that ye shoulde therevnto obey by the lustes of it.

Neither

¶ 13 Neither geue ye your members as instrumentes of vnryghteousnesse vnto sinne: but geue your selues vnto God, as they that are alyue from the dead, and your members as instrumentes of ryghteousnesse vnto God.

14 For sinne shall not haue power ouer you, because ye are not vnder ỹ (c) lawe, but vnder grace.

(c) That is, vnder ỹ curse of the lawe, whose office is to accuse & condempne: but vnder grace, wherby we haue forgeuenes of our sinnes, & are sanctified by the holye ghost into the newnesse of lyfe.

15 What then? Shall We sinne, because We are not vnder the lawe, but vnder grace? God forbyd.

16 ☞ Knowe ye not, how that to whom soeuer ye commit your selues as seruauntes to obey, his seruauntes ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto ryghteousnesse?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the D seruaũtes of sinne: but ye haue obeyed with heart the fourme of doctrine, into the which ye were brought vnto.

18 *Being then made free frõ sinne, ye are become ỹ seruauntes of ryghteousnesse. John.viii.d. Rom.vi.a.

19 ☞ I speake after the maner of (d) men, because of the infirmitie of your flesshe. As ye haue geuen your members seruauntes to vncleanesse and iniquitie, vnto iniquitie: euen so nowe geue your members seruauntes to righteousnesse, vnto holynesse.

(d) When vse to speake gentylly to their frendes, and not to exact so much as they myght, but so farre forth as reason requireth.

20 For When ye were the seruauntes of sinne, ye were free from ryghteousnesse.

21 What fruite had ye then in those thynges, wherof ye are nowe ashamed? For the ende of those thynges, is death.

22 But nowe ye beyng made free from sinne, and made the seruauntes of God, haue your fruite vnto holynesse, and the ende euerlastyng lyfe.

23 For * the rewarde of sinne is death: but the gyft of God is eternall lyfe, thorowe Jesus Christe our Lorde. ☜ Gene ii c. Rom. v.c.

¶ The. vij. Chapter.

1. 7. 12. The vse of the lawe. 24 from the which Christe hath delyuered vs. 23 The fyght betwene the lawe of the flesshe, and the lawe of the spirite.

A 1 Knowe ye not brethrẽ (for I speake to thẽ that knowe the (a) lawe) how that the law hath power ouer a mã, as long as he lyueth?

(a) Before the cõmyng of Christe al mẽ were maryed and bounde to the lawe, whi che dyd them none other seruice but disclosed their sinne and wickednesse, forcyng them to seke helpe for their sin elswhere. Nowe then, the law being abolished for her imperfection, and they cleansed thorowe Gods grace, are spoused vnto Christe their new husband, hym to serue in newnesse of lyfe.

2 For *the woman which is in subiectiõ to a man, is bounde by the lawe to the man, as long as he lyueth: But yf the man be dead, she is loosed from thẽ lawe of the man.

3 So then *yf Whyle the man lyueth, she couple her selfe with another man, she shalbe counted a Wedlocke breaker: But yf the man be dead, she is free from the law, so that she is no Wedlocke breaker, though she couple her selfe with another man.

4 B Euen so, ye also my brethren, are dead concernyng the lawe by the (b) body of Christe, that ye shoulde be coupled to another, Who is rayled from the dead, that We shoulde bryng foorth fruite vnto God.

(b) Because the bodye of Christe is made an offeryng and a sacrifice for our sinnes, wherby god is pleased, and his wrath appeased: and for Christes sake the holy ghost is geuen to all beleuers, wherby the power of sinne is in vs dayly weakened: We are counted deed to the lawe, for that ỹ law hath no dominion ouer vs.

5 For When We were in the flesshe, the lustes of sinne Whiche were by the lawe Wrought in our members, to bring forth fruite vnto death.

6 But nowe are We delyuered from the lawe, and dead vnto it Whervnto We were in bondage, that We shoulde serue in newenesse of spirite, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shall We say then? Is the lawe sinne? God forbyd. Neuertheles, * I knewe not sinne, but by the lawe: For I had not knowen lust, except the lawe had sayde, * thou shalt not lust. Rom.v.c. Galath.iii.b. Exod.xx.c. Deut.v.b.

8 But sinne, takyng occasion by the commaundement, Wrought in me all maner of concupiscence. For Without the lawe, sinne [was] dead.

9 I once lyued Without lawe: But When the commaundement came, sinne reuyued,

10 And I Was dead. And the very same commaundemẽt, Which Was ordeyned vnto lyfe, Was founde to be vnto me an occasion of death. ☜

11 For sinne, takyng occasion by the commaundement, hath deceaued me, and by the same slewe [me.]

12 Wherfore * the lawe is holy, and the commaundement holy, & iust, and good.

13 Was that then Which was good, made death vnto me? God forbyd. But sinne, that sinne myght appeare, by that Which was good to worke death in me: that that sinne by ꝑ commaundement, myght be out of measure sinfull.

14 For we knowe, that the lawe is spirituall: but I am carnall, * solde vnder (c) sinne.

15 For that which I do, I alowe not. For what I woulde, that do I not: but what I hate, that do I.

16 If I do nowe that which I woulde not, I consent vnto the lawe, that it is good.

17 Nowe then, it is not I that do it: but sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I knowe, that in me, that is to say in my * flesshe, dwelleth no good thyng. For to will, is present with me: but I fynde no meanes to perfourme that which is good.

19 For the good that I woulde, do I not: But the cuyll which I woulde not, that do I.

20 And yf I do that I woulde not, then is it not I that doth it, but sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I fynde then by the lawe, that when I woulde do good, cuyll is present with me.

22 For I delite in the lawe of God, after the inwarde man:

23 But I see another lawe in my members, rebellyng agaynst the lawe of my mynde, and subduyng me vnto the lawe of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am: who shall deliuer me from the (d) body of this death?

25 I thanke God through Jesus Christe our Lorde. So then, with the mynde I my selfe serue the lawe of God: but with the flesshe, the lawe of sinne.

(d) It is called the bodye of sinne, for that it is an whole lumpe of sinne, festryng and rotmentyng the whole man, & pluckyng him frō god, wher by plagues & miseries are heaped on, & man liueth as he were in the myddest of death.

The.viij. Chapter.

1 The assuraunce of the faythfull. 6 The fruites of the holy ghost. 3 The weakenesse of the lawe. 17 Of hope. 18 Of patience vnder the crosse. 29 Of the foreknowledge of God.

1 There is then no damnation to them which are in Christe Jesu, which walke not after the flesshe, but after the spirite.

2 For the lawe of the (a) spirite of lyfe, through Jesus Christe, hath made me * free from the lawe of sinne and death.

3 * For what the lawe coulde not do, in as much as it was weake through the flesshe, God sendyng his owne sonne, in the similitude of sinfull flesshe, euen by sinne, (b) condempned sinne in the flesshe:

4 That the ryghteousnesse of the lawe, myght be fulfylled in vs, which walke not after the flesshe, but after the spirite.

5 For they that are carnall, are (c) carnally mynded: But they that are spirituall, are spiritually mynded.

6 To be carnally mynded, is death: But to be spiritually mynded, is lyfe & peace:

7 Because that the fleshly mynde is enmitie agaynst God: For it is not obedient to the lawe of God, neither can be.

8 So then, they that are in the flesshe, can not please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesshe, but in the spirite, yf so be that the spirite of God dwell in you. If any man haue not the spirite of Christe, the same is none of his.

10 And yf Christe be in you, the body is dead because of (d) sinne: but the spirite is lyfe for ryghteousnesse sake.

11 But, yf ꝑ spirite of hym that raysed vp Jesus from the dead, dwell in you: euen he that raised vp Christe from the dead, shall also quicken your mortall bodyes, because that his spirite dwelleth in you.

12 Therfore brethren, we are detters, not to the flesshe, to lyue after the flesshe.

13 For if ye liue after ꝑ flesshe, ye shall dye: But if ye through the spirite, do mortifie the deedes of the body, ye shall lyue.

14 For as many as are led by the spirite of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For ye haue not receaued the spirite of bondage agayne to feare: but * ye haue receaued the spirite of adoption, wherby we cry, Abba, father.

16 * The same spirite, beareth witnesse to our spirite, that we are ꝑ sonnes of God.

17 If we be sonnes, then are we also heyres, the heyres of God, and iointheyres with Christe: So that we suffer together, that we may be also glorified together.

18 For I am certaynely (e) perswaded that the afflictions of this tyme, are not worthy of the glory which shalbe shewed vpon vs.

(a) The lawe of the spirite, & the lawe of sinne, is here cō trasted, for the more it is fed, & the stronger it is, the more it quencheth the spirite of lyfe, & maketh vs the more subiect vnto sinne and death.

(b) Albeit we haue a bodye which is dead to al goodnes, by reason of sinne, which so strongly raygneth in it, yet when we are grafted in Christe, his spirite of lyfe geueth vs lyfe, and iustifieth vs.

(c) λογίζομαι signifieth to weye or to consider. But because the matter was certaine, and S. Paul nothing doubted therof, it is thus made: I am perswaded.

For

19 *For the feruent desire of the creature, abydeth lokyng whē the sonnes of God shall appeare:

(f) The creatures shal not be restored before Gods children be brought to their perfection. In the same season, they desire, mone, and wayte.

20 Because the (f) creature is subiect to vanitie, not wyllyng, but for hym which hath subdued the same in hope.

21 For the same creature shalbe made free from the bondage of corruptiō, into the glorious libertie of ỹ sonnes of God.

22 For we knowe, that euery creature groneth with vs also, and trauayleth in payne, euen vnto this tyme.

23 Not only [they], but we also which haue the first fruites of the spirite, and we our selues mourne in our selues, and wayte for the adoption, euen the deliueraunce of our body.

24 For we are saued by hope: But hope that is seene, is no hope. For howe can a man hope for that which he seeth?

25 But and yf we hope for that we see not, thē do we with patience abide for it.

26 Lykewyse, the spirite also helpeth our infirmities. For we knowe not what to desire as we ought: but ỹ spirite maketh great (g) intercession for vs, with gronynges, which can not be expressed.

(g) The right fourme and affection of prayer, cometh by the holy ghoste, who maketh intercession for vs, not ỹ he prayeth & mourneth: but that he so stirreth our hearts, that we lyft them vp to heauen earnestly and feruentlye, which is the true prayer.

27 And *he that searcheth the heartes, *knoweth what is the meanyng of the spirite: for he maketh intercession for the saintes accordyng to the pleasure of God.

28 For we knowe ỹ all thinges worke for the best, vnto them that loue God, to them which also are called of purpose.

29 For those which he knewe before, he also dyd predestinate, that they shoulde be lyke fashioned vnto the shape of his sonne, that he myght be ỹ first begotten among many brethren.

30 Moreouer, whom he dyd predestinate, thē also he called. And whom he called, them also he iustified: And whom he iustified, them he also glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these thynges? *If God be on our syde, who can be agaynst vs? Nu.xiiii.b. Luk.xx.b. Iohn.iii.b. Esaias.liii.d.

32 Which spared not his owne sonne, *but gaue hym for vs all: Howe shall he not with hym also geue vs all thynges?

33 Who shall lay any thyng to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that iustifieth:

34 who is he that can condempne? It is Christe which dyed, yea rather which is raysed agayne, which is also on the ryght hande of God, and maketh intercession for vs.

35 Who shall seperate vs from the loue of God? Shall tribulation or anguishe, or persecution, either hunger, either nakednesse, either peryll, either sworde?

36 As it is written: *For thy sake are we kylled all daye long, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter. Psal.44.d.

37 Neuertheless, in all these thinges we ouercome, through hym that loued vs.

38 For I am sure, that neither death, neither lyfe, neither angels, nor rule, neither power, neither thynges present, neither thynges to come,

39 Neither heygth nor deapth, neither any other creature, shalbe able to seperate vs from the loue of God, which is in Christe Jesu our Lorde.

¶ The.ix. Chapter.

1 Paul declareth his feruent loue towardes his nation. 11 he treateth of election, and reprobation. 24 Also of the callyng of the gentiles, 30 and of the callyng of, of the Jewes.

A I Say ỹ trueth in Christ, I lye not, my conscience also bearyng me witnesse by the holy ghost,

(a) He sawe the losse and destruction of his whole nation, fallyng so farre from Gods true religion, he considered howe sore God shoulde be dishonoured, whē his wonderfull benefites and blessinges bestowed vpon his people, should take none effect, but vtterly be defaced, which so myghtilie moued hym, that he wished rather to be cut of from Christe, then those thynges shoulde come to passe.

2 That I haue great heauinesse, & continuall sorowe in my heart.

3 For *I haue wisshed my selfe to be cursed from (a) Christe, for my brethren, my kynsmen as pertaynyng to ỹ flesshe,

4 Which are the Israelites: To whom pertayneth the adoption, and the glory, & the couenauntes, *and the lawe that was geuen, and the seruice of God, and the promises.

5 Of whom are the fathers, of whom as concernyng the flesshe, Christe [came,] Which is God, in all thynges to be prayse for euer. Amen.

6 And it can not be, that the worde of God shoulde take none effect. *For they are not all Israelites, which are of Israel: Rom.ii.d.

7 Neither are they all chyldren that are the seede of Abraham: But *in Isaac shall thy seede be called. Gen.xxi.b.

That

John.viii.e. Rom.ii.d.
8 That is to say: *They which are the chyldren of the flesshe, are not the chyldren of God: But they which be the childrē of promise, are counted the seede.

Gen.xviii.b
9 For this is a worde of promise: *About this tyme wyll I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne.

10 Not only this, but also Rebecca was with chylde by one [euen] by our father Isaac.

C 11 For yet the [chyldren] were borne, When they had neither done good neither bad, (that the purpose of God by (b) election might stande: not by the reason of workes, but by the caller)

(b) The wyll and purpose of God, is the cause of the election and reprobation. For his mercie and calling, through Christe, are the meanes of saluation: and the withdrawyng of his mercie, is the cause of damnation.

12 It was sayde vnto her: *The elder shall serue the younger.

13 As it is written: Jacob haue I loued, but Esau haue I hated.

14 What shall we say then? Is there any vnrighteousnes with God? God forbid.

Exod.33.d.
15 For he sayth to Moyses: *I wyll shewe mercy to whom I shewe mercy: And wyll haue compassion, on whom I haue compassion.

16 So then it is not of the wyller, nor of the runner: but of the mercy of God.

Exod.ix.b.
17 For the scripture sayth vnto Pharao: *Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, to shewe my power in thee, & that my name myght be declared throughout all the worlde.

18 So hath he mercy on whom he wyll, and whom he wyll, he hardeneth.

D 19 Thou wylt say then vnto me: Why then blameth he [vs] yet? For who hath ben able to resist his wyll?

Esai.xlv.b. Eccle.33.b. Iere.xviii.a.
20 *But O man, what art thou which disputest with God? Shall the worke say to the workeman, Why hast thou made me on this fashion?

21 Hath not the potter power ouer the clay, euen of the same lumpe to make one vessel vnto honour, and another vnto dishonour?

22 If then, God wyllyng to shewe his wrath, and to make his power knowē, suffred with long patience, the vessels of wrath, ordayned to destruction,

23 To declare the riches of his glory, on the vessels of mercy, which he had prepared vnto glory:

24 Whom also he called, not of ỳ Jewes only, but also of the Gentiles.

25 As he sayth also in Osee: *I wyll call them my people, which were not my people: and her beloued, which was not beloued. E

Oze.ii.d. 1 Peter.ii.b.

26 And it shall come to passe, that in the place where it was sayde vnto them: Ye are not my people, there shall they be called ỳ chyldren of the lyuyng God.

27 And Esaias cryeth concerning Israel: *Though the number of the children of Israel, be as the sande of the sea, yet [but] a remnaunt shalbe saued.

Esai.x.c.

28 For he finisheth the (c) worde, and maketh it short in ryghteousnesse: For a short worde wyll the Lorde make on earth.

F

(c) The worde here, is taken for a thyng or matter. The Lord diminished his people by sundry plagues, persecutions, & banishmentes, & brought them to a very fewe. Like wyse meaneth S. Paul, that a fewe of the shalbe saued, whiche fewe notwithstandyng, shall abound in righteousnesse, to the glory of God.

29 And as Esaias sayde before: *Except the Lorde of Sabboth had left vs (d) seede, we had ben made as Sodoma, and had ben lykened to Gomorrha.

(d) The seede is Christe Jesus, lowen abrode by his Apostles and Disciples.

30 What shall we say then? that the gentiles which followed not ryghteousnes, haue obtayned righteousnesse: euen the ryghteousnesse which cōmeth of fayth.

31 But Israel, which followed the lawe of ryghteousnesse, hath not attayned to the lawe of ryghteousnesse.

32 Wherfore? Because [they sought it] not by fayth: but [as it were] by the workes of the lawe. For they haue stumbled at the stumblyng stone,

Esa.xxviii.d

(e) Christe doth instruct vs by fayth without workes, whiche thyng ỳ Jewes and iustitiaries can not beleue. Therfore they stumble at Christ, and are offended with hym.

33 As it is Written: * Beholde, I put in (e) Sion a stumblyng stone, and a rocke of offence: And whosoeuer beleueth on hym, shall not be confounded.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

3 Paul sheweth the cause of the fall of the Jewes. 5 The difference betwene the iustice of the lawe, and fayth. 16 The callyng of, of the Jewes, and callyng of the Gentiles.

A G
BRethren, my heartes desire & prayer to God for Israel, is, that they myght be saued.

2 For I beare them recorde, that they haue a (a) zeale of God: but not accordyng to knowledge.

(a) That is, a certayne affection, but not after knowledge. For no zeale nor no good intent can be acceptable vnto God, but only that which is grounded vpon fayth, and the knowledge of God.

(b) It is called our owne righteousnes, when we refuse the ryghteousnesse which cōmeth by Christe, & imagine an other ryghteousnes, which commeth by our owne workes and deuises.

3 For they beyng ignorant of Gods ryghteousnesse, and goyng about to stablyshe their (b) owne righteousnesse, haue not ben obedient vnto the ryghteousnes of God.

4 For *Christe is the (c) ende of the lawe, for

(c) That is, Christe hath fulfilled the whole lawe, and therefore whosoeuer beleueth in him, is counted iust before God, as well as he had fulfilled the whole lawe hym selfe.

(c) for ryghteousnesse to all that beleue.

5 For *Moyses writeth, of the ryghteousnesse which [is] of the lawe, howe that the man which doth those thinges, shall lyue by them.

6 But the ryghteousnesse which is of fayth, speaketh on this wise: Say not thou in thyne heart, Who shall ascende into (d) heauen: That is, to fetch Christe downe from aboue.

(d) For fayth teacheth vs, that Christe is ascended vp into heauen, to take vs with hym, and hath descended into the depth of death to destroy death, and to deliuer vs.

7 Either Who shall descende into the deepe: That is, to fetch vp Christe agayne from the dead.

8 But What sayth he: *The worde is nye thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thy heart. This same is the worde of faith, which We preache

Deu. xxx.c

9 For if thou shalt knowledge with thy mouth, the Lorde Jesus, and shalt beleue in thyne heart that God raysed hym from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 ☞For With the heart man beleueth vnto ryghteousnesse, and With ỹ mouth man confesseth to saluation.

Esais.28.d. 11 For the scripture sayth: *whosoeuer beleueth on him, shall not be cõfounded.

C

12 There is no difference betweene the Jewe & the Greke: for the same Lorde ouer al, is riche vnto al ỹ call vpon him.

Ioel.ii.g. Actes.ii.c. 13 For *whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lorde, shalbe saued.

14 Howe then shall they call on hym, on whom they haue not beleued: Howe shall they beleue on hym of whom they haue not heard: Howe shal they heare, without a preacher:

15 And howe shall they preache, except they be sent: As it is Written: Howe beautifull are the feete of them whiche bryng good tydynges of peace, & bryng good tydynges of good thynges.

16 But they haue not all obeyed ỹ Gospel. D For Esaias sayth: *Lorde, who hath beleued our sayinges: Esai.liii.a. Iohn.xii.a.

17 So then fayth commeth by hearyng, and hearyng commeth by the Worde of God.

18 But I aske: haue they not heard: No doubt, *their sounde went out into all landes, and their wordes into the endes of the worlde. Psal.xix.a.

19 But I demaunde whether Israel did knowe or not: First Moyses sayth: I wyll prouoke you to enuie, by them that are no people: and by a foolyshe nation I wyll anger you. Deut.xx.c.

20 And Esaias is bolde, and sayeth: *I am founde of them that sought me not: I am manifest vnto them that asked not after me. Esai.lii.b.

21 But agaynst Israel he sayeth: *All day long haue I stretched foorth my handes vnto a people that beleueth not, but speaketh agaynst me. Esai.lxv.a.

¶ The.xj.Chapter.

1 God hath his Churche though it appeare not alway to the worlde. 8 God hath forsaken the Jewes, and chosen the gentiles, 18 whom yet he warneth to humble them selues. 29 God repenteth hym not of his giftes. 33 The depth of Gods iudgementes.

A1 I Say then, hath God cast away his people: God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Beniamin,

2 God hath not cast away his people which he knewe before. What the scripture sayth of Helias, he maketh intercession to God against Israel, Helias, he maketh intercession to God against Israel, 3 Saying: *Lord, they haue kylled thy prophetes, and dygged downe thyne (a) aulters: and I am left alone, and they seke my lyfe.

(a) Helias, he maketh intercession to God against Israel, vpon Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and offer sacrifices in time past, by the which it was lawful for ỹ Jewes to do sacrifice, vntil the buylding of the temple.

4 But What sayth the aunswere of God vnto hym: *I haue reserued vnto my selfe seuen thousande men, which haue not bowed the knee to [ỹ image of] Baal.

5 Euen so at this tyme, there is a remnaunt, according to the election of grace.

6 If it be of grace, then is it not nowe of Workes: For thẽ grace is no more grace. But yf it be of Workes, then is it nowe no grace: For then Worke is no more Worke.

7 What then: Israel hath not obtayned B that which he sought: but the election hath obtayned it, the remnaunt hath ben blynded,

8 Accordyng as it is Written: *God hath geuen them the spirite of (b) remorse, eyes that they shoulde not see, and eares that they shoulde not heare, euen vnto this day. Esai.vi.c. Mat.xiii.b.

(b) That is, pricking and vnquietnes of conscience.

9 *And Dauid sayth: Let their table be made a snare, and a trappe, and a stumbling stocke, and a recompence vnto thẽ,

Let

10 Let their eyes be blinded ẏ they see not, & bowe thou downe their backe alway.

11 I say then, haue they therfore stumbled, that they shoulde fall? God forbyd: but through their fall, saluation [is come] vnto the (c) gentiles, for to prouoke them withall.

(c) That is, for that the Iewes contemnyng the Gospel of Christe, fell away from God, the preachyng of the Gospel came vnto the gentiles, which is their saluatiō.

12 Nowe, yf the fall of them be ẏ ryches of the worlde, and the minishyng of thē, the ryches of the gentiles: howe much more their fulnesse?

13 For I speake to you gentiles, in as much as * I am the Apostle of the gentiles, I magnifie myne office.

Rom.i.a. i Tim.ii.a. ii Tim.i.c.

14 If by any meane I may prouoke thē which are my flesh, and myght saue some of them.

15 For yf the castyng away of them, be the reconcilyng of the worlde: What shall the receauyng [of them] be, but lyfe from the dead?

16 For yf the first fruites be holy, ẏ whole lumpe also [is holy.] And yf the roote be holy, the braunches also.

¶ 17 And yf some of the braūches, be broken (d) of, and thou beyng a wylde Olyue tree, wast graft in among them, & made partaker of the roote and fatnesse of the *Olyue tree:

(d) These broken braunches, were the vnbeleuyng Iewes, whiche for their vnbeliefe, were cut of from the promise of God, in whose stede was the wilde Olyue, that is, the gentiles, grafted thorowe fayth.

18 Boast not thy selfe agaynst the braunches. For yf thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wylt say then, the braunches are broken of, that I might be graft in.

20 Well: because of vnbeliefe, they were broken of, and thou stodest stedfast in fayth. Be not hye mynded, but feare.

21 For seyng that God spared not the naturall braunches [take heede] lest it come to passe, that he spare not thee.

¶ 22 Beholde therfore, the kyndnesse and rigorousnesse of God: on them which fell, rigorousnesse: but towardes thee, kyndnesse, if thou continue in kindnesse, or els thou shalt be hewen of:

ii Cor.iii.d. 23 And they, * yf they byde not styll in vnbeliefe, shalbe graffed in: For God is of power to graffe them in agayne.

24 For yf thou were cut out of a naturall wylde Olyue tree, and were graffed contrary to nature, in a true Olyue tree: howe much more shall the naturall braunches, be graffed in their owne Olyue tree?

25 For I would not brethren, that ye shoulde be ignorant of this misterie, (lest ye shoulde be wyse in your owne conceiptes,) that partly blyndnesse is happened in Israel, vntyll the fulnesse of the gentiles be come in:

26 And so all Israel shalbe saued, as it is written: * There shall come out of Sion he that doth delyuer, and shall turne away vngodlynesse from Iacob. Esai.lix.d. Psal.xiiii.c.

27 And this is my couenaunt vnto them, when I shall take away their sinnes.

28 As concernyng the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touchyng the election, they are loued for the fathers [sakes].

29 For the gyftes and callyng of God, are without repentaunce.

30 For, as ye in tyme past haue not beleued God, yet haue nowe obtayned mercie, through their vnbeliefe:

31 Euen so nowe haue they not beleued the mercie [shewed] vnto you, that they also may obtayne mercie.

32 For God hath wrapped all [nations] in vnbeliefe, ẏ he myght haue mercie on al.

33 O the depenesse of the ryches both of the wisdome and knowledge of God, howe vnsearcheable are his iudgementes, and his wayes past fyndyng out?

34 For * who hath knowen the mynde of the Lorde? Or who hath ben his counsellour? Sapien.ix.b Esai.lx.c. i Cor.ii.d.

35 Either who hath geuen vnto hym first, (e) & he shalbe recompensed agayne.

(e) By this, the Apostle declareth that God by his free wyll and election, doth geue saluation vnto men, without any [illegible] of 36 For of hym, and through hym, and for hym, are all thynges: To whom be glory for euer. Amen.

¶ The.xij. Chapter.

1 Of what conuersation they which professe Christe shoulde be of. 6 Howe euery man shoulde walke in his seuerall callyng. 19 No man to reuenge.

A 1  Beseche you therfore brethren, by the mercifulnesse of God, that ye geue vp your bodyes a quicke (a) sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, [whiche is] your reasonable seruice:

(a) The Iewes in Moyses law, were commaunded to offer vp the dead carkeses of beastes: but Christians shoulde exhibite their owne lively bodyes for a sacrifice to God, in mortifyng their carnall lustes, and framyng themselues by fayth, to Godlynesse and charitie.

2 And fashion not your selues lyke vnto this (b) worlde, but be ye chaunged in your shape, by ẏ renuing of your minde, that ye may proue what is the wyll of God, good, and acceptable, and perfect.

(b) Applications in the scriptures, but here is take specially for the nature and disposition of men in the worlde, whyle lyued after their lustes & pleasures, and seruyth not god in holines of lyfe, and godly conuersacion.

3 For I say, through the grace geuen vnto vnto me, to euery man among you, that *no man esteeme of hym selfe more then he ought to esteeme: but so esteeme [hym selfe] that he behaue hymselfe (c) discrete-lye, accordyng as God hath dealt to euerye man the measure of fayth.

4 For as We haue many members in one body, and all members haue not one office:
5 So, We beyng many, are one body in Christe, and euery one members one of another.
6 *Seyng that We haue dyuers giftes, accordyng to the grace that is geuen vnto vs, yf any man haue the gyft, either *prophesie after the measure of fayth, 7 *Either office in administration, or he that teacheth in teachyng:
8 Or he that exhorteth, in exhortyng, he that geueth in singlenesse, he that ruleth in diligence, he that is mercifull in chearefulnesse.
9 Loue Without dissimulation, hatyng euyll, cleauyng to good.
10 Affectioned one to another With brotherly loue, *in geuyng honour, go one before another.
11 Not lither in businesse, feruent in spi-
rite, seruyng the Lorde, 12 Reioycyng in hope, patient in trouble, instant in prayer,
13 Distributyng to ỹ necessitie of saintes,
geuen to hospitalitie.
14 *Blesse them which persecute you, Heb.xiii.e. Math.v.g.
blesse, and curse not.
15 Reioyce With them that do reioyce, and Wepe With them that wepe.
16 Beyng of lyke affection one towardes another, beyng not hye mynded: but makyng your selues equall to them of the lower sort. Be not Wise in your owne opinions,
17 Recompensyng to no man euyll for euyll. Prouydyng afore hande thynges honest, [not only before God, but also] in the syght of all men.
18 If it be possible, as much as lyeth in you, lyue peaceably With all men.
19 Dearely beloued, auenge not your selues, but rather geue place vnto Wrath. For it is Written: *Vengeaunce Deut.xxxii.d. is myne, I Wyll repay sayth the Lorde.
20 Therfore, yf thyne enemie hunger, feede hym: yf he thyrst, geue him drinke.
For in so doyng, thou shalt heape coales of (d) fyre on his head.
21 Be not ouercome of euyll, but ouer-come euyll With good.

(c) Two things are required, yf we will esteeme aright of Gods gyftes in vs: the one, that we do not arrogate to our selues, that we be not. The other, that we iudge not of the gentiles, reuerently, soberly to them, to their honour and glory.

Cor.xii.a.

Pet.iiii.c.

Peter.ii.d. Iude.ii.c.

(d) For, either thou shalt wynne hym with thy benefite, or els his conscience shall beare hym witnesse, that Gods burnyng wrath hangeth ouer hym.

¶ The .xiij. Chapter.

1 Of Obedience to the rulers, who beare not the sworde in vayne. 8 Charitie must measure all our doynges. 11 An exhortation to good lyfe.

1 LEt euery soule be subiect vnto the hyer powers: For *there is no power but of god. The powers that be, are ordeyned of God.
2 Whosoeuer therfore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordi-naunce of God: And they that resist, shall receaue to thẽ selues dampnation.
3 For rulers are not fearefull to good Workes, but to the euyll. Wylt thou not feare the power? Do Well, and thou shalt haue prayse of the same.
4 For he is the minister of God for thy Wealth. But yf thou do euyll, feare:
For he beareth not the sworde in vayne, for he is the minister of God, reuenger of Wrath on hym that doth euyll.
5 Wherfore, ye must needes be subiect, not only for feare of punishment: but also because of (a) conscience.
6 And for this cause pay ye tribute. For they are Gods ministers, seruyng for the same purpose.
7 Geue to euery man therfore his dutie, *tribute to Whom tribute, custome to Whom custome, feare to Whom feare, honour to Whom honour [belongeth.]
8 Owe nothyng to no man, but to loue one another: (For he that loueth another, hath fulfylled the lawe.

Leuit.xix.d Mat. xxi.d. Mark xii.c Galath.v.b. Iames.ii.b.

*Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

10 Charitie worketh no yll to his neyghbour, therfore the fulfyllyng of the lawe is charitie.) ☞

11 ☞And chiefely consideryng the season, howe that it is tyme that We shoulde nowe awake out of slepe: For nowe is our saluation (b) nearer, then when We beleued.

(b) The further we go, the nearer are we to the end. Nowe therefore our perfect & full saluatiō, is nerer vnto vs, then when we began first to beleue.

12 The nyght is passed, the day is come nye. Let vs therfore caste away the deedes of darkenesse, & let vs put on the armour of lyght.

13 Let vs walke honestly as in the day, *not in rioting & dronkennesse, neither in chaumbering & wantonnesse, neither in strife aud enuying.

Luk.xxi.f. Eccle.ii.c. and.38.d.

14 But put ye on ỹ Lorde Jesus Christe. And make not prouision for the flesshe, to the lustes [therof.]

The.xiiij. Chapter.

1 The weake must be borne with. 10 No man ought to offende his neyghbours conscience. 15 One ought to beare with anothers conscience in charitie.

A 1 Him that is Weake in the fayth, receaue: not to iudgementes of (a) disputyng.

(a) That is, not to this ende, contentiously to dispute with him in matters of religion, wherunto, through the weakenes of faith, he can not as yet attayne, lest he should depart with a greater scruple of conscience, or be offended with vncharitable reasonyng.

2 One beleueth ỹ he may eate euery thyng: Another Which is Weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not hym that eateth, dispise hym that eateth not: And let not hym Which eateth not, *iudge hym that eateth. For God hath receaued hym.

Iacob.iii.b.

4 What art thou that iudgest another mans seruaunt? To his owne maister he standeth or falleth: Yea, he shalbe holden vp. For god is able to make him stande.

B 5 This man putteth difference betwene day and day. Another man counteth all dayes alyke. Let euery man be fully perswaded in his owne (b) mynde.

(b) We must be assured in our conscience by Gods worde, in all thyng that we do, that yf we be strong, we maye knowe what is our libertie: & if we be weake, we may learne to profite dayly.

6 He that esteemeth the day, esteemeth it vnto ỹ Lorde: And he that esteemeth not the day to the Lorde, he doeth not esteeme it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lorde, for he geueth God thankes: And he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lorde, and geueth God thankes.

7 For none of vs lyueth to hym selfe, and no man dyeth to hym selfe.

8 For yf We lyue, We lyue vnto ỹ Lorde: And if We dye, We dye vnto the Lorde. Whether We lyue therfore, or dye, We are the Lordes.

9 For to this ende Christe both dyed and rose agayne and reuyued, that he myght be *Lorde both of dead & quicke.

Actes.v.f. Philip.ii.b.

10 But Why doest thou then iudge thy brother? Either, Why doest thou despise thy brother? We shalbe all brought before the iudgement seate of Christe.

11 For it is Written, I lyue, sayth the Lorde: *and all knees shall bowe to me, & all tongues shall geue prayse to God. C

Esai.lxv.e. Philip.ii.b.

12 So shal euery one of vs geue accompt of hym selfe to God.

13 Let vs not therfore iudge one another any more: But iudge this rather, that no man put a stumblyng blocke, or an occasion to fall, in his brothers Way.

14 ☞For I knowe, and am perswaded by the Lorde Jesus, that *there is nothyng common of it selfe: but vnto hym that iudgeth it to be common, to hym is it common.

Math.xv.b. Actes.x.b. 1 Tim.iiii.a. Mark. vii.d.

15 But yf thy brother be greeued With thy meat, nowe Walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not hym With thy meat, for whom Christe dyed.

16 Let not your good be euyll spoken of. D

17 For the kyngdome of God, is not meat and drinke: but righteousnesse, & peace, and ioy in the holy ghost.

18 For he that in these thynges serueth Christe, pleaseth God, and is cōmended of men.

19 Let vs therfore folowe those thynges which make for peace, & thynges wherwith one may edifie another.

20 Destroy not the Worke of God for meates sake. *All thinges are pure: but it is euyll for that man, Which eateth With offence.

Titus.i.d.

21 It is good neither to eate flesshe, neither ther to drinke Wine, neither any thyng wherby thy brother stumbleth, either falleth, or is made weake.

22 Hast thou (c) fayth? Haue it with thy selfe before God. Happy is he that condempneth not hym selfe in the thyng which he alloweth.

23 For he that maketh conscience, is damned yf he eate, because [he eateth] not of fayth: For whatsoeuer is not of fayth, is (d) sinne.

(c) Fayth, is here taken for a full perswasion of the christian libertie in thinges indifferent.

(d) This sentence, both Augustine and Origen do take to be generally meant of all mens workes whatsoeuer they be, whiche proceade not of a ryght conscience and an vndoubted fayth, grounded vpon the worde of God.

The. xv. Chapter.

1 We must support one another after the example of Christe. 14 Paul sheweth his zeale towarde them, 30 and requireth the lyke of them.

WE Whiche are stronge, *ought to beare ỹ frayltes of the weake, & not to stande in our owne conceiptes.

Galath. vi.a

2 Let euery man please his neygbour, in that that is good to (a) edifyng.

(a) To edifie signifieth to do the parte of a frende to our neyghbour, eyther to bryng him to christ, or to helpe him forwarde, that he may go forwarde in vertue.

3 For Christe pleased not him selfe. But as it is Written: *The rebukes of them which rebuked thee, fell on me.

4 ☞ *For whatsoeuer thynges haue ben Written afore time, were Written for our learnyng, that We through pacience and comfort of ỹ scriptures might haue hope.

5 The God of pacience and consolation, graunt you to be lyke mynded one towardes another, after the ensample of Christe Jesu:

Leuit. xix.d 6 *That ye all agreeyng together, may

B With one mouth prayse God, and the father of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

7 Wherfore, receaue ye one another, as Christe receaued vs, to ỹ prayse of God.

8 And I say, that Jesus Christe Was a minister of the circumcisiõ for the trueth of God, to confirme the promise [made] vnto the fathers:

Deut. xxx.f. 9 *And that the gentiles myght prayse God for his mercie, as it is Written: *For this cause I Wyll praise thee among the gentiles, and syng vnto thy name.

Deut. xxxii.f. 10 And againe he saith: *Reioyce ye gentiles With his people.

Psal. cxvii.a 11 And againe: *praise the Lord al ye gentiles, & laude him al ye people together.

C 12 And againe Esaias saith: There shall be the *roote of Jesse, and he that shall rise to raigne ouer the gentiles, in hym shall the gentiles trust.

Esai. xi.a

13 The God of hope, fyll you With al ioy and peace in beleuyng, that ye may be riche in hope, through the power of the holy ghost.

14 I my selfe am perswaded of you my brethrẽ, that ye also are full of goodnes, and fylled With all knowledge, able also to exhort one another.

15 Neuertheless brethren, I haue somewhat more boldly Written vnto you, to put you in remembraunce, through the grace that is geuen me of God, 16 That I should be the minister of Jesus Christe, to the gentiles, and shoulde minister the Gospell of God, that the offeryng of the (b) gentiles might be acceptable, and sanctified by the holy ghost.

(b) He calleth here the offeryng of the gentiles, the people of the gentiles, whõ he won to god by the preachyng of ỹ Gospell.

17 I haue therefore Whereof I may reioyce through Christe Jesus, in those thynges Which parteyne to God.

18 For I dare not speake of any of those thinges Which Christ hath not Wrought by me, to make the gentiles obedient With Worde and deede, 19 In myghtie signes and Wonders, by the power of the spirite of God: so that from Hierusalem, & the coastes rounde about, vnto Illyricum, I haue fullye preached the Gospell of Christe.

20 So haue I enforced my selfe to preach the Gospell, not Where Christe Was named, lest I shoulde haue buylt vpon an other (c) mans foundation.

(c) In other mans foundation he calleth here the churches that were taught and instructed of other apostles.

21 But as it is Written: *To Whom he Was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that heard not, shall vnderstande.

22 For this cause I haue ben oft let, that I coulde not come vnto you.

23 But nowe, seyng I haue no more to do in these countreys, and also haue ben desirous many yeres to come vnto you:

24 Whensoeuer I take my iourney into Spayne, I Wyll come to you: For I trust to see you in my iourney, and to be brought on my Waye thytherWarde by you, after that I be somewhat fylled With you.

25 But nowe go I vnto Hierusalem, to minister *vnto the (d) saintes.

Act. xi.d

(d) That is, to carry to the poore saintes that lyued at Hierusalem, the almes that he gathered for thẽ among the gentiles where he preached.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia & Achaia to make a certaine comon gatheryng for the poore saintes Whiche are at Hierusalem.

27 It hath pleased them veryly, & their detters are they. For yf the gentiles be made partakers of their spirituall thynges, their duetie is to minister vnto thē in carnall thynges.

28 When I haue perfourmed this, and haue (c) sealed to thē this fruite, I wyll come by you into Spayne.

(c) That is, when I shall faythfully deliuer it to thē, as it were sealed most surely. By fruite, he meaneth almes, whiche is the fruite of the fayth of those that had receaued the Gospell.

29 And I am sure, that when I come vnto you, I shall come with aboundaunce of the blessyng of the Gospell of Christe.

30 ☞ I beseche you brethren for ỹ Lorde Jesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the spirite, that ye helpe me in my busynesse with your prayers to God for me:

31 That I may be delyuered from them which beleue not in Jurie, & that this my seruice which I haue at Hierusalem may be accepted of the saintes:

32 That I may come vnto you with ioy, by the wyll of God, and may with you be refreshed.

33 The God of peace be with you al. Amē. i.Cor.xiiii.f

¶ The.xvj. Chapter.

1 A number of salutations. 17 Paul wylleth them to beware of false brethren. 20 He prayeth and geueth thankes for them.

A 1 I Commende vnto you Phebe our sister, whiche is a minister of the (a) Church of Cenchrea,

(a) In ỹ primatiue church auncient widdowes, and other vertuous women were chosen & appoynted to minister vnto the nedy, and therfore called ministers: & not because they had any publique auctorite to teach in the congregation.

2 That ye receaue her in the Lorde, as it becommeth saintes, and that ye assist her in whatsoeuer busynesse she hath nede of you: For she hath succoured many, and my selfe also.

3 Greete Priscilla and *Aquila my helpers in Christe Jesu:

4 (Which haue for my lyfe layde downe their owne neckes: Unto whom, not onlye I geue thankes, but also all the Churches of the gentiles)

5 Lykewyse [greete] the Churche that is in their house. Salute my welbeloued Epenetus, which is the first fruite of Achaia in Christe.

6 Greete Marie, which bestowed much labour on vs.

7 Salute Andronicus and Junia my cosins, and prisoners with me also, which are wel taken among the Apostles, and were in Christe before me.

8 Greete Amplias my beloued in the Lorde.

9 Salute Urban our helper in Christe, and Stachys my beloued.

10 Salute Appelles approued in Christe, salute them whiche are of Aristobulus housholde.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman, greete them that be of the housholde of Narcissus, which are in the Lorde.

12 Salute Tryphena, & Tryphosa, which labour in the Lorde. Salute the beloued Persis, which laboured much in the Lorde.

13 Salute Rufus chosen in the Lorde, and his mother and myne.

14 Greete Asyncritus, Phlegon, Herman, Patrobas, Mercurius, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saintes which are with them. ℭ

16 *Salute one an other with an holy (b) kysse. The Churches of Christ salute you. ii.Cor.xii..c

(b) This was a signe of amitie among the Jewes, whiche S. Paul wylleth to be holy, that is, that it come from a mynde full of godly charitie.

17 ☞ Nowe I beseche you brethren, (c) marke them whiche cause deuision, & geue occasions of euyll, contrarie to the doctrine whiche ye haue learned, and auoyde them.

(c) Ther are two markes to knowe the false apostles bye. The one is, when they leaue Christe & serue their belly. The other, when they regarde not the holye scripture, but preache ipes & their owne fantasies.

18 For they that are suche, serue not the Lorde Jesus Christe, *but their owne belly, and with sweete and flatteryng wordes deceaue the heartes of the innocentes.

19 For your obedience is gone abrode vnto al men. I am glad therfore no doubt, of you: But yet I would haue you wise vnto that whiche is good, & simple concernyng euyll.

20 The God of peace shall treade Satan vnder your feete shortly. The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christe be with you.

21 Timotheus my worckefelowe, and Lucius, and Jason, & Sosipater my kinsemen, salute you.

22 I Tertius, whiche wrote this epistle, ℭ salute you in the Lorde.

23 *Gaius myne hoast, and of the whole Churche, saluteth you. Erastus the chamberlaine of the citie saluteth you, and Quartus a brother. Act.xix.c.

The

24 The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.
25 To hym that is of power to stablisshe you, according to my Gospell, and preachyng of Jesus Christe, by reuealyng of the misterie whiche was kept secrete sence the worlde began,
26 But nowe is opened, and by the scriptures of the prophetes, at the cõmaundement of the euerlastyng God, to the obedience of fayth, among all nations publisshed:
27 To [the same] God, wyse only, be glorie, through Jesus Christe, for euer. Amen.

¶ This epistle was written to the Romanes from Corinthus [and sent] by Phebe the minister vnto ꝑ Churche at Cenchrea.

¶ The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

¶ The first Chapter.

1 He prayseth the great graces of God shewed towarde them, 10 exhortyng them to concorde and humilitie. 19 He beateth downe all pryde, and wisedome which is not grounded vpon God: 26 Shewyng whom God hath chosen to confounde the wisedome of the worlde.

A 1 PAule called [to be] an Apostle of Jesu Christ, through the wyll of God, and brother Sostenes:
2 Unto the Church of God whiche is at Corinthus: To thẽ that are sanctified in Christe Jesus, (a) saintes by callyng, With all that call on the name of our Lorde Jesus Christe in euery place, both of theirs and ours:
3 *Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and from the Lorde Jesus Christe.
4 ☞ I thanke my God allwayes on your behalfe, for the grace of God whiche is geuen you in Jesus Christe:
5 That in all thynges ye are made riche in hym, in all vtteraunce, & in all knowledge:
6 As the testimonie of Jesus Christ was confirmed in you.
B 7 So that ye are destitute of no gyft, wayting for the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christe,
8 Whiche shall also (○) strengthen you vnto the ende, that ye may be (b) blameles in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. ☜
9 *God is faythfull, by whom ye are called vnto the felowshyp of his sonne Jesus Christe our Lorde. Nu.xxiii.e. i.Cor.x.c.
10 Nowe I beseche you brethren by the name of our Lorde Jesus Christe, that ye all speake one thyng, and that there be no discentions among you, but be ye knit together, in one mynde, and in one meanyng.
11 For it is shewed vnto me my brethren, of you, by them whiche are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.
12 Nowe this I saye, that euery one of you saith, I am of Paul, and I am of *Apollo, and I am of Cephas, and I am of Christe. Act. xviii.d i.Cor. iii.a. and.xvi.c.
13 Is Christe deuided? Was Paul crucified for you? eyther were ye baptized in the name of Paul?
14 I thanke God that I baptized none of you but Crispus and Gaius:
15 Lest any shoulde say, that I had baptized in myne owne name.
16 I baptized also the housholde of Stephana: Furthermore knowe I not whether I baptized any other.
17 For Christe sent me not to baptize, but C to preache the Gospell: not with wisedome of (c) wordes, lest ꝑ crosse of Christ shoulde be made of none effect.

(a) Shewde how thee free mercy and cal ing of God.

(b) Or, con- ue. For there is no condem- on to thẽ that are in Christ Jesu.

(c) when mẽ shoulde attribute that vnto eloquẽce, whi che onlye belongeth to the power of God

18 For the preachyng of the crosse, is to them that perishe foolishnesse: but vnto vs which are saued, *it is the power of God.

Rom.i.b. Esai.xxix.d 19 For it is written, *I wyll destroye the wisedome of the wyse, and wyll cast away the vnderstandyng of the prudent.

Esaias xix.c. 20 Where is the wise? *Where is ỹ scribe? where is the disputer of this worlde? hath not God made the wisedome of this worlde foolyshenesse?

D 21 For after that the world through wisedome knewe not God, in the wisedome of God: it pleased God through foolishnesse of preachyng to saue them that beleue.

Math.viii.d Luke.xi.d. Iohn.vi.d. 22 For *the Iewes require a signe, & the Grekes seke after wisedome:

23 But we preache Christe crucified, vnto the Iewes a stumblyng blocke, and vnto the Grekes foolyshnesse:

24 But vnto them which are called both of the Iewes and Grekes [we preache] Christe the power of God, and the wisedome of God.

25 For the foolishnesse of God, is wiser then men, and the weakenesse of God, is stronger then men.

26 Brethren, ye see your callyng, howe that not many wise men after the flesshe, not many myghtie, not many noble [are called.]

27 But God hath chosen the foolyshe thynges of the worlde, to confounde the wise: And God hath chosen the weake thynges of the worlde, to confounde thynges which are myghtie:

28 And vnnoble thynges of the worlde, & thinges which are despysed, hath God chosen, [yea] and thinges which are not, to bryng to naught thynges that are:

29 That no flesshe shoulde reioyce in his presence.

30 And of hym are ye in Christe Iesu, whiche of God is made vnto vs wisedome, and righteousnesse, and sanctification, and redemption:

31 That accordyng as it is written: he that reioyceth, let hym reioyce in the Lorde.

The. ij. Chapter.

1 He putteth for example his maner of preachyng, which was accordyng to the tenor of the Gospell: 8 which Gospell was contemptible, and hyd to the carnall, 10 and agayne honorable and manifest to the spirituall.

A1 AND I brethren, when I came to you, came not in gloriousnesse of wordes, or of wisedome, shewing vnto you the (a) testimonie of God.

(a) That is, the Gospell, wherby God doth manifest hym selfe to the worlde, or wherof God is the author and witnesse.

2 For I esteemed not to knowe any thyng among you saue Iesus Christe, and hym crucified.

3 And I was among you in weakenesse, and in feare, and in much tremblyng.

4 And my wordes and my preachyng was not with entysing wordes of mans wisedome, but in shewyng of the spirite, and of power:

5 That your fayth should not stande in the wisedome of men, but in the power of God.

B 6 And we speake wisedome among thē that are perfite: not the wisedome of this world, neither of the princes of this world, which come to naught.

7 But we speake the wisedome of God in a misterie [euen] the hyd [wisedome] which God ordeyned before the worlde, vnto our glorie.

Actes.xiii.d 8 Which *none of ỹ princes of this world knewe: For had they knowen it, they woulde not haue crucified the Lorde of glorie.

9 But as it is written: *The eye hath not seene, & the eare hath not heard, neither haue entred into the heart of man, the thynges which God hath prepared for them that loue hym. Esai.lxiii.a.

10 But God hath reuealed thē vnto vs by his spirite: For *the spirite searcheth all thinges, yea the deepe thinges of God. C Rom. viii.a.

11 For what man knoweth the thynges of a man, saue ỹ (b) spirite of man which is in hym? Euen so, the thinges of God, knoweth no man, but ỹ spirite of God. (b) Mannes mynde, which vnderstandeth, and iudgeth.

12 And we haue receaued, not the spirite of the worlde, but the spirite which is of God, that we myght know the thinges that are geuen to vs of God.

13 which thynges also we speake, not in the wordes which mans wisedome teacheth, but which ỹ holy ghost teacheth, comparyng spirituall thynges with spirituall thynges. D

14 But the naturall man perceaueth not the thynges of ỹ spirite of God, for they are foolyshenesse vnto hym: Neither can can he knowe [them] because they are spiritually discerned.

15 But he that is spirituall, discerneth all thynges, yet he hym selfe is iudged of no man.

16 *For who hath knowen the mynde of the Lorde, that he myght instruct hym? But we haue the (c) mynde of Christe. Esaias. xl. c. Rom.xi.e.

(c) That is, Christes spirite.

¶ The. iij. Chapter.

3 Paul rebuketh the sectes and aucthours therof. 7 No man ought to attribute his saluation to the ministers, but to God. 10 That they beware erronious doctrines. 11 Christe is the foundation of his Churche. 16 The dignitie and office both of the ministers, and also of all the faythfull.

A[1] AND I coulde not speake vnto you brethren, as vnto spirituall, but as vnto carnall [euē] as vnto (a) babes in Christe.

(a) Beyng instructed in Christe by faith, but beyng not moued by his spirite to do as we do in faith, nor growe vp in a ripe age. Also here let him take hede that teacheth, that gyue mylke & not stronge meate vnlesse are not, but only suche as are of mans fourme.

2 I gaue you mylke to drynke, and not meate: For ye then were not stronge, neither are ye as yet.

3 For ye are carnal. Seing then, there is among you enuying, & stryfe, and sectes, are ye not carnall, and walke as men?

4 For whyle one sayth, I am of Paul, and another, I am of Apollo, are ye not carnall?

5 What is Paul? what is Apollo? Only B ministers are they by whom ye beleued, euen as the Lorde gaue to euery man.

6 I haue planted, Apollo watered: but God gaue the encrease.

7 So then, neither is he that planteth any thyng, neither he that watreth: but God that geueth the encrease.

8 He that planteth, & he that watreth, are one, and euery man shal receaue his rewarde accordyng to his labour.

9 For we together are Gods labourers, ye are Gods husbandrie [ye are] *Gods buyldyng. Ephe.ii.d.

C 10 Accordyng to the grace of God geuen vnto me, as a wise maister builder haue I layde the foundation, and another buyldeth theron. But let euery man (b) take hede howe he buyldeth vpon.

(b) Wherevpon ryseth the multitudes of Couetth, as teachers of curious doctrines & questions. 1.Tim.vi.c.

11 For other foundation can no man lay, then that that is layde, *which is Jesus Christe.

12 If any man buylde on this foundation, golde, syluer, precious stones, tymber, haye [or] stubble:

13 Euery mans worke shal appeare. The day shall declare it, because it shalbe reuealed by the fire: And the fire shall trie euery mans worke what it is.

14 If any mans worke that he hath built vpon abyde, he shall receaue a reward.

15 If any mans worke burne, he shall suffer losse, but he shalbe safe hym selfe: neuertheles, yet as it were through fire.

16 & *Knowe ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirite of God dwelleth in you? D 1.Cor.vi.d.

17 If any man defyle the temple of God, hym shall God destroy. For the temple of God is holy, which [temple] ye are.

18 Let no man deceaue him selfe. If any man among you seeme to be wise in this worlde, let hym be a foole, that he may be wyse.

19 For the wisedome of this worlde, is foolishnesse with God. For it is writtē: *He compasseth the wise in (c) their owne craftynesse. Iob.v.b.

(c) whē they them selues are entangled in the same snares whiche they layde for others.

20 And agayne: The Lorde knoweth the thoughtes of the wyse, that they be vayne.

21 Therfore, let no man reioyce in (d) men: For all thynges are yours:

(d) But in God, who worketh by his ministers to his owne glorie, and the comfort of his Churche.

22 whether it be Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, either the worlde, either lyfe, or death, whether they be present thynges, or thynges to come, all are yours:

23 And ye are Christes, and Christe (is) Gods.

¶ The .iiij. Chapter.

1 After that he had described the office of a true apostle, 3 seyng they dyd not acknowledge hym such one, 4 he appealeth to gods iudgement, 7 beatyng downe their glorie, which hyndered them to prayse that which they dispraysed in hym. 16 He sheweth what he requireth on their part, and what they ought to loke for of hym at his returne.

A[1] LET a man so esteeme of vs, as the ministers of Christe, and disposers of the *secretes of God. Deu.xxix.d

2 Furthermore, it is required of the disposers that a man be founde faythfull.

3 With me it is but a very small thyng that I shoulde be iudged of you, either of mans iudgement: No, I iudge not (a) mine owne selfe.

(a) whether I haue great giftes or little, fewe or many.

4 For I knowe nothing by my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustified: but he that iudgeth me is the Lorde.

5 Therefore iudge nothyng before the tyme, vntyll the Lorde come, Who wyl lyghten thynges that are hyd in darkeneſſe, & open the counſels of the heartes, and then ſhall euery man haue prayſe of God.

B 6 And theſe thynges brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto my ſelfe, and to Apollos, for your ſakes, that ye might learne by vs, that no man conceaue in mynde aboue that Whiche is Written, that one ſwell not agaynſt another for any mans cauſe.

(b) To wyt, frō other mē, & preferreth thee. 7 For Who (b) ſeperateth thee? And What haſt thou, that thou haſt not receaued? If thou haue receaued it, Why reioyceſt thou, as though thou haddeſt not receaued it?

8 Nowe ye are full, nowe ye are made ryche, ye raigne as kynges Without vs, and I Woulde to God ye dyd raigne, that We alſo myght raigne With you.

9 For me thynketh, that God hath ſet forth vs, Whiche are the laſt apoſtles, as it were men appoynted to death. For We are made a gaſyng ſtocke vnto the Worlde, and to the angels, and to men.

Pſa.lxiiii.d. Rom. viii.f.

C (c) By this byttter taunting, in abiecting hym ſelfe, and exalting the Corinthians, he maketh them aſhamed of their vayne glorie. 10 We [are] (c) fooles for Chriſtes ſake, but ye [are] Wyſe in Chriſte. We [are] Weake, but ye [are] ſtronge. Ye [are] honorable, but We [are] deſpiſed.

11 Euen vnto this () time We both hunger and thirſte, and are naked, and are buffeted, and haue no certaine dwellyng place,

() Or, houre.

12 And labour, *Working With our owne handes. We are reuyled, and We bleſſe. We are perſecuted, and ſuffer it. Actes.xx.g i.Theſ.ii.c. ii.Theſ.iii.d

13 We are euyll ſpoken of, and We praye: We are made as the fylthyneſſe of the Worlde, the offcowryng of all thynges vnto this day.

14 I Write not theſe thynges to ſhame you, but as my beloued ſonnes I warne you. D

15 For though ye haue ten thouſande inſtructours in Chriſt, yet [haue ye] not many fathers: For in Chriſte Jeſu I haue begotten you through the Goſpell.

16 Wherefore, I deſire you, be ye followers of me.

17 For this cauſe haue I ſent vnto you Timotheus, Whiche is my beloued ſonne, & faythfull in the Lorde, Which ſhall put you in remembraunce of my Wayes Which be in Chriſte, as I teache euery Where in all Churches.

18 Some ſwel as though I would come no more at you:

19 But I Will come to you ſhortly, *if the Lorde Will, & Will know, not the Wordes of thē Which ſwell, but the power. Act.xviii.c. Heb..vi.a.

20 For the kyngdome of God is not in Worde, but in (d) power. (d) Of the holy ghoſt.

21 What Wyl ye? Shal I come vnto you With a rodde, or in loue and in the ſpirite of mekeneſſe?

The. v. Chapter.

1 He reproueth ſharpely their negligence in punyſhyng hym that had committed inceſt, 3 wylyng them to excommunicate hym, 7 to imbrace puritie, 9 and flee wickednelle.

A 1 There goeth a common ſaying that there is fornication among you, & ſuche fornication as is not named among the (a) gentiles: that one ſhoulde haue his fathers Wyfe.

Leui.xviii.d (a) Who would thynke that you would ſuffer ſ mischiefe vnpunyſhed, Which ſ moſt barbarous nations abhorre to ſpeake of.

2 And ye ſwell, and haue not rather ſorowed, that he that hath ſo done this deede, myght be put from among you.

3 For I verily, as abſent in body, but preſent in ſpirite, haue determined alredie, as though I Were preſent, concernyng hym that hath done this deede.

4 In the name of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſte, When ye are gathered together and my ſpirite, With the power of the Lorde Jeſus Chriſte,

5 *To delyuer ſuche a one vnto Satan for the deſtruction of the fleſſhe, that the ſpirite may be ſaued in the daye of the Lorde Jeſus. Math.xvi.d.

6 Your reioycing is not (b) good. Knowe ye not, that a litle leauen leaueneth the Whole lumpe? (b) Seyng you ſuffer ſuch monſtrous vices vnpunyſhed.

7 Purge out therfore the olde leauen, that ye maye be newe dowe, as ye are B vnleauened bread: For Chriſte our Paſſouer is offred vp for vs.

8 Therefore let vs kepe holy day, not With old leauen, neither With the leauen of malicioulnes and Wickednelle, but With the vnleauened bread of purenelle and and trueth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an epistle, that ye should not companie with fornicatours:
10 [And I meant] not at all with the fornicatours of this worlde, or with the couetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters: for then must ye needes haue gone out of the world.
11 But nowe I haue written vnto you, *that ye companie not together, if any
1.Thes.iii.b that is called a brother be a fornicatour, or couetous, or a worshipper of idols, or a rayler, or a drunkarde, or an extortioner: with him that is such [see that ye] eate not.
12 For what haue I to do to iudge them that are without? Do ye not iudge them that are within? Them that are without God iudgeth. *Put away from among you that wicked person. Deut.xiii.b

The .vi. Chapter.

1 He rebuketh them for going to lawe together before the heathen. 7 Christians ought rather to suffer. 12 He reproueth the abusing of christian libertie, 15 and sheweth that we ought to serue God purely, both in body and in soule.

A 1 DAre any of you, hauing businesse * with another, be iudged vnder the (a) vniust, and not rather vnder ỹ saintes?
*Or, against
(a) He calleth them vniust, whosoeuer are not sanctified in Christ.
2 *Do ye not knowe that the saintes shall iudge the worlde? If the worlde shalbe iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?
Mat.vii.d.
3 Knowe ye not howe that we shal iudge the angels? Howe much more thinges that parteyne to this lyfe?
4 If then ye haue iudgement of thinges parteynyng to this lyfe, set vp them to iudge whiche are least esteemed in the Churche.
5 I speake it to your shame: Is it so that there is not a wyse man among you? no not one that can iudge betwene brother and brother?
6 But one brother goeth to law with another, and that vnder the vnbeleuers?
B 7 Nowe therefore there is vtterly a fault among you, because ye go to lawe one with another: Why rather suffer ye not wrong? Why rather suffer ye not harme?
8 Nay, ye your selues do wrong, and do harme, and that to your brethren.
9 Knowe ye not that the vnrighteous shall not inherite the kingdome of God? Be not deceaued: *neither fornicatours, nor idolatours, nor adulterers, nor weaklinges, nor abusers of them selues with mankinde, Gal.v.d. Eph.v.a.

13 Meates [are ordeyned] for the belly, and the belly for meates: but God shall destroy both it, and them. Nowe the body [is] not for (c) fornication: but for the Lorde, and the Lorde for the body.
(c) They abused meates, both in ỹ they offended other therby, & also mocked their owne lothsome vncleanesse.
14 And God both hath raysed vp the Lorde, and also shall rayse vs vp by his power.

18 Flee fornication. Euery synne that a man doeth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body.
19 Knowe ye not that your body is the temple of the holy ghost [whiche is] in you, whom ye haue of God, and ye are not your owne?
20 For ye are dearely bought: therefore glorifie God in your body and in your spirite, which are Gods.

The. vii. Chapter.

1 The apostle aunswereth to certayne questions which the Corinthians desired to know, 2 as of single lyfe, 3 of the duetie of mariage. 11 of discordes and discention in mariage 13 of mariage betweene the faythfull and unfaythfull, 18 of uncircumcising the circumcised, 21 of seruitude. 25 of virginitie, 39 and seconde mariage.

A 1 NOwe as concernyng the thinges wherof ye wrote unto me, ☞ it is (a) good for a man not to touche a woman.

(a) Or, expedient, because mariage, throw many corruptiõ, and not by gods institution, bringeth cares and troubles.

2 Neuertheless, to auoyde fornication, let euery man haue his owne wyfe, and let euery woman haue her owne husband.

3 Let the husbande geue unto the wyfe due benenolence: Lykewyse also the wyfe unto the husbande.

4 The wyfe hath not the power of her owne body, but the husbande: And likewyse also the husbande hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.

Tob.vi.d. Ioel.ii.d. 5 *Defraude you not the one the other, except [it be] with both your consentes for a time, that ye may geue your selues to fasting and prayer: and afterward come together againe, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

(b) He sheweth that he cõmaundeth not precisely all mẽ to marrie, but that God hath graunted this remedie unto them which can not liue chaste. 6 This I say of fauour, & (b) not of commaundement.

7 For I woulde that all men were as I my selfe [am:] but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, another after that.

8 I say therefore unto them that be unmaryed and wyddowes, it is good for them if they abyde euen as I.

i.Tim.v.c. 9 But *if they can not abstayne, let them marrie: For it is better to marrie then to burne.

10 Unto the maryed commaunde, not I, but the Lord, *Let not the wyfe depart from the husbande:

Mat.v.e. and xix.a. 11 But and if she depart, let her remayne unmarried, or be reconciled unto her husbande [againe:] And let not the husbande put away his wyfe.

12 But to the remnaunt speake I, not the Lorde: If any brother haue a wife that beleueth not, if she be content to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath to her husbande an infidell, and he consent to dwel with her, let her not put him away.

¶ 14 For the unbeleuing husbande is sanctified by the wyfe, and the unbeleuyng wyfe is sanctified by the husbande: els were your children uncleane, but nowe are they (c) holy.

(c) They that are borne of either of the parẽtes faithfull, are also counted members of Christes church, because of the promise.

15 But if the unbeleuing depart, let hym depart: A brother or a sister is not in subiection in such thinges: But God hath called us in peace.

16 For howe knowest thou O woman, whether thou shalt saue thy husbande: or how knowest thou O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wyfe:

17 But as God hath distributed to euery man, *as the Lorde hath called euery one, so let hym walke, and so ordeyne I in all Churches. Eph.iii.a.

18 Is any man called beyng circumcised: let him not adde uncircumcision: Is any called uncircumcised: let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keping of the commaundementes of God.

20 ☞ Let euery man abyde in the same calling, wherin he was called.

21 *Art thou called a seruaunt: care not for it: Neuertheless, if thou mayest be free, use it rather. i.Tim.vi.a.

22 For he that is called in the Lord [being] a seruaunt, is the Lordes free man: Likewyse also he that is called [beyng] free is Christes seruaunt. D

23 Ye are dearely bought, be not ye the seruauntes of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherin he is called, therin abyde with (d) God. ☜

(d) Or, Sincerely, as in the presence of God.

25 Nowe concerning virgins I haue no commaundement of the Lord: yet geue I counsell, as one that hath obtayned mercy in the Lorde to be faythfull.

26 I suppose therfore that it is good for the present necessitie: for [I say] it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bounde unto a wife: seke not to be loosed: Art thou loosed from a wyfe: seke not a wyfe.

28 But and if thou marrie a wyfe, thou sinnest not, and if a virgin marrie, she hath not sinned: Neuertheless, such shall haue trouble in their flesh, but I beare with you.

29 But

Psal.xc a. Pet.iii b.

29 But this say I brethren, * the tyme is short: It remayneth, that they which haue wyues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that wepe, as though they wept not: & they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that bye, as though they possessed not:

Esai.lx b.

31 And they that vse this worlde, as though they vsed it not: For * the fashion of this worlde goeth away.

1 Iohn.ii c. Mat.vi.d. Luk.vi.c.

32 * I woulde haue you without care: He that is vnmaryed, careth for the thinges that belong to the Lorde, how he may please the Lorde:

33 But he that hath maryed a wyfe, careth for the thinges that are of the worlde, how he may please his wyfe.

34 There is difference betweene a virgin and a wyfe: The vnmaryed woman careth for the thinges that are of the Lorde, that she may be holy both in body and in spirite: [Againe] she that is maryed careth for the thinges that pertayne to the world, how she may please her husbande.

35 ☞ This speake I for your profite, not to tangle you in a snare: but that [ye may folowe] that which is honest and comely, and that ye may cleaue fast vnto the Lorde without separation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgin if she passe the time of mariage, (c) and neede so require, let him do what he wyll, he sinneth not: let them be maryed. G

(c) That is, that she should mary to auoyde fornication.

37 Neuertheles, he that purposeth surely in his heart hauing no neede, but hath power ouer his owne wyll, and hath so decreed in his heart that he wyl kepe his virgin, doth well.

38 So then he that ioyneth his virgin in maryage, doth well: but he that ioyneth not [his virgin] in mariage, doth better.

Rom.vii.a.

39 * The wyfe is bounde to the ○ lawe as long as her husbande lyueth: but if her husband be dead, she is at libertie to marry with whom she wil, onely in the Lorde.

○ Or, by the lawe of maryages.

40 But she is happier if she so abide, after my iudgement: And I thinke veryly that I haue the spirite of God.

¶ The .viij. Chapter.

1 He rebuketh them that vse their libertie to the slaunder of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices. 9 And sheweth how men ought to behaue them toward such as be weake.

Acles.v c,

1 AS touching thinges * offred vnto idols, We are sure ỹ we all haue knowledge. Knowledge maketh a man swell: but loue edifieth.

2 If any man thynke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

○ Or taught.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is ○ knowen of him.

i.Cor.x c.

4 As concerning the eating of those thinges that are offered vnto idols, We are sure that * an idoll is nothing in the worlde, and that there is none other God but one.

5 And though there be that are called gods, whether in heauen or in earth, (as there be gods many, and (a) lordes many:)

(a) which being idols, yet are esteemed of men, as Lordes and Seignours.

6 Yet vnto vs is there but one God, [which is] the father, of whom are all thinges, and we in him, and one Lorde Iesus Christe, by whom are al thinges, and we by him.

7 But euery man hath not knowledge: * For some hauing conscience of the idol vntill this houre, eate as a thing offred vnto idols, and so their conscience being weake, is defiled.

i.Cor.viii.g.

8 But meate maketh vs not acceptable to God: For neither if we eate, haue we the more, neither if we eate not, haue we the lesse. B

9 But take heede lest by any meanes this libertie of yours be an occasion of falling, to them that are weake.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge, sit at meate in the idols temple: shal not the conscience of him which is weake, be (b) boldened to eate those thinges which are offred to idols,

(b) By thyne example, without any grosid of doctrine.

11 And through thy knowledge shal the (c) weake brother perishe, for whom Christe dyed?

(c) which eateth against his conscience.

12 When ye sinne so against the brethren, and wounde their weake conscience, ye sinne against Christe.

13 Wherefore, * if meate offend my brother, I wyll eate no flesh whyle the worlde standeth, lest I shoulde offende my brother.

The .ix. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth them by his example to vse their libertie to the edification of other.
24 to run on foorth in the course that they haue begun.

1 AM I not an Apostle: am I not free: *haue I not seene Jesus Christe our Lord: Are ye not my worke in the Lorde:

Act.xi.a.

2 If I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse am I vnto you: For the (a)seale of myne Apostleship are ye in the Lorde.

(a) I neede no further declaration, but the workes that I haue wrought among you.

3 Myne answere to them that aske me, is this,

4 Haue we not power to eate and to drinke:

5 Haue we not power to leade about a (b)sister a woman as well as other Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas:

(b) Or a sister a wife. Saincte Paule vseth many other wordes to expresse a wyfe then γυνὴ. valla, what needeth it to adde a woman where was promised a sister? wherefore I thinke (sayth he) it ought to be translated a wyfe, specially because it is expressed in the singuler number γυναῖκα. The olde translation printed, translateth the wordes, saying: Mulierem sororem. wher: the most old written copies constantly haue Sororem mulierem. as all the Greke copies haue τὴν ἀδελφὴν γυναῖκα. Deu. xxv.b 1. Timo.v c. Roma xv.f. Gal.vi.b.

6 Either only I and Barnabas haue not power this to do:

7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost: who planteth a vineyarde, and eateth not of the fruite therof: Or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke:

8 Say I these thinges after the maner of men: or saith not the law the same also:

9 For it is written in the law of Moyses: *Thou shalt not muosell the mouth of the Ore that treadeth out the corne. Doth God take care for Oxen:

Act.xx.g.

10 Either sayth he it not altogether for our sakes: For our sakes no doubt this is written, that he which eareth, should eare in hope: & that he which threshеth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.

11 *If we haue sowen vnto you spirituall thinges, is it a great thing if we reape your carnall thinges:

12 If others be partakers of [this] power [wherfore are] not we rather: Neuertheless, *we haue not vsed this power: but suffer all thinges, lest we shoulde hinder the Gospel of Christ.

13 Do ye not knowe that they which minister about holy thynges, eate of the thinges of the temple: And they whiche wayte at the aulter, are partakers with the aulter:

Mat.x.b.

14 Euen so hath the Lord ordayned, *that they which preache the Gospell, shoulde lyue of the Gospell.

Actes .xx.g

15 *But I haue vsed none of these thinges. Neuertheless, I wrote not these thinges, that it shoulde be so done vnto me: For it were better for me to die, then that any man shoulde make my reioycing vayne. ☜

16 For if I preache the Gospell, I haue nothyng to reioyce of: for necessitie is layde vpon me. But wo is vnto me if I preache not the Gospell.

17 For if I do it with a good wil, I haue a reward: but if [I do it] against my wil, the (c)dispensatiō is committed vnto me.

(c) The Greke worde οἰκονομία signifieth a guidaunce, bestowing, or distribution of thinges, as it were to the profite of an household.

18 What is my reward then: Verily that when I preache the Gospell, I make the Gospell of Christ free, that I misuse not myne authoritie in the Gospell.

19 For though I be free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruaunt vnto all men, that I might win the mo.

Act.xvi.a Gal.ii.a.

20 *Unto the Jewes, I become as a Jewe, that I might win the Jewes: To them that are vnder the lawe, [I become] as [though I were] vnder the lawe, that I might win them that are vnder the lawe:

21 To them that are without lawe, [become I] as [though I were] without lawe, (When I was not without law as parteyning to the lawe of God, but in the lawe of Christe) to winne them that are without lawe.

22 To the weake became I as weake, that I might winne the weake. I am made *all thinges to all men, that I might at the least way saue some.

i.Cor.x.g.

23 And this I do for the Gospels sake, that I might haue my part therof.

24 ☞Perceaue ye not [howe] that they which run in a race, run all, but one receaueth the rewarde: So run that ye may obtayne.

25 Euery man that proueth maisteries, abstayneth from all thynges, and they [do it] to obtayne a crowne that shall perishe: but we to obtayne an *euerlasting crowne.

2. Tim. 4.b. i.Pet.v.b.

26 I therfore so run, not as at an vncertayne thing: So fight I, not as one that beateth the ayre.

27 But I tame my (d)body, and bryng it into subiection, lest by any meanes, that when I haue preached to other, I my selfe shoulde be a castaway. ☜

(d) Lest he shoulde be reproued of men when they should see him do contrarie, or contempne that thing which he taught others to do.

¶ The.x.Chapter.

1 He feareth them with the examples of the Jewes, that they put not their truſt carnally in the graces of God: 14 Exhortyng them to flee all idolatrie, 23 and offence of their neighbour.

A1 BRethrē, I woulde not that ye ſhoulde be ignorannt, howe that all our fathers were vnder the cloude, and all paſſed through the ſea, 17 For we that are many, are one bread and one body, in as much as we all are partakers of one bread.

18 Beholde Iſrael after the fleſhe. Are not they which eate of the ſacrifices, partakers of the aulter?

19 What ſay I then? *that the idol is any E thyng? Or that it which is offered to idols is any thyng? i Cor.viii.a.

1 He rebuketh the abuses which were crept into their Churche. 4 As touchyng prayer, propheſiyng, 18 and miniſtring the Lordes ſupper, 23 bringyng them agayne to the firſt inſtitution therof.

A1 BE ye the followers of me, euen as I am of Christe.

2 I commende you brethren, that ye remember me in all thynges, and kepe the ordinaunces, as I deliuered them to you.

3 But I wyl that ye knowe, that Christ is the head of euery man. And the man is the * womans head: And God is Christes head. Gen.ii.d. Ephe.v.e.

4 Euery man praying or propheſiyng, hauyng any thing on his head, shameth his head.

5 But euery woman that prayeth or propheſieth bare headed, dishonesteth her head: For that is euen all one as yf she were shauen.

6 If the woman be not couered, let her also be shorne. * If it be a shame for a woman to be shorne or shauen, let her couer her head. Deu.xxii.a.

B7 A man ought not to couer his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glorie of God: But the woman is the glorie of the man:

Gen.i.d.

8 For * the man is not of the woman: but the woman of the man:

9 Neither was the man created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mans sake.

10 ☞ For this cause ought the woman to haue (a) power on her head, for the Angels sakes. (a) Some thing to couer her head in signe of subiection.

11 Neuertheleſſe, neither is the man without the woman, neither ỹ woman without the man, in the Lorde.

12 For as the woman is of the man, euen so is the man by the woman, but all of God.

C13 Iudge in your selues, whether it be comely that a woman pray vnto God bare headed?

14 Doth not nature it selfe teache you, that it is a shame for a man, yf he haue long heere?

15 But yf a woman haue long heere, it is a prayse for her: For her heere is geuen her to couer her withall.

16 If any man lust to striue, we haue no such custome, neither the Churches of God.

17 This I warne you of, and commende not, that ye come together, not after a better maner, but after a worse.

18 For first of all, When ye come together D in the Churche, I heare that there is diſſention among you, and I partly beleue it.

19 For * there must be sectes among you, that they which are approued ○ among you, myght be knowen. Mat.xviii.a ○ Or, mong

20 When ye come together therfore into one place, you can not eate the Lordes supper:

21 For euery one preuenteth other, in eatyng his owne supper. And one is hungry, and another is dronken.

22 Haue ye not houses to eate & to drynke in? Despise ye the Churche of God, and shame them that haue not? what shall I say vnto you, shall I prayse you in this, I prayse you not.

23 ☞ That which I deliuered vnto you, E I receaued of the Lorde. For the Lord Iesus, the same nyght in the which he was betrayed, toke bread:

24 And when he had geuen thankes, he brake it, and sayde: * Take ye [and] eate, this is my body which is broke for you: This do ye in the remembraunce of me. Math.xxvi.e. Mar.xiiii.b Luk.xxii.b.

25 After the same maner also [he toke] the cup, When he had supped, saying: This cup is the newe testament in my blood: This do as oft as ye drynke it, in remembraunce of me.

26 For as often as ye shal eate this bread, and drynke this cup, * ye shall shewe the Lordes death * tyll he come. F i Peter.ii.b. Actes.i.b.

27 Wherfore, Whosoeuer shall eate this bread, and drynke this cup of the Lorde vnworthyly,

(b) By pertaynyng the true and pure vse of ỳ same. 1. Cor.xu.b. Eccle.28.c.

(b) vnworthyly, shalbe gyltie of the body and blood of the Lorde.

28 *But let a man examine hym selfe, and so let hym eate of this breade, and drinke of this cuppe:

29 For he that eateth and drynketh vnworthyly, eateth and drynketh (c) his owne dampnation, [because] he maketh no difference of the Lordes body.

(c) But as though these holy misteries of the Lordes body & blood, were common meates, so without reuerence he commeth vnto them.

30 For this cause many are weake and sicke among you, and many slepe.

31 For yf we woulde iudge our selues, we shoulde not be iudged.

32 But when we are iudged, we are chastened of the Lorde, that we shoulde not be dampned with the *worlde. i Iohn.ii.c.

33 Wherfore my brethren, when ye come together to eate, tary one for another.

34 If any man hunger, let hym eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condempnation. ☜ Other thynges will I set in order when I come.

8 For to one is geuen by the spirite, the worde of wisdome, to another the word of knowledge, by the same spirite:

9 To another [is geuen] fayth, by the B same spirite: to another the giftes of healyng by the same spirite:

10 To another, power to do miracles, to another, (b) prophesie, to another *[iudgement] to discerne spirites, to another, diuers kyndes of tongues, to another, the interpretation of tongues.

(b) Meaning the declaration of Gods misteries. 1. Iohn.iiii.b.

11 But these all worketh euen one and the selfe same spirite, deuidyng to euery man a seuerall gyft, as he will. ☜

12 *For as the body is one, & hath many members, and all the members of one body, though they be many, [yet] are [but] one body: euen so is Christe. Rom.xii.a. 1. Cor.xii.b. Ephe.iiii.b.

13 For by one spirite, are we all baptized into one body, whether [we be] Jewes or gentiles, whether [we be] bonde or free: and haue *all dronke of one spirite.

14 For the body is not one member, but many. Esai.lv.a.

15 If the foote woulde say, because I am not the hande, I am not of the body: is it therfore not of the body?

16 And yf the eare woulde say, because I C am not the eye, I am not of the body: is it therfore not of the body?

17 If all the body [were] an eye, where were then the hearyng? If all [were] hearyng, where were the smellyng?

18 But nowe hath God set ỳ members, euery one seuerally in the body, as it hath pleased hym.

19 For yf they were all one member, where were the body?

20 Nowe are there many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye can not say vnto ỳ hande, I haue no neede of thee: Nor, the head agayne to the feete, I haue no neede of you.

22 Yea, rather a great deale, those members of the body which seeme to be more (c) feeble, are necessary:

(c) whose vse seemeth to be more vile.

23 And vpon those members of the body which we thynke least honest, put we more (d) honestie on. And our vncomely partes, haue more comelynesse on.

(d) we are more carefull to couer them

24 For our comely members neede it not: But God hath tempered the body together, and hath geuen the more honour D to that [part] which lacked:

25 Lest there shoulde be any stryfe in the body: but that the members shoulde haue the same care one for another.

26 And yf one member suffer, all suffer with it. If one member be had in honour, all the members reioyce with it.

With

27 Ye are the body of Christe, and members one of another.

28 And God hath ordayned some in the Churche, first *Apostles, secondarely, prophetes, thirdely teachers, then them that do miracles: after that, the giftes of healyng, helpers, gouernours, diuersitie of tongues.

Math.x.a. Luk.xi.a. Ephe.iiii.c.

29 Are all, Apostles: are all, prophetes: are all, teachers:

30 Are all, doers of miracles: Haue all the giftes of healyng: Do all speake with tongues: Do all interprete:

31 Couet after the best giftes: And yet shew I vnto you a more excellent way.

¶ The.xiij.Chapter.

1 Because loue is the fountayne and rule of edifiyng the Churche, he setteth foorth the nature, office, and prayse therof.

1 Though I speake with the tongues of men and of (a) Angels, and haue not loue, I am [as] soundyng brasse, or [as] a tinckelyng Cimball:

(a) If the Angels had tongues, and I had the vse therof, and did not bestowe thē to profite my neyghbour, it were nothyng but vaine babblyng.

2 And *though I coulde prophesie, and vnderstoode all secretes, and all knowledge: Yea, ☞ if I had all fayth, *so that I coulde moue mountaynes out of their places, and haue not loue, I were nothyng.

Luk.xvii.a.

3 And though I bestowe all my goodes to feede the poore, and though I geue my body that I burned, and haue not loue, it profiteth me nothyng.

4 Loue suffreth long, and is curteous: Loue enuieth not, loue doth not frowardely, swelleth not,

5 Dealeth not dishonestlie, *seeketh not her owne, is not prouoked to anger, thynketh none euyll,

1 Cor.x.e. Philip.ii.a.

6 Reioyceth not in iniquitie: but reioyceth in the trueth:

7 Suffreth all thynges, beleueth all thynges, hopeth all thynges, endureth all thynges.

8 Though ỹ prophesiynges fayle, other tongues ceasse, or knowledge vanishe away, [yet] loue falleth neuer away.

9 ☞ For our knowledge is vnperfect, and our prophesiyng is vnperfect:

10 But when that which is perfect, is come, then that which is vnperfect shalbe done away.

11 When I was a chylde, I spake as a chylde, I vnderstode as a chylde, I imagined as a chylde: But assoone as I was a man, I put away chyldishnesse.

12 Nowe we see in a (b) glasse, euen in a darke speakyng: but then [shall we see] face to face. Nowe I knowe vnperfectly: but then shall I knowe euen as I am knowen.

(b) The misteries of God.

13 Nowe abydeth fayth, hope, and loue, these three, but the chiefe of these is loue.

¶ The.xiiij.Chapter.

1 He exhorteth to loue, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other spirituall giftes, 5 But chiefely prophesiyng. 34 He commaundeth women to kepe silence in the Church. 40 And sheweth what good order ought to be obserued in the Churche.

1 Followe after loue, and couet spirituall [giftes] but most chiefelie that ye may prophesie.

2 For he that speaketh with the tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: For no man (a) heareth [hym]. Howbeit, in the spirite he speaketh misteries.

(a) Vnderstandeth hym.

3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh vnto men to their edifiyng, to their exhortation, and to their comfort.

4 He that speaketh with the tongue, edifieth hym selfe: *he that prophesieth, edifieth the Churche.

Rom.xii.b. Num.xi.g.

5 I woulde ỹe al spake with *tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: For greater is he that prophesieth, then he that speaketh with tongues, except he expounde it, that the Churche may haue edifiyng.

* Tongue, in this place and such lyke, signifieth not ỹ instrument ỹ we speake with: but properlie of some language that the hearer vnderstandeth not, without an interpreter.

6 Nowe brethren, yf I come vnto you speakyng with tongues, what shall I profite you, except I speake to you eyther by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesiyng, or by doctrine?

7 Moreouer, thynges without lyfe geuing

uing sound, Whether [it be] a pipe or an harpe, except they make a distinction in the soundes, howe shall it be knowen what is piped or harped?

8 And also yf the trumpe geue an vncertayne sounde, who shall prepare him selfe to the warre?

9 Euen so lykewyse, When ye speake with tongues, except ye speake wordes that haue signification, howe shall it be vnderstande what is spoken? For ye shall speake into the (b) ayer.

(b) Your wordes shalbe as they ye shal neither glorify God ther- by nor profite men.

10 There are so many kyndes of voyces, [as it commeth to passe] in the worlde, and none of them are without signification.

11 ¶ If I knowe not what the voyce meaneth, I shalbe lyke vnto hym that speaketh, an alyaunt: and he that speaketh, shalbe an alyaunt vnto me.

12 Euen so, forasmuch as ye couet spirituall [giftes] seke that ye may excell, vnto the edifiyng of the Churche.

13 Wherfore, let him that speaketh with tongue, pray that he may interprete.

14 For yf I pray with tongue, my spirite prayeth, but my vnderstanding is without fruite.

15 What is it then? I wyll pray with the spirite, and wyll pray with the vnderstandyng also. I wyll (c) syng with the spirite, and wyll syng with the vnderstandyng also.

(c) Or, geue prayses by syng.

16 Els, When thou blessest with the spirite, howe shall he that occupieth the rowme of the vnlearned, say Amen at thy geuyng of thankes, seyng he vnderstandeth not what thou sayest?

17 Thou verely geuest thankes well: but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake with tongues more the ye all.

19 Yet had I rather, in the Churche to speake fiue wordes with my vnderstandyng, to the infomation of other, then ten thousande wordes with the tongue.

D 20 Brethren, be not chyldren in wytte: howbeit, as concerning maliciousnesse, be chyldren: but in wytte, be perfect.

Esai.28.c. 21 In the lawe it is written: * with sundry tongues, and with sundry lyppes, wyll I speake vnto this people, and yet for all that will they not heare me, sayth the Lorde.

22 Wherfore, tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleue, but to them that beleue not: But propheslyng [serueth] not for them that beleue not, but for them which beleue.

23 If therfore, When all the Churche is come together in one, & all speake with tongues, there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleue not: Will they not say ỳ ye are out of your wittes?

24 But yf all prophesie, and there come in one ỳ beleueth not, or one vnlearned: E he is rebuked of all men, and is iudged of euery man:

25 And so are the secretes of his heart made manifest, and so falleth he downe on his face, and worshippeth God, and sayth that God is in you of a trueth.

26 Howe is it then brethren? When ye come together, euery one of you hath a psalme, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a reuelation, hath interpretation. Let all thynges be done vnto edifiyng.

27 If any man speake with tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course, and let one interprete.

28 But yf there be no interpreter, let him kepe silence in the Churche, and let him speake to hym selfe, and to God.

29 Let the prophetes speake two or three, F and * let the other iudge. i Iohn.iiii.a.

30 If any reuelation be made to another that sitteth by, let ỳ first holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesie one by one, that all may learne, and all may haue comfort.

32 And the ○ spirites of the prophetes, are subiect to the prophetes. ○ That is, the doctrine ỳ they do bring, as beyng put in mynde by the spirite of God.

33 For God is not [the aucthour] of confusion, * but of peace, as in all Churches of the saintes. Rom.xv.g.

34 * Let your women kepe silence in the Churches: For it is not permitted vnto them to speake, but to be vnder obedience, as sayth the lawe. i Tim.ii.b. Gen.iii.c. i Cor.xi.a.

35 If they wyll learne any thyng, let G thē aske their husbandes at home: For it is a shame for women to speake in the Churche.

36 Sprong the worde of God from you? Either came it vnto you only?

37 If any man thynke hym selfe to be a prophete, either spiritual, let him knowe that the thinges that I write vnto you, are ỳ commaundementes of the Lorde.

38 But yf any man be ignorant, let hym be ignorant.

39 Wherfore brethren, couet to prophesie, and forbyd not to speake with tongues.

40 Let all thynges be done honestlie and in order.

¶ The

¶ The .xv. Chapter.

1 He proueth the resurrection of the dead. 3 and first that Christe is risen, 22 then, that we shall ryse, 52 and the maner howe.

A 1 MOreouer brethren I declare vnto you, the Gospell which I preached vnto you, which also ye haue receaued, and wherin ye cõtinue,
2 By the which also ye are saued, yf ye kepe in memorie after what maner I preached vnto you, except ye haue beleued in vayne.
3 For first of all I deliuered vnto you, that which (a) I receaued: howe that *Christe dyed for our sinnes, agreeyng to the scriptures:
4 *And that he was buryed, and that he arose agayne the thirde day, accordyng to the scriptures:
5 And that he was seene of * Cephas, then of the twelue:
6 After that, he was seene of mo then fiue hundred brethren at once: of which, many remayne vnto this day, & some are fallen a slepe.
7 After that, he was seene of James, then of all the Apostles.
B 8 And last of all he was seene of me, as of one borne out of due tyme.
9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not worthy to be called an Apostle, because * I persecuted the Churche of God.
10 But by the grace of God, I am that I am: And his grace which is in me, was not in vayne: But I laboured more aboundauntly then they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.
11 Therfore, whether it were I or they, so we preache, and so haue ye beleued.
12 ☞ If Christe be preached howe that he rose from the dead: howe say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?
13 If there be no rysyng agayne of the dead, then is Christe not rysen agayne.
C 14 If Christe be not rysen agayne, then is our preachyng vayne, and your fayth is also (b) vayne.
15 Yea, and we are founde false witnesses of God: For we haue testified of God, howe that he rayled vp Christe, whom he rayled not vp, yf it be so that the dead ryse not agayne.
16 For yf the dead ryse not agayne, then is not Christe rysen agayne.
17 If it be so, that Christ rose not againe, then is your fayth vayne, and ye are yet in your sinnes.
18 Therfore, they which are fallen in a slepe in Christe, are perished.
19 If in this lyfe only we haue hope on Christe, then are we of all men moste miserable.
20 But nowe is Christe rysen from the dead, * the first (c) fruites of them that slept.
21 For since by man [came] death, euen so by man [came] the resurrection of ỹ dead.
22 For, as by Adam all dye: euen so by Christe shall all (d) be made alyue, 23 But euery man in his owne order. The first fruites [is] Christe, afterward, they that are Christes at his commyng.
24 Then [commeth] the ende, when he D hath deliuered vp the kingdome to God the father, when he hath put downe all rule, and all auctoritie, and power.
25 For he must raigne * tyll he haue put all his enemies vnder his feete.
26 The last enemie that shalbe destroyed, [is] death.
27 * For he hath put downe all thynges vnder his feete: But when he saith, all thynges are vnder hym, it is manifest that he is excepted which dyd put all thynges vnder hym.
28 When all thynges are subdued vnto hym, then shall the sonne also hym selfe be subiect vnto him that put all thinges vnder hym, that God may be all in all.
29 Els what shall they do, which are baptized for the dead, yf the dead ryse not at all?
30 Why are they then baptized for them? And why stande we in ieopardie euery houre?
31 By our reioycyng which I haue in Christe Iesu our Lorde, I dye dayly.
32 If I haue fought with beastes at E Ephesus after the (e) maner of men, what auauntageth it me, yf the dead ryse not agayne? * Let vs eate & drynke, for to morowe we shall dye.
33 Be not deceaued. Euyll wordes, corrupt good maners.

(a) He sheweth that nothyng ought to be taught, whyche we haue not learned by Gods worde. Mat.28.b. Iohn.xx.a.

Luk.24.b.

(b) For yf Christe be swalowed vp of death, there remayneth no hope of lyfe any more.

Actes.iii.a. Gala.ii.c.

Colos.i.c.

(c) As by the offering of the first frute, the whole frute is sanctified: so by Christe which is the first that is rayled, all haue assaurance of the resurrection.

(d) To wyt, the faythfull.

Pſal.cx.a. Math.xxii.d. Hebre.i.c.

Pſal.viii.b. Hebre.ii.d.

(e) That is, hauyng regarde to this present lyfe, and not to Gods glorie, and to lyfe euerlastyng.

Awake

34 Awake truely out of slepe, and sinne not: For some haue not the knowledge of God. I speake this to your shame.

35 But some man wyll say, howe are the dead raysed vp: with what bodie shall they come:

36 Thou foole, *that which thou sowest, is not quickened except it dye. *1.Cor.xii.d.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shalbe, but bare corne, as of wheate, or of some other:

38 But God geueth it a body at his pleasure, to euery seede his owne body.

39 ☞All fleshe, is not (o) the same fleshe: But there is one [maner of] fleshe of mẽ, another fleshe of beastes, another of fishes, and another of byrdes. (o) Or, one sort of flesh.

40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: But the glorie of the celestial is one, and [the glorie] of the terrestrial another.

41 There is another glorie of the (p) sunne, and another glorie of the moone, and another glorie of the starres: For [one] starre differeth from [another] starre in glorie. (p) Euen as the sunne and moone, be of one fashion, differ in dignitie: so shall the resurrection of our bodies haue more excellent qualities then now haue we.

42 So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sowen in corruption, it ryseth in incorruption.

43 It is sowen in (q) dishonour, it riseth in honour. It is sowen in weakenesse, it ryseth in power. (q) for what more vyle can be vnto, then the dead carkasse.

44 It is sowen a naturall bodie, it ryseth a spirituall bodie. There is a naturall bodie, and there is a spirituall bodie.

45 As it is also written: The first man *Adam was made a lyuyng soule, and the last Adam was made a quickenyng spirite. *Gene.ii.b.

46 Howbeit, that is not first whiche is spirituall, but that [whiche is] naturall, and then that [whiche is] spirituall.

47 The first man [is] of the earth, earthy: the seconde man [is] the Lorde from heauen.

48 As is the earthy, suche [are] they that are earthy: And as is the heauenly, such [are] they also that are heauenly.

49 And as we haue borne the image of the earthy, so shall we beare the image of the heauenly.

50 This saye I brethren, that fleshe and blood can not inherite the kyngdome of God: Neither doth corruption, inherite incorruption.

51 Beholde, I shewe you a misterie. *We shall not all slepe: but we shall all be chaunged. *1.Thes.iiii.d. Phil.iii.d.

52 In a moment, in the twynklyng of an eye, at the last trumpe. For the trumpe shall blowe, and the dead shall ryse incorruptible, and we shalbe chaunged.

53 For this corruptible, must put on incorruption, and this mortall [must] put on immortalitie.

54 When this corruptible, hath put on incorruption, and this mortal, hath put on immortalitie, then shalbe brought to passe the saying that is written, *Death is swalowed vp into victorie. *Esai.xxv.c.

55 *O death where is thy stynge? O hell where is thy victorie? *Osee.xiii.c.

56 The stynge of death [is] sinne, and the (g) strength of sinne [is] the lawe.

57 *But thankes be vnto God, whiche hath geuẽ vs victorie through our Lorde Jesus Christe. *1.Cor.xv.c.

58 Therfore my beloued brethren, be ye stedfast, vnmouable, alwayes ryche in the worke of the Lorde, forasmuch as ye knowe that your labour is not in (h) vayne in the Lorde.

(g) Sinne firste brought in death, and geueth it power ouer vs, & the strength of sinne is ỹ law, because it doth reueale ỹ iudgment of God agaynst vs: for cis the chiefe cause of our destruction is in our selues. 1.Ioh. v.a.

(h) The hope of resurrectiõ, causeth the faithful to surmount all difficulties.

¶ The .xvj. Chapter.

1 He putteth them in remembraunce of the gatheryng for the poore brethren at Hierusalem. 13 We must persever in fayth, in the loue of Christe, and of our neyghbour. 15 After his commendations, he wysheth to them all prosperitie.

1 Aduerning the *gatheryng for the saintes, as I haue ordeined in the Churches of Galacia, euen so do ye. *Actes.xi.d. Rom.xv.f. 1.Cor.viii.a

2 Upon some Sabboth daye, let euery one of you put aside by hym selfe, and laye vp as God hath prospered hym, that then there be no gatherynges when I come.

3 When I am come, whomsoeuer ye shall alowe by [your] letters, them wyll I sende, to bryng your liberalitie vnto Hierusalem.

4 And yf it be meete that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 I wyll come vnto you, after I haue gone ouer Macedonia (For I wyl passe through *Macedonia) *Actes. xi.d. ii.Cor.i.c.

6 And it may be, that I wyll abyde, yea or wynter with you, that ye may bryng me on my way whyther soeuer I go.
7 For I wyll not see you nowe in my passage, but I trust to abyde a whyle with you, yf the Lorde shall suffer me.
8 I wyll tarie at Ephesus vntyll whytsontyde:
9 For a great doore and effectuall is opened vnto me, *and there are many aduersaries.
10 *If Timotheus come, see that he be without feare with you: For he worketh the worke of the Lorde, as I do.
11 Let no man therfore despise hym, but conuay him forth in peace, that he may come vnto me: for I loke for hym with the brethren.
12 As touchyng our brother *Apollo, I greatly desired hym to come vnto you with the brethren, but his mynde was not at all to come at this tyme: Howebeit, he wyll come when he shall haue conuenient tyme.
13 (a) Watche ye, stande fast in the fayth, quyte you lyke men, be strong.
14 Let al your thinges be done with loue.
15 *I beseche you brethren (ye knowe the house of Stephanas, that it is ỹ (b) first fruites of Achaia, and that they haue appoynted them selues to minister vnto the saintes)
16 That ye be obedient euen vnto suche, and to all that helpe with vs, & labour.
17 I am glad of the commyng of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, & Achaicus: for that whiche was lackyng [vnto me] on your part, they haue (c) supplied.
18 For they haue comforted my spirite, and yours: Loke therfore that ye knowe them that are such.
19 The Churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you muche in the Lord, and so doth the Churche that is in their house.
20 All the brethren greete you: *Greete ye one another with an holy kysse.
21 The salutatiō of [me] Paul, with mine owne hande.
22 If any man loue not the Lorde Jesus Christe, the same be Anathema * maranatha.
23 The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christ be with you.
24 My loue be with you all in Christe Jesus. Amen.

¶ The. j. Chapter.

4 He declareth the great profite that commeth to the faythfull by their afflictions: 15. 17. And because they shoulde not impute to lyghtnesse that he deferred his commyng contrarie to his promise: he proueth his constancie, both by the sincerite of his preachyng, and also by the immutable trueth of the Gospell, 21 which trueth is grounded on Christe, and sealed in our heartes by the holy ghost.

1 PAul an Apostle of Jesu Christe, by the wyll of God, & brother Timotheus. Vnto ỹ Church of God which is at Corinthus, with all the saintes which are in all Achaia:
2 *Grace [be] with you, and peace from God our father and from the Lorde Jesus Christe.
Roman.i.a. 3 *Blessed be God, the father of our i.Peter.i.a. tion, insomuch that we are able to comfort them which are in any maner trouble, with the comfort wherwith we our selues are comforted of God.

5 For as the * (a) afflictions of Christ are plenteous in vs: euen so is our consolation plenteous by Christe.
6 Whether we be troubled [it is] for your consolation and saluation, which saluation sheweth her power, in that ye suffer the same afflictions whiche we also suffer: or whether we be comforted [it is] for your consolation & saluation:
7 And our hope is stedfast, insomuch as we knowe howe that as ye are partakers kers of ỹ afflictions, so ye be partakers also of the consolation.

8 For we woulde not brethren haue you ignorant of our trouble, whiche came vnto vs in *Asia: For we were greeued out of measure, passyng strength, so greatly, that we dispayred euen of lyfe.

9 Yea, We receaued the sentence of death in our selues, that we should not put our trust in our selues, *but in God, Whiche rayseth the dead:

10 Who delyuered vs from so great a death, and doth deliuer: On whom we trust that yet hereafter he wyll deliuer, 11 By the helpe of your prayer for vs, that by ỹ meanes of many persons, thankes may geuen of many *on our behalfe, for the grace geuen vnto vs.

℣ 12 For our reioycyng is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie & godly pureneſſe, and not in fleshely wisdome, (b) but by the grace of God, we haue had our conuersatiō in the worlde, and most of all to youwardes.

13 We write none other thinges vnto you then that ye read, or also ỹ ye acknowledge, and I trust ye shall acknowledge vs vnto the ende.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly: For we are your reioycing, euen *as ye are (c) ours in the (d) daye of our Lorde Jesus.

15 *And in this confidence was I minded first to haue come vnto you, ỹ ye myght haue had one pleasure more:

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to haue come agayne out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth of you to Jurie.

17 When I therfore was thus mynded, did I vse lightneſſe? or mynde I (e) carnally those thynges whiche I mynde, that with me shoulde be yea yea, & nay nay?

18 (f) God is faythfull: For our preaching to you, was not yea and nay.

19 For Gods sonne Jesus Christe which was preached among you by vs, euen by me, and Siluanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in hym it was yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and are in him Amen, vnto the glorie of God, through vs.

21 And God it is whiche stablysheth vs with you in Christe, and hath annoynted vs.

22 Which hath also sealed vs, and *hath geuen the earnest of the spirite in our heartes.

23 ☞ I call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that to spare you I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 *Not that we be Lordes ouer your fayth, but are helpers of your ioy. For by fayth ye stande.

D (e) Nowe to affirme one thyng, & then to deme it, whiche is a signe of inconstancie.

(f) He taketh God to witnesse, that he preacheth the trueth.

☞ The. ij. Chapter.

He sheweth his loue towardes them, 7 requiryng lykewyse that they would be fauourable to the incestuous adulterer, seyng he dyd repent. 14 He also reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine, 17 confutyng therby such quarell pykers, as vnder pretence of speakyng agaynst his person, sought nothyng but the ouerthrowe of his doctrine.

BUt I determined this in my selfe, ỹ I would not come againe to you in heauyneſſe.

2 For if I make you sorie, who is he ỹ shoulde make me glad, but the same which is made (a) sorie by me?

3 And I wrote this same vnto you, lest when I came, I shoulde take heauyneſſe of them of whom I ought to reioyce. This confidence haue I toward you all, that my ioy is [the ioy] of you all.

4 For in great affliction and anguishe of heart, I wrote vnto you with many teares, not that ye shoulde be made sorie, but that ye myght perceaue the loue which I haue, most specially vnto you.

5 But yf any man hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sorie, but partly, lest I shoulde greeue you all. ℣

6 *It is sufficient vnto the same man that he was rebuked of many. i.Cor.v.b.

7 So that nowe contrarywise, ye ought rather to forgeue hym, and comforte hym, lest that same person shoulde be swallowed vp with ouermuche heauyneſſe.

8 Wherfore I pray you, that you would confirme your loue towardes hym.

9 For this cause veryly did I write, that I myght knowe the profe of you, whether ye be obedient in all thynges.

10 To whom ye forgeue any thyng, I forgeue also. For if I forgaue any thing, to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes forgaue I it, in the (b) sight of Christe.

(b) That is, truely & from myne hearte, euen as in the presence of Christe.

11 Lest Satan shoulde circumuent vs: For his thoughtes are not vnknowen vnto vs.

¶ 12 Furthermore, when I came to Troada, to [preache] Christes Gospell, and a doore was opened vnto me of the lorde, 13 I had no rest in my spirite, because I founde not Titus my brother, but toke my leaue of them, and went away into Macedonia.

D 14 Nowe thankes be vnto God, which alwayes geueth vs the (c) victorie in Christe, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

(c) In working myghtyly by vs, he maketh vs partakers of his victorie & triumphe.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christe in them that are saued, and in them which perisshe.

16 *To the one part [are we] the sauour of death, vnto death: and vnto the other part [are we] the sauour of lyfe vnto lyfe. And who is meete vnto these thynges? Luk.ii.c.

17 For We are not as many are, which chop & chaunge With the Word of God: but as of pureneſſe of God, in the syght of God, so speake We in Christe.

¶ The. iij. Chapter.

1 He taketh for example the fayth of the Corinthians for a probation of the trueth which he preached, 6 and to exalt his apostleship agaynst the braggers of the false apostles, 7. 13. he maketh comparison betwixt the lawe and the Gospell.

A 1 DO we begyn to prayse our selues agayne? Or neede We [as some other] of epistles of recōmendation vnto you? or [letters] of recommendation from you?

2 Ye are our epistle Written in our heartes, Whiche is vnderstande and read of all men:

3 Forasmuche as ye declare that ye are the epistle of Christ ministred by vs, and Written, not With ynke, but With the spirite of the lyuyng God, *not in tables of stone, but in *fleshly tables of the heart.

Exo.xxiiiid Deut.v.d. Ier.xxxi.a.

4 ☞Such trust haue We through Christe to GodWarde.

B 5 Not that We are sufficiēt of our selues to thynke any thyng as of our selues: *but our ablenesse is of God, Philip.ii.b.

6 Which hath made vs *able ministers of the newe testament, not of the letter, but of the spirite: For the letter kylleth, but the (a) spirite geueth lyfe.

i.Cor.iiii.b.

(a) Meaning the spirituall doctrine whiche is in our heartes.

7 If the ministration of death, through the letters figured in stones, was in glorie, so that the chyldren of Israel coulde not beholde the face of Moyses, for the (b) glorie of his countenaunce, Whiche [glorie] is done away:

(b) After that God had spoken with him and geuē hym the lawe.

8 Howe shall not the ministration of the spirite be much more in glorie?

9 For yf the ministration of condempnation be glorie: much more doth the ministration of ryghteousnes exceede in glorie.

¶ 10 For euen that which was glorified, is not glorified in respect of this exceedyng glorie.

11 For yf that Whiche is destroyed was glorious, much more that which remayneth is glorious.

12 Seyng then that We haue such truste, We vse great boldnesse:

13 And not as Moyses, Which *put (d) a vayle ouer his face, that the chyldren of Israel shoulde not see for What purpose that serued Which is put away.

Exo.xxxiiiid

(d) Moyses shewed & lawe as it was, couered with shadowes, so that & Iewes eyes were not lyghtened, but blynded, and so coulde not come to christ who was the ende therof. Agayne, the Gospel setteth forth the glorie of God clearely, not couerynge our eyes, but dryuyng & darknes away frō them.

14 *But their myndes were blynded: For vntyll this day remayneth the same couerynge vntaken away in the reading of the olde testament, Which [vayle] is put away in Christe.

15 But euen vnto this day When Moyses is read, *the vayle is layde vppon their heart.

16 Neuertheleſſe, *When it shall turne to the Lorde, the vayle shalbe taken away. D

17 *The Lorde is a spirite: And where the spirite of the Lorde [is] there [is] libertie. Iohn.iiii.c.

18 But We all beholde [as] in a (b) mirrour, the glorie of the Lorde, With his face open, and are chaunged vnto the same similitude, from glorie to glorie, euen as of the spirite of the Lorde.

(b) In christ, who is God manifest in & flesh, we see God & father, as in a moste cleare glasse.

¶ The

¶ The. iiij. Chapter.

1 He declareth his diligence, and roundnesse in his office: 8 and that which his enemies toke for his disaduauntage, to wit, the crosse and affliction which he endured, he turned it to his great aduauntage, 11 17 shewyng what profite commeth therby.

A 1 THerfore, seyng that We haue such a ministerie, as We haue receaued mercie, We faynt not:

2 But haue cast from vs the clokes of vnhonestie, and walke not in craftynesse, neither handle We the Word of God deceitefully, but in openyng of the trueth, and report our selues to euery mans conscience in the syght of God.

3 ☞ If our Gospell be yet hyd, it is hyd in them that are lost:

4 In whom *the (a) god of this worlde *hath blinded the myndes of them Whiche beleue not, lest the lyght of the Gospell of the glorie of Christe (Which is the image of God) should shine vnto them. (a) To wyt, Satan.

B 5 ☞ For We preache not our selues, but Christe Jesus the Lord, and our selues your seruauntes for Jesus sake.

6 For it is God that *commaundeth the lyght to shine out of darknesse, Whiche hath *shined in our heartes, for to geue the lyght of the knowledge of the glorie of God, in the face of Jesus Christe.

7 But We haue this treasure in *earthen vessels, that the excellencie of the power be Gods, and not ours.

8 We are troubled on euery syde, yet are We not Without shyft. We are in pouertie, but not vtterly Without somewhat.

C 9 We suffer persecution, but are not forsaken therin. We are cast downe, but We perishe not.

10 We alwayes *beare about in the body the dying of the Lorde Jesus, that the lyfe of Jesus myght also appeare in our bodie. ☜ Galath. vi.d

11 *For We Which lyue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Jesus sake, that the lyfe also of Jesu myght appeare in our mortall flesshe. Rom. viii.c.

12 So then, death worketh in vs, but life in you. ☜

13 ☞ Seing then that We haue the same spirite of fayth (accordyng as it is Written, *I beleued, and therefore haue I spoken) We also beleue, and therefore speake. Psal.cxvi.b.

D 14 For We knowe, that he Which raysed vp the Lorde Jesus, shall rayse vp vs also by the meanes of Jesus, and shall set vs With you.

15 For all thynges [do I] for your [sakes,] *that the plenteous grace, by thankes geuyng of many, may redounde to the prayse of God. i.Cor.i.a.

16 Wherefore We are not Weryed: But though our outwarde man perishe, yet the inwarde man is renued day by day.

17 *For our exceedyng tribulation Which is momentanie & (b) lyght, prepareth an exceedyng and an eternall Wayght of glorie vnto vs. Psal.xxx.b Rom.viii.d. (b) which is so called in respect of the eternall lyfe.

18 Whyle We loke not on the thynges Whiche are seene, but on the thynges Which are not seene. For the thynges Which are seene, are temporall: but the things Which are not seene, are eternal.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

1 Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that commeth by the crosse, 4 howe we ought to prepare our selues vnto it, 5 by whom, 9 and for what ende. 14 19 He setteth foorth the grace of Christ, 20 and the office of ministers, & all the faithful.

A 1 FOr We knowe, that yf our earthly (a) house of [this] tabernacle Were destroyed, We haue a building of God, an habitation not made With handes, but eternall in heauen. (a) after this body shalbe restored, it shalbe made a spirituall and immortall.

2 For *therfore sygh We, desiryng to be clothed With our house Whiche is from heauen: Rom. viii.d

3 So yet, yf that We be founde clothed, and not naked.

4 For We that are in this *tabernacle sigh, & being burdened because We Would not be vnclothed, but Would be clothed vpō, i Pet.i.c. Apoc.xi.d.

that mortalitie might be swalowed vp of lyfe.

5 He that hath ordeyned vs for this thyng [is] God, *Which hath also geuen vnto vs the earnest of the spirite.

Rom.viii.c. ii.Cor.i.d.

6 Therfore we are alway of good cheare, and knowe, that as long as we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lorde.

7 (For we walke by fayth, not after outwarde appearaunce.)

8 Neuertheless, we are of good comfort, and had rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lorde.

9 Wherfore, whether we be at home, or from home, we endeuour our selues to be accepted vnto hym.

10 *For we must all appeare before the iudgement seate of Christe, that euery man may receaue the workes of his bodie according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

Mat.xxv.e. Rom.xiii.c

11 ☞ Seing then that we knowe the feare of the Lorde, we fare fayre with men: For we are (b) knowen well enough vnto God. I trust also that we are knowen in your consciences.

(b) By imbracyng the same fayth whiche we preach to others.

12 For we prayse not our selues agayne vnto you, but geue you an occasion to reioyce of vs, that ye may haue somwhat agaynst them which reioyce in the face, and not in the heart.

13 For (c) yf we be to feruent, to God are we to feruent: Or yf we kepe measure, for your cause kepe we measure.

(c) the greke soundeth thus. whether we be out of wyt, to God we be out of wyt: whether we be wise, to you (we be wise.)

14 For the loue of Christe constrayneth vs, because we thus iudge, that yf one dyed for all, then were all dead.

15 And *he dyed for all, that they which lyue, shoulde not hencefoorth lyue vnto them selues, but vnto hym which dyed for them, and rose agayne. ☜

i.Thess.v.c. D

16 Wherefore hencefoorth knowe we no man after the (d) flesshe: Insomuche, though we haue knowen Christe after the flesshe, nowe yet hencefoorth knowe we hym so no more.

(d) according to the estimation of ỹ flesh: but as he is guyded by the spirite of god.

17 Therfore yf any man be in Christe, he is a newe creature. Olde thynges are passed awaye, beholde all thynges are become *newe.

Esai.xliii.c. Apoc.xxi.a

18 And all thynges are of God, whiche hath *reconciled vs vnto hym selfe by Jesus Christe, and hath geuen to vs the ministerie of reconciliation.

Rom.iii.d. Coloss.i.c.

19 For *God was in Christe, reconciling the worlde to hym selfe, not imputyng their sinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the preachyng of the atonement.

Coloss.ii.c.

20 Nowe then are we messengers in the rowme of Christe, euen as though God dyd beseche you through vs. So praye we you in Christes steade, that ye be reconciled vnto God.

21 For *he hath made hym to be sinne for vs, whiche knewe no sinne, that we shoulde be made the ryghteousnesse of God in hym.

Esaias.liii.b. Rom.viii.a.

The.vj. Chapter.

☞ The. vij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth them by the promise of God to kepe them selues pure, 3. 7 Assuryng them of his loue, 8. 13 and doeth not excuse his seueritie towarde them, but reioyceth therof, consideryng what profite came therby. 10 Of two sortes of sorowe.

A 1 Eyng that we haue these promises (dearely beloued) let vs clense our selues from all fylthynesse of the flesshe & spirite, and growe vp to full holynesse in the feare of God.

2 Understande vs, We haue wronged no man, We haue corrupt no man, We haue defrauded no man.
3 I speake not this to condempne you: for I haue shewed you before, that ye are in our heartes to dye and lyue with you.
4 I am bery bolde ouer you, I reioyce greatly in you. I am fylled with comfort, and am exceedyng ioyous in all our tribulation.
5 For When we were come into Macedonia, *our flesshe had no rest, but we were troubled on euery syde: Outward was fyghtyng, inward was feare. Act.xvi.c.
6 Neuertheless, *God that comforteth the humble, comforted vs by the comyng of Titus. 2.Cor.i.a
B 7 And not by his comming only, but also by the consolatiō which we receaued of you, when he tolde vs your desire, your wepyng, your feruent mynde towarde me, so that I reioyced the more.
8 For though I made you sorie with a letter, I repent not, though I dyd repent. For I perceaue, that the same epistle made you sorie, though it were but for a season.
9 I nowe reioyce, not that ye were sorie, but that ye so sorowed to repent: for ye sorowed godly, so that in nothyng ye were hurt by vs. C
10 For godly sorowe, causeth repentaunce vnto saluatiō, not to be repented of: but the sorowe of the *World causeth death. Eccle.xxx c
11 For beholde this thing, What carefulnesse this godly sorow that ye toke, hath wrought in you: yea [what] ○clearing of your selues, yea [what] indignation, yea [what] feare, yea [what] vehemēt desire, yea [what] zeale, yea [what] punishment. For in all thynges ye haue shewed your selues that ye were cleare in ỳ matter. ○ In asking God forgeuenesse.
12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, I dyd it not for his cause that had done the hurt, neither for his cause that was hurt: ○but that your good minde to vswarde myght appeare among you in the syght of God. D ○ But that our care towarde you in the syght of God, myght appeare vnto you.
13 Therfore we are comforted, because ye are comforted: yea and exceedyngly the more ioyed we, for the ioy that Titus had, because his spirite was refreshed by you all. So hath corder Complutensis, Ambrosius, and Theophilactus, & so reade the olde translation, & ỳ translatio of Stephanus.
14 I am therefore not nowe ashamed, though I boasted my selfe to hym of you, you. For as all thinges which we spake vnto you are true: euen so our boastyng that I made vnto Titus is made true.

15 And his inwarde affection is more aboundaunt towarde you, when he remembred the obedience of you all, howe with feare and tremblyng ye receaued hym.
16 I reioyce that I may be bolde in you in all thynges.

¶ The .viij. Chapter.

1 By the example of the Macedonians 9 and Christe, he exhorteth them to continue in relieuyng the poore saintes, commending their good beginning. 23 After he commendeth Titus and his felowes vnto them.

A1 MOreouer, we do you to wite brethren, of the grace of God, which was geuen in the Churches of Macedonia.
2 Howe that ỹ aboundance of their reioycing is, that they are tryed with muche tribulation. And though they were exceedyng poore, yet haue they geuen exceedyng rychlye, and that in singlenesse.
3 For to their powers (I beare them recorde) yea & beyonde their powers, they were wyllyng.
(a) Grace here signifieth beneuolence or almes. Actes.xi.d.
4 And prayed vs with great instaunce that we woulde receaue this (a) grace and societie of the ministerie to ỹ saintes.
5 [And this they dyd] not as we loked for: but gaue their owne selues first to the Lorde, and [after] vnto vs by the wyll of God.
6 So that we coulde not but desire Titus to accomplyshe ỹ same grace among you also, euen as he had begun.
B7 Nowe therefore as ye are riche in all thinges, in fayth, in worde, in knowledge, in all feruentnesse, and in loue, which ye haue to vs: euen so, see that ye be plenteous in this grace also.
8 This say I not by commaundement, but because of ỹ feruentnesse of (○) other, & alowing the vnfaynednes of your loue.
() Or reade, but through the feruentnesse of other, prouoking also to the perfectnesse of your loue. Rom.x.a.
9 For ye knowe the grace of our Lorde Jesus Christ, that though he was *rich, yet for your sakes he became poore, that ye through his pouertie might be made rich.
10 And I geue councell hereto: For this is expedient for you, which haue begun not to do only, but also to wil a yere ago.
11 Nowe therfore perfourme the thyng which ye began to do: that as ther was in you a redines to wyll, euen so ye may performe ỹ dede* of that which ye haue.
i.Pet.iiii.c. Prou.iii.b. Mark.xii.d. Luk.xxi.a.
12 For *if there be first a wyllyng mynde, it is accepted accordyng to that a man hath, and not accordyng to that he hath not.
13 Truly, not that other be set at ease, & ye brought into combraunce:
14 But that there be equalnesse nowe at this tyme, and that your aboundaunce may succour their lacke, and that their aboundaunce maye supplie your lacke, that there may be equalitie.
15 As it Written: *He that had much, had not the more aboundaunce, and he that had litle, had not the lesse. Exod.xvi.d
16 Thankes be vnto God, which put the same good mynde for you in the heart of Titus, 17 Because he accepted the exhortation, yea rather he was so well wylling, that of his owne accorde he came vnto you.
18 We haue sent with hym that brother D (b) whose praise is in the Gospel through out all the Churches.
(b) In preaching the Gospell. Some vnderstande Luke. Other, Barnabas.
19 (And not that only, but is also chosen of the Churches to be a felowe with vs in our iourney, concernyng this grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glorie of the same Lorde, and to stirre vp your redie mynde)
20 For this we eschewe, that any man shoulde rebuke vs in this plenteous distribution that is *ministred by vs: Rom.xii.c.
21 And make prouisiõ for (c) honest thinges, not only in the syght of the Lorde, but also in the syght of men. (c) Is well doyng is approued before God & man.
22 We haue sent with them a brother of ours, whom we haue oftentymes proued diligent in many thinges, but nowe much more diligent, for the great confidence [whiche I haue] in you:
23 Partly for Titus sake, Which is my felowe & helper concernyng you: partly because of other which are our brethren and the messengers of the Churches, [and] the glorie of Christe.
24 Wherfore shewe ye vnto them ỹ profe of your loue, & of our *reioycyng of you in the syght of the Churches. i.Thes.i.d.

3 The cause of Titus and his companions commyng to them. 6 He exhorteth to geue almes chearefully, 7 shewyng what fruites wyll come therof.

A 1 IF the *ministryng to the saintes, it is but superfluous for me to write vnto you:

Actes.xi.d. 1 Cor.xvi.a. 2 Cor.viii.a. Rom.xv.f.

2 For I knowe the readinesse of your mynde, whereof I boast my selfe of you, vnto them of Macedonia, that Achaia was prepared a yere a go: and your zeale hath prouoked many.

3 Yet haue I sent the brethren, lest our boastyng which I make of you, should be in vayne in this behalfe, that ye (as I haue sayde) may prepare your selues.

4 Lest yf they of Macedonia come with me, and fynde you vnprepared, we (I wyll not say you) shoulde be ashamed in this matter of boastyng.

B 5 Therfore, I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren, to come beforehand vnto you, and to prepare your good biessyng promised afore, that it myght be redy, so that it be as a biessyng, and not a defraudyng.

(b) Meaning a certayne mā among them, which thus spake of Paul.

11 Let hym that is such, thynke on this wise: that as we are in worde by letters, when we are absent, such are we in deede when we are present.

12 For we dare not make our selues of the number of them, or to compare our selues to them which praise them selues. Neuertheless, whyle they measure them selues, with them selues, and compare them selues with them selues, they vnderstande not.

D

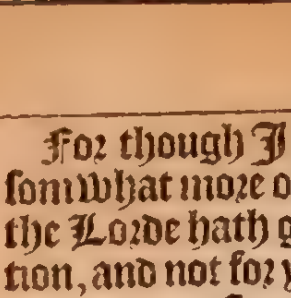
13 But we wyll not reioyce aboue measure: but according to the (c) measure of the rule, which God hath distributed vnto vs, a measure to reache euen vnto you.

(c) That is, the gifres and vocation which God had geuen hym to wynne others by.

14 For we stretch not out our selues beyonde measure, as though we reached not vnto you: For euen to you also haue we come with the Gospell of Christe:

15 And we boast not our selues out of measure in other mens labours: Yea, and we hope, When your fayth is increased among you, to be magnified according to our measure aboundauntly,

16 And that I shall preache the Gospell, in those [regions] which [are] beyonde you: and not to glorie of those thynges, which by another mans measure are prepared alredy.



17 But let hym that glorieth, glorie in the Lorde.

18 For he that prayseth hymselfe, is not alowed, but whom the Lorde prayseth.

¶ The .xj. Chapter.

2 He declareth his affection towarde them. 5 The excellencie of his ministerie, 9 and his diligence in the same. 13 The fetches of the false Apostles. 16 The peruerse iudgement of the Corinthians. 22 And his owne prayses.

A

Ould to God ye coulde haue suffred me a litle in my foolishnesse: and in deede ye do forbeare me.

2 For I am gelous ouer you, with Godly gelousie: For I haue coupled you to one man, to present [you] a chaste virgin vnto Christe.

3 But I feare lest by any meanes, that as the serpent * begyled Eue through his subtiltie, euen so your myndes shoulde be corrupted frō the singlenesse that is towarde Christe.

Gen.iii.a.

4 For yf he that commeth, preacheth another (a) Jesus, whom we haue not preached: or yf ye receaue another spirite whom ye haue not receaued: either another Gospell which ye haue not receaued, you woulde well haue suffered [hym].

(a) That is, more perfect doctrine concerning christ Jesus.

5 Verely I suppose that I was not behynde the chiefe Apostles.

6 But though [I be] rude in speakyng, yet not in knowledge, but in all thynges among you, we haue ben well knowen to the vtmost.

7 Dyd I sinne because I submitted my selfe, that ye myght be exalted, & because I preached to you the Gospell of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, takyng wages of them, to do you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had nede, *I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lackyng vnto me, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied, and in all thynges I haue kept my selfe so that I shoulde not be chargeable to any man, and [so] wyll I kepe my selfe.

Actes.xx.c. ii Cor.xii.d.

10 (b) The trueth of Christe is in me, that this reioycyng shall not be shut vp agaynst me in the regions of Achaia.

(b) Let not the trueth of Christe be thought to be in me. yf I suffer my ioy to be shut vp, which I haue conceaued of Grecia.

11 Wherfore? Because I loue you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that wyll I do, to cut away occasion from them which desire occasion, that they myght be founde lyke vnto vs, in ý wherin they gloried. C

13 For such false Apostles [are] disceiptfull workers, transfourmed into ý Apostles of Christe.

14 And no maruayle, for Satan himselfe is transfourmed into an angel of lyght.

Therfore

15 Therfore it is no great thyng though his ministers be transfourmed as the ministers of righteousnesse, whose ende shalbe accordyng to their workes.

16 I say agayne, let no man thynke that I am foolyshe: or els euen nowe take ye me as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a litle.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the (c) Lorde: but as it were foolishly, in this maner of boastyng.

18 Seyng that many glorie after ꝑ flesshe, I wyll glorie also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, seyng ye your selues are wyse.

20 For ye suffer, yf a man bryng you into bondage, yf a man deuoure, yf a man take, yf a man exalt hym selfe, yf a man smite you on the face.

21 I speake concernyng reprochе, as though we had ben weake: Howbeit, wherin soeuer any man is bolde, (I speake foolishly) I am bolde also.

22 * They are Ebrues, euen so am I. They are Israelites, euen so am I. They are the seede of Abraham, euen so am I.

23 They are the ministers of Christe, (I speake as a foole) I am more: in labours more aboundant, in stripes aboue measure, in prison more plenteously, in death (d) oft.

29 *Who is weake, and I am not weake? Who is offended, and I burne not?

30 If I must needes glory, I wyll glory of the thynges that concerne myne infirmities.

¶ The.xij. Chapter.

1 He reioyceth in preferment, 5 but chiefely in his humblenesse, 11 and layeth the cause of his boastyng vpon the Corinthians, 14 he sheweth what good wil he beareth them, 20 and promiseth to come vnto them.

IT is not expedient doubtles, for me to glorie, I wyl come to visions & reuelations of the Lorde. For I knew a mā in (a) Christe, aboue xiij. yeres ago, (whether [he were] in the body I can not tell, or whether [he were] out of the body, I can not tell, God knoweth) that he was taken vp into the thirde (b) heauen:

3 And I knewe the same man (whether in the body or out of the body, I can not tell, God knoweth)

4 Howe that he was take vp into (c) paradise, & heard vnspeakeable wordes, which is not lawfull for man to vtter.

5 Of such a man wyll I glorie, yet of my selfe wyll I not glorie, but in myne infirmities.

6 For though I would desire to glorie, I shall not be a foole, for I wyll say the trueth: but I nowe refrayne, lest any man shoulde thynke of me, aboue that which he seeth me to be, or ꝑ he heareth of me.

7 And *lest I shoulde be exalted out of measure through the aboundaunce of the reuelations, there was geuen vnto me a pricke to the flesshe, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, because I should not be exalted out of measure. Iohn.ii.b.

8 For this thyng besought I the Lorde thryse, that it myght depart from me.

And

9 And he sayde vnto me: My grace is sufficient for thee. For my strength is made perfect in weakenesse. Most gladly therfore, I will rather glorie in my infirmities, that the power of Christ myght dwell in me.

10 Therfore haue I delectation in infirmities, in rebukes, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguishes for Christes sake: For when I am weake, then am I strong.

11 I am become a foole [in] glorying. Ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue ben commended of you. * For nothyng was I inferiour vnto the chiefe Apostles, though I be nothyng, i Cor ix.a.

12 Truely the signes of an Apostle were wrought among you, in all patience, and signes, and wonders, and myghtie deedes.

D 13 For what is it, wherin ye were inferiour vnto other Churches, except [it be] that I was not chargeable vnto you: Forgeue me this wrong.

14 Beholde, nowe the thirde tyme I am redy to come vnto you, and yet will I not be chargeable vnto you: For * I seke not yours, but you. For the children ought not to lay vp for the fathers and mothers: but the fathers and mothers for the children.

Act.xx.g. ii Cor.xi.c. Eccle.46.c. i Reg.xii.a.

15 I will very gladly bestowe, & wilbe bestowed for your sakes, though the more aboundauntly I loue you, the lesse I am loued agayne.

16 But be it, [that] I was not chargeable vnto you: (b) Neuertheless, when I was craftie, I caught you with guile.

E (b) Thus sayde his aduersaries that though he toke it not by hym selfe, yet he dyd it by the meanes of others.

17 Dyd I pyll you by any of them whō I sent vnto you?

18 I desired Titus, and with hym I sent a brother: Dyd Titus defraude you of any thyng? Haue we not walked in the same spirite? not in the same steppes?

19 Agayne, thynke you that we excuse our selues vnto you? we speake in Christ in the syght of God: but [we do] all thinges dearely beloued, for your edifiyng.

20 For I feare lest when I come, I shall not fynde you such as I woulde: and that I shalbe founde vnto you, such as ye woulde not: lest there be * debates, enuyinges, wrathes, strifes, backbitinges, whisperinges, swellinges, & seditions: Galath.v.d.

21 And that when I come agayne, my God bryng me lowe among you, and I shall bewayle many of thē which haue sinned alredy, and haue not repented of the * vncleannesse, and fornication, and wantonnes, which they haue cōmitted. i Cor.v.a.

¶ The. xiij. Chapter.

1 He threatneth the obstinate. 5 And declareth what his power is by their owne testimonie. 10 Also he sheweth what is the effect of this Epistle. 11 After, hauyng exhorted them to their duetie, he wisheth them all prosperitie.

A 1 NOwe come I the third time vnto you. * In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall euery worde be stablished.

Deu.xix.d. Mat.xviii.c Iohn.viii.c. Hebr.x.f.

2 I tolde you before, and tell you before, as though I had ben present with you the seconde tyme, so write I nowe beyng absent, to them which in time past haue sinned, and to all other, that yf I come agayne, I will not spare,

3 Seyng ye seeke experience of Christe * which speaketh in me, which to you ward is not weake, but is mighty in you.

Math.x.d.

4 For though he was crucified of weakenesse, yet liueth he of the power of God. And we no doubt, are weake in hym: but we shall lyue with hym, by ye might of God towarde you.

B i Cor.xi.f. Eccle.18.c.

5 * Examine your selues, whether ye are in the fayth: Proue your owne selues. Knowe ye not your owne selues, howe that Iesus Christe is in you: except ye be reprobates.

6 I trust ye shal knowe that we are not reprobates.

7 Truely I pray to God that ye do none euyll, not that we shoulde seeme approued: but ye ye shoulde do that which is honest, though we be as (a) reprobates.

C (a) In that he humbled hym selfe, and toke vpon hym ye fourme of a seruaunt.

8 For we can do nothyng agaynst the trueth: but for the trueth.

9 For we are glad when we are weake, and ye are strong. Truely this also we wishe, euen your perfection.

10 Therfore write I these thynges beyng absent, lest when I am present, I should vse sharpenesse, accordyng to the power * which the Lorde hath geuen me to edification, and not to destruction. ii Cor.x.c

11 Finally brethren, fare well, be perfect, be be of good comfort, be of one mynde, lyue in peace, and the God of loue and peace shalbe with you.

i.Cor.xvi.f. 12 *Greete one another in an holy kisse.

All the saintes salute you.

13 The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christ, and the loue of God, and the cõmunion of the holy ghost, be with you all. Amẽ.

¶ The ende of the seconde Epistle to the Corinthians. Sent from Philippos, a citie in Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul, to the Galathians.

¶ The first Chapter.

¶ Paul rebuketh their inconstancie, which suffred them selues to be seduced by the false apostles, who preached that the obseruation of the ceremonies of the lawe were necessarie to saluation, 8 and detesteth them that preache any otherwyse then Christe purely. 13 He sheweth his owne conuersation, magnifieth his office and Apostleshyp, and declareth hym selfe to be equall with the chiefe Apostles.

1 PAul an Apostle, not of men, neither by man: but by Jesus Christe, and by God the father, Which raysed hym vp from death:

2 And all the brethren which are with me. Unto ỹ Churches of Galacia:

Rom.i.a. 1.Cor.i.a. ii.Cor.i.a. 3 *Grace [be] with you, and peace from God the father, and from our Lorde Jesus Christe:

(a) which is, the corrupte state of man without Christe. 4 Which gaue hym selfe for our sinnes, to deliuer vs from this (a) present euyll worlde, accordyng to the wyll of God, and our father:

5 To whom be glory for euer and euer. Amen.

6 I maruayle, that ye are so soone turned from him that had called you in the grace of Christe, vnto another Gospell:

7 Which is not another [Gospel] but that there be some which trouble you, and *intende to peruert the Gospel of Christ.

Actes.xv.a.

8 Neuertheles, though we, or an Angel from heauen, preache any other Gospel vnto you, then that which we haue preached vnto you, let hym be accursed.

B 9 As we sayde before, so say I nowe agayne, yf any man preache any other Gospell vnto you, then that ye haue receaued, let hym be accursed.

10 Do I nowe perswade men, or God: Other do I seke to please men: * For yf I shoulde yet please men, I were not the seruaunt of Christe.

Gala.i.d.

11 ☞ I certifie you brethren, that the ℭ Gospell which was preached of me, was not after man.

12 For I neither receaued it of man, neither was I taught [it] but by the reuelation of Jesus Christe.

13 For ye haue hearde of my conuersation in tyme past in the Jewes religion, howe that beyonde measure * I persecuted the Churche of God, & spoyled it: Actes.viii.a.

14 And profited in the Jewes religion, aboue many of my companions in mine owne nation, *beyng a very feruent maynteyner of the (b) traditions of my fathers. i Cor.xv.b. Philip iii.a. (b) That is, of the lawe of God, which was geuen to the auncient fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, which seperated me from my mothers wombe, & *called [me] by his grace, Actes.ix.e.

16 To reueale his sonne by me, that I shoulde by the Gospell preache hym among the heathen: immediatly I communed not with (c) *flesh and blood: Math xvi. c

17 Neither returned to Hierusalem, to them which were Apostles before me: but went my wayes into Arabia, and came agayne vnto Damascus. (c) That is, with any mã, as though I had neede of his counsel to approue my doctrine,

18 Then after three yeres, I returned to Hierusalẽ to see Peter, and abode with hym fyfteene dayes. D

19 But other of the Apostles sawe I none, saue James the Lordes brother.

20 The thynges therfore which I write vnto you, beholde, before God I lie not.

21 *Afterwarde, I came into the coastes Act.xxii.d.

of

of Syria & Cilicia, and was vnknowen in face vnto the Churches of Jurie, which were in Christe.

22 But they had hearde only, that he which persecuted vs in tyme past, nowe preacheth the (b) fayth, which before he destroyed.

(b) That is, the Gospell, which is the doctrine of fayth.

23 And they glorified God in me.

¶ The.ij. Chapter.

1 Confirmyng his Apostleshyp to be of God, 3 he sheweth why Titus was not circumcised, 6 and that he is nothyng inferiour to other Apostles, 11 Yea, and that he hath reproued Peter, the Apostle of the Jewes. 16 After, he commeth to the principal scope, which is, to proue that iustification only commeth of the grace of God by fayth in Jesus Christe, and not by the workes of the lawe.

2 Then fourteene yeres after, I went vp agayne to Hierusalem* with Barnabas, and toke Titus with me.

Actes.xv.a.

2 I went vp also by reuelation, & I declared vnto them the Gospel which I preache among the gentiles: but priuately, with them which were the chiefe, lest by any meanes, I shoulde runne or had runne in vayne.

3 But neither Titus which was with me, beyng a Greke, was compelled to be circumcised,

4 And that because of incommers, being false brethren, which came in prively, to spye out our libertie which We haue in Christe Jesu, that they myght bryng vs into bondage.

5 To whom, no not for an houre, We gaue place by subiection, that the trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

B 6 Of them which seemed to be somewhat (what they (a) were in time passed, it maketh no matter to me, *God accepteth no mans person) for they which seemed chiefe, (○) added nothyng [to me.]

(a) Albeit they had ben conuersant with Christe afore tyme.

(○) That is, they taught me not: but approued my doctrine perfecte in all poynctes.

7 But contrary wyse, when they sawe that the Gospell of the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as the Gospel of the circumcision was committed vnto Peter.

8 (For he that was myghtie in Peter, to the Apostleshyp of the circumcision, the same was myghtie in me towarde the gentiles)

9 when they perceaued the grace that was geuen vnto me, then James, Cephas, and John, which seemed to be pyllers, gaue to me and Barnabas the right handes of felowshyppe, that We [shoulde be Apostles] vnto the Heathen, and they vnto the circumcision.

10 Onely that We shoulde remember the poore: * wherin also I was diligent to do the same.

Actes.xi.d. ii Cor.ix.a.

11 But whē Peter was come to Antioche, C I withstoode him (b) to the face, because he was to be blamed.

(b) Meaning before all men.

12 For yer ỳ certaine came from James, he dyd eate with the gentiles: But whē they were come, he withdrue, and seperated himselfe, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jewes dissembled lykewyse with hym: insomuch that Barnabas also was brought into their simulation.

14 But when I sawe that they went not the right way to the trueth of the Gospel, I saide vnto Peter before them all: If thou beyng a Jewe, lyuest after the maner of the gentiles, and not as do the Jewes: why causest thou the gentiles to lyue as do the Jewes?

15 We [which are] *Jewes by nature, and not (c) sinners of the gentiles, Philip.iii.a. (c) For so the Jewes called the gentiles in reproche. Rom.xi.c.

16 Knowe that a man *is not iustified by the deedes of the lawe, but by the fayth of Jesus Christe: And We haue beleued on Jesus Christ, that We might be iustified by the fayth of Christe, and not by the deedes of the lawe, because by the deedes of the lawe no fleshe shalbe iustified.

17 If then, whyle We seke to be made righteous by Christe, We our selues are founde sinners: is therfore Christe the minister of sinne? God forbyd.

18 For yf I builde agayne the thynges which I destroyed, then make I my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I, through the lawe, am dead to the lawe, that I myght lyue vnto God: I am crucified with Christe.

20 Neuertheless, I lyue: yet nowe not I, but Christe lyueth in me. And ỳ lyfe which which I nowe liue in the fleshe, I lyue by the faith of the sonne of God, *which loued me, and gaue hym selfe for me. Ephe.v.a.

21 I reiect not the grace of God: For *yf ryghteousnesse come of the lawe, then Christe is dead in vayne. Rom.iiii.c.

¶ The.iij. Chapter.

1 He rebuketh them sharply, 2 and proueth by dyuers reasons, that iustification is by fayth, 6 as appeareth by the example of Abraham. 10, 19, 24. and by the office, and the ende both of the lawe, 11, 25. and of fayth.

A1 O Foolishe Galathians, who hath bewitched you, that ye shoulde not obey ỹ trueth? To whom Jesus Christe was (a) described before the eyes, & among you crucified.

(a) To whō Christe was liuely preached, as yf his liuely image were set before your eyes, or els ben crucified among you.

2 This only woulde I learne of you, Whether ye receaued the spirite by the deedes of the lawe, or by the hearyng of the fayth?

3 Are ye such fooles, that after ye haue begun in the spirite, ye woulde nowe ende in the fleshe?

4 Haue ye suffered so great thynges in vayne? Yf it be yet in vayne.

5 He therfore that ministreth to you the spirite, and worketh miracles among you, doth he it through the deedes of the lawe, or by hearyng of the fayth?

Gen.xv.b. Rom.iiii.a. Iames.ii.d. 6 *Euen as Abraham beleued God, & it was ascribed to hym for righteousnesse.

7 Knowe ye therfore, that they which are of fayth, the same are the chyldren of Abraham.

B 8 For the scripture seyng aforehande that God woulde iustifie the Heathen through fayth, shewed beforehand glad tydynges vnto Abraham, [saying]: *In thee shall all nations be blessed. Gen.xii.a. Gal.xxii.b.

9 So then, they which be of fayth, are blessed with the faythfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the (b) deedes of the lawe, are vnder the curse. For it is writtē: *Cursed is euery one that continueth not in all thinges which are written in the booke of the lawe, to do them. *whiche are to be ratified by him. Deut.27.d.

11 But that no man is iustified by ỹ lawe in the sight of God, it is euident. *For the iust shall lyue by fayth. Habac.ii.a *Ezech.xx.c. Leuit.x.g. Deut.18.a. Ezech.xx.b *Rom.x.a.

12 And the lawe is not of fayth: *but the man that doth them, shall lyue in them.

13 Christe hath redeemed vs from the curse of the lawe, beyng made a curse for vs. For it is written: *Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree: Deut.xxi.d

14 That the blessyng of Abraham might come on the gentiles through Jesus Christe, that we myght receaue the promise of the spirite through fayth. C

15 Brethren, (c) I speake after ỹ maner of men: Though it be but a mans testamēt, yet if it be alowed, no man reiecteth it, or addeth therto. (c) I wyll vse a common example, that you may be ashamed to attribute vnto God, the to such couenaūtes, which one man maketh to another.

16 ☞ To Abraham and his seede were the promises made. He sayth not to the seedes, as of many: but to thy seede, as of one, which is Christe.

17 This I say, that the lawe which began afterwarde, beyonde *foure hundred and thirtie yeres, doth not disanull the testament that was confirmed afore of God, vnto Christewarde, to make the promise of none effect. Gen.xv.d. Exod.xii.f. Iudith.v.b. Actes.vii.a.

18 *For yf the inheritaūce be of the lawe, then not nowe of promise: But God gaue it vnto Abraham by promise. Rom.iiii.c.

19 Wherfore then [serueth] the lawe? It was added because of transgressions, tyl the seede came to whom the promise was made: and it was ordayned by Angels in the hande of a mediatour. Rom.v.c. Act.vii.g.

20 A mediatour is not [a mediatour] of one, but God is (d) one. (d) Constant, and alwayes lyke hym selfe.

21 *Is the lawe then against the promise of God? God forbyd. For yf there had ben a lawe geuen which coulde haue geuen life: then no doubt righteousnesse shoulde haue ben by the lawe. Rom.vii.c. 1 Tim.i.b.

22 But the scripture hath concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by ỹ fayth of Jesus Christe shoulde be geuen vnto them that beleue. ☜

23 But before fayth came, we were kept vnder the lawe, and were shut vp vnto the fayth which shoulde afterwarde be reuealed.

24 Wherfore, the lawe was our scholemaister vnto Christe, that we shoulde be iustified by fayth. D

25 But after that fayth is come, we are no longer vnder a scholemaister.

26 For ye are all the chyldren of God by fayth fayth in Christe Jesu.

○ Some reade, all ye that are baptized into Christe haue put on Christ.

27 For ○ all ye that are baptized, haue put on Christe.

28 There is no Jewe, neither Greke, there is neither bonde nor free, there is neither male, nor female: For ye are all *one in Christe Jesu.

29 If [ye be] Christes, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heyres accordyng to the promise.

¶ The.iiij.Chapter.

2 He sheweth wherfore the ceremonies were ordayned, which beyng shadowes, must ende, when Christe the trueth commeth. 9 He moueth them by certayne exhortations, 22 and confirmeth his argument with a strong example or allegorie.

A I Lay, that the heyre, as long as he is a chylde, differeth nothyng from a seruaũt, though he be Lorde of all,

2 But is vnder tuters and gouernours, vntyll the tyme appoynted of the father.

3 Euen so we, when we were chyldren, were in bondage vnder ỹ ○ rudimentes of the worlde:

○ That is, the law, whiche before he called a foole maister.

4 But when the fulnesse of the tyme was come, God *sent his sonne, made of a woman, and made vnder the lawe, Luk.xx.b. John.iii.b. Rom.viii.a.

5 To redeeme them that were vnder the lawe, that we myght receaue the adoption of chyldren.

6 Because ye are sonnes, *God hath sent the (a) spirite of his sonne into your heartes, crying, (b) Abba, father.

Rom.viii.c.

(a) For our adoption vnto Christe, is sealed by hym.

(b) He instructeth both Jewes and Gentiles, to call God their father in euerie language, so that none are excepted.

7 Wherfore thou art no more a seruaunt, but a sonne: If thou be a sonne, thou art also an heire of God, through Christ.

8 Notwithstandyng, when ye (c) knewe not God, ye dyd seruice vnto thẽ *which by nature are no Gods.

(c) When ye receaued the Gospell, ye were idolaters, therfore it is shame for you to refuse libertie, and become seruauntes, yea, and seyng the Jewes desire to be out of their tutieship

9 But nowe after that ye haue knowen God, yea, rather are knowen of God, howe turne ye agayne vnto the weake and beggarly rudimentes, whervnto againe ye desire afreshe to be in bondage?

10 Ye obserue dayes, and monethes, and tymes, and yeres.

B 11 I am in feare of you, lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vayne.

12 Brethren, I beseech you be as I [am] for I am as ye are. Ye haue not iniured me at all.

13 Ye knowe howe through infirmitie of the fleshe, I preached the Gospell vnto you at the first:

(d) That is, the troubles and vexations which God sent to try me whyle I was emong you.

14 (d) And my temptation which was in my fleshe, ye dispised not, neither abhorred: but receaued me as an Angel of God, euen as Christe Jesus.

15 What is then your felicitie? For I beare you recorde, that yf it had ben possible, ye woulde haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue geuen them to me.

16 Am I therfore become your enemie, C because I tell you the trueth?

17 They are gelouse ouer you (e) amisse: yea, they intende to exclude (f) you, that ye shoulde be feruent to them warde.

(e) For they are but ambitious.

(f) They wolde turne you from me, ỹ you myght folowe them.

18 It is good alwayes to be zelous in a good thyng, and not only when I am present with you

19 My litle chyldren, of whom I trauayle in birth agayne, vntyll Christe be (g) fashioned in you.

(g) And imprinted so in your heartes, that ye loue none other.

20 But I desire to be present with you nowe, and to chaunge my voyce: for I stande in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be vnder the lawe, do ye not heare the lawe?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes, *the one by a bonde mayde, *the other by a free woman:

Gen.xvi.a. Gen.xxi.a. Hebr.xi.a.

23 But he which was of the bonde woman, was borne after the fleshe: but he which was of the free woman, [was borne] by promise.

(h) By an allegorie, that is another thyng is meant.

24 Which thynges are spoken by (h) an allegorie. For these are two testamentes: the one from the mount Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage, which is Agar.

25 For Agar is the mount Sina in Arabia, and bordreth vpon the citie, which is nowe [called] Hierusalem, and is in bondage with her chyldren.

D Apo.xxi.a.

26 But *Hierusalem which is aboue, is free: which is the mother of vs all.

Esai.liii.a.

27 For it is written: *Reioyce thou baren, that bearest no chyldren, breake forth and crye, thou that trauaylest not: For the desolate hath many mo chyldren, then she which hath an husbande.

But

28 But brethren, we are after Isaac the chyldren of promise.
29 But as then he that was borne after the flesshe, persecuted hym that was borne after the spirite: euen so is it now.
30 Neuertheless, What saith the scripture? *put away the bondwoman and her sonne: For the sonne of the bondwoman, shall not be heire with the sonne of the free woman. Gen.xxi.b.
31 So then brethren, We are not chyldren of the bonde woman, but of the free.

The. v. Chapter.

2 He laboureth to drawe them away from circumcision, 17 and sheweth them the battell betwixt the spirite and the flesshe, and the fruites of them both.

1 STande fast therfore in the libertie wherwith Christe hath made vs free, and be not intangled agayne with ỹ yoke *of bondage. Esaias.i x.a.
2 Beholde I Paul saye vnto you, that *yf ye be (a)circumcised, Christe shall profite you nothyng. Act.xxv.a. (a) For we are in the Churche of Christ, which is our inner: and not of the synagoge, which is ymaunt vnder the lawe.
3 For I testifie agayne to euery man which is circumcised, that he is a detter to do the whole lawe.
4 Christe is become but vayne to you, as many of you as are iustified by the lawe, are fallen from grace.
5 For We thrugh the spirite, wayte for the hope of ryghteousnes by fayth.
6 *For in Iesus Christe, neither is circumcision any thing woorth, neither yet vncircumcision: but fayth, *which worketh by loue. Galath.vi.a. i.Cor.xiii.a.
7 Ye dyd runne well, Who was a let vnto you, that ye should not obey ỹ trueth?
8 Not the perfection of hym that called you.
9 *A litle leauen, doth leauen the whole lumpe of dowe. i.Cor.v.a.
10 ☞ I haue truste towarde you in the Lorde, that ye wyll be none otherwyse mynded: But he that troubleth you, shall beare iudgement, whatsoeuer he be.
11 And brethren, if I yet preache circumcision, Why do I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slaunder of the crosse ceassed.
12 I woulde to God they were cut of which trouble you.
13 For brethren, ye haue ben called into libertie: Only *let not libertie be an occasiõ to the flesshe, but by loue serue one another. Rom.xiii.a. i.Cor.viii.a.
14 For all the lawe is fulfylled in one worde, which is this: *Thou shalt loue thy neyghbour as thy selfe. Mat. xxii.d Mark.xii.c. Leuit.xix.d
15 Yf ye byte and deuoure one another, take heede lest ye be consumed one of another. Rom.xii.c. Iacob.ii.b.
16 ☞ Then I say, Walke in the spirite, and ye shall not fulfyll the lust of the flesshe. C
17 For the flesshe lusteth contrary to the spirite, *and the spirite contrary to the flesshe. These are contrary one to the other, so that ye can not do what ye woulde. Mat.xxvi.b
18 But and yf ye be ledde of the spirite, then are ye not vnder the lawe.
19 The deedes of the flesshe are manifest, which are these, adulterie, fornication, vncleanneslle, wantonnesse, 20 worshippyng of images, witchcrafte, hatred, variaunce, zeale, wrath, strife, seditions, sectes,
21 Enuyinges, murthers, dronkennesse, gluttonies, and such lyke: of the whiche I tell you before, as I haue tolde you in tyme past, that *they which do suche thinges, shall not inherite the kingdome of God. D i.Cor.vi.b. Ephe.v.a.
22 But the fruite of the spirite is, loue, ioye, peace, long sufferyng, gentlenesse, goodnesse, fayth, 23 Mekenesse, temperauncie: *agaynst such there is no lawe. i.Tim.i.b.
24 They truely that are Christes, (b)haue crucified the flesshe, with the affections and lustes. (b) Christe hath not only remitted their sinnes, but sanctified thē into newnesse of lyfe.
25 ☞ Yf We lyue in ỹ spirite, let vs walke in the spirite.
26 Let vs not be desirous of vayne glorie, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

¶ The .vj. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth them to vse gentlenesse towarde the weake, 2 and to shewe their brotherly loue and modestie, 6 also to prouide for their ministers, 9 to persever, 14 to reioyce in the crosse of Christe, 15 to newnesse of lyfe, 16 and last of all wysheth to them with the rest of the faythfull all prosperitie.

A1 BRethren, yf a man be taken in any fault, ye which are spiritual restore such a one in the spirite of meknes, consideryng thy selfe, lest thou also be tempted.

Rom.xv.a. 2 *Beare ye one anothers burthen, and so fulfyll the lawe of Christe.

3 For if any man seeme to him selfe that he is somewhat, when he is nothyng, the same deceaueth hymselfe in his owne fansie.

4 But let euery man proue his owne worke, & then shall he haue (a) reioyceyng only in his owne selfe, and not in another.

Rom. xv.f. i.Cor.ix.b. 6 *Let hym that is taught in the word, minister vnto hym that teacheth hym, in all good thynges.

7 Be not deceaued, God is not mocked: For *whatsoeuer a man soweth, that shall he also reape.

Iohn.iiii.b.

B 8 For he that soweth into his flesshe, shal of the flesshe reape corruption: But he that soweth into the spirite, shall of the spirite reape lyfe euerlastyng.

ii.Thess.iii.b 9 *Let vs not be weery in well doyng: for in due season we shall reape, yf we faynt not.

10 Whyle we haue therefore tyme, let vs do good vnto all men, specially vnto thē which are of the housholde of fayth. ☜ C

11 Se see how large a letter I haue written vnto you with myne owne hande.

12 As many as desire with outwarde appearaunce to please carnally, the same constrayne you to be circumcised, onlye lest they shoulde suffer persecution for the crosse of Christe.

13 For they thē selues which are circumcised, kepe not the lawe: but desire to haue you circumcised, that they myght reioyce in your flesshe.

14 God forbyd that I shoulde reioyce, D but in the crosse of our Lorde Jesus Christe, wherby the (b) worlde is crucified vnto me, and I vnto the worlde.

(b) By the worlde, he meaneth all outward pompes, ceremonies, & things whiche please mēs fantasies

15 For *in Christe Jesu, neither circumcision auayleth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but a newe creature.

Galath. v.a.

16 And as many as walke accordyng to this rule, peace be on them, and mercie, and vpon the (c) Israel [that is] of God.

(c) That is, vpon ỹ Iewes. Ga.vi.c.

17 From hencefoorth, let no man put me to busynesse: *For I beare in my body the markes of the Lorde Jesus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lorde Jesus Christe be with your spirite. Amen.

The Epistle vnto the Galathians, was sent from Rome.

¶ The Epistle of the Apostle S. Paul, vnto the Ephesians.

¶ The first Chapter.

After his salutation, 4 he sheweth that the chiefe cause of their saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christe, 16 he declareth his good wyll towarde them, geuyng thankes, & prayng God for their fayth. 21 The maiestie of Christe.

A1 PAulan apostle of Jesus Christe by the wyll of God: To the saintes which are at Ephesus, and to the faythfull in Christe Jesus:

2 *Grace be with you, and peace, from God our father, & from the Lorde Jesus Christe.

Rom.i.a. i.Cor.i. a.

3 *Blessed be God, the father of our Lorde Jesus Christe, whiche hath blessed vs in all spirituall blessyng, in heauenly thynges by Christe:

i.Pet.i.a. Galath.i.a.

4 Accordyng as he had chosen vs in hym before the foundation of the world, that we shoulde be holy, and without blame before hym, through loue.

5 Who hath predestinate vs into the adoption option of (a) childrē, by Jesus Christ vnto hym selfe, according to the good pleasure of his Wyll:

6 To the prayse of the glorie of his grace, wherein he hath made vs accepted in the beloued.

7 *In whom we haue redemption through his blood, the forgeuenesse of sinnes, according to the rychesse of his grace,

8 wherein he hath abounded toWarde vs in all Wysedome and prudence.

9 And hath opened vnto vs the misterie of his Wyll, according to his good pleasure which he had purposed in himselfe.

10 That in the dispensation of *the fulnesse of the tymes, he myght gather together in one all thinges in Christe, both Which are in heauen, and Which are in earth, in hym.

11 In whom also we are chosen, beyng predestinate according to the purpose of hym Who worketh all thynges after the councell of his owne Wyll:

12 That we shoulde be vnto the prayse of his glorie, Whiche before beleued in Christe.

13 In whom also ye, after that ye heard the Worde of trueth, the Gospell of your saluation, Wherin also after that ye beleued, were *sealed With the holy spirite of promyse, 14 Whyche is the earnest of our inheritaunce, vnto ỳ (b) redemption of the purchased possession, vnto the prayse of his glorie.

15 Wherfore I also after that I hearde of the fayth Which ye haue in the Lorde Jesus, and loue vnto all the saintes,

16 Cease not to geue thankes for you, makyng mention of you in my prayers:

17 That the God of our Lorde Jesus Christe, the father of glorie, may geue vnto you the spirite of Wisdome and reuelation, in the knowledge of hym:

18 The eyes of your myndes beyng lightened, that ye maye knowe What the *hope is of his callyng, and What the rychesse of the glorie of his inheritaunce [is] in the saintes:

19 And What is the exceedyng greatnesse of his power to vsWarde, Which beleue, according to the Worckyng of his myghtie power,

20 which he Wrought in Christe When he rayled hym from the dead, *and set him on his ryght hande in heauenly [places]

21 Farre aboue *all rule, and power, and myght, and dominion, and euery name that is named, not in this Worlde only, but also in the Worlde to come.

22 And *hath put all thynges vnder his feete, and gaue him [to be] the head ouer all thynges to the Churche, 23 which is his body, the fulnesse of him that fylleth all in all.

(b) Though we be redemed from the bondage of sin by the death of Christe, Rom. 6. yet we hope for this seconde redemption, which shalbe whē we shall possesse our inheritaunce in the heauens, whereof we haue the holy ghoste for a gage, as ca. 4.

¶ The. ij. Chapter.

5 To magnifie the grace of Christe, which is the only cause of saluation. 11 he sheweth them what maner of people they were before their conuertiō, 18 and what they are nowe in Christe.

AND you that were dead in trespasses and sinnes,

2 In the Which in time passed *ye walked, according to the course of this Worlde, after the gouernour that ruleth in the ayre, the spirite that nowe Worketh in the chyldren of disobedience.

3 *Among whom We all had our conuersation also in tyme past in the lustes of our flesshe, fulfyllyng the Wyll of the flesshe, and of the mynde, & (a) were by nature the chyldren of Wrath, euen as other:

4 But God Which is ryche in mercie, for his great loue wherWith he loued vs,

5 Euen When We were dead by sinnes, hath quickned vs together With Christ, *by grace are ye saued:

6 And hath rayled [vs] vp together, and made [vs] syt together in the heauenly in Christe Jesus.

(a) Not by creation, but by Adams transgression, & so by birth.

7 That in ages to come, he might shew the exceedyng ryches of his grace, in kyndnesse to vswarde through Christe Jesus.

8 For by grace are ye made safe through fayth, and that not of your selues, it is the gyft of God:

9 Not of workes, lest any man shoulde boast hym selfe.

10 For we are his workmanshyp, created in Christe Jesus vnto *good workes, Titus.i.d. whiche God hath ordeyned that we shoulde walke in them.

¶ 11 Wherfore, remember that ye being in tyme passed gentiles in the flesshe, called vncircumcision of that which is called *circumcision in the flesshe, made by Philip.iii.a. Colosſ. ii.b. handes:

12 That at that tyme ye were without Christe, beyng aliauntes from the common wealth of Israel, and straungers frō the testamentes of promise, hauyng no hope, & without God in this worlde.

13 But nowe in Christe Jesus, ye which sometyme were farre of, are made nye by the blood of Christe.

14 For he is our peace, which hath made both one: and hath broken downe the ○ wall that was a stoppe betwene vs, ○ That is, the cause of ꝧ diuision that was betwene the Iewes & the Gentiles.

15 Taking away in his flesshe the hatred, [euen] the lawe of commaundementes, [conteyned] in ordinaunces, for to make of twayne one newe man in hym selfe, so makyng peace,

16 And that he myght reconcile both vnto God in one body through [his] crosse, and slewe hatred thereby.

17 And came and preached peace to you which were a farre of, and to them that were nye.

18 For through hym, we both haue an D entraunce in one spirite vnto the father.

19 ☞ Nowe therefore, ye are no more straungers and foreyners: but citezins with the saintes, and of the housholde of God,

20 And are built vpon the *foundation of i.Cor.iii.b. the apostles and prophetes, *Jesus Esa.xxviii.d Christe hym selfe beyng the head corner Rom.ix.f. stone, Psal.cxviii.c

21 In whom all the buyldyng coupled together, groweth vnto an holy temple in the Lorde.

22 In whom ye also are buylded together for an habitation of God through the spirite. ☜

☞ The. iij. Chapter.

1 He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment, 13 desireth them not to faynt because of his trouble, 14 and prayeth God to make them stedfast in his spirite.

A 1 For this cause I Paul [am] a prisoner of Jesus Christe, for you heathen:

2 If ye haue heard of the dispensatiō of the grace of God, *Which is geuen me to youwarde: Act.xiii.a. Galath.i.b.

3 For by reuelation shewed he the (a) misterie vnto me (as I wrote afore in fewe wordes: (a) Misterie, is that secrete hydden purpose of saluation through Christe.

4 Whereby, when ye reade, ye may vnderstande my knowledge in the misterie of Christe)

5 Which [misterie] in other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is nowe reuealed vnto his holy apostles and prophetes by the spirite,

6 That the gentiles shoulde be inheritours also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christe, by the Gospell:

7 Wherof I am made a minister, accordyng to the gyfte of the grace of God, which is geuen vnto me after the workyng of his power.

8 Unto me the *least of all saintes is this B grace geuen, that I shoulde preache among the gentiles the vnsearchable ryches of Christe, i. Cor.xv.a.

9 And to bring to lyght to all men what the felowship of the misterie is whiche from the begynnyng of the world hath ben hid in god, which made all thinges through Jesus Christe:

10 To thintent that nowe vnto the rulers and power in heauenly [thynges] myght be knowen by ꝧ (b) Church, the very manyfolde wysedome of God: (b) The Church being gathered of so many kyndes of people, is an example or a glasse for the Angels to beholde the wisedome of God in, who hath tourned their particuler discordes into an vniuersal concorde, and of the synagogue of bondage, hath made the Churche of freedome.

11 According to ꝧ eternall purpose which he wrought in Christe Jesus our Lord:

19 And to knowe the loue of Christe, whiche excelleth knowledge, that ye might be fylled with all fulnesse of God.

22 Wyues, submit your selues vnto your owne husbandes, as vnto the Lorde:

Genes.ii.d. 1.Cor.xi.a. Ephe.i.d.

23 For *the husbande is the head of the wyfe, euen as Christe is *the head of the Church: & he is the sauiour of the bodie.

24 But as the Church is subiect to Christ, lykewyse the wyues to their owne husbandes in all thynges.

25 Ye husbandes loue your wyues, euen as Christe also loued the Church, and gaue hym selfe for it,

(b) Baptisme is a token that God hath consecrated the Churche to hym selfe, and made it holy by his worde: that is, his promise of free iustificatiō in Christe.

26 To sanctifie it, clensyng [it] in the (b) fountayne of water in the worde, 27 To make it vnto hym selfe a glorious Churche, not hauyng spot or wrinckle, or any such thyng: but that it should be holy, and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wyues, as their owne bodies. He that loueth his wyfe, loueth hym selfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesshe: but nourisheth & cherisheth it, euen as the Lorde the Churche.

30 For we are members of his body, of his flesshe, and of his bones.

Genes.ii.d. Math.xix.a Mark.x.a. 1.Cor.vi.d. Ephes.v.g.

31 *For this cause shall a man leaue father and mother, and shalbe ioyned vnto his wyfe, and two shalbe made one flesshe.

32 This is a great secrete: but I speake of Christe and of the Churche.

33 Therfore euery one of you [do ye so] Let euery one of you loue his wyfe euen as hym selfe, and [let] the wyfe reuerence her husbande.

¶ The .vj. Chapter.

Deut.iii.b.

5 Seruauntes obey them that are your bodyly maisters, with feare and trembling, in singlenesse of your heart, as vnto Christe.

6 Not with seruice vnto the eye, as men pleasers: but as the seruaūtes of Christ.

10 Finally my brethren, be strong in the Lorde, & in the power of his might.

11 Put on all the armour of God, that ye may stande agaynst the assaultes of the deuyll.

12 For we wrastle not agaynst (a) blood & flesshe: but agaynst rule, agaynst power, agaynst worldly gouernours of the darknesse of this worlde, agaynst spirituall craftynesse in heauenly [places.]

(a) The faithfull haue not only to stryue agaynst men, & themselues: but agaynst Satan their spirituall enemie, who is moste daungerous: for he is ouer our heades, ỏ we can not reache hym, but he muste be resisted by Gods peace.

13 Wherfore take vnto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to resist in the euyll day, and hauing finished all thynges, to stande fast.

14 Stande therfore, *hauyng loynes girt about with the trueth, and puttyng on the brest plate of righteousnesse,

16 Aboue all, takyng the shielde of fayth, wherwith ye may quenche all the fierie dartes of the wicked:

17 And take the helmet of saluation, and the sworde of the spirite, whiche is the worde of God.

18 *Praying alwayes in all prayer and supplication in the spirite, and watche thervnto with all instaunce and supplication, for all saintes,

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Philippians.

The first Chapter.

1 Saint Paul discouereth his heart towardes them, 3 by his thankes geuyng, 4 prayers, 8 and wisshes for their fayth and saluation. 7. 12. 20. He sheweth the fruite of his crosse, 15. 27. and exhorteth them to vnitie, 28 and pacience.

A1 PAul & Timotheus the seruauntes of Jesus Christ: To all the saintes in Christ Jesus, whiche are at Philippos, with the bishops & deacons:
2 Grace [be] vnto you, and peace frō God our father, and [from] the Lorde Jesus Christ.
3 I thanke my God, with all remembraunce of you,
Rom.i.b. Colos.i.a. 4 (*Alwayes in all my prayer for all you, makyng prayer with gladnesse,)
5 For your felowshyp in the Gospell, frō the first (a) day vntyll nowe.
(a) That ye receaued the Gospell. 6 And beyng perswaded of this same thyng, that he which hath begun good worke in you, wyll perfourme it vntyll the day of Jesus Christe,
7 As it becommeth me to iudge this of you al, because I haue you in my heart, and in my bondes, in the defence and confirmation of the Gospell, you all beyng partakers of my (b) grace.
(b) Of this peculier benefite to suffer for Christes sake. 8 For God is my recorde howe greatly I long after you all, in the (c) bowels of Jesus Christe.
(c) That is, from the very heart roote of Jesus Christ 9 *And this I pray, that your loue may abounde yet more and more in knowledge, and in all vnderstandyng:
10 That ye maye discerne thynges that B differ, that ye maye be pure, and without offence, tyll the day of Christe.
11 Beyng fylled with the fruites of righteousnesse, which [are] by Jesus Christ, vnto the glorie and prayse of God.
12 But I woulde ye should vnderstande brethren, that the thinges which [came] vnto me, hath come rather vnto the furtheraunce of the Gospell:
13 So that my bondes in (d) Christe, are manifest, throughout all the iudgement hall, and in all other [places.]
(d) which I suffrene for Christes cause.
14 And many of the brethren of the Lord, beyng incouraged through my bondes, dare more plentifully speake the word, without feare.
15 Some preache Christe of enuie & strife, and some of good wyll.
16 The one preache Christe of strife, not sincerely, supposyng to adde more affliction to my bondes:
17 But the others of loue, knowing that I am set to the defence of the Gospell.
18 What then? So that Christe be preached any maner of way, whether it be by pretence, or by trueth, I ioy therein, and wyll ioy.

28 And in nothyng fearyng your aduerſaries, which is to them a token of perdition: but to you of ſaluatiõ, and (c) that of God.

29 For vnto you it is geuen ○ for Chriſte, not only this to beleue on hym: but alſo this, to ſuffer for his ſake,

¶ The. ij. Chapter.

3 He exhorteth them aboue all thynges to humilitie, wherby pure doctrine is chiefly mayntayned, 16 promiſyng that he and Timotheus wyll ſpedyly come vnto them, 27 and excuſeth the long tariyng of Epaphroditus.

18 For the same cause also do ye reioyce, and reioyce with me.
19 But I trust in the Lorde Jesus, to *sende Timotheus shortly vnto you, *that I also may be of good comfort, when I knowe your state.
Actes.xvi.a
i Thess.iii.b
20 For I haue no man lyke mynded, who wyll naturally care for your state.
21 For all seeke their owne, not the thynges which are Jesus Christes.
22 Ye knowe the proofe of hym, that as a sonne with the father, he hath serued with me in the Gospell.
23 Hym therfore I hope to sende, assoone as I knowe my state.
24 But I trust in the Lorde, that I also my selfe shall come shortly.
25 But I supposed it necessarie to sende to you Epaphroditus, my brother and companion in labour, & felowe souldier, but your Apostle, and the minister of my neede.
26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heauinesse, because that ye had hearde that he had ben sicke.
27 And no doubt he was sicke nye vnto death, but God had mercie on hym, and not on hym only, but on me also, lest I shoulde haue sorowe vpon sorowe.
28 I sent him therfore the more diligentlie, that when ye see him againe, ye may reioyce, and that I may be the lesse sorowfull.

¶ The .iij. Chapter.

2 He warneth them to beware of false teachers, 3 agaynst whom he setteth Christe. 4 Likewise himselfe, 9 and his doctrine, 12 and reproueth mans owne righteousnes.

1 Moreouer my brethren, reioyce ye in the Lord. It greeueth me not to write the same thyng often to you, for to you it is a sure thyng.
2 Beware of (a) dogges, beware of euyll workers, beware of (b) concision.
(a) Which barke agaynst the true doctrine, to fyll their bellyes.
(b) S. Paul here alludeth vnto circumcision by semblaunce of a lyke word, because that they who craked therof, did rather cause a scisme, diuision, or cutting of and tearing in sunder, then an accorde in the Churche.
3 * For we are the circumcision, which worship God * in the spirite, and reioyce in Christ Jesus, and haue no confidence in the flesshe:
4 Though I might also haue confidence in the flesshe. If any other man thinketh that he hath wherof he myght trust in the flesshe, more I:
5 Circumcised the eyght day, of the kinred of Israel, of the tribe of Beniamin, *an Ebrue of the Ebrues, after the lawe a pharisee, ii Cor.xi.a.
Act.xxiii.b
6 Concernyng feruentnesse, persecutyng the Churche: touchyng ỹ righteousnesse which is in ỹ lawe, I was blamelesse.
7 *But the thynges that were vauntage vnto me, those I counted losse for Christes sake.
Mat.xiii.c.
8 Yea, I thynke all thynges but losse, for the excellencie of the knowledge of Christe Jesus my Lorde: For whom I haue counted all thyng losse, & do iudge thē but vile, that I may winne Christe,
9 And be founde in hym, not hauyng myne owne ryghteousnesse which is of the lawe: but that which is through the fayth of Christ, the ryghteousnes which commeth of God through fayth:
10 That I may knowe hym, and the power of his resurrection, and the felowshippe of his passions, confirmable vnto his death,
11 If by any meanes, I myght attayne vnto the resurrection of the dead.
12 (c) Not as though I had alredy attayned, either were alredy perfect: but I folowe, yf that I may comprehende, wherein also I am comprehended of Christe Jesus.
(c) Or, haue nowe taken full possession therof, not ỹ he doubted to attain vnto it, but because he would declare the excellencie therof.
13 Brethren I count not my selfe as yet that I haue attained: but this one thyng [I say] I forget those thynges which are behynde, and endeuour my selfe vnto those thynges which are before,
14 And I presse towarde the marke, for the price of the hye calling of God in Christe Jesus.
15 Let vs therfore as many as be perfect, be thus mynded, and if ye be otherwyse wyse mynded, God shall reueale the same also vnto you.

16 Neuertheless, vnto that which we haue attayned vnto, let vs proceade by one rule, that we may be of one accorde.

D 17 ☞*Brethren, be followers together of me, and loke on them which walke so as ye haue vs for an ensample. Cor. iiii.c.

18 For many walke, of whom I haue tolde you often, & nowe tel you wepyng, [that they are] the enemies of the crosse of Christe:

19 *Whose ende [is] dampnation, whose God [is their] belly, and glorie to their shame, which mynde earthly thynges. Rom. xvi.c.

20 But our conuersation is in heauen, from whence also we loke for the sauiour, the Lorde Jesus Christe:

21 Who shall *chaunge our vyle body, that it may be fashioned lyke vnto his glorious body, according to the working wherby he is able to subdue all thynges vnto hym selfe. ☜ i Co.xv.g.

¶ The. iiij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth them to be of honest conuersation, 15 and thanketh them, because of the prouision that they made for hym beyng in prison, 21 and so concludeth with salutations.

A 1 THerfore my brethren beloued & longed for, my ioy and crowne, so continue in the Lorde ye beloued.

2 I pray Euodias, and beseche Syntyches, þ they be of one accorde in the Lorde.

3 Yea, and I beseche thee also faythfull yockefelowe, helpe those [women] which laboured with me in the Gospell, and with Clement also, and with other my labour felowes, *whose names [are] in the (a) booke of lyfe. Luk.x.c. Apo.xvii.b (a) This booke Ezechiel meaneth þ writing of the house of Israel, and the scripture of the Lorde.

4 ☞*Reioyce in the Lorde alway, and agayne I say reioyce.

5 Let your patient mynde be knowen vnto all men: The Lorde [is] at hande.

6 Be carefull for nothyng: but in all thynges, let your petition be manifest vnto God, in prayer and supplication with geuyng of thankes.

7 And the peace of God, which passeth all vnderstandyng, shall (b) kepe your heartes and myndes through Christe Jesus. ☜ (b) From Satan, who seeketh to take from vs this peace of conscience.

B 8 Furthermore brethren, whatsoeuer thynges are true, whatsoeuer thynges (are) honest, whatsoeuer thynges (are) iuste, whatsoeuer thynges (are) pure, whatsoeuer thynges pertayne to loue, whatsoeuer thynges (are) of honest report: If there be any vertue, & yf there be any prayse, thynke on these thynges:

9 Which ye haue both learned, and receaued, and hearde, and seene in me: Those thinges do, and the God of peace shalbe with you.

10 But I reioyce in the Lorde greatly, that nowe at the last you are reuiued agayne to care for me, in þ wherin ye were also carefull, but ye lacked opportunitie.

11 I speake not because of (c) necessitie. For I haue learned, in whatsoeuer estate I am, *therwith to be content. (c) That I was not able to endure my pouertie. i Tim.vi.b.

12 I knowe howe to be lowe, and I C knowe howe to exceade. Euery where & in all thynges I am instructed, both to be ful, and to be hungry, both to haue plentie, and to suffer neede.

13 I can do all thynges through Christe, which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstandyng, ye haue well done þ ye dyd communicate to my afflictions.

15 Ye Philippians knowe also, that in the (d) begynnyng of the Gospell, when I departed frō Macedonia, no Church communicated to me, as concernyng geuyng and receauyng, but ye only. (d) When I first preached the Gospell vnto you.

16 For euen in Thessalonica, ye sent once, & afterward agayne vnto my necessitie.

17 Not that I desire a gyft, but I desire fruite aboundyng to your accompt.

18 But I haue receaued al, & haue plentie. I was euen fylled after that I had receaued of Epaphroditus the thynges [which were sent] from you, an odoure of a sweete smel, a *sacrifice acceptable, pleasaunt to God. Rom.xii.a Heb.xiii.c

19 My God shall supplie all your neede, D through his riches in glorie, in Christe Jesus.

20 Unto God and our father, be prayse for euermore. Amen.

21 Salute all the saintes in Christe Jesus. The brethren which are with me, greete you.

22 All the saintes salute you, most of all, they that are of Caesars housholde.

23 The grace of our Lorde Jesu Christe [be] with you all. Amen.

10 *when he shall come to be glorified in his saintes, and to be made marueylous in all them that beleue (because our testimonie toward you was beleued) in that day. Mat.xxv.e.

11 *wherfore also we praye alwayes for you, that our God woulde make you worthy of the callyng, & fulfyll all good pleasure of goodnesse in the (c) worke of fayth in power: Colossi.a. Philip.i. b.

(c) Fayth is gods wonderfull worke in vs.

12 That the name of our Lorde Jesus Christe may be glorified in you, and ye in hym, accordyng to the grace of our God, and the Lorde Jesus Christe.

¶ The.ij. Chapter.

1 He sheweth them that the day of the Lorde shall not come, tyll the departyng of the fayth come first, 9 and the kyngdome of Antichriste. 15 And therfore he exhorteth them not to be deceaued, but to stande stedfast in the thinges that he hath taught them.

A1 WE besech you brethren, by the comming of our Lorde Jesus Christe, and by our assembling vnto hym,

2 That ye be not sodenlye moued from [your] minde, nor be troubled, neither by (a) spirite, nor by worde, nor yet by letter, as from vs, as though the daye of Christe were at hande.

(a) As false reuelations, or dreames.

3 Let no man deceaue you by any meanes, for [the Lorde shall not come] excepte there come a *fallyng away first, & that that man of sinne be reuealed, the sonne of (b) perdition, Dani.ix g. Tim.iiii.a.

(b) who, as he destroyeth other, so shall he be destroyed hym selfe.

4 [whiche is] an aduersarie, and is exalted aboue all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he as God, sitteth in the temple of God, shewing hym selfe that he is God. i.Cor.iii.b.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these thynges: B

6 And nowe ye knowe what withholdeth, that he myght be reuealed in his tyme.

7 *For the misterie of iniquitie doth alredie worke, tyll he whiche nowe onlye letteth, be taken out of the way. i.Iohn.ii.a.

8 And then shall that wicked be reuealed, *whom the Lorde shall consume with the spirite of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightnesse of his comming: ☞ Esaias xi.a.
9 [Euen hym] Whose comming is after the worckyng of Satan, in all power *& signes, and wonders, of lying,
Math.24.c.
10 And in all deceauablenesse of vnryghteousnesse, in them that perysshe: because they receaued not the loue of the trueth, that they myght be saued.
11 *And therefore God shall sende them strong delusion, that they should beleue lyes:
Rom.i.d.
12 That all they myght be dampned whiche beleued not the trueth, but had pleasure in vnryghteousnes.
13 But we are bounde to geue thankes allway to God for you, brethren beloued of the Lorde, because that God hath frō the begynnyng chosen you to saluation in sanctifyng of the spirite, & [in] fayth of the trueth:
14 Wherevnto he called you by our Gospell, to the obteyning of the glorie of our Lorde Jesus Christe.
15 ☞ Therfore brethren stande fast, and holde the ordinaunces whiche ye haue ben taught, whether it were by our preachyng, or by our epistle.
16 Our Lorde Jesus Christe, and God and our father, whiche hath loued vs, and hath geuen vs euerlastyng consolation, and good hope in grace, 17 Comfort your heartes, and stablysshe you in all good saying and doyng.

¶ The .iij. Chapter.

1 He desireth them to pray for hym, that the Gospell may prosper, 6 and geueth them warnyng to reproue the idle, 16 and so wysheth them all wealth.

A 1 Furthermore brethren, praye ye for vs, *that the worde of the Lord may haue free passage and be glorified, euen as with you:
Ephe.vi.c. Coloss.iiii.a
2 And that we may be delyuered from disordered and euyll men: For all men haue not (a) fayth.
(a) Although they boast thē selues therof.
3 But the Lorde is faythfull, whiche shall stablysshe you, and kepe you from euyll.
4 And we haue confidence in the Lorde to youwarde, that ye both do, and wyll do the thynges whiche we commaunde you.
5 And the Lorde guyde your heartes to the loue of God, and to the pacient waytyng for Christe. ☞
B 6 ☞ We commaunde you brethren in the name of our Lorde Jesus Christe, *that ye withdrawe your selues from euery brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the (b) institution whiche he receaued of vs.
i.Cor.v.b.
(b) which is, to trauayle yf he wyll eate.
7 For ye your selues knowe howe ye ought to folowe vs: For we behaued not our selues inordinately among you,
8 Neither toke we breade of any man for nought: *but wrought with labour and sweat nyght and daye, because we Actes.xx.g i.Cor.ix.c. i.Thess.ii.c. woulde not be chargeable to any of you.
9 Not but that we had auctoritie, but to C make our selues an ensample vnto you to folowe vs.
10 For when we were with you, this we warned you of: that yf any woulde not worke, the same shoulde not eate.
11 For we haue heard that there are some which walke among you inordinately, worckyng not at all, but be busy bodies.
12 Them that are such, we commaunde and exhort by our Lorde Jesus Christ, that they worckyng in quietnesse, eate their owne breade.
13 And ye *brethren, be not weery in well doyng.
Galath.vi.b
14 Yf any man obey not our doctrine, signifie hym by an epistle, *and haue no companie with hym, that he maye be ashamed. D ii.Thessiiid
15 Yet count him not as an (c) enemie, but warne hym as a brother.
(c) The ende of excommunication, is not to dryue from the Churche such as haue fallen, but to wyn them to the Churche by amendmēt.
16 Nowe the very Lorde of peace geue you peace allwayes, by all meanes. The Lorde be with you all.
17 The salutation of me Paul with mine owne hande. This is the token in euery epistle. So I write.
18 *The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

¶ The first Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul, vnto Timothie.

The first Chapter.

1 He exhorteth Timothie to wayte vpon his office, namely to see that nothyng be taught but gods worde. &c. 5 Declaryng that fayth, with a good conscience, charitie, and edification, are the ende therof, 20 and admonisheth of Hymeneus and Alexander.

A I Acte.ix.c.

PAul an Apostle of Jesus Christ, *by the commission of God our sauiour, and Lorde Jesus Christe [whiche is] *our hope,

1 Thes.i.a.

2 Unto *Timothie a natural (a) sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie [and] peace from God our father and Jesus Christe our Lorde.

Acte. xvi.a (a) So called because he followed the simplicitie of the Gospell.

3 As I besought thee to abyde styll in Ephesus, When I departed into *Macedonia [so do] that thou cõmaunde some that they teache no other doctrine:

Actes.xix.a

i.Tim.i.c. Tit.iii.c. i.Tim.iiii.a. 4 Neither geue heede to *fables and endlesse genealogies, whiche breede questions, more then godly edifying which is in fayth.

B 5 But the (b) ende of the commaundement, is loue out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, & of fayth vnfaigned.

(b) Because these questiones preferr their curiosities to edifying, & beauseth them with the law, as if they had known the verye vse of God: S. Paul sheweth, that the ende of Gods lawe is loue, which can not be without a good conscience, neither a good conscience without fayth, nor fayth without the worde of God: so that doctrine which is occasion of contention, is worthy nothyng.

6 From the whiche thynges, some hauyng erred, haue tourned vnto vayne janglyng:

7 Couetyng to be doctours of the lawe, not vnderstandyng what they speake, neither wherof they affirme.

8 ☞ But we knowe that the lawe is good, yf a man vse it lawfully:

9 Knowyng this, *that the lawe is not geuen vnto a ryghteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly and to sinners, to vnholy and vncleane, to murtherers of fathers & murtherers of mothers, to manslears,

Leui.xxi.b. Rom.i.d. 10 To *whoremongers, to them that defyle them selues with mankynde, to manstealers, to lyers, to periured, and yf there be any other thyng that is contrarie to wholsome doctrine:

11 Accordyng to the Gospell of glorie of the blessed God, Whiche is committed vnto me.

C 12 And I thanke Christ Jesus our Lord Whiche hath made me strong: For he counted me faythfull, puttyng [me] into the ministerie, Actes. ix.a. i.Cor xv.b. Galath.i.c.

13 Beyng a blasphemer, *and a persecuter, and an oppressour: But yet I obtayned mercie, because I dyd it (c) ignorauntly in vnbeliefe.

(c) Not knowyng that I fought against God.

14 Neuertheless, the grace of our Lorde Was exceedyng aboundaunt, with fayth and loue, which is in Christe Jesus.

15 ☞ This is a faythfull saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receaued, that *Christe Jesus came into the worlde to saue synners, of whom I am chiefe.

Math.ix.d. Mark.ii.c. Luk. xix.a. Iohn.iii.c.

16 Notwithstandyng, for this cause was mercie shewed vnto me, that in me the first, Jesus Christe myght shewe all long sufferyng, to the example of them which shoulde beleue on hym to lyfe euerlastyng.

D 17 (d) Nowe, vnto the kyng euerlastyng, immortall, inuisible, vnto God onlye wise [be] honour and glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

(d) He breaketh forth into these godly affections, considerynge gods great mercye toward hym.

18 This commaundement commit I vnto thee sonne Timotheus, accordyng to the prophesies which went before vpon thee, that thou in them shouldest fyght a good fyght:

19 Hauyng fayth and good conscience, which some hauyng put awaye as concernyng fayth, haue made shipwracke.

ii.Tim. ii.c.

20 Of whom *is Hymeneus and Alexander, whom I haue (e) delyuered vnto Satan, that they maye learne not to blaspheme.

Mat.xviii.c i.Corin v.a.

(e) Excommunicate, or cast out of the Churche.

¶ The .ij Chapter.

1 He exhorteth to pray for all men, 4 wherfore, 8 and howe. 9 As touchyng the apparell and modestie of women.

A1 I Exhort therefore, that first of all, prayers, supplications, intercessiõs and geuynge of thankes be made for all men:

Iere.xxix.c Baruch.i.c. 2 *For kynges, and for all that are in auctoritie, that We maye leade a quiete and peaceable lyfe, in all godlynesse and honestie.

B 3 For that is good and accepted in the syght of God our sauiour, 4 Who Wyll haue all men to be saued, and to come vnto the knowledge of the trueth.

Ioh.xvii.a. 5 For [there is] *one God, and one mediatour of God and men, the man Christe Jesus:

(a) He sheweth that there can be no mediatour, except he be also the redeemer. 6 who gaue him selfe a (a) raunsome for all, a testimonie in due tymes.

7 Wherevnto I am ordeined a preacher and an apostle (I tell the trueth in Christe, and lye not) a teacher of the gentiles in fayth and veritie.

C 8 I Wyll therefore, that the men *praye euery Where, lyftyng vp holy handes, Without Wrath and reasonyng. Iohn.iiii.c.

9 Lykewyse also the Women, that they araye them selues in comely apparell, With shamefastnesse, and discrete behauiour, not in brayded heere, either golde or pearles, or costly aray:

10 But (that becommeth Women professyng godlynesse) through good Workes.

11 *Let the Woman learne in scilence in all subiection. i.Cor.xiiii.g

D 12 But I suffer not a Woman to teache, neither to vsurpe auctoritie ouer ỹ man, but to be in scilence.

13 For Adam Was first fourmed, then Eue.

14 And Adam Was not deceaued: but the Woman beyng deceaued, Was (b) in the transgression. (b) That is, gyltie of the transgression.

15 Notwithstandyng through bearyng of chyldren she shalbe saued, yf they continue in fayth and loue, and holynesse, With modestie.

¶ The .iij. Chapter.

2 He declareth what is the office of ministers, 11 and as touchyng their families, 15 the dignitie of the Churche, 16 & the principall poynt of the heauenly doctrine,

A1 [This is] a faithful saying: Yf a man desire ỹ office of a bishop, he desireth a good Worke.

2 A bishop therfore must be blamelesse, the husband of one Wyfe, Watchyng, sober, comely apparelled, a louer of hospitalitie, apt to teache,

3 Not geuen to ouermuch Wine, no striker, not greedy of fylthy lucre: but gentle, abhorryng fyghtyng, abhorryng couetousnesse:

4 One that ruleth Well his owne house, hauyng chyldren in subiection, With all grauitie.

B 5 For yf a man knowe not to rule his owne house, howe shall he care for the Churche of God?

(a) Lest, beyng proude of his degree, he be lykewyse condempned, as the deuyll was for lyftyng vp hym selfe by pryde. 6 Not a yong scoler, lest he, beyng puffed vp, (a) fall into the condempnation of the deuyll.

7 He must also haue a good report of thē Which are Without, lest he fall into the rebuke and snare of the deuyll.

Actes.vi.a. 8 Likewise must ỹ ministers be *graue, not double tongued, not geuen to much Wine, neither greedy of fylthy lucre:

(b) Hauyng the true doctrine of ỹ Gospell and the feare of God. 9 (b) Holdyng the misterie of the fayth in a pure conscience.

10 And let them first be proued, then let them minister, beyng blameles. C

11 Euen so must their Wyues be graue, not cuyll speakers, sober, faythfull in all thynges.

12 Let the deacons be the husbandes of one Wife, and such as can rule their chyldren Well, and their owne housholdes.

Mat.xxv.b. 13 *For they that haue ministred Well, get them selues a good degree, and great libertie in the fayth [whiche is] in Christe Jesus.

14 These thynges Write I vnto thee, hopyng to come shortly vnto thee:

D 15 But yf I tary long, that thou mayest knowe howe thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, Whiche is the Church of the lyuyng God, the pyller and ler and grounde of trueth.

16 And without doubt, great is that misterie of godlynesse: *God was shewed in the flesshe, was iustified in the spirite, was seene among the angels, was preached vnto the gentiles, was beleued on in the worlde, and was receaued vp in glorie.

*Iohn.i.b.

¶ The. iiij. Chapter.

2 He teacheth hym what doctrine he ought to flee, 6. 8. 11. and what to folowe. 15 and wherin he ought to exercise hym selfe continually.

A 1 NOwe the spirite speaketh euidently, that *in the latter tymes some shall *depart from the fayth, geuing heede vnto spirites of errour, & doctrines of deuyls,

*Actes.xx.f. *ii.Tim.iii.a. *ii.Pet.ii.a. *Iude i.c.c. *ii.Thess.ii.a

2 Which speake false in hypocrisie, hauyng their (a) conscience seared with an hotte iron:

(a) These dul consciences, firste wared harde: then after, cancker and corrupte bread therein: last of all, it was burnt of with an hotte iron, so that he meaneth such as haue no conscience.

3 Forbidding to marrie [& commaunding] to abstayne from meates Whiche God hath created to be receaued with geuing thankes, of them Whiche beleue, and knowe the trueth.

4 For *euery creature of God [is] good, and nothyng to be refused, yf it be receaued with thankes geuyng.

*Ephe.4. *Gene.i.d. *Rom.xxiiic *Titus.i.d.

5 For it is sanctified by the worde of God and prayer.

B 6 If thou put the brethren in remembraunce of these thynges, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, *which hast ben norysshed vp in the wordes of fayth and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually folowed.

*ii.Tim.iii.d.

7 But *cast away prophane & old wiues fables: Exercise thy selfe rather vnto godlynesse.

*i.Tim.i.a. *Titus.iii.c.

8 For *bodyly exercise profiteth litle: but godlinesse is profitable vnto all thynges, C hauing promise of the lyfe that is nowe, and of that which is to come.

*Colossi.ii.d.

9 [This is] a sure saying, & by all meanes worthy to be receaued.

10 For therfore We both labour, and suffer rebuke, because We haue hoped in the lyuyng God, Whiche is the sauiour of all men, specially of those that beleue.

11 These thynges commaunde & teache.

12 *Let no man despise thy youth: *but be thou a paterne of the beleuers, in worde, in conuersation, in loue, in spirite, in fayth, in chastitie.

*Titus.ii.c. *i.Pet.v.a.

13 Tyll I come geue attendaunce to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine. D

14 Despise not the gyfte that is in thee, which was geuen thee (b) through prophesie, with the *laying on of handes by the auctoritie of the eldership.

(b) And reuelation of the holy ghost. *Actes.vi.b.

15 Haue a care of these thinges, and geue thy selfe vnto them, that it may be seene howe thou profitest in all thynges.

16 Take heede vnto thy selfe, and vnto doctrine, and continue therein: For in doyng this, thou shalt both (c) saue thy selfe, and them that heare thee.

(c) Thou shalt faythfully do thy ductie, which is an assuraunce of thy saluation.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

1 He teacheth hym howe he shall behaue hym selfe in rebukyng all degrees, 3 an order concernyng wyddowes, 17 The establyshyng of ministers, 23 the gouernaunce of his body, 24 and the iudgement of sinnes.

A 1 REbuke not an elder,* but exhort him as a father, the younger men as brethren,

*Leui.xix.d.

2 The elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters, in all chastitie.

3 Honour wydowes, Whiche are wydowes in deede.

4 But yf any wydowe haue chyldren or nephewes, let them learne first to rule their owne houses godly, and to recompence also their elder kynsefolkes: for that is good and acceptable before God.

*Eccles.xii. b.

5 And she that is a wydowe (a) in deede, and left alone, hopeth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers nyght and day.

Luke.ii f. (a) Whiche hath no maner of worldly meanes to helpe her selfe with.

6 But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead beyng alyue.

7 And these thynges commaunde, that they may be blamelesse. B

8 But if any prouide not for his owne, and specially for them of his housholde, he hath denyed the fayth, and is worse then an infidell.

9 Let not a wydowe be chosen vnder three score yeres olde, hauyng ben the wyfe of one man.

10 And well reported of in good workes, yf she haue brought vp children, *yf she haue lodged straungers, yf she haue washed the saintes feete, yf she haue ministred vnto them that were in aduersitie, yf she haue ben continually geuen to euery good worke. Gene.ix.a. Actes.x.c. i.Pet.iii.b.

11 But the yonger wydowes refuse: For whē they haue begun to ware wanton agaynst Christe, they will marrie:

12 Hauyng dampnation, because they haue cast away their first fayth. ℭ

13 They learne to wander about from house to house idle: yea not idle only, but also tatlers and busybodies, speakyng thynges which are not comely.

14 I will therefore that the yonger women do *marrie, to beare children, to guyde the house, to geue none occasion to ỹ aduersarie to speake slaunderously. i.Cor. vii.b.

15 For certaine of them are alredy turned backe after Satan.

16 Yf any man or woman that beleueth haue wydowes, let them susteine them, & let not the Churches be charged, that there maye be sufficient for them that are wydowes in deede.

17 The elders that rule well are worthy of double honour, most specially they which labour in the worde & teachyng.

18 For the scripture sayth: *Thou shalt not moosel the ore that treadeth out the corne: And, *the labourer is worthy of his reward. Deu.xxv.b Math.x.b.

19 Agaynst an elder receaue none accusation, but *vnder two or three witnesses. Dent.xix.d

20 Them that sinne, rebuke before all, that other also may feare.

21 I testifie before God, and the Lorde Jesus Christe, and the elect angels, that thou obserue these thinges without hastynesse of iudgement, and do nothyng after partialitie. D

22 *Lay handes sodenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens sinnes. Kepe thy selfe chaste. Nu.xxvii.d Act. vi.b. ii.Tim.i.b.

23 Drinke no longer water, but *vse a litle wine for thy stomackes sake & thine often diseases. Eccle.xi.d.

24 Some mens sinnes are open before hande, hastyng before vnto iudgement, and in some (b) they folowe after.

25 Lykewise also, good workes are manifest before hande, and they that are otherwyse can not be hyd.

(b) Theyr synnes folow, whiche for a tyme haue deceaued & godly, and after are detected, as Saul, Iudas, & other hypocrites.

¶ The .vj. Chapter.

1 The duetie of seruauntes towarde their maisters. 3 Agaynst such as are not satisfied with the worde of God. 6 Of true godlynesse and contentation of mynde. 9 Agaynst couetousnesse. 11 A charge geuen to Timothie.

1 LEt as many *seruauntes as are vnder the yoke, count their maisters worthy of all honour, that the name of god and his doctrine be not blasphemed. All i.Cor.xii.c. Ephe.vi.a. Colos.iii.d.

2 And they whiche haue beleuyng maisters, despise them not because they are brethren: but rather do seruice, forasmuch as they are beleuyng and beloued and partakers of the (a) benefite. These thynges teache and exhort. (a) That is, of the grace of God. Galath.i.a.

3 *Yf any man teache otherwyse, and consenteth not vnto the wholsome wordes of our Lorde Jesus Christe, and to the doctrine whiche is accordyng to godlynesse:

4 He is puft vp, knowyng nothing, but dotyng about questions and *strifes of wordes, wherof commeth enuie, stryfe, raylynges, euyll surmysynges, i.Tim.i.a. Titus.iii.c.

5 Vayne disputations of men of corrupte myndes, destitute of the trueth, thynkyng lucre to be godlynesse. From suche be thou separate.

6 Godlynesse is great lucre, *if a man be content with that he hath. Eccl.xxix.d Hebr.xiii.a

7 For we brought nothyng into the worlde, and it is certayne that we may carry nought away. Iob.i.d. Eccle.v.c.

8 But hauyng foode and rayment, we must therwith be content.

9 For they that (b) wyll be riche, fall into temptations and snares, and into many foolishe & noysome lustes, which drowne men in perdition and destruction. (b) That set their felicite in richesse.

10 For loue of money, is the roote of all euyll, whiche whyle some lusted after, ℭ they erred from the fayth, & (c) pearced thē selues through with many sorowes. (c) For they are neuer quiet, neither in soule nor body

11 But thou O man of God, flee these thynges, and folow after righteousnes, godlynes, faith, loue, patience, meekenes.

12 Fight the good fight of faith, lay hand on eternall lyfe, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

I geue

13 I geue thee charge in the sight of God, Act.xvii.c. *who quickeneth all thynges, and before Jesus Christe, which vnder Pontius Pilate witnessed a good profession,
14 That thou kepe the commaundement without spot, vnrebukeable, vntyll the appearyng of our Lorde Jesus Christ:
15 *which in his tymes he shall shewe that is blessed and prince only, (b) the kyng of kynges, and Lorde of Lordes,
16 who only hath immortalitie, dwelling in the light that no man can attayne vnto, *whom no man hath seene, neither can see, vnto whom be honour & power euerlastyng. Amen.
17 Charge them which are riche (c) in this world, that they be not hie minded, nor *trust in vncertayne riches: but in ỹ lyuyng God, which geueth vs aboundantly all thinges to enioy: Math.v..c. Luk.xii.d. Eccle.29.b.
18 That they do good, that they be riche in good workes, that they be redye to geue, glad to distribute:
19 *Laying vp in store for them selues a good foundation agaynst the tyme to come, that they may lay holde on eternall lyfe. Math.vi.c.
20 O Timotheus, saue (f) that which is geuen thee to kepe, auoydyng prophane [and] vayne babblynges, and (g) oppositions of science, falsly so called:
21 which some professyng, haue erred concernyng the fayth. Grace [be] with thee. Amen.

Apoc.xvii.c (b) By this mighty power of God, the faythfull are admonished boldely to stande in their vocation, although the world, Satan and hell, rage agaynst them.

(c) In thynges pertaynyng this life

(f) The giftes of God, for the vtilitie of ỹ Churche.

(g) As when question, engendreth question.

The seconde Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul, to Timothie.

¶ The first Chapter.

¶ 6 Paul exhorteth Timotheus to stedfastnesse and patience in persecution, and to continue in the doctrine that he had taught hym, 12 wherof his bondes & afflictions were a gage. 16 A commendation of Onesiphorus.

1 PAul an Apostle of Jesus Christe by the wyll of God, (a) accordyng to the promise of lyfe, which is in Christ Jesus,
2 To Timothie a beloued sonne: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the father, and Christe Jesus our Lorde.
3 I thanke God *whom I worshippe from [my] forefathers in pure conscience, that without ceassyng I haue remembraũce of thee in my prayers night & day Act.xxii.a. Rom.i.a. Philip.iii.a
4 Desiryng to see thee, myndefull of thy teares: that I may be fylled with ioy.
5 When I call to remembraunce the vnfaigned fayth that is in thee, whiche dwelt first in thy graundmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunica: and I am assured that [it dwelleth] in thee also.
6 Wherfore I put thee in remẽbraunce that thou (b) stirre vp the gyft of God, which is in thee *by the puttyng on of my handes.
7 *For God hath not geuen to vs the spirite of feare: but of power, and of loue, and of a sounde mynde.
8 *Be not thou therfore ashamed of the testimonie of our Lorde, neither of me his prisoner: but suffer thou aduersitie with the Gospell, accordyng to the power of God, Rom.i.b. Ephe.iii.a.
9 who hath* saued vs, & called vs With an holy callyng, not accordyng to our workes: but accordyng to his owne purpose and grace, which was geuen vs in Christe Jesus, before the world began: Titus.iii.b. Ephe.i.a.

6 But one in a certayne place witnessed, saying: *what is man, that thou arte myndeful of hym: Or the sonne of man, that thou wouldest loke vpon hym:

Psal.viii.a.

B 7 Thou madest hym for a litle whyle lower then the Angels, thou hast crowned him with (c) glorie and honour, and *hast set hym aboue the workes of thy handes. (c) In making hym to lowe degre vnto Christe. Psal.viii.b. i Cor.xv.d.

8 Thou hast put all thynges in subiectiō vnder his feete. In ỳ he put all thinges vnder hym, he left nothyng that is not put vnder hym. But nowe, we see not yet all thynges put vnder hym.

9 But hym that [for a whyle] was made lesse then the Angels, we see [that it was] Jesus, who through the suffering of death, was crowned with glorie and honour, that he by the grace of God, shoulde taste of death for all.

10 For it became hym, for whom are all thynges, and by whom are all thynges, after he had brought many sonnes vnto glorie, that he shoulde make the captayne of their saluation perfect through afflictions. ℂ

11 For both he that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified, [are] all of one. For which cause, he is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying: I wyll declare thy name vnto my *brethren, in the myddes of the Churche wyll I prayse thee. Psal.xxii.e. Iohn.xx.d.

13 And agayne: I wyll put my trust in hym.

hym. And agayne: Beholde here am I, and the chyldren Whiche God hath geuen me.

D 14 Forasmuch then as the chyldren are partakers of flesshe and blood, he also hym selfe lykewyse toke part with thē, that through death he myght expell hym that had lordshyp ouer death, that is the deuyll:

15 And that he myght delyuer them, which through feare of death, were all their lyfe tyme in daunger of bondage.

16 For he in no place taketh on hym the (c) Angels: but the seede of Abraham taketh he on hym.

(c) Not the nature of angels, but of men.

17 Wherfore, in all thinges it became hym to be made lyke vnto his brethren, that he myght be mercyfull, and a faythfull hye preest in thynges concernyng God, for to purge the peoples sinnes.

18 For in that he hym selfe suffered and was tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

¶ The .iij. Chapter.

1 He requireth them to be obedient vnto the worde of Christe, 3 who is more worthy then Moyses. 12 The punishment of such as wyll harden their heartes, and not beleue, that they myght haue eternall rest.

A 1 Wherfore holy brethren, partakers of the celestiall callyng, (a) consider the apostle and hye preest of our profession Christe Jesus,

(a) Take heede to his woldes, and feare hym.

2 Beyng faythfull to hym that appoynted hym, as also [was] Moyses in all his house.

3 For this [man] is counted worthy of more glorie then Moyses, inasmuch as he Which hath buylded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is buylded of some man: But he that buylded all thynges, is God.

5 And Moyses veryly [was] faythfull in al his house, as a minister, for a Witnesse of those thynges whiche were to be spoken after:

B 6 But Christe as a sonne [hath rule] ouer his owne house, whose (b) house are we, yf we holde fast the confidence and *the reioycyng of that hope vnto the ende.

(b) For in beyng the sonne, we are made y house of God. Rom.v.a.

7 Wherfore, as the holy ghost saith: To day yf ye wyll heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your heartes, as in the prouokyng, in the day of the temptation in the wylderneſſe,

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued me, and sawe my workes .xl. yeres.

10 Wherfore I was greeued with that C generation, and sayde: they do alway erre in heart, they veryly haue not knowen my wayes.

11 So that I ware in my wrath, (c) yf they shall enter into my rest.

(c) Here note the Hebrewe phrase, meanyng that they shal not enter

12 Take heede brethren, lest at any tyme there be in you an euyll heart of vnbeliefe, to depart from the lyuyng God:

13 But exhort ye one another dayly, whyle it is called to day, lest any of you be hardened, through the deceytfulnesse of sinne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christe, D yf we kepe sure vnto the (d) ende the begynnyng of the substaunce, (d) which is, by faythe to imbrace and holde fast the true doctrine of Jesus Christe.

15 So long as it is said: to day yf ye wyll heare his voyce, harden not your heartes, as in the prouokyng.

16 For some when they had hearde, dyd prouoke: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moyses.

17 But with whom was he displeased fourtie yeres? Not with them that had sinned, whose carkases fell in the desert?

18 And to whō ware he that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that were not obedient?

19 And we see that they coulde not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

The. iiij. Chapter.

2 The worde without faythe is vnprofitable. 3 The Sabboth or rest of the Christians. 6 Punishment of vnbeleuers. 12 The nature of the worde of God.

A 1 Let vs feare therfore, lest at any tyme, by forsakyng the promise of entryng into his reste, any of you shoulde be defrauded.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospell preached, aswell as vnto them: But the worde whiche they hearde dyd not profite them, not beyng coupled with faythe to them that hearde.

3 For we which haue beleued, do enter
(a) Although that God by his rest after the creation of his workes, signified the spirituall reste of ỹ faythfull: yet he sware to geue rest in Chanaan, whiche was but a figure of the heauenlye rest, & dured but for a time. Gene.ii.a.
into his rest, as he sayde: Euen as I haue sworne in my wrath, if (a) they shal enter into my rest. Although the workes were made perfecte from the foundation of the worlde.

4 For he spake in a certayne place of the seuenth daye on this wyse: *And God dyd rest the seuenth daye from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe: yf they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seing therfore it followeth, that some must enter there into, and they to whō the Gospell was first preached entred not therin for vnbeliefe.

7 Againe, he appoynteth a certaine day, by to day, saying in Dauid after so long a tyme (as it is sayde:) To day yf ye wyl heare his voyce, harde not your hearts.

(b) By Jesus, is meant Josua.
8 For yf (b) Jesus had geuen them reste, then would he not afterwarde haue spoken of another day.

9 There remayneth therfore yet a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entred into his rest, hath ceassed also from his owne workes, as God [dyd] from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into ℭ that rest, lest any man fall after the same ensample of disobedience.

12 For the worde of God is quicke, and myghtie in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, and entreth thorowe, euen vnto the deuydyng a sunder of the (c) soule & the (d) spirite, and of the ioyntes & the marie, and is a discerner of the thoughtes and of the intentes of the heart:
(c) where the affectiõs are.
(d) which cõsenteth wyll and reason.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in the syght of hym: But all thinges are naked and open vnto the eyes of hym of whom we speake.

14 Seyng then that we haue a great hye priest, Which is entred into heauens, Jesus the sonne of God, let vs holde faste the confession.

15 For we haue not an hye priest whiche 𝔇 can not be touched with the feelyng of our infirmities: but *was in all poyntes tempted lyke as we are, and [yet] without sinne.
Phil.ii.a.

16 Let vs therfore come boldly vnto the *throne of grace, that we may obteyne mercie, and fynde grace to helpe in time of neede.
Exo.xxv.b

The. v. Chapter.

5 He compareth Jesus Christe with the Leuiticall priestes, shewyng wherein they eyther agree or dissent. 11 Afterwarde he reproueth the negligence of the Jewes.

1 For euery hye priest taken from among men, is ordeined for men, in thinges perteynyng to God, *to offer (a) gyftes & sacrifices for sinne:
Leuit.ix.b.
(a) He sheweth that man can haue none accesse to god, without an hye priest, because that of hym selfe, he is prophane & synfull.

2 which can sufficiently haue compassion on the ignoraunt, & on them that erre out of the waye, forasmuche as he hym selfe also is compassed with infirmitie.

3 And for ỹ same [infirmitie] he is bounde to offer for sinnes, aswell for hym selfe, as for the people.

4 And no man taketh the honour vnto hym selfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 Euen so, Christ also glorified not hym selfe to be made ỹ hye priest: but he that sayde vnto hym, *thou art my sonne, to day haue I begotten thee [gaue it hym.]
Psal.ii.b. Actes.xiii.c

6 As he saith also in another place: *thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.
Hebr.i.b. Psal.cx.b.

7 Which in the dayes of his flesh, When he had offered vp prayers and supplications with (b) strong crying and teares, vnto hym that was able to saue hym from death, and was heard in (c) that which he feared:
(b) He meaneth ỹ moste earnest prayer which Christ prayed in the gardē, where he swet dropes of blood.
(c) Beyng in perplexitie, & fearyng the horrors of death.

8 Though he were the sonne, yet learned he obedience, by these thinges which he suffred:

9 And being perfect, was made the auc- ℭ thour of eternall saluation vnto al them that obey hym:

10 And is called of God an hye priest after the order of Melchisedech.

11 Of whom we haue many thynges to say, and harde to be vttered, seing ye are dull of hearyng.

12 For when as concernyng the tyme, ye 𝔇 ought to be teachers, yet haue ye nede againe that we teache you the first principles of the begynnyng of the worde of God, and are become such as haue nede of *mylke, and not of strong meate.
i.Cor.iii.a.

13 For euery one that vseth mylke, is vnexpert of the worde of righteousnes, for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are perfecte, euen those whiche by reason of vse, haue their wittes exercised to discerne both good and euyll.

¶ The .vj. Chapter.

1 He proceadeth in reprouyng them, and exhorteth them not to faynt, 12 but to be stedfast and pacient, 18 forasmuch as God is sure in his promise.

A 1 Therefore leauyng the doctrine of the begynnyng (a) of Christe, let vs go forth vnto perfection, not layng agayne the foundatiō of repentaunce from dead workes, and of fayth towarde God,

(a) whereby it may apeare that you are fully persuaded of lyfe euerlastyng.

2 Of the doctrine of baptismes, and of layng on of handes, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternall iudgement.

Actes.iiii.b. 3 And this wyll I do, *yf God permit.

And.xviii.c. 4 For it can not be that they which were once lighted, and haue tasted of the heauenly gyft, and were become partakers of the holy ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good worde of God, and the powers of the worlde to come:

Math.xii.d. 6 *And they fall away, shoulde be renued agayne into repentaunce, hauyng crucified to thē selues the sonne of God a fresshe, and made a mocke of hym.

B 7 For the earth which drynketh in the rayne that commeth oft vppon it, and bringeth forth hearbes meete for them by whom also it is dressed, receaueth blessyng of God:

8 But that grounde whiche beareth thornes and bryers, is reproued, and is nye vnto cursyng, whose ende is to be burned.

9 Neuertheless, deare frendes, we haue perswaded our selues better thynges of you, and thynges whiche accompanie saluation, though we thus speake.

Deut.xxv.c. 10 For God is not vnryghteous, *to forget your worke & labour of loue, whiche ye haue shewed towarde his name, hauyng ministred to the saintes, and [do] minister.

11 Yea and we desire that euery one of C you do shewe the same diligence, to the full assuraunce of hope, vnto the ende, 12 That ye faynt not, but be followers of (b) them which through fayth and pacience inherite the promises.

(b) As the holy fathers, prophetes and martirs, that were before vs.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, because he had no greater to sweare by, *he sware by hym selfe, Gene. xii.c.

14 Saying: Surely, blessyng I wyll blesse thee, and multiplyng, multiplie thee.

15 And so after that he had taryed pacientely, he enioyed the promise.

16 For men verely sweare by the greater, and *an oth for confirmation, is to them an ende of all stryfe. Exo.xxii.a.

17 Wherein God Wyllyng very (c) abounD dauntly to shewe vnto the heires of promise, the stablenesse of his counsayle, confirmed by an oth:

(c) Because of mans wickednes, whiche wyll not beleue God, excepte he sweare.

18 That by (d) two immutable thynges, in whiche it was vnpossible for God to lye, we myght haue a strong consolation, which haue fledde to holde fast the hope layde before vs:

(d) Goddes worde & oth, are two thynges in him vnchaungeable.

19 Which [hope] we holde as an ancker of the soule both sure and stedfast, and entryng in, into that thing Which is within the vayle:

20 Whyther the forerunner is for vs entred [euen] Iesus, after the order of Melchisedech made *a priest for euer. Hebr.viii.a.

¶ The .vij Chapter.

1 He compareth the priesthood of Christe vnto Melchisedech, 11 also Christes priesthood with the Leuites.

A 1 For this Melchisedech kyng of *Salem, priest of the most hye God, Who met Abraham returnyng from the slaughter of the kynges, and blessed hym: Gen.xiiii.d.

2 To whom also Abraham gaue tythe of all thynges, first being called by interpretatiō kyng of righteousnes, & after ý also, also, kyng of Salem, which is, kyng of peace.

(a) So called, because that Moyses maketh no mentiō of his parentes or kynsfolkes, but as he had ben sodenly sent of God into ꝑ world. to be a figure of Christe, or euerlastynge preist, & shortly taken out of the worlde again: So Christe as touchyng his humanitie had no father, & concernyng his diuinitie no mother.

3 Without (a) father, without mother, without kynne, hauyng neither beginnyng of dayes, neither ende of lyfe, but lykened vnto the sonne of God, and continueth a preist for euer.

4 Nowe consider howe great this [man] was, vnto whom also the patriarche Abraham gaue tythe of the spoyles.

5 And verely *they which are of the children of Leuie, which receaue the office of the priesthood, haue a commaundement to take tythe of the people accordyng to the lawe, that is, of their brethren, though they came out of ꝑ loynes of Abraham.

6 But he whose kynrede is not counted among them, receaued tythe of Abraham, and blessed hym that had the promises.

7 And without all controuersie, the lesse is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that dye, receaue tithes: but there he [receaueth them] of whom it is witnessed that he lyueth.

9 And to say the trueth, Leuie also whiche receaueth tythes, payed tythes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father, when Melchisedech met Abraham.

Rom.ii.c. Galat.iii.c.

11 *If therefore perfection was by the priesthood of ꝑ Leuites (For vnder that priesthood the people receaued the lawe) what neded it furthermore that another preist shoulde rise after the order of Melchisedech, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For yf the priesthood be translated, of necessitie also there is made a translation of the lawe.

13 For he of whom these thynges are spoken, parteyneth vnto another tribe, of which no man stoode at the aulter.

Math.i.a.

14 For it is euident that our Lord sprong* out of Juda, of which tribe spake Moyses nothyng concernyng priesthood:

15 And it is yet a farre more euidēt thing, yf after the similitude of Melchisedech there aryse another preist,

16 Which is not made after the lawe of the carnall commaundement, but after the power of the endlesse lyfe:

Pfal.cx.b. Hebr.iii.c.

17 For he testifieth *that thou art a preist for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

18 For there is truely a disanulling of the commaundement goyng before, for the weakenesse and vnprofitablenesse therof.

Rom.viii.a. Galath.iii.c.

19 For the *lawe made nothyng perfect, but [was] the bryngyng in of a better hope, by the whiche we drawe nygh vnto God.

20 And in as much as that was not without an oth (For those preistes were made without an oth:

21 But this preist with an oth, by hym that saide vnto him: The Lord *sware and will not repent, thou art a preist for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.)

Pfal. cx.a.

22 By so much was Jesus made a suertie of a better testament.

23 And among them many were made preistes, because they were forbidden by death to endure.

24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath an (b) vnchaungeable priesthood.

(b) Therfore all others are blasphemous, that eyther make them selues his successours, or pretende any other sacrifice i.Tim.ii.a. i.Iohn.ii.b.

25 Wherefore he is able also euer to saue them to the vttermost that come vnto God by hym, seyng he euer lyueth *to make intercession for them.

26 For such an hye preist became vs, whiche [is] holy, harmeles, vndefyled, seperate from sinners, and made hygher then heauens:

27 Whiche needeth not dayly, as those hie preistes, *to offer vp sacrifice, first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for that dyd he once, When he offered vp hym selfe.

Leuit.ix.b.

28 *For the lawe maketh men hye preistes which haue infirmitie: but the worde of the oth which (was) after the lawe (maketh) the sonne, whiche is perfecte for euermore.

The .viij. Chapter.

6 He proueth the abolishyng aswell of the Leuiticall priesthood, as of the olde couenaunt, by the spirituall and euerlastyng priesthood of Christe, 8 and by the newe couenaunt.

A Now of the thinges whiche we haue spoken, [this is] ỳ summe: * we haue such an hye priest that sitteth on ỳ ryght hand of ỳ throne of the maiestie in the heauēs, Hebr.vi.d. and.x.c.

2 A minister of holy thynges, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pight, and not man.

3 For euery hye priest is ordeyned to offer gyftes and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessitie, that this man haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a priest, yf he were on the earth, seyng there are priestes that accordyng to the lawe offer gyftes, Coloss. ii.c. 5 Hebr.x.a. who serue vnto the example and * shadowe of heaueuly thinges, as Moyses was admonished of God, when he was about to finishe the tabernacle: * For see, saith he, that thou make all thynges accordyng to the patterne shewed to thee in the mount.

Exo.xxv.d. Actes.vii.f.

6 But nowe hath he obteyned a more B excellent office, by howe much also he is the mediatour of a better couenaunt, whiche was confirmed in better promises.

7 For yf that first [couenaunt] had ben founde faultlesse, then shoulde no place haue ben sought for the seconde.

8 For in rebukyng them, he saith: * Beholde the dayes (a) come, saith the Lord, and I wyll finishe vppon the house of Israel and vppon the house (b) of Juda a newe couenaunt:

Iere.xxxi.f.

C

(a) That is, when Christe shal remit our sinnes by the preachyng of the Gospell.

(b) Signifyeng that there shoulde be no more diuisiō: but all shall be made one Churche.

9 Not lyke that that I made with their fathers, in the day when I toke them by the hande, to leade them out of the lande of Egypt: because they continued not in my couenaunt, and I regarded them not, saith the Lorde.

10 For this is the couenaunt that I wyll make with the house of Israel after those dayes, saith the Lord, geuyng my lawes into their mynde, and in their heart I wyl write them, and I wyll be to them a God, and they shalbe to me a people.

D

11 And they shall not (c) teach euery man his neyghbour, and euery man his brother, saying, knowe the Lorde: for all shall knowe me, from the litle of them to the great of them.

(c) When shal not in ỳ tyme of the Gospell be so ignorant as they were before: but shall knowe God muche more perfectly through Christe.

12 For I wyll be mercyfull to their vnrighteousnes, and their sinnes and their iniquities wyll I thynke vpon no more.

13 In that he sayth a newe [couenaunt] he hath worne out the first: For that which is worne out and waxed olde, is redie to vanishe away.

The .ix. Chapter.

1 Howe that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the lawe are abolished, 11 by the eternitie and perfection of Christes sacrifice.

A 1 The first couenaunt then had verylye iustifiyng ordinaunces, seruinges of God, and worldlye holynesse.

☞ For * there was a fore tabernacle made, wherein was the lyght, and the table, and the shewe bread, whiche is called holy.

Exo. xxv.b 2

(a) That is, in the inward part of the veyle, which was hyd frō the people. 3 But after the (a) seconde vayle [was] a tabernacle, which is called holyest of al:

4 which had the golden censer, and the arke of the couenaunt ouerlaide rounde about with golde, wherin was the golden pot hauyng * Manna, and * Aarons rodde that had budded, and * the tables of the couenaunt:

Exo.xvi.g. Leui.xvii.a Exod.xl.c.

5 And ouer it, the Cherubins of glorie, shadowyng the mercie seate: Of which thynges we can not nowe speake particularlie. B

6 When these thynges were thus ordeyned, the priestes went alwayes into the first tabernacle, accomplishyng the seruice of God.

7 But into ỳ seconde (went) the hye priest alone * once euery yere, not without blood, * which he offered for hym selfe, & for the ignorauncies of the people.

Exo.xxx.b Leui. xvi.b.

C

(b) So long as the hye priest offered once a yere for his owne sinnes and for ỳ peoples, so also whyle this earthly tabernacle stoode, ỳ way to ỳ heauenly tabernacle, whiche is made open by Christs blood could not be entred into.

8 The holy ghost this signifiyng, that the (b) waye of holy thinges was not yet opened, whyle as yet the first tabernacle was standyng:

9 whiche (was) a similitude for the tyme then present, in which were offred gyftes and sacrifices, that coulde not make the worshipper perfect as parteining to the conscience, 10 With only meates and drynkes, and diuers washynges, and iustifiynges of the flesshe, which were layde vp vntyll the tyme of reformation.

Hebr.vi.d. D 11 ☞ But *Christe beyng come an hye priest of good thynges that shoulde be, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with handes, that is to say, not of this buyldyng,

12 Neither by the blood of Goates and Calues: but by* his owne blood he entred in once into the holy place, & founde eternall redemption. ☜

i.Pet.i. b.

Leui. xvi.c. (a) The Leuitical priests offred beastes blood: But Christ ϸ true and eternall priest offred his own blood

13 For if the (a) blood of Oxen & of Goates, and the asshes of a young Cowe, sprynklyng the vncleane, sanctifieth to the purifiyng of the flesshe:

14 Howe much more the blood of Christe, which thorough the eternall spirite offered hym selfe without spot to God, shall purge your conscience frō dead workes, to serue the lyuyng God:

wchiche was most holy and pure. The Leuitical priestes offred perely, and therefore did only represent the true holynesse: but Christ by one onlye sacrifice hath made holy for euer thē that beleue. i. Tim.ii.a.

15 And for this cause is he the* mediatour of the newe couenaunt, that thorough death, which was for the redemption of the transgressions [that were] vnder the first couenaunt, they whiche are called myght receaue the promise of eternall inheritaunce. ☜

E 16 For where as is a testament, there must also of necessitie be the death of him that maketh it.

17 For a testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no value, as long as he that maketh the testamēt is alyue.

18 For which cause also, neither the firste [testament] was dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moyses had spoken euery precept to all the people according to the lawe, takyng the blood of Calues and of Goates, with water & purple woll and ysope, he sprynkled both the booke it selfe, and all the people, 20 Saying: *This [is] the blood of the testament, whiche God hath enioyned vnto you. Exod. 24.b.

F 21 And lykewise he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministerie.

22 And almost all thynges are by ϸ lawe pourged with blood, and without sheddyng of blood is no remission.

23 It is neede then that the paterne of heauenly thynges, be purified with such thynges: but the heauenly thynges thē selues (be purified) with better sacrifices then are those.

24 For Christe is not entred into the holy places made with handes (which are) paternes of true thynges: but into heauen G it selfe, nowe to appeare in the syght of God for vs. Actes xvi.e 1.Iohn.ii.a

25 Not that he shoulde offer him selfe often, as the hye priest entreth into the holy places euery yere in straūge blood: (b) (b) Therfore to make anye other offryng or sacrifice for synne, after that Christes body was once offred, is blasphemie.

26 (For then must he haue often suffred sence the foundation of the worlde) But nowe once in the ende of the world hath he appeared, to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of hym selfe.

27 And as it is appoynted vnto men once to dye, and after this the iudgement:

28 *Euen so, Christe once offered to take away the sinnes of many, the seconde time shalbe seene without sinne, of them which wayte for hym vnto saluation. Rom.v.b. 1.Pet.iii.d.

¶ The .x. Chapter.

1 The olde lawe had no power to clense away sinne, 10 but Christe dyd it with offeryng of his body once for all. 22 And exhortation to receaue the goodnesse of God thankfully, with pacience and stedfast fayth.

A I Coloss.ii. c. Hebr.viii.a. (a) Whiche was as it were ϸ first draught and purtraict of the lyuely paterne to come.

For the lawe, hauyng the (a) shadow of good thynges to come, and not the very fashion of the thinges thē selues, can neuer with those sacrifices whiche they offer yere by yere continually, make the commers therevnto perfect.

2 For would not then those [sacrifices] haue ceassed to haue ben offred, because that the offerers once pourged, shoulde haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

3 Neuertheles, in those (sacrifices) is mention made of sinnes euery yere.

4 *For it is not possible that the blood of Bulles & of Goates shoulde take away sinnes. Leuit. xvi.d

8 Aboue when he saith, that sacrifice, and offeryng, and burnt offeringes, and sinne [offerynges] thou wouldest not, neither haddest pleasure [therein] (Which are offered by the lawe:)
C 9 Then sayde he, lo I come, to do thy Wyll, O God. He taketh away ỳ first (b) to stablyshe the (c) seconde.
10 In ỳ Which Wyll we are made holy, euen by the offeryng of the body of Jesus Christe once for all.
11 And euery priest standeth dayly ministryng, & offeryng oftentymes the same sacrifices, Whiche can neuer take away sinnes.
12 But this man, after he hath offered one sacrifice for sinnes, is sit downe for euer *on the ryght hande of God:
13 From hencefoorth tarying tyl his foes be made his footstoole.
14 For With one offeryng hath he made perfite for euer them that are sanctified.
15 And the holy ghost also beareth vs record: For after that he tolde before,
16 This is the couenaunt that I Wyll make vnto them after those dayes, (sayth the Lorde) geuyng my lawes in their heart, and in their myndes Wyl I Write them:
17 And their sinnes and iniquities Wyll I remember no more.
18 And where remission of these thinges [is] there [is] no more offering for sinne.
D 19 Hauyng therefore brethren, libertie to enter into holy [places] in the (b) blood of Jesus, 20 By the new and (c) lyuing way, Which he hath prepared for vs through the vayle, that is to say his flesshe:
21 And [seyng we haue] an hye priest ouer the house of God:
22 Let vs drawe nye With a true hearte, in assuraunce of fayth, sprinkeled in our heartes from an euyll conscience, and washed in body With pure water.
23 Let vs holde the profession of the hope without Wauerynge, (for he is faythfull that promised:)
24 And let vs consider one another to prouoke vnto loue and good workes,
25 Not forsakyng the assemblyng of our selues together, as the maner of some [is] but exhortyng one (another) and so much the more, as ye see the day approchyng. E
26 *For yf We sinne Wyllyngly after that We haue receaued the knowledge of the trueth, there remayneth no more sacrifice for sinnes: Math.xii.d. Hebr.vi.a. ii.Pet.ii. d.
27 But a fearefull lokyng for of iudgement, and violent fire, Whiche shall deuour the aduersaries.
28 He that despiseth Moyses lawe, dyeth Without mercie *vnder two or thre Witnesses: Deut.xix.d Mat. xviii.c ii.Cor.xiii.a
29 Of howe muche sorer punyshement (suppose ye) shall he be worthy, Whiche treadeth vnder foote the soune of God: and counteth the blood of the couenaũt Wherein he was sanctified, an vnholye thyng, and doth despite to the spirite of grace:
30 For We knowe hym that hath sayde, *vengeaunce [belongeth] vnto me, I Wyl render saith the Lorde: And agayne, the Lorde shall iudge his people. F Deut.xx. d. Psal xciii.a Rom.xii. d.
31 It is a fearefull thyng to fall into the handes of the lyuyng God.
32 Call to remẽbraunce the former dayes, in the Which after ye had receaued light ye endured a great fyght of aduersities:
33 Partly Whyle ye Were made a gasing stocke, both by reproches & afflictions, and partly Whyle ye became companions of them Whiche Were so tossed to & fro.
34 For ye suffred also With my bondes, & toke in Wooth the spoylyng of your goodes With gladnesse: knowyng in your selues how that ye haue in heauen a better and an enduryng substaunce. G
35 Cast not awaye therefore your confidence, Which hath great recompence of rewarde.
36 For ye haue neede of patience, that after ye haue done the Wyll of God, ye myght receaue the promise.
37 For yet a very litle Whyle, and he that shall come, Wyll come, and Wyll not tary.
38 And *the iuste shall lyue by fayth: And yf he Withdrawe hym selfe, my soule shall haue no pleasure in hym. Abacuc. ii.a Rom. i.a. Galat. iii.b.
39 We are not of them that Withdrawe our selues vnto perdition: but We parteyne vnto fayth, to the Wynning of the soule.

(b) That is, sacrifices. (c) Which is, the Wyll of God, to stand content with Christes sacrifice.

(b) We by Christe haue that libertie, Whiche the auncient fathers could not haue by the lawe. (c) The blood of Christe is alwayes fresh and lyuely before the father to sprincle & quicken vs.

The .xj. Chapter.

1 What fayth is, and a commendation of the same. 9 Without fayth we can not please God. 16 The stedfast beliefe of the fathers in olde tyme.

A 1 FAyth is the grounde of thynges hoped for, the euidence of thynges not seene.

(a) Haue ben approued, and so obtayned saluation. 2 For by it, the elders (a) obtayned a good report.

3 Through fayth, we vnderstande that the worldes were ordeined by the Word of God, and that thynges whiche are seene, were made of thynges *whiche were not seene.

Act.xiii.c. Rom.i.c. Gene.iiii.a. (b) Because God receaued him to mercy, therfore he imputed hym ryghteous. Gene.v.g. Sap.iii.b. Eccl.xliii.b 4 *By fayth Abel offered vnto God a more excellent sacrifice then Cain: by whiche he was witnessed to be (b) ryghteous, God testifyng of his gyftes: by which also he beyng dead, yet speaketh.

5 By fayth was *Enoch translated, that he shoulde not see death, neither was he founde, for God had taken hym away: For afore he was taken away, he was reported of to haue pleased God.

6 But without fayth it is vnpossible to please hym: For he that cõmeth to God, must beleue that God is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seeke him.

B Gene.vi.d. 7 By fayth Noe beyng warned of God of thinges not seene as yet, moued with reuerence, prepared the arke to the sauyng of his house, through the whiche [arke] he *condemned the worlde, and became heire of the righteousnes which is by fayth.

Math.xii.d.

Gene xi.a. Actes. vii.a. 8 By fayth *Abraham when he was called, obeyed, to go out into a place whiche he shoulde afterwarde receaue to inheritaunce: and he went out, not knowyng whyther he shoulde go.

9 By fayth he remoued into the lande of promise, as into a straunge countrey, whē he had dwelt in tabernacles, with Isaac and Jacob, heires with hym of the same promise:

10 For he loked for a citie hauyng a foundation, whose buylder and maker is God.

Gene.xxi.a C 11 *Through fayth also Sara her selfe receaued strength to conceaue seede, and was delyuered of a chylde whē she was past age, because she iudged hym faythfull which had promised.

12 And therfore sprang there of one, euen of one whiche was as good as dead *[so many] in multitude, as are the starres in the skye, and as the sande the whiche is by the sea shore innumerable. Gene. xv.a.

13 These all dyed according to fayth, not hauing receaued the promises, but seing them a farre of, and beleuyng, and salutyng, and confessyng *that they were straungers and pilgrimes on the earth. Iob.viii.g. Gen.xlvii.b i.Pa.xxix.d

14 For they that saye suche thynges, declare that they seke a countrey.

D 15 Also yf they had ben myndfull of that [countrey] from whence they came out, they had leasure to haue returned:

16 But nowe they desire a better, that is, a heauenly. Wherefore God is not ashamed of them *to be called their God, for he hath prepared for them a citie. Exod.iii.f.

Gene.xii.a. Eccles.44.c (c) For it might seeme to the flesshe, that the promyse was contrary to the commaundement, to sacrifice hys son. 17 *By fayth Abraham offered vp Isaac when he was (c) proued: and he that had receaued the promises, offered vp his only begotten sonne:

18 To whom it was saide, that in Isaac shall thy seede be called.

19 For he considered that God was able to rayse the dead vp agayne, frō whence also he receaued hym in a similitude [of the resurrection.]

Ge.xxvii.d. 20 *By fayth did Isaac blesse Jacob and Esau, concernyng thynges to come.

Exod.ii.a. Actes. vii.a 23 *By fayth Moyses whē he was borne, was hyd three monethes of his father and mother, because they sawe he was a proper chylde, neither feared they the kynges commaundement.

Exod.ii.b. 24 *By fayth Moyses when he was great, refused to be called the sonne of Pharaos daughter:

25 Chosyng rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enioye the pleasures of sinne for a season:

26 Esteemyng the rebuke of Christ, greater ter riches, then the treasures of Egypt: For he had respect vnto the recompence of the rewarde.

Exod.xii.f. 27 *By fayth he forsoke Egypt, fearyng not the wrath of the kyng: For he endured, euen as though he had seene him which is inuisible.

F Exod.xii.d. 28 *Through fayth, he ordeyned the Passouer and the effusion of blood, lest he that destroyed the first borne, shoulde touche them.

Exod.14.e. 29 *By fayth, they passed through the redde sea, as by drye lande: which the Egyptians assaying to do, were drowned.

Iosue.vi.c. 30 *By fayth, the walles of Jericho fell downe, after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

Iosue.ii.a. 31 *By fayth, the harlot Rahab perished not with them that were disobedient, when she had receaued the spyes with peace.

32 And what shall I more say? for the tyme woulde fayle me, to rehearse of Gedeon, of *Barac, and of *Sampson, and of *Jephte, *of Dauid also *and Samuel, and of the prophetes:

G 35 *The women receaued their dead, rayled to lyfe agayne: Other were racked, not lokyng for deliueraunce, that they might receaue a better resurrectiō. 3.Reg.19.a.

36 And others were tryed with mockynges, and scourgynges: Yea, moreouer with bondes and prisonment:

37 *They were stoned, were hewen asunder, were tempted, were slaine with swoord, wandred about in sheepskinnes, and goates skinnes, beyng destitute, afflicted [and] tormented: 3.Reg.21.b. Esai.58.b.

38 Of whō the worlde was not worthie: They wandred in wildernesse, and in mountaynes, and in dennes, and caues of the earth.

39 And these all through fayth, obteyned good report, and receaued (b) not the promise:

(b) They had not such cleare lyght as we: for they loked for that which we haue: therfore it were shame for vs, yf at least we haue not as great constancie as they.

40 God prouidyng a better thyng for vs, that they without vs shoulde not be made perfect.

¶ The .xij Chapter.

1 An exhortation to be patient and stedfast in trouble and aduersitie, vpon hope of euerlastyng rewarde. 25 A commendation of the newe Testament aboue the olde.

Ephe.iiii.a. (a) As riches are & suche like, and so to become Christes disciples, by denying ourselues, & takyng our crosse to followe hym.

A 1 Wherfore, seyng that we are compassed with so great a cloude of witnesses, *lay away all that (a) presseth downe, & the sinne that hangeth so fast on, let vs run with patience vnto the battayle that is set before vs:

Ephe.i.d. Coloss.iii.a. Hebr.1.a. 2 Lokyng vnto Jesus, the captayne and finisher of our fayth, which for the ioy that was set before hym, endured the crosse, hauyng dispised the shame, and is set downe *on the ryght hande of the throne of God.

3 Consider therfore hym that endured such speakyng agaynst hym of sinners, lest you shoulde be weryed, fayntyng in your myndes.

4 Ye haue not yet resisted vnto blood, stryuyng agaynst sinne.

5 And ye haue forgotten the exhortatiō, which speaketh vnto you as vnto chyldren: My sonne despise not thou the chastenyng of the Lorde, neither faynt when thou art rebuked of hym:

6 For whom the Lord loueth, he chasteneth, and scourgeth euery sonne that he receaueth.

7 If ye endure chastenyng, God offereth him selfe as vnto sonnes: For what sonne is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But yf ye be without chastisment, wherof all are partakers, then are ye bastardes, and not sonnes.

9 Furthermore, we haue had fathers of our flesshe, which corrected vs, and we gaue them reuerence: Shall we not then much rather be in subiection vnto the father of spirites, and lyue?

10 For they verely, for a fewe dayes, chastened chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he, for our profite, that we myght be partakers of his holynesse.

11 No chastisyng for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but greuous: Neuertheless, afterwarde it bryngeth the quiet fruite of ryghteousnesse, vnto thē which are exercised therby.

Esaiae.xxv.a. 12 *Strayghten vp therfore the handes which were let downe, and the weake knees:

13 And make ryght steppes vnto your feete, lest (b) that which is haltyng, turne you out of the way: but let it rather be healed.

(b) Their haltyng, partlye declared their slowenes, & partly their inconstancie in doctrine: therfore they were in bondage to be punished.

14 Folowe peace with all men, and holynesse, without the which, no man shall see the Lorde:

15 Takyng heede that no man fall away from the grace of God, lest any roote of bitternesse sprygyng vp, trouble you, and therby many be defyled.

16 Let there be no fornicator or vncleane person, as Esau, *which for one morsell of meate, solde his birthryght.

Gen.xxv.d

17 For ye knowe, howe that afterwarde when he woulde haue inherited the blessyng, he was reprobated: For he founde no place of repentaunce, though *he sought it with teares.

Gen.27.f.

18 For ye are not come vnto the *mount that (c) is touched, & vnto burnyng fyre, and vnto stormе and darkenesse, and tempestes of weather,

Exod.xix.b (c) whiche might be touched & seene: for it was materiall, but god cōmaunded that none should touche it.

19 And sounde of a trompe, & the voyce of wordes: which *[voyce] they that heard it, willed away, that the worde should not be spoken to them:

Exod.xx.c

20 (For they dyd not abyde that which was commaunded. *If a beast touche the mountaine, it shalbe stoned, or thrust through with a darte. Exod.xix.b

21 And so terrible was the syght which appeared, that Moyses sayde, I feare and quake.)

22 But ye are come vnto ỹ mount Sion, and to the citie of the lyuyng God, the celestiall Hierusalem, and to an innumerable companie of (d) Angels,

(d) By the Gospell, we are ioyned with the Angels and Patriarkes.

23 And vnto the congregation of the first borne, written in heauen, and to God the iudge of all, and to the spirites of iust and perfect men:

24 And to Jesus the mediatour of the newe couenaunt, and to the *blood of sprynklyng, that speaketh better then that of Abel. 1 Peter.i.a. Hebre.ix.d. Cen.iiii.b.

25 See that ye despise not hym that speaketh: For yf they escaped not, which refused hym that spake on earth: much more shall we [not escape] yf we turne away from hym that [speaketh] from heauen: E

26 Whose voyce then shoke the earth, & nowe hath declared, saying: Yet once more wyll I shake, not the earth only, but also heauen.

27 And this [yet once more] signifieth remouyng of those thynges which are shaken, as of thynges which are made: that the thynges which are not shaken, may remayne.

28 Wherfore, We receauyng a kingdome which can not be moued, let vs haue grace, wherby we may so serue God acceptablie, with reuerence* & godly feare. Deut.iiii.d.

29 For our God [is] a (e) consumyng fyre. (e) To destroy thē that resist hym.

¶ The.xiij. Chapter.

1 He maketh vs vnto loue, 2 to hospitalitie, 3 to thynke vpō such as be in aduersitie, 4 to mayntayne wedlocke, 5 to auoyde couetousnesse, 7 to make much of them that preache Gods worde, 9 to beware of straunge learnyng, 13 to be content to suffer rebuke with Christ, 15 to be thankful vnto god, 17 & obedient vnto our gouernours.

3 Remember them that are in bondes, as bounde with them: And them which suffer aduersitie, as also ye your selues beyng in the body [suffered aduersitie].

4 Wedlocke is honorable among all men, and the bed vndefiled: But Whoremongers and adulterers God wyll iudge.

5 Let your conuersation be without couetousnesse, beyng* content with such thynges as ye haue. For he hath sayde: *I wyll not fayle thee, neither forsake thee. Eccle.29.d. i Tim.vi.b. Iosue.i.a.

So

6 So that we may boldely saye, the Lorde is my helper, and I will not feare what man may do vnto me.

7 Remember them which haue the ouersyght of you, which haue spoken vnto you the worde of God: whose ende of conuersation ye considering, folowe their fayth.

(a) He was, is, and shalbe, the foundatiō of ỹ Churche for euer,

8 Jesus Christe (a) yesterday and to day, and the same for euer. ☞

B 9 ☞ Be not caryed about with diuers & strange doctrines: For it is a good thing that the heart be stablished with grace, & not with meates, which haue not profited thē that haue ben occupied therin.

10 We haue an aulter, wherof they haue no ryght to (b) eate which serue in the tabernacle.

(b) They that stycke to the ceremonies of the law, can not eate, that is, can not be partakers of our aulter, which is thankesegiuyng and memorie, whiche two sacrifices & offeringes, are nowe only left to the Christians.

11 *For the bodyes of those beastes whose blood is brought into the holy place by the hie priest for sinne, are (c) burnt without the tentes.

12 Therfore Jesus also, that he myght sanctifie ỹ people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

(c) So that the priestes had no peece therof.

13 Let vs go forth therfore vnto hym out of the tentes, bearyng his reproche.

C 14 For here haue we no continuyng citie: but we seke one to come.

15 By hym therfore, do we offer sacrifice of laude alwayes to God: that is, the fruite of lippes confessyng his name.

¶ The first Chapter.

¶ 2 He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, 6 to be feruent in prayer, with stedfast beliefe, 17 to loke for all good thynges from aboue, 21 to forsake all vice, and thankfully to receaue the worde of God, 22 not only hearyng it, & speakyng of it, but to do therafter in dede, 27 What true religion is.

A 1  Ames a seruaunt of God, and of the lorde Jesus Christ, to ỹ twelue tribes which are scattred abroade, greetyng.

2 ☞ My brethren, count it all ioy whē ye fall into diuers temptations:

Iob.xlii.a. Sapi.iii.a. Rom.v.a.

3 Knowyng (this) that * the trying of your fayth worketh patience:

4 And let patience haue [her] perfect worke, that ye may be perfect & sounde, lackyng nothyng.

5 If any of you lacke wisdome, *let him aske of God, that geueth to all men indifferentlie, and casteth no man in the teeth: and it shalbe geuen hym. Iob.xviii.c. Eccle.vii.c. Math.xii.a. Luk.xi.b.

6 But let hym aske in fayth, nothyng wauering: For he that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tost of the wynde, and caryed with violence.

7 Neither let that man thynke that he shall receaue any thyng of the Lorde.

8 A double mynded man, [is] vnstable in all his wayes.

9 Let the brother of lowe degree, reioyce in in that he is (a) exalted:

(a) That he is called to ϕ compame of Chriſte and his Angels. Eſai.xl.b. Eccle.14.b. 1 Peter.i.d.

10 Agayne, the riche, in that he is made lowe: *Because as the flowre of the graſſe he ſhall paſſe away.

11 For the ſunne hath ryſen with heate, and the graſſe hath withered, and his flowre hath fallen away, & the beautie of the faſhion of it hath periſhed: So alſo ſhall the ryche man fade away in his wayes.

12 Bleſſed is the man that endureth temptation: For when he is tryed, he ſhall receaue the crowne of lyfe, which the Lorde hath promiſed to them that loue hym.

(b) He meaneth nowe of the inwarde temptations, as of our diſordered appetites, which cauſe vs to ſinne.

13 Let no man ſay when he is (b) tempted, I am tempted of God, for God can not be tempted with euyl, neither tempteth he any man:

14 But euery man is tempted, when he is drawen away, & entiſed of his owne concupiſcence.

15 Then, when luſt hath conceaued, it bryngeth forth ſinne: and ſinne when it is finiſhed, bryngeth forth death.

16 Do not erre my deare brethren.

17 *Euery good (c) geuyng, and euery perfect gyft is from aboue, and cōmeth downe from the father of lyghtes, With whō is no variablenes, neither ſhadow of turnyng.

(c) Seyng all good thynges come of God, we ought not to make hym the auctheur of euyll. Iohn.i.a.

18 *Of his owne wyll begat he vs with the worde of trueth, that we ſhoulde be the firſt fruites of his creatures.

19 Wherfore my deare brethē, *let euery man be ſwyft to heare, ſlowe to ſpeake, ſlowe to wrath. Pro.xvii.d. Eccle.v.a.

22 And *be ye doers of the worde, and not hearers only, deceauyng your owne ſelues. Rom.ii.b. Math.v.d.

23 For *yf any be a hearer of the worde, and not a doer, he is lyke vnto a man beholdyng his bodyly face in a (d) glaſſe: Luk.xi.g.

24 For he hath conſidered hym ſelfe, and is gone his wayes, & hath forgotten immediatly what his faſhion was.

(d) So Gods worde is a glaſſe, wherin we muſt beholde our ſelues, and be come lyke vnto hym.

25 *But who ſo loketh in the perfect lawe of libertie, and continueth [therin] he being not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, ſhalbe bleſſed in his deede. Math.vii.d.

26 If any man among you ſeeme to be deuout, and refrayneth not his tongue, but deceaueth his owne heart, this mans deuotion is vayne.

27 Pure deuotion and vndefyled before God and the father, is this: To viſite the fatherleſſe and widdowes in their aduerſitie, and to kepe hym ſelfe vnſpotted of the worlde.

¶ The .ij Chapter.

1 He forbiddeth to haue any reſpect of perſons, 5 but to regarde the poore aſwell as the riche, 8 to be louyng and merciful, 14 and not to boaſt of faith where no deedes are, 17 for it is but a dead fayth, where good workes folowe not.

1 My brethren, haue not the fayth of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſte, the Lord of glorie, (a) with reſpect of perſons.

(a) As eſteemyng fayth & religion by the outwarde appearaunce of men.

2 For yf there come into your companie a man wearing a golde ryng, clothed in goodly apparell, and there come in alſo a poore man in vile rayment:

3 And ye haue a reſpect to hym that weareth the gay clothyng, and ſay vnto hym, ſitte thou here in a good place: & ſay vnto the poore, ſtande thou there, or ſitte here vnder my footeſtoole:

4 Are ye not partiall in your ſelues, and are made iudges of euyll thoughtes:

5 Hearken my deare beloued brethren. Hath not God choſen the poore of this worlde, ſuch as are riche in fayth, and heyres of the kyngdome, which he promiſed to them that loue hym:

6 But ye haue deſpiſed the poore. Do not riche men oppreſſe you by tirannie, and drawe you before the iudgementes ſeates:

7 Do not they blaſpheme that (b) good name by the which you are named:

(b) The name of God and Chriſte, wherof you make profeſſion: and in that they diſhonour God, it is not meete that you his children ſhoulde honour them.

8 If ye fulfyll the royal lawe, according to the ſcripture, * thou ſhalt loue thy neighbour as thy ſelfe, ye do well:

(c) By the mercie of god, which deliuereth vs from the curse of the lawe.

13 For he shall haue iudgement without mercie, * that sheweth no mercie: And mercie reioyceth agaynst iudgement. ☜

14 What profiteth it my brethren, though a man say he hath fayth, and hath not deedes: Can fayth saue hym?

15 If a brother or a sister be naked, and destitute of dayly foode, 16 And one of you say vnto them, depart in peace, be you warmed and fylled: notwithstandyng, ye geue them not those thinges which are nedefull to the body, What shall it profite?

17 Euen so, fayth, yf it haue not deedes, is dead in it selfe:

¶ D 18 But some man wyll say, thou hast fayth and I haue deedes: shewe me thy fayth by thy (D) deedes, and I wyll shewe thee my faith by my deedes.

(d) Here deedes are considered, as ioyned with true fayth.

19 Beleuest thou that there is one God? Thou doest well. The deuyls also beleue, and tremble.

20 But wylt thou knowe, O thou vayne man, that that fayth which is without workes, is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when he had * offered Isaac his sonne vpon the aulter? Gen.xxii.b

22 Seest thou not, howe ỹ fayth wrought with his deedes, and through ỹ deedes was the fayth made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfylled, which sayth: * Abraham beleued God, and it was reputed vnto hym for ryghteousnesse: And he was called the friende of God. Gen.xv.b. Rom.iii.a. Galat.iii.a.

24 ☞ Ye see then, howe that of deedes a man is iustified, and not of fayth only.

25 Lykewyse also, was not Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, * When she had receaued the messengers, and had sent them out another way? Iosue.ii.a.

26 For as the body without the spirite is dead: euen so, fayth without workes, is dead [also] ☜

¶ The .iij. Chapter.

2 He forbiddeth all ambition to seke honour aboue our brethren. 3 He describeth the propertie of the tongue. 15. 16. And what difference there is betwixt the wisdome of God, and the wisdome of the worlde.

¶ A 1 My brethren, * be not many maisters, knowyng howe that we shall receaue the greater damnation: Mat.xxiii.f Pro.xvii.a.

2 For in many thynges we sinne all. If a man sinne not in (a) word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle all the body.

(a) He that is able to moderate his tongue, hath attayned to excellent vertue.

3 Beholde, we put bittes in the horses mouthes, that they may obey vs, and we turne about all the body of them:

4 Beholde also ỹ shippes, which though they be so great, and are dryuen of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a very small helme, whither soeuer the violence of the gouernour wyll.

5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member also, & boasteth great thynges. Beholde how great a matter a litle fire kindleth.

¶ B 6 And the tongue is fyre, euen a worlde of wickednesse. So is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and (b) setteth on fyre the course of nature, & it is set on fyre of hell.

(b) The intemperancie of the tongue, is a flambe of hell fyre.

7 All the natures of beastes, & of byrdes, and of serpentes, and thynges of the sea, are meeked and tamed of the nature of man:

8 But the tongue can no man tame, it is an vnruly euyll, full of deadly poyson.

9 Therwith blesse we God the father: ¶ and therwith curse we men, * which are made after the similitude of God. Gen.i.d.

10 Out of one mouth proceadeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these thynges ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountayne sende foorth at one place, sweete water, and bitter also?

12 Can the fygge tree, my brethren, beare oliue beries? either a vine beare figges? So can no fountayne geue both salt water and freshe also.

13 Who is a wise man, and endued with knowledge knoweledge among you: let him shewe his workes out of good conuersation with meknesse of wisdome.

14 But yf ye haue bitter enuyng & strife in your hearte, glorie not, neither be lyers agaynst the trueth.

15 For such wisdome descendeth not frō aboue: but is earthlie, sensuall, and deuelishe.

16 For where enuyng and strife is, there is sedition & all maner of euyll workes.

17 But the wisdome that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaseable, gentle, and easie to be entreated, full of mercie and good fruites, without iudgyng, without simulation:

18 Yea, and the fruite of ryghteousnes is sowen in peace, of thē that make peace.

¶ The. iiij. Chapter.

1 Shewyng the cause of all wrong and wickednesse, and also of all graces and goodnesse, 4 he exhorteth them to loue God, 7 and submit them selues to hym, 11 not speakyng euyll of their neighbours, 13 but patiently to depende on Gods prouidence.

1 From whence cōmeth warre and fightyng among you: come they not here hence, euen of your lustes that (a) fight in your members?

(a) For the lawe of the members, continually fyghteth agaynst the lawe of the mynde.

2 Ye lust, and haue not: Ye enuie, and haue indignation, and can not obtayne: Ye fyght and warre, ye haue not, because ye aske not.

3 Ye aske and receaue not, because ye aske amisse, euen to consume it vpon your lustes.

(b) He calleth adulterers here, after the maner of the scriptures, them which preferre the pleasures of the worlde, to the loue of God.

4 Ye adulterers & (b) adultresses, knowe you not howe that the frendship of the world is enmitie with God? Whosoeuer therfore wylbe a friende of the worlde, is made the enemie of God.

(c) The imagination of mans heart, is wicked.

5 Either do ye thynke that the scripture sayth in vayne, the (c) spirite that dwelleth in vs, lusteth after enuie?

6 But [the scripture] offereth more grace, and therefore sayth, God resisteth the proude, but geueth grace vnto ỹ lowlie.

7 Submit your selues therfore to God: but *resist the deuyll, and he wyll flee from you. *i Peter.v.b.

8 Drawe nye to God, and he wyll drawe nye to you. Clense your handes ye sinners, and purifie your heartes ye double mynded.

9 Suffer afflictions, and mourne, and weepe: Let your laughter be turned to mournyng, and your ioy to heauinesse.

10 *Humble your selues in the sight of the Lorde, and he shall lyft you vp. *i Peter.v.a.

11 Backbite not one another brethren. He that backbiteth his brother, and he that iudgeth his brother, backbiteth ỹ lawe, and iudgeth the lawe: But and yf thou iudge the lawe, thou art not an obseruer of the lawe, but a iudge.

12 There is one lawe geuer, which is able to saue and to destroy. *What art thou that iudgest another? *Rom.xiiii.a

13 Go to nowe ye that say, (d) to day and to morowe let vs go into such a citie, and continue there a yere, and bye and sell, and wynne: (d) We ought to submit our selues to the prouidence of God.

14 And yet can not ye tel what shall happen on the morowe. For what thyng is your lyfe? It is euen a vapour, that appeareth for a litle tyme, and then he banisheth away.

15 For that ye ought to say: *If the Lorde wyll, and yf we lyue, let vs do this or that. *Act.xvii.c. Hebr.vi.a.

16 But nowe ye reioyce in your boastinges: All such reioycyng is euyll.

17 Therfore *to hym that knoweth howe to do good, and doth it not, to hym it is sinne. *Luk.xii.b.

The .v. Chapter.

2 He threatneth the wicked riche men, 7 exhorteth vnto patience, 12 to beware of swearyng, 16 one to knowledge his faultes to another, 20 and one to labour to bryng another to the trueth.

1 Go to nowe ye riche men, weepe and howle on your wretchednesse that shall come vpon you.

2 Your riches is corrupt, your garmentes are motheaten:

3 Your golde and siluer is cankred, and the rust of them shalbe a (b) witnesse against you, and shall eate your flesshe as it were fyre. Ye haue heaped treasure (b) And kindle the wrath of god against you.

4 Beholde, *the hire of labourers, which haue reaped downe your fieldes, which hire is of you kept backe by fraude, cryeth: and the crycs of them which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lorde Sabaoth.

5 Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and ben wanton: Ye haue nourisshed your heartes, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condempned and kylled the iust, and he hath not resisted you.

¶ 7 ☞ Be patient therfore brethren, vnto the commyng of the Lorde. Beholde, the husbandman wayteth for the precious fruite of the earth, and hath long patience therupon, vntill he receaue the early and the later rayne.

8 Be ye also patient therfore, and settle your heartes, for the commyng of the Lorde draweth nye.

9 Grudge not one agaynst another brethren, lest ye be dampned: Beholde, the iudge standeth before the doore.

Math.v.a. 11 Beholde, *we count thē happy which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Iob, and haue knowen what ende the Lorde made: For the Lorde is very pitifull and mercifull.

¶ 12 But aboue all thynges my brethren, *sweare not, neither by heauen, neither by earth, neither any other othe: Let your (d) yea, be yea, and your nay nay, lest you fall into condempnation. Math.v.f.

(d) That which muste be affirmed, affirme it simply, and without othes: Iphewyse that which muste be denyed. By this he taketh not from the magistrate his authoritie, who may require an othe for the mayntenaunce of iustice, iudgement, and trueth.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let hym pray. Is any mery? let him sing psalmes.

14 Is any diseased among you? let hym call for the elders of the Churche, and let them pray for him, and annoynt him with oyle in the name of the Lorde:

15 And the prayer of fayth shall saue the sicke, and the Lorde shall raise him vp: and yf he haue committed sinnes, they shalbe forgeuen hym.

¶ D 16 ☞ Knowledge your faultes one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed: For ỳ feruent prayer of a ryghteous man auayleth much.

17 Elias was a man vnder infirmities euen as we are, and he prayed in his prayer that it myght not rayne: *and it rayned not on the earth by the space of three yeres and sixe monethes. 3 Reg.17.a. Luk.iiii.c.

18 And he prayed againe, and the heauen gaue rayne, & the earth brought foorth her fruite.

19 Brethren, yf any of you do erre from the trueth, and another conuert hym, 20 Let the same knowe, that he which conuerteth the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shall hyde the multitude of sinnes.

12 Dearely beloued, thinke it not straunge concerning the fierie triall, which thing is to trye you, as though some straunge thyng happened vnto you.

13 But reioyce, in as much as ye are partakers of Christes passions: that when his glory appeareth, ye maye be mery and glad.

14 *If ye be rayled vpon for the name of Christe, happy are ye. For the spirite of glory and of God, resteth vpon you: On their part he is euyll spoken of, but on your part he is glorified. *Math.v.b. *1.Pet.i.e.

15 See that none of you be punished as a murtherer, or as a thiefe, or an euyll doer, or as a busie body in other mens matters. D

16 If any [man suffer] as a Christian man, let hym not be ashamed, but let him glorifie God on this behalfe.

17 For the tyme is [come] that iudgement must begin at the house of God. If it first [begin] at vs, what shall the ende be of them which beleue not the Gospell of God?

18 And* if the ryghteous scarcely be saued, where shall the vngodly and the sinner appeare? *Prou.xi.d.

19 Wherefore, let them that are troubled accordyng to the wyll of God, commit their soules to him with well doyng, as vnto a faythfull creatour.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

2 The duetie of pastours is to feede the flocke of Christe, and what rewarde they shall haue yf they be diligent. 5 He exhorteth young persons to submit them selues to the elders, 8 to be sober, and to watche that they may resist the enemie.

THe (a) elders which are among you, I exhort, which am also an elder, & a wytnesse of the afflictions of Christe, and also a partaker of the glory that shalbe opened: A I (a) By elders he vnderstandeth all them that preach, and ministre the Church. H. L.

The seconde epistle of Saint Peter.

The first Chapter.

4 Forasmuch as the power of God hath geuen them all thynges parteyning vnto lyfe, he exhorteth them to flee the corruptiō of worldly lustes. 10 to make their callyng sure with good workes and fruites of faith. 14 He maketh mention of his owne death, 17 declaryng the Lorde Jesus to be the true sonne of God, as he him selfe had seene vpon the mount.

A1 SImon Peter, a seruaunt and an Apostle of Jesus Christe, to them which haue obteined lyke precious faith with vs, thorowe the ryghteousnes of our god and sauiour Jesus Christe:

i.Pet.i.a. 2 *Grace and peace be multiplied vnto you, through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lorde:

3 Accordyng as his godly power hath geuen vnto vs all thynges that pertaine vnto lyfe and godlynesse, (a) through the knowledge of hym that hath called vs vnto glorie and vertue:

(a) The sum of our saluation and religiō is, to be iudge by Christe to ye father, who calleth vs in the sonne.

4 By the which are geuen vnto vs excellent and most great promises, that by the meanes thereof, ye might be *partakers of the godly nature, yf ye flee the corruption of worldly lust. John i c. Colos. ii.b.

B 5 And hereunto geue all diligence: in your faith minister vertue, in vertue knowledge, i.Cor.viii.b. 6 *In knowledge temperaunce, in temperaunce patience, in patience godlynesse,

7 In godlynesse brotherly kyndnesse, in brotherly kyndnesse loue.

8 For yf these thynges be among you, and be plenteous, they will make you that ye neither shalbe idle nor vnfruitefull in the knowledge of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

9 But he that lacketh these thynges, is blynde, and can not see farre of, & hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde sinnes.

10 Wherfore brethren, geue the more diligence for to make your callyng and election (b) sure: For yf ye do such thynges, ye shall neuer fall. C (b) Albeit it be sure in it self, forasmuch as god cannot chaunge: yet we must confirme it in our selues by the fruites of the spirite, knowyng that the purpose of god electeth, calleth, sanctifieth, and iustifieth vs.

11 Yea, and by this meanes an entryng in shalbe ministred vnto you aboūdantlye, into the euerlastyng kyngdome of our Lorde and sauiour Jesus Christe.

12 Wherfore I wyll not be negligent to put you alwayes in remembraunce of suche thynges, though ye knowe them your selues, and be stablyshed in the present trueth.

13 Notwithstandyng I thynke it meete, as long as I am in this *tabernacle, to stirre you vp by puttyng you in remembraunce: ii.Cor.v.a.

14 Forasmuch as I am sure that shortly I must put of this my tabernacle, *euen as our Lorde Jesus Christe shewed me. Iohn. xxi.d

15 I wyll euer also geue my diligence & ye may haue wherwith to stirre vp the remembraunce of these thynges after my departyng.

16 ☞ For we haue not folowed deceitfull fables, when we opened vnto you the power and commyng of our Lorde Jesus Christe, but *with our eyes we sawe his maiestie: i.Iohn.i.a.

17 Euen then verely when he receaued of God the father honour and glorie, & D when there came suche a voyce to hym from the excellent glorie: *This is my deare beloued sonne in whom I delyte. Mat xvii.d. Mark i.b. Luk.iii.d.

18 This voyce we heard come from heauen, when we were with hym in the holye mount.

A1 THis is the seconde epistle that I now wryte vnto you, dearely beloued, wherwith I stirre vp & warne your pure myndes,

2 By puttyng you in remembraunce, that ye may be myndfull of the wordes which were tolde before of the holy prophetes, and also the commaundement of vs, whiche be Apostles of the Lorde and sauiour.

Actes.xx.f. 3 *This first vnderstande, that there shall come in the laste dayes mockers, whiche wyll walke after their owne lustes, ii.Pet.ii.a. Iudi.i.e. i.Tim.iiii.e. ii.Tim.ii.a. 4 And say: where is the promise of his commyng? For sence the fathers dyed, all thynges continue a lyke from the begynnyng of the creation.

B (a) He meaneth thē which had once professed christian religion, but became afterward contemners and mockers, as Epicurians & Atheistes. 5 For this they knowe not (and that (a) wylfully) howe that the heauens were of olde, and the earth that was of the water, and by the water, by the worde of God:

6 By the which thinges the world that then was, perished, beyng then ouerrunne with water.

Iohn.xiiii.b Esaias li.b. 7 *But the heauens and earth whiche are nowe, be kept by his worde in store, and reserued vnto fire, agaynst the day of iudgement and perdition of vngodly men.

8 Dearely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thyng, howe that *one day is Psal.xc.a. i.Cor.vii.c. with the Lorde as a thousande yere, & a thousande yere as one day.

9 The Lorde that hath promised, is not slacke, as some men count slackenesse, but is pacient to vswarde [forasmuch] as he wolde haue no man lost, but wyll receaue all men to repentaunce.

10 Neuertheles *the day of the Lorde C wyll come as a theefe in the nyght, in Math.24.d. i.Thess.v.a. the which the heauens shal passe away Apoc iii.a. with a noyse, and the elementes shall melt with heate, the earth also and the workes that are therein shall burne.

11 Seyng then that all these thynges shall perisshe, what maner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlynesse:

12 Lokyng for, and hastyng vnto the cōmyng of the day of God, by whom the heauens shall perishe with fire, and the elementes shall melt with heate:

13 *Neuertheles, we accordyng to his Apoc.xxi.a promise, loke for a newe heauen, and a newe earth, wherein dwelleth ryghteousnesse.

14 Wherfore dearely beloued, seyng that ye loke for such thynges, be diligent that ye may be founde of hym in peace, without spot, and vndefyled:

15 And suppose that the long suffering of D the Lord is saluatiō, euen as our dearely beloued brother Paul also, accordyng to the wisedome geuen vnto hym, hath written vnto you:

16 Yea almost in euery epistle, speakyng of such thinges: among which, are manye thynges harde to be vnderstande, which they that are vnlearned and vnstable, peruert, as they do also the other scriptures, vnto their owne destruction.

17 Ye therfore beloued, seyng ye be warned afore hande, beware lest ye with other men be also plucked away through the errour of the wicked, and fall from your owne stedfastnesse:

18 But growe in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lorde and sauiour Jesus Christe, to whom be glorie both nowe and for euer. Amen.

C The

The first Epistle of Saint John the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

2 True witnesse of the euerlastyng worde of God. 7 The blood of Christe is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

A1 That whiche was frō the beginning, whiche we haue heard, which we haue seene with our eyes, whiche we haue loked vpō, & our handes haue handeled of, the worde of lyfe:

2 (And the lyfe appeared, and we haue seene, and beare witnesse, and shewe vnto you *that eternall lyfe which was with the father, and appeared vnto vs.)

B3 That which we haue seene and heard declare we vnto you, that ye also maye haue (a) felowshyp with vs, and that our felowshyp may be with the father, and his sonne Jesus Christe.

4 And this write we vnto you, that your ioy may be full,

5 And this is the tydynges whiche we haue hearde of hym & declare vnto you, that God is lyght, & in hym is no darkenesse at all. C

6 If we saye that we haue felowshyp with hym, and walke in darkenesse, we lye, and do not the trueth.

7 But and yf we walke in light, euen as he is in lyght, then haue we felowshyp (b) one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his sonne clenseth vs from all sinne.

8 *If we say that we haue no sinne, we deceaue our selues, and the trueth is not in vs. D

9 *If we knowledge our sinnes, he is faythfull & iust to forgeue vs our sinnes, and to clense vs from all vnryghteousnesse.

10 If we say we haue not sinned, we make hym a lyer, and his worde is not in vs.

(a) The effect of ỳ Gospell is, that all beyng ioyned together in Christ by faith, should be the sonnes of God.

(b) That is, Christe with vs, and we with our selues.

¶ The .ij. Chapter.

1 Christe is our aduocate. 10 Of true loue, and howe it is tryed. 18 To beware of antichristе.

A1 My litle chyldren, these thynges write I vnto you, that ye sinne not. And yf any man sinne, we haue an aduocate with the father, Jesus Christe the ryghteous.

2 And he is ỳ attonement for our sinnes: not for our sinnes only, but also for the sinnes of all the worlde.

(a) That is, by fayth, and to obey hym: for knowlege can not be without obedience.

3 And hereby we are sure that we (a) knowe hym, yf we kepe his cōmaundementes.

John. xiii.d. 4 *He that sayth I knowe hym, and kepeth not his commaundementes, is a lyer, and the veritie is not in hym:

5 But who so kepeth his worde, in him is the loue of God perfect in deede. Hereby knowe we that we are in hym.

6 He that sayth he bydeth in hym, ought to walke euen as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no newe cōmaundement vnto you, but that olde cōmaundement which ye haue had from the begynnyng. The olde commaundement is the worde which ye haue hearde frō the begynnyng. B

8 Agayne, a newe commaundement I write vnto you, that is true in hym, and [the same is true] also in you: For the darkenesse is past, and the true lyght nowe shyneth.

9 He that sayth howe that he is in the lyght, and yet hateth his brother, is in darkenesse, euen vntyll this tyme.

10 He that loueth his brother, abydeth in the lyght, and there is none occasion of euyll in hym.

11 He that *hateth his brother, is in darkenesse, and walketh in darkenesse, & can not tell whyther he goeth, because that darkenesse hath blynded his eyes. Leuit.xix.d

12 Babes I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgeuen you for his names sake.

13 I write vnto you fathers, because ye haue knowen hym that is from the begynnyng. I write vnto you young men, because you haue ouercome the wicked.

14 I write to you little chyldren, because ye haue knowē the father. I haue written to you fathers, because ye haue knowen hym that is from the begynnyng. I haue written vnto you young men, because, ye are stronge, and the worde of God abydeth in you, and ye haue ouercome the wicked.

15 See that ye loue not *the worlde, neither the thynges that are in the worlde. If any man loue the worlde, the loue of the father is not in hym.

Ioh.xvii.b.

16 For all that is in the worlde, as the lust of the flesshe, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the father, but of the worlde.

17 And the worlde passeth away, and the luste thereof: but he that fulfylleth the wyll of God, abydeth for euer.

18 Litle chyldren, it is the last time, and as ye haue hearde howe that antichrist shall come, euen nowe are there many antichristes, whereby we knowe that it is the last tyme.

Actes.xx.f. 19 *They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: For yf they had ben of vs, they woulde no doubt haue continued with vs: But that it myght appeare that they were not of vs.

(b) the grace of the holy ghost.

20 Neuertheles, ye haue an (b) oyntment of hym that is holy, and ye knowe all thynges.

21 ☞ I haue not written vnto you, as though ye knewe not the trueth: but because ye knowe it, and that no lye is of the trueth. D

22 Who is a lyer, but he that denieth that Jesus is Christe? The same is antichrist that denyeth the father and the sonne.

23 Whosoeuer denyeth the sonne, the same hath not the father [But he that knowledgeth the sonne, hath the father also.]

24 Let therfore abyde in you, that same whiche ye hearde from the begynnyng. If that whiche ye hearde from the begynnyng shall remayne in you, ye also shall continue in the sonne, and in the father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised vs, euen eternall lyfe.

26 These thynges haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceaue you:

27 And the annoyntyng whiche ye haue receaued of hym dwelleth in you: And ye nede not that any man teach you, but as the same (c) annoynting teacheth you of all thynges, and it is true, and not lying: and as it taught you, ye shall abyde in it.

Esai.lxi.d.

(c) Christ communicateth hym selfe vnto you, & teacheth you by the holy ghost and his ministers.

28 And nowe (d) babes abide in him, that when he shal appeare, we may be bolde and not be made ashamed of hym at his commyng.

(d) By this name, he meaneth y whole Churche of Christe in generall.

29 If ye knowe that he is ryghteous, knowe also that euery one whiche doth righteousnes, is borne of hym.

¶ The .iij Chapter.

1 The singuler loue of God towarde vs, 7 and howe we agayne ought to loue one another.

A 1 Beholde What loue the father hath shewed on vs, that We shoulde be called the *sonnes of god: For this cause the worlde knoweth you not, because it knoweth not hym.

Luk.xx.f. Iohn.i.b.

2 Dearely beloued, nowe are We the sonnes of God, and yet it doth not appeare What We shalbe: But We knowe that When he shall appeare, We shalbe lyke hym, for We shall see hym as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in hym, purgeth hym selfe, euen as he also is pure.

4 Whosoeuer committeth sinne, transgresseth also the lawe: for sinne is the transgression of the lawe.

5 And ye knowe that he appeared to take away our sinnes, & in hym is no sinne.

6 As many as byde in hym, sinne not: Whosoeuer sinneth, hath not seene him, neither knowen hym.

7 Babes, let no man deceaue you: He B that doeth righteousnes, is ryghteous, euen as he is righteous.

8 He that committeth sinne, is of the deuyll: *for the deuyll sinneth sence the beginning. For this purpose appeared the sonne of God, to loose the workes of the deuyll.

Gene.iii.a. Iohn. viii.f.

Who-

9 Whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: for his seede remayneth in him, and he can not sinne, because he is borne of God.

10 In this are ỹ children of God knowē, and the children of the deuyll: whosoeuer doth not ryghteousnesse, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.

¶ 11 For this is the tidynges that ye heard from the begynnyng, that ye shoulde loue one another.

Gen.iiii.b. 12 Not as *Cain, which was of that wicked, and slewe his brother: And wherfore slewe he hym? Because his owne workes were euyll, and his brothers good.

13 ☞ Maruayle not my brethren though the worlde hate you.

14 We knowe, that We are translated from death vnto lyfe, because we (a) loue the brethren. *He that loueth not his brother, abideth in death.

(a) This loue is the speciall fruite of our faith, and a certayne signe of our regeneration.

15 Whosoeuer hateth his brother, is a manslear: And ye knowe that no manslear, hath eternall life abidyng in hym.

16 Hereby perceaue We loue, because he layde downe his lyfe for vs, & We ought to lay downe our lyues for the brethren.

17 But Who so hath this worldes good, and *seeth his brother haue neede, and shutteth vp his compassion from hym: howe dwelleth the loue of God in hym? Deut.xv.b.

18 My babes, let vs not loue in worde, neither in tongue: but in deede and in veritie.

19 Hereby We knowe that We are of the trueth, and shall assure our heartes before hym.

20 For yf our heart condempne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all thynges.

21 Dearely beloued, yf our heart condempne vs not, then haue we boldnesse towarde God.

22 And *Whatsoeuer We aske, We receaue of hym, because We kepe his commaundementes, and do those thynges Which are pleasyng in his syght. Math. vii.a. Iohn.xv.b. Iacob.i.a. i Iohn.v.c.

23 And *this is his cōmaundement, that We beleue on the name of his sonne Iesus Christe, and loue one another, as he gaue commaundement. Ioh.xiii.d.

24 And he that kepeth his commaundementes, dwelleth in him, and he in him: and hereby We knowe that he abideth in vs, euen by the spirite Which he hath geuen vs.

¶ The .iiij. Chapter.

1 Difference of spirites, 2 howe the spirite of God may be knowen from the spirite of errour, 7 of the loue of God and of our neyghbours.

A 1 Deare beloued, *beleue not euery spirite: but proue the spirites whether they are of God or not: for many false prophetes are gone out into the worlde. Math.vii c. Deut.xiii.a. Ma.xxiiii.a Mar.xiii.a. Luk.xxi.d.

2 Hereby shall ye knowe the spirite of God: Euery spirite that confesseth that Iesus (a) Christe is come in the flesshe, is of God:

(a) Who being very god, came from his father & toke upon hym our flesshe He that confesseth or preacheth this truely, hath the spirite of God, els not.

3 And euery spirite Which confesseth not that Iesus Christe is come in the flesshe, is not of God. And this is that spirite of antichriste, of whom ye haue harde howe that he shoulde come: and euen nowe alredy is he in the worlde.

4 Litle children, ye are of God, & haue ouercome them: for greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the worlde.

5 They are of the world, therfore speake they of the worlde, & the world heareth them.

6 We are of God. He that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby knowe we the spirite of veritie, and the spirite of errour. B

7 Dearely beloued, *let vs loue one another, for loue commeth of God: And euery one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God. Iohn.xiii.d i Thess.i.b.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for ☞ God is loue.

9 In this appeared the loue of God to vs warde, because *God sent his only begotten sonne into the worlde, that We myght lyue through hym. Iohn.iii.c. Rom.v.b.

10 Herein is loue, not that We loued God, but that he loued vs, and sent his sonne to be the agreement for our sinnes.

11 Dearely beloued, yf God so loued vs, We ought also to loue one another.

12 *No man hath seene God at any time. Exod 33 d. Iudic.v.c. If We loue one another, God dwelleth in teaueth not the brethren: but also he forbiddeth thē that woulde, and thrusteth them out of the Churche.

D 11 Beloued, folow not that which is euyl, but that which is good. He that doth well, is of God: but he that doth euyll, seeth not God.

12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the trueth it selfe: Yea, and we our selues also beare recorde, and ye knowe that our recorde is true.

13 I haue many thynges to write: but I wyll not with inke and penne write vnto thee.

14 I trust I shal shortly see thee, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be vnto thee. The louers salute thee. Greete the louers by name.

¶ The epistle of Saint Jude.

¶ Saint Jude admonisheth all Churches generally to take heede of deceauers, which go about to drawe away the heartes of the simple people from the trueth of God, & wylleth them to haue no societie with such, whom he setteth foorth in their liuely colours, shewyng by diuers examples of the scriptures, what horrible vengeaunce is prepared for them: finally, he confirmeth the faythfull, & exhorteth them to perseuer in the doctrine of the Apostles of Jesus Christe.

A 1 IUde the seruaunt of Jesus Christe, the brother of James: To them which are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserued in Jesus Christe:

2 H. L. Mercy vnto you, and peace and loue be multiplied.

3 Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common saluation, it was nedeful for me to write vnto you, to exhorte you, that ye shoulde earnestly (a) contende for the fayth which was once geuen vnto the saintes.

(a) Agaynst assaultes of Satan and heretiques.

4 For there are certayne vngodly men craftily crept in, which were before of olde ordeyned to this condemnation: They turne the grace of our God vnto wantonnesse, and denye God which is the only Lorde, and our Lorde Jesus Christe.

B 5 My mynde is therfore to put you in remembraunce: forasmuch as ye once knowe this, howe that the Lorde, after that he had delyuered the people out of Egypt, destroyed thē which afterward beleued not.

6 The Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitation, he hath reserued in euerlastyng chaynes vnder darkenesse, vnto the iudgement of the great day.

Gen.xix f. 7 *Euen as Sodome and Gomorrhe, and the cities about them, which in lyke maner defiled them selues with fornication, and folowed straunge flesshe, are set foorth for an ensample, and suffer the payne of eternall fyre.

8 Lykewyse, these beyng deceaued by dreames, defyle the flesh, despise rulers, and speake euyll of them that are in authoritie.

9 Yet Michael the Archangel, when he stroue agaynst the deuyll, and disputed about the body of Moyses, durst not geue raylyng sentence, but sayde, the Lorde rebuke thee. C

10 But these speake euyl of those thinges which they knowe not: & what thinges they know naturally, as beastes which are without reason, in those thynges they corrupt them selues.

11 Wo be vnto thē, for they haue folowed the way of *Cain, and are vtterly geuen to the errour of Balaam for lucres sake, and perishe in the gaynsaying of Core. Gen.iiii.b. Num.xvi.f.

12 These are spottes in your feastes of charitie, whē they feast with you, without al feare feedyng thē selues: cloudes they are without water, caryed about of windes, corrupt trees, and without fruite, twise dead, and plucked vp by the rootes: D

13 They are the ragyng waues of the sea, fomyng out their owne shame: They are wandryng starres, to whom is reserued the mist of darknes for euer.

14 Enoch the seuenth from Adam, prophesied before of such, saying: *Beholde, the Lorde shall come with thousandes of saintes, Apoc.i.b. Esai.iii.c.

15 To geue iudgement agaynst all men, and to rebuke all that are vngodly among them, of all their vngodly deedes, which they haue vngodly committed, and and of all their cruel speakynges, Which vngodly sinners haue spoken agaynst hym.

16 These are murmurers, complayners, walkyng after their owne lustes, whose mouthes speake proude thynges. They haue men in great reuerence because of aduantage.

17 But ye beloued, remember the wordes which were spoken before, of the Apostles of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

Actes. xx.f. 18 Howe that they tolde you, *that there i Tim. iii.a. shoulde be begilers in ỹ last tyme, which ii Tim. iii.a. should walke after their owne vngodly
i Peter. ii.a. lustes.

19 These are makers of sectes, fleshlie, hauyng not the spirite.

20 But ye dearely beloued, edifie your selues in your most holy fayth, praying in the holy ghost, 21 And kepe your selues in the loue of God, lokyng for the mercie of our Lord Jesus Christe, vnto eternall lyfe.

22 And haue compassion of some, sepe- F
ratyng them:

23 And other saue with feare, pullyng them out of the fyre, and haue compassion on the other, and hate euen the garment spotted by the flesshe.

24 Unto him that is able to kepe you free from sinne, and to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory with ioy,

25 To God our sauiour, which only is wyse, be glorie, maiestie, dominion, and power, nowe and euer. Amen.

The reuelation of Saint Iohn the diuine.

¶ The first Chapter.

1 The cause of this reuelation. 3 Of them that reade it. 4 John writeth to the seuen Churches. 5 The maiestie and office of the sonne of God. 20 The vision of the candlesticks and starres.

THE (a) reuelation of Jesus Christ, which (b) God gaue vnto hym, for to shewe vnto his seruaũtes thyngs which must shortlye come to passe:

(a) Of things which were hyd before.
(b) Christe receaued this reuelation out of his fathers bosome as his owne doctrine but it was hid in respect of vs, so that Christe as Lorde & God reuealed it to John his seruaunt, by the ministerie of his Angel, to the edification of his Church

☞ And when he had sent, he shewed by his Angel, vnto his seruaunt John,

2 Which bare recorde of the worde of God, and of the testimonie of Jesus Christe, and of all thinges that he sawe.

3 Happy is he that readeth, and they that heare the wordes of this prophesie, and kepe those thynges which are written therin, for the tyme is at hande.

4 John to the seuen Churches in Asia: Grace be vnto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come: and from the seuen spirites which are before his throne,

8 I am Alpha and Omega, the begynnyng and the endyng, sayth the Lorde almyghtie, which is, and which was, and which is to come. C

9 I John, your brother and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdome and patience of Jesus Christe, was in the Ile that is called Pathmos, for ỹ worde of God, and for the witnessyng of Jesus Christe.

10 I was in the spirite on the Lordes day, and hearde behynde me a great voyce, as it had ben of a trumpe,

11 Saying: I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: That thou seest, write in a booke, and sende it vnto the seuen Churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and and vnto Laodicea.

D 12 And I turned backe to see the voyce that spake to me: And whē I was turned, I sawe seuen golden candlestickes, 13 And in ỹ middes of the candlestickes, one lyke vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the feete, and girde about the pappes with a golden girdle.

14 His head, and his heeres were whyte as whyte wooll, and as snowe, and his eyes were as a flambe of fyre.

15 And his feete lyke vnto fine brasse, as though they brent in a furnace, and his voyce as the sounde of many waters.

16 And he had in his ryght hande, seuen starres: And out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged swoorde: *And his face shone, euen as the sunne in his strength.

Mat.xvii.a.

17 And when I sawe hym, I fell at his feete euen as dead: And he layde his ryght hande vpon me, saying vnto me, feare not, *I am the first and the last,

18 And am alyue, and was dead: And Rom.vi.b.

beholde, *I am alyue for euermore, Amen, and haue the keyes of hell and of death.

19 Write therfore the thinges which thou hast seene, and the thynges which are, and the thinges which must be fulfilled hereafter.

20 The misterie of the seuen starres which thou sawest in my ryght hande, and the seuen goldē candlestickes. The seuen starres, are the Angels of the seuē Churches: And the seuen candlestickes whiche thou sawest, are the seuen Churches.

The .ij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth foure Churches, 5 to repentaunce, 10 to perseueraunce, patience, and amendement, 14.20.23. aswel by threatninges, 7.10.17.26. as promises of rewarde.

A1 VNto the Angel of the Churche at Ephesus, write: these thynges sayth he that holdeth the seuen starres in his ryght hande, and that walketh in the middes of the seuen golden candlestickes:

2 I knowe thy workes, and thy labour, and thy patience, and howe thou canst not forbeare them which are euyll: and hast examined them which say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast founde them lyers:

3 And hast suffred, and hast patience, B and for my names sake hast laboured, and hast not faynted.

4 Neuertheles, I haue [somewhat] against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first workes: Or els I wyll come vnto thee shortly, & wyll remoue thy candlesticke out of his place, except thou repēt.

14 But I haue a fewe thynges agaynst thee, because thou hast there, them that

¶ The .iij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth the Churches or ministers to the true profession of fayth, and to watchyng, 12 with promises to them that persever.

A1 AND Write vnto the Angel of the Churche that is at Sardis, this sayth he that hath the seuen spirites of God, and the seuen starres. I knowe thy workes: thou hast a name that thou lyuest, and thou art dead.

2 Be awake, and strength the thynges which remayne, that are redie to dye: For I haue not founde thy workes perfect before God.

3 Remember therfore howe thou hast receaued and heard, and holde fast, and repent. * If thou shalt not watche, I wyll come on thee as a thiefe, and thou shalt not knowe what houre I wyll come vpon thee.

i Thess.v.a. ii Pet.iii.c.

4 Thou hast a fewe names in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garmētes, and they shall walke with me in white, for they are worthie.

5 He that ouercommeth, shalbe thus clothed in whyte aray, and I wyll not put out his name out of the booke of life, and I will confesse his name before my father, and before his Angels.

6 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches.

B 7 And Write vnto ỹ Angel of the Church of Philadelphia, this sayth he that is holy and true, which hath the key of Dauid, * which openeth, and no man shutteth, and shutteth, and no man openeth.

Esai.xxii.f Iob.xii.c.

8 I knowe thy workes: Beholde, I haue set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it, for thou hast a litle strength, & hast kept my sayinges: and hast not denyed my name.

9 Beholde, I make them of the synagogue of Satan, which call them selues Iewes and are not, but do lye: Behold, I wyll make them that they shal come and worshyp before thy feete, and shall knowe that I haue loued thee.

C 10 Because thou hast kept the wordes of my patience, therfore I wyll kepe thee from the houre of temptation, which wyll come vpon all the worlde, to trie them that dwel vpon the earth.

11 Beholde, I come shortly: Holde that which thou haste, that no man take away thy crowne.

12 Hym that ouercõmeth, wyll I make a pyller in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: And I wyll write vpon him the name of my God, and the name of the citie of my God, newe Hierusalem, which commeth downe out of heauen from my God, and [I wyll write vpon hym] my newe name.

13 Let hym that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto ỹ Churches. D

14 And vnto the Angel of the Churche which is in Laodicea, Write: This sayth Amen, the faythfull and true witnesse, the begynnyng of the creatures of God.

15 I knowe thy workes, that thou arte neither colde nor hotte: I would thou were colde or hotte.

16 So thē, because thou art luke warme, and neither colde nor hotte, I wyll spewe thee out of my mouth:

17 Because thou sayest, I am riche and increased with goodes, and haue neede of nothyng: & knowest not howe that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poore, and blynde, and naked.

18 I counsel thee to bye of me gold tryed in the fyre, that thou mayest be riche, and whyte rayment, that thou mayest be * clothed, that thy fylthie nakednesse do not appeare, and annoynt thyne eyes with eye salue, that thou mayest see.

ii Cor.v.a.

19 * As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten: Be feruent therfore, & repent.

Prou.iii.b. Heb.xii.b.

20 Beholde, I stande at the doore and knocke: If any man heare my voyce, and open the doore, I wyll come in to hym, and wyll suppe with hym, and he with me.

21 To hym that ouercommeth, wyll I graunt to sitte with me in my throne, euen as I ouercame, and haue sitten with my father in his throne.

22 Let hym ỹ hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches.

¶ The .iiij. Chapter.

1 The vision of the maiestie of God. 2 He seeth the throne, and one sytting vpon it. 8 and .xxiiij. seates about it, with .xxiiij. elders sytting vpon them, and foure beastes praysing God day and nyght.

A 1 AFter this, I loked, and beholde a doore was open in heauē: and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, which saide: Come vp hyther, and I wyll shewethee thynges which must be fulfylled hereafter.

2 And immediatly I was in the spirite, and behold, a throne was set in heauen, and one sate on the throne.

B 3 And he that sate, was to loke vpon like vnto a Jasper stone and a Sardine stone: and there was a raynebowe about the throne, in sight like to an Emeralde.

4 And about ỹ throne were .xxiiij. seates, and vpon the seates .xxiiij. elders sitting, clothed in whyte rayment, and had on their heades crowbes of golde.

5 And out of the throne proceaded lightnynges, and thundrynges, and voyces, and there were seuē lampes of fire burnyng before the throne, whiche are the seuen spirites of God.

C 6 And before the throne there was a sea of glasse, lyke vnto cristall, and in the myddest of the throne, & rounde about the throne, were foure beastes, full of eyes before and behynde.

7 And the first beast was lyke a Lion, and the seconde beast lyke a Calfe, & the thirde beast had a face as a Man, and the fourth beast was like a fleyng Egle.

8 And the foure beastes had eche one of them sixe wynges about hym, and they were full of eyes within: and they had no rest day neither night, saying: *Holy, holy, holy Lorde God almyghtie, which was, and is, and is to come. *Esai. vi. b.

D 9 And when those beastes gaue glorie, and honour, and thankes to hym that sate on the throne, which lyueth for euer and euer:

10 The .xxiiij. elders fell downe before hym that sate on the throne, and worshipped hym that lyueth for euer, and cast their crowbes before the throne, saying:

11 Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receaue glorie, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all thynges, and for thy pleasures sake they are & were created.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

1 He seeth the lambe openyng the booke, 8. 14. and therfore the foure beastes, the .xxiiij. elders, and the angels, prayse the lambe, and do hym worshipp for their redemption and other benefites.

A 1 AND I sawe in the right hande of hym that sate on the throne, a booke written within, and on the backe syde, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I sawe a strong angell, whiche preached with a loude voyce: who is worthy to open the booke, and to loose the seales therof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neither to loke theron.

4 And I wept muche, because no man was founde worthy to open & to reade the booke, neither to loke theron.

5 And one of the elders sayde vnto me, wepe not: behold a Lion of the tribe of Juda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteyned to open the booke, and to loose the seuen seales therof.

6 And I beheld, and loe in the middes of the throne and of the foure beastes, and in the middes of the elders, stoode a lambe as though he had ben kylled, hauyng seuen hornes & seuen eyes, whiche are the seuen spirites of God, sent into all the worlde.

B 7 And he came, and toke the booke out of the right hande of hym that sate vpon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the booke, the foure beastes and .xxiiij. elders fell downe before the lambe, hauyng euery one of them harpes, and golden vyals full of odours, which are the prayers of saintes:

9 And they ſong a newe ſong, ſaying: Thou art worthy to take the booke and to open the ſeales therof: for thou waſt kylled, and haſt redeemed vs to God by thy blood, out of al kinrede, and tongue, and people, and nation:

10 And haſt made vs vnto our God kinges and prieſtes, and we ſhall raigne on the earth.

D 11 And I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many angels about the throne, and [about] the beaſtes and the elders, and heard thouſande thouſandes, 12 Saying with a loude voyce: Worthy is the lambe that was kylled to receaue power, and richeſſe, and wiſedome, and ſtrength, and honor, and glorie, and bleſſyng.

13 And all the creatures whiche are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the ſea, and all that are in them, heard I, ſaying: Bleſſyng, honour, glorie, and power be vnto hym that ſitteth vpon the throne, and vnto the lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beaſtes ſayde, Amen. And the .xxiiij. elders fell vpon their faces, and worſhipped hym that lyueth for euermore.

¶ The .vj. Chapter.

The lambe openeth the fire ſeales, and many thynges folowe the openyng therof, ſo that this conteyneth a generall prophelie to the ende of the worlde.

A 1 AND I ſawe when the lambe opened one of the ſeales, and I heard one of the foure beaſtes ſay, as it were the noyſe of thunder, come and ſee: and I ſawe.

2 And behold, there was a whyte horſe, and he that ſate on hym had a bowe, & a crowne was geuen vnto hym, and he went forth conquerynge, and for to ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the ſeconde ſeale, I hearde the ſeconde beaſt ſaye, come and ſee.

4 And there went out another horſe that was redde, and power was geuen to him that ſate theron to take peace from the earth, and that they ſhould kyll one another: *and there was geuen vnto Eſa.xxvii.a hym a great ſworde.

5 And when he had opened the thirde B ſeale, I heard the third beaſt ſay, come and ſee. And I behelde, and loe, a blacke horſe, and he that ſate on hym hadde a payre of balaunces in his hande.

6 And I heard a voyce in the myddes of the foure beaſtes ſaye: A meaſure of wheate for a penie, and three meaſures of barly for a penie, and oyle and wine ſee thou hurt not.

And

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, I hearde the voyce of the fourth beast say, come and see.
8 And I loked, and behold a pale horse,
& his name that sate on him was death, and hell folowed after hym, and power was geuen vnto them ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kyll with sworde, & with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

℄ 9 And when he had opened the fift seale, b.xxii.b. I sawe vnder the aulter *the soules of them that were kylled for the worde of God, and for the testimonie which they had.
10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying: Howe long taryest thou Lorde, holy and true, to iudge and to auenge our blood on thē that dwell on ẏ earth?
11 And long whyte garmentes were geuen vnto euery one of them: and it was sayde vnto them, that they should reste yet for a litle season, vntyll the number of their felowes, and brethren, and of them that shoulde be kylled as they were, were fulfylled.

℣ 12 And I beheelde when he had opened the sixt seale, and loe there was a great earthquake, & the sunne was as blacke as sackcloth made of heere, & the moone ware all euen as blood:

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, euen as a figge tree casteth her vntimely figges when she is shaken of a myghtie wynde.
14 And heauen vanished awaye as a scroule when it is roulled together, and all mountaynes and yles were moued out of their places.
15 And the kynges of the earth, and the great men, and the ryche men, and the chiefe capitaines, and the myghtie men, and euery bonde man, and euery free man, hyd them selues in dennes and in rockes of the hylles:
16 *And sayde to the hylles & rockes, fall on vs, and hyde vs from the presence of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the lambe: Ose.x.b. Luk.xxiii.d
17 For the great day of his wrath is come: and who is able to endure?

The. vij. Chapter.

4. 9. He seeth the seruauntes of God sealed in their foreheades, out of all nations and people, 15 which though they suffer trouble, yet the lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaynes of lyuyng water, 17 and God shall wype awaye all teares from their eyes.

1 AND after that, I sawe foure angels stande on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure wyndes of ỹ earth, that the wynde shoulde not blowe on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.
2 ☞ And I sawe another angell ascende from the rysing of the sunne, which had the seale of the lyuyng God, and he cryed with a loude voyce to the foure angels to whom power was geuen to hurt the earth and the sea,
3 Saying: Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, neither the trees, tyll we haue sealed the seruaũtes of our God in their foreheades.
4 And I hearde the number of them which were sealed: And there were sealed an C. and xliiii. thousande, of all the tribes of the chyldren of Israel. B
5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed. xij. thousande. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed. xij. thousande. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed. xij. thousande.
6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed. xij. thousande. Of the tribe of Nephthali were sealed. xij. thousande. Of ỹ tribe of Manasses were sealed. xij. thousande.
7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed xij. thousande. Of ỹ tribe of Leui were sealed. xij. thousande. Of ỹ tribe of Issachar were sealed. xij. thousande.
8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed xii.

xij. thousande. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed.xij. thousande.Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed xij. thousand.

C 9 After this I beheilde, and loe a great multitude which no man could number of all nations,and kinredes,and people, and tongues, stoode before the throne, and before the lambe, clothed with long whyte garmentes, and palmes in their handes,

10 And cryed with a loude voyce, saying: Saluation be ascribed to hym that sitteth vpon the throne of our God, and vnto the lambe.

11 And all the angels stoode in the compasse of the throne, and of the elders, & of the foure beastes, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshypped God,

12 Saying, Amen: Blessyng,and glorie, and wisedome, and thankes, & honour, and power, and myght, be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the elders aunswered, saying vnto me: What are these which are arayed in long whyte garmentes? and whence came they?

D 14 And he sayde vnto hym, Lorde thou wotest. And he sayde to me: These are they which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, and made them whyte by the blood of the lambe.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue hym daye and nyght in his temple, and he that sitteth in the throne, wyll dwell among them.

16 They shall hunger no more, neither thirst, neither shall the sunne lyght on them, neither any heate.

17 For the lambe which is in the myddes of the throne shall feede them, and shall leade them vnto fountaynes of lyuyng water, and God shall wype awaye all teares from their eyes.

¶ The .viij. Chapter.

1 The seuenth seale is opened, there is silence in heauen. 6 The foure angels blowe their trumpettes, and great plagues folowe vpon the earth.

A 1 AND When he had opened the seuenth seale,ther was silence in heauē about the space of halfe an houre:

2 And I sawe the seuen angels standyng before God, and to them were geuen seuen trumpets.

3 And another angell came and stoode before the aulter, hauyng a golden senser, and much of odours was geuen vnto hym, that he should offer of the prayers of all saintes vpon the golden aulter which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours whiche came of the prayers of all saintes, ascended vp before God, out of the angels hande.

B 5 And the angel toke the senser, and fylled it with fire of the aulter, and cast it into the earth: and voyces were made, and thundrynges, and lyghtnynges, & earthquake.

6 And the seuen angels whiche had the seuen trumpettes, prepared them selues to blowe.

7 The first angell blewe, & there was made hayle & fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the thirde part of trees wasburnt, and all greene grasse was burnt.

C 8 And the seconde angell blewe, and as it were a great mountayne burnyng with fire was cast into the sea, and the thirde part of the sea turned to blood.

9 And the thirde part of the creatures whiche were in the sea, and hadde lyfe, dyed, and the thirde part of shippes were destroyed.

10 And the third angell blewe, and there fell a great starre from heauen, burning as it were a lampe, and it fell into the thirde part of the ryuers, and into fountaynes taynes of waters:

D 11 And the name of the starre is called wormewood, and the thirde part was turned to wormewood, and many men dyed of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angell blewe, and the thirde part of the sunne was smytten, and the thirde part of the moone, and the thirde part of starres, so that the thirde part of them was darkened: and the day was smitten, that the third part of it shoulde not shyne, and lykewise the nyght.

31 And I beheldе, and hearde an angell fleyng through the myddes of heauen, saying with a loude voyce, Wo, Wo, Wo to the inhabiters of the earth, because of the voyces to come of the trumpe of the three angels which were yet to blowe.

The .ix. Chapter.

1 The fift and sixt angell blowe their trumpettes, the starre falleth from heauen. 3 The locustes come out of the smoke. 12 The first wo is past. 14 The foure angels that were bounde are loosed. 18 And the thirde part of men is kylled.

A 1 AND the fift angell blewe, and I sawe a starre fall from heauen vnto ye earth: and to hym was geuen the key of the bottomlesse pit.

2 And he opened the bottomlesse pit, and the smoke of the pit arose, as the smoke of a great fornace, and the sunne and the ayre were darkened by the reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke locustes vpon the earth, and vnto them was geuen power, as the scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commaunded them that they shoulde not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree: but only those men which haue not the seale of God in their foreheades.

5 And to them was commaunded that they should not kyll them, but that they shoulde be vexed fiue monethes, and their paine was as the payne that commeth of a scorpion when he hath stong a man.

6 *And in those dayes shall men seke death, and shall not fynde it, and shall desire to dye, and death shall flee from them. Esaias.ii.d. Ose.x.e. Luk.xxiii.d

7 And the similitude of the locustes was like vnto horses prepared vnto battayle, and on their heades were as it were crownes lyke vnto golde, and their faces were as it had ben the faces of men. B

8 And they had heere as the heere of women, & their teeth were as ye teeth of Lions.

9 And they had habbergions as it were habbergions of iron, and the sounde of their wynges was as ỹ sounde of charrettes when many horses runne together to batayle.

10 And they had tayles lyke vnto scorpions, and there were stynges in their tayles: and their power was to hurt men fiue monethes.

11 And they had a king ouer them, which is the angell of the bottomlesse pytte, whose name in the Hebrue tongue is Abadon, but in ỹ Greke tongue Apollyon, [that is to say, a destroyer.]

12 One woe is past, & beholde two woes come yet after this.

℣ 13 And the sixt angell bleWe, & I hearde a voyce from the foure hornes of the golden aulter, which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixt angell whiche had the trumpe: Loose the foure angels which are bounde in the great riuer Euphrates.

15 And the foure angels were loosed, whiche were prepared for an houre, for a day, for a moneth, and for a yere, for to slea the thirde part of men.

16 And the number of horsemen of warre were twentie thousand times ten thousande, & I hearde the number of them.

17 And thus I sawe the horses in a vision, and them that sate on them, hauing fierie habbergions of a iacinct colour, and brymstone, and the heades of the horses were as the heades of lions, and out of their mouthes went fourth fire, and smoke, and brymstone.

18 And of these three was the third part of men kylled [that is to say] of fire, smoke and brymstone, which proceaded out of the mouthes of them. ℣

19 For their power was in their mouthes, & in their tayles: for their tayles were lyke vnto serpentes, and had heades, & with them they dyd hurt.

20 And the remnaunt of the men whiche were not killed by these plagues, repented not of the deedes of their handes, that they shoulde not worship deuyls, and idoles of golde, and syluer, & brasse, and stone, and of wood, whiche neither can see, neither heare, neither go:

21 Also they repented not of their murther, & of their sorcerie, neither of their fornication, neither of their theft.

℣ The

The. x. Chapter.

1 The Angel hath the booke open, 6 he sweareth there shalbe no more tyme, he geueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

A1 AND I sawe another myghtie Angel come downe frō heauē, clothed with a cloude, and ẏ raynebowe vpon his head, and his face as it were the sunne, and his feete as it were pillers of fyre.

2 And he had in his hande a litle booke open, and he put his ryght foote vpon the sea, and his left foote on the earth:

3 And cryed with a loude voyce, as whē a Lion roreth: And when he had cryed, seuen thunders vttered their voyces.

4 And when the seuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: and I hearde a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me: seale vp those thinges which the seuen thunders vttered, and write them not.

B 5 And the Angel which I sawe stande vpon the sea and vpon the earth, lyft vp his hande to heauen,

6 And sware by hym that lyueth for euermore, which created heauen and the thynges that therin are, & the earth and the thinges that therin are, and the sea, and the thynges which therin are, that there shoulde be no longer tyme.

7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seuenth Angel, when he shall begyn to blowe, euen the misterie of God shalbe finished, as he declared to his seruaūtes the prophetes.

8 And the voyce which I hearde from heauen, spake vnto me agayne, & sayde: C
* Go, and take the litle booke which is open in the hande of the Angel, which standeth vpon the sea and vpon ẏ earth. Ezech.ii.c.

9 And I went vnto the Angel, & sayde vnto hym, geue me the litle booke. And he sayde vnto me, take it and eate it vp, and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shalbe in thy mouth as sweete as hony.

10 * And I toke the litle booke out of the D
Angels hande, and ate it vp, and it was Ezech.iii.c.
in my mouth as sweete as hony: and assoone as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he sayde vnto me, thou must prophesie agayne among the people, and nations, and tongues, & to many kinges.

¶ The. xj. Chapter.

1 The temple is measured. 3 Two witnesses rayſed vp by the Lorde, are murthered by the beaſt, 11 but after receaued to glorie. 15 Chriſte is exalted, 16 and God is prayſed by the .xxiiii. elders.

11 AND thē was geuen me a reede lyke vnto a rod, and the angel ſtoode by, ſaying: Riſe ⁊ meate ỹ temple of God, ⁊ the aulter, and them that worſhippe therein:

2 But the court which is without the temple, caſt out, and meate it not: for it is geuen vnto the gentiles, and the holy citie ſhall they treade vnder foote fourtie and two monethes.

3 And I wyl geue power vnto my two witneſſes, and they ſhall prophecie a thouſande, two hundred, and threeſcore dayes, clothed in ſackcloth.

4 These are two olyue trees, and two candleſtickes, ſtandyng before the God of the earth.

5 And yf any man wyll hurt them, fyre ſhal proceade out of their mouthes, ⁊ cōſume their enemies: And if any man wil hurt them, this wyſe muſt he be kylled.

6 These haue power to ſhut heauen, that it rayne not in the dayes of their prophecying: and haue power ouer waters, to turne them to blood, and to ſmite the earth with all maner plagues, as often as they wyll.

7 And whē they haue finiſhed their teſtimonie, the beaſt that commeth out of the bottomleſſe pit, ſhall make warre againſt them, and ſhal ouercome them, and kyll them.

8 And their bodyes ſhall lye in ỹ ſtreates of the great citie, which ſpiritually is called Sodome and Egypt, where our Lorde was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kinredes, and tongues, and they of the nations, ſhall ſee their bodyes three dayes and an halfe, ⁊ ſhall not ſuffer their bodyes to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwell vpon the earth ſhal reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and ſhall ſende gyftes one to another: for theſe two prophetes vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three dayes and an halfe, ℭ the ſpirite of lyfe [commyng] from God, ſhall enter into them: And they ſhall ſtande vp vpon their feete, ⁊ great feare ſhall come vpon thē which ſawe them.

12 And they ſhall heare a great voyce from heauen, ſaying vnto them, come vp hyther. And they ſhall aſcende vp to heauen in a cloude, and their enemies ſhall ſee them.

13 And the ſame houre ſhall there be a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the citie ſhall fall, and in the earthquake ſhalbe ſlaine names of men ſeuen thouſande: and the remnaunt ſhalbe afraide, and geue glorie to the God of heauen.

14 The ſeconde wo is paſt, and beholde the thirde wo wyll come anone.

And

15 And the seuenth angell bleWe, & there were made greate voyces in heauen, saying: the kyngdomes of this Worlde are our Lordes, and his Christes, and he shall raigne for euermore.

16 And the .xxiiij. elders which sit before God on their seates, fel vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying: We geue thee thankes, O Lorde God almyghtie, which art, and wast, and art to come: for thou hast receaued thy great myght, & hast raigned.

18 And the nations were angrie, and thy wrath is come, and the tyme of the dead that they shoulde be iudged, and that thou shouldest geue rewarde vnto thy seruauntes the prophetes and saintes, and to them that feare thy name, small and great, and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heauen, and there were seene in his temple the arke of his testament: and there folowed lyghtninges, and voyces, and thunderinges, and earthquake, and much hayle.

¶ The .xij. Chapter.

1 There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the sunne. 7 Michael fyghteth with the Dragon which persecuteth the woman. 11 The victorie is gotten, to the comfort of the faythfull.

1 AND there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A woman clothed with the sunne, & the moone vnder her feete, and vpō her head a crowne of twelue starres:

2 And she was with childe, and cryed, trauaylyng in birth, and payned redy to be delyuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen, for beholde, a great redde dragon, hauing seuen heades, and tenne hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heades.

4 And his tayle drue the thirde part of the starres of heauen, and cast them to the earth: And the dragon stoode before the woman which was redie to be deliuered, for to deuoure her childe assoone as it were borne.

5 And she brought forth a man childe, which shoulde rule all nations with a rodde of yron: And her sonne was taken vp vnto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into wildernesse, where she had a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousande two hundreth and threscore days.

7 And there was a battayle in heauen, Michael and his angels fought with the dragon, and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And preuayled not, neither was their place founde any more in heauen.

9 And the great dragon, that olde serpent, called the deuyll & Satanas, was cast out, which deceaueth all the world: And he was cast into the earth, and his angels were cast out with hym.

10 And I hearde a loude voyce saying in heauen: Nowe is made saluation, & strength, & the kingdome of our God, & the power of his Christ: For the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day & nyght, 11 And they ouercame hym by the blood of the Lambe, and by the worde of their testimonie, and they loued not their lyues vnto the death.

12 Therfore reioyce heauens, and ye that dwell in them. Woo to the inhabiters of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuyll is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short tyme.

13 And when the dragon sawe that he D was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man childe.

14 And to the woman were geuen two winges, of a great Egle, that she myght flee into the wildernesse into her place, where she is norished for a tyme, tymes, and halfe a tyme, from the presence of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman as it had ben a fludde, that he myght cause her to be caryed away of the fludde.

16 And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swalowed vp the ryuer which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

And

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnaunt of her seede, which kepe the commaundementes of God, & haue the testimonie of Jesus Christe.
18 And I stoode on the sea sande.

The .xiij. Chapter.

1.8. The beast deceaueth the reprobate, 2. 4. 12. and is confirmed by another.
17 The priuiledge of the beastes marke.

A1 AND I sawe a beast ryse out of the sea, hauing seuen heades, and ten hornes, & vpon his hornes ten crownes, and vpon his head the name of blasphemie.
2 And the beast which I sawe, was like a Leoparde, and his feete were as [the feete] of a Beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lion: And the dragon gaue hym his power, and his seate, and great authoritie.
3 And I sawe one of his heades, as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wounde was healed: And all the world wondred after the beast.
4 And they worshipped the dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying: Who is lyke vnto the beast: Who is able to warre with hym:
5 And there was geuen vnto hym a mouth, that spake great thynges and blasphemies, and power was geuen vnto hym, to do. xlij. monethes.
6 And he opened his mouth vnto blasphemie agaynst God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.
7 And it was geuen vnto hym to make warre with the saintes, & to ouercome them: And power was geuen him ouer all kinredes, and tongues, and nations,
8 And al ẏ dwel vpon the earth, worshipped him whose names are not writtẽ in the booke of lyfe of ẏ lambe, which was killed from the beginnyng of the world.
9 If any man haue an eare, let hym heare.
10 He that leadeth into captiuitie, shall go into captiuitie: * He that kylleth with a swoorde, must be kylled with a swoorde. Here is the patience and the fayth of the saintes. Gene.xi.b Math.26.e
11 And I behelde another beast comynyng vp out of the earth, and he had two hornes lyke a lambe, and he spake as dyd the dragon. C 12 And he dyd all that ẏ first beast coulde do in his presence, & he caused the earth and them which dwell therein, to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.
13 And he dyd great wonders, so that he made fyre come downe from heauen on the earth in the syght of men.
14 And deceaued them that dwelt on the earth, by the meanes of those signes which he had power to do in the syght of the beast, saying to them that dwelt on the earth, that they shoulde make the image of the beast which had the wounde of a swoorde, and dyd lyue.
15 And he had power to geue a spirite vnto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast shoulde speake, and shoulde cause that as many as woulde not worship the image of the beast, shoulde be kylled. D
16 And he made all both smal & great, rich & poore, free & bonde, to receaue a marke in their right hand, or in their foreheads.
17 And that no man myght bye or sell, saue he that had the marke or ẏ name of the beast, other ẏ number of his name.
18 Here is Wisdome. Let hym that hath witte, count ẏ number of the beast: For it is the number of a man, & his number is sixe hundred threescore and sixe.

¶ The. xiiij. Chapter.

1 The notable companie of the lambe. 6 One angel announceth the Gospel. 8 Another, the fall of Babylon. 9 And the thirde warneth to flee from the beast. 13 Of their blessednesse which dye in the Lorde. 18 Of the Lordes haruest.

A1 AND I loked, and lo, a lambe stoode on the mount Sion, and with hym an hundreth fourtie and foure thousande, hauyng his fathers name written in their foreheades.
2 And I hearde a voyce from heauen, as the sounde of many waters, and as the the voyce of a great thunder: And I heard the voyce of harpers harpyng with their harpes:

3 And they song as it were a newe song before the throne, and before the foure beastes, & the elders, and no man coulde learne that song, but the hundreth and fourtie & foure thousande, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were with wome̅, for they are virg folowe the lambe whither goeth: These were redeeme beyng the first fruites vnto G the lambe.

5 And in their mouthes was guile: For they are without the throne of God.

6 And I sawe another angell flee in the middes of heauen, hauyng the euerlastyng Gospell, to preache vnto them that sit and dwel on the earth, and to all nations, and kinredes, and tongues, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voyce: *Feare God, and geue honour to hym, for the houre of his iudgement is come: and worshippe hym that made heauen and earth, and the sea, and fountaynes of water.

8 And there folowed another angell, saying: *Babylon is fallen is fallen that great citie, for she made all nations drinke of the wyne of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the thirde angell folowed them, saying with a loude voyce: If any man worshippe the beast and his image, and receaue his marke in his foreheade, or on his hande,

10 The same shall drynke of the wyne of the wrath of God: yea, of the pure wyne which is powred in ỹ cup of his wrath: And he shalbe punished in fyre & brimstone, before the holy angels, a the lambe.

11 And the smoke of their torme deth vp euermore: And they h rest day nor nyght which worsh beast and his image, and whosoeu receaueth the prynt of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saintes: h are they that kepe the commaundeme tes of God, and the fayth of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Write: Blessed are the dead, which hereafter dye in the Lorde. Euen so sayth the spirite, that they rest from their labours, and their workes folowe them.

14 And I loked, and beholde a whyte cloude, and vpon the cloude one sittyng lyke vnto the sonne of man, hauyng on his head a golden crowne, and in his hande a sharpe sickle.

15 And another angell came out of the temple, crying with a loude voyce to hym that sate on the cloude: *Thrust in thy sickle & reape, for the time is come to reape: for the haruest of ỹ earth is ripe.

And

16. And he that sate on the cloude thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angell came out of the temple which is in heauen, hauyng also a sharpe sickle.

18 And I sawe another angell came out from the aulter, which had power ouer fyre and cryed with a loude crye to hym that had the sharpe sickle, and sayde: Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyarde of ỹ earth, for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the angell thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the grapes of the vineyarde of the earth, and cast them into the great wynefat of the wrath of God.

20 And the wynefat was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the fat, euen vnto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand & sixe hundreth furlonges.

¶ The. xv. Chapter.

1 Seuen angels haue the seuen last plagues. 3 The song of them that ouercome the beast. 7 The seuen vials full of Gods wrath.

A 1 AND I sawe another signe in heauen, great & marueylous, seuen angels hauyng the seuen last plagues, for in them is fulfylled the wrath of God.

2 And I sawe as it were a glassie sea mingled with fyre, and them that had gotten the victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stande on ỹ glassie sea, hauyng the harpes of God.

3 And they sang the song of Moyses the seruaunt of God, and the song of the lambe, saying: Great and marueylous are thy workes *Lorde God almyghtie, iust and true are thy wayes thou kyng of saintes.

Esai. xxi. c. Iere. li. a.

4 Who shall not feare thee O Lorde, and glorifie thy name: for thou only art holy: And all gentiles shal come and worship before thee, for thy iudgemẽtes are made manifest.

5 And after that I loked, and beholde, the temple of the tabernacle of testimonie was open in heauen: B

6 And the seuen angels came out of the temple, which had the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bryght lynnen, and hauing their brestes girded with golden girdels.

7 And one of the foure beastes, gaue vnto the seuen angels seuen golden vials, full of the wrath of God which lyueth for euermore.

8 And the temple was full of the smoke of the glorie of God, and of his power: and no man was able to enter into the temple, tyll the seuen plagues of the seuen angels were fulfylled.

vp the riuer which the Dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the Dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seede, which keepe the commandements of God, and haue the testimonie of Jesus Christ.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, speaking great things, and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to doe fourtie and two monethes.

6 And hee opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen vnto him to make warre with the saintes, and to ouercome them: And power was giuen him ouer all kinreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell vpon the earth, shall worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of life of the lambe, which was killed from the beginning of the world.

9 If any man haue an eare, let him heare.

10 * He that leadeth into captiuitie, shall goe into captiuitie: hee that killeth with a sword, must be killed with a sword. Heere is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And I beheld another beast comming vp out of the earth, and hee had two hornes like a lambe, and hee spake as did the Dragon.

12 And hee doeth all that the first beast could doe in his presence, and he causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And hee doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come downe from heauen on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiueth them that dwell on the earth, by the meanes of those signes which hee had power to doe in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast which hath the wound of a sword, and did liue.

15 And he had power to giue a spirite vnto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speake, and should cause that as many as woulde not worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And hee causeth all, both small and great, rich and poore, free and bond, that he shoulde giue them a marke in their right hand, or in their foreheads.

17 And that no man might buy or sell, saue hee that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisedome. Let him that hath wit, count the number of the beast: For it is the number of a man, and his number is sixe hundred threescore and sixe.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The notable companie of the lambe. 6 One angel announceth the Gospel, 8 Another the fall of Babylon, 9 And the third warneth to flee from the beast. 18 Of the Lords haruest.

AND I looked, and lo, a Lambe stoode on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred fourtie and foure thousand, hauing his fathers name written in their foreheads. The Epistle on Innocents day.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen, as the sound of many waters, and as the voyce of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of Harpers, harping with their Harpes:

3 And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the foure beastes, and the Elders, and no man coulde learne that song, but the hundred and fourtie and foure thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women: for they are virgins: These are they which followe the Lambe whithersoeuer hee goeth: These were redeemed from men, being the first fruites vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouth was founde no guile: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6 And I sawe another Angel flee in the middest of heauen, hauing the euerlasting Gospel, to preach vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to all nations, and kinreds, and tongues, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voyce, * Feare God, and giue glory to him, for the houre of his iudgement is come: * and worship him that made heauen and earth, and the sea, and fountaines of waters. Psal. 146. Actes 14. 15.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, * Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great citie, for shee made all nations drinke of the Esay. 21. 8. Ierem. 51. 8.

wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voyce, If any man worship the beast and his image, & receiue his marke in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shal drinke of the wine of the wrath of God: yea, of the pure wine which is powred in the cup of his wrath, & he shalbe punished in fire and brimstone, before the holy angels, and before the Lambe, 11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth vp euermore: And they haue no rest day nor night which worship the beast and his image, and whosoeuer receiueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints: Here are they that keepe the commandements of God, and the faith of Iesus.

13 And I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Write, Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lorde. Euen so sayeth the spirite, that they may rest from their labour, and their workes follow them.

14 And I looked, and beholde a white cloud, & vpon the cloud one sitting like vnto the sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple crying with a loud voyce to him that Ioel.3.13. sate on the cloud: *Thrust in thy sickle and reape, for the time is come to reape, for the Mat.13.39. *haruest of the earth is ‖ ripe.
Or, dried. 16 And he that sate on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another Angel came out of the temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, which had power ouer fire, and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharpe sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth, for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vineyard of the earth, and cast it into the great winefat of the wrath of God.

20 And the winefat was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the fat euen vnto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and fiue hundred furlongs.

The xv. Chapter.

The song of them that ouercome the beast.

AND I sawe another signe in heauen great and marueilous, seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues, for in them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I sawe as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten the victory of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand on the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God.

3 And they sing the song of Moses the seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great and marueilous are thy workes, Lord God Almightie, *iust and true are thy Psal.145.6.
wayes, thou king of saints.

4 *Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and Iere.10.7.
glorifie thy name? for thou onely art holy: And all Gentiles shall come, and worship before thee, for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimonie was open in heauen:

6 And the seuen angels came out of the temple, hauing the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, and hauing their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the foure beasts gaue vnto the seuen Angels seuen golden vials, full of the wrath of God which liueth for euermore.

8 And the temple was full of the smoke of the glorie of God, and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seuen plagues of the seuen angels were fulfilled.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The angels powre out their vials full of wrath, 6 and what plagues follow thereof. 15 Admonition to take heede and watch.

AND I heard a great voyce out of the temple, saying to the seuen Angels, Goe your wayes, powre out the vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the first Angell went, and powred out his viall vpon the earth, and there fell a noisome & a sore botch vpon the men which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel shed out his viall vpon the sea, and it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man: and euery liuing thing dyed in the sea.

4 And the third angell shed out his viall vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they turned to blood.

5 And I heard the angell of the waters say, Lord, which art, and wast, thou art righteous and that holy one, because thou hast giuen such iudgements:

6 For they haue shed out the blood of saints and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthie.

7 And I heard another out of the altar, say, Euen so Lord God almighty, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth angel powred out his vial on the Sunne, & power was giuen vnto him to vexe men with feruent heate of fire.

9 And men boiled in great heate, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not to giue him glory.

10 And the fifth angell powred out his viall viall vpon the seate of the beast, and his kingdome waxed darke, and they gnewe their tongues for sorowe, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen, for their sorowes, and for their sores, and repented not their deedes.

12 And the first Angell powred out his viall vpon the great riuer Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the kings of the East should be prepared.

13 And I sawe three vncleane spirits like frogs, come out of the mouth of the Dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of deuils working miracles, to goe out vnto the kings of the whole world, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God Almightie.

Mat.24.44. luke 12.39. 15 *Behold, I come as a thiefe. Happie is hee that watcheth, & keepeth his garments, least hee walke naked, and men see his filthinesse.

16 And hee gathered them together into a place, called in the Hebrue tongue Armagedon.

17 And the seuenth Angell powred out his viall into the aire: and there came a great voyce out of the temple of heauen, from the throne, saying, It is done.

18 And there followed voyces, thunderings, and lightenings: and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, so mightie an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great citie was diuided into three partes, and the cities of the nations fell: And great Babylon came in remembrance before God, * to giue vnto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath. Jere.25.15

20 Euery Ile also fledde away, and the mountaines were not found.

21 And there fell a great haile, as it had bene talents, out of heauen, vpon the men, and the men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the haile: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

The xvij. Chapter.

3 The description of the great whore, 8 and her sinnes, and punishment.

AND there came one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with mee, saying vnto me, Come, I will shew vnto thee the iudgement of the great whore, that sitteth vpon many waters:

2 With whome haue committed fornication the kings of the earth, and the inhabiters of the earth are drunken with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he caried me away in the spirit into the wildernesse: & I sawe a woman sit vpon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, hauing seuen heads, and ten hornes.

4 And the woman was arayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold, precious stone, and pearles, hauing a cuppe of golde in her hand, full of abominations and filthinesse of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, a mysterie, great Babylon, the mother of whoredome and abominations of the earth.

6 And I sawe the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Jesus: and when I sawe her, I wondred with great maruell.

7 And the Angel sayde vnto mee, Wherefore maruellest thou? I will shewe thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which hath seuen heads and ten hornes.

8 And the beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomlesse pit, and goeth into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder (whose names are not written in the booke of life from the beginning of the world) when they beholde the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is a meaning that hath wisedome. The seuen heads, are seuen mountaines, on which the woman sitteth: they are also seuen kings.

10 Fiue are fallen, & one is, and the other is not yet come: And when he commeth, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the eight, and is one of the seuen, and goeth into destruction.

12 And the ten hornes which thou sawest, are ten kings, which haue receiued no kingdome as yet: but receiue power as kings at one houre with the beast.

13 These haue one minde, and shall giue their power and strength vnto the beast.

14 These shall fight with the Lambe, and the Lambe shall ouercome them: * For he is the Lord of Lords, and the king of kings, and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen, and faithfull. 1.Tim.6.15 apoc.9.16.

15 And hee sayth vnto mee, The waters which thou sawest where the whore sitteth, are people, and folke, and nations, & tongues.

16 And the ten hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eate her flesh, and burne her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfill his will, and to doe with one consent, for to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntill the words of God shalbe fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great citie which reigneth ouer the kings of the earth.

The xviij. Chapter.

3.9. The louers of the world are sorie for the fall of whore of Babylon: 20 But they that be of God, cause to reioyce for her destruction.

AND after that, I sawe another angell come from heauen, hauing great power, & the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voyce, saying, * Great Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of deuils, and the holde of all foule spirits, and a cage of all vncleane and hatefull birds:

Esai 21. 19. icre. 51. 8.

3 For all nations haue drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voyce from heauen say, Come away from her my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, & that ye receiue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are gone vp to heauen, and God hath remembred her wickednesse.

6 Reward her euen as she rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workis, and powre in double to her in the same cuppe which she filled vnto you.

7 And as much as shee glorified her selfe, and liued wantonly, so much powre ye in for her of punishment and sorow: for shee said in her heart, I sit being a queene, * and am no widow, and shall see no sorow.

Esai 47. 8.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and sorow, and hunger, and shee shall be vtterly burnt with fire, for strong is the Lord which iudgeth her.

9 And they shall bewaile her, & the kings of the earth shall lament for her, which haue committed fornication with her, and haue liued wantonly with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning:

10 Standing a farre off for feare of her punishment, saying, Alas, alas, that great citie Babylon, that mightie citie, for at one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the merchants of the earth doe weepe and wayle ouer her, for no man buyeth their ware any more.

12 The ware of golde, and siluer, and precious stones, and of pearle, and raines, and purple, and silke, and skarlet, and all Thyne wood, and all maner vessels of yuorie, and all maner vessels of most precious wood, and of brasse, and yron, and marble,

13 And Cynamome, and odours, & oyntments, and frankinsence, and wine, and oile, and fine flowre, and wheate, and beasts, and sheepe, and horses, and charets, and bodies and soules of men,

14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, and all things which were daintie and had in price, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more at all.

15 The merchants of these things which were waxed rich, shall stande a farre off from her, for feare of the punishment of her, weeping and wailing,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, that was clothed in raynes, and purple and scarlet, and decked with golde, & precious stones, and pearles:

17 For at one houre so great riches is come to nought. And euery shipgouernour and all they that occupie shippes, and shipmen, and as many as worke in the sea, stood a farre off, 18 And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie is like vnto this great citie?

19 And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping, and wailing, and saying, Alas, alas, that great city, wherein were made rich all that had shippes in the sea, by reason of her costlinesse, for at one hour she is made desolate.

20 Reioyce ouer her thou heauen, and holy Apostles and Prophetes, for God hath giuen your iudgement on her.

21 And a mightie angell tooke vp a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shall that great citie Babylon bee cast, and shall be found no more at all.

22 And the voyce of harpers, and musitions, and of pipers, and trumpetters, shall be heard no more at all in thee: and no craftes men, of whatsoeuer craft he be, shalbe found any more in thee: and the sound of a mill, shall be heard no more at all in thee:

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee: and the voice of the bridegrome and of the bride, shalbe heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth, and with thine enchantment were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was found the blood of the Prophets, and of the saints, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

The xix. Chapter.

Praises are giuen vnto God for iudging the whore.

AND after these things, I heard a great voyce of much people in heauen, saying, Alleluia: saluation, & glory, and honour, and power, bee ascribed to the Lord our God:

2 For true and righteous are his iudgements, for hee hath iudged the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, & hath throughly auenged the blood of his seruants of her hand.

3 And againe they sayd, Alleluia: and her smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twentie Elders, and the foure beastes fell downe, and worshipped God that sate on the throne, saying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voyce came out of the throne, saying, Praise our Lord God all ye that are his seruants, and yee that feare him both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voyce of much much people, euen as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of strong thundrings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let vs be glad and reioyce, and giue honour to him: for the marriage of the Lambe is come, and his wife hath made her selfe readie.

8 And to her was granted that she should be arayed with pure & goodly raines: for the raines is the righteousnesse of saints.

9 And he saide vnto mee, Write, *Happie are they which are called vnto the supper of the Lambes mariage. And he said vnto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 And I fell at his feete to worship him: And he said vnto me, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and of thy brethren that haue the testimonie of Jesus. Worship God: for the testimonie of Jesus, is the spirit of prophecie.

11 And I saw heauen open, and behold a white horse, and he that sate vpon him was called faithful and true, and in righteousnes he doth iudge and make battell.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his heade were many crownes, and he had a name written, that no man knew but hee himselfe.

13 *And hee was clothed with a vesture dipt in blood: and his name is called the word of God.

14 And the armies which were in heauen followed him vpon white horses, clothed with white and pure raines.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharpe sword, that with it he shoulde smite the Heathen: *and hee shall rule them with a rod of yron: and hee treadeth the winefat of the fiercenesse and wrath of Almightie God.

16 And he hath on his vesture, and on his thigh a name written, *King of Kings, and Lord of Lords.

17 And I sawe an Angel stande in the Sunne, and he cried with a loude voyce, saying to all the foules that flie by the middes of heauen, Come and gather your selues together vnto the supper of the great God:

18 That yee may eate the flesh of kings, and the flesh of high captaines, and the flesh of mightie men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men, and bond men, and of small and great.

19 And I sawe the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies gathered together, to make battell against him that sate on the horse, and against his army.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought myracles before him, with which hee deceiued them that receiued the beastes marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast quicke into a pond of fire, burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sword of him that sate vpon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the foules were filled with their flesh.

The xx. Chapter.

2 Satan being bound for certaine time, 7 and after let loose, vexeth the Church grieuously.

AND I saw an Angel come downe from heauen, hauing the key of the bottomlesse pit, and a great chaine in his hand.

2 And hee tooke the Dragon, that olde serpent, which is the deuil and Satanas, and he bound him a thousand yeeres,

3 And cast him into the bottomlesse pitte, and hee shut him vp, and set a seale on him, that hee should deceiue the nations no more, till the thousand yeeres shoulde bee fulfilled: and after that, hee must bee loosed for a little season.

4 And I sawe thrones, and they sate vpon them, and iudgement was giuen vnto them: and I sawe the soules of them that were beheaded for the witnesse of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheads, or in their hands, and they liued and reigned with Christ a thousand yeeres.

5 But the other of the dead men did not liue againe vntill the thousand yeeres were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: for on such the seconde death hath no power, but they shall bee the priests of God, and of Christ, and shall reigne with him a thousand yeeres.

7 And when the thousand yeeres are expired, Satan shalbe loosed out of his prison:

8 And shall goe out to deceiue the nations which are in the foure quarters of the earth, *Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battell: whose number is as the sande of the sea. Ezec. 39. 2.

9 And they went vp in the plaine of the earth, and compassed the tents of the saintes about, and the beloued citie: and fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them:

10 And the deuil that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet shalbe tormented day and night for euermore.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face fled away both the earth & the heauen, and their place was no more found.

12 And I saw the dead both small & great stand before God: and the bookes were opened: and another *booke was opened, which is the booke of life: and the dead were iudged of those things which were written in the bookes, according to their deedes. Apoc. 3. 5. and 21. 17. phil. 4. 3.

13 And the sea gaue vp her dead which were in her: and death and hell deliuered vp the dead which were in them: and they were iudged iudged euery man according to his deedes.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.

15 And whosoeuer was not founde written in the booke of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

The xxi. Chapter.

3. 14 The blessed estate of the godly, 8. 27 and the miserable condition of the wicked.

AND I sawe a newe heauen, and a newe earth: * for the first heauen and the first earth were vanished away, and there was no more sea. Esai 65. 17. 2. pet. 3. 13.

2 And I John sawe the holy citie newe Hierusalem, come downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride garnished for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voyce out of heauen, saying, Beholde, the tabernacle of God is with men, and hee will dwell with them, and they shalbe his people, and God himselfe shalbe with them, and be their God.

4 * And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes, and there shall bee no more death, neither sorow, neither crying, neither shall there be any more paine: for the former things are gone. Esai 45. 19. apoc. 7. 17.

5 And he that sate vpon the throne sayde, * Behold, I make all things newe. And hee said vnto me, Write: for these words are true and faithfull. Esai. 43. 19.

6 And he sayde vnto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ende. * I will giue vnto him that is a thirst of the well of the water of life freely. Apoc. 1. 8. and 22. 13.

7 He that ouercommeth, shall inherite all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my sonne.

8 But the fearefull, and vnbeleeuing, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liers, shall haue their part in the lake which burneth with fire & brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came vnto mee one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials full of the seuen last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shewe thee the bride, the lambes wife.

10 And he caried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountaine, and hee shewed me the great citie holy Hierusalem, descending out of heauen from God,

11 Hauing the glory of God: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, euen like a Jasper, cleare as Christall:

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and names written, which are the names of the twelue tribes of Israel.

13 On the East side three gates, and on the North side three gates, and towardes the South three gates, and from the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the [c]ate had twelue foundations, and in them [t]he twelue names of the Lambes twelue Ap[o]stles.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reede to measure the citie withal, and the gates thereof, and the walles thereof.

16 And the citie lieth foure square, and the length was as large as the breadth: and hee measured the city with the reed twelue thousand furlongs, and the length, & the breadth, and the height of it are equall.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred, and fourtie, and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is, of the Angell.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Jasper, and the citie was pure golde like vnto cleare glasse.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones. The first foundation was Jasper, the second Saphire, the third a Chalcedonie, the fourth an Emerald, 20 The fift Sardonix, the sixth Sardius, the seuenth Chrysolite, the eight Beryl, the ninth a Topas, the tenth a Chrysoprasus, the eleuenth a Jacinct, the twelfth an Amethyst.

21 The twelue gates were twelue pearls, euery gate was of one pearle, and the streete of the citie was pure golde, as it were shining glasse.

22 And I sawe no temple therein: For the Lord God Almighty, and the Lambe, are the temple of it,

23 * And the citie hath no neede of the Sunne, neither of the Moone to lighten it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lambe is the light of it. Esai 6[0]

24 * And the nations of them which are saued, shall walke in the light of it: and the kings of the earth doe bring their glory and honour vnto it. Esai 6[0]

25 * And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night. Esai 6[0]

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the Gentiles vnto it.

27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any vncleane thing, neither whatsoeuer worketh abomination, or maketh lies: but they onely which are * written in the lambes booke of life. Phil. 4. apoc. 1[3] and 20

The xxii. Chapter.

1 The riuer of the water of life. 9 The angel will not be worshipped.

AND he shewed mee a pure riuer of water of life, cleare as Chrystall, proceeding out of ỹ throne of God, and of the Lambe.

2 In the middest of the street of it, and of either side of the riuer was there wood of life, which bare twelue maner of fruits, and gaue fruit euery moneth: and the leaues of the wood serued to heale the people withall.

3 And there shalbe no more curse, but the throne
